(iv) In cases where the contracting officer has determined that the delay did not result in actual damage, the contracting officer will not be required to furnish a certificate to that effect, except as hereinafter provided. In all cases where the voucher is not accompanied by a statement as to damages, it will be assumed that the contracting officer has determined that no actual damages resulted or that the contractor was not responsible for the delay, and the disbursing officer will make full payment of the voucher, if otherwise correct. If in any such case the General Accounting Office should, after payment of the voucher, request a certificate, the contracting officer will prepare and furnish a certificate that the delay did not result in any actual damage to the Government.

(2) When actual damages provided for in contract. Whenever under a contract containing provisions for actual damages the contracting officer determines that the failure to complete the contract within the specified time did not result in any actual damage to the Government, the provisions of subparagraph (1) (iv) of this paragraph will apply.

(3) When liquidated damages provided for in contract. • • •

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following addition to the regulations contained in Part 81 is hereby prescribed. This section is also contained in the War Department procurement regulations dated September 5, 1942 (7 F.R. 8082), as amended by Changes No. 15, April 7, 1943.[1] The number to the right of the decimal point corresponds with the respective paragraph number in the procurement regulations.

Section 81.1317 is added as follows:

§ 81.1317 W. D. Contract Form No. 17 (W. D. Forms Nos. 47 and 47–A)—(a) Explanatory notes. (1) W. D. Contract Form No. 17 comprising new War Department Forms Nos. 47 and 47–a, is available for use by supply services and service commands in contracting for supplies and services not exceeding $500,000 in amount, regardless of the number of payments or the time of performance involved. After June 1, 1943, the form will be mandatory in contracting for regular commercial items in amounts of not less than $100,000 and not more than $500,000, and in contracting for regular commercial items in amounts of less than $100,000 where signatures by both the Government and the contractor are required or desired. It will be optional for all other contracts for supplies or services in amounts not exceeding $500,000.

(2) The form has been devised to meet the need for a standard instrument to be used principally in making purchases of regular commercial items. Chiefs of supply services and Commanding Generals of service commands have been urged to impress the officers within their commands with the necessity for giving the form a fair trial promptly, and using it wherever possible. They have also been requested to obtain comments on the form from the officers within their commands, to consolidate such comments, and to forward the same to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, not later than May 15, 1943. The form may hereafter be revised in the light of comments received.

(3) The form is largely self-explanatory. Attention is invited to the following points:

(i) Certain standard clauses have been abbreviated or modified in view of the size and character of the purchases which will ordinarily be made under the form.

(ii) The form calls for execution both by the Contracting Officer and the contractor. When so executed, it should be complete in itself, without reference to other documents such as proposal or bid forms.

(iii) When filled in, signed by the Contracting Officer, and delivered to the contractor, the form (W. D. Form No. 47 alone, or both W. D. Forms Nos. 47 and 47–a, with or without further continuation sheets) constitutes an offer by the Government to contract on the terms set forth. So far as the information is available at the time the form is delivered to the Contractor, all applicable blanks should be filled in. Where a particular matter is not known at the time the form is delivered to the Contractor (for example, "Ship To" or "Schedule of Deliveries"), the blanks should be filled in with appropriate language indicating how such information will be subsequently furnished.

(iv) When signed by the Contractor in the space marked "Contractor's Acceptance" and returned to the Government in the time allowed, the form becomes a binding contract provided the contractor has not made any changes by way of deletion, interlineation or addition, thus departing from the terms of the offer. Contractors should be instructed to inform the Contracting Officer of any changes which appear to be required, so that amendments may be made and initialed by both parties, or a corrected form issued.

(v) General Provision No. 2 (Inspection) provides that "unless an inspection point is specified herein," inspection may occur at all times and places, etc. An inspection point may be specified under the column "Supplies or Services" or in any other space on the form or on a continuation sheet. Similarly, General Provision 3 (Variation in Quantities) permits a variation of 10% "unless otherwise specified." Statement of a permitted variation other than 10% may be inserted in any space on the form or on a continuation sheet.

(vi) Methods of presenting invoices or vouchers, and of giving notice of and marking shipments, will be as specified in any space on the form or on a continuation sheet, or, in the absence of such statement, as directed by the Contracting Officer.

(vii) The continuation sheet, W. D. Form 47-a, containing a statutory renegotiation article and a termination article, will be used in accordance with instruction set forth in the margin thereof.

(viii) Additional continuation sheets may be used as extensions of columns on the form (for example, the column marked "Supplies and Services"), or for inclusion of any further contract clauses considered necessary in particular cases (for example, patents clauses).

(4) Chiefs of supply services and Commanding Generals of service commands may obtain the form of contract in quantity upon request from the Procurement and Accounting Division, Office of the Secretary of War, Pentagon Building, Washington, D. C. Requests for the form should indicate the quantity of each sheet (W. D. Forms 47 and 47–a) desired, and the type of duplicating process intended to be used by the agency in making copies for distribution and files (two grades of paper are available, for convenience in handling).

7. Anti-discrimination. Insert ¶ 325 (§ 81.325)

8. Convict labor. The Contractor shall not employ any person undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor.

9. Changes. Where the supplies to be furnished are to be specially manufactured in accordance with drawings and specifications, the Contracting Officer may at any time, by a written order, and without notice to the sureties, if any, make changes in the drawings or specifications. Changes as to shipment and packing of all supplies may also be made as above provided. If such changes cause an increase or decrease in the amount due under this contract, or in the time required for its performance, an equitable adjustment shall be made and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly.

10. Delays-damages. If the Contractor refuses or fails to perform this contract within the time specified, or any extension thereof, the Government may, by written notice, terminate the right of the Contractor to proceed with deliveries or with such part or parts thereof as to which there has been delay, and may hold the Contractor liable for any damage caused the Government by reason of such termination. The right of the Contractor to proceed with the performance of this contract shall not be terminated under this General Provision 10 if the delay is due to unforeseeable causes beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the Contractor, including without being limited to, any preference, priority, or allocation order issued by the Government or any other act of the Government.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

[T.D. 5260]

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

PART 20—MISCELLANEOUS REGULATIONS UNDER THE REVENUE ACT OF 1939

CORRECTION OF CERTAIN TECHNICAL ERRORS

Regulations 103 (Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.) and Treasury Decision 4918, approved August 7, 1939, (Part 20, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.) are amended as follows:

Regulations 103

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 22 (b) (9)-1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5238, approved March 8, 1943, is further amended by striking from the last sentence of the first paragraph of paragraph (b) "December 31, 1942" and inserting in lieu thereof "December 31, 1941" so that such last sentence now reading,

The requirement with respect to unsound financial condition prescribed for years covered by paragraph (a) of this section does not apply with respect to discharges of indebtedness occurring in

The requirement with respect to unsound financial condition prescribed for years covered by paragraph (a) of this section does not apply with respect to discharges of indebtedness occurring in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, and before January 1, 1946.

PAR. 2. Section 19.23 (q)–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5234, approved March 1, 1943, is further amended by striking from the second sentence of the first paragraph the phrase "a taxable year" where such phrase occurs the second time in such second sentence and inserting in lieu thereof "the first taxable year" so that such second sentence now reading,

Where payment is made in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, and prior to a taxable year beginning after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, the charitable deduction prescribed is allowable to corporations even though the gifts or contributions are used outside of the United States or its possessions.

Where payment is made in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, and prior to the first taxable year beginning after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, the charitable deduction prescribed is allowable to corporations even though the gifts or contributions are used outside of the United States or its possessions.

PAR. 3. Section 19.23 (x)–1, as added by Treasury Decision 5234, approved March 1, 1943, is amended by striking from the third paragraph of the example "$90" where it first occurs in such paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof "$60".

PAR. 4. Section 19.26–5, as added by Treasury Decision 5227, approved February 10, 1943, is amended as follows:

(A) By striking therefrom the first sentence of the second paragraph which reads as follows:

For the purposes of section 26 (h) preferred stock means stock which was issued prior to October 1, 1942, and which during the whole of the taxable year (or the part of the taxable year after its issue) was stock the dividends in respect of which were cumulative, nonparticipating as to earnings or profits either currently or in liquidation, and payable in preference to the payment of dividends on other stock.

and by inserting in lieu thereof the following sentence:

For the purposes of section 26 (h) preferred stock means stock which was issued prior to October 1, 1942, and which during the whole of the taxable year (or the part of the taxable year after its issue) was stock nonparticipating as to earnings or profits either currently or in liquidation, the dividends in respect of which were cumulative and payable in preference to the payment of dividends on other stock.

(B) By striking out the second sentence of the second paragraph which reads as follows:

If the stock has a par or stated value its share in any distribution in liquidation must be limited to the par or stated value of the stock plus any accumulated unpaid dividends.

PAR. 5. Section 19.51–2, as amended by Treasury Decision 5219, approved February 2, 1943, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking therefrom the fourth sentence of the third paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Whenever a return is made by an agent it must be accompanied by the prescribed power of attorney, Form 935, except that an agent holding a valid and subsisting general power of attorney authorizing him to represent his principal in making, executing, and filing the income return, may submit a certified copy thereof in lieu of the authorization on Form 935.

(B) By striking therefrom the sixth sentence of the third paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

For returns of nonresident aliens, see §§ 19.217–1 and 19.217–2.

PAR. 6. Section 19.113 (b) (3)–3, as added by Treasury Decision 5230, approved February 13, 1943, is amended by striking from the heading thereof "§ 19.113 (b) (3)–3" and inserting in lieu thereof "§ 19.113 (c)–1".

PAR. 7. Section 19.117–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5217, approved January 19, 1943, is further amended by striking therefrom the second sentence of the second paragraph which reads as follows:

Property held for the production of income, but not used in a trade or business of the taxpayer, is not excluded from the term "capital assets" even though depreciation may have been allowed with respect to such property under section 23 (l) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942.

and by inserting the identical wording of such second sentence immediately following the fourth sentence which reads, "See § 19.117–7."

PAR. 8. Section 19.162–2, as added by Treasury Decision 5215, approved January 19, 1943, is amended by striking from the fifth sentence of the second paragraph of paragraph (c) "December 31, 1943" and inserting in lieu thereof "December 31, 1942" so that such fifth sentence now reading,

Thus, if $4,250 is to be paid every two years on March 1, the period of the interval ending March 1, 1943, is considered to begin 12 months preceding December 31, 1943, since the part of the interval not falling within the taxable year 1943 (March 2, 1941, through December 31, 1942) is more than 12 months.

will read as follows:

Thus, if $4,250 is to be paid every two years on March 1, the period of the interval ending March 1, 1943, is considered to begin 12 months preceding December 31, 1942, since the part of the interval not falling within the taxable year 1943 (March 2, 1941, through December 31, 1942) is more than 12 months.

Treasury Decision 4918

PAR. 9. Treasury Decision 4918, approved August 7, 1939, as amended by Treasury Decision 5213, approved January 12, 1943, is further amended by striking from subparagraph (1) of § 20C.2 [20.52] "on or before" so that such subparagraph (1) now reading,

(1) Elects to include such loan in gross income by filing an amended return on or before at or prior to the time prescribed for the filing of the taxpayer's return for the taxable year of the taxpayer beginning in 1942, or if there is more than one taxable year of the taxpayer beginning in 1942, for the last taxable year so beginning, including therein such item as a part of gross income;

will read as follows:

(1) Elects to include such loan in gross income by filing an amended return at or prior to the time prescribed for the filing of the taxpayer's return for the taxable year of the taxpayer beginning in 1942, or if there is more than one taxable year of the taxpayer beginning in 1942, for the last taxable year so beginning, including therein such item as a part of gross income;

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter VII—War Manpower Commission

[Regulation No. 4]

PART 904—RESTRICTING TRANSFER OF WORKERS

REGULATIONS AND LIST OF ESSENTIAL ACTIVITIES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Chairman of the War Manpower Commission by Executive Order No. 9328, dated April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), I hereby prescribe the following regulation:

§ 904.1 Workers previously engaged in other than essential activities for work in essential activities. Any employer engaged in an essential activity may hire for work in such activitiy any new employee who for the preceding 30 days was not engaged in an essential activity.

§ 904.2 Workers previously engaged in essential activities for work in other than essential activities. No employer shall hire for work in an activity other than an essential activity any new employee who, during the preceding 30-day period, was engaged in an essential activity if the wage or salary rate to be paid by the employer would exceed the rate most recently earned by such employee.

§ 904.3 Workers previously engaged in essential activities for work in other essential activities. No employer shall hire (except as provided for in § 904.4 of this regulation) for work in an essential activity any new employee who, during the preceding 30-day period, was engaged in an essential activity if the salary or wage rate to be paid by the employer would exceed the rate most recently received during such period by the employee.

§ 904.4 Workers previously engaged in essential activities for work in other essential activities in areas or industries subject to War Manpower Commission employment stabilization programs. (a) Any employer engaged in an essential activity may hire for work in such activity any new employee who, during the preceding 30-day period, was engaged in an essential activity, without regard to his preceding wage rate or salary scale, providing such hiring is subject to, and permitted under an employment stabilization program approved by the War Manpower Commission.

(b) A statement of availability shall be issued to any worker by his last employer or by the War Manpower Commission as may be provided in such employment stabilization programs and whenever the worker:

(1) Is discharged by his last employer,

(2) Is laid off for an indefinite period or for a period of 7 or more days, or

(3) Can establish that his present employment does not utilize him at his highest skill or that he is not being employed at full time.

No statement of availability shall be issued solely on the ground that an individual's wage or salary rate is substantiall less than that prevailing in the locality for the same or substantially similar work.

Any such statement shall contain the worker's name, his social security account number, if any, the name and address of the issuing employer or War Manpower Commission officer and office, the date of issuance, and a statement to the effect that the worker may be hired elsewhere in an essential activity. The inclusion by an employer on such notice of any information other than that required by this regulation shall be deemed to be a violation of this regulation.

§ 904.5 Acceptance of employment by workers. No individual shall accept new employment with an employer if the employer is prohibited from hiring him under this regulation.

§ 904.6 Penalties. The hiring by an employer of a new employee, or the acceptance by an individual of new employment, in violation of this regulation is subject to the penal provisions of the Act of October 2, 1942 (Pub. No. 729, 77th Cong.). The Provisions of § 4001.10 of the Regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director, (7 F.R. 8748, 10024) issued October 27, 1942, apply to any wages or salaries paid in violation of this regulation.

§ 904.7 Definitions. (a) "Essential activity" means any activity in the War Manpower Commission List of Essential Activities (see Appendix A) and any activity approved by a Regional Manpower Director as a locally needed activity.

(b) "New employee" means any individual who has not been in the employ of the hiring employer at any time during the preceding 30-day period.

(c) "New employment" means employment with an employer by whom the individual has not been employed at any time during the 30-day period preceding such employment.

§ 904.8 Employee - employer agreements. Nothing in this regulation shall be construed to prejudice existing rights of an employee under any agreement with his employer.

§ 904.9 Effective date. This regulation shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. Sunday, April 18, 1943.

Dated: April 16, 1943.

PAUL V. MCNUTT,
Chairman.

Approved: April 16, 1943.

JAMES F. BYRNES,
Economic Stabilization Director.

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER CHANGING PRICES FOR CERTAIN MINES IN DISTRICT NO. 2

Order of the director in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 2 for a change in the effective minimum prices for truck shipments for coals produced by certain mines in District No. 2.

Upon the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the opinion of the Director, filed simultaneously herewith, wherein it appears that the minimum prices of the coals produced by O. N. Ritenour, at his O. N. Ritenour Mine (Mine Index No. 923), Hindman Coal Co., at its Kenedy Mine (Mine Index No. 858), Stadnik Coal Co. (Louis Stadnik), at its Stadnik Coal Co. Mine (Mine Index No. 934), and Taylor Coal Co. (H. L. Taylor), at its N. Wash. Cannel Mine (Mine Index No. 1628), in Washington and Venango Townships, Butler County, Pennsylvania, of District 2, in Size Groups 1 and 2, for truck shipments, should be revised, and pursuant to section 4 II (d) and other provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937,

It is hereby ordered, That effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by revising the minimum prices of the coals produced by O. N. Ritenour, at his O. N. Ritenour Mine (Mine Index No. 923), Hindman Coal Co., at its Kenedy Mine (Mine Index No. 858), Stadnik Coal Co., (Louis Stadnik) at its Stadnik Coal Co. Mine (Mine Index No. 934), and Taylor Coal Co., (H. L. Taylor) at its N. Wash. Cannel Mine, (Mine Index No. 1628), in Washington and Venango Townships, Butler County, Pennsylvania, of District 2, in Size Groups 1 and 2, for truck shipments, in accordance with the minimum prices contained in Supplement T which is hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof. Provided, however, That all contracts, orders, invoices, acknowledgments, and other instruments concerning the sale and delivery of such coals shall specifically identify the same as "cannel coal."

It is further ordered, That except as hereinabove indicated the petition herein is in all other respects denied.

Dated: April 13, 1943.

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting permanent relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 2 for a change in minimum prices established for truck shipments for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2.

Upon the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the opinion of the Director, filed simultaneously herewith, wherein it appears that the minimum prices of the coals produced by the Binkerd Mine (Mine Index No. 709), of David Frazer, the Evans Mine (Mine Index No. 707), of David L. Corbett, operating in the Upper Freeport and Upper Kittanning Seams, respectively, in Armstrong County, Pennsylvania, in Size Groups 6 to 9, inclusive, for truck shipments should be revised and the prices of the coals produced by the Walker Mine (Mine Index No. 1709), of James E. Walker, operating in the Upper Freeport Seam, in Armstrong County, Pennsylvania, in Size Groups 1 to 11, inclusive, for truck shipments, should be revised to equal the prices herein established for the Binkerd and Evans Mines, and pursuant to section 4 II (d) and other provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937,

It is hereby ordered, That effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof, § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by revising the minimum prices of the coals produced by the Binkerd Mine (Mine Index No. 709), of David Frazer, the Evans Mine (Mine Index No. 707), of David L. Corbett, in Size Groups 6 to 9, inclusive, and by the Walker Mine (Mine Index No. 1709), of James E. Walker, in Size Groups 1 to 11, inclusive, in accordance with the minimum prices for these respective mines contained in Supplement T, which supplement is hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That except as herein above indicated the petition herein is in all other respects denied.

Dated: April 16, 1943.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER, Director.

[F. R. Doc. 43-6091; Filed, April 19, 1943; 10:33 a. m.]

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows:

Commencing forthwith, § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-I, § 322.9 (Special prices—(c) Railroad fuel) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-II, § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: April 7, 1943.

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows:

Commencing forthwith, § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-I, § 322.9 (Special prices—(c) Railroad fuel) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-II, § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

EXEMPTION FROM INSURANCE ASSESSMENTS AND RESERVE REQUIREMENTS

203.16 Provisions of Act of April 13, 1943.

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS

203.17 Right reserved to amend, supplement or revise the regulations in this part.

AUTHORITY: §§ 203.0 to 203.17, inclusive, issued under sec. 8, 40 Stat. 291, sec. 5, 40 Stat. 504, sec. 14 (a) (2), 48 Stat. 343; 31 U.S.C. 771; section 10 of the Act of June 11, 1942.

§ 203.0 Introductory. Banks and trust companies designated pursuant to the terms of this part are given the title "Special Depositaries of Public Moneys" and are hereinafter referred to as "Special Depositaries." Special Depositaries are permitted to make payment in the form of a deposit credit for the purchase price of United States Government obligations purchased by such banks or trust companies for their own account or for the account of their customers, who enter their subscriptions through these banks or trust companies, when this method of payment is permitted under the terms of the circulars inviting subscriptions to such issues. The deposit credits set up under this designation are called "War Loan Deposit Accounts". Under this arrangement the large sums of money raised by the Treasury through financing operations are left on deposit in local banking institutions until the Treasury needs to withdraw them to meet Government expenditures thus avoiding the dislocations in the banking system which might result from immediate withdrawal of such funds. Pursuant to recent amendments to the Federal Reserve Act, these deposit accounts will, for the duration of the War and for six months after the cessation of hostilities, be exempt from insurance assessments of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and from the reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve System.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 203.1 Banks and trust companies desiring to act as depositaries of public moneys. Any incorporated bank or trust company in one of the States of the United States or in the District of Columbia desiring to participate in deposits of public moneys, as authorized by the Act of Congress approved September 24, 1917, as amended (Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended), hereinafter referred to as the Act, should make application to the Federal Reserve Bank of its district.

§ 203.2 Application; resolution; forms. Application for deposit of public moneys under the Act must be in Form H–5 and must be accompanied by a certified copy of a resolution, duly adopted by the Board of Directors of the applicant, in Form J–5.

§ 203.3 Depositaries already qualified. Depositaries already qualified to a sufficient amount pursuant to this part will not be required to file new formal applications or resolutions, but they will, by the acceptance or retention of deposits after April 30, 1943, be conclusively presumed to have assented to all the terms and provisions hereof, and to the retention of collateral security theretofore pledged as collateral security hereunder.

§ 203.4 Discontinuance of depositaries; redesignation. A Special Depositary, heretofore or hereafter designated, which having subscribed to an offering of United States bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, or Treasury Bills and having in due course received an allotment on its subscription, refuses to receive the said allotment and to make payment therefor, may be discontinued. A Special Depositary discontinued for any reason may be redesignated upon full compliance with the terms of this part, upon recommendation of the Federal Reserve Bank of its district, and upon the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

§ 203.5 Determination of maximum amount of deposits for which application will be made. In fixing the maximum amount of deposits for which it will apply, the applicant bank or trust company should be guided by the amount of the payments which it expects to make, on subscriptions made by or through it for bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury Bills of the United States issued under authority of the Act, and, as well by any statutory limitations upon the amount of deposits which the applicant bank or trust company may receive from any one depositor.

§ 203.6 Approval of depositaries. The Secretary of the Treasury will designate approved Special Depositaries and determine the maximum amount of deposits on the basis of recommendations of the Federal Reserve Banks. Any application may be rejected or the applicant may be designated for a smaller maximum amount than that for which it applied.

COLLATERAL SECURITY

§ 203.7 Designated depositaries must pledge collateral security before receiving deposits; acceptable securities. Designated Special Depositaries will be required, before receiving deposits, to qualify by pledging as collateral security for such deposits, securities of any of the following classes, to an amount, taken at the rates and conforming to the conditions provided below, at least equal to such deposits: Provided, That no collateral security shall be required for such part of the deposits as are insured under section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended:

(a) United States Government securities. Transferable bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury Bills of the United States Government of any issue, including interim certificates or receipts for payment therefor, except such securities as by the terms of their issue are not acceptable as security for deposits of public moneys; all at face value.

(b) Obligations guaranteed by the United States. Obligations fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the United States both as to principal and interest; all at face value.

(c) Obligations of Government agencies, etc. Obligations of the Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Federal Home Loan Banks, the Federal National Mortgage Association, and obligations of Public Housing Agencies (as defined in the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended) when secured to the full amount thereof by a Requisition Agreement with the Federal Public Housing Authority; all at face value.

(d) Insular and Territorial Government securities. Bonds of Puerto Rico, bonds and certificates of indebtedness of the Philippine Islands, and bonds of the Territory of Hawaii, all at market value, not to exceed face value.

(e) State bonds. Bonds of any State of the United States, at market value, not to exceed face value.

(f) State notes, certificates of indebtedness, and warrants. Approved notes, certificates of indebtedness, and warrants issued by any State of the United States; at 90 percent of market value, not to exceed face value.

(g) County and municipal securities. Approved bonds of any county, city, or other political subdivision in the United States; and approved notes, certificates of indebtedness, and warrants with a fixed maturity issued by any county or city in the United States, which are direct obligations of the county or city as a whole, or which are payable from general taxes levied on all taxable property in such county or city; provided the obligations meet the requirements of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for classification by bank examiners under Group I, as follows:

Group I securities are marketable obligations in which the investment characteristics are not distinctly or predominantly speculative. This group includes general market obligations in the four highest grades and unrated securities of equivalent value.

Obligations of counties, cities, and other political subdivisions, rated in one of the three highest grades by a recognized investment service organization regularly engaged in the business of rating or grading bonds, may be accepted at 90 percent of market value, not to exceed face value, and other qualified obligations of counties, cities, and other political subdivisions may be accepted at 80 percent of market value, not to exceed face value.

(h) Corporate securities. Approved bonds, notes, and other obligations of domestic corporations, provided they meet the requirements for classification under Group I as defined in § 203.7 (g) of this part; at 80 percent of market value, not to exceed face value.

(i) Commercial and agricultural paper and bankers' acceptances. Commercial and agricultural paper and bankers' acceptances having a maturity at the time of pledge of not to exceed six months, and notes of correspondent incorporated banks or trust companies secured by such commercial or agricultural paper or bankers' acceptances, all of which are approved by the Federal Reserve Bank of the district in which the depositary is located; at 80 percent of face value.

§ 203.8 United States Government securities or obligations guaranteed by the United States may be required to be pledged as security. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to require all or any stated percentage of deposits received by any bank pursuant to the provisions of this part and not insured under section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, to be secured by pledge of United States Government securities or obligations guaranteed by the United States as defined in §§ 203.7 (a) and 203.7 (b) of this part.

§ 203.9 Additional collateral. The stipulations as to the rates at which collateral may be accepted hereunder are intended to indicate maximum values only and the right is expressly reserved to call for or require additional collateral security at any time.

§ 203.10 Additional collateral; approval and valuation; withdrawals; substitution. The approval and valuation of securities is committed to the several Federal Reserve Banks, acting under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury. The withdrawal of securities, the pledge of additional securities, and the substitution of securities shall be made from time to time as required or permitted by the Federal Reserve Banks, acting under like direction.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

§ 203.11 Deposit of securities with Federal Reserve Bank or branch or designated custodian. All securities accepted as collateral security for deposits hereunder must be deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank or branch of the district in which the depositary is located, as fiscal agent of the United States, or by the direction of and subject to the order of such Federal Reserve Bank or branch, as fiscal agent of the United States, with a custodian or custodians within the United States designated by such Federal Reserve Bank, and under such terms and conditions as it may prescribe.

HOW DEPOSITS ARE TO BE MADE

§ 203.12 War Loan Deposit Account. Each qualified Special Depositary will be required to open and maintain or continue for the account of the Federal Reserve Bank of its district, as fiscal agent of the United States, a separate account for deposits to be made hereunder, to be known as the "War Loan Deposit Account."

§ 203.13 Payment by credit of amounts payable on subscriptions; form of notice. Qualified Special Depositaries, if and to the extent from time to time hereafter authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury, may be permitted to make payment by credit, when due, to a War Loan Deposit Account, of amounts payable on subscriptions made by or through them for bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury Bills of the United States issued under authority of the Act of September 24, 1917, as amended. In order to make payment by credit to a War Loan Deposit Account, the Special Depositary must, on or before the date when such payment is due, notify the Federal Reserve Bank of the district of such intention and issue a certificate of advice to such Federal Reserve Bank, stating that a sum specified has been deposited with such depositary for the account of such Federal Reserve Bank, as fiscal agent of the United States, in the War Loan Deposit Account. Such certificate of advice will be furnished in the form and manner prescribed by the Federal Reserve Bank.

§ 203.14 Deposits not to exceed authorized amount. The amount deposited with any special depositary shall not in the aggregate exceed at any one time (a) the maximum amount for which it shall have been designated as a depositary, nor (b) the aggregate amount of the collateral security pledged by it taken at the rates hereinbefore provided, excepting that part of the deposits insured under section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended.

WITHDRAWAL OF DEPOSITS

§ 203.15 Calls for withdrawal of deposits; payment. All deposits will be payable on demand without previous notice. Calls for withdrawals of deposits with Special Depositaries will be made by direction of the Secretary of the Treasury through the Federal Reserve Banks, and such depositaries will be required to arrange for payments of such calls in funds that will be immediately available on the payment due date.

EXEMPTION FROM INSURANCE ASSESSMENTS AND RESERVE REQUIREMENTS

§ 203.16 Provisions of Act of April 13, 1943. The Act of Congress, approved April 13, 1943, contains the following provisions relative to exemption of "War Loan Deposits" from (a) assessments for insurance by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and (b) the reserve requirements of member banks of the Federal Reserve System:

• • • the second sentence of paragraph (1) of subsection (h) of section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act (U.S.C., title 12, sec. 264 (h) (1)), as amended, is hereby further amended by substituting a colon for the period at the end thereof and adding the following: "And provided further, That until 6 months after the cessation of hostilities in the present war as determined by proclamation of the President or concurrent resolution of the Congress any balance payable to the United States by any insured bank, whether represented by a deposit account or otherwise, arising solely as a result of subscriptions made by or through such insured bank for United States Government securities issued under authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, shall be excluded from the definition of 'deposit' for the purpose of determining the assessment base.

SEC. 2. The last sentence of section 19 of the Federal Reserve Act (U.S.C., title 12, sec. 462a–1) be amended by substituting a colon for the period at the end thereof and by adding the following: "Provided, That until 6 months after the cessation of hostilities in the present war as determined by proclamation of the President or concurrent resolution of the Congress no deposit payable to the United States by any member bank arising solely as the result of subscriptions made by or through such member bank for United States Government securities issued under authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, shall be subject to the reserve requirements of this section.

§ 203.17 Right reserved to amend, supplement or revise the regulations in this part. The right is reserved to amend or supplement or revise the provisions of this part at any time or from time to time.

[SEAL] H. MORGENTHAU, Jr.
Secretary of the Treasury.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter A—General Provisions

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 16]

AIRCRAFT INVENTORY TRANSFERS

§ 903.28 Directive 16—(a) Control of aircraft inventory transfers. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulations Nos. 1 and 13 or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board inconsistent herewith, all persons listed on Schedule A attached (Persons listed on schedule A and affected by this directive have been mailed complete copies of this directive.) are directed not to sell, trade, give or otherwise transfer any material listed on Schedule B to any other person without authorization of the Director of the Aircraft Resources Control Office, Aircraft Production Board, or the undersigned, except to fulfill the purpose for which it was obtained.

(b) Delegation of authority. The Director of the Aircraft Resources Control Office is hereby delegated the power to authorize the transfer of materials affected by this directive and is authorized to redelegate this authority to such persons as he may deem proper.

(c) Effective date. This directive shall become effective the 25th day of April, 1943.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

DEFINITIONS

1 "Primary form" means those forms in which metals are received from the mill, for example: ingot forging billets, sheet, tube, bar, wire, standard extruded shapes, etc., (and not including special extruded shapes, castings, or forgings); or mill forms which have been subjected to such fabrication as mills customarily provide upon specification of standard extras (such as cutting to length, tempering, etc.)

2. "Nonassembled, partially or wholly fabricated forms" means any nonassembled forms, (including special extruded shapes, castings and forgings) whether purchased parts or materials which have been fabricated by or for you, produced entirely from a single primary form, and which has been subjected to any fabrication beyond the extent specified for Primary Form as defined above.

3. "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy; for example, brass, bronze, nickel-silver, etc.

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

35 MM. FILM

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9024 of January 16, 1942, Executive Order No. 9040 of January 24, 1942, and Executive Order No. 9125 of April 7, 1942, and for the purpose of securing the efficient distribution of 35 mm. film; It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 903.29 Directive 17—(a) Delegation of authority to the Office of War Information with respect to 35 mm. film. The Office of War Information is authorized and directed to perform the functions and exercise the power, authority, and discretion conferred upon the President by section 2 (a) of the Act of June 28, 1940 (Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; 54 Stat. 676), as amended by the Act of May 31, 1941 (Pub. Law 89, 77th Cong.; 55 Stat. 236), and as further amended by the Act of March 27, 1942 (Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong.; 56 Stat. 176), with respect to the exercise of control over the sale, lease, trading, loan, delivery, shipment or transfer of 35 mm. film by any person to the following persons for exposure in connection with factual pictures:

(1) Any governmental agency, whether federal, state or local (excluding the Army or Navy of the United States).

(2) Class B newsreel producers as defined in General Limitation Order L-178, issued by the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Persons producing factual trailers.

(b) The authority of the Office of War Information under this directive shall include the power to regulate or prohibit the transfer or other disposition of 35 mm. film to any person who has acted in violation of any regulation or order prescribed by the Office of War Information pursuant to this directive. The Office of War Information is likewise authorized to require such reports and the keeping of such records and to make such investigations as it may deem necessary or appropriate for the administration of the powers conferred herein.

(c) The War Production Board will from time to time advise the Office of War Information as to the amount of 35 mm. film available for distribution by the Office of War Information under this directive, and may from time to time formulate and advise the Office of War Information as to policies or programs for the distribution of 35 mm. film.

(d) Nothing herein shall be construed to limit or modify any order heretofore issued by the Office of Production Management or the War Production Board, nor to delegate to the Office of War Information the power to extend, amend, or modify any such order.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of Directive 1 (§ 903.1), the Office of Price Administration shall have no authority with respect to the exercising of rationing control over 35 mm. films.

(f) For the purposes of this directive, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "35 mm. film" means unexposed film 35 mm. wide with a nitrate or safety base, whether negative or positive, other than film packaged for use in 35 mm. still cameras and other than film in strips of less than 100 linear feet.

(2) "Factual picture" means any picture whose main function is informational or instructional, including newsreels produced by Class B newsreel producers, as defined in General Limitation Order L-178, issued by the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, but not including special pictures (as defined in General Limitation Order L-178) or pictures whose main function is entertainment.

(3) "Factual trailer" means any factual picture less than 300 linear feet in length, produced for exhibition in commercial theaters.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-237, Amendment 1]

SUPER GAS CO., INC.

Super Gas Company, Inc., 789 Amboy Avenue, Fords, New Jersey, has appealed from the provisions of Suspension Order S-237, issued February 27, 1943. After a review of the case it has been determined that the appeal be denied but that Suspension Order S-237 be modified so as to allow Super Gas Company, Inc. to accept some deliveries of motor fuel at its Fords, New Jersey service station and to make increased deliveries of motor fuel to other service stations.

In view of the foregoing, paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1010.237 Suspension Order S-237, issued February 27, 1943, are hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) During each of the months of April and May, 1943, Super Gas Company, Inc. its successors and assigns, shall not deliver or cause to be delivered directly or indirectly, any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, to any service station in excess of 40 percent of the average monthly gallonage delivered to such service station by Super Gas Company, Inc. during the period of August 1942 through December 1942.

(b) During the months of April and May, 1943, Super Gas Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not accept from any source the delivery of any motor fuel, as delivered in Limitation Order L-70, at the Super Gas Service Station owned and operated by it located at 789 Amboy Avenue, Fords, New Jersey, in excess of 25 per cent of the average monthly gallonage delivered to said service station during the period of August 1942 through December 1942.

Issued this 16th day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

In accordance with the provisions of § 1075.1, Conservation Order L-41, which the following order supplements:

§ 1075.11 Supplementary Conservation Order L-41-d. Conservation Order L-41, as amended, shall not apply to the re-siding of any structure with asbestos siding or the re-roofing of any structure with asbestos roofing material, where any part of the existing siding or roofing, as the case may be, is in need of repainting or other maintenance and repair: Provided, however, That no rubber, metal other than fastenings, nor lumber restricted by the provisions of paragraph (c) of Conservation Order M-208 shall be used in such re-siding or re-roofing.

Issued this 16th day of April 1943.

PART 940—RUBBER AND BALATA AND PRODUCTS OF WHICH RUBBER OR BALATA IS A COMPONENT

[Supplementary Order M-15-f as Amended April 17, 1943]

ORDER RESTRICTING THE USE OF RUBBER CEMENTS AND ADHESIVES

Whereas the fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of rubber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 940.8 Supplementary Order M-15-f—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Rubber cement" means any type of cement, adhesive or coating made in whole or in part of crude rubber, latex, reclaimed rubber or scrap rubber.

(b) Restrictions on the use of rubber cement. Except as otherwise permitted by general or special authorization of the War Production Board, no person who for compensation or profit engages in manufacturing, repairing, combining, laminating, coating, impregnating or otherwise treating any luggage, handbags, belts for wearing apparel, pocketbooks, wallets, key rings or cases, hats or other millinery, cosmetic appliances, cosmetic bags, tobacco pouches, furs or embroidered or other materials for emblems, pennants, chevrons, appliques or other similar decorative material, or in laminating, combining or treating any fabrics or materials, or in manufacturing shoes, shall use any rubber cement in manufacturing, repairing, combining, laminating, coating, impregnating or treating any such products or materials; except that rubber cement may be used (i) in the following operations only in the manufacture or repair of shoes: Cutting and fitting room operations, bed and side lasting, folding gem duck, heel breasting, wood heel covering, insole rib and lip, moccasin seam, prewelt, platform attaching (but only if no equipment for the use of another method is available), rand, soft box toe, sole attaching, semi-automatic toe lasting (but only if no equipment for the use of another method is available), unishank, leather welting, channelling McKay shoes and Littleway sewed shoes (but no others), and shoe repair, and (ii) in the manufacture, application or repair of any products for the manufacture of which crude rubber, latex, reclaimed rubber or scrap rubber may be consumed under the provisions of § 940.3 (Supplementary Order No. M-15-b) as amended from time to time.

(c) Restriction on the purchase and sale of rubber cement. No person shall purchase rubber cement for the purpose of using such rubber cement for any of the purposes for which rubber cement may not be used under the provisions of paragraph (b) hereof; nor shall any person sell, trade transfer or deliver, or offer to sell, trade, transfer or deliver, any rubber cement to any other person if he knows or has reason to believe such other person intends or proposes to use such rubber cement for any of the purposes prohibited by paragraph (b) hereof.

(d) Exceptions as to supplies on hand. Notwithstanding the restrictions imposed by paragraph (b) of this order, any person who on July 31, 1942, had in his possession any rubber cement which he purchased or was holding for his own use for any of the purposes prohibited by paragraph (b) may use in operations prohibited by paragraph (b) hereof an amount of rubber cement not exceeding five gallons.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales of rubber cement and the uses to which such persons put rubber cement now owned or hereafter acquired by them.

(3) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the Board shall from time to time require.

(4) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(5) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(6) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance with this order would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him or that it would result in a problem of unemployment in the community, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may apply for relief to the War Production Board, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(7) Communications. All communication concerning this order shall be addressed to: Office of the Rubber Director, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-15-f.

(8) Any action which, under the terms of this order, is to be taken by the War Production Board may be taken in the name of the Rubber Director in such manner as may be prescribed.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Amendment 1 to Suspension Order S-260]

KENNY BOILER AND MANUFACTURING CO.

Suspension Order S-260 provided that deliveries of material to the Kenny Boiler and Manufacturing Company could be accorded priority and that allocation of material to the Kenny Boiler and Manufacturing Company could be made only as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. Inasmuch as this company is engaged in repair operations, which in some cases are vital to the war effort, it has been determined that authority to grant exceptions to the above order should be vested in the Regional Compliance Chief.

In view of the foregoing facts, it is hereby ordered that paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1010.260 of Suspension Order S-260 are amended to read as follows:

(a) Deliveries of material to Kenny Boiler and Manufacturing Company, its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority, directly or indirectly, over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, except as hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Compliance Chief, of the Regional Office of the War Production Board, in Chicago, Illinois.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Kenny Boiler and Manufacturing Company, its successors and assigns, of any material, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Compliance Chief, of the Regional Office of the War Production Board, Chicago, Illinois.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-285]

SALCE CONSTRUCTION CO.

Salce Construction Company of which Pasquale Salce is the president, treasurer and principal or sole stockholder, is a corporation with offices in Bridgeport, Connecticut. On or about October 30, 1942 the said corporation entered into a contract with Louis Capozzi by the terms of which the company agreed to make certain alterations in the building, both interior and exterior, for the sum of $3,600. Pursuant to said contract, the Salce Construction Company commenced construction work and carried it forward almost to completion. The estimated cost of the work was in excess of the amount permitted by Order L-41 with which the Salce Construction Company and Pasquale Salce were familiar. Such conduct on the part of Salce Construction Company and Pasquale Salce constituted a violation of Conservation Order L-41. These acts have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.285 Suspension Order S-285. (a) Deliveries of material to Salce Construction Company or Pasquale Salce, their successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, except as hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Salce Construction Company or Pasquale Salce, their successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Salce Construction Company or Pasquale Salce from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on April 19, 1943, and shall expire on October 19, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-287]

JORDAN BOTTLING CO.

The Jordan Bottling Company, Laurinburg, North Carolina, is an individual proprietorship, owned by Charles L. Jordan, Jr., and is a bottler of non-alcoholic beverages. During the months of June, July, August, and September, 1942, the company used closures in the bottling of these non-alcoholic beverages substantially in excess of its quotas under Conservation Order M-104. The company's total excess usage of closures amounted to 2,038 gross. During this period the company was familiar with the restrictions contained in Conservation Order M-104 and its excess use of closures constituted wilful violations of that order which have made it appropriate that the company's future use of closures be restricted. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.287 Suspension Order S-287. (a) During each of the calendar quarters beginning April 1, 1943, July 1, 1943, and October 1, 1943, the quota of closures which Charles L. Jordan, Jr., individually or doing business as the Jordan Bottling Company, his successors and assigns, would otherwise be entitled to use in the bottling of non-alcoholic beverages under the provisions of Conservation Order M-104 shall be reduced by 675 gross.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Charles L. Jordan, Jr. individually or doing business as the Jordan Bottling Company, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 20, 1943, and shall expire on December 31, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

PART 1189—ROTENONE

[Conservation Order M-133, as Amended April 17, 1943]

§ 1189.1 Conservation Order M-133—(a) Definitions. (1) "Rotenone" means the active insecticidal ingredients of the roots of derris, cube, barbasco, tuba or timbo. The term includes:

(i) "Crude rotenone" in the form of root or of root which has been dried, broken, shredded, cut or chipped;

(ii) "Processed rotenone" in the form of finely ground or powdered crude rotenone; also in the form of liquid or solid extracts (or resins) obtained from crude rotenone.

(2) "Rotenone insecticide" means any compound containing rotenone combined with other liquid or dry materials, whether active or inert; provided that such compound is suitable for use as an insecticide.

(3) "Importer" means any person engaged in the importation of rotenone.

(4) "Processor" means any person engaged in producing or selling processed rotenone in any of the forms described in paragraph (a) (1) (ii) hereof.

(b) Restrictions on delivery. (1) No importer or processor shall deliver any rotenone to any person except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board upon application made pursuant to paragraph (f) (1) hereof; and no person shall accept delivery of any rotenone which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries to be made in each calendar month will so far as practicable be issued by the War Production Board prior to the commencement of such month, but the War Production Board may at any time issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made.

(3) In the event that any importer or processor, after receiving notice from the War Production Board with respect to a delivery of rotenone which he is authorized or directed to make to any specific customer, shall be unable to make such delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation from such customer or otherwise, such importer or processor shall forthwith give notice of such fact to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-133, and shall not, in the absence of specific authorization or direction from the War Production Board resell or otherwise dispose of the rotenone which he is unable to deliver as aforesaid.

(4) No person shall deliver any material containing rotenone to any other person unless prior to such delivery he will have received from the person to whom delivery is made, a requirement certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to his supplier and to the War Production Board that the rotenone or rotenone insecticide hereby ordered for delivery will be used, or sold for use only for the purposes permitted under the terms of Conservation Order M-133, paragraph (c) as follows:

For resale—For use [cross out one]—Date _____

(5) No person shall use the rotenone received by him except for the purpose or purposes specified in the certificate furnished pursuant to paragraph (b) (4).

(c) Restrictions on use. No person shall use rotenone or any rotenone insecticide except for one or more of the following purposes:

(1) Use in the protection of the following food crops against the following insects, or the manufacture of any preparation for such use:

(i) Peas—protection against the pea weevil and pea aphid.

(ii) Beans—protection against Mexican bean beetle.

(iii) Cole crops—other than cabbage, including: broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, kohl-rabi, mustard, kale, turnips, and collards—for protection against caterpillars and aphids.

(iv) Sweet corn—for protection against the European corn borer.

(2) Use on cattle for the specific control of the cattle grub (ox warble) or short-nosed cattle louse, or the manufacture of any insecticide for such use.

(3) Any other specified use, where specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

(d) Restrictions on production. (1) No person shall manufacture or process any rotenone insecticide in the form of dust or powder with a content of more than half of one per cent of rotenone, except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board. This paragraph (d) (1) shall not, however, be understood to prevent the manufacture or preparation of dust having a rotenone content of half of one per cent in accordance with standard commercial practice: Provided, That the actual variation from the permitted rotenone content shall not exceed ten per cent; nor shall this paragraph (d) (1) be understood to prevent the use in the manufacture of any rotenone insecticide of other active ingredients, activators or wetting agents.

(2) No person shall manufacture or process any rotenone insecticide incorporating pyrethrum.

(e) Restrictions on packaging. (1) No processed rotenone or rotenone insecticide may be delivered in any package to any person by any importer, processor, manufacturer or distributor unless such package clearly displays on the label thereof or on a suitable tag securely affixed thereto, a statement substantially as follows:

The use of this material is restricted by WPB's Conservation Order No. M-133, as amended, to the following uses:

1. Peas—protection against the pea weevil and pea aphid.

2. Beans—protection against Mexican bean beetle.

3 Cole crops—other than cabbage, including: broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, kohl-rabi, mustard, kale, turnips, and collards—for protection against caterpillars and aphids.

4 Sweet corn—for protection against the European corn borer.

5. Cattle—for the specific control of cattle grub (ox warble) or short-nosed cattle louse.

[Paragraph (e) (1) amended April 17, 1943]

(2) War Production Board may at any time issue directions to processors with respect to the size of package in which rotenone insecticides may be packed.

(f) Applications and reports. (1) Each importer or processor seeking authorization to make delivery of rotenone during any calendar month beginning with March, 1943 shall file application on or before the 10th day of the preceding calendar month. Application for authorization to deliver rotenone in January or February, 1943, shall be made as many days as possible in advance of the requested delivery. In any case, the application shall be made on Form PD-601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following specific instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Four copies shall be prepared, of which three shall be filed with the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-133, the fourth to be retained for applicant's files.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify "Rotenone"; under WPB Order No., specify "M-133"; under name of company, state name and mailing address; under unit of measure, specify "pounds"; and state the month and year for which authorization for use or acceptance of delivery is sought.

(iv) In Columns 3 and 8, specify form; that is, whether dust, extract, ground root, etc., and insert per cent of pure rotenone.

(v) The importer or processor may, if he wishes, leave blank Column 5.

(vi) If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified.

(2) Each person, other than the Army or Navy of the United States, or the United States Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, who, as of the close of business on December 31, 1942, owned more than five hundred pounds of rotenone, or more than five thousand pounds of rotenone insecticides, or a combination of the two having a rotenone content of more than five hundred pounds, shall on or before February 10, 1943, file Form PD–785 with the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–133, retaining a copy for his files.

(3) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports in respect to such materials and at such times as it may from time to time prescribe and may issue special directions to any importer or processor with respect to the preparing and filing of PD–601.

(g) Exceptions in the case of rotenone insecticides in small packages. The restrictions of paragraphs (b) (1) to (b) (5), inclusive, (c) (1) to (c) (3), inclusive, and (e) (1) are not applicable to rotenone insecticides packaged in quantities of one pound or less, where in solid form, or of one pint or less, where a liquid.

(h) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

[Paragraph (h) redesignated April 17, 1943]

(i) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning deliveries, processing and use of rotenone and rotenone insecticides.

[Paragraph (1) redesignated April 17, 1943]

(2) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–133.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

PART 1235—COMBED COTTON YARN (INCLUDING SALES YARN AND YARN FOR PRODUCERS' OWN USE)

[General Preference Order M–155 as Amended April 17, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of combed cotton yarn and of certain combed cotton fabrics, for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1235.1 General Preference Order M–155—(a) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Combed cotton yarns" means greige cotton yarn, in all counts and descriptions up to and including 90's, which in addition to having been put through cotton carding machinery has also been through the further process of combing, whether produced for sale or in integrated mills for use directly in the manufacture of fabrics, braids, tapes or other products.

(2) "Medium combed yarns" means the combed cotton yarns in counts from 61s to 90s, inclusive, single or plied, whether produced for sale or for use in integrated mills directly in the manufacture of fabrics, braids, tapes or other products.

(3) "Coarse combed yarns" means the combed cotton yarns in counts coarser than 61s single or plied, whether produced for sale or for use in integrated mills directly in the manufacture of fabrics, braids, tapes or other products.

(4) "Reserved combed yarn" means the combed cotton yarns, required to be earmarked pursuant to the terms of this order, whether produced for sale or for use in integrated mills directly in the manufacture of fabrics, braids, tapes or other products.

(5) "Producer" means any person who, on February 28, 1942, was spinning medium or coarse combed yarns, or both, whether produced for sale or for use in integrated mills directly in the manufacture of fabrics, braids, tapes, or other products, or who, on that date, had idle equipment capable of producing either of them, except that any such person shall not be deemed a producer as to that portion of his production which is equivalent to the portion of his production during the month of February, 1942 which was used or sold in the manufacture of combed yarn used in stitching thread (as distinguished from embroidery or decorative thread). The term "producer" shall include, but without limitation thereto, sales yarn mills, spinner-weavers, spinner-mercerizers and spinner-knitters.

(6) "Officers uniforms" shall mean uniforms (including shirts) manufactured in accordance with the regulations of and required to be worn by the United States governmental agency concerned for:

(i) United States Army officers (warrant officers and nurses).

(ii) United States Navy officers (commissioned and warrant), chief petty officers and nurses.

(iii) United States Marine Corps officers and warrant officers.

(iv) United States Coast Guard officers nd chief petty officers.

(v) United States Government military and naval academy and training school students.

(vi) United States Maritime Commission officers.

(vii) United States Coast and Geodetic Survey officers.

(viii) United States Public Health Service officers or nurses.

(ix) United States Women's Army Auxiliary Corps and any similar United States navy corps or organization.

(x) United States Army Specialist Corps.

(c) Directions with respect to the production of combed cotton yarns.—(1) Medium combed yarns. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contracts to which he may be a party, each producer of medium combed yarns shall, as soon as may be necessary for him to do so in order to make delivery in accordance with the terms of any purchase order placed with him of the type specified in paragraph (d) (1) hereof and as soon as the required yarn counts and descriptions can be produced by him, earmark at least 40 percent of his production thereof as reserved combed yarns.

(2) Coarse combed yarns. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contracts to which he may be a party, each producer of coarse combed yarns shall, as soon as may be necessary for him to do so in order to make delivery in accordance with the terms of any purchase order placed with him of the type specified in paragraph (d) (1) hereof and as soon as the required yarn counts and descriptions can be produced by him, earmark at least 65 percent of his production thereof as reserved combed yarns.

(3) No producer shall fail to operate his equipment capable of producing medium or coarse combed yarns at maximum practicable capacity or take any action which would decrease his weekly production of medium combed yarns, coarse combed yarns, or both, except to the extent necessary to meet his required deliveries of such yarns or of fabrics woven therefrom, within the limitations set forth in paragraph (c) (1), (2) and (5).

(4) Nothing in paragraph (c) (1), and (2) and (3) shall prevent or preclude any producer from earmarking a higher percentage of medium or coarse combed yarns as reserved yarns.

(5) Production in accordance with paragraph (c) (1) and (2) shall be earmarked in the counts required to meet the current specifications or requirements of the procurements of:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States, including, but without limitation thereto, the yarn counts required by the following fabrics:

(a) Cloth, cotton, twill, 6 oz., Quartermaster Corps Tentative Specification P. Q. D. No. 95. September 25, 1941;

(b) Cloth, cotton, uniform, twill, Quartermaster Corps Tentative Specification P. Q. D. No. 33–A, December 9, 1941, superseding P. Q. D. No. 33, February 17, 1941;

(c) Cloth, cotton, wind resistant, Quartermaster Corps Tentative Specification P. Q. D. No. 1, December 13, 1940, superseding Q M. C. Tent. Spec. September 24, 1940;

(d) Army-Navy Aeronautical Specification cloth; airplane, cotton, mercerized, AN–CCC–C–399, Amendment 1, October 23, 1939;

(e) Twill, bleached and shrunk, Navy Department Specification No. 27T25, Sept. 2, 1941, superseding 27D5c, Jan. 2, 1937;

(f) Lining, uniform, cotton (twill), U. S. Army Specification No. 6–100B, Sept. 17, 1929;

(g) Cloth, balloon; finished, U. S. Army Specification No. 6–39–G, May 5, 1937. Amendment No. 2, June 25, 1941;

(h) Cloth, balloon; finished, U. S. Army Specification No. 6–39–G, May 5, 1937, superseding No. 6–39–F, December 2, 1932;

(i) Netting; mosquito (unbleached-bobbinet) Federal Specification JJ–N–191, January 5, 1932, superseding F. S. No. 540a, January 25, 1929;

(j) Netting; mosquito, U. S. Army, Quartermaster Corps Specification P. Q. D. No. 17a;

(k) Netting; mosquito, U. S. Army, Quartermaster Corps Specification P. Q. D. No. 82;

(m) Socks, cotton, tan, Federal Specification No. JJ–S 566A, dated August 26, 1938.

as such specifications are from time to time revised or amended.

(ii) The United States Maritime Commission, The Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development;

(iii) Manufacturers of officers uniforms or fabrics therefor as approved by the respective departmental regulations for such uniforms;

(iv) The government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom including its Dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates and Yugoslavia;

(v) Any agency of the United States Government for material or equipment to be delivered to, or for the account of, the government of any country listed in paragraph (c) (5) (iv) or any other country, including those in the western hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act);

(vi) Manufacturers of tracing cloth, typewriter ribbons, and electrical insulation materials, but only to the extent and in the counts that such combed yarns have been heretofore used or specified for such purposes;

(vii) The Defense Supplies Corporation, or other corporation organized under section 5d of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended;

(viii) Manufacturers specifically authorized to purchase reserved combed yarns by the War Production Board acting pursuant to paragraph (f).

(d) Directions with respect to the sale, delivery or use of reserved combed yarns. (1) All reserved combed yarns shall be used, sold, or delivered only upon orders therefor for physical incorporation into material or equipment to be delivered to or for the account of the persons listed in paragraph (c) (5), except as otherwise authorized by the War Production Board.

(2) No producer shall hold a stock of reserved combed yarn for the account of any customer over one week without notifying the War Production Board and stating the counts, quantities and descriptions of such reserved combed yarns.

(3) Each producer, holding a stock of reserved combed yarn for his own account in excess of his current weekly production of such yarn, shall immediately notify the War Production Board stating the counts, quantities and descriptions of such reserved combed yarns on hand.

(4) No person, operating a warehouse or other place of storage shall hold in storage any combed yarns for a period longer than 30 days without notifying the War Production Board, stating the most complete description of the yarn known to him and the person for whose account it is being stored.

(5) No person, except those mentioned in paragraph (c) (5) (vii) and (viii) or (d) (4), shall accept delivery of reserved combed yarns unless such yarns shall be put into process by him within 30 days after actual receipt thereof by him at his plant or at any warehouse or other place of storage for his account or are required by him for immediate delivery to others who shall put them into process after actual receipt thereof by him at his plant or at any warehouse or other place of storage for his account.

(6) No producer, regardless of whether he has heretofore engaged in the business of selling combed cotton yarns, or not, shall refuse to accept and fill, to the extent of his production of reserved combed yarns, a purchase order therefor of the kind specified in paragraph (d) (1), unless:

(i) The person placing the same is unable or unwilling to meet the established prices and terms therefor; or

(ii) The producer shall have already sold all of his reserved combed yarns to be produced in the delivery period required by the said purchase order to another person for a use permitted in the said paragraph (d) (1); or

(iii) The producer will require all his unsold reserved combed yarns for use himself as permitted in paragraph (d) (1), prior to the availability of further production thereof by himself; or

(iv) The purchase order is for combed cotton yarn in counts or in put-ups which the producer, in view of his commitments under paragraph (d) (6) (ii) and (iii) above, is not capable of producing, due to the limitations of his available machinery and equipment and the proposed purchaser is unable or unwilling to supply the necessary equipment or machinery;

Provided, however, That nothing in this order shall excuse any person producing combed cotton fabrics from the requirements of complying with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 with respect to the compulsory acceptance and filling of defense or other preference rated orders in accordance with the preference ratings assigned thereto; but any person with whom an order is placed for fabrics for a use permitted in paragraph (d) (1) hereof may, if his own supply of reserved combed yarns is not available, in whole or in part, for any of the reasons set forth in paragraphs (d) (6) (ii), (iii) and (iv) above, place a purchase order with any other producer for the necessary combed cotton yarns required over and above his own reserved combed yarns, to be filled out of such other producer's reserved yarns. Such other producer shall accept and fill such purchase order subject to paragraphs (d) (6) (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv).

(e) Restrictions on the sale or delivery of the residual supply of combed cotton yarns and on fabrics woven therefrom. No producer shall make any discriminatory cuts in sales or deliveries of non-reserved coarse or medium combed cotton yarns in counts which the producer continues to make, or fabrics woven therefrom, between former customers desiring to purchase the same, and who purchased such yarns or fabrics in the year 1941 and heretofore in 1942, notwithstanding the provisions of any contracts to which he may be a party, or between such former customers and his own use of such yarns or fabrics, except to the extent necessary to make his required deliveries upon purchase orders for such yarns or fabrics carrying preference ratings.

(f) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of combed cotton yarn conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board by letter or telegram, Reference M–155, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(g) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(h) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as may be required by said Board from time to time, but no reports other than the notifications required by paragraph (d) hereof, shall be filed until forms therefor shall have been prescribed.

(i) Communications to the War Production Board. All communications concerning this order, or any reports required to be filed hereunder, shall unless otherwise directed, be in writing and be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Reference M–155.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 1252—GAGES AND PRECISION MEASURING HAND TOOLS

[General Preference Order E-5-a as Amended April 17, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of gages and precision measuring hand tools, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1252.2 General Preference Order E–5–a—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person who is engaged in the manufacture of gages or precision measuring hand tools.

(3) "Approved user" means any of the following:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Selective Service System, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development, Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company.

(ii) Any person producing any product or conducting any business listed on Schedule I or II of CMP Regulation No. 5, as amended from time to time.

(iii) Any person conducting any activity or rendering any service listed on Schedule I or II of CMP Regulation No. 5A, as amended from time to time.

(iv) The government of any country designated, under the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), as eligible to receive lend-lease aid.

(v) Any person to whom the Board of Economic Warfare has approved the granting of an export license for gages or for precision measuring hand tools.

(vi) Any other persons specifically designated by the War Production Board.

(4) "Approved employee" means any person who is employed or is about to be employed by any approved user. A student of any vocational or other training school is not an approved employee as such, and sales to such students, whether by producers, distributors, or the vocational or training school itself are not permitted under the provisions of this order.

(5) "Distributor" means any person other than an approved user who purchases or accepts delivery of any gages or precision measuring hand tools exclusively for resale and not for use.

(6) "Gages and precision measuring hand tools" means those tools which are used to determine whether a product meets required dimensional specifications, excluding those gages specified on Exhibit A attached hereto and excluding devices made of wood.

(7) "Continental United States" means the territory comprising the several States and the District of Columbia.

(b) Restrictions on sales by producers and distributors. On and after May 1, 1943, no producer or distributor shall sell or deliver any gages or precision measuring hand tools except in fulfillment of the following purchase orders:

(1) Purchase orders placed by approved users, and by distributors, bearing a preference rating of A–9 or higher, accompanied by a statement substantially as follows which shall be in addition to any other certification required in applying or extending such preference rating:

Purchased pursuant to General Preference Order E–5–a. Delivery of this order will not increase the undersigned's inventory beyond a supply required by the undersigned's current practices for use or for resale during a thirty-day period, except as permitted by paragraph (c) of General Preference Order E–5–a.

Provided, however, No such statement is required to accompany purchase orders for those production type gages listed on Exhibit B attached hereto.

(2) (i) Purchase orders placed by approved employees bearing a preference rating of AA–2X or higher, accompanied by a certification by the approved employee and an authorized official of his employer (which employer must be an approved user) signed either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, substantially as follows:

Preference Rating ------ (specify rating) EHT. The following gage or precision measuring hand tool----------

(only one tool may be placed on each certification; specify type and size of tool)

is required by the undersigned approved employee as a condition to retaining or obtaining employment with the undersigned approved user as defined in General Preference Order E–5–a. The undersigned approved employee further certifies that he does not own or possess any similar gage or tool capable of use in his employment.

Name of Approved Employee
Position: ----------

Name and Address of Approved User

Authorized Signature.

(ii) Effective March 26, 1943, deliveries to an approved employee of gages and precision measuring hand tools which are required by him as a condition to retaining or obtaining employment with an approved user are hereby assigned the same preference rating as is assigned to such approved user's purchase of maintenance, repair and operating supplies by CMP Regulation No. 5 or CMP Regulation No. 5A. (For example: Deliveries to an approved employee of gages and precision measuring hand tools required in his employment in a plant manufacturing ammunition are assigned a preference rating of AA–1, this being the same rating assigned to his employer (an approved user) by Schedule 1 of CMP Regulation No. 5.)

(iii) A preference rating assigned under paragraph (b) (2) (ii) of this order shall be applied by placing the rating at the commencement of the joint certification required from the approved employee and his employer by paragraph (b) (2) (i) of this order.

(iv) A person who receives a purchase order rated and endorsed in accordance with paragraph (b) (2) of this order may extend the rating to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3 (using the endorsement therein specified) and accompanying such endorsement with the symbol EHT and a statement substantially in the same form as set forth in paragraph (b) (1) of this order.

(v) The symbol EHT shall constitute an "allotment symbol" for the purposes of CMP Regulation No. 3, and a purchase order bearing the symbol EHT shall have the status of a delivery order bearing a preference rating with an allotment symbol as provided in CMP Regulation No. 3.

(c) Restrictions on sales by approved users. On and after May 1, 1943, no approved user shall sell or deliver any gages or precision measuring hand tools except to persons employed or about to be employed by such approved user, or except pursuant to § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(d) Effect of certification. Any certification made pursuant to this order shall constitute a representation to the seller and to the War Production Board of the truth of the facts therein set forth, upon which the seller shall be entitled to rely unless he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false.

(e) Restrictions on inventory. On and after May 1, 1943, no distributor or approved user shall buy or accept delivery of any gage or precision measuring hand tool the delivery of which will at the time effect an increase in his inventory beyond a supply required by his current practices for use or for resale during a thirty-day period: Provided, however, That the deliveries of gages or precision measuring hand tools pursuant to the following designated types of purchase orders shall be permitted to effect such an increase:

(1) Purchase orders placed by any procurement agency of the United States pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(2) Purchase orders placed by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration for gages or precision measuring hand tools required for bases or supply depots outside the continental United States, or for bases or supply depots within the continental United States which are maintained for emergency purposes or to supply such bases or supply depots outside the continental United States.

(3) Purchase orders for those production type gages listed on Exhibit B attached hereto.

(f) Changes in schedules. Notwithstanding any other provision of this order, the War Production Board may direct or change any schedule of production or delivery of gages or precision measuring hand tools, allocate any order for gages or precision measuring hand tools to any other producer, divert or otherwise direct the delivery of any gage or precision measuring hand tool to any other person.

(g) Records. Each producer and distributor shall keep and preserve for not less than two years complete records of his inventories and sales of gages and precision measuring hand tools.

(h) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall, from time to time, request.

(k) General Preference Order E–5 superseded. This order supersedes as of May 1, 1943, General Preference Order E–5, issued on June 15, 1942.

(l) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(m) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Tools Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: E–5–a.

(n) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

PART 3220—BLANKETS

[Conservation Order M-298]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials used in the manufacture of blankets for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3220.1 Conservation Order M–298—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Blanket manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing blankets for sale.

(2) "Blanket materials" means materials (including binding fabric and sewing thread) for physical incorporation in blankets, except wool fiber.

(3) "Blanket line" shall have its customary trade significance.

(c) Assignment and application of preference rating. Preference rating of A–2 hereby is assigned to deliveries of blanket materials pursuant to purchase or manufacturing orders placed by blanket manufacturers, subject to paragraph (d). Said rating shall be applied and extended in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 3.

(d) Restrictions on use of materials secured pursuant to rating. No manufacturer shall use any blanket materials obtained pursuant to the application of the preference rating assigned by paragraph (c) unless the blankets manufactured conform to the sizes, weights and specifications applicable to the respective types and kinds of blankets, as set forth below:

(1) All cotton blankets:
(i) Plaid:
66" x 76" 2 lbs. per pair—stitched ends only.
70" x 80" 2½ lbs. per pair—stitched ends only.
72" x 84" 3½ lbs. per pair—stitched ends or maximum 3" binding.
Colors: Rose and white—blue and white. In pairs or singles of pairs.
(ii) White sheet blankets:
70" x 90"—single only—stitched ends only.
70" x 95"—single only—stitched ends only.
80" x 95"—single only—stitched ends only.
Weight or construction: Only one weight or construction produced by the blanket manufacturer during 1942 as a regular number.
(iii) Jacquard blankets:
64" x 76" 1¾ lbs. per single—single only.
66" x 80" 2¼ lbs. per single—single only.
70" x 80" 5 lbs. per pair. Pairs or singles of pairs.
72" x 84" 5½ lbs. per pair. Pairs or singles of pairs.
Stitched or hemmed ends or with binding not over 4".
Patterns: Only those for which cards were cut prior to April 17, 1943.
Colors: Not more than 4-color combinations to a pattern.
(2) 95% cotton and 5% wool waste, noils, reprocessed or reused wool fibers:
(i) Plaid.
70" x 80" 3 lbs. per pair.
Colors: Rose and white—blue and white.
Binding: Not exceeding 3".
In pairs or singles of pairs.
(3) 95% cotton and 5% wool:
(i) Plaid.
72" x 84" 3¾ lbs. per pair.
Colors: Rose and white—blue and white—cedar and white.
Binding: Not exceeding 4".
In pairs or singles of pairs.
(4) 75% cotton and 25% wool:
(i) Plaid.
72" x 84" 3¾ lbs. per pair.

Colors: Rose and white—blue and white—cedar and white—green and white.
Binding: Not exceeding 4".
In pairs or singles of pairs.
(ii) Solid color single:
72" x 84" 2¾ lbs. per single.
72" x 84" 3¼ lbs. per single.
Colors: Rose blue, green, and cedar.
Binding: Not exceeding 4".
(iii) Jacquard single
72" x 84" 2¾ lbs. per single.
Patterns: Only those for which the cards were cut prior to April 17, 1943.
Colors: Not more than 4-color combinations to a pattern.
Binding: Not exceeding 4".
(5) Rayon and other fibers:
(i) Solid color single
Only one size—not exceeding 72" x 84".
Only one weight—not exceeding 3½ lbs. per single.
Only one blend—as made during 1942 and containing not over 25% wool fiber by weight.
Colors: Rose, blue, green, and cedar
Binding: Not exceeding 4".
(ii) Jacquard single
Only one size—not exceeding 72" x 84"
Only one weight—not exceeding 3½ lbs.
Only one blend—as made during 1942 and containing not over 25% wool fiber by weight.
Patterns: Only those for which the cards were cut prior to April 17, 1943.
Colors: Not more than 4-color combinations to a pattern.
Binding: Not exceeding 4".
(6) Wool blankets:
Blankets either plain, plaid or jacquard design containing more than 25% wool fiber by finished weight.
Width: Not to exceed 72".
Length: Not to exceed 84".
Weight: Not to exceed 4¼ lbs. per single for double woven fabric or 2¾ lbs. per single and 5½ lbs per pair for single woven fabric.
Colors: Solid colors, plaids and jacquards restricted to not more than 4 colors and white in any one range.
Binding: Not to exceed 4".
Wool blends limited to following ranges:
50% wool fiber, 75% wool fiber, 98–100% wool fiber.
(7) Crib blankets:
(i) All cotton receiving blankets
26" x 34"
Either 27" x 36" or 28" x 37"
30" x 40"
36" x 50"
(ii) All cotton jacquard or double woven:
30" x 40"
36" x 50"
(iii) Rayon blend containing not more than 25% wool fiber:
36" x 50"
(iv) 75% cotton and 25% wool blankets:
36" x 50"
Blends, weights, patterns and designs: Only those which were manufactured by blanket manufacturer on or before April 17, 1943.
Colors: Pink, blue and white.
Binding: Not over 4" or with stitched ends.

(e) General restrictions on manufacture of blankets. No person shall, after May 17, 1943, manufacture for sale any blankets:

(1) Which exceed 84" in length: Provided, however, That white cotton sheet blankets may be manufactured in lengths not exceeding 95", or

(2) In more than four colors and white for each blanket line, or in the case of jacquard blankets, in color combinations requiring more than four colors and white.

(f) For the purpose of this order a tolerance of

(1) 10% plus of wool fiber content shall be permitted, and

(2) 5% plus or minus in weight and size of a blanket shall be permitted.

(g) Fair distribution of products. No blanket manufacturer shall discriminate in the acceptance or filling of orders or in making deliveries, as between regular customers who meet his established terms and conditions.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington, D. C., Reference M–298.

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

PART 1100—ANTI-FREEZE

[Limitation Order L–51 as Amended April 19, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of alcohols as hereinafter defined, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1100.1 General Limitation Order L–51—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Anti-freeze" means any mixture that is designed and intended for use, without further processing, to depress the freezing point of coolant water in internal combustion engines.

(2) "Alcohols" means ethyl alcohol, methyl alcohol, isopropyl alcohol, and/or ethylene glycol.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of anti-freeze from alcohols.

(4) "Distributor" means any person engaged in the resale of anti-freeze manufactured from alcohols.

(5) "Passenger automobile" means any passenger type vehicle, including station wagons and taxicabs, propelled by an internal combustion engine and having a seating capacity of less than eleven (11) persons.

(6) "Commercial vehicle" means any motor vehicle other than a passenger automobile, and in addition includes stationary engines.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture of anti-freeze (1) No producer shall manufacture anti-freeze from alcohols in greater quantities than specifically authorized from time to time hereafter by the War Production Board.

(2) The restrictions on the manufacture of anti-freeze from alcohols set forth in paragraph (b) (1) of this section shall not apply to the manufacture of anti-freeze to be delivered to fill a specific contract or subcontract for:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, The Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development,

(ii) The government of any of the following countries: The United Kingdom, Canada and other Dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates of the British Empire, Belgium, China, Greece, The Kingdom of the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia and Yugoslavia, and

(iii) The government of any country, including those in the Western Hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

Quantities of anti-freeze permitted to be manufactured under this subparagraph shall be in addition to quantities permitted under quotas authorized pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(3) Producers may apply to the War Production Board for an authorized anti-freeze quota on Form PD-476.

(c) (1) Except as provided in (c) (2) hereof, no producer or distributor shall deliver anti-freeze, manufactured in whole or in part from ethylene glycol, or containing ethylene glycol, to any person other than a distributor, except by physically placing such anti-freeze in the radiator of a commercial vehicle owned or operated by such person.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) (1) hereof, a producer or distributor may deliver anti-freeze to:

(i) Any of the agencies or governments named in paragraph (b) (2);

(ii) Any passenger automobile manufacturer for use in any new passenger automobile to be delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States; or

(iii) Any other person who shall prior to such delivery have filed with such producer or distributor a certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies that the anti-freeze hereby ordered (manufactured from or containing ethylene glycol) will not be used in, or disposed of for use in, any passenger automobile as defined in War Production Board Order L–51.

Name of Purchaser

By --- Authorized Official Title

Date

Such certificate may be endorsed on or accompany the order for anti-freeze and shall constitute a representation to (but need not be filed with) War Production Board. It shall be signed by the purchaser, if an individual, or if not, then by a duly authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The receipt of such certificate shall not authorize the delivery of anti-freeze by a producer or distributor where he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

[NOTE: Paragraphs (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j) redesignated April 19, 1943]

(d) Exemption from general inventory restrictions. The restrictions on inventories provided by Priorities Regulation No 1 (§ 944.14) shall not be applicable to anti-freeze manufactured from alcohol; Provided, however, That no person shall knowingly make, and no person shall accept, delivery of such anti-freeze if the inventory of the person accepting delivery is or will by virtue of such acceptance become, in excess of the quantity required, whether for own use or resale, for the season April 1, 1943, to March 31, 1944.

(e) Effect on other orders. The terms and provisions of this order or of any specific authorization issued hereunder by the War Production Board, establishing an anti-freeze quota, shall control and supersede the terms and provisions of any other order heretofore issued by the War Production Board affecting the manufacture of anti-freeze from any of the alcohols.

(f) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventory, production and sales.

(g) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall upon request be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the Chemicals Division, War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as said branch shall from time to time prescribe.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of anti-freeze conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board, Reference: L–51, Attention Chemicals Branch, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 1222—EXPORTS UNDER LICENSES ISSUED BY THE BOARD OF ECONOMIC WARFARE

[General Exports Order M–148, as Amended April 19, 1943]

§ 1222.1 General Exports Order M–148—(a) Requirement of delivery for export. Any person receiving, from the holder of an export license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare, a purchase order for material covered by such license, to which a preference rating has been assigned by the Board of Economic Warfare, shall accept such order and make delivery thereunder in accordance with such rating, unless such order would be in excess of any export quota relating to such material previously established for such person by the War Production Board. Such delivery shall be made regardless of any order of the War Production Board restricting inventories of material or uses thereof in manufacture or otherwise, or requiring certificates with respect to such inventories or uses, insofar as such inventories are maintained or such uses occur in the country to which such material is to be exported, but shall be subject to such restrictions with respect to inventories maintained or uses occurring within the United States prior to export. Such preference ratings shall be assigned by the Board of Economic Warfare only pursuant to specific authority granted, from time to time, by the War Production Board with respect to specified quantities of material.

(b) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board in connection with this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

(c) Application or extension of rating. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 3, a rating assigned by the Board of Economic Warfare may be applied, by the holder of the export license for the material ordered, only by endorsing on, or attaching to, the contract or purchase order to which the rating is to be applied, a certification in substantially the following form (or, if appropriate, and at the holder's option, in the form prescribed in Priorities Regulation No. 9, as amended from time to time) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned hereby represents to the seller and the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply the preference ratings indicated opposite the items shown on this purchase order, pursuant to an assignment thereof by the Board of Economic Warfare upon Export License Number ----, and that this purchase order is subject to the provisions of General Exports Order No. M–148. This material is to be charged to the period: -------- to --------.

(Name) (Address)

Any extension of any such rating shall be pursuant to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 3.

(d) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of all priorities regulations, as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

This order shall take effect October 1, 1942, and shall continue in effect until revoked by the War Production Board.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 1246—CHEMICAL COTTON PULP

[Conservation Order M–157, as Amended April 19, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of chemical cotton pulp for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1246.1 Conservation Order No. M–157—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Chemical cotton pulp" means

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify chemical cotton pulp; name and mailing address; and leave delivery destination, supplier and his shipping point

(c) Special provisions governing applications and reports. (1) The War

PART 3135—ACRYLIC MONOMER AND ACRYLIC RESIN

ment of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free

(1) "Chemical cotton pulp" means pulp manufactured by chemically purifying raw cotton fibres, sometimes described as "cotton linter pulp" or "cottonseed hull shavings pulp."

(2) "Producer" means any person producing chemical cotton pulp.

(3) "Consumer" means any person who purchases or accepts delivery of chemical cotton pulp for use or resale.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries of chemical cotton pulp. (1) No producer shall deliver chemical cotton pulp, and no person shall accept delivery of chemical cotton pulp from a producer, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (d), or as provided in paragraph (c).

(2) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of chemical cotton pulp shall use such chemical cotton pulp for the purpose authorized, except as otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board.

(3) The War Production Board in its discretion may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to the use or delivery of chemical cotton pulp by such person, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, or special directions to any producer with respect to the kinds of chemical cotton pulp which he may or must manufacture, the amount of his monthly production which he shall withhold as a reserve, and the disposition of such production reserve.

(c) Exemptions. Specific authorization of the War Production Board shall not be required with respect to deliveries by a producer (which may be made without regard to preference ratings) of 200 short tons or less of chemical cotton pulp in any one month (in lots of not more than 50 short tons to any one consumer in any one month), and the acceptance by a consumer of delivery of 50 short tons or less of chemical cotton pulp in any one month.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each consumer seeking authorization to accept delivery of chemical cotton pulp during any calendar month shall file application on or before the 5th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for use or delivery is requested. Such application shall be made on Form PD–600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

(i) Copies of Form PD–600 may be obtained at local offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Five copies shall be prepared, of which three certified copies shall be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–157, and one (with Tables II, III and IV blank) shall be forwarded to the supplier. A separate set of forms shall be prepared for each plant location of the applicants, and for each supplier from whom pulp is requested.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify chemical cotton pulp; under War Production Board order number, specify M–157; under unit of measure, specify short tons (2,000 lbs.); under name of company, specify name and mailing address; under delivery destination, show plant location; fill in supplier's name and his shipping point; and specify the month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery is sought.

(iv) In Columns 1, 11 and 19, specify "loose" or "sheeted".

(v) In Column 2, specify quantity of chemical cotton pulp requested for each use listed in Column 4.

(vi) In Column 3, specify primary product in terms of the following:

Viscose products.
Cellulose acetate products.
Cellulose nitrate products.
Cupra-ammonium products.
Acetate propionate.
Acetate butyrate.
Ethyl cellulose.
Methyl cellulose.
Other (specify).

(vii) In Column 4, specify product use in terms of the following:

Rayon filament yarn (other than high-tenacity)
Rayon staple fibre.
Rayon high-tenacity yarn.
Plastics (molding compounds).
Plastics (sheets, rods and tubes).
Film (photographic)
Film (other than photographic).
Surface coatings (lacquers, paints, etc.).
Explosives (military propellants).
Explosives (other than military propellants)
Meat casings.
Other (specify).

(viii) In columns 12 and 15 show separately, amounts on hand and amounts in transit directed to the applicant and subject to a bill of lading.

(ix) Leave Table IV blank on all copies, and Tables II and III blank on supplier's copy.

(2) Each consumer who has not filed an application on Form PD–600 pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) above during any month and who on the first day of such month had on hand 100 short tons or more of chemical cotton pulp shall file a report on or before the 5th day of such month. Such report shall be made on Form PD–600, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

(i) Copies of Form PD–600 may be obtained at local offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Two copies shall be prepared, of which one certified copy shall be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–157. A separate set of forms shall be prepared for each plant location.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify chemical cotton pulp; under War Production Board order number, specify M–157; under unit of measure, specify short tons (2,000 lbs.); under name of company, specify name and mailing address; and leave delivery destination, supplier and his shipping point blank.

(iv) Leave Tables I, III and IV blank, filling in only Table II.

(v) State "last month" in heading of table II (the month preceding the month in which report is filed).

(vi) In column 11, specify "loose" or "sheeted".

(vii) In columns 12 and 15 show separately amounts on hand and amounts in transit directed to the reporting consumer and subject to a bill of lading.

(3) Each producer shall, on or before the 15th day of each month, file a report and apply for authorization to make deliveries during the next month; Provided, however, That no producer shall be required to file a report for any plant during the month following any month in which such plant produced 50 short tons or less of chemical cotton pulp. Such application and report shall be made on Form PD–601, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

(i) Copies of Form PD–601 may be obtained at local offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Prepare five copies, of which four certified copies shall be forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–157. A separate set of forms shall be prepared for each plant location.

(iii) Suppliers who have filed application on Form PD–600, specifying themselves as their suppliers, shall list their own names as customers on Form PD–601, and shall list their request for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

(iv) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify chemical cotton pulp; under War Production Board order Number, specify M–157; under name of company, state name and mailing address; state plant location and check producer box; state the month and year during which deliveries covered by the application are to be made; and under unit of measure, specify short tons (2,000 lbs.).

(v) Fill in Tables I and II, leaving only Columns 6 and 7 blank.

(vi) In Column 1 group customers by grade ("loose" first, and "sheeted" second), and list customers alphabetically in each group.

(vii) In Column 3, specify "loose" or "sheeted" grades as stated in customer's Form PD–600.

(viii) The supplier may, if he wishes, leave Column 5 blank.

(ix) In Column 8, specify "loose" or "sheeted".

(x) Stocks shown in Columns 10 and 13 should be the actual stock on hand at the time stated, excluding chemical cotton pulp in process or subject to a bill of lading, directed to a consumer.

(xi) If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified.

(e) Special provisions governing applications and reports. (1) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD–600 and PD–601.

(2) Each producer who consumes all or part of his production of chemical cotton pulp shall treat the production and consumption parts of his operations as separate divisions within the meaning of paragraph (f) (3) hereof, and in his separate capacity as a consumer and as a producer shall file all the applications and reports required by paragraph (d).

(3) Each producer shall notify the War Production Board of the cancellation of any authorized delivery or of inability to make any authorized delivery as soon as possible after he has notice of such fact.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Records. In addition to the records required to be kept by Priorities Regulation No. 1, as amended, each producer and each consumer shall retain for a period of not less than two years copies of all purchase orders for chemical cotton pulp, whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or filed in such manner that they can readily be produced for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board.

(3) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of chemical cotton pulp shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or wilfully furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–157.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 3135—ACRYLIC MONOMER AND ACRYLIC RESIN

[Allocation Order M–260 as Amended April 19, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of acrylic monomer and acrylic resin for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3135.1 Allocation Order M–260—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Acrylic monomer" means the unpolymerized forms of the methyl and higher esters of acrylic and methacrylic acids.

(2) "Acrylic resin" means the polymerized form of the methyl and higher esters of acrylic and methacrylic acids, in the following forms:

Cast sheet (unfabricated)
Molded sheet (unfabricated)
Molding powder
Rod
Tube
Solution
Emulsion
Cast shapes
Acrylic denture-base material

The term "acrylic resin" shall include, but is not limited to, those acrylic resins in the above forms known by the following trade names:

Acryloid	Plexiglas
Crystalite	Primal
Lucite	Rhoplex
Methacrol

["Methacrol" and "Plexiglas" corrected April 19, 1943]

(3) "Producer" means any person who, for other than exclusively dental purposes:

(i) Synthesizes acrylic monomer from raw materials; or

(ii) Manufactures acrylic monomer by de-polymerization of acrylic resin; or

(iii) Manufactures acrylic resin by polymerization of acrylic monomer.

(4) "Distributor" means any purchaser of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin from a producer for purpose of resale without further fabrication, processing or admixing, but does not mean any purchaser of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin who resells exclusively for dental purposes.

(5) "Direct war use" means a use where the acrylic monomer or acrylic resin or products made therefrom are to be delivered to, or incorporated into material to be delivered to, the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, Panama Canal, Coast and Geodetic Survey, Civil Aeronautics Administration, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Office of Scientific Research and Development, or the government of any country, including those of the Western Hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), or the government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom including its Dominions, Crown Colonies, and Protectorates, and Yugoslavia.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of acrylic monomer and acrylic resin by producers and distributors. (1) On and after January 1, 1943, no producer or distributor shall use or deliver acrylic monomer or acrylic resin, and no person shall accept delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin from a producer or distributor, except as follows:

(i) Pursuant to specific authorization by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (f); or

(ii) Delivery by and acceptance of delivery from a person who produces or distributes acrylic monomer or acrylic resins exclusively for dental use; or

(iii) Acceptance of delivery of acrylic resin in cast sheet or molded sheet form from a producer or distributor by any person for aircraft glazing other than aircraft instrument lenses. Producers and distributors may not make deliveries for such use, however, without specific authorization of the War Production Board; or

(iv) Delivery of acrylic monomer by the acrylic monomer producing subdivisions to the acrylic resin producing subdivisions of the same enterprise under common ownership and control, and the use of such acrylic monomer by the latter subdivisions in the manufacture of acrylic resins; provided that no greater amount of acrylic monomer shall be so delivered and used than is necessary to produce the amount of acrylic resins for which delivery by the said acrylic resins producing subdivisions has been authorized; or

(v) Small order delivery and use of acrylic monomer and acrylic resins pursuant to paragraph (c).

(2) Each person authorized to accept delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin shall use such acrylic monomer or acrylic resin for the purpose authorized, except as otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board.

(3) On and after December 10, 1942, the War Production Board at its discretion may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to the use, delivery, or transportation of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin by any such person, or of products made from acrylic monomer or acrylic resin allocated to such person; or special directions to any producer with respect to the kinds of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin which he may or must manufacture.

(c) Small order exemption. (1) Specific authorization under this order by the War Production Board shall not be required with respect to acceptance of delivery from a producer or distributor by any person of acrylic monomer and acrylic resins in one or more of the following forms, in amounts not exceeding the following quantities in any one calendar month (subject to the requirements of paragraph (c) (2) below):

Molding powder	50 pounds
Cast sheet	50 square feet
Molded sheet	50 square feet
Cast shapes	50 pounds
Tube	25 pounds
Rod	25 pounds
Solution	10 gallons
Emulsion	10 gallons
Monomer	10 pounds

(2) No person shall use acrylic monomer or acrylic resin acquired pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) above except for a direct war use, as defined, or for experimental purposes directly relating to a direct war use.

(3) Each producer or distributor shall deliver amounts of acrylic monomer and acrylic resin to persons entitled to accept delivery pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) above, in amounts not exceeding the total amount which he is specifically authorized by the War Production Board (on Form PD–601) to deliver for such purpose.

(d) Restrictions on use or delivery of inventories. (1) No person other than a producer or distributor shall use or deliver first grade (unfabricated) acrylic resin cast sheet or virgin acrylic resin molding powder in the inventory of, or in transit to, such person on January 1, 1943, and no person shall accept such a delivery, except as follows:

(i) Use by such person of 25 pounds or less of such sheet and powder together in the aggregate; or

(ii) Use or delivery of such sheet or powder for a direct war use, or for an experimental purpose directly relating to a direct war use; or

(iii) Use or delivery of such powder by (but not to) such person who sells or distributes acrylic resin exclusively for dental purposes; or

(iv) Pursuant to specific authorization of the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (f).

(2) Use and delivery by producers and distributors of their stocks of acrylic monomer and acrylic resins shall be governed by the provisions of paragraph (b).

(e) Special directions with respect to scrap. The War Production Board at its discretion may from time to time issue special directions with respect to use, processing, delivery or acceptance of delivery of acrylic resin scrap.

[Paragraph (f) amended April 19, 1943]

(f) Applications for authorization. (1) Each person (including producers or distributors) seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin shall file application on Form PD–600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for purpose of this order:

Form PD–600. Copies of Form PD–600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time. Applications shall be filed on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for use or acceptance of delivery is requested, except where delivery is sought from a distributor, in which case application shall be filed on or before the 10th day of the month, or except during December 1942, in which month applications shall be filed at the earliest possible opportunity.

Application shall be filed in time to ensure that a copy of the application will have reached the War Production Board and the producer or distributor on the date specified.

Applications under paragraphs (b) and (d). Applications by any person for use or acceptance of delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin, whether from a producer or distributor under paragraph (b), or for inventory under paragraph (d), may be made on a single set of PD–600 forms.

Aircraft sheet applications. Application shall not be made on Form PD–600 by persons seeking delivery of acrylic resin cast sheet or molded sheet for aircraft glazing other than instrument lenses. Quantities of such sheet allocated each month by the War Production Board for such purpose will be distributed in accordance with instructions issued by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit, Steele building, Dayton, Ohio.

Number of copies. Where application is made for authorization to accept delivery as well as to use, five copies shall be prepared of which one (in which columns 4 through 23 inclusive may be left blank) shall be forwarded to the producer or distributor (or other person from whom delivery is sought), and three certified completely filled out copies to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref. M–260. Where application is made for use only, and not for acceptance of delivery, four copies shall be prepared, and three certified completely filled out copies shall be forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref. M–260. A separate set of forms shall be filed for each producer, distributor, or other person from whom delivery is sought.

Intra-company deliveries. Subdivisions of any producer or distributor seeking authorization to accept delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin from any other subdivision of the same enterprise under common ownership or control shall file Form PD–600 as in the case of any other applicant; except that intra-company deliveries of acrylic monomer for the production of acrylic resin governed by paragraph (b) (1) (iv) do not require the filing of Form PD–600.

Heading. Under name of chemical, specify acrylic monomer or acrylic resin, or both, as the case may be; under War Production Board order, specify M–260; under name of company, specify name and mailing address of applicant; under unit of measure, specify area and thickness in the case of flat sheet, and pounds or gallons in the case of other products (where more than one unit of measure is needed, specify each unit of measure and indicate symbols used below referring to such unit of measure); and specify delivery destination, supplier and shipping point.

Table I. Specify in the heading the month and year for which authorization for use or delivery is sought.

Column 1. Specify the grade or physical form of the material ordered, as follows:

1st grade cast sheet
2nd grade cast sheet
Molded sheet
Molding powder
Rod
Tube
Solution
Emulsion
Cast shapes
Monomer (identify type)

Column 2. Specify quantities in terms of the unit of measure stated in the heading above.

Column 3. Fill in Column 3 as follows:

For orders on hand:
  Primary Product*
  Export (in original form)
  Resale (in original form)
For anticipated orders:
  Primary Product*
  Export (in original form)
  Resale (in original form)
Inventory (in original form)

*The primary products referred to above shall be specified as follows:
Fabricated or molded parts (Identify as fabricated gauge lens, molded reflector, etc.)
Adhesive (Identify as label adhesive, tape adhesive, etc.)
Coating (Identify material coated such as leather, paper, canvas, etc.)
Pharmaceuticals
Dentures
Synthetic rubber
Other (Specify)

Column 4. Identify and specify end use of finished product or assembly. If definite end use is not known, written statement must be obtained from the prime contractor. In the case of secret projects, the word "secret" and the name of the prime contractor should be entered. The end use of the parts shall be identified as, for example, M–4 Tank, Navy PT Boat, etc.

In the case of a distributor, opposite "resale" in Column 3, write in "pursuant to further authorization or for paragraph (c) small orders" in Column 4.

Columns 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10. Leave blank.

Tables II and III. Fill in as indicated.

Table IV. Leave blank.

(2) Each producer, distributor or other person seeking authorization to make delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin, shall file application on Form PD–601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

Form PD–601. Copies of Form PD–601 may be obtained from local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time. Application on Form PD–601 shall be filed on or before the 22nd day of the month preceding the month for which authorization to make delivery is requested.

Applications under paragraphs (b) and (d). Application by any person to make delivery of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin may be made on a single set of PD–601 forms (whether under paragraph (b) or (d)).

Aircraft sheet deliveries. A consolidated application on Form PD–601 shall be made for authorization for deliveries of acrylic resin cast or molded sheet for aircraft glazing other than instrument lenses. (See instructions for Column 1 below.) Special directions by the War Production Board will be issued each month with respect to the amount of such sheet which shall be delivered by each producer (or distributor), in accordance with instructions issued by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit, Steele High Bldg., Dayton, Ohio.

Divisions of company. Each division of a single company producing or distributing acrylic monomer or acrylic resin shall file Form PD–601 as a separate individual for the purpose of this order. For further directions, see Column 1 instructions listed below.

Number of copies. Four copies shall be prepared, of which three certified copies shall be filed with the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref. M–260. A separate set of forms shall be filed for each plant of the producer or distributor.

Heading. Under name of chemical, specify acrylic monomer or acrylic resin, or both, as the case may be; under War Production Board order number, specify M–260; under name of company, specify name and mailing address of applicant seeking to make delivery; specify applicant's plant or warehouse address; indicate whether the applicant is a producer or a distributor as defined herein; specify the month and year during which deliveries covered by the application are to be made; and under unit of measure, specify area and thickness in the case of flat sheet, or pounds or gallons in the case of other products (where more than one unit of measure is used, specify the symbols used below to indicate such unit of measure).

Column 1. All customers shall be listed here who have filed Form PD–600 with the applicant.

Producing divisions seeking authorization to make deliveries to other divisions of the same enterprise under common ownership or control shall list the names of such other divisions as customers in Column 1 and shall fill in the other columns of Form PD–601 for such divisions as in the case of other customers. Intra-company deliveries of monomer for conversion into resin under paragraph (b) (1) (iv) need not be mentioned.

In the case of aircraft orders for cast or molded acrylic resin sheet, write in "sheet deliveries to be governed by Aircraft Scheduling Unit, Steele High Bldg., Dayton, Ohio."

Column 2. Fill in as indicated. Leave blank in case of sheet orders governed by Aircraft Scheduling Unit.

Column 3. Specify grade or physical form as stated in each customer's Form PD–600. In the case of aircraft sheet orders, specify "aircraft sheet".

Column 4. Specify quantity and unit of measure.

Columns 5 and 6. Leave blank.

Column 7. Persons (other than producers and distributors as defined) seeking to make delivery from inventory under paragraph (d) shall state in Column 7 the total amount in stock of each grade stated in Column 3.

Small orders. Producers and distributors filing application on Form PD–601 for authorization to make deliveries pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) shall list "small orders" in Column 1, the corresponding grade in Column 3, and the estimated aggregate deliveries in Column 4.

Experiment. A producer or distributor requiring acrylic monomer or acrylic resin for research, experiment, or development, shall make application on Form PD–601, and shall list his own name as customer.

Table II. In Column 8, grade or physical form shall be specified in the same manner as prescribed above for Column 1 of Form PD–600.

Producers, as defined herein, shall fill out Table II in full, and in Column 16 shall specify the estimated amount of monomer required for the estimated production appearing in Column 14. The producer shall strike out the heading printed in Column 16 and write in "monomer needed".

Distributors shall fill in Columns 8, 10, 12, 13 and 15 as indicated, and shall leave Columns 9, 11, 14 and 16 blank.

Persons (other than producers or distributors) seeking authorization to make deliveries from inventory under paragraph (d) shall leave Table II blank.

(3) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed and may issue special instructions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing forms PD–600 and PD–601.

(g) Notification of customers. Each producer and distributor shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time, except Priorities Regulation No. 13, which shall be subject to this order where inconsistent herewith.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–260.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 3238—LUMBER

[General Conservation Order M–279, as Amended April 19, 1943]

YELLOW POPLAR

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of yellow poplar for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Section 3167.1 General Conservation Order M–279 of Part 3167—Yellow Poplar, is hereby transferred to the above designated Part and, as transferred, is amended in the following respects:

§ 3238.6 General Conservation Order M–279—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Yellow poplar logs" means logs of the species Liriodendron tulipifora.

(2) "Yellow poplar aircraft logs" means all yellow poplar logs meeting the specifications for one of the following grades:

Log grades	Length[1]	Top diam. inside bark	Surface requirements	Taper allowed[2]	Spiral grain	Rot or dote permitted	Sweep ordinarily permitted
Select logs	12'+	24"+	Clear, no defects	2" in 8'	1" in 12"	6" in center of log	2" in 8'
No. 1 logs	12'+	18–23"	...do	...do	...do	5" in center of logs	Do.
No. 1 logs	12'+	24"+	3 clear faces or 75% of length clear.			6" in center of logs	Do.
No. 2 logs	12'+	14–17"	Clear	2" in 8'	1" in 12"	5" in center of log	Do.
No. 2 logs	12'+	18–23"	3 clear faces or 75% of length clear.	...do	...do	...do	Do.
No. 2 logs	12'+	24"+	2 clear faces or 50% of length clear.	...do	...do	6" in center of log	Do.

[1] Short logs of any length that are acceptable to the purchaser should be graded the same as longer logs.
[2] The taper stated in these log grading specifications refers to normal taper and does not apply to abnormal taper in the butt logs near the stump cut. Butt swell or root flare should be handled according to the effect that it will have on the finished product and logs graded and scaled accordingly.

(3) "Yellow poplar aircraft veneer" means any veneer produced from yellow poplar logs which meets the specifications AN–NN–P–511b.

(4) "Yellow poplar lumber" means any sawed lumber of any size or grade, whether rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, produced from yellow poplar logs.

(5) "Yellow poplar aircraft lumber" means all yellow poplar lumber which meets the following basic specifications and grades:

(i) It shall meet the following requirements, which shall be considered the basic specifications:

(a) Specific gravity. The specific gravity shall be not less than 0.38 based on weight and volume when oven dry.

(b) Annual rings. There shall be not less than eight annual rings per inch.

(c) Slope of grain. The slope of the grain in all cuttings shall not exceed 1" in 15", except for short deviations occasioned by permissible burls.

(d) Sapwood. Sapwood shall be admitted in all cuttings without limit.

(e) Blue stain. Light blue stain will be admitted.

(f) Mineral streaks or fire streaks. Mineral streaks or fire streaks which show a separation of fiber, indication of decay or hard brittle wood, will not be admitted.

(g) Coloration. Sound natural colorations inherent to yellow poplar shall be admitted in the cuttings.

(h) Burls. Occasional sound burls not exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$" in diameter shall be admitted, provided they are located at least 1" from the edges of the cuttings.

(i) Method of sawing. All boards or cuttings shall be rift sawn or quarter sawn, or both. A board or cutting will be considered quarter or rift sawn if the annual rings form an angle of not less than 45 degrees to the face of each piece for at least $\frac{2}{3}$ its width.

(j) Grade No. 1 and all cuttings shall conform to the foregoing basic specifications and shall otherwise be clear.

(ii) In addition it shall conform to the following grading rules:

(a) Widths, all grades, 4" and wider.

(b) Lengths, all grades, 10' and longer in multiples of six inches, except that No. 1 aircraft grade will admit up to 5% in scale (board measure) of lengths under 10' and not less than 6' in length.

No. 1 Aircraft: Shall yield 100% in one piece.

No. 2 Aircraft: Shall yield 10/12 or 83⅓% in cuttings 3" and wider by 6' and longer. Minimum length of board 10'.

No. 3 Aircraft: Shall yield 8/12 or 66⅔% in cuttings 3" and wider by 6' and longer. Minimum length of board 10'.

(6) "Producer" means any plant which processes, by sawing, edging, planing, cutting, slicing, peeling or other comparable method, 25% or more of the total volume of logs, cants, flitches and lumber purchased or received by it, and which sells as lumber or veneer the product of such processing. "Volume" means board foot volume, or in the case of veneer, surface measure, processed or sold within the last six calendar months immediately prior to the transaction affected by this order.

(b) General limitations. No producer shall process any Select or Grade No. 1 yellow poplar aircraft logs into any other material than yellow poplar aircraft veneer or yellow poplar aircraft lumber, except to the extent that:

(1) Such logs will not yield yellow poplar aircraft veneer or yellow poplar aircraft lumber; or

(2) Such logs are processed into some other specified material pursuant to a specific processing directive or order issued by the War Production Board under paragraph (c) of this order.

(c) Allocations. The War Production Board may from time to time allocate specific quantities of yellow poplar aircraft logs to specific producers. It may also direct the specific manner and quantities in which delivery of such logs so allocated shall be made to particular producers and the production by such producers of particular lumber or veneer items from such logs. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made in the discretion of the War Production Board, without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular purchase orders or contracts. The War Production Board may also take into consideration the possible dislocation of labor and the necessity of keeping a plant in operation so that it may be able to fulfill war and essential civilian requirements.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, by addressed to: War Production Board, Lumber and Lumber Products Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-279.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

Subchapter C—Director, Office of War Utilities

PART 4500—ELECTRIC, GAS, WATER, AND STEAM UTILITIES—MATERIALS

[Utilities Order U-1, as Amended April 17, 1943]

§ 4500.1 Utilities Order U-1—(a) Definitions for the purpose of this order: (1) "Producer" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, located in the United States, its territories, or possessions, engaged in, or constructing facilities for the purpose of engaging in, one or more of the following services, whether or not such producer has applied the preference ratings herein assigned:

(i) Supplying electric power directly or indirectly for general use by the public.

(ii) Supplying gas, natural or manufactured, directly or indirectly for general use by the public, exclusive of the production and transmission of natural gas up to the point of its entry into gas transmission lines from field gathering lines.

(iii) Supplying water directly or indirectly for general use by the public, other than exclusively for irrigation purposes.

(iv) Supplying central steam heating directly or indirectly for general use by the public.

(v) Supplying any of the foregoing services but not for general use by the public, provided that a specific direction from the War Production Board, entitles such person or agency to apply the ratings herein assigned. Application for such a specific direction should be made by letter to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U-1.

(2) "Producer" also means any producer, as defined in paragraph (a) (1), but located in the Dominion of Canada, to whom and in whose name a copy of this order has been specifically issued by the War Production Board.

(3) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(4) "Controlled material" means controlled material as defined in Schedule I of CMP Regulation 1.

(5) "Maintenance" means the upkeep of a producer's property and equipment in sound working condition.

(6) "Repair" means the restoration of a producer's property and equipment to sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction of parts, or the like have made such property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service.

(7) "Operating supplies" means:

(i) Material which is essential to the operation of any of the industries or services specified above and which is generally carried in a producer's inventory and charged to operating expense accounts.

(ii) Material for an addition to or an expansion of property or equipment (including a minor extension of lines), provided that such addition or expansion shall not include any work order, job, or project in which the cost of material shall exceed $1,500 in the case of underground construction and $500 in the case of other construction, and provided that no single construction project shall be subdivided into parts in order to come below these limits.

(8) Material for "maintenance," "repair," and "operating supplies" includes only material which is essential to minimum service standards, and does not include material for the improvement of a producer's property or equipment through the replacement of material which is still usable in the existing installation with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(9) "Supplier" means any person with whom a purchase order or contract has been placed for d livery of material to a producer or to another supplier.

(10) "Calendar quarterly period" means the quarterly period commencing on the first day of the first, fourth, seventh, and tenth months of the calendar year and ending, respectively, on the last day of the third, sixth, ninth, and twelfth months of the calendar year, or the producer's customary accounting period closest to such period.

(11) "Inventory" means all new or salvaged material in the producer's possession, unless physically incorporated in plant, without regard to its accounting classification, excluding, however, appliances, merchandising supplies, and material in the producer's possession which is segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized (a) under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or (b) by an operative order in the P-19 series, or (c) by an operative preference rating certificate issued by the War Production Board. After construction of such an addition or expansion is complete, however, any material remaining shall be included in "inventory", even though the rating therefor is still operative.

(12) "Construction" means any addition to or expansion of property or equipment having a dollar value for material in excess of the dollar values specified for "operating supplies" in paragraph (a) (7) (ii) of this order.

(13) "Class" means any one of those categories of material established as a basis for the classification of inventory in Schedule A of this order.

(14) "Short item" means any item of material which the producer estimates he will require for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies during the ninety-day period following its delivery date.

(b) Preference ratings. (1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, a preference rating of AA-1 is hereby assigned to orders to be placed by a producer for material, including controlled material, Class A products, Class B products, and other products or material.

(2) For construction of transmission, switching and distribution facilities necessary to serve rated projects or to serve rated equipment, the lowest rating assigned to such project or to the delivery of such equipment, is hereby assigned, subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) (2), to orders to be placed by a producer for material, including controlled material, Class A products, Class B products, and other products or material.

(c) Restrictions on use of rating. The preference ratings hereby assigned shall not be applied or extended by a producer or supplier:

(1) To obtain deliveries of scarce material, the use of which could be eliminated without serious loss of efficiency by substitution of less scarce material or by change of design.

(2) To obtain deliveries of material which can be purchased without the use of such ratings,

(3) To obtain any item listed in Schedule E hereof.

(d) Assignment of CMP allotment symbol. (1) The CMP allotment symbol MRO-U is hereby assigned to orders to be placed by a producer for controlled material, Except aluminum, for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies.

(2) An order for controlled material, Except aluminum, for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies, bearing the CMP allotment symbol MRO-U and the certification required in paragraph (e) hereof shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order and shall have the same status as an order bearing an allotment number under all applicable CMP regulations unless otherwise expressly provided. Such allotment number or symbol shall constitute an "allotment number or symbol" for the purposes of CMP Regulation 3.

(3) Aluminum required by a producer for use in construction approved under paragraph (e) (2) hereof or for use in maintenance, repair or as operating supplies may be obtained:

(i) On specific application to the War Production Board, Office of War Utilities, Washington, D. C., Ref. U-1, or

(ii) In amounts not exceeding 100 pounds per quarter as provided for in CMP Regulation 5 or

(iii) If delivery is to be from another producer, by placing an order rated in accordance with paragraphs (b) and (e) of this order.

(e) Application and extension of ratings; application of CMP allotment symbol—(1) Certification. (i) The ratings assigned by paragraph (b) (1) of this order and the CMP allotment symbol MRO-U may be applied by a producer to deliveries of material, including controlled material, Class A products, Class B products, and other products or material, for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies only by use of a certification in substantially the following form (in lieu of the endorsements specified in Priorities Regulation 3 and CMP Regulation 5), Except that no preference rating need be applied to an order to be placed with a controlled material producer:

Preference Rating AA-1, CMP Allotment Symbol MRO-U. The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

Such certification shall be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

(ii) The ratings assigned by paragraph (b) (2) of this order may be applied by a producer to deliveries of material, including controlled material, Class A products, Class B products, and other products or material, for use in construction to serve rated projects or equipment, by use of the certification provided in Priorities Regulation 3, as amended, Except that no preference rating need be applied to an order to be placed with a controlled material producer and Provided:

(a) That approval for such construction has been granted pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) hereof; and

(b) That the CMP allotment number assigned, upon approval of the construction pursuant to paragraph (e) (2), to deliveries of controlled material to be used in such construction by the producer is indicated on all rated orders.

(2) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (e) (1), a producer, in order to apply the preference ratings assigned by paragraph (b) (2), or to segregate material from inventory for the uses described in such paragraph, or to accept delivery of material for such uses, must, unless otherwise directed, communicate with the Office of War Utilities, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U-1, supplying in detail the following information or such other information as may from time to time be required:

(i) The producer's job number relating to the proposed construction.

(ii) A description of the project or equipment to be served, including the location, an estimate of peak load and consumption, as well as other pertinent information.

(iii) A description of the proposed utility construction including a print of line construction showing size of conductor or pipe, capacity of transformers, pumps, compressors, tanks, holders, and other equipment, the location of hydrants and important control valves, as well as other information relevant thereto.

(iv) A statement of relationship to military needs, war production, public health or safety.

(v) A copy of the customer's project or equipment preference rating order or certificate. (Such copies of orders or certificates are not required when utilities' applications accompany the customer's project application.)

(vi) A statement explaining whether service can be rendered in any other way, or by any other producer, with the use of smaller quantities of critical materials.

(vii) An estimate of the total cost of the producer's project.

(viii) A list of materials required for the construction, giving the estimated weight of each material with the estimated cost, classified as indicated in the instructions for revised Form PD–200. (Such list should indicate materials in inventory not to be replaced, materials to be purchased from the excess stocks of other producers, materials to be obtained or replaced without priorities assistance, and materials expected to be obtained or replaced with priorities assistance.)

(ix) The dates when deliveries of controlled material as specified on Form CMP–4C are required to meet the construction schedule, and the quantities of controlled material needed during each calendar quarter, excluding, however, controlled material to be obtained from other U–1 producers.

The War Production Board will notify the producer whether and to what extent the application is approved and no producer shall apply such preference ratings, segregate material from inventory for the uses described in paragraph (b) (2), or accept delivery of material for such uses without such approval.

(3) The ratings assigned by this order may be extended by a supplier in the manner provided in Priorities Regulation No. 3, and CMP Regulation 3.

(4) An order for material, other than controlled material, bearing a rating assigned or extended in accordance with this paragraph (e) and a CMP allotment number or symbol shall have the same status as a rated order bearing a CMP allotment number under all applicable CMP regulations. Such number or symbol shall constitute an "allotment number or symbol" for the purposes of CMP Regulation 3.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries, inventory, and withdrawals—(1) Scheduling deliveries. No producer shall, in placing orders, schedule for delivery to him in any calendar quarterly period any material (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) to be used for maintenance, repair, as operating supplies, or for any other purpose (except material to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P–19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate), the aggregate dollar value of which shall exceed one-third of the aggregate dollar value of withdrawals of material of the same class from inventory for such uses during the last nine months of 1942.

(2) Accepting deliveries; inventory restrictions. No producer shall at any time accept any delivery of material (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) to be used for maintenance, repair, as operating supplies, or for any other purpose (except material to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P–19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate), if the producer's inventory of material in the same class is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become in excess of a practical working minimum. The value of such practical working minimum inventory shall in no case exceed the aggregate dollar value of inventory permitted, class by class, by paragraph (f) (2) of Preference Rating Order P–46 as amended October 10, 1942: Provided that after March 31, 1943, the value of such inventory, class by class, shall not exceed:

(i) For material in the following classes—transmission and distribution, meters, house regulators, and (in the case of electric power producers) wire, cable, and bus bar, as well as wood poles and cross arms—four-thirds of the aggregate dollar value of items of material of the same class withdrawn from inventory for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies during the last nine months of 1942;

(ii) For material in the following classes—source of supply, reservoirs, elevated and pressure tanks, pumping and booster stations, (excluding fuel), generating station (other than fuel), production and pumping station (excluding fuel)—the aggregate dollar value of items of material of the same class in inventory on the most recent date during the calendar year 1940 on which the producer's inventory was taken, plus an amount proportionate to the increase in system output in the twelve months' period preceding the current quarter over the system output in the calendar year 1940.

(iii) For material in the switching and substation class, the aggregate dollar value of items of material of the same class in inventory on the most recent date during the calendar year 1940 on which the producer's inventory was taken;

(iv) For every other class of material except the classes specified in paragraph (f) (7), two-thirds of the aggregate dollar value of material of the same class withdrawn from inventory for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies during the last nine months of 1942.

(3) Withdrawals. No producer shall, during any calendar quarterly period, make withdrawals from inventory of material to be used for maintenance, repair, as operating supplies or for any other purpose (except material to be sold or to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P–19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate), the aggregate dollar value of which shall exceed one-third of the aggregate dollar value of withdrawals of material of the same class from inventory for such uses during the last nine months of 1942.

(4) Exceptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (f) (1) and (3):

(i) A producer may, in any calendar quarterly period, increase scheduled deliveries and withdrawals of material in any of the classes named in paragraph (f) (2) (ii), over the limits prescribed in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (3) respectively, proportionately to the increase in system output in the twelve months' period preceding the current quarter over the system output in the calendar year 1942.

(ii) A producer may make withdrawals from inventory of consumer's meters or house-regulators in any calendar quarterly period in an amount not in excess of one-third of the number of such meters or house-regulators condemned and destroyed by the producer in the last nine months of 1942, plus the number of meters and house-regulators necessary to serve the net increase in customers occurring in the current quarter. For the purposes of this subparagraph, withdrawals of meters and house-regulators shall not include meters or house-regulators put in service to replace meters and house-regulators removed from service;

(iii) A producer may in any calendar quarterly period schedule for delivery or make withdrawals from inventory of, material necessary for the maintenance or repair of the producer's property or equipment which is damaged by acts of the public enemy, sabotage, explosion, fire, flood, and storm or similar climatic conditions: Provided, That if the restrictions of paragraphs (f) (1) and (3) are exceeded because of the scheduling of such deliveries, or because of such withdrawals, a full report thereof together with reasons therefor shall be made immediately to the War Production Board.

(iv) A producer may in any calendar quarterly period schedule for delivery material in any class having in the aggregate a dollar value not more than the dollar value of material of the same class taken from the producer's inventory for delivery to other persons authorized to accept delivery under applicable regulations of the War Production Board but only if, and to the extent that, such taking has reduced the producer's inventory of material of the same class below a practical working minimum; and

(v) A producer may in any calendar quarterly period withdraw from inventory material in any class having in the aggregate a dollar value not more than the dollar value of usable material of the same class salvaged from plant during the current calendar quarterly period.

(vi) A producer, in order to provide for seasonal requirements of material for the maintenance, repair and operation of his system, may in any calendar quarterly period increase the dollar value of materials withdrawn for these purposes in any calendar quarter, provided that adjustments are made in withdrawals in other calendar quarters of the same calendar year to the extent that the total value of materials withdrawn during that calendar year do not exceed the amounts permissible to have been withdrawn during that calendar year under the terms of this order and of former Preference Rating Order P–46, as they may apply.

(5) Short item deliveries. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (f) (2), in cases where the inventory of a class of material exceeds a practical working minimum, a producer may accept deliveries of any short item within such class which is required for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies;

(i) Provided, That all material in all classes of inventory in excess of a practical working minimum is:

(a) Continuously recorded as excess on records kept by the producer for that purpose,

(b) Continuously held for sale to financially responsible persons and agencies authorized (under applicable regulations issued by the War Production Board) to accept delivery thereof; and

(c) Reported to the War Production Board, when requested by the War Production Board, on Form WPB–921 A, B, or C, to the extent required by such form, or in such other manner as the War Production Board may prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942, and

(ii) Further provided that material transferred from excess to practical working minimum inventory on the records of a producer or used from excess inventory is recorded as a scheduled delivery under paragraph (f) (1); that is, that in any calendar quarterly period the aggregate dollar value of material in any class transferred on the producer's records from that portion of inventory which is separately accounted for as excess pursuant to this paragraph (f) (5) to practical working minimum inventory, or of material taken directly from such portion of inventory for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies, plus the aggregate dollar value of short item deliveries in such class, does not exceed one-third of the aggregate dollar value of withdrawals of material of the same class from inventory for such uses during the last nine months of 1942.

(6) The War Production Board, on its own motion or on the application of any producer, may modify the limitations on practical working minimum inventory, on scheduling or accepting deliveries, or on making withdrawals set forth in this paragraph (f).

(7) The provisions of paragraphs (f) (1), (f) (2), and (f) (3) shall not apply to fuel, water purification material, and gas chemical material and supplies.

(g) Controlled material to be used in construction. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of any preference rating certificate or other order, except a direction referring specifically to this paragraph (g), no producer shall schedule for delivery or accept delivery of any controlled material named in, and in the form indicated in, Schedule B of this order for use in construction if his usable stocks of such controlled material are, or will by virtue of such scheduling or acceptance become, in excess of the dollar value of such controlled material he estimates will be required for use in authorized construction on his system during the 60-day period succeeding the scheduled delivery date of such material, or the actual delivery date, whichever is the later.

[NOTE: Words "After March 31, 1943" stricken April 17, 1943.]

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions of paragraph (g) (1), a producer may accept deliveries of controlled material for use in construction under the circumstances stated in paragraph (c) of CMP Regulation 2.

(h) Restrictions on additions to plant. (1) No producer shall construct an addition to or an expansion of property or equipment, and no producer shall, in the case of contract construction, accept delivery of material for such purposes, unless:

(i) Such addition or expansion is specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(ii) Such addition or expansion is an extension less than 250 feet in length (including service drop or service pipe and any portion built by or for a consumer) of a line to serve a new building where the foundation, under the main part of the structure, was completed prior to July 1, 1942, or

(iii) Such addition or expansion requires an expenditure of material having a dollar value of less than $1,500 in the case of underground construction and $500 in the case of other construction, and is not an extension of a line to consumer premises: Provided, however, That no single work order, job, or project shall be subdivided into parts to come below these limits and that such addition or expansion requires only material which is essential to minimum service standards and does not include material for the improvement of the producer's property through the replacement of material which is still usable in the existing installation with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(2) No producer shall connect with a line built by or for a consumer or a prospective consumer which, at the date of its completion, exceeded the restrictions of this order applicable to lines constructed by or for producers, unless the producer has been specifically authorized by the War Production Board, to construct a line of substantially identical specifications to serve such consumer.

(i) Sales from inventory. No producer may make a sale of material from his inventory except as follows:

(1) Any sale of material which is a special sale of industrial material under Priorities Regulation 13, as amended from time to time, may be made as provided in that regulation. In addition, any producer may make a special sale of industrial material (i) to any other producer to fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA–5 or higher or (ii) pursuant to a specific direction issued by the War Production Board, and any such sale shall be expressly permitted under paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation 13.

(2) Any sale of material which is not a special sale of industrial material under Priorities Regulation 13 may, subject to the restrictions of Limitation Orders L–31, L–94, and L–102, be made:

(i) To fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA–3 or higher, or

(ii) Pursuant to a specific written direction issued by the War Production Board, or

(iii) To a person who produces, or to the person from whom the producer purchased, such material in the form in which it was purchased, or

(iv) To a scrap dealer as scrap, or

(v) To a used equipment dealer for resale if the item is used equipment and is not listed on Schedule D hereof, or

(vi) To the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or a public housing authority for the repair of an actual or threatened breakdown of electric, gas, water, or central steam heating facilities owned and operated by such agencies. This exception shall not be construed to extend to a sale of material for use in construction.

(j) Placing orders. Except in an emergency no producer may transmit to any supplier, other than another producer, an order totaling $100 or more for the delivery of any material listed in Schedule C of this order (including material to be used in construction) without first obtaining a statement from the War Production Board Utility Inventory Control Office in his region that such material is not reasonably available in the excess inventory of another producer. This statement shall be secured by filing an inquiry, in duplicate, in letter form or by using the producer's own price inquiry forms, stating (1) the quantity of each item required and (2) a description of the item. An oral or telephonic statement will be sufficient for the purposes of this paragraph, provided that confirmation is promptly obtained.

[NOTE: Words "After March 31, 1943" stricken April 17, 1943.]

(k) Refusal to sell to other producers. Any producer may, by specific direction from the War Production Board, be prohibited from applying or extending preference ratings assigned by this order or by any other certificate or order, upon a determination by the War Production Board, that such producer has wilfully refused to sell (after receiving a bona fide offer to purchase at not less than maximum prices established by regulations of the Office of Price Administration, made by any financially responsible producer who is authorized—under applicable regulations—to accept delivery of the material specified in such offer) the following material:

(1) Material which is in inventory in excess of a practical working minimum, and

(2) Material which is included in practical working minimum inventory when such material is required by another producer for the repair of an actual breakdown of facilities or equipment.

(l) Audits and reports. (1) Each producer and each supplier who applies the preference ratings hereby assigned, and each person who accepts a purchase order or contract for material to which a preference rating is applied, shall submit from time to time to an audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(2) Each producer and each such supplier shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

[NOTE: Second sentence stricken April 17, 1943.]

(3) Each producer shall maintain a continuing record of inventory and of segregated material in his possession.

(4) In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, the producer, and each supplier placing or receiving any purchase order or contract rated hereunder, shall retain, for a period of 2 years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of all such purchase orders or contracts whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(m) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Office of War Utilities, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U-1.

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from process or use of, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby, except as herein otherwise provided, are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time. The restrictions of paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation 5, however, shall not apply to producers as defined in this order, nor shall the preference ratings assigned in CMP Regulation 5 supersede preference ratings assigned by this order.

(p) [Revoked April 17, 1943.]

Issued this 17th day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE A

[NOTE: First sentence and headings amended April 17, 1943.]

All material in the inventory of any producer shall be carried on the producer's own records and reported to the War Production Board as may be required, classified as follows:

WATER UTILITIES MATERIAL CLASSIFICATION

1. Fuel, such as coal, fuel oil, and other fuel.
2. Material for source of supply, reservoirs, elevated and pressure tanks, pumping and booster stations (excluding fuels)
3. Purification materials, such as chlorine, alum, lime, other chemicals, and other purification operating supplies.
4. Meters.
5. Transmission and distribution material and supplies (excluding meters), cast iron, steel, and wrought iron pipe, copper and brass pipe and tubing, lead pipe, pipe fittings, valves and valve parts, hydrants, parts for meters and hydrants, other transmission and distribution materials and supplies.
6. Other material and supplies.

ELECTRIC UTILITIES MATERIAL CLASSIFICATION

1. Fuel, such as coal, fuel oil, and other fuel.
2. Generating Station Material (other than fuel), such as electrical equipment, parts, and materials, chemical materials and supplies, and other materials and supplies.
3. Switching and substation material, such as power transformers, other station equipment, parts, and material, and other material and supplies.
4. Wire, cable, and bus bar, such as bare copper and aluminum, weatherproof copper, underground cable, aluminum and copper shapes.
5. Wood poles and cross arms.
6. Meters.
7. Other transmission and distribution material, such as iron and steel poles, towers, and parts, line hardware—overhead and underground, distribution transformers, meter and transformer parts, and other line material and equipment (including insulators, lightning arrestors, etc.).
8. Other material and supplies.

GAS UTILITIES MATERIAL CLASSIFICATION

1. Fuel and gas production material, such as coal, coke, gas oil and crude oil, butane and propane, other fuel, residuals, and byproducts.
2. Production and pumping station material (excluding fuel).
3. Chemical material and supplies
4. Meters and house regulators
5. Transmission and distribution material (excluding meters and house regulators), such as cast iron, steel and wrought iron pipe, copper and brass pipe and tubing, pipe fittings, valves, and valve parts, governors and regulators, parts for meters, regulators and governors, other transmission and distribution material and supplies.
6. Other material and supplies

SCHEDULE B

Forms of controlled material subject to the restrictions of paragraph (g):

ALUMINUM

Cable (electric transmission only)

COPPER

Copper and copper base alloy tubing and pipe.
Copper rods and bars, including extruded shapes.
Copper wire and cable (including copper content of insulated wire and cable and copper content of composite conductors).

STEEL

Carbon and alloy steel bars, cold finished or hot rolled.
Carbon and alloy steel pipe.
Carbon and alloy steel plates.
Carbon steel rails and track accessories
Carbon steel sheets and strip
Carbon steel structural shapes and piling.
Carbon and alloy steel tubing.
Carbon steel wheels and axles.
Carbon and alloy steel wire rods, wire and wire products.

SCHEDULE C

[NOTE: Item 16 amended April 17, 1943]

Items restricted by the provisions of paragraph (j):

A. Items to be used by water utilities:
1. Cast iron pipe
2. Steel pipe
3. Wrought iron pipe
4. Cement asbestos pipe
5. Copper and brass tubing
6. Lead and lead-alloy pipe and tubing
7. Steel pipe fittings
8. Electric motors
9. Meters
10. Hydrants
11. Distribution valves, 2 inches and larger
12. Bronze valves, smaller than 2 inches, corporation cocks, curb stops
13. Pumps
14. Steel tanks
15. Steam engines
16. Chlorine control apparatus

B Items to be used by gas utilities:
1. Cast iron pipe
2. Steel pipe
3. Wrought iron pipe
4. Copper and brass pipe and tubing
5. Steel pipe fittings, 1¼ inches and larger
6. Mechanical pipe couplings
7. District regulators and governors
8. Gas meters
9. Valves, 1¼ inches and larger
10. Condensers (coolers)
11. Electric motors
12. Steam engines
13. Exhausters
14. Boosters
15. Compressors
16. Pumps
17. Blowers
18. Station meters

C Items to be used by electric utilities:
1. Wire (all types)
2. Cable
3. Bus bar shapes
4. Power transformers
5. Distribution transformers
6. Watt-hour meters
7. Oil or air circuit breakers
8. Disconnecting switches
9. Electric motors
10. Current transformers
11. Potential transformers
12. Suspension insulators
13. Lightning arrestors, 20,000 volts and over
14. Steam valve, piping and fittings, larger than 3 inch and for pressures of 300 pounds and over
15. Regulators (feeder voltage)
16. Fuse cutouts
17. Automatic line splices

SCHEDULE D

[NOTE: Item 9 amended April 17, 1943]

The following items of used equipment in the possession of producers may not be the subject of a sale to any used equipment dealer pursuant to paragraph (1) (2) (v) of this order:

USED EQUIPMENT

(1) Steam generating boilers designed for pressures of 100 pounds per square inch or above
(2) Steam engines and engine generator units of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(3) Oil or air circuit breakers of 2200 volts or higher
(4) Air circuit breakers of less than 2200 volts with interrupting capacity of 15,000 amperes or higher
(5) Metal clad switchgear of 2200 volts or higher
(6) Metal clad switchgear of less than 2200 volts containing oil or air circuit breakers listed in this Exhibit
(7) Unit substations containing transformers of 250 KVA or higher rated capacity
(8) Unit substations containing transformers of less than 250 KVA rated capacity if they also contain oil or air circuit breakers listed in this Exhibit
(9) Chlorine control apparatus
(10) Diesel and natural gas engines and engine generator units of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(11) Liquid filled power or distribution transformers 250 KVA and larger
(12) Steam turbine generator units of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(13) Mechanical drive steam turbines of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(14) Water gas sets
(15) Gas purification apparatus
(16) Electric motors, 250 h. p. or larger
(17) Pumps, 100 g. p. m. and larger
(18) Boosters
(19) Compressors
(20) Scrubbers
(21) Gas holders
(22) Gas station meters
(23) Blowers for manufactured gas plants
(24) Exhausters for manufactured gas plants

SCHEDULE E

[NOTE: Schedule E added April 17, 1943]

No producer may apply the ratings assigned by this order to obtain delivery of any of the following items:

1. Fabricated containers (in knock-down or set-up forms, whether assembled or unassembled), required for packaging products to be shipped or delivered.
2. Printed matter and stationery.
3. Paper, paperboard, and products manufactured therefrom; molded pulp products.
4. Fuel or electric power.
5. Office machinery or office equipment.
6. Clothing, shoes or other wearing apparel, if made of leather or textiles, except that the following types may be included in operating supplies when specially designed and used to furnish protection against specific occupational hazards (other than weather):
a. Asbestos clothing.
b. Safety clothing impregnated or coated for the purpose of making the same resistant against fire, acids, other chemicals or abrasives.
c. Safety industrial rubber gloves and hoods and linemen's rubber gloves and sleeves.
d. Gauntlet type welders' leather gloves and mittens, and electricians' leather protector or cover gloves.
e. Other safety leather gloves or mittens, but only if steel stitched or steel reinforced.
f. Safety industrial leather clothing other than gloves or mittens.
g. Metal mesh gloves, aprons and sleeves.
h. Plastic and fibre safety helmets.
7. Automotive replacement parts.
8. Automotive maintenance equipment.
9. Cellophane and similar transparent materials derived from cellulose having a gage of .003" and cellulose caps or bands of any gage.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1312—LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

[MPR 348,[1] Amendment 1]

LOGS AND BOLTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 3 (c) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Purchased logs and bolts. If, during September and October 1942, the buying plant bought logs or bolts of the species and grade for which it is figuring an average price, the buying plant should add up the total delivered cost of all logs or bolts of that grade and species purchased during the two months, and divide this total by the total footage of these logs or bolts. In figuring the total cost of these logs or bolts, the buying plant is to include any charges paid for transporting the logs or bolts to the plant.

In making this calculation for logs and bolts "purchased" during September and October 1942, the buying plant is to include only the following:

(i) Logs and bolts received at the plant during September and October 1942, except those received under contracts entered into before July 1, 1942.

(ii) Such logs and bolts received at the buying plant during the period November 1, 1942, to March 1, 1943, as were obtained pursuant to a dated and written firm contract of purchase entered into by the buying plant during September or October, 1942, in which contract the prices, footages, grades and species of logs and bolts purchased were definitely stated.

2. Section 9 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 9 Establishment of dollars-and-cents prices by areas—(a) Petition for "area pricing". Any group of four or more buying plants, of any kind, may petition the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., to establish a system of dollars-and-cents prices by grades, sizes, and species for buying plants in an area of at least 400 square miles which contains at least five buying plants. The petition must relate to all grades, sizes, and species of logs and bolts bought by plants in that area, of the kind joining in the petition, and must request establishment of a system of ceiling prices applicable to all buying plants in the area. Two copies of the petition must be filed.

(b) Contents of petition. The petition must contain:

(1) A description of the exact boundaries of the area, and the reasons for the boundary lines chosen; that is, the reasons why the particular area constitutes a market area in which a single pricing system should prevail.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 8 F.R. 3670.

(2) Copies of the notices of maximum prices of the petitioning plants.

(3) A proposal of uniform grades with detailed specifications, uniform scaling rules, and a dollars-and-cents ceiling price system; and a comparison of these with the average prices, and the grades and rules prevailing in the area during the period September-October 1942. The system proposed may contain price differentials within the area, based on differences in transportation rates, which will prevent diversion of logs as between buying plants in the area.

(4) A showing that the proposed prices will not cause diversion of logs or bolts away from buying plants in either this area or elsewhere.

(c) Notice and hearing. On receipt of a petition showing a proper case for the consideration of area pricing, the Office of Price Administration will send notices of the proposed prices, grades and sealing rules and area boundaries. These will be sent to all buying plants in and within 25 miles of the area whose purchases may be affected by the proposal and whose maximum prices have been filed under section 4 (c) of this regulation. Within 20 days of the date of this notice, any person affected may submit objections to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. If there is any substantial volume of objection, the Office of Price Administration may hold a hearing on the proposal.

(d) Action on petition. The Price Administrator, if he believes the facts submitted justify such action, will establish a system of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices and uniform grades and scaling rules for all buying plants in an appropriate area. The ceiling prices so established will be at a level which bears a proper relation to the prices of competing primary forest products, and which will not cause diversion to or away from other purchasers of logs and bolts. The Price Administrator may depart from the original proposal, establish price differentials within an area, or set up a system based on seller's prices for logs and bolts produced within a specified area, if necessary or proper to make the action fair and equitable and to prevent diversion. In considering requests for area pricing, the Price Administrator may consolidate petitions dealing with areas that are near each other. When a system of area pricing is approved, the prices, grades, scaling rules, and a description of the area will be published as an appendix to this regulation.

Petitioners who are in good faith preparing a petition but who wish to start the forty-five day period of exemption running before the completion of the petition, may do so by filing, instead of the petition, a letter stating that a petition is in preparation and giving an outline of the proposed area and plan. In any case, the total exemption period will not be more than forty-five days from the filing of the letter, regardless of when the petition is filed.

If the petitioners exercise the privilege, each petitioning buying plant must attach to its posted ceiling purchase prices a notice stating "Our ceiling prices for purchasing logs and bolts have been officially suspended until _____." (Fill in the date which is 45 days from the date on which the petition was filed.) A similar notice must be sent to all log and bolt suppliers of each petitioner.

This amendment shall become effective April 23, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 16th day of April 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 280,[1] as Amended April 16, 1943]

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SPECIFIC FOOD PRODUCTS

Sections 1351.801, 1351.808 (d) amended; § 1351.808 (m), (n), (o), (p), (q), added; § 1351.806 revoked by Amendment 20, issued April 16, 1943, and effective April 22, 1943, so that Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 shall read as follows:

Preamble. In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 issued by the President or October 3, 1942 to maintain as the maximum prices for certain essential food products heretofore covered under Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 22 the prices prevailing with respect thereto during the period September 28, 1942 to October 2, 1942, inclusive. The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will aid in stabilizing the cost of living. The maximum prices established herein are not below prices which will reflect to the producers of the covered agricultural commodities prices for their products equal to the highest of the prices required by the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

Therefore, with the concurrence of the Secretary of Agriculture and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, [7 F.R. 8961; 8 F.R. 3313, 3533] Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 is hereby issued.

Sec.
1351.801 Purpose of this regulation.
1351.802 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices.
1351.803 Maximum prices.
1351.804 Relationship between minimum prices established by federal marketing agreements, orders or licenses and maximum prices established herein.

1351.821 Effective dates of amendments.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1351.801 to 1351.821, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; and E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1351.801 Purpose of this regulation. Except for those sales exempt in § 1351.808, it is the purpose of this regulation to establish maximum prices for sales of the following specific food products:

(a) Fluid milk and milk products. Fluid milk and cream sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers to stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions; butter sold by a farmer which he has produced on his farm from milk produced solely on his farm; cheeses in so far as their sales are not covered by Maximum Price Regulation 289 or Maximum Price Regulation 268; condensed milk; evaporated milk in so far as its sale is not covered by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 289, 237, or 238; packaged powdered skim milk sold for animal feed; edible casein; malted milk powder; and any other food commodity which is processed from cows' milk and composed of milk ingredients constituting more than 50 per cent in weight or volume, excluding ice cream (which is covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation)[3] and excluding any other commodity so composed of milk ingredients in so far as its sale is covered by some other regulation.

(b) Eggs. Shell eggs of the domestic barnyard hen found to be infertile and sold for industrial use.

(c) Poultry. Poultry in so far as their sale is not covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 268 or 269.

(d) Canned citrus fruits and juices. All canned fruits and juices made from citrus fruits (such as oranges, grapefruits, lemons, limes but not including concentrates) and combinations or blends thereof in so far as their sale is not covered by Maximum Price Regulation 237 or 238 or Maximum Price Regulation 306.

(e) Cake mixes and flour mixes in bulk and "packaged" in quantities greater than 3 pounds. All combinations of flours with any other ingredients in so far their sale is not covered by Maximum Price Regulations 237 or 238.

(f) Dried peas and lentils. All threshed and dried field or garden peas and lentils used for human consumption in so far as their sale is not covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 237 or 238.

(g) Meaning of the term "listed food products". Wherever the term "listed food products" appears in this regulation it refers to a particular kind, grade, quality and container size of the food products listed above.

§ 1351.802 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices. (a) On and after December 3, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver a listed food product, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive a listed food product at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) However, prices lower than maximum prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

§ 1351.803 Maximum prices. (a) The seller's maximum price for any listed food product shall be the highest price charged by the seller during the period September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, for the same listed food product; or if no charge was made for the same listed food product, for the similar listed food product most nearly like it. If the seller did not sell the same or similar listed food product during the period September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, his maximum price for such listed food product shall be the highest price charged during that period by his most closely competitive seller of the same class for the same listed food product; or, if no charge was made for the same listed food product, for the similar food product most nearly like it.

(b) If the seller cannot determine his maximum price for a listed food product under the foregoing, because neither he nor his most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered or offered for delivery such listed food product to a purchaser of the same class during the base period and adjusting the price to October 2, 1942, inclusive, he may determine his maximum price by the following procedure applied in the following order:

(1) By taking the maximum price of the same or similar listed food product most nearly like it which he charged a different class of purchaser during such base period and adjusting the price to reflect the customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(2) By taking the maximum price of the same or similar listed food product most nearly like it charged by his most closely competitive seller of the same class to a different class of purchaser during such base period, and adjusting that maximum price to reflect the customary differential between the price charged that different class of purchaser by such competitor, and the price for that class of purchaser for whom a maximum price is sought by the seller.

(3) By taking as the maximum price the most recent price which he (or, if none, his most closely competitive seller of the same class) charged any class of purchasers at any time within one year previous to said base period and adjusting said price to reflect a reasonable differential to other classes of purchasers.

(4) In all other cases, by taking the maximum price for the most nearly similar listed food product that he (or, if none, his most closely competitive seller of the same class) has delivered or offered for delivery during such base period (or, if none at the most recent time within one year prior thereto) and adjusting that price to reflect the differential between the two commodities normal or customary to his business or, if none, to reflect the reasonable differential between the two commodities based upon the variances in the cost of production of the two commodities.

[Paragraphs (3) and (4) added by Amendment 10, 8 F.R. 1741]

(c) [Revoked by Amendment 10, 8 F.R. 1741.]

(d) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 do not apply to fluid milk sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the "Dallas Regional area". Maximum Prices for such sales are set in subdivision (vi) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 89 [4] to Supplementary Regulation No. 14, issued January 16, 1943 and effective January 18, 1943.)

[Paragraph (d) added by Amendment 6, 8 F.R. 876]

(e) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 do not apply to fluid milk sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the "Memphis, Tennessee area". Maximum prices for such sales are set in subdivision (ii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 95 [5] to Supplementary Regulation No. 14.)

[Paragraph (e) added by Amendment 7, 8 F.R. 877]

(f) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 do not apply to fluid milk sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the "Chicago, Illinois area". Maximum prices for such sales are set in subdivision (ii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 104 [6] to Supplementary Regulation No. 14.)

[Paragraph (f) added by Amendment 9, 8 F.R. 1462]

(g) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 do not apply to the following milk product: "ice cream mix", the butterfat content of which is reduced to not less than 8% (by weight) included in 14% or more (by weight) of total milk solids. Maximum prices for sales of such "ice cream mix" are fixed in subparagraph (1a) of § 1499.73 (a) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 119 [7] to Supplementary Regulation No. 14.)

[Paragraph (g) added by Amendment 14, 8 F.R. 2346. Terminates on May 23, 1943.]

(h) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 do not apply to fluid milk sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the "New York Metropolitan Area." Maximum prices for such sales are set in subdivision (ii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1), Supplementary Regulation 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 134 [8] to Supplementary Regulation 14.)

[Paragraph (h) added by Amendment 16, 8 F.R. 3070. Terminates April 1, 1943.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 13 (7 F.R. 6523) provides that retail sellers of commodities or services, who own more than one establishment and who have maintained a fixed practice of selling commodities or services at retail at uniform or at substantially uniform prices, may apply for authorization to determine and use uniform maximum prices.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1351.804 Relationship between minimum prices established by Federal marketing agreements, orders or licenses and maximum prices established herein. If the maximum price established for any seller by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 is below the minimum price established for him by any marketing agreement, order or license heretofore or hereafter to be issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, such minimum price shall become the seller's maximum price.

§ 1351.805a Determination of adjusted maximum prices for fluid cream sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers after butterfat content is reduced to comply with Conservation Order No. M-259,[9] issued by the War Production Board on November 25, 1942. (a) (1) After the butterfat content of fluid cream sold at wholesale other than in glass or paper containers is reduced to not less than 19%, the seller shall reduce his established maximum price for any unit size, as determined under §§ 1351.803, 1351.804, and 1351.805 hereof, proportionately on the basis of 5¢ per gallon for each one percent that the butterfat content is reduced.

(2) Table: Adjusted maximum prices where butterfat content is reduced to 19%:

Butterfat content prior to reduction—Con.	Seller must subtract from established maximum price for any unit size on basis of following amounts per gallon
39%	1.00
38%	.95
37%	.90
36%	.85
35%	.80
34%	.75
33%	.70
32%	.65
31%	.60
30%	.55
29%	.50
28%	.45
27%	.40
26%	.35
25%	.30
24%	.25
23%	.20
22%	.15
20%	.05

(b) Calculations. (1) The foregoing pricing formula shall apply to sales and deliveries of fluid cream at wholesale other than in paper or glass containers in any package size, whether more or less than one gallon, on a proportionate basis. All calculations shall be carried to the fourth decimal place of a cent. Any final calculation of a maximum price for any unit size resulting in a fraction of a cent shall be adjusted to the nearest half cent.

Example

Butterfat content prior to reduction	Gallon-size container—seller must subtract from established maximum price	Quart-size container—seller must subtract from established maximum price	Pint-size container—seller must subtract from established maximum price	Half-pint-size container—seller must subtract from established maximum price
40%	$1.05	$0.2625	$0.1313	$0.0659
20%	.05	.0125	.0067	.0033

(2) If the seller has established maximum prices, as determined by §§ 1351.803, 1351.804, and 1351.805 hereof, for sales and deliveries of fluid cream having different percentages of butterfat content, his adjusted maximum price shall be determined according to the pricing formula applicable to the class of cream yielding the lowest maximum price.

(c) Records and reports. On or before January 11, 1943, each seller of fluid cream affected by the provisions of this section shall prepare, on the basis of available information and records, and file with the nearest District or State Office of the Office of Price Administration a report showing:

(1) His adjusted maximum prices for fluid cream in each size and type of container; and

(2) The basis for the adjusted maximum prices, including (i) the butterfat content of the fluid cream sold in each size and type of container prior to November 25, 1942, (ii) the established maximum prices in effect immediately prior to the issuance of Conservation Order M-259 by the War Production Board on November 25, 1942, and (iii) the present butterfat content of such cream for each size and type of container.

[§ 1351.805a added by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 10475]

§ 1351.806 [Revoked April 16, 1943]

§ 1351.807 Adjustment of maximum prices of fluid milk and shell eggs. (a) The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this Maximum Price Regulation 280 for fluid milk sold at wholesale in containers other than bottles or paper containers in the case of any seller or group of sellers, and may adjust any price so established for shell eggs sold at wholesale or retail in the case of any seller or group of sellers where it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of such fluid milk or shell eggs; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such fluid milk or shell eggs; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this § 1351.807.

(c) Applications for adjustment under this § 1351.807 shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[§ 1351.807 as amended by Amendment 4, 7 F.R. 10995]

§ 1351.807a Special provision for foreign-type cheese. Sellers of cheese, except the following:

Processed cheese of all kinds.
Cheddar cheese covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 289.[10]
Aged cheddar cheese covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.
Colby cheese.
Washed curd cheese.
Monterey or jack cheese.

All other cheeses of cheddar class having a moisture content of 40% or more.
Cottage cheese.
Baker's cheese.
Pot cheese.
Smearcase cheese.
Neufchatel cheese.
All other cheese of less than 20% butterfat content in the water free substance.

may add 3¢ per pound to the maximum prices provided in § 1351.803 hereof: Provided, That this 3¢ increase shall not be applied to those stocks of cheeses which were in the seller's possession prior to February 10, 1943. However, a cheese factory may apply this increase to cheeses which it has manufactured and delivers on or after February 10, 1943, regardless of whether such cheeses were manufactured before or after that date.

"Colby cheese" and "washed curd cheese" means Colby cheese and washed curd cheese as defined in the "Standards of Identity for Cheddar Cheese, Cheese, Washed Curd Cheese, Colby Cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the Federal Register of January 9, 1941, page 195.

"Cottage cheese", and "neufchatel cheese" means cottage cheese and neufchatel cheese as defined in the "Definitions and Standards of Identity for Creamed Cheese, Neufchatel Cheese, Cottage Cheese and Creamed Cottage Cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 23, 1942, pages 10758 and 10759.

(a) Sales and deliveries made directly by a farmer of any listed food product produced on his farm. However, this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 shall apply to a sale or delivery by a farmers' cooperative, whether as agent or otherwise, and to a sale or delivery directly by a farmer of any listed food product to an ultimate consumer if during the preceding month the farmers' sales to ultimate consumers of all food products produced on his farm exceeded $75.00.

(b) Deliveries to the United States, or any agency thereof, under contracts entered into prior to October 5, 1942.

(c) Sales, deliveries or transactions in connection with any listed food product which may be exempt by the following sections of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4 [11] to the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as amendments to them, and such sections and amendments are hereby made applicable to every person selling listed food products:

(1) § 1499.29 (a) (5) (Developmental contracts)

(2) § 1499.29 (a) (6) (Secret contracts)

(3) § 1499.29 (a) (7) (Emergency purchases)

(d) Sales or deliveries by hotels, restaurants, soda fountains, bars, cafes or other similar establishments of listed food products prepared on the premises and sold for consumption either on or off the premises.

(e) All sales of dried whole eggs to the United States of America, or any agency thereof, where the seller is obligated to make delivery of such eggs during the months of January and February, 1943.

(f) All sales of shell, liquid and frozen eggs to manufacturers of dried whole eggs for the sole purpose of manufacturing such eggs into dried whole eggs, and the sale and delivery of the manufactured product to the United States of America, or any agency thereof, during the months of January and February, 1943.

[Paragraphs (e) and (f) added by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 10337]

(g) All sales of shell eggs purchased for the sole purpose of hatching by persons now or hereafter engaged in the production of baby chicks, poults, or other newly hatched poultry and which shall not be resold or used for any other purpose.

[Paragraph (g) added by Amendment 5, 8 F.R. 158]

(h) Fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the Dallas Regional area. Maximum prices for such sales are set in subdivision (vi) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14, to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 89 to Supplementary Regulation No 14, issued January 16, 1943, and effective January 18, 1943).

[Paragraph (h) added by Amendment 6, 8 F.R. 876]

(i) Fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the Memphis, Tennessee area. Maximum prices for such sales are set in subdivision (ii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 95 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14).

[Paragraph (i) added by Amendment 7, 8 F.R. 877]

(j) Fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions in the Chicago, Illinois area. (Amendment No. 104 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14.)

[Paragraph (j) added by Amendment 9, 8 F.R. 1468]

(k) Milk products known as "ice cream mix", as defined in subparagraph (8) of § 1351.816 (a) below. Maximum prices for sales of such "ice cream mix" are fixed in subparagraph (1a) of § 1499.73 (a) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 of the General Maximum Price Regulation. [Amendment No. 119 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14]

[Paragraph (k) added by Amendment 14, 8 F.R. 2346]

(l) Fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions, in the New York Metropolitan Area. Maximum prices for such sales are set in subdivision (ii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1), Supplementary Regulation 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (Amendment No. 134 to Supplementary Regulation 14.)

[Paragraph (l) added by Amendment 16, 8 F.R. 3070]

(m) All sales and purchases of breeding poultry when sold or purchased for breeding purposes only.

(n) All sales and purchases of "baby" or "started" chicks, ducklings, goslings, and poults when sold for purposes other than present human consumption.

(o) All sales and purchases of female poultry when sold and purchased for egg production purposes.

(p) All sales of pigeons, squabs, guineas, quails, and pheasants.

(q) All sales of canned citrus fruits and juices when sold by packers and canners.

§ 1351.809 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of, or relating to a listed food product alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing a business practice relating to the price lines, grading, labeling, packaging or branding of a listed food product.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 29 (7 F.R. 9816) lists certain services customarily offered by retailers which may be curtailed or eliminated without a compensating reduction in ceiling prices.]

§ 1351.810 Sales for export. The maximum prices at which a person may export a listed food product shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1351.811 Imports. On and after the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, no person in the course of trade or business shall import or agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to import a listed food product at a price in excess of that established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280. "Import" means to buy, receive, or in any manner to pay for any listed food product pursuant to or in connection with any transaction, contract, agreement or other obligation whereby the listed food product is transported or is to be transported to the United States, its territories and possessions, or the District of Columbia from any place outside the United States, its territories and possessions and the District of Columbia, regardless of whether the importer deals directly with the seller, or deals through an agent, broker or other intermediary acting for either party, in or outside the United States, its territories or possessions, or the District of Columbia, and regardless of whether such importation is for use or for resale.

(b) As to all sales not specifically exempted by other sections of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, every person selling a listed food product shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices which he charged for such food product during the period from September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, and, in addition, records showing, as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined maximum prices.

(c) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1351.813 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 or of any price schedule, regulation, or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1351.814 Petitions for amendment and applications for adjustment—(a) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Applications for adjustment. The Office of Price Administration or any duly authorized representative thereof may adjust any of the maximum prices established herein except those established for eggs as listed in § 1351.801, paragraph (b) of the regulation, where the applicant files an application pursuant to Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 showing that:

(1) Such maximum price is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices of the same or similar commodities established pursuant to this regulation for other sellers, and

(2) This abnormality subjects him to hardship.

(c) Joint applications. Manufacturers or processors of the commodities listed in § 1351.801 except eggs, and persons who purchase those commodities from them for resale, may file joint applications for adjustment under paragraph (b) above pursuant to § 1300.14 of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(d) Limitation on application for adjustment. No application for adjustment pursuant to paragraph (b) above will be granted unless it is filed within:

(1) Sixty days of the effective date of this section, or

(2) Sixty days after an application for adjustment is granted pursuant to the terms of this paragraph to a person from whom the applicant purchases one of the items referred to in paragraph (b) above.

(e) Each regional administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under paragraph (b) above where the applicant is a wholesaler or a retailer.

[§ 1351.814 as amended by Amendment 15, 8 F.R. 3001.]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1351.815 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to and at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations, where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator, may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

(1) "Person" means individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agencies of any of the foregoing;

(2) "Highest price charged during the base period" means the highest price which the seller (except a seller of wheat flour or a seller of corn meal, hominy or hominy grits) charged for a listed food product delivered by him during the period from September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class, or, if the seller made no such delivery during such period, his highest offering price for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class. In the case of a seller of wheat flour or a seller of corn meal, hominy or hominy grits in bulk and packaged in quantities greater than three pounds, "highest price charged during the base period" means the highest price at which the seller during the period from September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, contracted to sell for immediate or future delivery to a purchaser of the same class, or if the seller made no such contract during such period, his highest offering price during that period to a purchaser of the same class No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change results in a lower price. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any listed food product than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during such period on deliveries of a listed food product.

(3) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice followed by the seller in the ninety-day period preceding October 2, 1942, in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, but not limited to, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institutions, individual consumer or any ordinarily recognized subgroup or combination of the foregoing) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

(4) "Fluid milk and fluid cream" refers to raw or pasteurized fluid milk and fluid cream.

[Paragraph (4) added by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 10786]

(5) "Dallas Regional area" means the States of Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas.

[Paragraph (5) added by Amendment 6, 8 F.R. 876]

(6) "Memphis, Tennessee area" means the territory included in the marketing area geographically defined in Federal Milk Marketing Order O–64, effective October 4, 1942, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

[Paragraph (6) added by Amendment 7, 8 F.R. 877]

(7) "Chicago, Illinois area" means the territory included in the marketing area geographically defined in Federal Milk Marketing Order O–41, as amended, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on September 1, 1939.

[Paragraph (7) added by Amendment 9, 8 F.R. 1468]

(8) "Ice cream mix" means any liquid or dry unfrozen preparation (including, but not limited to, ice cream mix, ice cream powder, milk ice mix, ice milk mix, milk shake mix, and similar preparations) containing sugar and milk fat, the percentage of which is reduced to not less than 8% (by weight) included in 14% or more (by weight) of total milk solids, as defined in subparagraph (1a) of § 1499.73 (a) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14. [Amendment No. 119 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14]

[Paragraph (8) added by Amendment 14, 8 F.R. 2346]

(9) "New York Metropolitan Area" means the territory included in the City of New York, Counties of Nassau, Suffolk (except Fisher's Island) and Westchester, all in the State of New York.

[Paragraph (9) added by Amendment 16, 8 F.R. 3070]

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1351.817 Relation to other maximum price regulations. (a) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a listed food product for which a maximum price is in effect on December 3, 1942, under the provisions of any other price regulation, including the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as the amendments to them, shall be applicable to every person selling a listed food product:

(1) Adjustment of maximum prices in cases of special deals (§ 1499.4b).

(2) Transfers of business or stock in trade (§ 1499.5).

(3) Federal and state taxes (§ 1499.7). In applying § 1499.7 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, the base period of September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, shall be substituted for the period of March, 1942 used therein, and the date October 2, 1942, shall be substituted for the date March 31, 1942, used therein.

(4) Sales slips and receipts (§ 1499.14).

(5) Registration (§ 1499.15).

(6) Licensing (§ 1499.16).

§ 1351.818 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 shall be applicable to the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

§ 1351.819 Revocation of Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 22. Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 22 (§§ 1351.801 to 1351.814, inclusive), which was issued October 3, 1942, and which was to expire on December 3, 1942, is hereby revoked and replaced by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.

PART 1376—FLUORITE

[MPR 126[1] as Amended, Amendment 2]

FLUORSPAR

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 126 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1376.1 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The maximum price f. o. b. a consumer's plant for any shipment of acid grade fluorspar shall be $32.00 per ton, plus either (i) railroad freight on such shipment from the seller's shipping point to the consumer's plant or (ii) railroad freight on such a shipment from Rosiclare, Illinois, to the consumer's plant, whichever is lower.

2. Section 1376.1 (b) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) As an alternative method of pricing, on all sales or deliveries made by the Metals Reserve Company and on all sales or deliveries to a buyer who has customarily bought on a premium and penalty basis, the maximum price for any sale or delivery shall be computed by taking as the base price the maximum price established in paragraph (b) (1) or (b) (2) of this § 1376.1 for a base analysis of 97.5% CaF_2 and 1.5% SiO_2 and applying thereto in the case of sales or deliveries to a buyer who has customarily bought on a premium and penalty basis the premiums and penalties customarily applied by such buyer, and in the case of sales or deliveries by the Metals Reserve Company the following premiums and penalties:

Premiums

CaF_2 above 97.5%—3% of the delivered price established in paragraph (b) (1) for each 1%.

SiO_2 below 1.5%—10% of the delivered price established in paragraph (b) (1) for each 1%.

Penalties

CaF_2 below 97.5%—3% of the delivered price established in paragraph (b) (1) for each 1%.

SiO_2 above 1.5%—10% of the delivered price established in paragraph (b) (1) for each 1%.

Fractions of percentages may be calculated proportionately.

Each seller, except the Metals Reserve Company, shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., all such premiums and penalties to which he is subject on or before December 17, 1942, and thereafter within 10 days after he becomes subject to any different premiums or penalties.

This amendment shall become effective April 16, 1943.

PART 1381—SOFTWOOD LUMBER

[MPR 26,[1] Amendment 14]

DOUGLAS FIR AND OTHER WEST COAST LUMBER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

To the table in § 1381.62 (a) entitled "No. 1 Boards and Shiplap, Green, Surfaced, A. L. S.," footnote 11 is added to read as follows:

11. If a mill is operating in compliance with the War Production Board's Circular No. 31, of March 31, 1943, addressed "To all Douglas Fir Sawmills", for so long as such order is in force and for so long as the mill has not been granted exception from such order, its maximum prices shall be the maximum prices established under this Table and footnotes thereto plus $3.50 per MBM in the case of Select merchantable, No. 1 Common, and No. 2 Common boards, or, in the case of No. 3 Common boards, $1.50 per MBM.

This amendment shall become effective April 16, 1943.

PART 1346—BUILDING MATERIALS

[Rev. MPR 236,[2] Amendment 2]

HEATING BOILER CONVERSION PARTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 236 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1316.158 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1346.158 Maximum prices for the installation of conversion parts. The maximum price for the installation of conversion parts and incidental brick and masonry work, but including the installation of special combination grates only when installed by a person other than the seller of the special combination grate, shall not be in excess of a sum computed in the following manner:

(a) Take the number of hours utilized in making the installation (figuring the time on the basis of the practice customarily employed by the installer on October 1, 1941).

(b) Multiply the number of hours utilized by the highest hourly price charged by the installer during the month of March 1942 for the same or similar mechanical service employing the same class of mechanics or, in the event the installer had no such established hourly price for such service or similar service during March 1942, the maximum hourly price of the nearest competitor who pays the same wage rate and employs the same class of mechanics: Provided, That the hourly price charged may be adjusted to reflect actual increases in wage rates paid by the installer becoming effective between March 1, 1942, and October 3, 1942, by adding to such March hourly price charged only the actual hourly increase in the wage rate during such period.

(c) Add to the price computed in paragraph (b) above, the cost to the installer of brick and masonry materials, if used in the installation.

2. Section 1346.159 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1346.159 Maximum prices for special combination grates—(a) Installed price. The maximum prices for the sale of special combination grates installed in the purchaser's heating boiler are as follows:

(1) Prices listed in Table 2 include installation in dry base boilers. An additional charge of $1.00 for each leg may be added to the appropriate listed price if installed in a wet base boiler.

(2) To find the grate area, the horizontal diameter at the most restricted point, measured not more than 4 inches vertically above the grate, is the horizontal diameter to be used.

(3) To price grate areas other than those listed in Table 2, the following rules govern:

(4) Grate areas under 2 square feet are priced as 2 square feet.

(5) Grate areas less than ½ square foot larger than a listed size shall be priced as of the listed size; grate areas ½ square foot larger than a listed size shall be priced as of the next larger listed size. For example, if area is 4½ square feet, use the price of 5 square feet; if the area is 4½ square feet or any size up to but not 4½ square feet, use the 4 square foot area price.

(b) Uninstalled maximum price. The maximum price for the sale of any special combination grate listed above when sold to an ultimate purchaser on an uninstalled basis shall not exceed the maximum installed price established in paragraph (a) above less the cost of the installation allowance established by the seller in the following manner:

The seller shall establish the installation allowance by securing bona fide quotations from one or more persons performing mechanical installation services (installing conversion grates) located in the area where the seller is conducting its business; then the seller shall subtract the amount of the lowest quotation received from the installed price enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section. The amount remaining after such deduction shall constitute the uninstalled maximum price.

The seller shall, upon request of the purchaser, submit the name or names of the persons who have issued quotations for the mechanical installation service.

This amendment shall become effective April 23, 1943.

PART 1398—RATIONING OF OFFICE AND STORE MACHINES

[RO 4A,[2] Amendment 2]

TYPEWRITERS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 4A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1398.114 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1398.114 Certificate-free rental of Class B typewriters. A Class B typewriter may be rented by, and to, any person without a certificate for a period not to exceed three months and may be renewed for succeeding periods not to exceed three months, subject however, to the recall provisions of § 1398.128 (b). (The other terms of the rental agreement are governed by § 1398.127.)

2. Section 1398.119 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1398.119 Typewriters may be acquired as part of assets of business. (a) Any person who buys or otherwise acquires all or substantially all the assets of any store, business, plant, or other enterprise, including the good will, may acquire any typewriters included among the assets, without giving up a certificate, for use in the continuance of the business or enterprise, or for permissible transfer.

(b) However, any person who buys or otherwise acquires typewriters from a typewriter dealer, wholesaler, or manufacturer, under this section, may acquire them for permissible transfer only and must file the reports as explained in § 1398.134.

3. The text of § 1398.128 is designated § 1398.128 (a).

4. Section 1398.128 (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) Every typewriter dealer, wholesaler and manufacturer, in renting a Class B typewriter, must give preference to a certificate-holder over a person not holding a certificate. If all the Class B typewriters of the dealer, wholesaler, or manufacturer are out on rental, he must, upon demand by a certificate-holder, recall the number of typewriters specified on the certificate within 48 hours from a person or persons to whom he rented them without certificates.

This amendment shall become effective April 23, 1943.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[RO 16,[1] Amendment 11]

MEAT, FATS, FISH AND CHEESES

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 16.7 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 16.7 Sugar purchase certificates may be corrected and used instead of certificates on OPA Form R-1201. (a) Where no food ration certificates (OPA Form R-1201) are available, sugar purchase certificates (OPA Form R-306) may be used instead, if the word "sugar" in the title is changed to "meats and fats", and the rest of the sentence following the applicant's name and address and ending with "Administration" is changed to read "is issued [amount in words] ([amount in numerals]) points of meats and fats." In the upper right corner, "not valid before" shall be changed to "not valid after", and the date inserted there shall be 60 days from date of issue. The date in the lower right corner shall be left blank.

2. The definition of "Certificate" in section 24.1 (a) is amended to read as follows: "Certificate" means a certificate on OPA Form R-1201, or on OPA Form R-306 revised in accordance with section 16.7.

This amendment shall become effective April 23, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 404 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

B. B. CHEMICAL CO.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is hereby ordered:

§ 1499.1891 Approval of maximum prices for sales of cements, adhesives, stains, finishes, and comparable chemical products by the B. B. Chemical Company. (a) The maximum price per unit for sale by the B. B. Chemical Company of Cambridge, Massachusetts, of any cements, adhesives, stains, finishes, or comparable chemical products manufactured by it, for which a maximum price cannot be established under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall be the sum which bears the same percentage relationship to the sum of items (1) and (2) below, as the net sales of the B. B. Chemical Company in March 1942, bore to the sum of raw material costs and manufacturing costs for all articles sold in that month, which percentage relationship is established in a statement filed with the Office of Price Administration by the B. B. Chemical Company, dated March 23, 1943.

(1) Raw material costs per unit, computed on the basis of actual prices (not to exceed the applicable maximum prices) paid for raw materials, and in any case not to exceed the highest price charged in March 1942, by the actual supplier to a purchaser of the same class as the B. B. Chemical Company.

(2) Manufacturing costs—equal to the sum of the applicable unit costs prevailing during March 1942 for the operations used in making the article to be priced, as specified in a list of unit manufacturing costs filed by the B. B. Chemical Company with the Office of Price Administration, dated March 23, 1943.

(b) All discounts, trade practices, and practices relating to the payment of shipping charges in effect during March 1942, on the sale by the B. B. Chemical Company of comparable products, shall apply to the maximum prices determined under paragraph (a).

(c) On or before the last day of each month, beginning with May 1943, the B. B. Chemical Company shall submit to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. a report for each product priced under this Order No. 404 during the preceding month. Each such report shall include a description of the product so priced; a statement showing why the product cannot be priced under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation; the maximum price determined; and a detailed statement of the factors referred to in paragraph (a) of this order which were used in the determination of such maximum price. Each price so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) This Order No. 404 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective April 19, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Supp. Order 43]

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CERTAIN SALES OF CERTAIN SURPLUS STOCKS

A statement of the reasons for this Supplementary Order No. 43 has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is hereby ordered That:

§ 1305.58 Maximum prices for certain sales of certain surplus stocks. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation the Standard Oil Company of Venezuela, the Lago Petroleum Corporation and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey or any one or more of them may sell through one or more supply and/or equipment houses all or any part of the materials and supplies ordered in the United States prior to December 31, 1942, by or for the account of the Standard Oil Company of Venezuela or the Lago Petroleum Corporation and not exported prior to March 19, 1943, at prices not in excess of the maximum prices which would be applicable if the sale whose maximum price is determined under this order were made in the regular course of business by the supply and/or equipment house through which the sale subject to this order is made, and any supply and or equipment house may sell all or any part of the aforementioned materials and supplies on the terms hereinabove set forth.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation the amount that any supply and/or equipment house may charge the Standard Oil Company of Venezuela, the Lago Petroleum Corporation or the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey for making or assisting in the making of any one or more of the sales subject to this order shall not be subject to price control.

(c) The sale of any materials and supplies subject to this order by any supply and or equipment house at a price in excess of the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be deemed not to constitute a violation of this order by the Standard Oil Company of Venezuela, the Lago Petroleum Corporation, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey or any of their officers or employees: Provided, That in the event any such sale is made at a price in excess of the applicable maximum price, the last aforementioned corporations shall refund to the purchasers the amount by which the sale price exceeds the maximum price.

(d) As used in this order the term "price regulation" means a price schedule effective in accordance with the provisions of Section 206 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, a maximum price regulation or temporary maximum price regulation heretofore or hereafter issued or any amendment or supplement

PART 1347—PAPER, PAPER PRODUCTS, RAW MATERIALS FOR PAPER AND PAPER PRODUCTS, PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[MPR 369]

DRY ROOFING FELT

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of dry roofing felt by a specific maximum price regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

§ 1347.901 Maximum prices for dry roofing felt. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 369 (Dry Roofing Felt), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1347.901 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

Appendix A: Maximum prices for dry roofing felt.

SECTION 1 Prohibition against dealing in dry roofing felt at prices above the maximum. On and after April 24, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell or deliver dry roofing felt in rolls of 100 square feet or more at higher prices than those set forth in Appendix A of this regulation.

(b) No person shall buy or receive dry roofing felt in rolls of 100 square feet or more in the course of trade or business at prices higher than those set forth in Appendix A of this regulation.

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 2 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

SEC. 3 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia, but shall not be applicable to the territories and possessions of the United States.

SEC. 4 Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation.[1] The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries of which the maximum prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 5 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export dry roofing felt shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 6 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to dry roofing felt, alone or in connection with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 7 Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses as provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 8 Records and reports. (a) Every person making purchases, sales, or exchanges of dry roofing felt in April, 1943 or any month thereafter shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each purchase, sale, or exchange of dry roofing felt made during such month and each month thereafter, showing the following:

(1) Date of purchase, sale, or exchange.

(2) Name and address of the buyer or seller, or of the other party to the exchange.

(3) Weight in pounds per 480 sq. ft. and quantity of each weight purchased, sold, or exchanged.

(4) Prices, including discounts paid or received, and including all other direct or indirect considerations given or received and returns and allowances made or taken.

(5) Specifications, including any warranties given or received.

(6) Origin and destination of the shipment, means of transportation used, and amount of transportation charges, insofar as known to the person keeping the record.

(b) Persons required to keep records shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section 8 as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require, or permit, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 9 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.*

SEC. 10 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

SEC. 11 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representatives of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Dry roofing felt" includes any fibrous material produced by the felting of vegetable and animal fibers, which is suitable for asphalt or tar saturating purposes, and is customarily used in the production of finished roofing material.

(3) "Short air dry ton" means 2,000 pounds gross weight, including a maximum moisture content of 5%.

(4) "Point of shipment" means that point at which dry roofing felt is loaded upon the carrier or conveyance for shipment to the purchaser.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

Appendix A: Maximum prices for dry roofing felt. Maximum prices for dry roofing felt shall in no event exceed the specific dollars and cents prices set forth below, except that if during March 1942 there was an agreement between seller and buyer for the sale of dry roofing felt, the maximum price for sales between that seller and that buyer shall not be in excess of the amount which is arrived at by computation under the pricing formula contained in that agreement, or the specific dollars and cents prices set forth below, whichever is lower.

MAXIMUM PRICES

Weight per 480 square feet:	Maximum price per short air dry ton, f. o. b. point of shipment
Less than 60 pounds	$52.00
60 pounds or more	$[illegible].00

This Maximum Price Regulation No. 369 shall become effective April 24, 1943.

NOTE: All of the reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 370]

LINSEED OIL MEAL, CAKE, PEA SIZE MEAL AND PELLETS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal and pellets have risen and are threatening to rise further to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and are thereby causing undue increases in prices.

The Administrator has considered all pertinent provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and has complied with all requirements thereof.

The maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 370 are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

(1) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States or any other government or any political subdivision or agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Crusher" means any person who by expeller, extraction or hydraulic process removes oil from flaxseed, and in that process produces oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets.

(3) "Jobber" means a person who buys linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets whether in carlots or less-than-carlots, and distributes the same without unloading into a warehouse and resells the same other than at retail.

(4) "Wholesaler" means a person who buys linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets and unloads his purchase into a warehouse and resells the same, except at retail.

(5) "Retail" means a person who sells linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets to an ultimate consumer or feeder.

(6) "Linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets" means the product made for animal feding purposes which results when the oil is removed from flaxseed by an expeller, extraction or hydraulic process.

(7) "Carload lot" means the minimum quantity required to obtain carload lot rates from the point of shipment to the point of destination.

(8) "Less than carload lot" means a quantity other than a carload, mixed car or pool car lot, and includes truck quantities.

(9) "Pool car" means a car in which two or more buyers have combined for the purpose of obtaining a carload rate.

(10) "Transportation charges actually incurred" means:

(i) Where the carrier is not owned or controlled by the seller, the amount paid such carrier (including the 3 per cent tax provided for in section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942) not exceeding any applicable common or contract carrier rate for a like billing or shipment nor any applicable maximum price for such service.

(ii) Where the carrier is owned or controlled by the seller, the reasonable value of the transportation in question not exceeding, if any, the common or contract rate nor the maximum price for a like service if performed by a person other than the seller.

Except as loading or unloading charges may be included in such transportation charges, no additional charges may be made for such services.

SEC. 6 Maximum prices of crushers. (a) The maximum prices for the sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets, produced from flaxseed grown in the United States, Mexico or Canada, per ton by a crusher, in bulk, f. o. b. plant where produced shall be as follows:

(b) The foregoing maximum prices shall be decreased by $5.00 per ton for the sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets produced from flaxseed grown in any country other than the United States, Canada, or Mexico.

(c) If the actual analysis of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets differs from the guaranteed minimum percentage of protein above specified then:

(1) If above said guaranteed minimum percentage of protein, no increase in maximum price is permitted.

(2) If below said guaranteed minimum percentage of protein, the deficiency shall be settled for in the following manner: Divide the maximum price per ton for such guaranteed minimum percentage of protein by said minimum percentage of protein, and multiply the resulting figure by the actual number of units (the actual percentage of protein) in the lot in question, and this resulting figure will be the adjusted maximum price.

(d) The foregoing maximum prices may be increased for the sale or delivery by a crusher of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets packed in accordance with the appropriate differential given below:

In seller's new sacks add	$3.50
In seller's used sacks add	3.00
In buyer's new or recleaned sacks add	.50
In buyer's sacks of any other kind add	1.00

(e) The foregoing maximum prices may be increased for the sale or delivery by a crusher of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets at any point other than the plant where produced by the transportation charges actually incurred by such crusher for the delivery from the plant where produced to the buyer's receiving point.

(f) Should any crushing plant be established, in addition to the ones named in this regulation, the maximum price of such additional crushing plant shall be the maximum price of that crushing plant located nearest thereto.

SEC. 7 Maximum prices of jobbers. The maximum price for the sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets by a jobber shall be 50 cents per ton (maximum markup) for sales or deliveries in carload lots, and $1.00 per ton (maximum markup) for sales or deliveries in less than carload lots or in pool cars, over the maximum price which he could lawfully have paid a crusher for the quantity and quality purchased and delivered (from out of which lot the sale or delivery is made) plus transportation charges actually incurred by the seller in respect to the lot sold.

SEC. 8 Maximum prices of wholesalers. The maximum price for the sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets by a wholesaler shall be $2.50 per ton (maximum markup) over the maximum price which he could lawfully have paid the crusher or jobber for the quantity and quality purchased and delivered to his receiving point (from out of which lot the sale or delivery is made) plus transportation charges actually incurred by the seller in respect to the lot sold.

SEC. 9 Maximum prices of retailers. The maximum price for the sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets by a retailer shall be $5.50 (maximum markup) over the maximum price which he could lawfully have paid the crusher, jobber or wholesaler for the quantity and quality purchased and delivered to his receiving point (from out of which lot the sale or delivery is made) plus transportation charges actually incurred by the seller in respect to the lot sold.

SEC. 10 Maximum prices for sales or deliveries by others. (a) The maximum price for the sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets by an ultimate consumer or other person of a class not hereinbefore specifically provided for shall be the maximum price which his seller could lawfully have charged him when he purchased the same.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation sales between persons of one of the classes hereinbefore specifically provided for shall be permissible: Provided, That no such sales, nor sales to a person of a different class, shall be at a higher price than the maximum price hereinbefore prescribed for said class of sellers.

SEC. 11 Intermediate sellers' sacks. When an intermediate seller who has purchased linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets in bulk resells the same in sacks he may add the differentials given in section 6 (d) above.

SEC. 12 Maximum prices shall not be increased for any special charges. The maximum prices fixed in this regulation shall not be increased by any special charges whatsoever, including, but not limited to, duties, brokerages and commissions, or storage, insurance, carrying and handling charges, or charges for the extension of credit.

SEC. 13 Imported sales. No person shall sell or deliver imported linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets at a higher price than could lawfully be charged for a like sale or delivery by a like class of seller of domestic linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets, but in the case of the first seller within the United States his maximum price shall be computed as if he had purchased the product from that domestic crusher whose production plant is located nearest the port of entry of the imported product in question.

SEC. 14 Maximum prices for export sales. The maximum price for export sales of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[1]

SEC. 15 Federal and State taxes including certain licenses or inspection fees. Any tax upon or incident to the sale, delivery, processing or use of linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets, including license or inspection fees levied on a tonnage basis imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for linseed oil meal, cake, pea size meal or pellets, and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto: If at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing the tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect in addition to the maximum price, the amount of tax or fee actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax or fee paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 16 Evasion. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 370 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of any commodity covered by this regulation alone or in connection with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 17 Records and reports. (a) Every seller subject to this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect his customary records including, if any, all bills, invoices and other documents relating to every sale or delivery of linseed oil meal, cake or pellets after the effective date of this regulation.

(b) Upon demand every such seller shall submit such records to the Office of Price Administration and keep such further records as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

SEC. 18 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the license revocation or suspension provisions, civil enforcement actions suits for treble damages, and criminal penalties as provided in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 19 Protests and petitions for amendment. Any person desiring to file a protest against or seeking an amendment of any provisions of this regulation may do so in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

This regulation shall become effective April 24, 1943.

NOTE: The record keeping provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 406 under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

SHARPE & DOME, INCORPORATED

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1893 Approval of maximum prices for sales of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford—(a) Maximum prices. Maximum prices for Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford are established as follows:

(1) Sales other than sales on prescription.

Sales to—	M 330-41%	M 330-022
	Each	Each
Individual ultimate consumers	$1.60	$5.65
Physicians	1.20	4.24
Retail druggists and hospitals	.96	3.39
Wholesalers	.82	2.88
State, county and city governments or agencies thereof	.80	2.82
U. S. Government or agencies thereof	.76	2.68

(2) Sales on prescriptions. The maximum prices established by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not apply to sales on prescription of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford. The maximum price for a sale on prescription of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford shall be determined by the person making the sale on prescription in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that no report of the maximum price so determined need be filed as required by that section.

(b) Discounts and allowances. Any seller making sales of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford shall apply to the maximum prices established for such sales in paragraph (a) all quantity differentials, trade practices, credit terms, practices relating to transportation costs, and other customary discounts and allowances which were in effect on his sales of biological products manufactured by Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated, during March 1942, or if such seller did not sell such biologicals in March 1942, on his sales of the product most comparable to Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford which such seller sold in March 1942.

(c) Definitions. When used in this order, the term:

(1) "Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford" refers to an organic germicide and bacteriostatic agent extracted from cultures of soil bacilli and used exclusively in treating human beings which is manufactured by Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated, a corporation of Maryland having its principal offices in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

(2) "M 330–419" refers to a package containing a 1 cc. ampule of a solution of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford, 25 mgm. per cc., and a vial containing 49 cc. of pyrogen-free, sterile, distilled water for diluting the concentrate before use.

(3) "M 330–022" refers to a vial containing 20 cc. of a solution of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford, 25 mgm. per cc.

(d) Notification. (1) With or prior to the first delivery of each size of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford to a wholesaler, Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated shall furnish such wholesaler a written notice containing the following information:

(i) The maximum price established by this order for sales by Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated, to such wholesalers.

(ii) Wholesalers' maximum price to retailers.

(iii) Retailers' maximum price to individual ultimate consumers.

(iv) A statement that wholesalers' and retailers' maximum prices are subject to the discounts, allowances and trade practices in effect on sales by the seller during March 1942 of biological products manufactured by Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated, or if the seller did not sell such biological products during March 1942, on sales of the product most comparable to Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford which the seller sold during March 1942.

(2) Prior to the first delivery of each size of Tyrothricin Concentrate (Human) Mulford, Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated shall publish in any drug trade periodical of national circulation generally circulated among retail sellers of drugs, a notification setting forth the maximum prices established by this order for sales thereof to retailers and the maximum prices established by this order for sales thereof by retailers to individual ultimate consumers: Provided, That such publication is not required so long as Sharp & Dohme, Incorporated directly supplies each retailer who purchases such product, with or prior to the first delivery thereof, with a written notice of the maximum prices established by this order for sales to retailers and to individual ultimate consumers.

(e) This Order No. 406 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) This order shall become effective April 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

[T. D. 50848]

CANADIAN HALIBUT FISHING VESSELS

PERMISSION TO LAND CATCH IN ALASKA

APRIL 15, 1943.

Section 4311 R.S. (46 U.S.C. 251) waived to extent necessary to permit Canadian halibut fishing vessels to land catch of halibut in Alaska.

Upon the written recommendation of the Secretary of State and by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 501 of the Second War Powers Act, 1942 (Public Law 507, 77th Cong.), I hereby waive compliance with the provisions of section 4311 R.S. (46 U.S.C. 251) to the extent necessary, for the duration of the calendar year 1943, to permit Canadian fishing vessels engaging in the North Pacific halibut fishery only to land their catch of halibut in ports of entry in Alaska upon compliance with the applicable customs laws. I deem that such action is necessary in the conduct of the war.

7/8 PERCENT TREASURY CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS OF SERIES C–1944

APRIL 20, 1943.

I. OFFERING OF CERTIFICATES

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for certificates of indebtedness of the United States, designated 7/8 percent Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series C–1944, in payment of which only 0.65 percent Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series C–1943, maturing May 1, 1943, or ¾ percent Commodity Credit Corporation Notes of Series F, also maturing May 1, 1943, may be tendered. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of such Series C–1943 certificates and Series F notes tendered and accepted.

II. DESCRIPTION OF CERTIFICATES

1. The certificates will be dated May 1, 1943, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of ⅞ percent per annum, payable semiannually on November 1, 1943, and May 1, 1944. They will mature May 1, 1944, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The income derived from the certificates shall be subject to all Federal taxes, now or hereafter imposed. The certificates shall be subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The certificates will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys. They will not be acceptable in payment of taxes and will not bear the circulation privilege.

4. Bearer certificates with two interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. The certificates will not be issued in registered form.

5. The certificates will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States certificates.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of certificates applied for, and to close the books as to any or all subscriptions at any time without notice; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par for certificates allotted hereunder must be made or on before May 1, 1943, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series C–1943 or in Commodity Credit Corporation Notes of Series F, maturing May 1, 1943, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for certificates allotted, to make delivery of certificates on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive certificates.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

SEISMOGRAPH SERVICE CORPORATION

PROCEEDINGS FOR REVOCATION OF LICENSE

Order of dismissal without prejudice to future proceedings.

Purchaser's License No. 101,570 under the Federal Explosives Act (act of December 26, 1941, 55 Stat. 863, referred to herein as "the act") was issued on February 28, 1942, to Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa, Oklahoma, an Oklahoma corporation, and a new or reissued license, Purchaser's License No. 213,837, was issued to the same licensee on February 9, 1943. On November 16, 1942, these proceedings for revocation of the license then outstanding were started by filing a Specification of Charges alleging that the licensee had violated the act at a number of times and places. The licensee filed an answer in the form of a letter, requesting dismissal of the charges or a hearing thereon. A hearing was deemed necessary, and, after written notice to the licensee, was held in Dallas, Texas, on December 21, 1942, before a Hearing Officer designated by me. The licensee appeared by its attorney, John L. Carlson, Esq., and evidence bearing upon the charges was presented.

The Hearing Officer filed a report dated February 4, 1943, stating findings of fact and conclusions of law that the licensee, in a number of instances, had violated the act and the regulations then in force. The report recommended revocation of the license then outstanding, and also of any reissued license granted to the licensee; and further recommended that, because of efforts made by the licensee since these proceedings were started, to conform to the law and applicable regulations, any revocation order should be without prejudice to the right of the Seismograph Service Corporation to apply to the Director of the Bureau of Mines for a new license upon a showing of full compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and instructions relative to the storage of explosives. A copy of the report was sent on February 4, 1943, to the licensee by mailing to its attorney, John L. Carlson.

By letter dated February 24, 1943, the licensee filed exceptions to the report of the Hearing Officer. No exception was taken to the findings of fact and conclusions of law that the licensee had violated the act; the exceptions were limited to the recommendations for revocation of licenses and were expressly directed to the exercise of my discretion under the act, in disposing of the proceedings, to consider circumstances other than guilt or innocense of the licensee. The licensee also requested a hearing on the report and exceptions before any revocation order was made.

The exceptions were based largely on the allegation that the licensee was at the date of the exceptions complying fully with the act, the regulations issued pursuant thereto and instructions for storing, handling and transporting explosives approved by me, and the assurance that it would continue such compliance in the future. After further investigation, I am satisfied that the licensee is now conforming to all requirements of law and I believe it will continue to do so hereafter.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by sections 8 and 18 of the Federal Explosives Act (act of December 26, 1941, 55 Stat. 863) and § 301.22 of the regulations issued pursuant thereto (7 F.R. 5901), I, R. R. Sayers, Director of the Bureau of Mines, having reviewed the record and considered the exceptions, Order, That the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Hearing Officer to the effect that the Seismograph Service Corporation did in a number of instances violate the Federal Explosives Act (act of December 26, 1941, 55 Stat. 863) and regulations then in force are hereby approved and adopted as my own;

That since the licensee is now fully complying with the act, these proceedings are dismissed; the dismissal to be without prejudice, however, to the initiation of similar proceedings against this licensee hereafter if the licensee shall be guilty of any future violation of the Federal Explosives Act (act of December 26, 1941, 55 Stat. 863) or any regulation or instruction issued pursuant thereto; the record herein or any part thereof may be introduced as evidence in, and the violations proved herein may be considered in support of, any such future revocation proceedings, and, after such future violation, in support of any action I may seek to take with respect to the issue or reissue of a license to the above-named licensee and in any proceedings involving its rights under the said act.

Since the licensee requested further hearing before revocation of its license, and not otherwise, so that the present disposition of the proceedings leaves no request pending, nor any occasion, for further hearing, accordingly none will be held.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of April 1943.

R. R. SAYERS,
Director.

LEARNERS EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES

ISSUANCE TO VARIOUS INDUSTRIES

Notice of issuance of special certificates for the employment of learners under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

Notice is hereby given that special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at hourly wages lower than the minimum rate applicable under section 6 of the Act are issued under section 14 thereof and § 522.5 (b) of the regulations issued thereunder (August 16, 1940, 5 F.R. 2862) to the employers listed below effective April 19, 1943.

The employment of learners under these certificates is limited to the terms and conditions as designated opposite the employer's name. These certificates are issued upon the employers' representations that experienced workers for the learner occupations are not available for employment and that they are actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment. The certificates may be cancelled in the manner provided for in the regulations and as indicated on the certificate. Any person aggrieved by the issuance of these certificates may seek a review or reconsideration thereof.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATION

Notice of hearing on the minimum wage recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 for the Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry to be held May 10, 1943.

Whereas the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, on February 25, 1943, by Administrative Order No. 182, appointed Industry Committee No. 56 for the Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industry and employees in the industry, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on; and

Whereas Industry Committee No. 56, on March 17, 1943, recommended a minimum wage rate for the Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry and duly adopted a report containing such recommendation and reasons therefor and filed such report with the Administrator on March 19, 1943, pursuant to section 8 (d) of the Act and § 511.19 of the regulations issued under the Act; and

Whereas the Administrator is required by section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons, and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 if he finds that the recommendation is made in accordance with law and is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the industry committee, will carry out the purposes of section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendation;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 is as follows:

Wages at a rate of not less than 40 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry (as defined in Administrative Order No. 182) who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

II. The definition of the Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry as set forth in Administrative Order No. 182, issued February 25, 1943, is as follows:

The canning and preserving of fruits and vegetables, and the manufacture of related products.

(a) It includes, but without limitation, the manufacture of jams, jellies and juices; soups of all kinds; relishes and sauces of all kinds; vinegar; cider; pectin; flavoring extracts and flavoring syrups; salad dressings; sandwich spreads (except those made principally from meat or cheese); peanut and nut butters; mustard and horseradish; mincemeat; honey; and canned spaghetti, chili con carne, stew, hash, and pudding, containing fruit or vegetables.

(b) The term "canning," as used herein, means sterilizing and hermetically sealing in containers of tin, glass, or other material.

(c) The term "preserving," as used herein, includes pickling, preserving, freezing, cold packing, drying, dehydrating, and similar processes.

Provided, however, That this definition shall not include the manufacture of coffee; spices; malt extracts and syrups; salad and cooking oils including olive oil; potato chips; ready-to-mix desserts; or any products covered by the definitions of the Grain Products Industry, the Candy and Related Products Manufacturing Industry, or the Sugar and Related Products Industry, contained in the Administrative Orders appointing committees for those industries.

III. The full text of the report and recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 is and will be available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division:

C., for the purpose of taking evidence on the following question: Whether the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 should be approved or disapproved.

V. Any interested person supporting or opposing the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 may appear at the aforesaid hearing to offer evidence, either on his behalf or on behalf of any other person: Provided, That not later than May 1, 1943, such person shall file with the Administrator at New York, New York, a notice of his intent to appear which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing.

3. Whether such person proposes to appear for or against the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56.

4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, and shall be deemed filed upon receipt thereof.

VI. Any person interested in supporting or opposing the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 56 may secure further information concerning the aforesaid hearing by inquiry directed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, or by consulting with attorneys representing the Administrator who will be available for that purpose at the Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Labor, in Washington, D. C., and New York, New York.

VII. Copies of the following document relating to the Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry will be made available on request for inspection by any interested person who intends to appear at the aforesaid hearing:

Report entitled, Canned Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products Industry, Economic Factors Affecting the Establishment of Minimum Wage Rates, prepared by the Economics Branch, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, March 1943.

VIII. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Administrator or the Presiding Officer as are deemed appropriate.

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request addressed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York.

2. In order to maintain orderly and expeditious procedure, each person filing a Notice to Appear shall be notified, if practicable, of the approximate day and the place at which he may offer evidence at the hearing. If such person does not appear at the time set in the notice, he will not be permitted to offer evidence at any other time except by special permission of the Presiding Officer.

3. At the discretion of the Presiding Officer, the hearing may be continued from day to day, or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing by the Presiding Officer or by other appropriate notice.

4. At any stage of the hearing, the Presiding Officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the hearing has been closed, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

5. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

6. Written documents or exhibits, except as otherwise permitted by the Presiding Officer, must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

7. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in duplicate and the persons preparing the same shall be prepared to supply additional copies if such are ordered by the Presiding Officer. When evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such a document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the Presiding Officer, the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be put in evidence.

8. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of a document from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Administrator at his discretion, and any person appearing in the proceeding may apply in writing for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such application shall be timely and shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

9. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear, and the Administrator before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

10. The rules of evidence prevailing in the courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

11. The Presiding Officer may, at his discretion, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to cross-examine any witness offered by another person insofar as is practicable, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence by the Presiding Officer. Requests for permission to cross-examine a witness offered by another person and objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons for such request or the ground of objection relied on. Such requests or objections shall become a part of the record, but this record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the Presiding Officer. Objections to the approval of the Committee's recommendation and to the promulgation of a wage order based upon such approval must be made at the hearing before the Presiding Officer.

12. Before the close of the hearing, written requests shall be received from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matter in issue. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the request, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceedings, and shall designate the time and place at which the oral arguments shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing will be given opportunity to present oral argument.

13. Briefs (12 copies) may be submitted to the Administrator following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

14. On the close of the hearing, a complete record of the proceedings shall be filed with the Administrator. No intermediate report shall be filed unless so directed by the Administrator. If a report is filed it shall be advisory only and have no binding effect upon the Administrator.

15. No order issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at New York, New York, this 15th day of April 1943.

MATTRESS, BEDDING AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATION

Notice of hearing on the minimum wage recommendation of Industry Committee No. 54 for the Mattress, Bedding, and Related Products Industry to be held May 12, 1943.

Whereas the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, on February 11, 1943, by Administrative Order No. 174, appointed Industry Committee No. 54 for the Mattress, Bedding, and Related Products Industry, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industry and employees in the industry, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on; and

Whereas Industry Committee No. 54, on March 23, 1943, recommended a minimum wage rate for the Mattress, Bedding, and Related Products Industry and duly adopted a report containing such recommendation and reasons therefor and filed such report with the Administrator on March 24, 1943, pursuant to section 8 (d) of the Act and § 511.19 of the regulations issued under the Act; and

Whereas the Administrator is required by section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons, and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 54 if he finds that the recommendation is made in accordance with law and is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendation;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendation of Industry Committee No. 54 is as follows:

Wages at a rate of not less than 40 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the Mattress, Bedding, and Related Products Industry (as defined in Administrative Order No. 174) who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

II. The definition of the Mattress, Bedding, and Related Products Industry as set forth in Administrative Order No. 174, issued February 11, 1943, is as follows:

(a) The manufacture, renovation, and repair of mattresses, boxsprings, bedsprings (except metal), bedding, and related products, including, but without limitation, sleeping bags, bolsters, upholstered bedrests, and hassocks.

(b) The processing of feathers to be used as filling.

Provided, however, That this industry shall not include any product or part the manufacture of which is covered by the definition of an industry for which a wage order has been issued or for which an industry committee has been appointed under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

III. The full text of the report and recommendation of Industry Committee No. 54 is and will be available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division:

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 6501]

WORCESTER BROADCASTING CORP. (KFMB)

NOTICE OF HEARING

In re application of Worcester Broadcasting Corporation (KFMB); dated, October 8, 1942; for renewal of license; class of service, broadcast; class of station, broadcast; location, San Diego, California; operating assignment specified: frequency, 1450 kc; power, 250 w; hours of operation, unlimited.

You are hereby notified that the Commission has examined the above-entitled application and has designated the matter for hearing to be consolidated with the application of The First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, for Voluntary Transfer of Control of Worcester Broadcasting Corporation, Docket No. 6500, for the following reasons:

1. To determine whether public interest would be served by the granting of a renewal license for operation of Station KFMB under control of a trustee without equitable or beneficial interest in the station.

2. To determine whether public interest, convenience, and necessity would be served by the granting of renewal license for operation of Station KFMB under the control of a bank or trust company which has no beneficial interest in the station and whose regular business is devoted to banking and to the administration of various and numerous trusts, estates, accounts, and agencies.

3. To determine the manner in which Station KFMB would be operated, particularly with respect to the management and service if the application for renewal of license were granted.

4. To determine whether the granting of a renewal license application for operation of KFMB under the control of the First National Trust and Savings Bank, San Diego, California, as trustee under the terms and conditions proposed by the applicant would be consistent with the provisions of the Communications Act of 1934.

The application involved herein will not be granted by the Commission unless the issues listed above are determined in favor of the applicant on the basis of a record duly and properly made by means of a formal hearing.

The applicant is hereby given the opportunity to obtain a hearing on such issues by filing written appearance in accordance with the provisions of § 1.382 (b) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Persons other than the applicant who desire to be heard must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the provisions of § 1.102 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

The applicant's address is as follows: Worcester Broadcasting Corporation, Radio Station KFMB, Pacific Square Studios, San Diego, California.

Dated at Washington, D. C., April 15, 1943.

[Docket Nos. 6502 to 6508]

R. C. A. COMMUNICATIONS, INC. AND MACKAY RADIO AND TELEGRAPH CO., INC.

ORDER GRANTING PETITION AND DESIGNATING MATTER FOR HEARING

In the matter of applications of R. C. A. Communications, Inc., Dockets Nos. 6502, 6503, 6504, 6505, for authority to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa; R. C. A. Communications, Inc., Docket No. 6506, for authority to communicate with Rabat, French Morocco; Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., Docket No. 6507, for authority to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa; Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., Docket No. 6508, for authority to communicate with Rabat, French Morocco.

At a regular session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 13th day of April 1943;

The Commission having under consideration the petition of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., filed on March 30, 1943, for reconsideration of the Commission's action of February 23, 1943, in granting the request of R. C. A. Communications, Inc., for authority to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa, and in denying the request of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc. for such authority; and for reconsideration of the Commission's action of March 23, 1943, in granting the application of R. C. A. Communications, Inc., for authority to communicate with Rabat, French Morocco, and in denying the request of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., for such authority; and the Commission also having under consideration the oppositions to the foregoing petition of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., filed by R. C. A. Communications, Inc., on April 3, 1943, and by Press, Wireless, Inc., on April 8, 1943;

It is ordered, That the foregoing petition for reconsideration filed by Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc. on March 30, 1943 be, and it is hereby, granted;

It is further ordered, That the foregoing request and application of R. C. A. Communications, Inc. for authority to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa (File Nos. T1-SA-216; T1-SA-222; T1-SA-223; T1-SA-224) and with Rabat, French Morocco (File No. T1-SA-227) and the request of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc. for authority to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa (File No. T1-SA-236) and with Rabat, French Morocco (T1-SA-235), be, and they are hereby, designated for hearing upon the following issues:

1. To determine the method of operation proposed by each of the respective applicants for operating communication circuits between the United States, on the one hand, and Dakar, French West Africa and Rabat, French Morocco, on the other hand;

2. To determine what classifications of messages each of the respective applicants proposes to handle between the United States, on the one hand, and Dakar and Rabat on the other hand;

3. To determine what rates are proposed by each of the respective applicants for service between the United States on the one hand, and Dakar and Rabat, on the other hand, and what arrangements for division of tolls with the foreign correspondent at Dakar and Rabat are proposed by each of the respective applicants.

4. To determine what steps had been taken by each of the respective applicants, at the time of the Commission action upon their requests and applications for authority to communicate with Dakar and Rabat, in preparation for the establishment and operation of circuits between the United States, on the one hand, and Dakar and Rabat on the other hand, and whether service could be established more expeditiously by one of the applicants than by the other applicant;

5. To determine which of the applicants can operate circuits between the United States, on the one hand, and Dakar and Rabat, on the other hand, in a manner most consistent with public interest, convenience or necessity under wartime conditions;

6. To determine whether public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by authorizing both applicants to communicate with Dakar or with Rabat or with Dakar and Rabat;

7. To determine whether in the light of the foregoing issues, public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by a continuance of the special temporary authority heretofore issued to R. C. A. Communications, Inc. to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa, and with Rabat, French Morocco, or any extension or renewal thereof;

It is further ordered, That the special temporary authority to communicate with Dakar, French West Africa, granted to R. C. A. Communications, Inc. on February 23, 1943, for a period of 3 months, and the special temporary authority to communicate with Rabat, French Morocco, granted to R. C. A. Communications, Inc. on March 23, 1943, for a period of one month and any extensions or renewals of such authorizations be, and they are hereby, made subject to the disposition of the proceeding herein instituted;

It is further ordered, That the hearing herein ordered be consolidated with the hearing ordered by the Commission on March 16, 1943, in the proceeding entitled "In the Matter of Applications of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Press Wireless, Inc., and R. C. A. Communications, Inc. for authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria," Dockets Nos. 6495, 6496, 6497, and 6498, and that such consolidated hearing be held at the Commission's offices at Washington, D. C., beginning on the 5th day of May, 1943.

It is further ordered, That the Commission's Order in Dockets Nos. 6495, 6496, 6497, and 6498 be, and it is hereby amended, so that Issue No. 3 therein set forth be amended to read as follows:

3. To determine what rates are proposed by each of the respective applicants for service between the United States and Algiers, Algeria, and what arrangements for division of tolls with the foreign correspondent at Algiers, are proposed by each of the respective applicants; and that the following additional issue be inserted in such order:

4A. To determine what steps had been taken by each of the respective applicants, at the time of the Commission action upon their applications for authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria, in preparation for the establishment of a circuit between the United States and Algiers, and whether service could be established more expeditiously by any one of the applicants than by the other applicants.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. 6500]

FIRST NATIONAL TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK OF SAN DIEGO

NOTICE OF HEARING

In re application of The First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, executor of the last will and testament of Warren B. Worcester, deceased, transferor and The First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, as trustee under declaration of trust for Warren B. Worcester, deceased, transferee; dated January 5, 1943, for voluntary transfer of control of Worcester broadcasting corporation, licensee of radio station KFMB, class of service, broadcast; class of station, broadcast; location, San Diego, California; operating assignment specified: frequency, 1450 kc; power, 250 w; hours of operation, unlimited.

You are hereby notified that the Commission has examined the above-entitled application and has designated the matter for hearing to be consolidated with the application of Worcester Broadcasting Corporation, Docket No. 6501, for the following reasons:

1. To determine whether public interest would be served by approval of the proposed transfer of control of Station KFMB to a trustee without equitable or beneficial interest in the station.

2. To determine whether public interest would be served by the transfer of control of Station KFMB to a bank or trust company which has no beneficial interest in the station and whose regular business is devoted to banking and to the administration of various and numerous trusts, estates, accounts, and agencies.

3. To determine the manner in which Station KFMB would be operated, particularly with respect to management and service, if the application for transfer of control were approved.

4. To determine whether approval of the transfer of control of Station KFMB to the First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, trustee, under the terms and conditions proposed in the application would be consistent with the provisions of the Communications Act of 1934 and in the public interest.

[Vesting Order 1091]

NOSAWA & COMPANY (NEW YORK AGENCY)

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned after investigation:

1. Finding that Nosawa & Company, a sole proprietorship, whose last known address is Tokyo, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Nosawa & Company has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property described as follows:

All property of any nature whatsoever situated in the United States and owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of, or on account of, or owing to said Nosawa & Company, is property of a business enterprise within the United States which is a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

4. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

5. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

6. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on March 22, 1943.

THEODOR WILLE & CO., INC. (NEW YORK)

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Theodor Wille & Cia. Ltda., whose principal place of business is in Santos, Brazil, and Hans U. Uebele, whose last known address is Brazil, are named in the Proclaimed List of Certain Blocked Nationals, promulgated pursuant to Proclamation No. 2497 of the President of July 17, 1941;

2. Finding that Theodore Wille & Cia. Ltda. is acting for and on behalf of Henschel & Sohn A. G., Kassel, Germany, J. N. Voith, Heidenheim, Germany and Hewald Stwerke A. G., Kiel, Germany, who are persons within a designated enemy country (Germany) and are, therefore, nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany); and determining therefore that said Theodore Wille & Cia. Ltda. is a national of such designated enemy country (Germany);

3. Finding that Hans U. Uebele is acting for and on behalf of a designated enemy country (Germany) or persons within Germany and is a national of such designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Finding that Olga Jurksheit, whose last known address was represented to the undersigned as being within Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Finding that 10 shares of $500. par value common capital stock of Theodor Wille & Co., Inc., a New York corporation, New York, N. Y., are registered in the name of and owned by Theodore Wille & Cia. Ltda. of Santos, Brazil;

6. Finding that said Theodor Wille & Co., Inc. is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 10 shares constitute all of the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and are evidence of ownership and control thereof;

7. Determining, therefore, that said Theodor Wille & Co. Inc., is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

8. Finding that the property described as follows:

All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of Olga Jurksheit and Hans Uebele, and each of them, in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to them, or either of them, by said Theodore Wille & Co., Inc., including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, and including particularly such obligations represented on the books and records of said Theodor Wille & Co., Inc. as accounts payable, is an interest in the aforesaid business enterprise held by nationals of an enemy country and is also property within the United States owned or controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

9. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

10. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the 10 shares of stock referred to in subparagraph 5 hereof and the property described in subparagraph 8 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of Theodor Wille & Co., Inc. to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

11. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on March 22, 1943.

Messer in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to him by the First National Bank, Longmont, Colorado, and the First National Bank of Denver, Colorado, and each of them, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations and including particularly:

(i) The bank account in the First National Bank, Longmont, Colorado, which is due and owing to, and held for and in the name of Ernst H. Messer,

(ii) The bank account in the First National Bank of Denver, Denver, Colorado, which is due and owing to, and held for and in the name of Ernst H. Messer,

(iii) The bank account in the First National Bank of Denver, held in the name of Augusta H. Block, Trustee, for the benefit of Ernst H. Messer and Augusta H. Block, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Determining that the property described in subparagraph 3-c hereof is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property (namely, that hereinbefore described in subparagraphs 3-a and 3-b) belonging to the same national of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of the real property situated in Weld County, Colorado and particularly described in said Exhibit B to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on March 29, 1943.

ERICH PURPER

Re: Jewels and jewelry owned by Erich Purper.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Erich Purper, a citizen of Germany whose last known address is 4 Brunnengasse, Idar-Oberstein 2, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that said Erich Purper is the owner of the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof;

3. Finding that the property presently in the possession of Frederick W. Rausch, c/o Chemical Safe Deposit Company, 165 Broadway, New York, New York, and described as follows:

Eleven (11) Oriental pearl necklaces;
One (1) Oriental pearl bandeau; and Oriental Baroque pearls weighing 871 grains,

is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

6. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

[Order 1 Under RO 3[1]]

ALLOTMENT NECESSITATED BY MILITARY MANEUVERS

ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY INCREASES

Order No. 1 issued pursuant to § 1407.86b under Rationing Order No. 3—Sugar Rationing Regulations.

Military maneuvers of the armed forces of the United States are to be held in the counties of Bedford, Cannon, Clay, Coffee, DeKalb, Franklin, Jackson, Macon, Moore, Putnam, Rutherford, Smith, Sumner, Trousdale, Warren, White, and Wilson, in the State of Tennessee during a substantial part of the remainder of 1943.

The undersigned finds that these military maneuvers will cause temporary abnormal demands for sugar-containing products within the counties named and they are hereby defined as the area affected by this order. The undersigned also finds that certain temporary increases in the allotments of registering units delivering such products within the affected area will be necesary in consequence of such abnormal demands.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in the Director of the Food Rationing Division of the Office of Price Administration by § 1407.86b of Rationing Order No. 3,

It is hereby ordered, That a registering unit which during January and February 1943 delivered within the affected area 25 percent or more, in dollar value, of its total deliveries of sugar-containing products produced by it may apply to the board on OPA Form R-315 for a temporary increase of its March-April and May-June 1943 allotments. The amount of the temporary increases shall be determined as follows:

(a) The dollar value of sugar-containing products delivered by the registering unit within the affected area during January and February 1943 shall be divided by the dollar value of all sugar-containing products delivered by it during those months.

(b) The figure obtained in (a) shall be divided by 10.

(c) The temporary increase to be granted in the registering unit's March-April 1943 allotment shall be computed by taking ½ of the registering unit's March-April allotment and multiplying it by the figure obtained in (b).

(d) The temporary increase to be granted in the registering unit's May-June 1943 allotment shall be computed by multiplying its May-June allotment by the figure obtained in (b).

Application for the temporary increases authorized by this Order shall be made on or before May 5, 1943. However, application for the temporary increase in the May-June allotment may be made after such date, but in such case the board shall reduce the temporary increase by the amount allocable to the expired portion of the May-June allotment period, in the proportion which the number of days which have elapsed from the start of the period bears to the total number of days in the period.

Any increase granted under this order is conditioned upon the continuance of deliveries by the registering unit within the affected area during April, May, and June 1943 of the same proportion of its total deliveries, in dollar value, as the registering unit delivered within the affected area during January and February 1943, and also upon the delivery by such registering unit within the affected area of an amount of sugar-containing products produced by it equal to those produced from the sugar it obtained under this order. A registering unit which uses any increase granted under this order must comply with these requirements.

As used in this order the term "registering unit" refers only to the industrial users which are included within such registering unit.

This order shall become effective April 17, 1943.

[Order 4 Under MPR 193]

H. E. POGUE DISTILLERY CO.

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 4 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 193—Domestic Distilled Spirits.

Authorization of maximum prices for "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey manufactured by H. E. Pogue Distillery Company. H. E. Pogue Distillery Company, Maysville, Kentucky, distillers and rectifiers of alcoholic beverages, has made application under § 1420.13 (c) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 193 for determination of maximum prices for sales of "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey. That brand is a blended whiskey at 86° proof, aged as follows: 40%—34 months, 60%—6 months.

Due consideration has been given to the application, and an opinion in support of this order has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in the opinion and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, As Amended, It is ordered:

(a) Maximum prices for all sales by H. E. Pogue Distillery Company. On and after April 20, 1943 H. E. Pogue Distillery Company, Maysville, Kentucky, may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from H. E. Pogue Distillery Company, "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey, a blended whiskey at 86° proof, aged as above, at the following prices:

$18.44 plus $5.16, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $23.60 per case of 12 bottles, each bottle containing one quart of such whiskey;

$19.04 plus $5.16, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $24.20 per case of 24 bottles, each bottle containing one pint of such whiskey;

$19.79 plus $5.16, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $24.95 per case of 48 bottles, each bottle containing one-half pint of such whiskey; and

$15.07 plus $4.13, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $19.20 per case of 12 bottles, each bottle containing one-fifth gallon of such whiskey

(b) Maximum prices for all sales to Monopoly States. The maximum prices for sales of each container size of "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey, as hereinbefore described, to Monopoly States by any seller shall be the maximum price for such container size set forth in paragraph (a), plus an amount which will restore to the price any trade discount now allowed to the Monopoly State: Provided, That the rate of such discount shall not exceed the rate prevailing on March 31, 1942.

(1) Maximum prices for all sales by Monopoly States. Any Monopoly State may sell or deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such Monopoly State "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey at maximum prices determined as follows:

(i) Add to the maximum price established at (b), exclusive of the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, for the particular container size in question the amount of freight charges, if any, at the rate applicable in March 1942 from the rectifying plant or freight basing point from which shipment is made to the receiving point of the particular Monopoly State.

(ii) Add to the resulting figure at (i) the applicable amount of any tax incident to the sale, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder in accordance with any statute in effect in the Monopoly State on March 31, 1942.

(iii) Apply to the resulting figure at (ii) the statutory or discretionary percentage markup in effect in such Monopoly State on March 31, 1942.

(iv) Add to the resulting figure at (iii) the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto.

(v) Divide the resulting figure at (iv) by the figure 12 in the case of quarts and fifths, by the figure 24 in the case of pints, and by the figure 48 in the case of one-half pints, and follow the practice prevailing in the Monopoly State on March 31, 1942 with respect to the disposition of fractional and odd cents, if any, existing in the latter figure. The resulting figure shall be the Monopoly State's maximum price for the particular container size in question of "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey.

(2) Notification in connection with all sales to Monopoly States. On or before making any offer to sell, sale or delivery of this commodity to a Monopoly State the seller shall notify the Monopoly State of his maximum prices established under paragraph (b) for all sales to Monopoly States, and of the method for the computation of the Monopoly State's maximum prices for sales of this commodity. Such notification shall be accomplished by attaching a true and exact copy of this order to the written quotation or to the invoice issued by the seller in connection with the particular transaction. With respect to any particular Monopoly State, no notification shall be required after the first notification.

(c) Maximum prices for sales at wholesale. Any wholesaler or jobber may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such wholesaler or jobber "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey, as hereinbefore described, at prices not in excess of those computed by the wholesaler or jobber as follows:

(1) Add to the amount of $18.44, $19.04, $19.79 or $15.07 for cases of 12 quarts, 24 pints, 48 one-half pints or 12 fifths respectively, freight charges, if any, at the rate applicable in March 1942 from the rectifying plant or freight basing point from which shipment is made to the receiving point of the particular wholesaler or jobber.

(2) Add to the resulting figure at (1) the amount of any tax incident to the sale, delivery, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the wholesaler or jobber by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof in effect in March 1942: Provided, That the amount of such tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authority or to any prior vendor.

(3) Multiply the resulting figure at (2) by 1.15, or in those States or subdivisions thereof where the markup of such vendors of distilled spirits is fixed by a statute or ordinance in effect in March 1942, by a figure which will produce a selling price for the particular vendor in accordance with the minimum requirements of such statute or ordinance.

(4) Add to the resulting figure at (3) the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto; and the applicable amount of any new or increased tax incident to the sale, delivery, processing, or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the wholesaler or jobber by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof which became effective after March 31, 1942: Provided, That the amount of such new or increased tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authority or to any prior vendor. The resulting amount shall be the particular wholesaler's maximum price for the particular container size in question of "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey. Such maximum price shall be inapplicable to sales to Monopoly States. The maximum prices for all sales to Monopoly States shall be determined pursuant to paragraph (b).

(5) Wholesalers' and jobbers' discounts on sales of "Pogue's Reserve" brand of whiskey shall be applicable to the maximum prices established pursuant to (c) at a rate which is not less than the rate allowed by the wholesaler or jobber in March 1942 on sales of domestic whiskey in the same price class to the same class of purchasers.

(d) Maximum prices for sales at retail. Any retailer may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such retailer "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey, as hereinbefore described, at prices not in excess of those computed by the retailer as follows:

(1) Multiply the resulting figure at (c) (3), as computed by the particular wholesaler or jobber from whom the retailer purchases such commodity by 1.33, or, in those states or subdivisions thereof where the markup of such vendors of distilled spirits is fixed by statute or ordinance in effect in March 1942, by a figure which will produce a selling price for the particular vendor in accordance with the minimum requirements of such statute or ordinance.

(2) Add to the resulting figure at (1) the amount of the Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto; and the applicable amount of any new or increased tax incident to the sale, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the seller by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof which became effective after March 31, 1942: Provided, That the amount of such new or increased tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authority or to any prior vendor.

(4) Multiply the resulting figure at (3) by the percentage rate of any State or local sales tax imposed upon the retailer by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof: Provided, That the amount thereof was separately stated and collected by the retailer in March 1942, and the retailer now continues to state and collect the amount thereof separately. The resulting figure shall be rounded off to the nearest full cent in accordance with the practice of the seller in March 1942, and added to the amount determined at (3). The resulting amount shall be the particular retailer's maximum price for the particular container size in question of "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey. Such maximum price shall be inapplicable to sales to Monopoly States. The maximum prices for all sales to Monopoly States shall be determined pursuant to paragraph (b).

(e) Notification by H. E. Pogue Distillery Company. On or before the first delivery of this commodity after the effective date hereof H. E. Pogue Distillery Company shall notify any person purchasing the commodity from them of applicant's maximum price established under paragraph (a), and applicant shall make a separate statement of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942. Such notification shall be accomplished by attaching a true and exact copy of this order to the invoice issued by the applicant in connection with the particular transaction. No notification shall be required after the first notification to any particular purchaser.

(f) Notification by wholesalers and jobbers. (1) On or before the first delivery of this commodity after the effective date hereof, all wholesalers and jobbers shall notify wholesaler purchasers thereof of the seller's maximum price established under paragraph (c) and he shall accomplish such notification by attaching a true and exact copy of this order to the invoice issued in connection with the particular transaction together with the following statement:

Our Maximum prices for "Pogue's Reserve" brand of whiskey are as follows:

Quarts	$_____
Pints	_____
½ pints	_____
Fifths	_____

The maximum prices above are established under paragraph (c) of Order No. 4 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 193. You, too, are required to establish your maximum prices for this commodity under paragraph (c) of that order, attached hereto, and you are required to give notification to all purchasers in accordance with the provisions of the order.

OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

No notification shall be required after the first notification unless the seller's maximum prices shall be adjusted for a permitted tax increase pursuant to the provisions hereof.

(2) On or before the first delivery of this commodity after the effective date hereof, all wholesalers and jobbers of this commodity shall notify retailer purchasers thereof of the wholesaler's or jobber's maximum price as established under paragraph (c); and they shall notify such retailers of the method for the computation of the retailer's maximum price as follows:

Our maximum price for "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey and the method whereby we have computed your maximum price for that brand is as follows:

1. Our maximum price per case of (container size in question)	$_____
2. Subtract increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942	_____
3. Subtract increased State or local taxes after March 31, 1942	_____
4. Base for computation of retailer's maximum price	_____
5. Line 4 multiplied by 1.33 or minimum statutory markup	_____
6. Add increased Federal excise tax	_____
7. Add increased State or local tax	_____
8. Total	_____
9. Divide line 8 by the figure 12 for quarts and fifths, by the figure 24 for pints, and by the figure 48 for one-half pints.
10. Add State or local sales tax or similar tax per bottle (if separately stated and collected by retailer in March 1942 and which retailer now separately states and collects)	_____
11. Retailer's maximum price per container size in question)	_____

The figure at line 11 is your maximum price, including all taxes, per (container size in question) for "Pogue's Reserve" brand of domestic whiskey in accordance with OPA Order No. 4 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 193. OPA requires you to keep this notice for examination.

No notification shall be required after the first notification unless the seller's maximum prices shall be adjusted for a permitted tax increase pursuant to the provisions hereof.

(g) This Order No. 4 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(h) This Order No. 4 shall become effective April 20, 1943.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70-703]

INTERNATIONAL UTILITIES CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 15th day of April, A. D., 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by International Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

International Utilities Corporation proposes to spend other than as an ordinary expenditure approximately $3,000, plus out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements, in connection with the solicitation of proxies for the annual meeting of its stockholders on May 5, 1943, said aggregate amount to be paid to certain individuals who will solicit proxies by personal interview, by mailing, by telephone and telegraph, and who may request brokerage houses and other custodians, employees, and fiduciaries, to forward solicitation material to the beneficial owners of the stock held of record by such persons. Additional solicitation, if made, will be made without extra compensation by approximately twelve of the directors, officers and regular employees of International Utilities Corporation and the cost of such additional solicitation, if made, will not exceed $500.

International Utilities Corporation states in its declaration that a quorum of stockholders was not obtained at the last annual meeting of the corporation on May 6, 1942, and that its stockholders are widely scattered over the United States and Canada.

It is further stated in the declaration that three members of the Board of Directors have notified the corporation that they are opposed to the solicitation of proxies by the management, and that the corporation understands that the possibility of a proxy contest has been the subject of discussion by certain members of its Board of Directors and others. If determinative action with respect to a proxy contest comes to the notice of the corporation, it proposes to amend the declaration filed with this Commission and in the event a proxy contest should develop, the cost of soliciting proxies on behalf of the management of the corporation, in excess of $1,000 (except for ordinary expenses in connection with preparing, assembling and mailing proxies, proxy statements and accompanying data), will be borne by those directors of the corporation as are willing to contribute to the payment of such expenses.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matter, and that said declaration should not become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on April 22, 1943 at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing-room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective. Notice is hereby given of said hearing to the above named declarant and to all interested persons, said notices to be given to said declarant by registered mail and to all other persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said declaration otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. The aggregate amount of money or consideration to be expended by International Utilities Corporation in connection with the solicitation of proxies in the manner proposed.

2. Whether the proposed expenditures in connection with the solicitation of proxies are necessary and reasonable corporate expenditures and are not detrimental to the interest of investors.

3. Whether it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms and conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

4. Generally, whether the action proposed to be taken complies with the requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and rules, regulations, or orders promulgated thereunder.

By the Commission.

PIONEER SECURITIES CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1943.

An application having been filed by Pioneer Securities Corporation, a registered investment company under and pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order exempting it from the provisions of section 8 (b) of said Act relating to the filing of a registration statement with the Commission, section 30 (a) of said Act relating to the filing of annual reports with the Commission, section 30 (d) of said Act relating to reports to stockholders;

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 40 (a) of the said Act, that a hearing on the aforesaid application be held on May 3, 1943 at 11:00 a. m., Eastern War Time, in Room 318 of the Securities and Exchange Commission Building at 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, Esq., or any other officer of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all of the powers granted to the Commission under sections 41 and 42 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and to trial examiners under the Commission's rules of practice.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to the applicant and to any other persons whose participation in such proceedings may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

THE TWIN STATE GAS & ELECTRIC CO. ET AL.

ORDER POSTPONING DATE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 14th day of April 1943.

In the matter of The Twin State Gas & Electric Company, Public Service Company of New Hampshire, Central Vermont Public Service Corporation, New England Public Service Company.

The Twin State Gas & Electric Company ("Twin State"), Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("New Hampshire"), Central Vermont Public Service Corporation ("Central Vermont") and New England Public Service Company ("Nepsco") having filed joint declarations and applications pursuant to sections 6, 9, 10 and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and the Commission having on April 5, 1943, issued its Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing thereon, and having set the date for hearing on such matter on April 22, 1943; and

Twin State, New Hampshire, Central Vermont and Nepsco having filed a joint petition for postponement of hearing on the ground that certain depreciation and valuation studies are now being made of the properties of Twin State and Central Vermont which cannot be completed by April 22, 1943, and having requested that said hearing be postponed until May 11, 1943; and

The Commission having considered said petition, and deeming it appropriate under the circumstances of this particular matter, that said petition be granted, and that the hearing be postponed to May 11, 1943;

It is ordered, That the hearing in this matter previously scheduled for April 22, 1943, be, and hereby is postponed to May 11,1943, at the same time and place, and before the same trial examiner as heretofore designated.

By the Commission.

THE NORTH AMERICAN COMPANY AND ITS SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES

NOTICE OF FILING OF PETITION BY NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 14th day of April 1943.

The Commission having entered its order herein on April 14, 1942, pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 directing The North American Company and certain of its subsidiary companies to take various steps in order to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of said Act;

Notice is hereby given that Northern Natural Gas Company, one of the respondents herein, has filed a petition requesting the entry of an order by this Commission under section 11 (c) of the Act extending for one year the time within which to comply with the order of April 14, 1942, above described.

All interested persons are referred to said petition which is on file in the office of the Commission for full details concerning the petition.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held for the purpose of considering said petition and for other purposes;

It is ordered, That a hearing in this proceeding be held at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at 10:30 a. m., e. w. t., on the 3d day of May, 1943, in such room as may be designated on such day by the hearing room clerk.

All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate should notify the Commission in the manner provided by the Commission's rules of practice, Rule XVII, on or before April 26, 1943.

At said hearing there will be considered (1) whether Northern Natural Gas Company has exercised due diligence in its efforts to comply with the Commission's order of April 14, 1942, and (2) whether an extension of time for compliance with said order is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing above ordered. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission shall serve notice of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to The North American Company, North American Light & Power Company and to Northern Natural Gas Company and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

BIRMINGHAM GAS COMPANY

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by the above named party; and

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 30, 1943, at 5:30 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may become effective or may be granted, as provided in Rule U-23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration or application, which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Birmingham Gas Company, a subsidiary company of Community Gas and Power Company and of American Gas and Power Company, both registered holding companies, proposes to declare and pay out of earned surplus a dividend of 60 cents per share on the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of the company, such dividend aggregating $136,529. Of this amount American Gas and Power Company, owning 62.82% of the common stock of Birmingham Gas Company, would receive $85,773. The application was filed by Birmingham Gas Company pursuant to section 12 (c) of said Act and the restriction and condition contained in its amended declaration and application regarding the issuance and sale on April 1, 1941, of $5,850,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 3⅞% Series Due 1971, said amended application having been granted and said amended declaration permitted to become effective by order of this Commission dated March 13, 1941 (File No. 70-249). Said restriction and condition provide in part that from the date of issuance of said Bonds, applicant will not, so long as the ratio of its outstanding funded debt to the amount of its net property shall exceed 50%, declare or pay any dividend on its common stock (other than dividends payable solely in shares of such stock) without first obtaining the consent of this Commission to such dividend declaration and payment.

JACKSONVILLE GAS COMPANY

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENTS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1943.

Notice is hereby given that Jacksonville Gas Company has filed with this Commission Amendments Nos. 12 and 12A to its application, heretofore filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for approval of a plan to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act. This Commission by order dated May 28, 1942, supplemental order dated December 8, 1942, and second supplemental order dated January 8, 1943, has heretofore approved said plan as modified, and has reserved jurisdiction, among other things, with respect to the opening book entries in the books of account of Jacksonville Gas Corporation. The District Court of the United States for the Southern District of Florida, by orders dated October 14, 1942, and January 28, 1943, has approved said plan as modified.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 30, 1943, at 5:30 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such amendments and the proposed book entries therein contained, as filed or as amended, may be approved by the Commission. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said Amendments Nos. 12 and 12A, which are on file in the office of the Commission, for the statements, schedules and documents therein contained, which the Commission is requested to approve. Said amendments propose that the books of Jacksonville Gas Corporation be opened as of February 1, 1943, instead of June 1, 1942, with the result that the opening balance in Capital Surplus account (not available for dividends) will be $1,008,886, instead of $935,682. Said amendments set forth the proposed opening entries and Balance Sheet of Jacksonville Gas Corporation as of February 1, 1943, together with supporting statements and schedules.

UNITED STATES EMPLOYEES' COMPENSATION COMMISSION.

[Administrative Order 2]

PERSIAN GULF SERVICE COMMAND

AUTHORIZATION OF LOCAL PAYMENTS OF BENEFITS

By virtue of the authority vested in the United States Employees' Compensation Commission by the Employees' Compensation Act of September 7, 1916, as amended (sec. 42, 56 Stat. 725; 5 U.S.C. Supp. 793), the Foreign Claims Commission for the Persian Gulf Service Command, Middle Eastern Theater of Operations, War Department, is authorized to process claims, to make initial payments of compensation, and to furnish other benefits initially, as provided by such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, and pursuant to the regulations of the Commission promulgated thereunder (20 CFR, Chapt. I, Subchapter A) and such supplementary instructions as may from time to time be issued by the Commission, in cases of civilian employees of the United States who are injured while in the performance of their duties for the United States in employment under the Persian Gulf Service Command.

As used herein the phrase "to process claims" means (1) to receive, assemble, and file reports of injury, medical reports, reports of investigation, and other papers relating to cases of injury; (2) to make investigations and to secure necessary supplementary information in connection with cases or claims; (3) to obtain medical examinations; (4) to arrange for medical, surgical, and hospital services and supplies in the treatment and care of employees in disability cases; (5) to examine and adjudicate claims for compensation in injury cases, including making of findings of fact and award; (6) to prepare vouchers for local disbursement of benefits and local payment of medical and other expenses; (7) to review cases for readjustment of compensation.

As used herein the phrases "to make initial payments of compensation" and "to furnish other benefits initially" mean the payment of compensation in cases of injury, and the furnishing of any other benefits provided for by such Act, except compensation for death, for a period not to exceed 180 days.

The action of the said Foreign Claims Commission in any case, and the payments made under this authority, are subject to final review by the Commission and readjustment if found necessary.

Order approved by the Commisison April 1, 1943.

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 17—REGULATIONS OF THE BOARD OF LEGAL EXAMINERS

The regulations of the Board of Legal Examiners are revised and amended as follows:

Sec.
17.1 Appointments.
17.2 Position of law clerk trainee.
17.3 Promotion, transfer and reassignment.
17.4 War service transfer.
17.5 Reinstatement.
17.6 Registers of eligibles.
17.7 Register applicants entering military service.

AUTHORITY: §§ 17.1 to 17.7, inclusive, issued under E.O. 8743, 6 F.R. 2117, as amended by E.O. 9230, 7 F.R. 6665; 54 Stat. 1211, 5 U.S.C. 631 (a), 681.

§ 17.1 Appointments. (a) If a person whose appointment to an attorney position was authorized by the Board prior to March 16, 1942, subject to later non-competitive examination, fails to pass the examination, his appointment shall terminate within 30 days after notification by the Board to the department or agency in which he is employed, except that in cases of special emergency he may be retained, without acquiring civil service status, for such longer period as the Board, in its discretion, deems necessary. A person whose appointment was authorized prior to March 16, 1942 and who passes a non-competitive examination acquires a classified civil service status six months from the date of his appointment, if there has been compliance with the provisions of Section 2.6 of this chapter, other than those provisions relating to recommendation and examination.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (g) of this section, no person may be appointed to an attorney position unless he has passed a non-competitive examination prescribed by the Board or has his name listed on an attorney register applicable to the position to which he is appointed. The non-competitive examination will be given only to a person whose proposed appointment has been submitted to the Board by an appointing officer.

(c) The following qualifications will be required:

(1) For appointment to Grade CAF-4. Graduation from a recognized law school as defined by the Commission, to wit, a law school authorized to confer the Bachelor or higher degree in law, which requires residence work. No person shall be eligible for appointment to this position who has failed a bar examination since his graduation from law school and who has not subsequently passed such an examination, or who has, except for good cause shown, failed to take a bar examination within one year of graduation from law school.

(2) For appointment to Grade P-1 and higher. Admission to the bar and the following professional experience or its equivalent: P-1, none; P-2, one year; P-3, eighteen months; above P-3, three years. In judging the equivalent of professional experience, special qualifications may be taken into consideration.

(d) Non-competitive examinations shall be conducted by or under the supervision of examining committees of three members to be appointed by the Chairman of the Board or pursuant to his direction and such committees shall determine the eligibility or ineligibility of the candidate. The determination shall be based upon (1) the record and experience of the candidate and (2) an oral examination. The oral examination may be waived in the case of appointments above P-5 and in the case of any war service appointment, if the examining committee is satisfied, without regard thereto, that the candidate is eligible.

(e) The determination of the examining committee in non-competitive examinations shall be final, except that within fifteen days after notification of failure an unsuccessful candidate may petition the Board to review the determination. Such review is discretionary and will be granted only for good cause shown.

(f) Examinations shall be directed to determining whether the candidate posmends the immediate establishment of a general position classification consisting of non-professional law clerk duties, preparatory in character for professional legal work. The position should have a designation indicating its training or preparatory character. Government departments and agencies having legal staffs should, wherever possible, include such positions in their legal organizations, as a means of recruiting able law school students. Since these appointments are to permit preparation for professional legal work, they shall be made with an expressly stipulated condition that the appointee prior to entrance upon duty shall have obtained a law degree and shall obtain membership in the bar of a State or Territory, or the District of Columbia, within a period of 18 months from his appointment. Failure to meet this condition should result in his separation, or assignment to other duties. Upon acquiring bar membership, the appointee should be immediately eligible for assignment as Junior Attorney.

§ 17.3 Promotion, transfer and reassignment. (a) A person who has civil service status as an attorney may be transferred or reassigned without examination to an attorney position within the grades in which he has such status. Subject to a non-competitive examination approved by the Board, he may be promoted, transferred, or reassigned to a position in a higher grade.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the incumbent of any attorney position included within the Civil Service who has neither civil service status as an attorney nor eligibility for such status acquired through recommendation under the terms of an executive order or statute may not be promoted, transferred, or reassigned to any other position in the Civil Service. Such incumbents, if they have not failed a non-competitive examination occasioned by a recommendation that they be granted civil service status, may receive war service appointments under § 17.1 (g) of this chapter to positions not covered by an existing attorney register and to positions covered by such a register if it can be established by affirmative proof that failure to recommend them for civil service status when they were eligible to be so recommended was caused by lack of information or erroneous information concerning civil service requirements.

(c) Subject to the provisions of these regulations, a person who receives a war service appointment under § 17.1 (g) of this chapter may be promoted, transferred, or assigned to other positions for the duration of his appointment.

(d) The minimum qualifications required for new appointments by § 17.1 (c) of this chapter shall apply to promotions and transfers with increase in grade, Provided, however, That with the prior approval of the Board of Legal Examiners the incumbent of an attorney position whose work is certified by the Chief Law Officer of the employing agency to be of unusually high quality may without reference to the foregoing limitations be advanced to a position in the same agency in the next higher grade.

§ 17.4 War service transfer. (a) On and after March 16, 1942 all transfers from one attorney position to another such position shall be governed by § 18.9 of this chapter, except that the determinations required thereunder shall be made by the Board of Legal Examiners.

(b) Incumbents of attorney positions who desire to transfer under the War Service Regulations shall file with the Board of Legal Examiners a statement to that effect, accompanied by Form 3821 ("Application for Attorney Positions") unless this form has previously been filed with the Board.

§ 17.5 Reinstatement. (a) A person who has civil service status as an attorney and who is separated from a civilian position in the Federal service after serving a probationary period in an attorney position may, upon passing a non-competitive examination when required by the Board, be reinstated to an attorney position provided request is made by an appointing officer within 1 year of separation if the period of service was less than 2 years, within 2 years if the period of service was 2 years or more but less than 3 years, within 3 years if the period of service was 3 years or more but less than 4 years, within 4 years if the period of service was 4 years or more but less than 5 years, or at any time if the period of service was 5 years or more or if the former employee is entitled to military preference in appointment or was retired upon annuity under the Civil Service Retirement Act because of total disability and is eligible for reinstatement by reason of recovery, or if the reinstatement is for war service tenure.

(b) A person separated from an attorney position during his probationary period may be reinstated subject to the other provisions of these regulations; but if the separation was by reason of voluntary resignation prior to the completion of six months of satisfactory service, he may be reinstated only in the same agency. Reinstatement under this section will be subject to the completion of the original probationary period if in the agency from which the employee was separated or if the separation occurred after six months of satisfactory service; in other cases it will be subject to the satisfactory completion of a new probationary period.

(c) Subject to non-competitive examination when required by the Board but without regard to any other provisions of this section, an attorney may be retransferred to an attorney position in which he was formerly employed or to any position to which transfer could be made therefrom, if since his transfer from the attorney position he has served continuously and satisfactorily (1) in the executive or judicial civil service of the United States or of its insular possessions; (2) in the legislative service; (3) in the service of a state, county, municipality, or foreign government in a position in which he has acquired valuable training and experience; or (4) in a training course approved by the Board in an educational institution of recognized standing.

(d) Subject to non-competitive examination when required by the Board, a person who receives a war service appointment to an attorney position under § 17.1 (g) of this chapter and who is separated therefrom, may be reinstated to an attorney position with war service tenure.

§ 17.6 Registers of eligibles. Registers of eligibles for attorney positions shall contain such numbers, be applicable to such positions, and be effective for such periods as the Board shall determine and announce. The publication of each register and of the supplements thereto shall constitute the certification of the eligibles included. The register, together with pertinent information concerning the eligibles which the Board will supply, shall be available in full to appointing officers, who may make selections for appointment from among those included, subject to the Board's stated minimum experience requirements for particular grades of positions and with the exception that the Board may from time to time suspend the certification of eligibles from particular States in order to give effect to the principle that appointments shall so far as practicable be distributed among the States in proportion to population. Except as to individuals of whom the Board is advised by appointing officers in advance of publication of the register, all appointments to the positions and for the period covered by any register shall be from the register. The selections from any register shall be communicated immediately by the appointing agencies to the Board. The Board, immediately upon entering its approval of proposed appointments, will remove the names of the appointees from the register. The Board may from time to time add to a register others who have qualified through examination, in substitution for those who have been found unavailable for appointment, and may at any time suspend or cancel the eligibility of an individual included upon register for cause arising either before or after his original certification. In case the life of a register is extended, the eligibles remaining upon it may as a condition of continued eligibility be required to furnish supplementary statements of qualifications and experience.

§ 17.7 Register applicants entering military service. Applicants for the Board's register who enter the military and related services or who are drafted into national service under the Selective Service Act shall enjoy the following rights, provided request is made within six months following their honorable discharge and return to civilian status:

(a) An applicant whose score upon a written examination confers eligibility for oral examination and who enters the service before his oral examination shall be entitled to take a qualifying oral examination or at the option of the Board to compete in a competitive oral examination in process at the time of his request and, if recommended by the examining committee, to be included for one year among the eligibles for positions in the grade or grades for which the original written examination was given.

(b) An applicant who enters the service after having qualified for a register but before the register is announced shall not be placed upon the register but shall be included for one year following action upon his request among the eligibles for positions in the grade or grades covered by the register for which he had qualified.

(c) An eligible upon a register who enters the service during the life of the register shall be included among the eligibles for positions in the same grade or grades for one year following action upon his request.

The foregoing rights shall accrue regardless of the tenure and status attaching to appointments during the periods within which eligibility is conferred pursuant to this section.

By the United States Civil Service Commission.

PART 1405—FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

CITRUS FRUIT

Determination relative to oranges and lemons fit for human consumption or for processing into juice.

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 6 (8 F.R. 511) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on January 12, 1943, under the authority of Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and in order to effectuate the purposes of such orders, It is hereby determined and ordered, As follows:

§ 1405.5 Oranges and lemons fit for human consumption or for processing into juice—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "mature" means oranges which have soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of 8 parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, and the acidity of the juice is to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization. The sample selected for testing maturity shall be a composite sample of the lot of oranges except where it is evident that immature oranges are mixed throughout the entire lot, in which case a separate maturity test shall be made of the fruit having an immature appearance.

(2) The term "damage by dryness" means oranges in which 20 percent or more of the exposed pulp on a transverse cut through the center shows dryness or desiccation.

(b) Oranges. Any lot of oranges produced in California or Arizona is fit for human consumption or for processing into juice if such oranges meet the following minimum grade specifications: The oranges are mature, free from decay, free from damage by dryness, and free from other defects making the juice unsatisfactory for canning. A tolerance shall be allowed, with respect to damage by dryness, of 15 percent; and an additional tolerance shall be allowed, of 10 percent, for other defects making the juice unsatisfactory for canning, but not over one-half of said tolerance of 10 percent shall be allowed for decay.

(c) Lemons. Any lot of lemons produced in California or Arizona is fit for human consumption or for processing into juice if such lemons (1) meet the minimum quality requirements specified in the Agricultural Code of California, as revised effective September 13, 1941; (2) are free from serious damage caused by bud mite; and (3) are colored to the extent that 75 percent or more of the surface of each lemon is of a full yellow color. A tolerance of 5 percent shall be allowed for serious damage caused by bud mite, but this tolerance shall be included in the tolerance for defects other than serious freezing damage as provided in the Agricultural Code of California, as revised effective September 13, 1941. An additional tolerance of 5 percent shall be allowed for lemons which do not meet the aforesaid color requirement, but such tolerance shall be in addition to the other tolerances permitted under the aforesaid Agricultural Code of California, as revised effective September 13, 1941.

(d) Effective date. The provisions hereof shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., P. w. t., April 22, 1943.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; F.D.O. 6, 8 F.R. 511)

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

GENERAL PURCHASE POLICIES

GENERAL

§ 81.201 Rescission of regulations. Army Regulations 5-140, May 22, 1940, as amended; Army Regulations 5-160, October 24, 1941, as amended; Army Regulations 5-240, February 11, 1936, as amended; and all other prior directives and instructions of whatsoever nature relating to negotiated purchases, open market purchases, procurement without advertising, and other purchasing methods are hereby rescinded.

§ 81.202 Compliance with Procurement Regulation No. 2. Unless otherwise specifically provided, compliance with any provision of Procurement Regulation No. 2[1] or of any amendment thereto which requires a change in contract procedure or in any contract provision shall not be mandatory until thirty days after the issuance of such regulation or amendment.

§ 81.203 Definitions. (a) The term "negotiation" as used in these procurement regulations includes any method of contracting or purchasing, except the formal advertising and sealed bid procedure prescribed by section 3709, Revised Statutes.

(b) The term "negotiated purchases" includes all purchases made by negotiation as so defined. (See § 81.241).

§ 81.204 Contracting authority—(a) Basis. War Department contracting and purchasing are now based primarily on the authority contained in the Act of December 18, 1941 (Public No. 354, 77th Congress) referred to as the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001, December 27, 1941. The earlier authority contained in sections 1 (a) and (b) of the Act of July 2, 1940 (Public No. 703, 76th Congress) has also been extended, however, by section 9 of the Act of June 30, 1941 (Public No. 139, 77th Congress) and by section 13 of the Act of June 5, 1942 (Public No. 580, 77th Congress). (See § 81.240).

(b) First War Powers Act. Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, reads as follows:

SEC. 201. The President may authorize any department or agency of the Government exercising functions in connection with the prosecution of the war effort, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the President for the protection of the interests of the Government, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts heretofore or hereafter made and to make advance, progress and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts whenever he deems such action would facilitate the prosecution of the war: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the use of the cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost system of contracting: Provided further, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize any contracts in violation of existing law relating to limitation of profits: Provided further, That all acts under the authority of this section shall be made a matter of public record under regulations prescribed by the President and when deemed by him not to be incompatible with the public interest.

(c) Authority conferred. Title I of Executive Order No. 9001 confers authority on the War Department under The First War Powers Act, 1941, as follows:

(1) Section 1 of the Executive Order authorizes the Secretary of War within the limits of the amounts appropriated therefor, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts heretofore or hereafter made, and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts.

and to delegate these powers with authority to redelegate them. With respect to such delegations, see § 81.107 and following of these procurement regulations, and especially § 81.107 (i).

2. The contracts hereby authorized to be made include agreements of all kinds (whether in the form of letters of intent, purchase orders, or otherwise) for all types and kinds of things and services necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of war, or for the invention, development, or production of, or research concerning any such things, including but not limited to, aircraft, buildings, vessels, arms, armament, equipment, or supplies of any kind, or any portion thereof, including plans, spare parts and equipment therefor, materials, supplies, facilities, utilities, machinery, machine tools, and any other equipment, without any restriction of any kind, either as to type, character, location or form.

3. The War Department, the Navy Department, and the United States Maritime Commission may by agreement modify or amend or settle claims under contracts heretofore or hereafter made, may make advance, progress and other payments upon such contracts of any percentum of the contract price, and may enter into agreements with contractors and or obligors, modifying or releasing accrued obligations of any sort, including accrued liquidated damages or liability under surety or other bonds, whenever, in the judgment of the War Department, the Navy Department, or the United States Maritime Commission respectively the prosecution of the war is thereby facilitated. Amendments and modifications of contracts may be with or without consideration and may be utilized to accomplish the same things as any original contract could have accomplished hereunder, irrespective of the time or circumstances of the making of or the form of the contract amended or modified, or of the amending or modifying contract, and irrespective of rights which may have accrued under the contract, or the amendments or modifications thereof.

4. Advertising, competitive bidding, and bid, payment, performance, or other bonds or other forms of security, need not be required.

(d) Restrictions on powers. (1) Title II of Executive Order No. 9001 prescribes the following regulations for the exercise of the authority thereby conferred.

1. Complete data shall be maintained by the War Department, the Navy Department, and the United States Maritime Commission as to all contracts and purchases which they respectively make pursuant to the Act and this Executive Order. The Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the Chairman of the United States Maritime Commission shall make available for public inspection, as they may respectively deem compatible with the public interest, so much of such data as does not cover restricted, confidential, or secret contracts or purchases.

As amended by E.O. 9296, January 30, 1943. See §§ 81.291-81.294.

2. Notwithstanding anything in the Act or Executive Order, the War Department, the Navy Department, and the United States Maritime Commission shall not discriminate in any act performed thereunder against any person on the ground of race, creed, color or national origin, and all contracts shall be deemed to incorporate by reference a provision that the contractor and any subcontractors thereunder shall not so discriminate.

(See § 81.325.)

3. No claim against the United States arising under any purchase or contract made under the authority of the Act shall be assigned except in accordance with the Assignment of Claims Act, 1940 (Public No. 811, 76th Congress, approved October 9, 1940).

(See § 81.3180.)

4. Advance payments shall be made hereunder only after careful scrutiny to determine that such payments will promote the national interest and under such regulations to that end as the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, or the United States Maritime Commission may prescribe.

(See § 81.321.)

(2) Every contract entered into pursuant to the Act and Executive Order must contain the warranty by the contractor against payment of commissions and contingent fees set out in § 81.323 (see § 81.1107).

(3) The cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost system of contracting shall not be used.

(4) Provisions of law limiting profits under contracts or fixed-fees continue in effect and in no case shall the fixed fee under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract exceed 7% of the estimated cost exclusive of the fee.

(5) No contract or modification or amendment thereof shall be exempt from the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act (49 Stat. 2036) because of being entered into without advertising or competitive bidding, and the provisions of that act, the Davis-Bacon Act, as amended (49 Stat. 1011), the Copeland Act, as amended (48 Stat. 948) and the Eight Hour Law, as amended by the Act of September 9, 1940 (Public No. 781, 76th Congress) if otherwise applicable apply to contracts made and performed under the authority of the Act and Executive Order. (See §§ 81.901–81.985.)

(e) Extent of authority. By an opinion dated August 29, 1942, the Attorney General of the United States has construed the powers conferred by the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001. This opinion ruled that a proposed delegation of authority from the Under Secretary of War to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, substantially similar to the delegation contained in § 81.107 (e) was within the authority of the Act and Executive Order.

§ 81.205 Purpose of regulations. In conferring the powers under the First War Powers Act, Executive Order No. 9001 directed the war agencies to work with the War Production Board "to bring about the conversion of manufacturing industries to war production, including the surveying of the war potential of industries, plant by plant; the spreading of war orders; the conversion of facilities; the assurance of efficient and speedy production; the development and use of subcontracting to the fullest extent and conservation of strategic materials." The policies and procedures designed to carry out these procurement objectives are stated in this and the following regulations. This regulation discusses the basic principles underlying the policies and methods elaborated in the subsequent regulations, and the relation of these various policies to the procurement program as a whole.

CONTRACT PLACEMENT

§ 81.220 Scope. (a) Attainment of the essential procurement objectives with the minimum disruption of the nation's economic system, and effective use of available labor, materials and facilities, depend to a large extent on sound contract placement. This section states the policies to be followed and the factors to be considered in placing contracts, in selecting contractors, in scheduling deliveries and in revising delivery schedules.

(b) Further policies governing placement of contracts for plant facilities expansion are treated in §§ 81.1001–81.1019. Policies governing purchasing through other services and other departments are discussed in §§ 81.601–81.613 and foreign purchases are treated in §§ 81.501–81.510.

§ 81.221 Purchase of used or second-hand materials—(a) Policy. In view of the prevalent shortages of raw materials, manufacturing facilities and labor, second-hand or used articles will be procured instead of new articles whenever (1) they are suitable in quality and design for the particular purpose involved, and (2) they can be obtained at reasonable cost with reasonable effort at the time required, unless any agency allocating such articles (such as the Machine Tool Section of the Resources and Production Division) orders otherwise.

(b) Execution. The chief of each supply service will make adequate provision to insure that all procurement offices and agencies under his direction comply with the policy stated in paragraph (a) of this section, and will place responsibility upon a designated member of his staff for requiring compliance with that policy to the greatest extent practicable.

(c) Obstacles. Whenever a statute, order or regulation prevents the effective procurement of suitable used articles or other articles already available instead of new articles, the chief of the supply service concerned will notify the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of this fact so that appropriate action may be taken pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941 and Executive Order 9001, or otherwise, to remove any obstruction to such procurement.

(d) Purchases through Procurement Division, Treasury Department. In connection with the use of used or second hand materials, it is of the utmost importance that all procurement offices and agencies avail themselves of the facilities of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department as more fully set forth in § 81.613. That division makes available to the War Department property which is surplus to the need of other Government agencies. Chiefs of supply services should see that all procurement offices and agencies under their direction obtain the catalog of available property referred to in § 81.613 (f), and that they keep in touch with the Regional Property Officers of the Procurement Division referred to in § 81.613 (e). In this way much used and second-hand material can be obtained.

§ 81.222 Time for placing contracts and scheduling deliveries—(a) Scheduling of deliveries. Proper scheduling of deliveries is essential for the most efficient use of available industrial capacity. If manufacturers are required to produce and deliver items long before they will actually be needed, they may be forced to increase the number of their employees abnormally or be unable to produce other items which will be needed sooner, and scarce materials may be tied up in inventory not currently needed. Thus the failure to schedule deliveries properly tends to disrupt the Army supply program and prevents industrial capacity from being used in the production of items as they are needed. Accordingly, subject to directives of the Director of Production Scheduling, future contracts will be scheduled so that supplies will be delivered only a short time before they are actually required, unless in a particular case efficient production requires otherwise. Existing contracts will also be reviewed with a view to rescheduling deliveries on the same basis.

(b) Time for placing contracts. The policy of deferring production and deliveries until supplies are needed does not mean that the placing of contracts for such items should be postponed. Frequently, prompt placing of contracts for supplies to be delivered in the future will assist the contractor to plan his entire production, to obtain necessary allocations of materials and to employ his labor in a more orderly, efficient and continuous manner. This insures the maximum use of facilities and avoids waste and delay. Under the Controlled Materials Plan it is particularly important for contractors to know well in advance the amounts of such materials which will be required for particular periods. Accordingly, contracts for future needs will be promptly placed wherever such early placement is feasible and will promote more efficient or orderly production.

§ 81.223 Factors governing placement of contracts. The selection of a contractor for a particular contract from among the available qualified producers depends on a number of factors. In making such selections effect must be given to various policies laid down by the War Production Board (see Directive No. 2, October 10, 1942, 7 F.R. 8179, by the War Manpower Commission in its directives, and by Congress, as in the Smaller War Plants Act. These policies, their relation and relative importance are discussed in the following paragraphs:

(a) Ability to perform. Primary emphasis shall be placed upon securing performance or deliveries at the time, in the quantity, and of the quality required by the war program. In addition an effort should be made to have for each item of supply and equipment at least two producers so located as not to be subject to the same hazard.

(b) New facilities. When two or more producers are able to perform the contract equally well, but will require substantially different amounts of additional new machinery, equipment, or facilities for the performance of the contract, it shall be placed with the concern which needs to acquire the least. When the Smaller War Plants Corporation decides to obtain machinery, equipment or facilities in order to qualify a smaller war plant, however, the amount of this equipment will be disregarded in applying this policy and the concern will be treated as if such equipment had been on hand.

(c) Labor supply policy. (1) The War Manpower Commission has divided the country into twelve Regions and from time to time classifies localities in each Region according to their labor supply conditions and on this basis designates them as:

Group I: Areas of current acute labor shortage.

Group II: Areas of labor stringency and those anticipating a labor shortage within six months.

Group III: Areas in which a general labor shortage may be anticipated after six months.

Group IV: Areas in which labor supply is and will continue to be adequate to meet all known labor requirements.

The Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will advise the supply services monthly, or more often if conditions warrant, of the designations of the Commission.

(2) When two or more contractors are able to perform a contract equally well, and are substantially on a par with respect to new equipment and facilities, the selection between them shall be based on the labor supply situation in the areas in which they are located, in accordance with paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section.

(d) Labor shortage areas. In accordance with paragraph (c) of this section the following policies will be observed with respect to the placing of contracts in Groups I, II, or III labor areas:

(1) Group I: It is the intent to avoid so far as possible the placement of contracts in Group I areas. The only contracts which may be placed there are those (i) for which established special facilities exist and for which labor has been specially trained; or (ii) on which the required speed of deliveries cannot otherwise be met; or (iii) which, in the considered judgment of the chief of the supply service concerned or of any person or persons to whom he may delegate his authority, it is impracticable to place elsewhere.

(2) Group II: In these areas there may be placed any contract for the continuation of the production of items of the same character as those already being produced by the contractor for any government department, if no labor is required in addition to that currently employed by such contractor. In addition, any contract may be placed in a Group II area which is of such character that it might properly be placed in a Group I area under the provisions of subparagraph (1).

(3) Group III: In these areas there may be placed any contract (whether representing new or continuation business) which can be completed within six months and which will not require the employment of labor in addition to that normally or currently employed by the contractor. In addition, any contract may be placed in a Group III area which is of such character that it might properly be placed in a Group I or II area under the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2).

(4) Exceptions. The restrictions stated in this paragraph do not apply to the placing of contracts—

(i) With firms which either normally or currently employ less than 100 wage earners and will not employ more than their normal number of wage earners or more than 100 wage earners (whichever is less) during the performance of the contract; or

(ii) With firms which are recommended as prime contractors or subcontractors by the Smaller War Plants Division, War Production Board; or

(iii) With originating manufacturers for newly developed articles in accordance with § 81.224.

(e) Labor surplus areas; Group IV labor areas. There are no restrictions from the standpoint of labor supply upon the placement of contracts in Group IV or unclassified areas. Furthermore, the policy of the War Department is to distribute its business so as to utilize as widely as practicable the facilities of concerns located in Group IV, unclassified and Group III areas.

(f) Spreading contracts. When the policies stated in paragraphs (a) to (e) of this section and § 81.224 have been met, contracts will be placed so as to spread production among as many firms as is reasonable and feasible. In carrying out this policy, consideration will be given in each instance to the following objectives:

(1) Small business. To give as large a proportion of the business as possible to qualified small plants in accordance with the procedure prescribed under § 81.225.

(2) Conserving special abilities. To conserve for the more difficult war production problems, the resources of concerns best able by reason of engineering, managerial and physical resources to handle them, by placing contracts for items which involve relatively simple production problems with concerns, normally the smaller ones, which are less able to handle the more difficult problems.

(3) Efficiency. To use the minimum quantity of materials and minimum number of man-hours to make the supplies needed.

(4) Keeping needed concerns intact. To keep in operation concerns with experience and managerial or engineering staffs valuable to the war effort.

(5) Flexibility. To use concerns whose operations are most flexible so as to facilitate changes in specifications, quantities or rates of production.

(6) Transportation. To conserve transportation facilities by avoiding unnecessary cross hauling of raw, semi-finished or finished material from the point of origin to the point of consumption and by avoiding long hauling when such materials are available at a shorter distance.

(g) Price. (1) The application of the principles stated in paragraphs (a)–(f) of this section, will frequently require contracts to be placed with a producer whose costs and prices are higher than those of the lowest bidder. The supply services are hereby authorized and directed to pay prices higher than would otherwise be required to the extent that such action is necessary to carry out the foregoing policies. In any case where application of these policies will require award of the contract to a concern at a price so much higher than other available prices that the procurement officer is uncertain whether the award is justified, he may request instructions from the chief of the supply service concerned.

(2) When the foregoing policies have been met and selection among available contractors is still possible, contracts will be so placed as to obtain the lowest price for the Government. Moreover, the policy of selecting among available contractors on bases other than price does not mean that the price of the contractor selected is unimportant or to be disregarded. On the contrary, as is more fully explained in § 81.231 (b), when the contractor has been selected according to the foregoing principles the supply service must carefully negotiate the contract to insure that the price is fair in the light of the costs and circumstances of the particular producer.

(h) Exceptions. Upon specific request the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, may grant authority to depart from the policies stated in §§ 81.220–81.227. Requests for such authority stating the reasons therefor will be forwarded to the Smaller War Plants Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 81.224 Contracts for newly developed articles. In placing contracts for new articles developed by a manufacturer for War Department use, the following principles will be observed:

(1) In general a substantial proportion of the initial orders for a new article should be placed with the manufacturer who developed it. Enough of the volume should be placed with other qualified producers, however, to develop at least one other experienced source; except in unusual cases this should be a going production order and not a limited quantity educational order.

(2) When the originating manufacturer demands a price for the item substantially higher than the price for which it can be secured elsewhere, or will require substantially more facilities or tools than some other producer in order to get into production, or is already heavily loaded with orders, and the article can readily be made by one or more other producers, the contracts for the article should be placed with such producers. In such cases the originating manufacturer should be fairly paid for his developmental work as such.

§ 81.225 Smaller war plants policy—(a) Smaller War Plants Act. (1) Public Law 603 (77th Congress, approved June 11, 1942) creates the "Smaller War Plants Corporation", authorizes a Deputy Chairman of the War Production Board on Smaller War Plants and gives the Chairman of the War Production Board certain new powers incident to placement of Government contracts with smaller plants.

(2) Section 3 of the Act authorizes the Chairman of the War Production Board to certify small business concerns or groups of such concerns to the Secretary of War with respect to capacity and credit as to a specific Government procurement contract.. The War Department is directed to accept such certification as conclusive and is authorized to place the contract with the concern or group of concerns without requiring the meeting of any other requirements with respect to capacity and credit. The Act recognizes that small plants are frequently unable to produce at as low unit costs as larger plants and that, as a consequence, in order to mobilize the Nation's full productive capacity, it may be necessary for the Government to pay a higher unit price for articles when obtaining them from small plants than it pays to business concerns operating large plants.

(3) The Act also gives the Smaller War Plants Corporation power to enter into prime contracts with the War Department for articles, equipment, supplies or materials, or parts thereof, or work in connection therewith and to subcontract the production of these items to small business concerns. If the Chairman of the War Production Board certifies that the Smaller War Plants Corporation is competent to perform any specific government procurement contract, the contract must be let to it on such terms as the Chairman may specify. The Corporation is also given broad powers of financing.

(4) It is important to note that the Smaller War Plants Division of the War Production Board and the Smaller War Plants Corporation have separate and distinct functions. For convenience, the Smaller War Plants Division of the War Production Board will be referred to in this section simply as the War Production Board.

(b) General policy. (1) The established policy of the War Department is to place prime contracts and subcontracts with small business concerns or groups of such concerns without the necessity for certification by the War Production Board or for the making of contracts by the Smaller War Plants Corporation. To implement this policy, the procedure prescribed in the following paragraphs has been established in order to assist the smaller plants to participate to the greatest possible extent in the war effort.

(2) This procedure is briefly as follows: Under paragraph (c) of this section the Army supply program is reviewed to select products suitable for production by small plants. When actual procurements of suitable products are made, an agreed portion is allotted pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section for placement with small plants recommended by the War Production Board. Then the portion of the business so allotted to small firms is distributed by the contracting officers in accordance with paragraph (e) below. Finally, procedures to facilitate and encourage subcontracting to smaller firms under existing and future prime contracts are prescribed by paragraphs (f) and (g) below.

(3) To carry out this program the War Production Board has assigned a representative to each of the supply services and to each office originating procurement directives, and a Liaison Specialist to each contracting office. The chief of each supply service will also designate a liaison officer for his supply service for each office originating procurement directives, and a Smaller War Plants Contact Officer for each contracting office.

(4) The chief of each supply service will issue definite instructions to contracting officers at all levels in his service to do their utmost to see that all usable productive capacity is brought into the war effort whenever this will increase the volume or speed of production or will aid in clearing present or prospective shortages or bottlenecks.

(5) Unless the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, authorizes a variation therein, the procedure prescribed in paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section will be followed with respect to each proposed procurement directive of a supply service, except:

(i) Where secret or confidential items are procured; or

(ii) Where, in the judgment of the chief of the supply service, the urgency resulting from military necessity does not allow time to receive plant recommendations from the War Production Board; but in such cases the War Production Board representative at the originating office will be promptly notified of the item and the circumstances; or

(iii) Where the items involved have been determined in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section to be unsuitable for manufacture by smaller plants.

(c) Selection of products suitable for manufacture by small plants. With the active assistance of the liaison officer designated for this purpose by the chief of the supply service, the War Production Board representative will:

(1) Review with the proper personnel of the supply service the related parts of the Army Supply Program and select from it products suitable for manufacture by plants recommended by the War Production Board.

(2) Ascertain the total quantities of these selected products to be purchased.

(3) Discuss with the proper personnel of the supply service existing plans for the procurement of the selected products.

(d) Determination of portion of procurements allotted to recommended small plants. (1) With the active assistance of the liaison officer designated for this purpose by the chief of the supply service, the War Production Board representative on small war plants stationed at the office originating procurement directives will:

(i) Review with the proper personnel of the supply service each proposed procurement directive (with the exceptions stated in paragraph (b) (5) of this section and determine whether the products covered are suitable for manufacture in small plants;

(ii) Discuss with the proper personnel of the supply service existing plans for the procurement of such products as have been determined to be suitable for small plant manufacture. In order to ascertain whether, in the light of all the circumstances, existing plans provide for placement with small plants of a sufficient proportion of the procurement;

(iii) Reach agreement with the supply service, in cases determined to be appropriate under (i) (ii), on a definite portion of the products covered by the proposed directive, for placement as hereinafter provided with plants recommended by the War Production Board;

(iv) Reach agreement as to the latest date when War Production Board recommendations on geographical allocation of its portion of the proposed procurement will be received by and agreed upon with the supply service. If, however, the recommendation has not been made within the time agreed upon, and military necessity does not permit extension, the supply service may make the determination without the recommendation and issue procurement directives accordingly. (It has been agreed upon with the War Production Board that in making recommendations concerning this geographical distribution, consideration will be given to factors governing the plans of the supply service for the geographical distribution of the procurement as a whole, with a view to avoiding impracticable variations between the geographical distribution of the War Production Board part of the procurement and the remainder. The time which can be reasonably allowed for this recommendation will vary with the urgency of the procurement, and may range from 24 hours to several days.)

(v) Reach agreement as to the latest date when War Production Board plant recommendations will be received by the contracting office in the field. (The time to be allowed for this purpose will be made as long as is reasonable for each procurement, and will be set so that plants recommended by the War Production board will have substantially the same opportunity to bid or negotiate as other firms bidding or negotiating for the procurement.)

(2) Each procurement directive to a contracting office covering items agreed upon under subparagraph (1) will specify (i) the proportion of the total quantity allocated for placement by that office with plants recommended by the War Production Board, and (ii) the agreed date when War Production Board plant recommendations will be received.

(e) Selection of concerns to receive business allotted to small plants. (1) The War Production Board Liaison Specialist at each contracting office is its authorized representative at that office. One of his functions is to maintain contact with that office through its Smaller War Plants Contact Officer, whose duty is to assist the Liaison Specialist and to serve as a source of information for small plants. The War Production Board will advise its Liaison Specialist (i) of each procurement covering items agreed upon, (ii) of the amount set aside for the War Production Board at the contracting office, and (iii) of the agreed date when War Production Board plant recommendations are to be furnished by him to the contracting office.

(2) On receipt of these recommendations, the contracting office will review and discuss them with the Liaison Specialist and will determine which of the plants recommended are suitable, giving consideration to such engineering, financial or other assistance, as will be supplied by the War Production Board in the particular case, as authorized by Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress. If an insufficient number of suitable firms remain, the contracting office, if time permits, will receive further recommendations from the Liaison Specialist. If, however, these recommendations are not received by the agreed date or any extension thereof possible under the circumstances, or if the time does not permit the receipt of recommendations of additional firms, the contracting office

(if possible after consulting with and receiving recommendations from the Liaison Specialist as to any firm then under consideration by the contracting office) may place any remaining quantity of the procurement as it may determine. If urgent military necessity should require the shortening of the time originally agreed upon, the contracting office upon such notice to and receipt of such recommendations from the Liaison Specialist as circumstances may in its judgment permit, may place any remaining quantity of the procurement as it may determine. The contracting office will be free at any time to make suggestions to the Liaison Specialist of additional suitable small plants for inclusion among the War Production Board plant recommendations.

(3) The contracting office will negotiate with those recommended firms which have been found suitable and will endeavor to place among an appropriate number of them, to be determined by it, the portion of the procurement set aside for the War Production Board. Negotiation and placement with these firms will be governed by the considerations stated in §§ 81.220–81.227 of the procurement regulations. The Liaison Specialist will be given opportunity to make representations to the contracting office in behalf of the recommended firms before decisions are reached on their bids, and will be promptly informed of such decisions when made.

(f) Encouraging subcontracting under existing prime contracts. In order to promote subcontracting to smaller plants under existing contracts, the following procedure will be used:

(1) Examination of existing prime contracts will be made by headquarters of the supply services in cooperation with representatives of the War Production Board to determine the possible extent of additional subcontracting thereunder of products suitable for placement with plants recommended by the War Production Board.

(2) All procurement agencies in the field, in cooperation with War Production Board Liaison Specialists, will expeditiously examine contracts with a view to the possibility of further subcontracting. All prime contractors will be advised of the necessity for cooperating in placing all work practicable under existing and proposed contracts with small plants on a subcontracting basis. Orders for new machine tools and equipment will be cancelled whenever the corresponding operations can be handled by subcontracting if production schedules can be maintained.

(3) As indicated by Public Law 603, 77th Congress, it will facilitate the prosecution of the war to utilize the facilities of smaller plants by subcontracting work to them wherever practicable. Accordingly, when the chief of a supply service or his duly authorized representative determines that it will accomplish this purpose, he is authorized to enter into and approve supplemental agreements amending or modifying existing contracts to provide for the payment of an increased price to the prime contractor to cover increased costs resulting from additional subcontracting. Any such agreement will be made pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941, and may be made without consideration to the Government other than promotion of the policy stated by Public Law 603, 77th Congress, and in this paragraph.

(4) The procedure described in subparagraphs (1) to (3) above will also be applied to subcontracts where it appears to be practicable to get a subcontractor to spread his load among more subcontractors.

(5) The initial discussion with prime contractors and subcontractors relative to subparagraphs (1) to (4) above will be arranged through the War Department contracting agency in the field.

(g) Encouraging subcontracting under future prime contracts. The chiefs of supply services will facilitate discussion with War Production Board representatives as to subcontractors under future prime contracts. Such discussions can be undertaken either in the offices of the supply services in Washington or with the contracting officers in the field.

(h) Limitations—(1) Standardization. While the War Production Board representatives will be afforded every assistance for the further spreading of work to smaller plants, consistent with the maintenance of required delivery schedules and quality of production, standardization programs on items where a flow of replacement parts is a factor will also be taken into account.

(2) Preventing abuses. In carrying out the policy of spreading the work to smaller war plants, contracting officers and Liaison Specialists must take precautions to prevent abuse of the preferred position of such plants. For instance, a smaller war plant contractor should not be allowed to subcontract substantially the entire work to a large plant at a lower price and thereby to operate virtually as a contract broker.

(i) Method of handling disagreements. All matters of policy relating to increased subcontracting and to increased prime contracting with smaller plants will be dealt with for the War Production Board by the Deputy Chairman on Smaller War Plants, and for the War Department by the Smaller War Plants Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. On such matters, contact will be between these offices. Any disagreement between representatives of the War Production Board and of the supply services on any of the matters described in paragraphs (b) to (h) of this section will be referred by both parties to these offices for discussion and settlement.

§ 81.226 Debarred bidders—(a) Persons disqualified. Contracts will not be placed with persons who are on any of the following lists of debarred bidders.

(1) List of bidders debarred from bidding on War Department contracts by reason of violations of the Walsh-Healey Act (see § 81.916 et seq.).

(2) List of bidders debarred from bidding on War Department contracts by reason of violations of the Davis-Bacon Act (see § 81.910 et seq.).

(3) War Department confidential list of bidders to whom awards will not be made.

(4) The proclaimed list of blocked nationals which the Secretary of State from time to time publishes listing persons and organizations deemed to be acting directly or indirectly for the benefit of the enemy (see § 81.1102).

(b) Distribution of lists. The Adjutant General will distribute to the supply services lists of bidders debarred by the Comptroller General by reason of violations of the Walsh-Healey Act or the Davis-Bacon Act and copies of the War Department confidential list of debarred bidders. Copies of the proclaimed list of blocked nationals will also be made available to the chiefs of the supply services.

(c) Procedures for placing bidders on confidential list—(1) Authority. The Adjutant General will place a bidder upon the confidential list of bidders to whom awards will not be made (i) where the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, determines that the bidder has been guilty of fraud or attempted fraud against the United States, or (ii) for the duration of the present war, in any instance where the Director, Purchases Division, determines that the best interests of the United States require that contracts be not awarded to the bidder. In recommending that a bidder's name be placed on the list, the chief of a supply service will submit to the Director, Purchases Division, a full report of the specific instances of the bidder's alleged dereliction together with any available evidence relating to the contract concerned and the complaint against the bidder.

(2) Notice. If such action has not already been taken, the Director, Purchases Division, will send to the bidder by registered mail, a notice stating (i) that a recommendation has been made that the bidder's name be placed on the War Department's confidential list of bidders to whom awards will not be made, (ii) the specific contract, bid, or action of the bidder as to which complaint is made, and the specific nature of the complaint in reasonable detail, and (iii) that the bidder may make a statement in writing with respect to the complaint on or before a date fixed in the notice. The bidder will not be given access to any evidence in the hands of the War Department, except in the notice and statement required by this paragraph (2).

(3) Direction. The Director may make such investigations and study of the complaint, either directly or through the Judge Advocate General or Inspector General, as he deems proper. If the Director determines that the bidder's name should be placed on the confidential list, he will transmit to the Adjutant General (i) the complete file, including any statement filed by the bidder, together with the direction to place the bidder's name on this list, and (ii) drafts of notices of the action taken to be sent by the Adjutant General to the bidder, the supply services and the Comptroller General.

§ 81.227 Factors governing revision of existing supply contracts. (a) In connection with adjustments of supply contracts growing out of changes in the Army Supply Program, in each instance consideration will be given to the factors comprehended by the broad headings below:

(1) Minimum use of material.
(2) Minimum man-hours.
(3) Status of facilities.
(4) Labor supply area.
(5) Flexibility for revisions—shift operations one form of flexibility.
(6) Extent of subcontracting.
(7) Strategic considerations.
(8) Comparative costs.
(9) Engineering background.
(10) Horizontal adjustment.
(11) Effect on manufacturer and subcontractors involved.
(12) Use of facility for other war work.
(13) Effect on transportation—minimum of cross-haul.

(b) Where adjustments in any program are indicated, particular weight should be given to continuing in operation those facilities employing the minimum amount of material and the minimum number of man-hours to complete like components and like end-products. These considerations alone should not control; each of the other items enumerated should be taken into account, so that the final result reflects evaluation of all factors enumerated.

(c) Where existing facilities are adequate to care for the program projected, consideration should be given to immediate cancellation of incomplete facilities, including machine tools, jigs and fixtures. In individual cases it may be sound procedure to plan on completing specific facilities even though existing facilities are in balance with current estimates of requirements.

(d) In cutting back facilities, with the background of changing requirements growing out of demands of war, and in the interest of flexibility, consideration should be given in each instance to the desirability of partial multiple shift operations in all or certain plants, in contrast with full shift operations in some plants, to avoid possible resultant abandonment of facilities which would not be otherwise used to good advantage in the war effort.

(e) In cutting back facilities, firms which employ 100 wage-earners or less, or which were recommended as prime or subcontractors by the Smaller War Plants Division of the War Production Board, shall be given preferred consideration, if reasonably efficient in their operations.

CONTRACT PRICE POLICIES

§ 81.230 Basic objectives. Policies regarding contract prices have three main objectives: to maintain incentives for efficiency reductions in costs and maximum production; to obtain fair prices and prevent excessive profits; and to contribute to the control of inflation

(a) Incentives. Increasing shortages in materials and manpower imperatively require that all producers be encouraged to operate at their highest attainable efficiency with the minimum waste or misuse of materials and labor, if maximum production of war equipment is to be reached and maintained. Increased efficiency, improved methods, and lower costs mean better use of available resources and savings in labor, materials and facilities and can be encouraged by making profits depend on efficiency. This requires careful purchasing and contracting to keep prices close enough to costs so that producers must exercise careful management and ingenuity to increase production and decrease costs in order to earn a reasonable profit.

(b) Profit control. In spending public money the War Department has the duty to see that its purchases are made at fair prices. In addition, by section 403 of Public 528, approved April 28, 1943, and amended October 21, 1942, the War Department is directly charged with the responsibility for preventing and eliminating excessive profits on its contracts and on subcontracts thereunder. In many cases, skillful and careful negotiation of contracts will prevent excessive profits from accruing and make their renegotiation unnecessary.

(c) Inflation. For many types of military commodities ordinary methods of price control by maximum price regulations, formulas and ceilings become extremely complex and difficult to administer, and divide procurement responsibility. At the request of the War and Navy Departments the Office of Price Administration has agreed to refrain from further extending its price control over strictly military items, and in return the War and Navy Departments have undertaken the responsibility for maintaining control of prices in this limited exempted area. (See § 81.1131 (c).)

§ 81.231 General policy—(a) Sound pricing. The three objectives stated in § 81.230 are all closely related and must be handled accordingly. In order to promote efficiency and prevent inflation, it is vitally necessary to obtain sound contract prices reasonably close to costs, since recapture of profits for past periods on renegotiation will not operate to control costs or inflationary tendencies. This requires effective purchasing and price supervision to obtain well-negotiated original contracts. The chief of each supply service will see that this policy is implemented and followed in his service. This will require the use of appropriate contracts and contract provisions (discussed in §§ 81.230–81.238), adequate methods of negotiation (discussed in §§ 81.240–81.248) and effective price supervision (discussed in §§ 81.250–81.256).

(b) Relation to contract placement policies. This basic policy of emphasizing the price element in negotiating contracts, stated in the preceding paragraph, is not inconsistent with the relatively minor importance of price in selecting contractors, stated in § 81.223 (g). The selection of a contractor for a particular contract from among the qualified producers is based primarily on policies regarding speed and quality in performance and efficient use of manpower, materials and facilities. (See § 81.223 (a)–(g)). In making this choice among producers the price of a particular producer as compared to other available producers is considered as less important than these other policies. When these other policies are satisfied by several producers, however, choice is based on comparative price. Moreover, the price to be fixed in the contract with the producer selected on these bases is vitally important. The fact that the war program requires that contractors be selected on bases other than comparative prices, makes it especially necessary to have sound methods of negotiation and price supervision to ensure that the contract prices agreed upon with such contractors will be close enough to their costs to encourage efficient operations, to prevent excessive profits and to restrain inflationary influences.

§ 81.232 Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts—(a) Disadvantages. Fixed-fee contracts have the following disadvantages:

(1) The fixed-fee contract does not encourage efficiency to the same extent as the well-negotiated fixed price contract. While the fixed-fee contractor is obligated to perform in an efficient manner, he does not have the same direct financial inducement to economize in the use of materials, machinery or manpower, or to keep down material and labor costs, or to use ingenuity and inventiveness in finding substitutes and improvements.

(2) Such contracts require uneconomical use of executive, auditing and administrative personnel, both by the Government and the contractor, in checking and rechecking vouchers, in auditing and allocating costs and in adjusting accounting questions.

(3) The financial pressures which restrain a fixed price contractor in competing for labor and accumulating inventories do not apply to the same extent to the fixed-fee contractor.

(b) Use discouraged. For the foregoing reasons supply contracts will be made on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis only if no practicable alternative exists. Difficulties in estimating costs with reasonable accuracy because of possible future fluctuations in material or labor costs should not be regarded as an adequate reason for using this type of contract. Even the unfamiliarity of the contractor with the manufacturing process involved, as in the case of new, experimental or developmental articles, does not necessarily justify the use of the fixed-fee contract. For instance, the experience of other manufacturers may often provide sufficient basis for estimating costs and fixing the price, or a fixed price contract may be used with provision for redetermination or for upward or downward price revision, as soon as costs become known and reasonably stable.

(c) Conditions on use. In the exceptional cases where the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee form is used for a supply contract the following conditions will be met:

(1) When the contractor is to be reimbursed for substantially all its costs, the fixed fee represents essentially profit without risk. It should be determined not by the amount of the estimated cost, but by the extent and nature of the work supervised or the services to be performed by the contractor. Thus in fixing the fee consideration should be given, among other things, to whether the work or production involved is complicated or simple, the turnover slow or rapid, how much or little of the work will be subcontracted, and how extensive or difficult the duties of the prime contractor will be in supervising the subcontracted work.

(2) Whenever feasible, the contract will include a provision for conversion of the contract as soon as practicable to a fixed price basis related to the costs during the early part of the contract. (See § 81.1225.)

(3) If conversion to a fixed price basis is not feasible, consideration will be given to inclusion of a provision for upward or downward adjustments in the fee based on efficiency after a test period. (See § 81.1226.)

(4) The article for statutory renegotiation of the fixed-fee will be included in accordance with § 81.1208 (b).

(5) In no case will the fixed-fee exceed the statutory maximum of 7% for supply contracts.

(d) Construction contracts. Whenever feasible, construction contracts will be made on a fixed price rather than a fixed-fee basis.

(e) Existing contracts. Whenever feasible, existing fixed-fee contracts will be amended to convert them or provide for converting them to a fixed price basis as soon as practicable.

§ 81.233 Fixed price contracts—(a) Advantages. The ordinary fixed price contract without provisions for adjustment gives a contractor maximum incentives for efficiency if the original price is well negotiated. It is generally suitable for contracts of reasonable duration for standard articles made by an experienced producer. It should be used wherever conditions permit.

(b) Limitations. Under war conditions, however, the ordinary fixed price contract is not practicable for certain types of cases:

(1) When the articles required are new, experimental or developmental, or unfamiliar to the contractor, the lack of cost experience may prevent the setting of a fair price when the contract is made.

(2) Even where cost experience exists, shortages of materials, priorities and allocations and changes in the quantities and rates of delivery may seriously affect the costs during performance of the contract.

(c) Adaptation to war conditions. To meet these and other situations and to facilitate the used of the fixed price contract, various provisions and policies have been developed including the following:

(1) Termination articles.
(2) Financing provisions.
(3) Price adjustment based on production experience.
(4) Provisions to assume specific risks and for short-term pricing.
(5) Periodic adjustment of price and exemption from renegotiation.
(6) Adjustments and relief, without contract provisions, under the First War Powers Act.

These provisions and policies are intended to adapt the fixed price contract to war conditions, to minimize the risks of the contractor from unpredictable contingencies, and to facilitate obtaining contract prices close to costs. To the extent that the risks of unpredictable contingencies are reduced, the contractor does not need reserves or allowances against them in his price.

§ 81.234 Termination article. The risk of loss from termination of the contract, either for a change in the procurement program or upon cessation of hostilities, would deter contractors from making fixed price contracts or would require large allowances in the price to protect against this risk. The termination article is designed to remove this risk of loss by guaranteeing the contractor payment for all proper expenditures and costs in connection with the contract and an appropriate allowance for profit on the unfinished work in process, and by providing for expeditious settlement and payment of the amounts due. (See § 81.324.) These provisions reduce to the minimum any hardships on contractors resulting from necessary adjustments and reductions in the supply program.

§ 81.235 Financing provisions. Lack of working capital or difficulties of financing would discourage contractors from undertaking fixed price contracts and necessitate the use of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. To overcome this, the War Department has arranged various methods of assisting contractors and subcontractors in financing war business. Three of these are (a) partial payments, (b) advance payments, and (c) guaranteed loans. The principles and purposes governing the use of these financing methods are discussed in §§ 81.319–81.321, 81.330, and 81.331. Other arrangements have been provided to assist with the financing and construction of plant facilities expansion. These are discussed in §§ 81.1001–81.1019. Finally, the right to assign government contracts as security for financing is dealt with in § 81.318a.

§ 81.236 Price adjustment provisions—(a) Price adjustment based on production experience. To adapt the fixed price contract to cases where the lack of experience with production of a new or unfamiliar article makes dependable estimates of costs and prices impracticable, several types of clauses have been developed to permit the fixing of a tentative price with provision for adjusting or fixing the price after part performance has supplied the necessary cost data. These clauses, discussed in §§ 81.1220–81.1226 make the use of the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract unnecessary in such situations. For cases where the fixed-fee contract cannot be avoided, clauses are provided for converting it to a fixed price basis after part performance or for relating the fee to efficiency in production in order to minimize the and assemblies, initial and extra equipment, and the costs of additional faciliance with the policies stated in §§ 81.220–81.227 of this Regulation, an analysis of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors. Cost-disadvantages of this form of contract. (See §§ 81.1220–81.1226.)

(b) Provisions against specific risks. Normally contractors attempt to protect themselves against risks which will increase the cost of performance by allowances in their prices. Under war conditions, certain risks affecting the costs of performing war contracts, especially those of long duration, are particularly difficult to predict. If contingency allowances to cover them were permitted, it would make prices unreasonably high and reduce the incentives for efficient operation. Accordingly, it is the policy of the War Department to reduce the necessity for such contingency allowances in fixed price contracts as much as possible by contract provisions assuming certain unpredictable risks not subject to the contractor's control. Various contract articles of this type are discussed in §§ 81.1230–81.1236. In return for the benefits of these provisions, the contractor will be required to eliminate from his price the allowances or reserves which would otherwise be needed to protect against these risks.

(c) Short-term pricing. These uncertainties as to future conditions can also be minimized by fixing prices for limited periods only. For commodities which do not involve a long period of production or planning, this can be done merely by making short-term contracts. Where longer contracts are necessary for production or other reasons, similar benefits can be obtained by providing for revising the price for future deliveries after a reasonable period. Such articles are discussed in §§ 81.1230–81.1236.

(d) Periodic adjustment of price and exemption from renegotiation. The accumulation of more experience and data covering production and costs has made feasible a new type of contract combining (1) periodic adjustment of price at regular intervals during the life of the contract (compare paragraph (c) above) with (2) provision for exemption from renegotiation if the adjusted price is sufficiently low. It is designed to unite maximum incentives for efficient production with adequate control of profits and prices, by giving the contractor firm prices without commitments of too long duration. This type of contract is discussed in §§ 81.1240–81.1247.

§ 81.237 Adjustments without contract provisions. Paralleling the contract provisions for price revision discussed under § 81.236, and necessary to complete the price program, are the policies regarding price adjustments and other relief under Title II of the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001 in the absence of contract provisions. Thus where a contractor, who has kept down the contingency allowances in his price, suffers some unexpected risk or event, it may often be equitable and in the interests of the Government for it to adjust the contract price or other terms by supplemental agreement so as to assume some or all of any resulting increases in costs. By granting such relief to contractors in appropriate cases, either with or without consideration, the Government will reduce the necessity for large allowances in prices and encourage greater cooperation by contractors. The application of these policies is discussed in §§ 81.1250–81.1252.

§ 81.238 Policies on certain special items of cost—(a) Amortization. Under section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, contractors who construct or acquire facilities necessary for the war effort are allowed under certain conditions to amortize the cost of them for tax purposes over a period of sixty months instead of the longer period of normal depreciation. This special tax credit was provided by Congress in order to encourage contractors to provide such facilities from their own funds rather than at Government expense. In view of this purpose, it is essential that in negotiating contracts involving the use of such facilities, the expense of such facilities be not passed on to the Government and that the price be fixed on the basis of only normal depreciation on the facilities and not at the accelerated rate of amortization permitted for tax purposes by section 124. In other words, the contractor may not treat the amortization at the accelerated rate as a cost against war contracts, but must provide for the excess over normal depreciation from his normal profit; this the tax credit greatly facilitates by leaving a larger net profit after taxes available for this purpose. Where the contractor desires the contract price to provide for a larger amount of the cost of such facilities, the Government is in effect paying for the facilities to the extent of the additional amount included in the contract. In such cases the contract must state the amount so included in the price and must contain suitable provisions to protect the interests of the Government in the facilities in accordance with § 81.1007 and following.

(b) Reconversion and storage. (1) In appropriate cases, the cost of converting plants to war production, including the removal of existing equipment and incidental building alterations, may be included in cost and therefore in the contract price and the contract may provide for payment, on termination of production for the Government, of the costs of removing Government-financed machinery and equipment, and of preparing it for storage and shipment.

(2) The Government will not bear either directly or indirectly, however, any part of the cost of reconverting the contractor's plant to commercial production (including installation of privately-owned machinery and equipment) or the cost of storing such machinery and equipment during the period between conversion and reconversion. This policy applies to all types of contracts, whether facilities contracts, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts or fixed price contracts. It does not, however, prevent giving a contractor, in exceptional cases where fairness so requires, special protection against loss through early termination of the contract in accordance with § 81.324 (e).

NEGOTIATION OF CONTRACTS

§ 81.240 Method of contracting—(a) By negotiation. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, all contracts and purchases made by the War Department will be made by negotiation under authority of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001, and in accordance with these procurement regulations. While this Act and Executive Order are construed to embody all the authority conferred by sections 1 (a) and (b) of the Act of July 2, 1940 (Public Law No. 703, 76th Congress), as extended, the earlier Act may also be cited as authority for contracting in appropriate cases if desired (see § 81.204 (a)).

(b) By formal advertising. When authorized by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, contracts may be placed by formal advertising instead of by negotiations if deemed necessary in the interests of the Government.

(c) Aids to negotiation. Sound purchase control requires that the original contract be well negotiated on the basis of reliable cost experience and close estimates. To do this, all available information and aids to negotiation must be used as effectively as possible. This section deals with some of the methods and data which will assist such sound negotiation of contracts.

§ 81.241 Methods of negotiation—(a) General rule. Subject to specific provisions of these regulations, the chief of each supply service may determine the methods of negotiation to be followed by his service. Any method which, in the judgment of the chief of the supply service concerned, will result in the most efficient award of contracts and will protect the interests of the Government, is hereby authorized. Such methods may include not only face to face dealing but also informal written bids or telephone quotations, but the request for any such bids or quotations will clearly indicate that it is made under the authority of the First War Powers Act, 1941.

(b) Decentralization. The chiefs of the supply services will decentralize to their field agencies the actual work of negotiating contracts to the greatest extent consistent with efficiency and proper safeguarding of the public interest.

§ 81.242 Use of informal bids. Where consistent with the required speed of war procurement, notification of the proposed procurement will be given to a reasonable number of qualified producers and suppliers, and quotations secured from them.

§ 81.243 Standard proposal forms—(a) Use. Where the article is to be specially manufactured according to specifications it is useful to have a standard form for the contractor to use in submitting his proposal. Such standard proposal forms assist in obtaining all of the necessary information from the contractor at the same time and facilitate the comparison and evaluation of proposals from several producers, by insuring a uniform basis of statement.

(b) Contents. Such standard proposal forms should ordinarily require the following types of information—

(1) Separate quotations for the basic (or major) item, essential extra parts and assemblies, initial and extra equipment, and the costs of additional facilities required by the contractor.

(2) Proposed delivery schedule.

(3) Summary of the approximate number, amount and extent of completion of other outstanding Government contracts.

(4) Itemized estimate of cost of production with adequate explanation of the basis used for allocating overhead, etc.

(5) Statement showing the cost experience for the same or similar items under other recent contracts.

(6) Statement as to labor needs and supply, contemplated hours of work and number of shifts.

(7) Contemplated method of financing the contract.

(8) Statement of material to be furnished by the Government and disposition of scrap therefrom.

(9) Summary of types and extent of subcontracting.

(10) Requirements for additional equipment and facilities.

(11) Statement of any optional clauses desired in the contract.

(12) Statement in detail of taxes included in the price and their estimated amount, and of any taxes to be excluded from the price for which contractor will claim reimbursement or a tax exemption certificate.

To avoid unnecessary duplication of paper work, a contractor should generally not be required to supply information required by subparagraphs (3), (5) and (9) where he has recently submitted the same information or it is otherwise available to the procurement office or its preparation will involve undue difficulty in view of the size of the contract.

(c) Value. The information obtained from the proposal forms will permit the selection of the appropriate contractor in accordance with section II of this regulation and will provide a basis for negotiations with that contractor in accordance with this section.

§ 81.244 Purchase analysis—(a) Price comparison. Comparative prices for similar items compiled in accordance with § 81.251 will be made available to contracting officers for use in negotiating new contracts. The prices offered for new contracts should be carefully compared with previous prices for similar items, making allowance for improved methods, rates of production, type of facilities and other factors. Where proposals are obtained from several producers they should be similarly compared with each other.

(b) Renegotiation information. The chief of each supply service will insure that contracting officers make regular use of studies and other information compiled by the price adjustment and cost analysis sections and useful in negotiating with contractors, such as data on volume of business, the policies regarding overhead and reserves, rates of profit and other material. (See § 81.252.)

(c) Cost analysis. When the prices or cost estimates submitted by a producer are out of line with previous experience or other proposals and use of his facilities is necessary or desirable in accordance with the policies stated in §§ 81.220–81.227 of this Regulation, an analysis of the contractor's costs should ordinarily be made in order to find the causes of the higher costs or prices. Likewise where prices or cost estimates of a producer for an unfamiliar item are so low as to indicate mistakes in the estimates, a similar study should be made. Such study and analysis should be limited to the minimum necessary to obtain the required information and should be made with the least possible inconvenience to the producer. (See § 81.253.)

(d) Check lists. Orderly and speedy negotiations are facilitated by the use of standard negotiation check lists. Such forms should be designed to indicate the information to be obtained from the contractor and from other sources and the methods to be used in evaluating this material and in arriving at the final contract terms.

§ 81.245 Special clauses. The contracting officer should consider in each case whether use of any of the various articles for price adjustment discussed in §§ 81.230–81.238 and in §§ 81.1200–81.1291 is desirable. When such articles are used, the contracting officer will satisfy himself that the original price is sufficiently reduced, by eliminating or reducing contingency reserves and by lower profit margins, to justify the Government in agreeing to such adjustment provisions in favor of the contractor.

§ 81.246 Compulsory purchases. Where a fair contract cannot be obtained by voluntary negotiation, it may be necessary to resort to compulsory methods.

(a) Mandatory orders. Under section 9 of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 a mandatory order may be placed with any producer to require him to supply any item of the nature and kind usually produced or readily capable of being produced by him, for a fair and just compensation. While the general use of such orders is not favored, they should be resorted to where necessary after patient negotiations have failed. Thus where a qualified producer refuses to make a contract upon terms which in the opinion of the contracting officer are fair, the chief of the supply service may request the issuance of a mandatory order to the producer. Such requests will be forwarded to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, and will state the reason for the request.

(b) Requisitioning. When needed articles are already in existence, but cannot be bought after reasonable negotiations, they may be obtained by requisition in accordance with §§ 81.1401–81.1428.

§ 81.247 Assistance by Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The Purchase Pricing Methods Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will assist any service in preparing standard forms for proposals by contractors, evaluation sheets or check lists and other aids to effective negotiation.

§ 81.248 Purchasing by prime contractors—(a) Purchasing methods of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors should ordinarily make their subcontracts and purchases by negotiation rather than by formal advertising. In connection with such negotiations, they will obtain informal quotations from qualified suppliers whenever feasible, but evidence of formal competition will not be required in connection with such agreements unless the contracting officer directs otherwise.

PRICE SUPERVISION

§ 81.250 General policy. For the reasons stated in § 81.230, the War Department is responsible for supervising and controlling the prices of all supplies and equipment procured and of the various items and services entering into the costs of these supplies and equipment to insure that such prices are reasonable and not excessive. Sections 81.250–81.256 deal with the performance of this responsibility by the services.

§ 81.251 Price analysis—(a) Functions. The chief of each supply service will maintain within his service appropriate agencies to perform the following price analysis functions:

(1) To assemble, analyze, interpret and disseminate price data for all important items procured by the supply services and for important component items entering into the costs of such items;

(2) To prepare special price analysis reports for procurement officers; and

(3) To compile and maintain comparative price records and indices for such items and their important components.

(b) Sources of data. In performing their functions, price analysis agencies will make use of the following types of information:

(1) Contract prices for similar items, which will be compiled on a comparable basis with respect to the basic (or major) item, essential extra parts and assemblies, initial and extra equipment, Government furnished equipment and scrap salvage.

(2) Cost estimates and other relevant data from proposals submitted by contractors.

(3) Analyses of the effect of major production and engineering problems on prices and costs.

(4) Prices paid for important subcontracted items. (See § 81.254.)

(5) Breakdowns of costs of subcontractors and sub-subcontractors based on production experience.

(6) Balance sheets and operating statements and similar data for contractors and subcontractors from price adjustment sections and financial services.

(7) Information from other Government agencies such as the Office of Price Administration. (§§ 81.1130–81.1135.)

(8) Where necessary, audits of costs of contractors and subcontractors made by the cost analysis sections.

(c) Use of price data. (1) The price analysis agencies will prepare full analyses and reports on the comparative prices paid for important items and their components, making proper allowance for differences in the size of the contract, [illegible] seems most appropriate to him to permit their effective performance; they need not be placed in the fiscal section of [illegible] ited to those of substantial amounts, if regular selective checking is maintained instead.

their integration with procurement. Thus, in its discretion, a supply service may combine these functions in a single [illegible] ice, the chief of that service may direct supplementary data to be submitted to him.

reports required to be filed under § 81.293 should be forwarded so as to be received by the fifth calendar day following the components, making proper allowance for differences in the size of the contract, in design, local wage scales, type of facilities, contract terms and other factors. These reports will be in a form usable by procurement officers and price adjustment sections and will contain any recommendations for necessary or desirable action by them.

(2) In making or revising contracts, procurement officers will consult with the appropriate price analysis section and make use of all pertinent price analyses and reports then available.

(3) The price analysis agency will cooperate closely with the price adjustment sections and will make available to them price analyses and reports for use in renegotiation. When renegotiation reveals excessive profits the price analysis agency should immediately make studies of the prices of such contractors.

(4) Price records on items procured by the supply service and important components will be kept in such manner as to be readily available for reporting to higher authority or to the Office of Price Administration as requested.

(d) Corrective action. When price analysis reveals that the prices of comparable items are out of lien, the procurement officer directly concerned will immediately initiate measures to discover the reasons. The appropriate measures will depend upon the particular situation. The contractor or his important subcontractors may be required to furnish a breakdown of actual costs based on production experience. When these are inadequate, cost audits or spot checks may be undertaken through the cost analysis section, and studies of purchasing methods may be made in accordance with § 81.254. Unless the facts disclose that differences in price are justified by higher costs and by the policies stated in §§ 81.220–81.227 negotiations will be initiated for appropriate adjustments in contract or subcontract prices.

§ 81.252 Profit analysis. The studies, by the price adjustment sections of each supply service, of the overall costs, profits and financial position of contractors and subcontractors provide valuable data to assist contract negotiation, such as information regarding overhead, reserves, profit margins, volume of business and similar matters. The chief of each supply service will make arrangements to insure that such information is made readily available in useful form for procurement officers in conducting negotiations with such contractors and for price analysis agencies in performing their functions.

§ 81.253 Cost analysis—(a) Organization. Each supply service will maintain appropriate agencies to perform cost-analysis functions and to act as fact finding units with respect to costs and profits on its contracts and subcontracts for use in negotiations by contracting officers as well as in renegotiation by price adjustment sections. The chief of each supply service may assign the cost analysis functions to such place in the organization of the service as seems most appropriate to him to permit their effective performance; they need not be placed in the fiscal section of the supply service unless the chief of the service so decides.

(b) Functions. When a cost analysis study of any contractor is made to prepare reports for the price adjustment section, there will also be made such study as seems appropriate in each case to aid procurement officers in future contract negotiations with the contractor. In addition, whenever price analysis indicates that prices or costs of a particular contractor or subcontractor are out of line and the procurement officer so requests, the cost analysis agency will make necessary studies of any contractor or subcontractor. Such studies will be limited to the extent necessary to obtain the desired information.

§ 81.254 Supervision of subcontracts and purchases—(a) Policy. The Government is vitally interested in the prices of component parts and materials of the items which it procures. The prices for such component articles are reflected in prices under fixed price prime contracts and are directly reimbursed under fixed-fee contracts. If excessive, such prices encourage inefficiency, inflationary expenditures and excessive profits in the same manner as excessive prime contracts prices. Accordingly, the War Department and supply services must also supervise these prices. Because the Government could not attempt to inspect or approve individual purchases under all fixed price and fixed-fee contracts, they must be supervised by more selective methods adapted to varying circumstances.

(b) Methods of supervising purchases under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. While the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor is responsible for efficient buying, the lack of direct financial incentives for economy makes it essential to supervise its purchasing with respect to prices, quantities and capacity of suppliers. Experience has shown that detailed prior approval of all purchase orders and subcontracts under fixed-fee supply contracts is less efficient for this purpose than more selective methods. Accordingly the following procedure for supervision will be adopted in the case of supply contracts.

(1) The purchasing policies and methods of the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor should be carefully analyzed to determine their adequacy for sound purchasing. This analysis should ascertain (i) whether prices paid are reasonable; (ii) whether quantities purchased are proper; (iii) whether suppliers and subcontractors are reasonably qualified; (iv) whether the purchasing personnel are well-qualified; and (v) whether purchasing procedures are sound and adequate.

(2) If the purchasing policies and methods are adequate with respect to prices, quantities and suppliers and are consistently followed, prior approval of subcontracts and purchase orders by the representatives of the contracting officer need not be required, or may be limited to those of substantial amounts, if regular selective checking is maintained instead.

(3) If the purchasing methods are inadequate in any respect, steps should be taken immediately to require the contractor to correct the deficiency, and if necessary, prior approval of subcontracts and purchase orders by the representative of the contracting officer to check on the propriety of the prices and other terms should be required until the deficiency is corrected.

(4) Periodically a report should be prepared with respect to each important contractor, stating the results of the inspection of the purchases and examination during the preceding period.

(5) If at any time the chief of a supply service finds that the selective method of supervision is inadequate, he may require such further supervision, including prior approval of purchase orders and subcontracts, as he deems necessary.

(c) Methods of supervising purchasing by fixed price contractors. (1) In the case of fixed price contracts, the contractor ordinarily has strong incentives to purchase at low prices in order to enhance the profit, but with high excess profits taxes and renegotiation, this incentive can be fully maintained only by keeping the prices under prime contracts close to minimum costs. For this purpose procurement officers must have adequate information on what component parts and materials should cost if well purchased and must know whether the contractor is equipped to obtain the best prices available.

(2) Price analyses in accordance with § 81.251 will supply necessary information. In that connection, the purchasing policies and methods of important fixed price contractors should be analyzed in the manner described in paragraph (b) of this section. When such analysis or the study of the prices paid by different contractors for important component parts and materials reveals deficiencies, they should be called to the attention of the contractor with recommendations for their correction.

(d) Personnel. A selective method of control requires the use of well trained and experienced personnel with a knowledge of purchasing methods and industrial costs and prices. Each service should obtain an adequate number of qualified officers or employees to perform these functions.

§ 81.255 Sanctions. Whenever study or analysis reveals that the prices of a contractor or subcontractor are excessive, and he refuses to make appropriate adjustments, the facts should be reported through the chief of the supply service to the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. In appropriate cases the Director may then authorize action to correct the situation by the use of compulsory orders, renegotiation, or other means.

§ 81.256 Coordination. Each supply service may determine the form of organization necessary to perform the foregoing functions within its service and to obtain their essential coordination and their integration with procurement. Thus, in its discretion, a supply service may combine these functions in a single agency or assign them to several separate agencies. Because these various price functions are so closely related, however, it is recommended that even where they are performed by several agencies in any service, all of them should be coordinated and integrated under a single head. Such an agency should supervise within the service all functions relating to contract clearance, negotiation aids, price analysis and supervision, liaison with the Office of Price Administration, renegotiation and price adjustment, and price research. This policy has been followed in Headquarters, Army Service Forces, by the creation within the Purchases Division of an Assistant Director for Price responsible for supervising all of these functions. Creation of a similar agency in each service will facilitate coordination and cooperation between Headquarters and the services.

PURCHASE ACTION REPORTS

§ 81.291 General—(a) Statistics and Progress Branch. Under General Orders No. 14, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, dated June 12, 1942, the Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, was established. This branch is responsible for supervision, preparation and submission of all purchase reports required by law to be submitted by the War Department to The Congress, as well as to other Federal agencies, authorized to receive such reports. Effective July 1, 1942, it will be the responsibility of every station to make reports of purchase actions as outlined in the succeeding paragraphs. The reports will cover all negotiated purchase actions in excess of $10,000 for all types and kinds of things and services, supply contracts (including purchase actions for engineering or architectural services, maintenance of real estate and procurement of abstracts of titles) and purchase actions for the acquisition and leasing of real estate; also purchase actions for construction services, contracts with Defense Plant Corporation and purchase actions for utilities.

(b) Reports required to be filed. The reports required to be filed are those specified in §§ 81.293 and 81.294. As indicated in paragraph (e) (3) of this section, reports submitted by stations under the jurisdiction of the Special Services, Army Service Forces and the Administrative Services, Army Service Forces, are required to be transmitted to the Statistics and Progress Branch. In the case of reports submitted by stations under the jurisdiction of the chiefs of the supply services and the commanding generals of the service commands (including the Commanding General of the Military District of Washington), such reports are not, as indicated by paragraph (e) (4) of this section, required to be transmitted to the Statistics and Progress Branch. Instead, recapitulations of such reports are required to be filed with that Branch (see § 81.292). In any case where supplementary information is required for operating purposes of a service, the chief of that service may direct supplementary data to be submitted to him.

(c) Service required to prepare original reports. When reallocation or suballotment of funds is involved, the post, camp or station to which funds are assigned is responsible for making the reports required to be filed under §§ 81.293 and 81.294.

(d) Signing of reports. Reports will be signed by the Officer in Charge. At procurement stations on the exempted list, it will be the Commanding Officer; at posts, camps, or stations on the non-exempted list, it will be the supply officer in charge of procurement covered by the report.

(e) Procedure for forwarding reports—(1) Time. The reports will be forwarded by each station to the chief of its respective service. The reports required to be filed under § 81.293 should be forwarded so as to be received by the fifth calendar day following the purchase action; those required to be filed under § 81.294, should be forwarded so as to be received by the fifth calendar day following the close of the month.

(2) Number of copies. Two copies will be prepared by the station originating the purchase. The original signed copy will be forwarded as indicated in subparagraphs (3) and (4) below. The carbon copy will be retained for reference by the station preparing the report as indicated in subparagraph (6) of § 81.293 (a). This subparagraph will become effective May 1, 1943.

(3) Reports by exempted and non-exempted stations. Reports (both individual action reports and monthly summary reports) will be submitted to the chiefs of the various supply services (including the Commanding General, Materiel Command, Army Air Forces) and to the Commanding Generals of the Service Commands (including the Commanding General, Military District of Washington). Copies of these reports will be submitted to one of these locations. Only those relating to contracts which have been numbered as service command contracts in accordance with § 81.318b (e) will be submitted to the Commanding Generals of the service commands; and those numbered as supply serivce contracts in accordance with § 81.309 (b) will be forwarded to the chiefs of the supply service concerned. This will apply to all types of installations whether Class I, II, III or IV. Separate summary reports will be submitted to the Commanding General of the service command and to each of the supply services concerned.

(4) Transmission of reports by Special Services and Administrative Services. In the case of reports submitted by stations under the jurisdiction of the Special Services, Army Service Forces and the Administrative Services, Army Service Forces, one copy of each report forwarded will be retained by the office of the chief of the service involved and the original will be forwarded from said office to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, attention, Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division. The reports required to be filed under § 81.293 should be forwarded so as to be received by the fifth calendar day following the purchase action; the reports required to be filed pursuant to § 81.294 should be forwarded so as to be received by the eighth calendar day following the close of the month. The chiefs of Special Services and Administrative Services will be responsible for complete, accurate and proper submission of reports from stations under their respective jurisdiction.

(f) Reports not to be duplicated. When a "final type" contract is executed covering a previously reported purchase action, no additional Purchase Action Report will be filed. Likewise, a purchase order is to be reported only when it is the original purchase action on the item in question; and a purchase order is not to be reported when it is an order placed against an existing transaction previously reported as a purchase action.

(g) Matters not to be reported. Pay of individuals' shipping and traveling expenses, etc., are not to be included in the reports required to be filed under §§ 81.293 and 81.294. The items involved in this category are stated in War Department Circular No. 206, 1942. This paragraph refers only to individuals on a War Department payroll.

(h) Definitions—(1) Purchase action. A purchase action is any transaction (including all types of awards) obligating government funds. A transaction, in this case, includes transactions with any individual, firm, corporation, or governmental agency outside of the jurisdiction of the War Department. The execution of a preliminary contractual agreement is to be regarded as a purchase action unless the undertaking contained therein is conditioned upon funds becoming available, and hence does not obligate government funds (see for example, the letter of intent which was the subject of the decision of the Comptroller General issued under date of December 22, 1941; G–21673).

(2) Service. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 81.108 (d), the term "service" as used in §§ 81.291–81.294 including all supply services, Army Service Forces; the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces; all service commands, Army Service Forces (including the Military Forces; the Materiel Command, Army District of Washington); Special Services, Army Service Forces; and Administrative Services, Army Service Forces, with the exception of the Army Exchange Service.

(3) Preliminary contractual agreements. The term "preliminary contractual agreements" as used in §§ 81.291–81.294 refers to all written agreements which do not obligate War Department funds to the full amount which it is anticipated will finally be obligated (see W. D. Contract Form No. 7, § 81.1307, as one type of such agreement). Such agreement becomes final when the total estimated amount has been fully obligated or a final definitive contract has been executed.

§ 81.292 Responsibility of the chiefs of the supply services and the commanding generals of the service commands.

The chiefs of the supply services (including the Commanding General, Materiel Command, Army Air Forces) and the commanding generals of the service commands (including the Commanding General, Military District of Washington) are charged with the following responsibilities:

(a) Responsibility for assuring that all reports required by this Procurement Regulation No. 2, are prepared by the stations under their jurisdiction and are forwarded to them in accordance with § 81.291 (e). This responsibility includes

(1) Responsibility for ascertaining that purchase action reports are received for all actions entered into, as controlled by the serial number system;

(2) Responsibility for checking by contract number to assure that duplicate reports are not received including the checking of notices and cancellations;

(3) Responsibility for reconciling individual purchase action reports submitted by each station with the monthly reports submitted by such station.

(b) Responsibility for the preparation, typing, checking, and distribution of the daily report on procurement (daily log). The Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will advise as to the form and distribution of this report.

(c) Responsibility for the preparation of individual strips for all purchase actions in excess of $150,000. From these strips arranged in alphabetical order, pages will be made up for a quarterly report. These pages will be submitted to the Statistics and Progress Branch for reproduction and final compilation of the report required to be filed with Congress pursuant to Public Law 528, 77th Congress. That Branch will advise as to the form and time schedule of these strips.

(d) Responsibility for submitting to the Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, recapitulations of the monthly summaries submitted by the stations under their jurisdiction as well as recapitulations of the individual purchase action reports submitted by such stations. The Statistics and Progress Branch will advise as to the time schedule and form of these recapitulations.

(e) Responsibility for obtaining detailed information on specific transactions when the same is deemed necessary.

(f) Responsibility for the reproduction of the original signed purchase action report and for forwarding four copies to the Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., attention Wages and Hours Division. The transmittal of such copies will relieve the contracting officers of filing the present Department of Labor Form P. C. 1. This will become effective with reports received May 1, 1943, and thereafter. As many additional copies may be reproduced as directed by the chief of the service concerned.

(g) The Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, retains, despite the decentralization of some of the operating functions, full authority pertaining to the purchase action reporting requirements of these regulations.

§ 81.293 Reports of purchase actions exceeding $10,000. A report of every original purchase action which exceeds $10,000 (actual or estimated) in amount will be made on an 8" x 10½" sheet and forwarded through the offices of the chiefs of the various services in accordance with the time schedule (the fifth calendar day following the purchase action) and procedure stated in § 81.291 (e). Reports should be made on the form set forth below:

(a) Explanation of report form for purchase actions exceeding $10,000. The following notes apply to the report form set forth in above. It will be noted that the report form contains cross references to these notes.

(1) Each station will begin with serial No. 1 for the new fiscal year and continue in exact sequence (based on the date of award as established in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph) to the end of the fiscal year. Purchase action reports made in the new fiscal year for awards made in the previous fiscal year should have a serial number in the series of the previous fiscal year.

(2) This note has been deleted.

(3) Include name of station, location and station number.

(4) Name and address of contractor. If more than one, list each one as a split award on separate purchase action reports.

(5) Name and location of establishment or plant or location where work will be performed. If more than one, list each one. If this is same as contractor, so indicate.

(6) Under the headings "Station", "Supply Service" and "Number" indicate the contract (purchase action) number in accordance with the system specified in § 81.309 (b) or § 81.318 (e) of these procurement regulations. When purchase orders are required to be reported (see § 81.291 (f), the number thereof will be shown under this item of the form. The date shown will be the date shown on the original agreement as established by the transmission of the document from the contracting officer to the contractor. It will be the date of the award of the agreement and not necessarily the date of the acceptance. In the event that a preliminary agreement (as defined in subparagraph (3) of § 81.291 (h) is first executed and is subsequently superseded by a definitive agreement, the date shown will be the date of the preliminary agreement and not the date of the definitive agreement. If a purchase order is the original purchase action (see § 81.291 (f)), use the Symbol P. O. and its serial number rather than the contract number. If the purchase order was issued by a service command, the service command symbol indication will be shown following the serial number in parenthesis.

(7) Indicate whether lump sum, unit price, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee, etc. If the transaction being reported is evidenced by a preliminary agreement (as defined in subparagraph (3) of § 81.291 (h)) indicate also by word "preliminary".

(8) For construction, this means work to begin, etc. For real estate, this means date of possession. The starting date may be the same as the completion date; and the starting date or both the starting date and completion date may be the same as the date of award. Where dates are dependent upon receipt of material estimated dates are permissible but will be so indicated.

(9) Complete description of product, service, facilities, project or property. Long lists of items attached to Purchase Action Reports are not required for centralized reporting unless specifically directed by the chief of the service responsible for procurement of the item involved. Where assorted items of like nature are reported, indicate group headings such as: various engine parts, various knit clothing, etc. If item or service is classified state description but so label whole report, and transmit according to regulations, covering classified information. If the purchase transaction being reported is the execution of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, indicate the full estimated cost (not including the fixed-fee) in the description column. If the purchase transaction being reported is evidenced by a preliminary agreement under which the Government only obligates itself for a percentage of the anticipated total contract price, the anticipated full contract price should be shown under the heading "Description of Item".

(10) For the preference rating, the WPB priority rating (AAA, AA–1, A–1–a, AA–2x, etc.) will be shown. It is anticipated that sometime in the future, the use of the Federal Standard Stock Catalog number will be required as the identification symbol.

(11) Number of units, unit cost and total cost. If cost is estimated, write "estimated" after amount. For purchase actions involving architect-engineer or similar services, only indicate as the total cost, the amount payable to the individual contractor and chargeable against a War Department appropriation. This applies primarily to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. If on such a contract the contractor has, besides the architect-engineer, management, or similar fee, a portion or all of the work to perform, each fee will be separately shown from the other items. The total obligated amount will also be shown for this purchase action. In cases where land acquisition, plant expansion, tool expansion and supply items are involved on a single purchase action, a distribution by these groups and a total cost will be shown. If the purchase action is a preliminary contractual agreement, (see subparagraph (3) of § 81.291 (h)), the amount for which the War Department is obligated will be shown as the total cost. In cases where a varied group of items are shown in the description section of the report and not detailed, indicate various unit prices in the same manner. Indicate this assortment either as a price range, i. e., $4.37 to $4.69 ea., or show the word "various" for a wide range of unit prices such as on tools. In all cases a total cost (actual or estimated) will be shown. This includes purchase actions for utilities or other "open-end" contracts.

(12) State when an escalator clause is included in the contract and whether such clause is for labor, materials or both.

(13) Reporting provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act (Act of June 30, 1936; 41 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. 35–45) will, after May 1, 1943, be fulfilled by the submission of the report called for under § 81.293. If any provision of that Act is applicable to the purchase action, the box should be checked as indicated. If the purchase action comes under any provision of the Act, the industry involved should be indicated on the second line of this item. On the third line there should be indicated the date on which the poster (P.C. 13) was sent to the contractor and to the plant locations.

(14) Where total value of purchase action is in excess of $150,000.00 additional data is required as shown on form (§ 81.293).

(b) Reports of increased purchase actions not originally reported. When a purchase action, which originally was not reported because it involved a total cost of not more than $10,000 is increased to an amount in excess of $10,000, a Purchase Action Report will be made on the form set forth in § 81.293 showing the new net value of the purchase action and the date on which the agreement exceeded $10,000. See § 81.294 (a) for method of treating such purchase actions in monthly summary reports.

(c) Cancellation and supplemental reports. (1) A purchase action report form will be used to report cancellation and supplemental actions as stated below. This form will be identical with the form shown in § 81.293, except that the words "Net Change" will be substituted for "Total Cost", and will be prepared on blue stock. Such report will be submitted for each change within the time schedule (5 calendar days after the action) and in accordance with the procedure stated in § 81.291 (e). This report will contain the same serial number as the original purchase action report followed by a letter of the alphabet in parentheses; the first such change using the letter (a); the second (b); etc.

(2) If a purchase action report has been submitted under § 81.293 and § 81.293 (b) and subsequently canceled, completely canceling the value of the purchase action, the action will be reported as above.

(3) In case a previously reported individual purchase action has been decreased so that the net value is below $10,000, a blue report will be submitted showing a net change figure equal to the previously reported figures, not merely the amount of the decrease. For this regulation, changes of this type will be considered as a cancellation because only purchase actions having a net value in excess of $10,000 are reportable. Cancellations that do not reduce the contract price to $10,000 or less will not be reported as cancellations even though the quantity may have been reduced to zero.

(4) Changes (increase or decrease) of a previously reported purchase action will be reported as above when the change is in excess of $1,000. Changes resulting from renegotiation will be included. The report will be on the basis of the net increase or decrease (state which) and not the revised total cost of the purchase action.

(5) Changes (increase or decrease) of $1,000 or less on purchase actions previously reported, which had a value in excess of $10,000, will not be reported in the above manner. A summary of such smaller changes (including changes resulting from renegotiation) will be included in report required under § 81.294. The net change figure reported for cancellations, as stated above, will include any of these smaller changes applying to the purchase action being canceled.

(6) In the case of an "open end contract", the original purchase action report will have indicated the estimated quantity and value as of the award date. Any changes during the life of the award will be submitted as indicated above. As of the termination date, an additional report will be submitted adjusting any unreported quantity and value (whether it be an increase or decrease).

§ 81.294 Monthly summary of purchase actions. A summary of all purchase actions will be rendered for each calendar month as of the last day thereof and submitted on an 8" x 10½" sheet through the offices of the chiefs of the various services in accordance with the time schedule (5 calendar days after close of the month) and procedure stated in § 81.291 (e) (on the basis of net obligations undertaken during the month and not appropriations authorized). The form set forth below will be used for all reports submitted following the submission of the reports covering the month of April 1943. Accordingly the reports submitted in June covering purchase actions in May and any unreported activity for previous months will be on the new form.

(a) Explanation of monthly summary of purchase actions. (1) Indicate station name, number and location.

(2) Record date submitted.

(3) The month in which the action took place will be shown. A separate monthly summary will be required for each month in which purchases actions, that have not been previously reported, were awarded. The award date of the supplement cancellation or change is the determining month and not the date of the original award.

(4) Where a particular post, camp or station has purchases during a period coming under the jurisdiction of more than one service, separate monthly summary reports will be submitted to each service according to instructions included in § 81.291 (e), but said reports will not contain duplicated entries. Indicate service to which submitted (see § 81.291 (e)).

(5a) Include all purchase actions previously reported whose value (not quantity) was cancelled in their entirety during the month shown in item (3) as well as the full previously reported value (including all previous changes) of purchase actions that have been reported as being in excess of $10,000 and which by

(6b) Show the number of purchase actions represented by the dollar value shown in item (5b).

(6c) Show the net total of items 6a and 6b. (The number of purchase actions to be shown is only for original awards reported (5a) and cancellations (5b). The counts of purchase actions whose value is shown as items 5c and 5d will never be included.)

(7) Fill in signature, name, rank and service.

(b) Negative reports. In case where no activity is shown for the current month a negative report will be submitted. Where a station has been terminated a report will be submitted indicating that such report is final.

CONTRACTS

GENERAL

Subparagraphs (3) and (4) of § 81.302 (c) are amended as follows:

§ 81.302 Definitions. * * *

(c) Contracting officer. * * *

(3) Representatives may be designated as follows:

(i) The chief of a supply service may designate any officer or civilian official to act as representative of the contracting officer or his duly appointed successor;

(ii) A commanding officer may designate any contracting officer assigned to his command or station to act as representative of any other contracting officer assigned to the same command or station, or of a contracting officer's duly appointed successor so assigned;

(iii) A contracting officer, his duly appointed successor, and any representative designated pursuant to (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (3), may respectively designate any officers or civilian officials to act as their representatives.

(4) A designation authorized by subparagraph (3) may be made by instructions relating to particular contractual instruments or classes of instruments, and may, to the extent not specifically prohibited by the terms of the contractual instrument involved, empower the representative to take any or all action thereunder which could lawfully be taken by the contracting officer. In no event, however, shall a representative who is not a contracting officer, as defined in subparagraph (1), be empowered to execute any contract or supplemental agreement (as distinguished from change order).

* * * * *

Section 81.303 is amended as follows:

§ 81.303 General requirements for contracts. Every purchase transaction except those where payment is made coincidentally with receipt of supplies will be evidenced by a written contract.

(a) Types of contracts. Contracts may be either formal or informal.

(b) Formal contracts; when required. A formal contract is one which is contained in one instrument executed by both parties. Formal contracts may be used for any purchase transaction and will be used for all purchase transactions other than those for which informal contracts are authorized by paragraph (c) below.

(c) Informal contracts; when permitted. Informal contracts are of two types:

(1) An informal contract consisting of a written instrument signed by the contracting officer on behalf of the United States, and not by the contractor. This type of informal contract may be used for any of the following purchase transactions:

(i) Any transaction the contract price of which does not exceed $5,000.

(ii) Any transaction the contract price of which exceeds $5,000 but does not exceed $100,000: Provided, That not more than one payment is involved: And provided That the time of performance does not exceed 180 days.

(iii) Any transaction made at public auction at a produce exchange or under similar conditions.

(2) An informal contract embodied in more than one instrument. At least one instrument is signed by the contracting officer on behalf of the United States and at least one other instrument is signed by or on behalf of the contractor. This type of informal contract may be used for any of the following purchase transactions:

(i) Any transaction the contract price of which does not exceed $5,000.

(ii) Any transaction the contract price of which exceeds $5,000 but does not exceed $500,000, provided that the time of performance does not exceed 180 days.

AUTHORITY TO MAKE AWARDS, CONTRACTS, AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF; REQUIRED APPROVALS

Section 81.304 is amended as follows:

§ 81.304 Definitions — (a) Standard forms of contract. * * *

(1) * * *

(xv) War Department Contract Form No. 14 Government-owned Equipment Rental Agreement. (See § 81.1314.)

(xvi) War Department Contract Form No. 15. Negotiated Electric Service Contract. (See § 81.1315.)

Section 81.305 is amended as follows:

§ 81.305 Making and approval of awards of contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders. * * *

(b) Awards requiring the approval of Director, Purchases Division. (1) The award of all contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders other than those specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of this section must be submitted for approval to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(2) If it is desired to execute a preliminary contract, as defined below, with a particular contractor, and the choice of contractor presents no real alternative, it shall not be necessary to obtain any approval pursuant to subparagraph (1) above. Such approval will, however, be obtained prior to the execution of the final definitive agreement, if required by subparagraph (1). The term "preliminary contract", as used in this subparagraph (2), refers to any type of tentative agreement (as, for example, a letter purchase order of the type set forth in § 81.1307) which, it is contemplated, will be subsequently superseded by a final definitive agreement which will obligate War Department funds in an estimated amount at least twice the amount obligated by the tentative agreement.

Section 81.308b is amended as follows:

§ 81.308b Correction of mistakes. Effecting amendment of contracts with the least possible delay to correct misunderstanding, mistakes, errors, and ambiguities will facilitate the prosecution of the war by expediting the procurement program and by giving contractors proper assurance that mistakes unavoidable in a war program as large and extensive as that now in progress, will be corrected expeditiously and fairly. Accordingly, mistakes may be corrected by supplemental agreement pursuant to Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001 as follows:

(a) Each chief of a supply service may, within the time prescribed by § 81.308f, enter into supplemental agreements correcting mistakes found by the chief of the supply service to be of the following types: (1) misunderstandings, mistakes, errors of the parties to a written agreement, or ambiguities therein, which consist solely of a failure to express in the written agreement the true agreement between them in accordance with the negotiations between them, or of a mutual mistake as to a material fact: (2) mistakes and errors of a contractor, even if unilateral which consist solely of the failure of the contractor, in good faith, to set forth in a bid or in a written agreement what he intended to include therein: Provided, That notice of the mistake is given by the contractor to the contracting officer at any time before completion of performance or termination of the contract: Provided further, That both as to such mutual mistakes and such unilateral mistakes, the effect of any change by such supplemental agreement to correct any such mistakes does not make an adjustment of $50,000 or more: And provided further, That where such contract was placed as a result of a formal or informal invitation to bid such change shall not result in the payment to the contractor of a sum in excess of the amount of any bid submitted by any other bidder upon substantially the same terms and conditions, except that if the contract was not originally placed on a basis of competition as to price but primarily on the basis of other considerations the imitation contained in this proviso shall not be applicable.

(b) In any other case where the chief of a supply service determines that it will facilitate the prosecution of the war to execute a supplemental agreement to correct a mistake, he will first obtain approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(c) Approval of the Director, Purchases Division, will not be required in the case of any supplemental agreement correcting a mistake, under which the Government receives adequate new legal consideration, regardless of whether the supplemental agreement involves an adjustment amounting to $50,000 or more, and regardless of the time of execution of such supplemental agreement.

Requests for approval by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of supplemental agreements to correct misunderstandings, mistakes, errors and ambiguities in contracts in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph will be accompanied by a full statement of the circumstances including all relevant papers or copies thereof. The evidence submitted shall show that an error or mistake was made or that a misunderstanding or ambiguity exists, in what it consists, and how it occurred, the true intent of the parties, and the effect of the mistake, if not corrected, upon the financial condition of the contractor. When this paragraph does not require that the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, be obtained, the chief of the supply service approving or executing such agreement will see that a similar statement is prepared with respect to each such supplemental agreement and that such statement and all relevant papers and evidences are carefully preserved. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 81.308g.

Sections 81.308e to 81.308g, inclusive, are added as follows:

§ 81.308e Extension of time for performance. The chief of each supply service may authorize contracting officers designated by him to extend by supplemental agreement within the time prescribed by § 81.308f, the time fixed for performance in any contract and to waive accrued liquidated damages. Each such supplemental agreement shall be entered into pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001. If the contractor shall be in default by reason of delay at the date thereof, such supplemental agreement shall be subject to the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, unless the contracting officer shall find that such delay caused no substantial damage to the Government (as distinguished from the accrual of liquidated damages under the contract). For the purposes of this paragraph, the contractor shall not in any case be considered in default by reason of delay if such delay is excusable within the meaning of the contract. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 81.308g.

§ 81.308f Amendment of contracts after final administrative determination of amount due. The authority granted to the chiefs of the supply services pursuant to §§ 81.308b, 81.308e, 81.379, and 81.380 will not be exercised after the contracting officer has administratively determined the final amount due under the contract by communicating his determination to the contractor or by the approval of a final voucher therefor, except that if the contracting officer's determination is, by the terms of the contract, subject to review by the Secretary of War, or his duly authorized representative, such authority may be exercised at any time prior to final action on such review if the contractor perfects his right to such review. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 81.308g.

§ 81.308g Supplements and change orders dealing with or directly affecting matters pending before the General Accounting Office in respect of the amended contract. Chiefs of supply services may not approve or authorize the execution of any supplemental agreement or change order which deals with or directly affects the claim under the contract amended thereby which has been transmitted to the General Accounting Office, or any dispute under the contract which has been referred to the General Accounting Office. This limitation of authority is applicable to action taken pursuant to §§ 81.306 (c) and (d), 81.308a, 81.308b, 81.308e, 81.379, and 81.380 notwithstanding any authority granted to the chiefs of the supply services by those paragraphs respectively. In requesting any approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, required by these regulations, the chiefs of the several supply services will call attention to any matters pending before the General Accounting Office with respect to the contract in question, or any closely related contract which may be affected or dealt with by the supplementary agreement, change order, or action, approval of which is requested, and will state fully the circumstances in any such pending matter.

FORMALITIES IN CONNECTION WITH EXECUTION OF CONTRACTS AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF

Paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 81.309 are amended as follows:

§ 81.309 Numbering contracts. * * *

(b) System. Contract numbers will be placed in the upper right-hand corner and will consist of the following in the order named:

(1) The capital letter "W", representing the War Department.

(2) Station number representing the station or office as published in Finance Circulars.

(3) The letter or letters representing the supply service. The Chief of Finance will be promptly notified of any change in the letter symbol or of the adoption of a new symbol.

(4) A serial number, separated from the above by a hyphen, commencing with the number 1 and continuing in succession indefinitely, without regard to the fiscal year. When the serial number reaches the limit of five digits (99,999), a new series will be used beginning with the serial number 1 and followed by the capital letter "A". Should additional series become necessary, they will be distinguished by the capital letters "B", "C", "D", etc., as may be required.

NOTE: The foregoing applies only to the numbering of supply service contracts and not to the numbering of service command contracts. As to the latter, see § 81.318b (e).

(c) Examples. Based upon paragraph (b) above, the following is the number of the first numbered contract executed by the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot:

W-669qm-1.

Section 81.313 (b) is amended as follows:

§ 81.313 Form of supplemental agreements and change orders. * * *

(b) Change orders. (1) Change orders will be in the form of letters addressed to the contractor, and will specify the number of the contract concerned, the changes to be made, the increase or decrease in price and time for performance, and such other terms as may be necessary. Change orders will bear the same identification as the contract which is thereby modified or amended and will be lettered or numbered, whichever method is authorized by the chief of the supply service concerned, in the order in which the modifications or amendments to the contract are issued. One continuous series of lettering or numbering as the case may be will be used for each contract, even though it is modified or amended both by supplemental agreements and by change orders.

(2) In order to avoid the work involved in duplicating change orders, the following procedure may, in the discretion of the chief of the supply service, be adopted with respect to any or all contracts:

(i) Change orders will be classified as primary change orders and secondary change orders.

(ii) Primary change orders are those which specify an increase or decrease in price or make any other material change in the terms of the contract.

(iii) All other change orders (including those in which an increase or decrease in price will be necessitated, but the amount of which is not known at the time of the change order) are secondary change orders.

(iv) Primary change orders will be numbered in accordance with subparagraph (1) above.

(v) Secondary change orders will be given only such identification as the chief of the supply service shall prescribe.

(f) Example. Based upon paragraph * * * is based on a total estimated amount

(vi) Secondary change orders will not be included in the continuous series of lettering or numbering referred to in the last sentence of subparagraph (1).

(vii) If a secondary change order is executed and it subsequently becomes apparent that the change made thereby will result in an increase or decrease in price, a supplemental agreement will be executed to evidence such increase or decrease.

DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS AND ORDERS THEREUNDER

Paragraph (b) is added to § 81.317a as follows:

§ 81.317a Supplemental agreements and change orders. (a) Signed numbers and copies of supplemental agreements and change orders will be distributed in the same manner as is prescribed for the contracts to which they pertain and the contracting officer will note on his retained copy of the supplemental agreement or change order the date on which the contractor's number was delivered or mailed to him. When, pursuant to § 81.313 (a) (2), a single supplemental agreement is executed to modify more than one contract, the following procedure will be followed:

(1) The original signed number will be forwarded to the General Accounting Office.

(2) The duplicate signed number will be filed with the contracting officer who supervised the execution thereof or with the chief of the supply service concerned and correct copies of the supplemental agreement will be furnished to the contracting officers under all of the contractors affected by the supplemental agreement.

(3) The triplicate signed number will be forwarded to the contractor.

(4) An authenticated copy will be forwarded to the disbursing officer under each contract affected by the supplemental agreement.

(b) If the alternative procedure of numbering change orders provided for in § 81.313 (b) (2) is adopted, only primary change orders will be distributed in accordance with subparagraph (1) above. Secondary change orders will be given only such distribution as the chief of the supply service concerned may prescribe.

CONTRACT PROCEDURE WITHIN THE SERVICE COMMANDS

Sections 81.318a and 81.318b have been redesignated § 81.390 and §81.391, respectively, and new §§ 81.318a and 81.318b are added as follows:

§ 81.318a Organization of service commands—(a) Functions of the service commands. The Commanding Generals of the service commands are the direct subordinates of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, and are his field representatives for the performance of the administrative, housing, house-keeping, hospitalization, and supply functions assigned to them. (See § 403.01 of the Services of Supply Organization Manual.)

(b) Relationship between the service commands and the supply services. The former offices of the special staff (including the quartermaster, engineer, ordnance officer, and signal officer) are under the complete jurisdiction of the Commanding General of each service command, and are an integral part of his headquarters; such offices are not to be considered field offices or agencies of the supply services. The supply services act as staff agencies of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, for the functions assigned to them in directing and supervising those functions in the service commands. Accordingly, they may issue instructions to the Commanding Generals of the service commands in their own names or under the authority of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, but they may not exercise direct command of the subordinates in the headquarters of a Commanding General of a service command (including the quartermaster, engineer, ordnance officer, and signal officer). (See § 403.02 of the Services of Supply Organization Manual.)

§ 81.318b Contract procedure—(a) Appointment of contracting officers. Commanding Generals of service commands are authorized to appoint contracting officers. Contracting officers so appointed may execute service command contracts as that term is defined in paragraph (b) below, as well as supply service contracts executed on behalf of a supply service as set forth in paragraph (c) below.

(b) Service command contracts. All contracts which are executed within a service command and which are to be paid for with funds made available to the Commanding Generals of the service commands by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, are to be regarded as service command contracts and not the contracts of any supply service. There appears to be considerable confusion in this matter when contracts are executed by the quartermaster or the signal officer on the staff of a Commanding General of a service command. The tendency seems to exist to regard such contracts as Quartermaster Corps or Signal Corps contracts, as the case may be. As pointed out in § 81.318a (b) the quartermaster and the signal officer at a post, camp, or station within a service command are under jurisdiction of the Commanding General of the service command and are not to be regarded as subordinates of the chief of any supply service. Contracts executed under the complete supervision of the service commanders and which are not financed with funds furnished directly by the supply services are also to be regarded as service command contracts. An illustration is contracts for the employment of contract surgeons (see paragraph 1, section II, Circular No. 206, War Department 1942).

(c) Supply service contracts executed by service commands. Frequently contracting officers within the service commands are requested to execute contracts on behalf of a supply service, and it is understood that such contracts are to be paid for out of supply service funds. Likewise, when a given item is not available at a depot, a representative of a service command may be given sufficient funds by the supply service to enable the service command to purchase the item in question. All such contracts, being financed with supply service funds and not with the funds made available to the service command by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces are to be regarded as supply service contracts and the contracting officer of the service command, in executing such contracts, is merely acting as agent for the supply service on whose behalf the contract is executed. As indicated in paragraph (a) of this section above, however, the authority of the contracting officer of the service command includes authority to execute such a supply service contract.

(d) Distribution of service command contracts. The provisions of §§ 81.315–81.318 are applicable to service command contracts. It is to be noted, however, that whenever any paragraph of that section requires a contract to be filed with the "chief of the supply service concerned" the intention is that it be filed with the Commanding General of the service command (See § 81.108 (e).) It is important that no service command contract (as that term is defined in paragraph (b) of this section) be forwarded to the Headquarters of the various supply services for filing.

(e) Numbering of service command contracts. (1) Contract numbers will be placed in the upper right-hand corner of service command contracts and will consist of the following in the order named:

(i) The capital letter "W", representing the War Department.

(ii) The station number, that is, the station or office as published in Finance circulars.

(iii) A symbol in parentheses to indicate the service command. This symbol will consist of the capital letters (S. C.) followed by a hyphen and a Roman numeral indicating in which service command the contract was executed. It is important that capital letters followed by periods and by the Roman numeral be used in order that no confusion will arise with Signal Corps contracts which bear the symbol "sc".

(iv) A serial number separated from the above by a hyphen, commencing with the number "1" and continuing in succession indefinitely without regard to the fiscal year.

(2) It is to be emphasized that the numbering procedure set forth in this paragraph is applicable only to service command contracts (as the term is defined in paragraph (b) of this section). When supply service contracts are executed within a service command (see paragraph (c) of this section), such contracts should be numbered as supply service contracts in accordance with the provisions of § 81.309 (b).

(3) It is desirable that a separate series be commenced for service command contracts (as defined in paragraph (b) of this section). This should be done not later than April 20, 1943. Supply service contracts executed by service commands will be continued in the old series.

(f) Example. Based upon paragraph (e) above, the following is the number of the first numbered contract executed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina: W–159 (S. C.–IV)–1. The foregoing is on the assumption that the contract is to be paid with funds allotted to the Fourth Service Command by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces.

GUARANTEES, LOANS AND COMMITMENTS, AND ADVANCE PAYMENTS

In § 81.321 (n) subparagraph (1) is rescinded and subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) are redesignated (1), (2), and (3), respectively, as follows:

§ 81.321 Advance payments. * * *

(n) Reports. In connection with advance payments, the supply services will make the following reports:

(1) Individual advance payment report. * * *

(2) Quarterly report. * * *

(3) Interim reports. * * *

MANDATORY AND OPTIONAL CONTRACT PROVISIONS

Section 81.338 is amended as follows:

§ 81.338 Plant protection clauses. In those cases where the Contracting Officer deems it necessary to retain some control as to the plant protective devices in a particular plant, the contract will contain a clause substantially similar to one of those set forth below. Such a clause will not normally be necessary in construction contracts.

Section 81.340 is amended as follows:

§ 81.340 Clauses for rental of gas cylinders. Every contract for the rental of gas cylinders will contain a clause substantially similar to one of the following:

Section 81.341 is amended as follows:

§ 81.341 Price adjustment based on production experience. The following articles provide for redetermination of price by formula (paragraph (a) of this section), price revision by negotiation (paragraph (b)), conversion of fixed-fee contract to fixed price basis (paragraph (c)), and incentive provisions in fixed-fee contracts (paragraph (d)). They may be used in accordance with the instructions in §§ 81.1220–81.1226.

(a) Redetermination of price by formula.

*Article * * . Redetermination of price by formula—(a) Agreement to redetermine price. The Government and the Contractor recognize that the costs of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution, and that the price fixed in Article * * * may therefore be too high. They therefore agree that the contract price fixed in Article * * * shall be redetermined in accordance with this Article on the basis of the actual experience of the Contractor in performing part of the contract. They agree that the cost of producing the first ____% of the items called for hereunder (hereinafter called the "preliminary run") will not necessarily be typical for the remainder of the contract. The cost of producing the next ____% (hereinafter called the "test run") shall therefore be used as the general basis for the redetermination of price.

(b) Estimate of costs. The Contractor represents that the contract price fixed in Article * * * is based on a total estimated cost of $_____, itemized as follows: [1]

A. Factory Cost
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses [2] (State basis of allocation)
Total Factory Cost
B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(c) Cost statements. (1) Within _____ days after the completion of the production of the "test run" the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data—

(i) Separate statements showing the costs of producing the "preliminary run" and the "test run" itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above:

(ii) Estimates of the cost of producing the items to be delivered during the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors; and

(iii) Proposed revised prices under the contract.

(2) The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract during the "preliminary run" and "test run." For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(d) Method of redetermination. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the Contracting Officer and the Contractor shall determine the costs of producing the "preliminary run" and the "test run" and the cost of producing the remainder of the items called for by the contract as indicated by the cost of production of the "test run" and the cost estimate submitted by the Contractor under section (c). Any disagreement as to the experienced costs or estimated costs shall be subject to Article * * * (Disputes).

(2) If the cost of producing the "preliminary run" and the "test run" plus the cost of production of the remainder of the items called for by the contract as determined under subsection (1) above, is less than the total estimated cost stated in section (b), the total price to be paid pursuant to Article * * * shall be reduced by the amount of the difference. The redetermined price shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement.

(e) Payment. Pending the redetermination of the contract price hereunder the Government shall pay for all items delivered hereunder at the price fixed in Article * * *. Upon the redetermination of the price hereunder the Contractor shall apply as a credit against payment for subsequent deliveries or shall repay to the Government, as the Contracting Officer may direct, an amount equal to the difference between the price paid on all items theretofore delivered and the redetermined price for such items; and the Government shall pay for all items thereafter delivered the redetermined price minus any such credit. If, before the price is redetermined hereunder, any amount paid under this contract has been included in any renegotiation agreement made under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, no refund or credit shall be required hereunder with respect to that amount.

(f) Renegotiation. Any redetermination of the contract price made under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

(b) Revision of entire price by negotiation.

*Article * * * Revision of entire price by negotiation*—(a) Agreement to revise price. The Government and the Contractor recognize that the costs of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution and that the contract price fixed in Article * * * may therefore be either too high or too low. They therefore agree that the contract price shall be revised upward or downward in accordance with this article on the basis of actual experience of the Contractor in producing --% of the items under this contract (hereinafter called the "trial run"). They recognize that the costs of performing that part of the contract will not be typical for the remainder of the contract, but will provide sufficient information and experience to permit revision of the price.

(b) Estimate of costs. The Contractor represents that the contract price fixed in Article * * * is based on a total estimated cost of $_____, itemized as follows: [1]

A. Factory Cost.
1. Direct materials
2. Direct productive labor
3. Direct engineering labor
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges
5. Indirect factory expenses [2]
(State basis of allocation)
Total Factory Cost
B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(c) Cost statements. (1) Within _____ days after the completion of the trial run, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data: [1]

[1] This breakdown may be altered to suit particular circumstances. Any reserves for contingencies should be stated separately and clearly identified.

[2] State separately the estimated amount of each of the following items included:
(a) Normal depreciation
(b) Special amortization

[3] Where it will be unduly difficult for the Contractor to submit the data in the form specified in paragraphs (i) and (ii), the following form may be substituted for these paragraphs, if the Contracting Officer is satisfied that it will provide reliable and sufficient data for the purposes of the article:

(i) Revised estimates of the cost of performing the entire contract, based upon the cost experience of the Contractor during the trial run and upon all other relevant factors, itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above, and showing separately any reserves for contingencies included in the estimate.

Paragraph (iii) will then be renumbered (ii).

(f) Renegotiation. Any revision of the and the Contractor agree that the fee fixed

Section 81.342 is amended as follows:

(C) Be eliminated through reductions in the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] or quired for the performance of this contract, unless exempt under or exempted pursuant

(i) Separate statements showing costs of production for the trial run, itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above.

(ii) Estimates of the cost of producing the items to be delivered during the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(iii) Proposed revised prices under the contract.

(2) The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(d) Negotiation for revision. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the Contractor and Contracting Officer shall negotiate in good faith to agree upon revised prices under this contract. The revised price may be different for different periods of the contract and may be in excess of or less than the price stated in Article * * * hereof. The agreement reached shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the revised price under the contract.

(2) If the Contracting Officer and Contractor fail to agree on revised prices under the contract within thirty days after the date for filing of the data by the Contractor under section (c) hereof, or such further period as may be fixed by agreement, the Contractor, if not in default, or the Government, may terminate the contract hereunder by written notice delivered within ten days after the expiration of said thirty day period or extension. Upon such termination by either party, the rights and obligations of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Article * * * hereof ("Termination for the Convenience of the Government"), except that the Contractor shall be allowed no profit for any uncompleted portion of the contract. If revised prices are not agreed upon and the contract is not terminated, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price fixed in Article * * * for the remainder of the contract.

(e) Payments. Until the contract price is revised hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price set forth in Article * * * for all articles delivered. If the contract price is revised upward hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the difference between the prices paid on all items theretofore delivered and the revised price for such items. If the contract price is revised downward hereunder an amount equal to the difference between the price paid on all items theretofore delivered and the revised price for such items, shall be applied as a credit against payments for subsequent deliveries or shall be applied in such other manner or repaid to the Government, as the Contracting Officer may direct. For all items delivered after any price revision hereunder, the Government shall pay the contractor the revised price, minus any such credit. If, before the price is redetermined hereunder, any amount paid under this contract has been included in any renegotiation agreement made under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, no refund or credit shall be required hereunder with respect to that amount.

(f) Renegotiation. Any revision of the contract price made under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

(c) Conversion to fixed price contract.

*Article * * . Conversion to fixed price contract. (a) The Government and the Contractor agree to convert this contract from a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis to a fixed price basis in accordance with this article.

(b) Within fifteen (15) days after the production of __% of the items covered by this contract, the Contractor will submit to the Contracting Officer the following data:[1]

(1) Statements showing the cost of producing all items theretofore completed for delivery for which cost figures are available, and such other statements as the Contracting Officer may require.

(2) Estimates of the cost of producing the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(3) Proposed prices for the items theretofore delivered and to be delivered during the remainder of the contract.

(c) Upon the filing of the data required by section (b) hereof, the Contractor and Contracting Officer will negotiate in good faith to agree upon a price or prices for this contract on a fixed price basis. In negotiating such prices consideration may be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the Contractor's costs during the preceding period and which are likely to affect such costs during the remainder of the contract and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which is reasonable for the contractor to earn under the contract. The agreement to convert may make the fixed price basis applicable to the entire contract, including performance before as well as after the effective date of the conversion; and it may provide for the treatment of any advance payments and reimbursements theretofore made to the Contractor as payments under the revised contract, for appropriate credit for deliveries theretofore made by him, and for releasing to the Contractor any interest or title of the Government in any materials and property acquired for the performance of the contract. The terms of the agreement shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement.

(d) Any conversion made or contract price fixed under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

Article * * *. Adjustment of fixed fee—(a) Agreement to adjust. The Government and the Contractor agree that the fee fixed in Article * * * hereof shall be adjusted in accordance with this Article in this Article the first _____% of the items to be produced hereunder is called the "preliminary run"; the next _____% thereof is called the "test run" and all items to be produced hereunder after the test run are called the "remainder of the contract".

(b) Basis of Adjustment. (1) Within _____ days after the production of the test run the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data:

(i) Separate itemized statements showing the costs of production of the preliminary run and the test run.

(ii) Estimates of the costs of producing the remainder of the contract, based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and all other relevant factors.

(2) Upon the filing of the foregoing data, the Contracting Officer and Contractor shall agree upon an estimate for the cost of producing the remainder of the contract (herein called the "target estimate") on the basis of the costs of production of the test run and the estimated costs submitted by the Contractor.

(c) Adjustment. (1) Upon the completion of the contract the Contractor shall submit itemized statements of the cost of producing the remainder of the contract. The Contracting Officer, after making such adjustments as he deems necessary thereto, shall determine the amount by which the Contractor had reduced the costs of producing the remainder of the contract below the target estimate by efficiency in buying, production or management or has increased such costs above the target estimate by its inefficiency in these respects. Using the amount of the reduction or increase of costs so determined, he shall compute the percentage of the target estimate which such reduction or increase represents.

(2) The Contracting Officer shall then adjust the fee on the basis of the percentage of such increase or reduction in costs in the following manner.

(i) For each 1% of such reduction in costs up to 10% the fee shall be increased by 1% of the dollar amount of the fee or for each 1% of such increase in costs up to 10% the fee shall be decreased by 1% of the dollar amount of the fee.

(ii) For each 1% of such reduction in costs beyond 10% the fee shall be increased by 2% of the dollar amount of the fee or for each 1% of increase in costs beyond 10% the fee shall be reduced by 2% of the dollar amount of the fee.

In no event shall the fee as adjusted be increased to more than 7% of the original estimated costs or be reduced to less than 1% of the original estimated cost.

(d) Books and records. The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds that it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(e) Disputes. Any disagreement with respect to the amount of the "target estimate" under section (b) (2), or the amount of the reduction or increase in costs under section (c) (1), or the computation of the adjustment of the fee under section (c) (2) shall be subject to Article * * * (Disputes).

[1] Where it will be unduly difficult for the Contractor to submit the data in the form specified in paragraphs (1) and (2), the following form may be substituted for these paragraphs, if the Contracting Officer is satisfied that it will provide reliable and sufficient data for the purposes of the article:

(1) Revised estimates of the cost of performing the entire contract, based upon the cost experience of the Contractor during the trial run and upon all other relevant factors, itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above, and showing separately any reserves for contingencies included in the estimate.

Paragraph (3) will then be renumbered (2).

Section 81.342 is amended as follows:

§ 81.342 Price renegotiation clauses. The following price renogtiation clauses will be used in accordance with § 81.1201 et seq.

(a) Form I.

[Form I] Renegotiation Pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(a) Upon the written demand of the Secretary, at such period or periods when, in the judgment of the Secretary, the profits accruing to the Contractor under this contract can be determined with reasonable certainty, the contract price will be renegotiated to eliminate therefrom any amount found as a result of such renegotiation to represent excessive profits. The demand of the Secretary shall fix a place for renegotiation and a time for commencement thereof not later than one year after the close of the fiscal year of the Contractor within which completion or termination of the contract, as determined by the Secretary, occurs.

(b) The Contractor will furnish to the Secretary such statements of actual costs of production and such other financial statements, at such times and in such form and detail, as the Secretary may prescribe, and will permit such audits and inspections of its books and records as the Secretary may request.

(c) The Government shall retain from amounts otherwise due the Contractor, or the Contractor shall repay to the Government if paid to him, any amount of the contract price found as a result of such renegotiation to represent excessive profits and not eliminated through reductions in contract price or otherwise, as the Secretary may direct.

(d) The Contractor will include in each subcontract made by it under this contract for an amount in excess of $100,000, the following provisions:

ARTICLE * * * Renegotiation pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(1) Upon the written demand of the Secretary, at such period or periods when, in the judgment of the Secretary, the profits accruing to _____ (subcontractor) under this contract can be determined with reasonable certainty, the Secretary and _____ (subcontractor) will renegotiate the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] to eliminate therefrom any amount found as a result of such renegotiation to represent excessive profits. The demand of the Secretary shall fix a place for renegotiation and a time for the commencement thereof not later than one year after the close of the fiscal year of the subcontractor within which completion or termination of the contract, as determined by the Secretary, occurs.

(2) _____ (subcontractor) will furnish to the Secretary such statements of actual costs or production and such other financial statements, at such times and in such form and detail, as the Secretary may prescribe, and will permit such audits and inspections of its books and records as the Secretary may request.

(3) Any amount of the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] found as a result of such renegotiation to represent excessive profits shall, as directed by the Secretary,—

(A) Be deducted by _____ (contractor) from payments otherwise due to _____ (subcontractor) under this contract; or

(B) Be paid by _____ (subcontractor) directly to the Government, if paid to him; or

(C) Be eliminated through reductions in the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] or otherwise.

(4) _____ (subcontractor) agrees that _____ (contractor) shall not be liable to _____ (subcontractor) for or on account of any amount paid to the Government by _____ (subcontractor) or deducted by _____ (contractor) from payments otherwise due under this contract, pursuant to directions from the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of this Article. Under its contract with the Government _____ (contractor) is obligated to pay or credit to the Government all amounts withheld by it from _____ (subcontractor) hereunder.

(5) _____ (subcontractor) agrees (a) upon _____ (subcontractor) direction of the Secretary, to include in any subcontract hereunder sections (1) to (6) inclusive of this Article, and (b) to make no subdivisions of any contract or subcontract for the purpose of evading the provisions of this section, and (c) to repay to the Government the amount of any reduction in the contract price of any such subcontract which results from renegotiation thereof by the Secretary, and which the Secretary directs _____ (subcontractor) to withhold from payments otherwise due under such subcontract and actually unpaid at the time _____ (subcontractor) receives such direction.

(6) As used in this Article—

(a) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of War or any duly authorized representative of the Secretary including the Contracting Officer.

(b) The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property, required for the performance of this contract, unless exempt under or exempted pursuant to section 403 (1) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act of 1942 as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(c) The terms "renegotiate" and "renegotiation" have the same meaning as in section 403 (b) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(d) The term "this contract" means this contract as modified from time to time.

(e) (1) The Contractor agrees to make no subdivisions of any contract or subcontract for the purpose of evading the provisions of this Article.

(2) If any renegotiation between the Secretary and any subcontractor pursuant to the provisions required by section (d) hereof results in a reduction of the contract price or fixed-fee of the subcontract, the Government shall retain from payments otherwise due to the Contractor, or the Contractor shall repay to the Government, as the Secretary may direct, the amount of such reduction which the Secretary directs the Contractor to withhold from payments otherwise due to the subcontractor under the subcontract and actually unpaid at the time the Contractor receives such direction.

(f) As used in this Article—

(1) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of War or any duly authorized representative of the Secretary, including the Contracting Officer.

(2) The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property, required for the performance of this contract, unless exempt under or exempted pursuant to section 403 (1) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act of 1942 as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(3) The term "renegotiate" and "renegotiation" have the same meaning as in section 403 (b) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(4) The term "this contract" means this contract as modified from time to time.

(b) Form II.

[Form II] Renegotiation Pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act as amended, 1942.

(a) The Contractor will include in each subcontract made by it under this contract for an amount in excess of $100,000, the following provisions:

ARTICLE * * *. Renegotiation pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended

(1) Upon the written demand of the Secretary, at such period or periods when, in the judgment of the Secretary, the profits accruing to _____ (subcontractor) under this contract can be determined with reasonable certainty, the Secretary and _____ (subcontractor) will renegotiate the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] to eliminate therefrom any amount found as a result of such renegotiation to represent excessive profits. The demand of the Secretary shall fix a place for renegotiation and a time for the commencement thereof not later than one year after the close of the fiscal year of the subcontractor within which completion or termination of the contract, as determined by the Secretary, occurs.

(2) _____ (subcontractor) will furnish to the Secretary such statements of actual costs of production and such other financial statements, at such times and in such form and detail, as the Secretary may prescribe, and will permit such audits and inspections of its books and records as the Secretary may request.

(3) Any amount of the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] found as a result of such renegotiation to represent excessive profits shall, as directed by the Secretary—

(A) Be deducted by _____ (contractor) from payments otherwise due to _____ (subcontractor) under this contract; or

(B) Be paid by _____ (subcontractor) directly to the Government, if paid to him or

(C) Be eliminated through reductions in the contract price [or fixed-fee hereunder] or otherwise.

(4) _____ (subcontractor) agrees that _____ (contractor) shall not be liable to _____ (subcontractor) for or on account of any amount paid to the Government by _____ (subcontractor) or deducted by _____ (contractor) from payments otherwise due under this contract, pursuant to directions from the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of this Article. Under its contract with the Government _____ (contractor) is obligated to pay or credit to the Government all amounts withheld by it from _____ (subcontractor) hereunder.

(5) _____ (subcontractor) agrees (a) upon _____ (subcontractor) direction of the Secretary, to include in any subcontract hereunder sections (1) to (6) inclusive of this Article and (b) to make no subdivisions of any contract or subcontract for the purpose of evading the provisions of this section, and (c) to repay to the Government the amount of any reduction in the contract price of any such subcontract which results from renegotiation thereof by the Secretary, and which the Secretary directs ---------- to withhold from payments (subcontractor)

otherwise due under such subcontract and actually unpaid at the time ---------- (subcontractor)
receives such direction.

(6) As used in this Article—

(a) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of War or any duly authorized representative of the Secretary, including the Contracting officer.

(b) The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property, required for the performance of this contract unless exempt under or exempted pursuant to section 403 (1) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act of 1942 as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(c) The terms "renegotiate" and "renegotiation" have the same meaning as in section 403 (b) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(d) The term "this contract" means this contract as modified from time to time.

(b) (1) The Contractor agrees to make no subdivision of any contract or subcontract for the purpose of evading the provisions of this Article.

(2) If any renegotiation between the Secretary and any subcontractor pursuant to the provisions required by section (a) hereof results in a reduction of the contract price or fixed-fee of the subcontract, the Government shall retain from payments otherwise due to the Contractor, or the Contractor shall repay to the Government, as the Secretary may direct, the amount of such reduction which the Secretary directs the Contractor to withhold from payments otherwise due to the subcontractor under the subcontract and actually unpaid at the time the Contractor receives such direction.

(c) As used in this Article—

(1) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of War or any duly authorized representative of the Secretary, including the Contracting Officer.

(2) The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property, required for the performance of this contract, unless exempt under or exempted pursuant to section 403 (1) of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act of 1942 as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(3) The terms "renegotiate" and "renegotiation" have the same meaning as in section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(4) The term "this contract" means this contract as modified from time to time.

Section 81.351 is amended as follows:

§ 81.351 Price adjustment articles. The price adjustment articles set forth in paragraphs (a) to (c) of this section may be used when it is desired to provide for price and adjustment under certain circumstances.

Article • • • Price adjustment for costs of rubber and synthetic rubber. (a) In the performance of this contract, the Contractor will use the following types and estimated quantities of rubber or synthetic rubber at the following estimated prices:

Type	Estimated Quantities	Estimated Price per Pound	Total Estimated price

(b) The Government, or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, by allocation of material or sources of supply or other action, requires the Contractor to purchase any of such material required for the performance of this contract at a price which is more or less than the above estimated price therefor, the parties will make an equitable adjustment in the contract price for such increase or decrease in the cost of such material to the Contractor, in accordance with section (c).

(c) The Contractor will keep accurate records based on his regular system of inventory accounting, of all such material purchased for the performance of this contract and of the prices paid therefor. After the Contractor has obtained all of such material needed hereunder, he shall promptly submit to the Contracting Officer a statement showing the quantities of such material purchased hereunder and the actual prices paid therefor. The Contracting Officer may agree with the Contractor upon such adjustment, if any, in the contract price hereunder as he deems justified, but no upward adjustment (1) shall be based upon any price for such material in excess of any maximum price established by the Office of Price Administration and in effect at the time of its purchase, or (2) shall exceed the amount of increase in price actually paid by the Contractor, as determined by the Contracting Officer. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute shall be determined in accordance with Article • • • (Disputes). The adjustment shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract.

(b) Price adjustment for freight costs on allocations.

Article • • •. Price adjustment for freight costs on allocations. (a) The Contractor represents that the contract price is based on procuring any steel needed for the performance of this contract from the plant of the ---------- Company located at ---------- at a net cost to the Contractor of $---------- per ton for freight.

(b) If as a result of priority or allocation orders by any Government agency the Contractor is unable to procure all or any part of the steel needed for the performance of this contract from that source and is required to obtain all or part of such steel from some other point of origin, the parties will make an equitable adjustment in the contract price for any increase or decrease in freight costs to the Contractor resulting from such change in source, in accordance with section (c).

(c) The Contractor will notify the Contracting Officer within 30 days after it is first required to obtain steel from some other source, or within such further period as the Contracting Officer may allow before the date of final settlement of the contract. The Contractor will keep accurate records, based on his regular system of inventory accounting, of all such material so purchased for the performance of this contract and of the freight paid thereon. After the Contractor has obtained all of such material needed hereunder, he shall promptly submit to the Contracting Officer a statement showing the quantities of such material purchased hereunder and actual freight paid thereon. The Contracting Officer may agree with the Contractor for such adjustment, if any, in the contract price as he deems justified. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute will be determined in accordance with Article • • • (Disputes). The adjustment shall be evidenced by supplemental agreement to this contract.

(c) Price adjustments for changes in delivery schedules.

Article • • • Price adjustments for changes in delivery schedules. (a) If the Government reduces the rate of deliveries hereunder by partial termination for the convenience of the Government, or if, without fault or negligence on the part of the Contractor, the Government or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, by any preference, priority or allocation order, or by any other act, at any time prevents the Contractor from delivering any of the items under this contract in accordance with the delivery schedules then in effect, and such reduction or delay so changes or interrupts the Contractor's schedules of production as substantially to affect the cost of any of the items procured hereunder the Government will make an equitable adjustment in the contract price and time for performance hereunder.

(b) The Contractor shall assert any claim for adjustment under this Article within thirty (30) days after the date any such reduction is ordered or any such delay first occurs or within such further period as the Contracting Officer may allow before the date of final settlement of the contract. The Contracting Officer may agree with the Contractor upon such adjustment, if any, in the contract price or time of performance hereunder or both, as he deems justified. If the parties fail to agree as to the cause of the delay or upon the adjustment to be made the dispute shall be determined in accordance with Article • • • (Disputes. The adjustment shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract.

Two sentences are added at the end of § 81.352 as follows:

§ 81.352 Delays-damages clause. • • •

If desired the portion of paragraph (b) of the above clause, commencing with the word "and" in the fifth line and ending with the word "Contractor" in the fifteenth line of that paragraph, may be eliminated. In such event the "(b)" in the third line of that paragraph will be eliminated, the comma after the word "define" in the fifth line will be changed to a period, and the word "the" in the fifteenth line will be changed to "The".

Section 81. 352a is amended as follows:

§ 81.382a Provision for liquidated damages. Except with the permission of the chief of the supply service concerned (which may be granted with respect to contracts individually or by class), or in accordance with general instructions given by him, no contract shall provide for liquidated damages in the event of default. Where a contract provides for liquidated damages and a default takes place, action will be taken, subject to the provisions of §§ 81.308e, 81.379 and 81.380, promptly on behalf of the Government to enforce any remedies available under the contract. So far as possible, such action will be taken in such manner as will prevent the inequitable accumulation of liquidated damages.

Paragraphs (c) and (d) are added to § 81.353 as follows:

§ 81.353 Walsh-Healey Act; representations and stipulations. • • •

(c) Minimum wage determinations under the Walsh-Healey Act. In the event that a minimum wage determination has been made for the industry involved, the contract should contain a reference thereto. The following language is suggested:

Minimum wages payable by the Contractor pursuant to the foregoing stipulations are those determined by the Secretary of Labor to be the prevailing minimum wages in the Industry, namely, ------ cents per hour and -------- dollars per week of 40 hours.

In the event that no such determination has been made, it is suggested that a statement to that effect should be inserted in the contract.

(d) Incorporation by reference of Walsh-Healey Act stipulations. By Circular Letter No. 12–42, dated January 4, 1943, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor permitted the incorporation of the Walsh-Healey Act representations and stipulations by reference. Accordingly, notwithstanding the provisions of that portion of this section which precedes paragraph (a), such representations and stipulations may be incorporated by reference. The following language is suggested.

The representations and stipulations required by section 1 of the Act of June 30, 1936 (Walsh-Healey Act, Public No. 846, 74th Congress) to be included in all contracts therein specified are hereby incorporated and made a part of this contract with the same force and effect as if fully set forth in the contract.

If desired, the following sentence may be added:

Such representations and stipulations shall be subject to all applicable regulations, determinations, and exemptions of the Secretary of Labor now or hereafter in effect. (Compare § 353.1).

The provisions of paragraph (c) of this section are applicable whether the representations and stipulations are set forth in full or are incorporated by reference.

In § 81.357 paragraphs (b) and (e) are amended as follows:

§ 81.357 Tax articles in fixed price (lump sum) contracts. • • •

(b) Short form tax article. In purchase orders and contracts where the estimated time of the performance of the purchase order or contract does not exceed 60 days the following short form of tax article may be employed or a tax article may be omitted. Attention is again directed to the necessity of including in each contract (see § 81.358) suitable provisions to specify any taxes to be excluded from or included in the contract price otherwise than as provided in such tax article.

• • • • • •

(e) Appropriate tax articles. The Chief of any Supply Service may authorize the omission of the tax articles set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section from any contract where they are plainly inapplicable or inappropriate. In any class or classes of contracts for services where a major part of the cost of performance consists of payroll expense, e. g., stevedoring contracts, the Chief of any Supply Service may authorize the inclusion of a provision for price adjustment in the event of changes in payroll taxes with respect to such services. The form of any such provision in general should be similar to the provision found in paragraph (b) of the tax article set out in paragraph (a) of this section but should not be made applicable to taxes other than those paid with respect to the wages of the employees of the particular contractor.

Section 81.359 is amended as follows:

§ 81.359 Telephone messages. Every cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Telephone messages (including teletype and facsimile, when authorized by the Contracting Officer to be installed) sent by the Contractor or its representatives, in connection with this contract, shall be paid by the Contractor tax free. Such payments by the Contractor shall be accompanied by a tax exemption certificate.

Section 81.360 is amended as follows:

§ 81.360 Periodic adjustment of price and exemption from renegotiation. The following articles for periodic adjustment of price will be used in accordance with §§ 81.1240–81.1247.

• • • • •

Section 81.361 is rescinded, the regulations contained therein having been included in § 81.351 (c) and new § 81.361 is added as follows:

§ 81.361 Short term pricing. The following article for revision, after part performance, of the contract price for the remainder of the contract may be used in accordance with §§ 81.1230–81.1236.

(a) Revision of future prices by negotiation.

Article • • • Revision of future prices by negotiation—(a) Agreement to revise price. The Government and the Contractor agree that after the delivery of ——% of the articles hereunder (herein called the "initial period") the contract price fixed in Article • • • shall be revised upward or downward for deliveries after the initial period (called herein the "remainder of the contract") in accordance with this Article.

(b) Cost statements. (1) Within ------ days before the completion of the initial period, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data:

(i) Itemized statements showing costs of production during the preceding part of the initial period.

(ii) Estimates of the cost of producing the items to be delivered during the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(iii) Proposed revised prices for the remainder of the contract.

(2) The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(c) Negotiation for revision. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (b) hereof, the Contractor and Contracting Officer shall negotiate in good faith to agree upon revised prices for the remainder of this contract. The revised price may be different for different periods of the contract and may be in excess of or less than the price stated in Article • • • hereof. The agreement reached shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement of this contract stating the revised price for the remainder of the contract.

(2) If the Contracting Officer and Contractor fail to agree on revised prices for the remainder of the contract within thirty (30) days after the date for filing of the data by the Contractor under section (b) hereof, or such further period as may be fixed by agreement, the Contractor, if not in default, or the Government may terminate the contract hereunder by written notice delivered within ten days after the expiration of said thirty day period or extension. Upon such termination by either party, the rights and obligations of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Article • • • hereof ("Termination for the Convenience of the Government"), except that the Contractor shall be allowed no profit for any uncompleted portion of the contract. If revised prices are not agreed upon and the contract is not so terminated, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price fixed in Article • • • for the remainder of the contract.

(d) Payments. Until the contract price is revised hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price set forth in Article • • • for all articles delivered after the initial period. If the contract price for the remainder of the contract is revised upward hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the difference between the price paid on all items delivered after the initial period and the revised price for such items. If the contract price for the remainder of the contract is revised downward hereunder an amount equal to the difference between the price paid on all items delivered after the initial period and the revised price for such items, shall be applied as a credit against payments for subsequent deliveries or shall be applied in such other manner or repaid to the Government as the Contracting Officer may direct. For all items delivered after any price revision hereunder, the Government shall pay the Contractor the revised price, minus any such credit.

• • • • • •

(f) Renegotiation. Any revision of the contract price made under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

Section 81.363 is redesignated § 81.364 and a new § 81.363 is added as follows:

§ 81.363 Disposition of Government-owned property by contractors. There may be inserted in any contract a clause substantially as follows:

It is recognized that during the course of the performance of this contract, certain machine tool equipment, processing equipment, manufacturing aids, raw materials, manufactured materials or other materials or facilities which are owned by the Government will be in the custody of the Contractor; and that it may become desirable to have such items transferred to other contractors having war contracts. Accordingly, whenever the Contracting Officer shall so direct, the Contractor shall, and is hereby authorized on behalf of the Government to, sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any such machine tool equipment, processing equipment, manufacturing aids raw materials, manufactured materials or other materials or facilities to any individual or corporation upon such terms and conditions as the Contracting Officer shall specify.

In connection with the above clause, see § 83.707 (e)

§ 81.364 Marking of shipping containers. Every supply contract will contain a clause substantially as follows (see § 81.1101):

* * * * *

TERMINATION OF FIXED PRICE (LUMP SUM) CONTRACTS—TERMINATION UPON DEFAULT OF CONTRACTOR

Section 81.379 is amended as follows:

§ 81.379 Steps to be taken in event of default. (a) The rigid enforcement of contract provisions imposing liquidated damages on contractors for failure to perform within specified periods, or authorizing termination of contracts for default, has been found in many instances to impede the prosecution of the war. The exercise by the several chiefs of supply services of discretion to take such action as may seem to them fair and equitable under all the circumstances will expedite the procurement of necessary war materiel and facilitate the prosecution of the war. For the foregoing reasons, authority is delegated to and confirmed in the chief of each supply service to authorize contracting officers under his command, subject to such limitations as the chief of the supply service may establish, to take any of the following courses in the event of default of the Contractor:

(1) Permit the contractor to proceed and to charge the contractor with the actual damages resulting from the default. If the contract provides for liquidated damages, such damages and not actual damages must be charged.

(2) Enter into a supplemental agreement with the Contractor's surety providing for the completion of performance of the contract and for payment therefor. Such supplemental agreement should clearly state that all rights against the Contractor are reserved so far as the surety does not undertake to cure the effect of the defaults by the Contractor.

(3) Terminate the contract:

(i) Under any provision of the contract permitting termination in the event of default, in which case the provisions of § 81.380 shall be applicable. In exercising the authority to terminate for default due regard should be given to the preservation of rights against any surety on any performance bond.

(ii) Under any contract article providing for termination for the convenience of the Government, when the defaults of the Contractor have not been gross or wilful, and have not caused substantial injury to the Government, if the Contracting Officer shall find that the use of that termination article will facilitate the prosecution of the war and be equitable under all the circumstances.

(4) Extend by supplemental agreement the time fixed in the contract for performance in the manner provided in § 81.308e, and within the time prescribed by § 81.308f, if the default consists of failure to perform within the time specified by the contract. In general, it is not the policy of the Government to terminate contracts for default under the stringent provisions of a delays-damages article, in a manner to bring about a forfeiture or a severe loss on the part of the Contractor, merely because, at a time when the Government desires to terminate its contract for reasons not based upon the defaults of the Contractor, the Contractor happens to be in technical default under the contract. Attention is directed as to the provisions of § 81.308g.

Section 81.380 is amended as follows:

§ 81.380 Steps to be taken in event of termination because of default. (a) If termination is effected pursuant to a contract provision substantially similar to that set forth in § 81.352 or Article 9 of the contract form contained in § 81.1302, the chief of a supply service may, but it is not required to, pursue the remedies provided for in such contract provision or available by law. In lieu of making use of such remedies he may within the time prescribed by § 81.308f, if he finds that to do so will facilitate the prosecution of the war, make a supplemental agreement with the Contractor and relieve the Contractor of liability which would result from the enforcement of such remedies. Such an agreement may be entered into only with the prior approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces (obtained in the manner provided in § 81.308a) except where the chief of a supply service shall find any one of the following facts:

(1) That the Government no longer has need for the supplies, services, or construction called for by the contract;

(2) That the supplies or services, undelivered because of the contractor's default, can be obtained from some source other than the Contractor on a basis as favorable as that set forth in the contract or that the construction provided for in the contract can be accomplished on terms substantially as favorable to the Government as though performed under the original contract;

(3) That for reasons of policy the supply service wishes to buy supplies of the type covered by the contract on terms more expensive or less favorable to the Government than those set forth in the terminated contract. (For example, the supply service may desire to buy from particular producers or in particular geographical areas in order to distribute war work more widely despite any extra expense involved. The excess expense in such a case should not equitably be charged to the Contractor);

(4) That any excess cost charged to the Contractor would be nominal;

(5) That the Contractor currently employs less than 100 employees or was recommended as a prime contractor by the Smaller War Plants Division, War Production Board, has other war contracts existing or prospective, and that enforcement of the remedies provided in the contract would materially impair his ability to perform such contracts.

Section 81.318a is redesignated § 81.390 as follows:

§ 81.390 Assignments — (a) Basic statutes. * * *

(b) Assignment of Claims Act of 1940. * * *

(c) Assignments by operation of law. * * *

(d) Transfer of entire business. * * *

(e) Corporate mergers. * * *

(f) Recognition of assignments prohibited by revised statutes. * * *

(g) In connection with the assignment of claims. * * *

Section 81.318b is redesignated § 81.391 and amended as follows:

§ 81.391 Charges for telegraph, cable, and radio messages in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. Pursuant to the provisions of Public Law, 78th Congress, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors are no longer entitled to send telegraph, cable or radio messages at government rates.

Section 81.392 is added as follows:

§ 81.392 Handling defaults and threatened defaults by suppliers and subcontractors under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts. (a) The following procedures are established to assure to the Government the maximum amount of protection and salvage in cases where suppliers or subcontractors of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contractors fail or refuse to perform their obligations under purchase orders or subcontracts, or threaten to do so:

(1) In general, it is the responsibility of the prime contractor to administer and police his purchase orders and subcontracts; and nothing herein contained shall be construed to remove, lessen or impair such responsibility. In case of a threatened breach of contract by a supplier or subcontractor, it is the duty of the prime contractor to use all lawful means employed by businessmen in the trade to obtain performance. This will normally include the sending of a reminder to the supplier or subcontractor that compliance with contract terms is expected and that the supplier or subcontractor will be held to strict accountability for breach; personal interviews where feasible; and similar steps. It is also the duty of the prime contractor to take all steps reasonably necessary to assure that he will not lose contract rights through waiver or estoppel.

(2) Where default is threatened by a supplier or subcontractor because of bona fide misunderstandings or differences between him and the prime contractor which appear to be capable of fair settlement, the prime contractor will attempt, through negotiation, to obtain such settlement. But no settlement involving any change in the terms of a purchase order or subcontract previously approved by the Contracting Officer shall be made without the written approval of the Contracting Officer.

(3) The prime contractor will notify the Contracting Officer promptly of any situation which may require the issuance of a purchase order or subcontract to another supplier or subcontractor for supplies or services covered by a purchase order or subcontract as to which default is in prospect or has occurred. Such additional purchase order or subcontract may be issued when the successful and speedy completion of the prime contractor's work is imperilled by default of a supplier or subcontractor. The prime cotnractor will maintain full and accurate records of cost under such additional purchase order or subcontract for the purpose, among others, of establishing a claim for damages against the defaulting supplier or subcontractor. He will also prepare and keep careful notes of all other information pertinent to the case which may be of assistance in the event of a lawsuit.

(4) Where a supplier or subcontractor has defaulted, and a claim arises in favor of the prime contractor, the latter will attempt to negotiate and settle the claim on reasonable terms whenever it appears that a fair settlement may be preferable to litigation. The prime contractor will keep the Contracting Officer informed of the progress of such settlement negotiations. The Contracting Officer shall have authority to approve a settlement and no settlement agreement will be made without his written approval.

(5) When, in the opinion of the prime contractor, further efforts at settlement will be ineffectual, he will so notify the Contracting Officer. If the Contracting Officer concurs in this opinion, he will direct the prime contractor to assemble all the papers pertinent to the claim, and to make or obtain any affidavits or other records of the transaction, and to prepare any necessary report on the claim. The Contracting Officer will forward this record, together with his own report and recommendation, to the Litigation Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, through the chief of the supply service concerned.

(6) The Judge Advocate General may from time to time in the further handling of the claim request cooperation and assistance from the prime contractor, the Contracting Officer, and the chief of the supply service concerned, and will in some cases require the Contracting Officer to obtain assignment, from the prime contractor to the United States, of the defaulted purchase order or subcontract. No such assignment will be obtained without the approval of The Judge Advocate General.

(7) If the matter is to be forwarded to the General Accounting Office by The Judge Advocate General it will be forwarded through the Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL PURCHASES

In § 81.608 paragraph (b) is separated into paragraphs (b) and (c), both paragraphs being amended, and paragraph (c) is redesignated paragraph (d) as follows:

FEDERAL, STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

In § 81.810 the item pertaining to Colorado is amended as follows:

LABOR

EIGHT-HOUR LAW OF 1912

Sections 81.904 to 81.914, inclusive, are rescinded and the following §§ 81.904 to 81.912, inclusive, are substituted therefor:

§ 81.904 Basic law. The Act requires that, in every contract to which it is applicable, a provision must be inserted that no laborer or mechanic doing any part of the work contemplated by the contract in the employ of a contractor or any subcontractor, shall be required or permitted to work more than 8 hours in any one calendar day upon such work unless such mechanic or laborer is compensated for all hours worked in excess of 8 hours in any one calendar day at not less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ times the basic rate of pay. Act of June 19, 1912 (37 Stat. 137), as amended by section 5 (b) Act of June 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 679) and section 303 Act of September 9, 1940 (54 Stat. 884), 40 U. S. C. 324, 325, 325–A; M. L. 1939 and Supp. I, secs. 743, 745.

(a) Form of provision. The form of the provision to be used in contracts to which the Act applies is set out in § 81.346.

§ 81.905 Applicability of eight-hour law. The basic law applies to all War Department contracts which may require or involve the employment of laborers or mechanics either by the prime contractor or any subcontractor, with the following exceptions:

(a) Exceptions; supply contracts. The law does not apply to supply contracts, such contracts ordinarily being subject to the Walsh-Healey Act where the amount involved is in excess of $10,000.00 (§§ 81.916 to 81.961a).

(b) Exceptions; miscellaneous contracts. Where the same class of work is not, as a general rule, being performed by the Government, contracts for any of the following classes of work are not covered by the Act.

(1) Contracts for transportation by land or water.

(2) Contracts for the transmission of intelligence.

(3) Contracts for the construction or repair of levees or revetments necessary for protection against floods or overflows on the navigable waters of the United States.

(4) Contracts for supplies or for such materials or articles as may usually be bought in the open market, whether such supplies, materials or articles are made to conform to particular specifications or not (except armor and armor plate).

COPELAND ("ANTI-KICKBACK") ACT

§ 81.906 Basic law. The Act provides that whoever shall induce any person employed in work subject to the Act to give up any part of the compensation to which he is entitled under his contract of employment by force, intimidation, threat of procuring dismissal from such employment or any other manner whatsoever, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than 5 years, or both. Act of June 13, 1934, (48 Stat. 948) 40 U.S.C.A. secs. 276 (b) and (c) as amended by Reorganization Plan No. IV, effective June 30, 1940, (54 Stat. 1236) in accordance with sec. 4 of H. J. Res. 551 (Pub. Res. 75) approved June 4, 1940, sec. 4, (54 Stat. 231)—5 U.S.C. 133u.

(a) Form of provision. The form of the provision required by regulation in contracts to which the Act applies is set out in § 81.344. (Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations 2.6.)

§ 81.907 Applicability of anti-rebate law—(a) Character of contracts. Generally the Act applies to contracts and subcontracts for the construction, prosecution, completion or repair of any public building, public work, or building or work financed in whole or in part by loans or grants from the United States.

(b) Cost plus contracts. The Act applies to contracts for such work entered into upon a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis or otherwise, with or without advertising for proposals, as well as to contracts entered into upon a lump sum basis.

(c) Exceptions. The Act does not apply to supply contracts, such contracts ordinarily being subject to the Walsh-Healey Act where the amount is in excess of $10,000 (see §§ 81.916–81.961a); nor does it apply ordinarily to installation or maintenance work done for the account of the Government in connection with and as an incident to supply contracts.

(d) Determination of applicability. Since the primary factor for determining whether or not the Act applies is the nature of the work contemplated in the contract and since this same factor is involved in determining whether or not the Davis-Bacon Act applies, reference is here made to § 81.911 which is equally applicable to this section.

§ 81.908 Procedure. Pursuant to the provisions of the Act, the Secretary of Labor has prescribed certain regulations made effective April 30, 1942 which govern the procedure to be followed in connection with contracts that are subject to the Act, and the Davis-Bacon Act (§ 81.910 et seq.); also with regard to certain types of authorized deductions and the method of securing approval thereof. The substance of the pertinent regulations follows:

(a) Weekly affidavit with respect to payment of wages. Each contractor or subcontractor engaged in work subject to the Act is required to furnish each week a sworn affidavit with respect to the wages paid each of its employees (which shall not be deemed to apply to persons in classifications higher than that of laborer and mechanic and those who are the immediate supervisors of such employees) engaged on the work covered by the Act during the preceding weekly payroll period. The affidavit shall be executed and sworn to by the contractor or subcontractor who supervises the payment of wages and shall be in the following form:

STATE OF_____
*County of*_____ ss:

I, _____ (Name of party signing affidavit), _____ (title) being duly sworn, do depose and say: That I pay or supervise the payment of the persons employed by _____ (contractor or subcontractor) on the _____ (building or work); that the attached payroll sets out accurately and completely the name, occupation, and hourly wage rate of each person so employed for the weekly payroll period from the_____day of_____, 194__, to the _____ day of _____194__, the total number of hours worked by him during such period, the full weekly wages earned by him and any deductions made from such weekly wages, and the actual weekly wages paid to him; that no rebates have been or will be made either directly or indirectly to or on behalf of said _____ (contractor or subcontractor) from the full weekly wages earned as set out on the attached pay-roll; and that no deductions, other than the permissible deductions (as defined in the Regulations under the "Kickback" Act (48 Stat. 948)) described in the following paragraph of this affidavit, have been made or will be made, directly or indirectly, from the full weekly wages earned as set out on the attached pay-roll.

(Paragraph describing deductions, if any)

Sworn to before me this_____day of _____, 194__, (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations, 2.3 (b)).

(b) Exemptions with respect to weekly affidavits. Upon a written finding by the Secretary of War, the Secretary of Labor may provide reasonable limitations, variations, tolerances and exemptions from the requirements set forth in paragraph (a) above, subject to such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may specify. Request for such finding shall be submitted through the chief of the supply service to the Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for submission through channels to the Secretary of Labor. (Title 29–A, Dept. of Labor Regulations, 2.3 (c)).

(c) Submission of weekly affidavits and subcontractors summaries. Each weekly affidavit shall be delivered by the contractor or subcontractor within seven days after the regular payment date of the payroll period to the contracting officer or such other officer as may be designated for such purpose by the chief of the supply service. After such examination and check as may be made, such affidavit or a copy thereof, together with a report of any violation shall be transmitted by the contracting officer or other designated officer directly to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations 2.4 (a).)

(d) Submission of subcontractor summaries. Each contractor or subcontractor shall within seven days after the making of any subcontract with another person concerning work subject to the Act deliver to the contracting officer or such other officer as may be designated for such purpose by the chief of the supply service, an affidavit setting forth the name and address of his subcontractor and a summary description of the precise work subcontracted. After such examination and check as may be made, such affidavit or a copy thereof shall be transmitted by the contracting officer or other designated officer directly to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations 2.4 (b)).

(e) Authorized pay-roll deductions. (1) Deductions for the following payments are permissible:

(i) Where required by Federal, State, or local statutes or ordinances to be made by the employer from the wages earned by the employee;

(ii) Bona fide prepayment of wages without discount or interest;

(iii) Deductions required by court process provided that the contractor or subcontractor will not be permitted to make such a deduction in favor of the contractor, subcontractor, or any affiliated person or where collusion or collaboration exists. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (a).)

(2) Any deduction is also permissible which in fact meets the following standards and with respect to which the contractor or subcontractor shall have made written application by registered mail to the Secretary of Labor, a copy of which application shall be sent to the contracting agency by the contractor or subcontractor setting forth all the pertinent facts, indicating that such deductions will meet the following standards:

(i) That such deduction is not prohibited by other law; and

(ii) That such deduction is (a) voluntarily consented to by the employee in writing and in advance of the period in which the work was done, and that consent to the deduction is not a condition either for the obtaining of or for the continuance of employment; or (b) that such deduction is for the benefit of the employees or their labor organization through which they are represented and is provided for in a bona fide collective bargaining agreement; and

(iii) That from such deduction no payment is made to, nor profit or benefit is obtained directly or indirectly by the contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person, and that no portion of the funds, whether in the form of a commission or otherwise, will be returned to the contractor or subcontractor or to any affiliated person; and

(iv) That the convenience and interest of the employees are served thereby, and that such or similar deductions have been customary in this or comparable situations. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations 2.5 (b)).

(3) After application in good faith, the deduction may be made in accordance with the foregoing standards: Provided, however, That if the Secretary of Labor, on his own motion, or on the application of any person or agency affected by the granting of the application, shall conclude at any time, after written notice to the applicant and an opportunity for him to present his views in support of the deduction, that the deduction has not met the foregoing standards, such deductions shall cease to be "permissible" seven days after the applicant and the Federal agency concerned have been notified of the Secretary's decision. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (c)).

(4) Upon application to and prior written permission from the Secretary of Labor, and subject to the standards set forth in paragraph (e) (2) of this section, deductions may be made by a contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person, for membership fees in group benefit or retirement associations; for board and lodging; or for other purposes where the Secretary of Labor concludes the deduction is required by compelling circumstances: Provided, however, The contractor, subcontractor, or any affiliated person does not make a profit or benefit directly or indirectly from the deduction. A copy of the Secretary's decision shall be sent to the applicant and the Federal agency concerned. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (d)).

(5) In accordance with and subject to the standards set forth in paragraph (e) (2) of this section, general permission is hereby granted to make payroll deductions for:

(i) The payment of the purchase price of United States Defense Stamps and Bonds and United States Tax Savings Notes;

(ii) The repayment of loans to or the purchase of shares in credit unions organized in accordance with District of Columbia, Federal, or State credit union statutes;

(iii) Contributions to a Federal governmental or quasi-governmental agency. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (e)).

(f) Restricted payments prohibited. In any case in which the employee does not have full and actual freedom of disposition of his wage payment, whether made in cash or by check, any restricted payment made to the employee is considered a deduction under the regulations in this part. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (h)).

(g) Lack of knowledge no defense. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit any deduction which the contractor or subcontractor knew, or in the exercise of good faith should have known, did not meet the foregoing standards. In order to insure compliance with this section, the Secretary of Labor may notify the contractor or subcontractor that the deduction will be permitted only if certain conditions with respect thereto are observed. The contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person shall also comply with such general rules and regulations concerning the deductions as the Secretary of Labor shall make from time to time, notice of which shall have been given to the contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person making the deduction and to the Federal agency concerned either directly or through publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations 2.5 (g)).

(h) Request for advisory opinions. The Secretary of Labor will furnish an opinion regarding the coverage of any specific project or with respect to the application of any provisions of the regulations in this part at the request of any Federal or State agency. Request for any such opinion shall be submitted through the chief of the supply service to the Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for submission through channels to the Secretary of Labor. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.7).

§ 81.909 Alternative procedures for railway carriers. By letters of October 5, 1942 and January 22, 1943 from the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of War, a partial exemption regarding the submission of weekly reports above described in paragraph (a) of this section was granted to railway carriers and an alternative method for obtaining permission of the Secretary of Labor to make certain types of deductions was approved. Copies of these letters may be obtained from the office of the Labor Relations Section, Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

DAVIS-BACON ACT

§ 81.910 Basic law. The Act as amended requires as to every contract to which it applies:

That a scale of minimum wages for every class of mechanics or laborers employed shall be set out in the specifications (in cases where specifications are advertised for bids).

That a minimum wage scale must be included in the contract together with a stipulation that the same will be observed whether contracts are let on bids or not.

The inclusion of certain additional provisions referred to hereinafter for the administration and enforcement of the required stipulations.

(Act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1494), as amended by Act of August 30, 1935 (49 Stat. 1011), Act of June 15, 1940, (54 Stat. 399), and Act of March 23, 1941, (55 Stat. 53, 40 U.S.C. 276a, a–1 to a–7), M.L. 1939 and Sup. I, sec. 746)

(a) Form of provisions required. The form of provisions required by regulation in contracts to which the Act applies is set out in § 81.343. (Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations 2.6).

§ 81.911 Applicability of Davis-Bacon law: Character of contracts covered. The Act as amended applies to all contracts in excess of $2,000 to be performed in any of the States of the United States, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii or the District of Columbia, for construction, alteration or repair including painting or decorating of public buildings or public works where the same require or involve the employment of mechanics or laborers.

(a) Definition of "building" and "work" by regulation. The Secretary of Labor has, by regulation, defined the words "building" and "work" as including, generally, construction activity as distinguished from manufacturing, furnishing of materials, or servicing and maintenance work.

(b) Definition of "construction", or "repair". The Secretary of Labor has defined the above terms as used in the Act and in the Copeland Act covered in §§ 81.906–81.909 above as, in substance including all types of work done under a construction contract such as altering, remodeling, painting and decorating, the transporting of materials and supplies to or from the building or work by the employees of the construction contractor or construction subcontractor and the manufacturing or furnishing of materials, articles, supplies, or equipment on the site of the building or work by persons employed at the site by the contractor or subcontractor. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.2 (b)).

(c) Cost plus contracts. The Act applies to contracts entered into upon a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis or otherwise with or without advertising for bids, as well as to contracts entered into upon a lump sum basis.

(d) Exceptions. The Act does not apply to:

(1) Contracts for the construction, alteration or repair of vessels or other movable personal property where the place of performance of the contract is not known or cannot be reasonably ascertained at the time the contract is negotiated.

(2) Contracts with railroad carriers or subcontractors let to railroad carriers for the construction, alteration, or repair of railroads insofar as such contracts involve wage rates payable to employees of railroad carriers operating under collective bargaining agreements with the railroad carriers, made agreeable to the provisions of the Railway Labor Act (Letter March 14, 1942 from the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of War).

(3) Contracts for servicing and maintenance work generally. (Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations 2.2 (a)).

(4) Contracts for manufacturing and furnishing materials or supplies (see Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations 2.2 (a)) and servicing and maintenance work incident thereto.

(e) "Servicing and maintenance work" defined. The terms "servicing and maintenance work" as used in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (d) above, include:

(1) Movement of machinery into or out of or from one part to another part of a building or plant completed or substantially completed.

(2) Installation of machinery, machine tools or other equipment in a plant or building completed or substantially completed.

(3) Plant rearrangement and production facilities adjustment or alterations incident to (1) or (2) above.

NOTE: This definition in connection with subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (d) does not relate to servicing and maintenance prosecuted by a construction contractor as a part of construction work.

(f) Determination by chief of supply service. The Act contemplates an administrative determination of the application of the law to particular contracts and the War Department is authorized to make such determination. The chief of the supply service involved will determine within his own office whether the foregoing regulations require the inclusion of Davis-Bacon (and Copeland) Act provisions in any particular contract. In cases of doubt the question, accompanied by full statement of the facts, shall be referred to the Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for determination.

§ 81.912 Regulations, forms and procedures—(a) Regulations; applicability. The regulations of the Secretary of Labor described in § 81.908, where pertinent, are applicable to all contracts subject to the Act.

(b) Regulations; prevailing rates of wages. Regulation No. 503 issued by the Secretary of Labor September 30, 1935, as amended April 30, 1942, prescribes the procedures to be followed in predetermining prevailing rates of wages. Whenever a request for wage rate predeterminations is made by the contracting officer and referred to the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the procedures hereinafter described, the necessary steps to obtain evidence upon which the Secretary may make the requisite predeterminations are to be taken by the Solicitor of Labor in accordance with the provisions of Regulation No. 503.

(c) Forms. Wage rate predeterminations are to be requested on Forms DB–11, accompanied by Forms DB–15, issued by the Department of Labor (see paragraphs (e) and (f) below). Reports of violations are to be made on standard Form No. 1093 (see paragraph (g) below).

(d) How obtained. Copies of pertinent regulations and forms will be obtained by the chief of the supply service directly from the Department of Labor for distribution to those concerned. The chiefs of the supply services are responsible for the supplying of the necessary regulations and forms to their contracting officers.

(e) Procedures; request for wage rate predeterminations. Prior to entering into negotiations for awarding a contract to which the basic law is applicable, the contracting officer will request the Secretary of Labor, through the chief of the supply service concerned, to predetermine the wage rates to be contained in the contract. This request will be made on Department of Labor Form DB–11, and the instructions on that form will be followed. Since the Department of Labor has stated that the basic law does not apply to the following positions, no predetermination of wages is necessary in their cases:

Assistant engineer on dredges or floating plant in supervisory positions.
Assistant foreman.
Camp assistant.
Checker.
Chief mate.
Civil engineer.
Clerk.
Cook.
Cook's helper.
Foreman.
Junior deck officer.
Master or captain.
Mate.
Mess boy.
Messenger.
Office manager.
Pilot.
Quartermaster or steersman.
Steward.
Storekeeper.
Superintendent.
Timekeeper.
Waiter.
Watchman.

(f) Procedures; prevailing rate information. Each request submitted as indicated in paragraph (d) above will be accompanied by one or more copies of Department of Labor Form DB–15, executed in accordance with the instructions on that form, which require a separate form for each occupation. In filling out this form, the contracting officer will consult the following and consider the information obtained therefrom in forming the opinion which he is required to state on the form:

(1) The Building Trades Council (or some other local federation or council of the various craft unions),

(2) Independent labor organizations not allied with the local Building Trades Council,

(3) Municipal Officials (the commissioner of public works, the city clerk or other officials in charge of municipal construction who have data on the wage rates paid on city projects),

(4) The employers' organizations (such as Master Builders, the Master Painters, or other contractors' associations, the local chamber of commerce, etc.).

(5) Individual contractors and architects in the locality,

(6) The State Labor Department or its equivalent,

(7) The contracting officer and supervising superintendent, and

(8) The local office of the United States Employment Service or affiliated agency.

(g) Reports of violations. Where a contracting officer finds that any laborer or mechanic employed by a contractor or subcontractor on work subject to the Act has been or is being paid wages less than the wages required by the contract to be paid, the contracting officer will make a report on standard Form No. 1093 (schedule of deductions from payment to contractors) executed as completely as possible from his records to the disbursing officer. The latter will complete the execution of the form from his records and transmit it to the office indicated on the form. (Circular letter A–34106, February 28, 1936 of the Comptroller General).

WAGE AND SALARY STABILIZATION

Paragraph (b) is added to § 81.980p as follows:

§ 81.980p General Order No. 16. • • •

(b) General Order No. 30. In accordance with the provisions of section 4 of Title II of Executive Order 9250, increases in wage or salary rates which do not bring such rates above 40¢ per hour may be made without the approval of the National War Labor Board, provided that such increases shall not furnish a basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justified reductions in such price ceilings.

FORTY-EIGHT HOUR WORKWEEK

Paragraph (d) is added to § 81.985 as follows:

§ 81.985 Forty-eight hour workweek. • • •

(d) Statement re adoption of forty-eight hour week. Under date of March 11, 1943, the National War Labor Board defined the extent of its jurisdiction in the matter of overtime pay in the light of Executive Order No. 9301, as follows:

In order to answer the many inquiries received as to the effect of Executive Order 9250 on wages and salaries in the light of the Executive Order of February 9, establishing the minimum wartime work-week of 48 hours, the National War Labor Board today issued the following statement:

1. Effect of the order on employer's obligation to pay over-time. Any employer who adopts a 48 hour week in compliance with Executive Order 9301 of February 9, 1943 and the regulations of the War Manpower Commission issued thereunder is under the same obligation with respect to over-time pay as if he had adopted a 48 hour week before the order was issued. That is, his obligation to pay or not to pay over-time rates is in no way affected by the order.

This interpretation is based on the following provision of section 5 of the order:

Nothing in this order shall be construed as superseding or in conflict with • • • the provisions of any individual or collective bargaining agreement with respect to rates of pay for hours worked in excess of the agreed or customary work-week, nor shall this Order be construed as suspending or modifying any provision of the Fair Labor Standards Act or any other Federal, State or local law relating to the payment of wages or overtime.

2. Necessity to secure War Labor Board approval for the payment of overtime. Approval of the War Labor Board is not required for payment of overtime rates to wage and salary employees for hours worked in excess of 40 made in accordance with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act or any other similar Federal, State or local law or by the provisions of a collective bargaining agreement or by the employer's past custom and practice.

If none of these applies, then payment for the hours worked in excess of 40 at other than straight time rates would be a wage increase and would therefore require approval by the War Labor Board.

3 Salaried employees. Salaried employees within the jurisdiction of the War Labor Board, whose overtime pay is not covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act or any other similar Federal, State or local law, or by a collective bargaining agreement or their employer's past practice, may not, without the prior approval of the War Labor Board, be paid at more than straight time rates proportionate to the additional hours worked.

4 Application for approval of the increases referred to above may, of course, be made, in accordance with the National War Labor Board's regular procedure, at any local office of the Wage and Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor.

PLANT FACILITIES EXPANSIONS

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING CLEARANCE AND APPROVAL OF FACILITIES EXPANSIONS

Section 81.1011a is added as follows:

§ 81.1011a Continuing capital expenditures application. This application may be made by a supply service for approval of Continuing Capital Expenditures required in connection with an existing project theretofore sponsored by or transferred to sponsorship of such supply service. Such application shall state:

(a) The estimated costs of the additional capital facilities required for a specified current or ensuing quarter year (giving breakdown thereof in accordance with § 81.1009 (a) (5)) together with estimated dollar amount required for the next succeeding three quarter-years, the total amount for such four quarter-years not to exceed 5 percent of the total estimated cost of the project as theretofore approved;

(b) The necessity for such Continuing Capital Expenditures; and

(c) The method of financing thereof, the amount of Expediting Production Funds, if any, required therefor, and the manner in which the balance of such expenditures will be financed.

Such application shall be submitted to and approved by Resources and Production Division. Approval of the War Production Board of such application is not required regardless of the amount, but Resources and Production Division shall notify War Production Board of the amount approved.

(1) Approval of such application shall be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(i) Such expenditures shall be limited to items normally classified as capital charges and shall not be used for items which may properly be charged to maintenance, repairs, or operations;

(ii) Such expenditures shall be only for construction, alterations, extensions, machinery, equipment or other facilities required to round-out or improve operating efficiency, balance production, or otherwise develop maximum utilization of the existing project;

(iii) Such expenditures shall not be used for any new structure, the estimated cost of which exceeds $25,000, nor for camouflage or any administration buildings or cafeterias but may be used for alterations or extensions of existing facilities of this character;

(iv) Prior to the end of each such quarter-year the supply service shall approve a supplemental schedule setting forth the facilities and estimated costs thereof required for the ensuing quarter-year and no expenditure for the second, third, or fourth quarter shall be made except for items included in such supplemental schedule approved by the supply service for such quarter-year.

MISCELLANEOUS PURCHASE INSTRUCTIONS

MARKING OF CONTAINERS

Section 81.1106a is redesignated § 81.1101, paragraph (e) being amended and paragraphs (f) and (g) being added as follows:

§ 81.1101 Marking of containers. • • •

(e) Marking by contractors. The supply services will provide either in the contract specifications or by instructions to contracting officers for the marking by contractors of containers in conformance with the principles set forth in the preceding paragraphs. (See § 81.364.)

(f) U. S. Army specification. The foregoing paragraphs have been published pending the issuance of a revised United States Army Specification 100–2 which will make uniform the requirements for marking shipping containers.

(g) Marking of containers. The foregoing paragraphs do not require remarking of any containers already marked and will be applied to containers used in connection with existing contracts only to the extent reasonably practicable.

Section 81.1106 is redesignated § 81.1102, an introductory paragraph is included preceding paragraph (a), and paragraph (i) is amended as follows:

§ 81.1102 Numbering of compressed gas cylinders. See in this connection AR 850–60 (September 29, 1942) covering the safe handling, storing, shipping and using of compressed gas cylinders.

• • • • • •

(i) Cylinders originally made for other agencies • • •

(5) If such cylinders are required for export and it is not practicable in the time available to stamp the added marks, any or all of the procedure specified in the foregoing subparagraphs may be omitted.

Section 81.1105 is rescinded. The provision formerly contained in this section with respect to maximum price is integrated with the regulations contained in §§ 81.1130 to 81.1135, inclusive.

Section 81.1108 is rescinded and the substance of the regulations contained therein has been included in § 81.221.

PATENTS

Section 81.1112 (i) is amended as follows:

§ 81.1112 Adjustment of royalties for use of inventions. • • •

(i) Further delegations. The authority referred to in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (h) of this section has been further delegated to the following:

(1) All Division Engineers of the Corps of Engineers,

(2) Director of Research and Development Division, Signal Corps,

(3) The Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Materiel Center, Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and

(4) Royalty Adjustment Board, Army Air Forces, Materiel Center, Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

The Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War upon request will make further delegations. In the event the chief of any supply service desires that the authority referred to in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (h) be delegated to other officers, such chief shall forward to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a memorandum specifying the office to whom such delegation should be made and the extent of such delegation. The title of the position held and not the name of the individual officer should be specified. The powers, duties and authorities referred to in paragraph (h) shall not be redelegated by the chiefs of the supply services under the authority to redelegate conferred in § 81.107 (i).

• • • • • •

LITIGATION AND RELATED MATTERS

Section 81.1113 is redesignated § 81.1120 as follows:

§ 81.1120 Procedure for handling litigation involving cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors. • • •

Section 81.1115 is redesignated § 81.1121 as follows:

§ 81.1121 Reports of criminal conduct in connection with War Department contracts. • • •

PRICE REGULATIONS

Section 81.1130 to 81.1135 are added as follows:

§ 81.1130 General—(a) Scope of §§ 81.1130–81.1135. Sections 81.1130 to 81.1135, inclusive, deal with problems arising from or associated with the application of the maximum price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration to purchases made by the War Department. The basic authority for OPA actions is to be found in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 (Public, 421, 77th Congress), as amended by Act of October 2, 1942 (Public, 729, 77th Congress), and in Executive Order 9250, promulgated October 3, 1942. The following discussion of maximum price regulations and various orders issued by

OPA is introductory and is not intended to be complete. Complete details and the text of OPA regulations may be procured from the FEDERAL REGISTER, or may be had from any OPA office. Should these sources fail, inquiries should be sent through the Chief of the Supply Service concerned to the Price Regulation Branch, Purchases Divisions, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C.

(b) Function of Price Regulation Branch. (1) Because of penalties imposed by the Emergency Price Control Act upon manufacturers who violate price ceilings, manufacturers must proceed with caution in the acceptance of contracts. To accelerate the placing of contracts, it is important that procurement personnel be familiar with the problems involved and able on occasions to be of assistance or guidance to contractors. It is an important function of the Price Regulation Branch to expedite the solution of specific problems.

(2) Whenever contact or negotiation is necessary between one of the services and the office of Price Administration on any price regulation or rationing problem which involves a general policy or might affect more than one of the services, the negotiations will be conducted through the Chief, Price Regulation Branch, Purchases Division.

§ 81.1131 Applicable OPA regulations—(a) Specific commodity price regulations. Beginning in February, 1941, the OPA began promulgating "maximum price schedules". One hundred and five such schedules were issued prior to February 11, 1942, when the Administrator took office under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. Up to that time, there was no directly applicable statute authorizing price control. However, the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 expressly validated previous schedules and gave the Administrator express power to issue "maximum price regulations". Up to the end of December, 1942, some 289 specific commodity price regulations (or schedules) had been issued. Certain "price schedules" have been re-promulgated as "price regulations"; but whether or not re-promulgated, a "price schedule" is equally effective as a "price regulation" in imposing a maximum price. See § 81.1135 for a list of maximum price regulations and schedules of possible interest to procurement officers.

(b) The General Maximum Price Regulation. On April 28, 1942, the OPA Administrator issued the General Maximum Price Regulation, commonly known and hereafter referred to as the GMPR, placing a price ceiling on practically all commodities and services sold or rendered by manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, if not covered by specific price regulations. (See § 81.1132 for Exemptions.) Except for certain procedural requirements, this regulation, however, does not apply to transactions covered by any other price regulation, either past or future. The OPA is continuing to issue new specific price regulations. With respect to sales or deliveries to or contracts with the War Department or the Navy Department, the effective date of the GMPR is July 1, 1942. In general, ceiling prices on items covered by this regulation are based on the highest prices charged in March, 1942. Reference should be made to the regulation itself for an exact statement of such provisions of the methods for determining maximum prices for articles to which the formula for determining price in accordance with the highest price charged in March 1942 cannot apply. Commodities and services that are included under specific price regulations, past or future, remain or become subject to the specific price ceilings, even though they may be exempt from the GMPR under a supplementary regulation, unless specifically exempted by the terms of the specific price regulation itself. (See § 81.1132 (d)).

(c) War Department; OPA Agreement, September 1942. From the foregoing, it will be noted that items now entirely exempt from regulation may by some future date be brought under regulation by a new specific price regulation. However, by recent agreement between the OPA and the War Department, military items exempt in September 1942, will remain exempt, whether exempted from the GMPR by Supplemental Regulation No. 4 (§ 81.1132 (a)) or from a specific regulation by its terms. Under this agreement, the OPA has reserved the right to resume control over exempt items if it develops that the War Department is unable to control prices effectively through its own procurement policies.

(d) The Service Regulation; MPR 165. As above noted (paragraph (b) all services (along with commodities) were brought under control of OPA by the GMPR. Effective August 19, 1942, Maximum Price Regulation 165 brought under specific control a long list of services, leaving those not specifically listed still covered by the GMPR, subject to exemptions. (See § 81.1132 (e).)

§ 81.1132 Exemptions—(a) Exemptions under Supplementary Regulation No. 4 of the GMPR. (1) Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4, effective July 1, 1942, provides that the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of the following commodities or in the following transactions:

(i) Sales or deliveries to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of such government, of aircraft, ammunition, armored trains, artillery, balloon barrage equipment, bombs, bomb sights, caissons, fire control equipment, gas masks, grenades, gun sights, military bridges, mines, mortars, projectiles, pyrotechnics, small arms, ships and boats and torpedoes; and amphibians, armored vehicles, automobiles, tanks, trailers and trucks for military purposes.

(ii) Component parts and subassemblies of any product set forth under (a) above, regardless of the person to whom sold or delivered. The term "component parts and subassemblies" includes all metallic and non-metallic component parts, adjuncts and accessories which have been machined or fabricated. The term does not include raw or unfinished materials or any other materials which are in such form as to permit their use in the manufacture of products other than those set forth under (a) above.

(iii) Any manufacturing service performed by a person other than the manufacturer in the production of any product set forth under (a) and (b) above, if all or part of the material on which such service is performed is supplied by the manufacturer.

(iv) Military propellants and explosives.

(v) Developmental contracts or subcontracts, secret contracts, and emergency purchases.

(vi) Sales and deliveries to the United States or any of its agencies of certain canned foods.

(vii) Sales and deliveries to the armed forces of the United States of certain dried fruits and of dehydrated vegetables.

(viii) Sales and deliveries to the armed forces of the United States of beef and veal, or any products made from them, under contracts entered into prior to July 13, 1942.

2. The above is not an exact or complete quotation. In specific cases reference should be made to the text of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4, which also contains other exceptions. It is to be noted that the exceptions are from the GMPR; articles exempt from the GMPR may be covered by a specific MPR.

(b) Commodities excepted from the GMPR by Supplementary Regulation No. 1. Certain commodities, certain kinds of sales and deliveries (as for example the sale and delivery of used, damaged or waste material by the War Department), and certain services have been excepted from the application of the GMPR by Supplementary Regulation No. 1. Reference is made to said Regulation for a complete list of exceptions, some of which may be of interest to procurement officers.

(c) Exemption of sales by Army stores. By Supplementary Order 27 effective November 14, 1942, all sales and deliveries of any commodity by the War Department through the Department's sales stores, including commissaries, Army canteens, and Post exchanges, were exempted from all price regulation. The OPA retained the right, however, to bring such sales under control by specific provisions inserted in a regulation issued at a later date.

(d) Exemptions contained in specific price regulations. Certain of the specific maximum price regulations contain exemptions of the commodities covered by them of interest to Procurement Officers. These exemptions may be in whole or in part, and are effected by various methods, among which may be enumerated:

(1) By the incorporation by general reference of all supplementary regulations to the GMPR, including Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4;

(2) By exempting sales to the United States and all agencies thereof;

(3) By incorporating by reference certain of the clauses of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4;

(4) By clauses specifically excluding secret and developmental contracts or emergency purchases or all three from the coverage of the specific price regulation. (See paragraph (f) of this section.)

(e) Exemptions of services. By Supplementary Regulation No. 11 effective August 19, 1942, a large number of special services were exempted from the provisions of the GMPR. By an amendment effective December 3, 1942, the provisions of MPR 165 were specifically made non-applicable to the services exempted by Supplementary Regulation No. 11, as well as to those services exempted by Supplementary Regulation No. 4.

(f) Exemption of developmental and secret contracts and emergency purchases. (1) By Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4, developmental and secret contracts and subcontracts entered into, and emergency purchases made by, the United States or any of its agencies are exempt from the GMPR. In addition, certain of the specific Maximum Price Regulations exempt such contracts and purchases, either specifically or by incorporating by general or specific reference the exemptions of such contracts and purchases contained in Supplementary Regulation No. 4. Reference must be made in each case to the applicable MPR to ascertain whether or not these contracts and purchases are excluded therefrom. In the case of both developmental and secret contracts, the exemption applies only during such period as is necessary for development or for the preservation of secrecy. A contract or subcontract is deemed to be "developmental" if the manufacturer or supplier requires a period of time for the accumulation of sufficient production experience to permit him to make a fair estimate of his manufacturing costs, or if the purchaser under such contract or subcontract requires a period of time to select a product, or both. To satisfy the definition of "emergency" for purposes of the exemption

(i) The subject matter of the purchase must be needed at once, and

(ii) At least a portion of the purchase must be capable of immediate delivery. In any case, the emergency exemption is applicable only to the quantity immediately deliverable. The exemption will not apply to contracts or agreements for future delivery.

2. By the terms of the Service Regulation (MPR 165) sales of services pursuant to developmental and secret contracts and subcontracts entered into, and emergency purchases made by, any war procurement agency were exempted from the application of this Regulation and also the GMPR. In general, the same qualifications apply to developmental contracts and to emergency purchases as described above in this paragraph in connection with Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4; except that for services the developmental period is limited to ninety days.

§ 81.1133 Procedure for obtaining exemption under developmental and secret contracts and emergency purchases or for relief from a price regulation—(a) Procedure under developmental contracts. To obtain exemption of the sale or delivery of any commodity manufactured or service supplied pursuant to a developmental contract or subcontract it is necessary (1) that the contract or subcontract be certified in writing to the OPA, Washington, D. C. by the United States or its agency as being a developmental contract or subcontract and (2) that the manufacturer of the commodity or supplier of the service file a report with the OPA, Washington, D. C. within ten days after entering into any such contract or subcontract. The form of certification to be used by the purchasing agency is not standardized, but all that need be stated is:

> In accordance with the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. ------, Section --------, (or General Maximum) the following contract is hereby certified as "developmental", Contract No. --------, Date of Contract ----------, Name and address of the supplier ----------, Commodity covered ----------

This certification should be sent in duplicate to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., Attention War Goods Price Coordinator.

(b) Procedure under secret contracts. To obtain exemption of the sale or delivery of any commodity manufactured or service supplied pursuant to a secret contract or subcontract it is necessary that it be certified as such to the OPA by the purchasing agency. Such certification need only set forth the date of the secret contract and its number or other designation, not including the commodity covered or the name or address of the supplier. This certification should be sent to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., attention: War Goods Price Coordinator.

(c) Procedure under emergency purchases. To obtain exemption of the emergency purchase for any commodity for immediate delivery or of services for immediate performance, it is necessary that the purchasing officer, whenever such a purchase is made above maximum prices, file a report with OPA in Washington within five days (ten days in the case of services) after the purchase is made. This report must certify that it was imperative to secure the commodity or service immediately and that it was impossible to secure or unfair to require immediate delivery or performance at the applicable maximum price. The report should set forth (1) the name and address of the seller (2) the date of purchase (3) the date of delivery or performance (4) the description of the commodity purchased or service performed (5) the quantity purchased or performed (6) the price at which purchased or supplied, and (7) a brief statement of the facts giving rise to the emergency situation. This report should be sent in duplicate to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. Attention: War Goods Price Coordinator. No report is required in the case of services unless the total price thereof exceeds $500.00 and a similar exemption is extended in some specific MPR's to emergency purchases.

(d) Procedure for obtaining relief. OPA Procedural Regulation No. 6, effective July 3, 1942, sets forth the procedure to be followed in all cases except when otherwise specifically provided to obtain prompt adjustments of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contract or sub-contract. The regulation provides that any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a Government contract, or subcontract under a Government contract, and who believes that an established maximum price impedes or threatens to impede production of a commodity or supply of a service which is essential to the war program, may apply for adjustment of that maximum price. Any Government agency may appear as an interested party under any such application. Upon the filing of an application and pending the issuance of an order by the OPA granting or denying the application, contracts or subcontracts may be entered into, and deliveries made at the price requested in the application, subject to later refunds and price reduction if the application is denied. Applications involving contracts exceeding $5,000,000 in value must be filed with the OPA in Washington, D. C. Other applications (with a few exceptions) may be filed either with the appropriate regional office of the OPA or with the OPA in Washington, D. C.

§ 81.1134 Compliance—(a) Responsibility of contracting officers. (1) Contracting Officers, in executing contracts, unless otherwise specifically directed, are not required to verify the prices charged by any vendor or contractor against the maximum prices fixed in accordance with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in the absence of actual knowledge of violation of price limitations, they may assume that prices charged do not exceed maximum prices. Likewise, in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, contracting officers in approving items for reimbursement are not responsible for determining whether the costs of materials, supplies, tools, equipment or machinery exceed the maximum prices thus fixed. In the interests of economical purchasing, however, contracting officers are expected to exert reasonable effort to be familiar with the OPA regulations that apply to the commodities and services which they buy.

(2) Where a contracting officer is definitely informed that the price or proposed price of a commodity or service is in excess of the OPA maximum, he should proceed as follows:

(i) Try to negotiate a reduction in the price to conform to the OPA standard;

(ii) If such a reduction proves impossible, endeavor to have the contractor file an application for an adjustment of the established maximum price with OPA under Procedural Regulation 6 (see § 81.1133 (d));

(iii) If necessary, and if immediate deliveries can be made, make emergency purchases for immediate delivery in excess of the OPA maxima, complying with the requirements set forth in § 81.1133 (c):

(iv) If recourse to the foregoing methods proves unsuccessful and the contracting officer believes an impairment of production of essential war material is threatened, report should be made at once to the Chief of the Supply Service concerned and the services of the Price Regulation Branch enlisted to remove the impediment.

(v) As a last resort, the statutes provide for the requisition of needed articles already in existence, and for mandatory orders to compel the supply of essential military items. For the conditions and procedures governing the use of these methods, see § 81.246 (a) and §§ 81.1401 to 81.1428.

(b) Acceptance of contractor's certification. The action of certifying and disbursing officers in connection with such price limitations is governed by Fiscal Directive SPBFA-11A, June 19, 1942, providing as follows:

1. The certification now required on Standard Form No. 1034-revised, as used in connection with payments made to vendors or contractors for purchases or services rendered other than personal will be continued in use and is a proper and sufficient warranty of compliance by the vendor or contractor with the price ceilings established in accordance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, Public Law 421, approved January 30, 1942.

2. In the absence of actual knowledge of violation of price limitations, certifying officers may rely upon the certificate of the vendor or contractor as to the correctness of the prices charged and will not be required to verify such prices against maxima established by the Office of Price Administration. Disbursing Officers may rely upon their records and the certificate of the vendor or contractor and will not be required to verify such maxima prices.

3. Disbursing officers will make payment in accordance with the above outlined procedure.

The form of certification (Standard Form 1034) is as follows:

I certify that the above bill is correct and just; that payment therefor has not been received; that all statutory requirements as to American production and labor standards, and all conditions of purchase applicable to the transactions have been complied with; and that State or local sales taxes are not included in the amounts billed.

The words "the above bill is correct and just" and "all conditions of purchase applicable to the transactions have been complied with" constitute a proper and sufficient warranty by the vendors and contractors that the prices billed are within any applicable price ceilings established by the OPA. Accordingly, no additional certificate or statement by the vendors and contractors with respect to maximum prices should be required. Also, no special certificate accompanying quotations, or warranty in the contract with respect to compliance with price regulations will be required.

(c) Exemption from liability of contracting and finance officers. Supplementary Order No. 7, entitled "Removal of Liability of War Procurement Agencies and Governments whose Defense is Vital to the Defense of the United States," effective July 11, 1942, provides that prohibitions contained in maximum price regulations against buying or receiving a commodity or service at a price higher than the permitted maximum shall not apply to (1) any War Procurement Agency of the United States or any contracting or paying finance officer thereof or (2) the Government of any country whose defense is deemed by the President to be vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941. It provides further that any such War Procurement Agencies or contracting or paying finance officers of any such government or agency, shall be relieved of any criminal or civil liability imposed by a maximum price regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The OPA statement of considerations involved in the issuance of Supplementary Order No. 7 states such purchases are typically not purchases "in the course of trade or business" within the meaning of the Act.

(d) Non-exemption of contractors holding War Department contracts. The OPA had advised, however, that this exemption is applicable only to Government contracting officers in connection with Government purchases and does not extend to purchases made by contractors even when operating under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, and even though purchases made by them are reimbursable by the Government. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors, as well as all other prime contractors, are buyers "in the course of trade or business" within the meaning of section 4 (a) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and are, therefore, subject to the prohibitions of that section.

§ 81.1135 Index of Army purchase items. For convenience of identification of applicable price regulations an index of articles commonly purchased for the Army, taken substantially from Army Purchase Information Bulletin, is incorporated in this section (paragraph (b)) followed by a further list of the price regulations by numerical sequence (paragraph (c)). These lists are subject to revision and must be used with caution, bearing in mind that OPA is constantly issuing changes and revisions, and from time to time is placing articles now under the GMPR under the control of Specific Price Regulations, or shifting them from the coverage of one MPR to another.

(a) OPA revisions of price regulations. Whenever the Office of Price Administration makes an industry-wide revision of ceiling prices on any item purchased by the War Department, or other revision in ceiling prices affecting products purchased by the War Department, the Office of the Chief of the Supply Service involved will notify all contracting officers concerned and the Service's Price Analysis Section. For the information of the Supply Services the Price Regulation Branch will issue bulletins from time to time summarizing all such changes or other actions of OPA affecting Army procurement made or taken during the preceding period. The Chiefs of the Supply Services will designate a suitable officer or employee who shall be charged with the duty of disseminating all such information.

RENEGOTIATION AND PRICE ADJUSTMENT

§ 81.1200 Scope of Regulation—(a) General. This Regulation No. 12[1] deals with policies and contract provisions of all types relating to the adjustment of prices under contracts with the War Department and subcontracts thereunder. Sections 81.1201–81.1210 deal with the contract provisions and procedure for statutory renegotiation under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended. Sections 81.1220–81.1247 discuss various optional clauses providing for price adjustment independently of statutory renegotiation. Sections 81.1250–81.1252 discuss the adjustment of prices under the First War Powers Act in order to adapt contracts to changing conditions and to relieve contractors from hardship. These contract clauses and policies are intended to carry out the general purchase policies stated in §§ 81.201–81.294, inclusive.

(b) Regulations rescinded. Temporary Procurement Regulations 10–T and 17–T, issued April 30, 1942 and May 11, 1942, by Headquarters, Services of Supply, and all other prior directives and instructions relating to contract provisions for revision and renegotiation of contract prices are hereby rescinded.

[1] Procurement Regulation No. 12 includes §§ 81.1200 to 81.1291, inclusive.

STATUTORY RENEGOTIATION

§ 81.1201 Scope of section. (a) Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942 (Public 528, 77th Congress, approved April 28, 1942) as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public 753, 77th Congress, approved on October 21, 1942), which provides for renegotiation of certain war contracts and subcontracts, is called "section 403, as amended", and "the Act" in this Regulation, and renegotiation pursuant to its provisions is called "statutory renegotiation".

(b) Sections 81.1201–81.1210 and additional sections now in preparation discuss the various aspects of statutory renegotiation, in three parts. (1) Sections 81.1202–81.1204 deal with the provisions of section 403, as amended, and the exemptions and exclusions therefrom. (2) Sections 81.1204–81.1207 discuss the contract articles for stautory renegotiation and their use. (3) Sections are in preparation which deal generally with the policies and procedure governing statutory renegotiation..

RENEGOTIATION STATUTE AND EXEMPTIONS

§ 81.1202 Statutory provisions—(a) Renegotiation Act. The full text of subsections (a) to (i) of section 403, as amended, is set forth in paragraphs (a) to (i), inclusive, of § 81.1290.

(b) Section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code. Section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code referred to in subsection (c) (3) of section 403, as amended, is set out in paragraph (j) of § 81.1290. Under that section the amount of federal income and excess profits taxes paid or payable with respect to any excessive profits must be credited against the amount of such profits in computing the amount to be refunded by the contractor or subcontractor, or otherwise recovered.

§ 81.1203 Effect of Act—(a) Coverage. (1) The Act applies to all contracts made by the War, Navy and Treasury Departments and the Maritime Commission (called herein Departments) and subcontracts thereunder, with the exceptions stated under paragraph (d) of this section and § 81.1204. With those exceptions, the Act directs the Secretary of each Department to require any contractor with his Department or subcontractor thereunder to renegotiate the contract price with him whenever in his opinion the profits realized or likely to be realized from the contract or subcontract may be excessive, whether or not the contract or subcontract contains a renegotiation clause.

(2) Subcontracts include purchase orders or agreements to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any article, material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property, required for the performance of another war contract or subcontract. Such subcontracts are not limited to those made by the prime contractor but include those made by subcontractors and sub-subcontractors down through the various tiers unless specifically exempt. (Subsections (a) and (c), paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 81.1290)

(b) Contract articles. With certain exceptions discussed under § 81.1204, the Act requires that each prime contract over $100,000 contain a contract article (1) providing for renegotiation of the price and (2) requiring the contractor to insert a similar article in each subcontract over $100,000 made by him. As stated in paragraph (a) of this section, contracts or subcontracts which do not include a renegotiation article are nevertheless subject to the Act unless they are expressly excluded.

(c) Administration of renegotiation. Subsections (c) to (f) of the Act provide for its administration. The principal provisions are as follows:

(1) In his discretion, the Secretary may renegotiate with a contractor or subcontractor holding two or more contracts or subcontracts to eliminate excessive profits on some or all of them as a group without separately renegotiating the contract price of each of them (Subs. (c) (1)).

(2) The Act specifies that excessive costs shall not be allowed, but properly applicable exclusions and deductions of the character allowed under Chapters 1 and 2E of the Internal Revenue Code shall be recognized, and credit shall be given for Federal income and excess profits taxes in accordance with section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code (Subs. (c)(3)). Subsections (d) and (e) give extensive powers to obtain information and statements.

(3) The Secretary is directed to eliminate excessive profits (i) by reductions in price and other contract revisions; (ii) by withholding from amounts otherwise due, any amount of such excessive profits; (iii) by directing a contractor to withhold for the account of the United States from amounts otherwise due the subcontractor any amount of such excessive profits; (iv) by recovery by repayment, credit or suit, of any amount of excessive profits actually paid; or (v) by any combination of these (Subs. (c) (2)).

(4) The Secretary is authorized to make final or other agreements for the elimination of excessive profits and for the discharge of any liability under the Act. They may cover past or future periods and are final according to their terms and may not be reopened except for fraud, malfeasance or wilful misrepresentation (Subs. (c)(4)).

(5) The Secretary may delegate his authority and discretion under the Act within his own or another Department (Subs. (f)).

(d) Exclusions. (1) The Act does not apply to any contract or subcontract on which final payment was made before April 28, 1942 (Subsection (c)(6), paragraph (c) of § 81.1290).

(2) A contract or subcontract is not subject to stautory renegotiation where the aggregate sales of the contractor or subcontractor and its affiliates (including all persons controlling, controlled by, or under common control with it) under all such contracts and subcontracts do not or, in the opinion of the Secretary, will not exceed $100,000 during its fiscal year (Subsection (c) (6), paragraph (c) of § 81.1290).

(3) Certain contracts or subcontracts are exempt or may be exempted from the statute under subsections (b) and (i) of the Act (Paragraph (b) and (i) of § 81.1290). These exemptions are discussed under § 81.1204.

(e) Limitations on time for commencing renegotiation. The statute contains the following provisions limiting the time for commencing renegotiation.

(1) Individual contracts. Under subsection (c) (6) of the Act renegotiation of a contract or subcontract must be commenced within one year after the close of the contractor's fiscal year in which the contract is completed or terminated, as determined by the Secretary of the Department.

(2) Fiscal Year. Under subsection (c) (5) of the Act, a contractor or subcontractor may obtain clearance for a prior fiscal year by filing such financial and cost statements for that year, in such form and detail, as the Secretaries prescribe by joint regulation. Unless the Secretary gives notice to renegotiate within one year from the date of filing, and commences renegotiation within sixty days of such notice, the contractor or subcontractor may not be required to renegotiate for that fiscal year.

(3) Contractual. Under subsection (b) of the Act, in the discretion of the Secretary, the contract may limit the period within which renegotiation may be had.

(4) Expiration of the Act. Subsection (h) of the Act provides that it shall remain in force during the war and for three years thereafter, but that court proceedings do not abate upon its termination.

§ 81.1204 Exemptions from statutory renegotiation — (a) Statutory provisions—(1) Mandatory exemptions. Under subsection (1) of section 403 (i), the Act does not apply (i) to certain governmental contracts and (ii) to contracts and subcontracts for certain raw materials. These exemptions are set out in § 81.1290 (i) and discussed in paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 81.1204.

(2) Discretionary exemptions. Under subsections 403 (b) and (i) (2) the Secretary of a Department or his authorized representative may exempt from part or all of the Act any contracts or subcon-

(as modified from time to time), and shall

tracts (i) to be performed outside of the United States, or in Alaska, or (ii) under which the profits can be determined with reasonable certainty when the contract price is established, or (iii) to the extent that the provisions of the contract are otherwise adequate to prevent excessive profits. Such exemptions may be made by individual contracts and subcontracts or by general classes or types, and may cover only a part of the contract or subcontract or of the performance thereunder. (See paragraphs (b) and (i) of § 81.1290). These exemptions are discussed in paragraphs (b) and (e) et seq. of this section.

(b) Delegations of discretionary power to exempt. The discretion to grant exemptions under section 403 (b) and 403 (i) (2) is delegated to the supply services only to the extent provided in the following paragraphs. Where these paragraphs authorize the chief of a supply service to make such exemptions then:

(1) He may personally exempt general classes or types of contracts or subcontracts within the specified categories but each such exemption shall be forwarded to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for publication in these procurement regulations and shall become effective only after such publication;

(2) He may personally exempt such contracts or subcontracts individually (See § 81.1208 (d)); or

(3) He may redelegate to officers or civilian officials in his service the discretion to make such exemptions of individual contracts if, but only if, he prescribes standards for the exercise of such discretion, approved by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(c) Contracts with governmental agencies. (1) In this regulation the term "Department" means the War, Navy and Treasury Departments and the Maritime Commission; and the term "other Government agency" includes (i) any department, bureau, agency or governmental corporation of the United States, except one of the Departments, (ii) any territory, possession or state or any agency thereof, and (iii) any foreign government or any agency thereof.

(2) Section 403 as amended does not apply to (i) any contract between a Department and any other Government agency; (ii) any contract between a contractor with a Department or a subcontractor thereunder, and any other Government agency; (iii) any contract made by the other Government agency in connection with a contract with one of the Departments, or one of their contractors, or subcontractors, unless the other Government agency is acting merely as an agent for the Department concerned (Subs. (i) (1) (i)).

(3) Thus no contract between the War Department or one of its contractors or subcontractors and the Defense Supplies Corporation, the Defense Plant Corporation, the Metals Reserve Company, Rubber Reserve Company or similar agencies is subject to statutory renegotiation. Likewise no contract made by such Government corporations or agencies, even though made in connection with a War Department contract or subcontract, is subject to statutory renegotiation unless made solely as agent for one of the Departments named in the Act.

(4) Accordingly, no article for statutory renegotiation under section 403, as amended, will be included in any such contract or subcontract.

(d) Contracts and subcontracts for raw materials. (1) By subsection 403 (i) (1) (ii), the Act does not apply to

(ii) any contract or subcontract for the product of a mine, oil or gas well, or other mineral or natural deposit, or timber, which has not been processed, refined, or treated beyond the first form or state suitable for industrial use; and the Secretaries are authorized by joint regulation, to define, interpret and apply this exemption.

Under this authority the Secretaries have issued a joint regulation interpreting the exemption and specifying certain commodities which are within its terms. The text of this regulation is contained in § 81.1291.

(2) This exemption also extends to all contracts made in connection with the performance of any such exempt contract or subcontract for raw materials.

(3) No article for statutory renegotiation under Section 403 as amended will be included in any contract or subcontract for one of the exempted products. (See paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 81.1209.)

(e) Contracts and subcontracts outside of the United States. (1) The chief of a supply service is authorized, in his discretion, to exempt from some or all of the provisions of section 403, as amended, any contract with his supply service, or any subcontract thereunder, which is to be performed outside of the territorial limits of the continental United States, or in Alaska. This authority applies to existing as well as future contracts and subcontracts.

(2) War Department Circular No. 43, February 9, 1943, delegated to each commanding general outside of the United States or in Alaska like authority with respect to contracts made or administered under his authority, and subcontracts thereunder.

(3) When a contract is exempted under this paragraph, Form II (§ 81.342 (b)) will be inserted in it unless all subcontracts thereunder have also been exempted.

(f) Patent Licenses. The chief of a supply service may exempt from some or all of the provisions of section 403, as amended, any contract granting to the Government a license under a patent or a patent application or transferring a patent or patent application to the Government, if the aggregate royalty payable under the contract for its duration or for any stated period is either (i) a fixed amount determinable at the time of the execution of the contract, or (ii) limited by contract to a maximum amount determinable at the time of the execution of the contract, and if, in his opinion, the fixed amount or maximum amount will not yield excessive profits to the contractor. In all other cases, the renegotiation article will be included in the contract. In such cases subsections (a), (b), (c) and (f) (1), (3) and (4) of Form I (see § 81.342 (a)) will be used. (See also § 81.1112.)

(g) Exemption from renegotiation in connection with periodic adjustment of price. Sections 81.1240–81.1247 authorize the use under certain conditions of contract articles providing for periodic adjustment of price and corresponding exemption from renegotiation. Where these contract articles are used, the contracting officer in charge of the contract is authorized in his discretion to grant exemption from renegotiation in accordance with the contract provisions and the related procurement regulations.

CONTRACT ARTICLES FOR STATUTORY RENEGOTIATION

§ 81.1207 Articles authorized; deviations. Standard forms of contract articles approved for use in accordance with this regulation to satisfy the statutory requirements set forth in § 81.1290 (b) are contained in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.342 of these Regulations. The article set forth in § 81.342 (a) is hereafter called "Form I" and the article in § 81.342 (b) is hereafter called "Form II". Except as expressly authorized in this Regulation or subsequent instructions, deviations from the standard articles will not be used.

§ 81.1208 Use of articles—(a) Fixed price contracts. Subject to § 81.1204 et seq., Form I will be included in all fixed price or lump sum contracts hereafter made for an amount in excess of $100,000.

(b) Fixed fee contracts. Subject to § 81.1204 et seq., Form I will be included in every fixed-fee contract, where the amount of the estimated cost plus the fixed-fee is in excess of $100,000. In using Form I in fixed-fee contracts, the words "fixed fee specified in Article * * *" will be substituted for the term "contract price" in paragraphs (a) and (c).

(c) Supplemental agreements. With respect to supplemental agreements (which as used herein include change orders) the following principles will be observed:

(1) Subject to § 81.1204 et seq., every supplemental agreement for an amount in excess of $100,000 will include either Form I or Form II, whichever is appropriate, unless the contract to which the supplemental agreement relates contains an adequate renegotiation article which will apply to the supplemental agreement.

(2) If the chief of the supply service determines that it will be practicable to renegotiate the contract price of the supplemental agreement separately, the renegotiation article may be limited in its application to the supplemental agreement; otherwise, the renegotiation article included in the supplemental agreement will be made to apply to the original contract as well as the supplemental agreement.

(3) When Form I is to be limited to the supplemental agreement, subsection (4) of section (f) will be omitted and the following section will be added to the Article:

(g) This Article applies only to the supplemental agreement by which it was added (as modified from time to time), and shall be construed accordingly: (1) the term "this contract" means that supplemental agreement; (2) the term "the contract price" means the price provided by that supplemental agreement; and (3) the obligation of the Contractor under section (d) to insert renegotiation provisions in subcontracts applies only to subcontracts made under that supplemental agreement.

(4) When Form II is to be limited to the supplemental agreement, subsection (4) of section (c) will be omitted, and the following section will be added to the Article:

(d) This Article applies only to the supplemental agreement by which it was added (as modified from time to time), and shall be construed accordingly: (1) the term "this contract" means that supplemental agreement; and (2) the obligation of the Contractor under section (a) to insert renegotiation provisions in subcontracts applies only to subcontracts made under that supplement agreement.

(5) When the renegotiation article (Form I or Form II) is to apply to the original contract, as well as to the supplemental agreement, the Article will be added to the original contract by the supplemental agreement and the first sentence of section (d) of Form I or of section (a) of Form II, whichever is used, will be modified to read as follows:

The Contractor will include in each subcontract for an amount in excess of $100,000 made under this contract after the date of the supplemental agreement which added this Article, the following provisions:

By this change the obligation of the contractor to insert renegotiation provisions in subcontracts will be limited to those made after the date of the supplemental agreement which adds the Article to the original contract.

(6) When the contract to which the supplemental agreement relates contains a renegotiation article, but its inadequacy requires insertion of the article in the supplemental agreement, and that article is limited to the supplemental agreement, the supplemental agreement may provide that in case of any conflict between the article in the original contract and the article in the supplemental agreement, then the article in the supplemental agreement shall govern.

(d) Exempt contracts. When a contract or subcontract is exempt from statutory renegotiation under § 81.1204 (c) or (d), no article for statutory renegotiation pursuant to paragraphs (e) to (g), inclusive, of § 81.1204, Form I will be omitted from the contract, but Form II will be inserted unless all subcontracts under the contract will also be exempt from renegotiation under § 81.1204. When a contract or subcontract is individually exempted from Section 403, as amended, it will contain a statement showing (1) the extent of the exemption, (2) by whom it was granted, and (3) the provision of section 403, as amended, on which the exemption is based.

§ 81.1209 Deviations—(a) Substitution of article for prior form. Where a renegotiation provision pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, has been included in a contract in a form different from that herein prescribed, the contracting officer is authorized to amend the contract to substitute the form herein prescribed for the earlier form if the contractor so desires.

(b) Fixed fee subcontracts. When the prime contractor makes a fixed-fee subcontract, the subcontract article for renegotiation will be revised by substituting the words "fixed-fee hereunder" for the term "contract price" in sections (1) and (3).

(c) Optional provision in subcontracts. Where a contractor with the War Department or a subcontractor thereunder is required by his contract to insert a renegotiation article in his subcontracts, and there is doubt (1) whether an agreement or order which he proposes to make or place is a subcontract under the Act, or (2) whether it is exempt from renegotiation under subsection (i) of the Act, he should insert the prescribed renegotiation article in the agreement or order, but may add the following additional provision at the end of the article:

(7) This article shall apply to this contract only if it is a "subcontract" subject to renegotiation under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act, 1942.

The authority to use this additional provision in accordance with this paragraph may be expressly added to the renegotiation article (§ 81.342 (a) or (b)) in any existing or future contract if it is so desired; but this authority may be used whether or not the contract or subcontract so provides.

(d) Contracts for raw material products whose status under section 403 (i) (1) (ii) is uncertain—optional provision. As stated in § 81.1204 (d), contracts for certain raw materials are exempt under subsection 403 (i) (1) (ii), and the Secretaries are authorized by joint regulation to define, interpret, and apply this exemption. Wherever a contract with the War Department covers the product of a mine, oil or gas well, or mineral or natural deposit or timber, and it is uncertain whether or not the product is within this exemption or joint regulation, the contract should include the standard renegotiation article if otherwise required but the following additional provision may be added at the end of the article:

(g) If any joint regulation issued pursuant to subsection (i) (1) (ii) of section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, defines, interprets, or applies that subsection (i) (1) (ii) to exempt from the provisions of said section 403, as amended, contracts for any product or products covered by this contract, then the contract price for such product or products, if separately stated herein, shall not be subject to renegotiation under this article.

§ 81.1210 Use of other articles. Statutory renegotiation under the contract articles discussed in § 81.1201 et seq. is for the purpose of preventing or eliminating excessive profits and is handled by the Price Adjustment Board and Price Adjustment Sections. As authorized by the Act, it is generally conducted on an over-all basis for the contractor's fiscal year rather than by individual contracts. Various other clauses discussed in the following sections designed to provide for adjustment of the price of the specific contract to meet various types of conditions, may be used in addition to the contract articles for statutory renegotiation.

CONTRACT ARTICLES FOR PRICE ADJUSTMENT ON THE BASIS OF PRODUCTION EXPERIENCE

§ 81.1220 Scope. In certain cases the cost of production under a contract cannot be estimated with reasonable accuracy at the time of its execution. For example, the item may be entirely new or the particular contract may lack experience with its production or its design may still be experimental or subject to radical changes or development. This section deals with contract provisions designed to meet these situations by adjusting the price on the basis of production experience after part performance. It includes articles for (a) price redetermination by formula, (b) price revision by negotiation, (c) conversion of fixed-fee contracts to fixed price contracts and (d) incentive adjustments in fixed-fees.

§ 81.1221 Effect of articles. The effect of these various articles and the differences between them are briefly as follows:

(a) Redetermination by formula. Under this article (§ 81.341 (a)) an itemized estimate of costs is stated in the contract. After a specified percentage of the work under the contract is completed the contractor is required to submit similarly itemized statements of the cost of a "preliminary run" and a "test run". Then the original price is reduced, not by negotiation but by formula reflecting the extent to which the total costs as indicated by the preliminary and test runs are less than the original estimate of costs.

(b) Negotiated revision of entire price. Under this article (§ 81.341 (b)) the entire contract price may be revised either upward or downward by negotiation in good faith after a specified part of the contract has been performed. The revised price applies both to past and future performance. It differs from redetermination (1) by relying on negotiation instead of a formula for making the adjustment and (2) by permitting adjustment upward as well as downward.

(c) Conversion of fixed-fee to fixed-price contracts. Two articles apply only to fixed-fee contracts. One of these provides for converting the fixed-fee contract to a fixed price contract by negotiation after part performance.

(d) Fixed-fee incentive provisions. The other article for fixed-fee contracts (§ 81.341 (d)) provides for adjustments in the fee either upward or downward on the basis of efficiency in performance.

§ 81.1222 Relation to other price adjustment articles. (a) The articles discussed in §§ 81.1220–81.1226 are distinct from those for statutory renegotiation under section 403, as amended. While statutory renegotiation is intended to eliminate excessive profits and is generally conducted on an over-all fiscal year basis, the articles in this section contemplate readjusting the price of the individual contract during its performance on the basis of production experience. These articles are for use in addition to statutory renegotiation provisions which must also be included in the contract in accordance with § 81.1208, unless the contract is exempt from renegotiation (see § 81.1204).

(b) Likewise, the articles in §§ 81.1220–81.1226, which assume a general uncertainty as to production costs when the contract is made, differ in purpose and scope from the articles covered by §§ 81.1230–81.1236 which provide for price adjustments to meet specific kinds of contingencies. In appropriate cases, however, both types of article may be included in the same contract.

(c) These articles also differ from those discussed in §§ 81.1240–81.1247. While those provide for exemption from statutory renegotiation, the articles in §§ 81.1220–81.1226 do not so provide and also contemplate only one revision in the price and not its periodic adjustment. Furthermore, the articles for periodic adjustment of price assume reasonable certainty as to costs, while those in §§ 81.1220–81.1226 are for cases of great uncertainty in costs.

§ 81.1223 Price redetermination by formula—(a) Article authorized. The article for price redetermination by formula set out in § 81.341 (a) is authorized for use in accordance with this regulation. Minor deviations may be made in this article but it will never be changed to allow redetermination of the price upward. When upward as well as downward price adjustment is desired, the article discussed in § 81.1224 will be used.

(b) Use and operation of article. In using and operating this article for price redetermination the following principles will be observed:

(1) Before agreeing to the use of this article the contracting officer will analyze or examine the cost accounting system of the contractor to satisfy himself that it is sufficiently accurate to permit the effective operation of this article.

(2) The "preliminary run" is intended to cover the initial performance while production is getting under way and before costs have become stabilized. Accordingly it should include the percentage of the work or period which the contracting officer estimates will be needed before costs level off and become reasonably typical. The "test run" should cover an adequate period after such costs are expected to become reasonably stable. Unless these two periods will be completed before forty per cent of the contract is performed this article will not be used without special permission from the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters Army Service Forces.

(3) After the contractor submits the itemized statements of costs for the "preliminary run" and for the "test run" the contracting officer should make sufficient check to satisfy himself that they are accurate and reliable. If necessary he may examine the books and records of the contractor for this purpose.

(4) On the basis of the statements submitted and any other data obtained from the books and records of the contractor or otherwise, the contracting officer should determine the total costs for the "preliminary run" and for the "test run" and for the remainder of the contract. This should be done objectively as a factual determination. If the contractor disagrees with the decision of the contracting officer he may appeal under the Disputes Article. The contract price should be reduced by the difference between the total costs as so determined and the original estimated costs.

(5) Upon redetermination of the price, amounts paid for items theretofore delivered in excess of the new price shall be refunded to the Government or applied against subsequent deliveries, as the contracting officer may direct. The new price and provisions for refunds will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement.

§ 81.1224 Negotiated revision of entire contract price—upward or downward—(a) Article authorized. The article for a negotiated price revision set out in § 81.341 (b) is authorized for use in accordance with this regulation. Under this article the contract price for past and future deliveries is revised upward or downward by negotiation after a specified part of the contract has been performed. This will be used only in special cases where the developmental or experimental nature of the item or the lack of previous production experience with it or other causes, prevent reliable estimates of costs when the contract is made and make it essential to provide in the contract for later revision of the initial price in the light of actual production experience. Minor deviations may be made in this article, but it will never be changed to obligate the Government to increase the price on the basis of costs or any other formula, or to do more than negotiate in good faith to revise the price.

(b) Use and operation of article. In using and operating this article (§ 81.341 (b)) the following principles will be observed:

(1) When the article is to be used the contracting officer will satisfy himself that the cost accounting system of the contractor is sufficiently accurate to provide reasonable information as to costs of production experienced in performing the contract.

(2) The time fixed in the contract for negotiation to revise the price will depend upon the circumstances in each case. The period before revision should be sufficient to allow costs to become reasonably stable and capable of estimation with reasonable accuracy, but it should not be longer than is necessary for this purpose. Generally, performance of about twenty per cent of the contract should be an adequate trial period; in no case will the trial period exceed forty per cent of the contract without special permission from the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(3) In return for the agreement by the Government to negotiate to revise the price upward the contractor will be required to eliminate from the original prices substantially all allowances for contingencies.

(4) When the contractor submits the statements of costs for the trial period and estimates for the remainder of the contract, the contracting officer will make a sufficient check to satisfy himself that they are reasonably accurate and reliable. If necessary he may examine the books and records of the contractor for this purpose.

(5) Negotiations to revise the price should be conducted upon much the same basis as an original contract negotiation when like information on costs is available. Consideration will be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the contractor's costs during the trial period or which are likely to affect such costs during the remainder of the contract, and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which it is reasonable for the contractor to earn under the circumstances, including the fact that the contract article reduces certain of the risks of performance. As a standard the contracting officer should estimate costs of producing the item in the contractor's plant by efficient management and operation, plus a reasonable profit. If the contracting officer concludes that the contractor's operations are inefficient and that his costs are high, he will limit the revised price accordingly; on the other hand, if the contractor has reduced his costs by skillful management, careful buying or efficiency of production, the contemplated margin of profit under the contract may be increased in recognition of these facts. The contracting officer should bear in mind that the costs of production during the first part of the contract will almost always be substantially higher than those during the remainder of the contract. Consequently average costs during the trial period are generally not an accurate index of the costs for the remainder of the contract. Allowance should be made for this fact in fixing the revised prices.

(6) A revised price will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement, which will also provide for making appropriate credits or payments by the contractor or payments to him for the difference between the prices actually paid for items theretofore delivered and the revised price.

§ 81.1225 Article for converting fixed-fee contracts to fixed price basis—(a) Use of article. In accordance with § 81.232(c), fixed-fee contracts will include, whenever feasible, the article set out in § 81.341 (c) providing for conversion to a fixed price basis by negotiation after part performance. The time specified for conversion should be the earliest at which sufficient experience and cost data will be available to fix a fair price. Where possible, existing contracts will be amended to include this article.

(b) Basis of conversion. Such conversion is simpler if the fixed price basis is substituted for the entire contract, including past as well as future performance, and not merely for the remainder of the contract. When this is done, the price should be negotiated on the basis of the earlier experience, with appropriate allowance for declining costs, and should be fixed to yield approximately the cost plus the proportionate part of the fee for the past performance and a fair profit for the remainder of the contract. All previous payments made to the contractor should be applied against the amount due or to become due under the converted contract, or as advance payments, or partial payments against amounts to become due under it. By this method it will be unnecessary to evaluate the work in process or materials on hand, which will then assume their ordinary status under a fixed price contract, subject to any interest of the Government retained as security for advance or partial payments or for other purposes in accordance with the agreement to convert.

§ 81.1226 Incentive provisions for fixed-fee contracts—(a) Use of article. Paragraph (d) of § 81.341 sets out an article providing for increasing or reducing the fixed-fee under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts on the basis of efficiency in performance. Under it the fee is adjusted by comparing a target estimate of costs fixed after part performance with actual costs for the same period. This article is designed to provide incentives for reductions in costs and efficient operations under such contracts, and will be used wherever feasible if conversion of the contract to a fixed price basis is not practical.

(b) Operation of article. In the operation of this article § 81.341 (d) the following principles will be observed:

(1) The trial or test period specified in the contract should be sufficient to allow costs of production to become reasonably stable and to provide reliable data on production costs.

(2) In fixing the estimate of costs for the remainder of the contract, the contracting officer will take into account the fact that costs during the first part of the contract will not necessarily be typical for the remainder.

(3) The increase or reduction in the fee will be based on the amount by which costs during the remainder of the contract have been reduced or increased by the efficiency or inefficiency of the contractor. In determining this amount the contracting officer will make allowance for changes in costs resulting from other causes.

(4) The amount of the increase or decrease of the fee shall be evidenced by supplemental agreement.

CONTRACT PROVISIONS FOR PRICE ADJUSTMENT UPON CONTINGENCIES AND SHORT-TERM PRICING

§ 81.1230 Scope. Frequently at the time the contract is negotiated, cost data and experience are sufficient to permit the fixing of a fair price on the basis of existing conditions, but some of the elements of cost which are not under the control of the contractor are expected to change during the life of the contract. Under such circumstances the contractor will seek to include in his price allowances to protect himself against such changes unless the Government agrees to adjust the price to compensate for them if they occur. It is therefore necessary in each case to decide which course is more to the advantage of the Government in the particular instance. Sections 81.1230–81.1236 deal with various types of contract provisions under which the Government assumes certain of the risks of such changes in conditions. When they are used the contractor will be required to eliminate from the price any allowances to cover such contingencies.

§ 81.1231 Changes article. The standard contract article for changes allows the Government to modify the specifications or shipping and packing instructions by written order and provides for an equitable adjustment if such changes cause increases or decreases in the amount due under the contract or the time required for its performance. Often, however, it is necessary for the Government to increase or decrease the quantity to be delivered under the contract in order to conform to changes in needs, material allotments and other factors. To facilitate such variations a modified form of the "Changes" article has been authorized by § 81.329a, which allows the Government to reduce or enlarge the quantity to be delivered under the contract within prescribed limits and provides for an equitable adjustment in price either up or down depending on the effect of the change.

§ 81.1232 Escalation—(a) Based on indices. During the early stages of the procurement program a standard escalator clause providing for price adjustments on the basis of general indices for various classes of labor and materials was authorized to protect contractors against serious inflationary price and wage rises during performance. With the greater stability of wages and material prices the need for such escalator clauses has decreased. Since the administration of such clauses is complex and requires extensive accounting and auditing, authority for their use has been rescinded and they will therefore not be included in contracts hereafter negotiated.

(b) For Government-fixed prices. In cases where the Government directly fixes the price of a component material required for the performance of a contract, the contract may include a provision for equitable adjustment of the contract price to compensate for changes made by the Government in the price of the component material. (See § 81.351 (a).) This article will not be used where the Government merely fixes a maximum price for the component material, as by the Office of Price Administration. It will be used only where the Government fixes the actual sale price as in the case of rubber sold by the Rubber Reserve Company. Likewise, a provision may be included for adjustment based on increased freight rates fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission (§ 81.339) when such a provision does not violate any maximum price regulation of the Office of Price Administration. Finally § 81.357 contains a provision for price adjustment based on changes in certain taxes paid by the contractor.

(c) Adjustment based on allocations. (1) In the case of certain commodities such as cotton duck and certain classes of lumber, the Government controls the entire supply and allocates production sources among contractors. Where this is the case, the actual price paid by a particular contractor will depend on the source from which he is required to obtain such material. Since this is determined solely by the Government it is preferable to agree to adjust the price to the contractor on the basis of the amount paid by him for the allocated material than to include in the price an allowance against this risk. The article contained in § 81.351 (a) may be used for this purpose but only where the Government actually controls and allocates available sources of supply and requires the contractor to procure from the designated source.

(2) Under the system of priorities and allocations applicable to certain materials, a contractor may be obliged to purchase such materials from sources of supply at greater distances from his plant than normal and pay additional freight costs which may represent a serious burden; in such cases the contract may include the article contained in § 81.351 (b) if the contractor eliminates from his price any allowance for such additional expenses.

(3) The articles authorized in this section will generally be used only where the costs of the materials or freight will constitute an appreciable element in the total cost and inclusion of the article will eliminate the need for substantial allowances in the price. If this is not the case, the benefit from their use will be too slight to justify the time and effort involved in their operation.

§ 81.1233 Interruption of production schedules by Government action. Government allocations, priorities, and other actions may prevent a contractor from maintaining a constant schedule of production and thereby increase his costs of operation substantially, especially in mass production industries. To avoid the inclusion in price of an allowance against such interruptions, a contract article providing for equitable adjustment in the contract price and the time for performance under such circumstances is contained in § 81.351 (c). Whenever an interruption in the production schedules of a contractor will substantially affect his cost of performance and there is serious risk of such interruption as a result of Government action, this article may be included in the contract if the contractor has eliminated from his price any allowances and reserves for such contingencies.

§ 81.1234 Operation of articles—(a) Upon request by contractor. When the contractor requests equitable adjustment in the price in accordance with a contract article therefor, the following principles will be observed:

(1) The contracting officer will determine from information supplied by the contractor and, if necessary, by inspection of its books and records (i) whether the contingency covered by the article has occurred; and (ii) the amount, if any, by which the costs of the contractor have been increased by the change or contingency.

(2) The adjustment in price should be sufficient to compensate the contractor for the net amount by which his costs have been increased by the change or contingency. Care must be taken to eliminate increases due to other factors, and to allow for any offsetting reductions in costs which have also resulted from the change or contingency.

(3) The contracting officer will promptly notify the contractor in writing of the amount of the adjustment which he has determined to be equitable.

(b) On initiative of contracting officer. Certain of these articles provide for equitable adjustment of the contract price downward when specified contingencies reduce the costs. When the contract contains such a provision, the following principles will be observed:

(1) The contracting officer should determine before final payment under the contract (i) whether the specified contingency has occurred and the costs of the contractor have thereby been reduced; and (ii) if so, the amount by which the contract price should be adjusted under the contract article.

(2) In making this determination, care must be taken to eliminate reductions in costs resulting from other factors such as the efficiency of the contractor, and to take into account any offsetting increases in cost which may also have resulted from the same change or contingency.

(3) The contracting officer will promptly notify the contractor of any such downward adjustment in the contract price.

§ 81.1235 Article for short term pricing—(a) Purpose of article. Orderly scheduling of materials, production, subcontracting and deliveries often makes long term contracts necessary or desirable. Cost data and experience may be sufficient for fixing a fair price for part of the performance, but uncertainty of future conditions may prevent this for the remainder of the contract. Thus the contractor may be able to predict conditions for a reasonable period in advance sufficiently to agree to a close price for that period, but may fear that changes in conditions will seriously affect his costs after that time and seek contingency allowances to protect himself. The article for negotiated price revision set out in § 81.361 (a) is designed to meet this situation and is authorized for use in accordance with this regulation.

(b) Nature of article. Under this article (§ 81.361 (a)) the original price is fixed for a specified period and thereafter price is revised upward or downward by negotiation but the revised price applies only to the remainder of the contract and not to deliveries made during the specified period. While this article is similar to § 81.341 (b), they differ basically in purpose. Section 81.341 (b) covers cases where lack of experience and data prevent the fixing of a fair price when the contract is made and allows adjustment of the entire price for past as well as future deliveries. Section 81.361 (a) assumes that the original price can be fairly fixed, but that future conditions cannot be adequately predicted. This article is similar to Form I in § 81.360 of the contract article for periodic adjustment of price, except that it does not provide for exemption from statutory renegotiation and provides for only one revision in the price and not for periodic adjustment.

(c) Use and operation of article. In using this article (§ 81.361 (a)) the following principles will be observed:

(1) The contracting officer should satisfy himself that the contractor can supply reliable data on which to base the price revision at the end of the specified period.

(2) The time fixed in the contract for negotiation to revise the price will depend on the circumstances in each case. The original price should be kept in effect for as long a period as conditions will permit without undue contingency allowances and revision provided for thereafter.

(3) In return for the use of this article, the contractor will be required to eliminate from his original price substantially all allowances for future contingencies.

(4) The negotiations to revise the price should be carried on promptly after the time specified in the contract. The contracting officer should obtain sufficient information from the contractor and other sources to permit the new price to be well negotiated. If necessary, he may examine the books and records of the contractor for this purpose. Negotiations should be conducted upon much the same principles as the original negotiation and in accordance with § 81.1224 (b) (5).

(5) The revised price will be evidenced by supplemental agreement specifically providing that the revised price applies only to performance after the original period.

§ 81.1236 Periodic adjustment of price without provision for exemption from renegotiation—(a) Articles authorized. Sections 81.1240–81.1247 authorize the use of two articles in § 81.360 providing for periodic adjustment of the contract price and for exemption of the contract price from statutory renegotiation under certain conditions. Where a supply service desires to provide in a contract for such periodic adjustment of the contract price at regular intervals but does not desire to provide for exemption or for the power to exempt the contract price from statutory renegotiation in accordance with §§ 81.1240–81.1247, either Form I or Form II of § 81.360 may be revised to eliminate exemption of the contract price from statutory renegotiation or the power of the contracting officer to exempt it therefrom. Form I of § 81.360 will be so modified by deleting the second and third sentences of subsection (b) (2) and the second sentence of subsection (d) (3). Form II of § 81.360 may be so modified by deleting the second sentence of subsection (d) (3). With these deletions Form I or Form II of § 81.360 may be used in the discretion of the chief of a supply service without special permission from the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(b) Use and operation of articles. In using § 81.360 modified in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, the following principles will be observed:

(1) The contracting officer should satisfy himself that the contractor can supply reliable data on which to base the price adjustment at the end of each period.

(2) The contract will include the standard form of contract article for statutory renegotiation (§ 81.342 (a)), if required by § 81.1208.

(3) The contract price will be adjusted for each period in the manner described in §§ 81.1240–81.1247 of this regulation, except that no exemption from renegotiation will be granted and the price will remain subject to statutory renegotiation unless otherwise exempt from section 463, as amended.

CONTRACT ARTICLES FOR PERIODIC READJUSTMENT OF PRICE AND EXEMPTION FROM RENEGOTIATION

§ 81.1240 Articles authorized. Alternative contract articles providing for periodic readjustment of the contract price, and for exemption from statutory renegotiation under the Act of April 28, 1942, (sec. 403, Public Law 528—77th Cong.) as amended, under certain conditions, are set forth in § 81.260 (Form I) and (Form II). These articles, which are called Form I and Form II in this Regulation are approved for use in lump sum or fixed price contracts in accordance with §§ 81.1240–81.1247. Except as expressly authorized in §§ 81.1240–81.1247 or subsequent instructions, deviations from the standard articles will not be used.

§ 81.1241 Effect of articles. Both Form I and Form II divide performance under the contract into specified periods for the purpose of adjusting the contract price. Under Form I the original contract price is exempt from statutory renegotiation for the first period of performance, but under Form II the price for the first period will be adjusted at the end of that period and appropriate credit or refund made, and this adjusted price may be exempted from statutory renegotiation by the contracting officer, as hereafter described. Under both forms the contracting officer and contractor will negotiate at the end of each period on the basis of cost experience and other data, and the contracting officer, at his discretion, may exempt the price so fixed from statutory renegotiation, if he believes that the cost data are sufficiently accurate and that the price is fair to the Government and will not result in excessive profits to the contractor.

§ 81.1242 Purpose of articles. These articles are intended to carry out the policy of the War Department to promote efficiency in operation and production, reductions in costs by its contractors, and lower prices to the Government. They are designed to obtain these results as follows:

(a) Since the periods for which prices are fixed are to be relatively short, uncertainty and the risks of future changes in conditions are reduced, and the need for reserves and allowances for contingencies should be correspondingly decreased. At the end of each period, the prices for the next period will be fixed on the basis of recent past experience, current conditions, and more accurate forecasts.

(b) If a firm exempt from statutory renegotiation during the specified period is granted, the contractor is expected to agree in return to a close price with a narrow profit margin and to rely on his managerial skill to increase his profit by improved methods and efficiency.

(c) If costs are reduced in one period through efficiency, then when the prices are adjusted for the succeeding period, the Government and the contractor will share the benefit of the reduced costs in the form of lower prices but with a higher allowed profit margin.

§ 81.1243 Use of articles. In using these articles the following principles will be observed:

(a) Since the operation of these articles requires reliable and accurate data on the actual costs of performance, they will be used only when the contracting officer is convinced that the contractor can and will supply reliable cost information in accordance with the contract provisions. Before using these articles in any contract, the contracting officer will therefore examine and analyze the cost accounting system of the contractor and satisfy himself that it is accurate and adequate for these purposes.

(b) These articles also assume that the costs of performance during a succeeding period can be predicted with reasonable accuracy; otherwise there is no sound basis for predicting the probable profits with assurance, or for exempting them from statutory renegotiation. Accordingly, it will not ordinarily be feasible to use these articles unless the contractor has had previous experience in producing substantially similar articles, or the costs are reasonably standardized or can be accurately determined after a short period of performance.

(c) Form I, which provides for a firm price exempt from statutory renegotiation for the first period of performance, will be used only where accurate data are available at the time the contract is made, on the cost of producing substantially the same articles under substantially the same conditions. In general, it will be used only for repeat orders for materials or equipment previously produced by the same contractor.

(d) Form II, under which the contract price for the first period is readjusted at the end of the period, will be used when the available data on costs of performance are insufficient to allow Form I to be used, but where reasonably accurate costs data will become available toward the end of the first period of performance.

(e) Use of these articles will be limited to contractors who are willing substantially to eliminate allowances in the price for contingencies in view of the short-term pricing and to accept a smaller original profit margin in return for the other benefits of the contract.

(f) The length of the periods of performance to be specified for adjusting the price will depend upon the circumstances of each case. When Form II is used, the first period should be sufficient to allow costs of production to become reasonably stable. The succeeding periods under Form II and all periods under Form I should range from three or four months in most cases up to a maximum of six months where conditions are unusually stable and costs are accurately predictable. Where it will be simpler or more convenient to do so, the contract article may fix the periods by reference to the production or delivery of a prescribed number of articles instead of in terms of days or months, if the length of the periods so fixed will substantially conform to the required duration.

(g) When either Form I or Form II is used, the contract will not include any other provisions for price adjustment (such as escalation, redetermination, upward renegotiation) except (1) the statutory renegotiation article in accordance with § 81.1224, and (2) provisions for equitable adjustment of the price in case of changes in specifications, deliveries, rates of production, or increased expenses resulting from allocations or other Government action (see § 81.351).

(h) Form I or Form II will be used only with the permission of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Requests for such permission will state (1) the experience of the contractor with similar production, (2) the adequacy of the cost system and cost data of the contractor, (3) the price and profit margin which the contractor will agree to if the article is included, and (4) the reasons for recommending approval of the use of the article in the particular contract.

§ 81.1244 Insertion of statutory renegotiation article. Under both Form I and Form II of the articles for periodic price adjustment, the contract price for any period (except the first period under Form I) will remain subject to statutory renegotiation under the Act of April 28, 1942 (sec. 403, Public Law 528, 77th Cong.), as amended, unless it is exempt under the terms of the statute or is exempted by the contracting officer in the exercise of his discretion under the contract article. Accordingly, any contract which contains an article for periodic adjustment of the contract price will also include the contract article for statutory renegotiation (§ 81.342 (a)), if it is required by the provisions of §§ 81.1207–81.1210 of these regulations, but an additional sentence will be added at the end of section (a) of the statutory renegotiation article (§ 81.342 (a)) in such cases. When Form I is used this added sentence will read as follows:

> Sections (a) and (c) of this Article do not apply to the prices fixed for the first period under this contract and exempt from statutory renegotiation by Article • • • or to the prices fixed for any other periods thereunder which are exempted from statutory renegotiation by the Contracting Officer in the exercise of his discretion under that Article.

When Form II is used this added sentence will read as follows:

> Sections (a) and (c) of this Article do not apply to the prices fixed for any period under Article • • • of this contract which are exempted from statutory renegotiation by the Contracting Officer in the exercise of his discretion under that Article.

§ 81.1245 Changes in termination article. When Form I or Form II is used, the contract article entitled "Termination for the Convenience of the Government" (§ 81.324 (a)) will be amended by adding at the end of (d) (3) (A) and of (g) of that article the following additional sentence:

> For this purpose the contract price for the uncompleted portion of the contract shall be computed on the basis of (1) the prices agreed upon for the price period in which the notice of termination takes effect, if adjusted prices have been agreed upon for that period, or (2) such estimated prices as the contracting officer deems reasonable under all the circumstances, if adjusted prices have not been agreed upon for that period.

§ 81.1246 Price adjustments under the articles. In the operation of contracts containing Form I or Form II, contracting officers will observe the following principles:

(a) When the contractor submits the cost data, estimates, and proposed prices in accordance with the contract terms, the contracting officer will make such tests or checks of the data submitted, by examining the records of the contractor or otherwise, as he deems necessary to satisfy himself of their accuracy and sufficiency.

(b) Negotiations with the contractor to adjust the price will be begun and completed as expeditiously as possible in order to avoid delay in fixing the adjusted price. If, in the opinion of the contracting officer, the contractor unreasonably prolongs or delays the negotiations or refuses to agree upon a reasonable adjusted price, the contracting officer will promptly report the facts to the chief of the supply service who may then initiate appropriate action to protect the interest of the Government either by termination of the contract, by statutory renegotiation of the contract price for any period not exempt therefrom, by compulsory order, or by other means.

(c) In determining the price for the first period under Form II or for succeeding periods under Form I or Form II, the contracting officer will allow more liberal profit margins where the contractor by skillful management, careful buying, or efficiency has reduced costs, and will demand lower profit margins where performance has been inefficient or below partment with detailed knowledge of the facts of the case.

formance has been inefficient or below standard.

(d) The contracting officer will exercise his power to exempt from statutory renegotiation the adjusted prices agreed upon for the first period under Form II or for succeeding periods under Form I or Form II, only if he is convinced (1) that the cost data and cost estimates are reliable and provide a sufficient basis for fixing fair adjusted prices for the next period, and (2) that the adjusted prices are fair to the Government and, in his opinion based on the cost data and estimates and other available information, will not result in excessive profits. The contracting officer has full responsibility for granting or withholding the exemption. When he is convinced that the foregoing conditions are met, however, he should ordinarily grant the exemption for the period involved. In making this determination he will consult with the Price Adjustment Section of the supply service.

(e) Whenever the contracting officer grants an exemption under a contract containing either Form I or Form II, he will make a report to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, stating the adjusted price agreed upon, and containing copies of the data submitted by the contractor and any other data on which the adjusted price was based.

(f) After the entire contract is completed, the contracting officer will request from the contractor a statement showing the actual costs of performing the entire contract, and the prices paid during each period, and will send a copy of the statement to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 81.1247 Inserting articles in existing contracts. Where it is practicable and to the advantage of the Government to do so, existing contracts may be amended by supplemental agreement to insert either Form I or Form II upon the conditions prescribed by these regulations, and with the permission of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

PRICE ADJUSTMENTS WITHOUT CONTRACT PROVISIONS

§ 81.1250 Scope. (a) As the preceding sections emphasize, war conditions frequently require adjustment of contract terms to prevent unfairness to the contractor or the Government. While the provisions discussed above make the contract terms sufficiently flexible to meet many kinds of changes, they do not cover all contingencies and many contracts do not contain these provisions. Accordingly, contracts must often be amended to adapt them to new or unexpected developments.

(b) Such amendments arise from two main sources: (1) changes in the procurement program arising from changes in war equipment or in the relative needs for various types of equipment or from other causes; (2) unexpected difficulties by the contractor in performing the contract. §§ 81.1250–81.1252 deal with policies and methods governing both classes of amendment.

§ 81.1251 Amendments with consideration—(a) Price adjustment upward. The chief of a supply service may amend contracts to increase or modify the price or other contract terms in order to adjust contracts to new conditions:

(1) Whenever the amendment changes the contract specifications, delivery schedules, conditions of manufacture or similar contract terms.

(2) Whenever the amendment restricts or modifies the right of the contractor to perform the contract as he sees fit or on the basis most advantageous to him. Examples are cases where a contractor, who is not bound to do so by his existing contract, agrees to use particular methods of manufacture, substitute materials, specified or costlier sources of supply or subcontractors, or other specified methods or devices to conform with Government policy. (See, for example, § 81.225 (f) and § 81.222 (a).)

(3) Wherever the amendment modifies the volume or rate of production so as to affect adversely the contractor's costs (See, for example, § 81.227 and § 81.307).

(4) In any other case where the amendment is to the advantage of the Government and is based on legal consideration. The chief of the supply service may make any such amendments in accordance with § 81.306 (c) and following without the approval of higher authority, except as expressly required in those paragraphs.

(b) Price adjustment downward. Not all such amendments will require an increase in the price and some will justify a reduction in the price. For example, where the contract is amended to increase production or the rate of production under the contract, the costs of production may be reduced. Inasmuch as many of the fixed expenses have been provided for by the original volume, they should not be charged at all or to the same extent against the increased or accelerated production, and this saving will often more than offset any added costs involved in the increased volume or accelerated rate of production. Accordingly, the effects of any increase, speed-up or other change should be carefully analyzed in each case in order to obtain the proper adjustment.

§ 81.1252 Amendments without consideration—(a) Authority. Under the First War Powers Act, 1941 and Executive Order No. 9001 the War Department has power to amend and modify contracts without consideration whenever such amendments will facilitate the prosecution of the war. (See § 81.204, and Opinion of The Attorney General dated August 29, 1942). The following paragraphs do not delegate to the supply services any authority to make amendments without consideration. Such amendments will be made only in accordance with §§ 81.306 (d), 81.308a, and 81.308b of these regulations or express authority conferred by other provisions of the regulations, such as §§ 81.380 and 81.381.

(b) General policy. The general policy is to amend contracts to meet changed conditions whenever such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war. A liberal policy of granting amendments in appropriate cases will (1) assist in obtaining close prices and reasonable cost estimates without excessive allowances in the price for contingencies against unforeseen risks, and (2) insure maximum cooperation and production by assuring contractors of fair treatment. By this policy it is believed that the costs of War Department procurement as a whole will be materially reduced and that the efficiency of production will be substantially increased. The general principles for carrying out this policy are stated in the following paragraphs.

(c) Basic principle. Any amendment without consideration under authority of the First War Powers Act must be based upon a finding that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war. Precise rules for deciding whether this finding is justified in a particular case cannot be prescribed, for in each instance the determination is a matter of sound judgment on the basis of all of the facts, but certain guides can be given as to the matters which should be considered and the type of circumstances where relief may be appropriate.

(d) Types of cases. While it is obviously impossible to predict or classify all of the grounds upon which amendments without consideration may be appropriately made, examples of certain types or classes of cases where such relief may be proper are as follows:

(1) Where a contractor has suffered or is threatened with loss or diminished profit on a particular contract as a result of a mutual mistake or a bona fide mistake by the contractor alone as to existing fact (for example, through a clerical error or reasonable misunderstanding as to specifications), the contract price or terms should generally be corrected in accordance with the provisions of § 81.308b of these regulations.

(2) Where a contractor suffers a loss or a diminished profit on a particular contract as a result of Government action, the character of the Government action will generally determine whether any adjustment will be made and its extent.

(i) Where the governmental action is directed primarily at the contractor and is taken by the Government in its capacity as the other contracting party, the price may be equitably adjusted to compensate the contractor for the effect of the action if fairness so requires. Thus where such action by the representatives of the Government, although not creating any liability on its part, increases the cost of performance, or contributes to difficulty encountered by the contractor, considerations of fairness may make appropriate some equitable adjustment of the price or terms.

(ii) Even when the action is not taken by the Government primarily in its capacity as the other contracting party, fairness may sometimes require an equitable adjustment in the contract price or other terms, depending on the nature of the action, the circumstances and the effect on the contractor.

(3) Where special circumstances of the war or enemy action have materially affected the conditions of performance of a contract, and the contractor in fixing his prices has not provided contingency reserves adequate to meet them, appropriate amendment or equitable adjustment of the contract may be justified.

(4) Where an actual or threatened loss on a war contract, however caused, will impair the productive capacity or efficiency of a contractor whose continued operation as an efficient source of supply is, in the judgment of the War Department, important to the war effort, the contract will generally be equitably adjusted to the extent necessary to avoid such impairment of his operations insofar as they are important to the war effort.

(5) Where substitution of new contract procedures or provisions will eliminate administrative difficulties, reduce Government costs, expedite production or auditing, aid accounting, save time and expense or simplify procurement, the contract may be so modified even though the Government in a particular instance may receive no other substantial advantage from the modification (see for example § 81.324).

The foregoing types of situations are enumerated as a guide to contracting officers in submitting cases for amendment without consideration. The grounds described are not mutually exclusive. In some instances several of them will exist, and action on one may be justified although the conditions on the other are not met, or the combined effect of all the grounds of relief may be such as to lead to action under the statute. Whether relief will be granted in a particular case depends, of course, on its special facts and on whether the granting of relief in that case or in the class of cases will facilitate the prosecution of the war. This enumeration is not exhaustive and other types of circumstances may meet the conditions necessary for such relief.

(e) Time of amendments. All applications for contract adjustments under the First War Powers Act should be handled as promptly as possible after the occasion for relief arises. If action is delayed until the contractor has completed performance the relief may be ineffective, if granted, or may be denied as a matter of administrative judgment. As a general rule relief will be granted less readily in the later stages of contracts. Accordingly, whenever a request for such action is made or it appears likely that it will be made, the supply service should immediately make an investigation to obtain the necessary facts and submit the case without delay. Speedy action will often greatly increase the value of the adjustment to the contractor, and the knowledge of contractors that such relief will be granted expeditiously will aid the Government in obtaining closer pricing and achieving the other desired objectives of this policy.

(f) Preparation of cases. In view of the special nature of the power to be exercised, the supply service will develop the facts in each case adequately and prepare a report to be submitted with any request for approval by higher authority and preserved in the records of the supply service. In general, the report should contain information of the following types, so far as relevant to the particular case, and any other pertinent facts likely to assist in considering the proposed relief.

(1) Brief description of the contract involved.

(i) Date and length of contract; items, delivery schedules, and prices.

(ii) Special clauses for price adjustments; for partial or advance payments; or other special clauses.

(iii) Government-owned, Emergency Plant, or Defense Plant facilities involved, and methods employed to protect any Government interest in facilities of contractor.

(2) Factors creating need for relief.

(i) Nature of item (standard, new or experimental).

(ii) Previous experience of contractor with similar production.

(iii) Changes in conditions or Government action affecting contractor's costs.

(iv) Cost experience of the contractor under the contract, and relation to original estimates.

(v) Reserves or allowances against such contingencies included in original price.

(3) Extent of relief needed.

(i) Financial position of contractor, with supporting balance sheets and profit and loss statements.

(ii) Estimates of future costs under contract.

APPENDIX

§ 81.1290 Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942 (Public 528, 77th Congress), approved April 28, 1942, as amended by the section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public 753, 77th Congress) approved October 21, 1942—(a) Sec. 403 (a).

SEC. 403 (a). For the purposes of this section:

(1) The term "Department" means the War Department, the Navy Department, the Treasury Department, and the Maritime Commission, respectively.

(2) In the case of the Maritime Commission, the term "Secretary" means the Chairman of such Commission.

(3) The terms "renegotiate" and "renegotiation" include the refixing by the Secretary of the Department of the contract price.

(4) The term "excessive profits" means any amount of a contract or subcontract price which is found as a result of renegotiation to represent excessive profits.

(4) The term "excessive profits" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any article required for the performance of another contract or subcontract. The term "article" includes any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment, or other personal property.

For the purposes of subsections (d) and (e) of this section the term "contract" includes a subcontract and the term "contractor" includes a subcontractor.

(b) Sec. 403 (b).

SEC. 403 (b). Subject to subsection (i) the Secretary of each Department is authorized and directed to insert in any contract for an amount in excess of $100,000 hereafter made by such Department:

(1) A provision for the renegotiation of the contract price at a period or periods when, in the judgment of the Secretary, the profits can be determined with reasonable certainty;

(2) A provision for the retention by the United States from amounts otherwise due the contractor, or for the repayment by him to the United States, if paid to him, of any excessive profits not eliminated through reductions in the contract price, or otherwise, as the Secretary may direct;

(3) A provision requiring the contractor to insert in each subcontract for an amount in excess of $100,000 made by him under such contract (i) a provision for the renegotiation by such Secretary and the subcontractor of the contract price of the subcontract at a period or periods when, in the judgment of the Secretary, the profits can be determined with reasonable certainty, (ii) a provision for the retention by the contractor for the United States of the amount of any reduction in the contract price of any subcontract pursuant to its renegotiation hereunder, or for the repayment by the subcontractor to the United States of any excessive profits from such subcontract paid to him and not eliminated through reductions in the contract price or otherwise, as the Secretary may direct, and (iii) a provision for relieving the contractor from any liability to the subcontractor on account of any amount so retained by the contractor or repaid by the war and for three years after the termination of the war, but no court proceedings brought the meaning of section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation the amount by which the tax for such year under such chapters is decreased by the subcontractor to the United States, and (iv) in the discretion of the Secretary, a provision requiring any subcontractor to insert in any subcontract made by him under such subcontract, provisions corresponding to those of subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this subsection (b); and

(4) A provision for the retention by the United States from amounts otherwise due the contractor, or for repayment by him to the United States as the Secretary may direct, of the amount of any reduction in the contract price of any subcontract under such contract, which the contractor is directed, pursuant to clause (3) of this subsection, to withhold from payments otherwise due the subcontractor and actually unpaid at the time the contractor receives such direction.

The provision for the renegotiation of the contract price, in the discretion of the Secretary, (i) may fix the period or periods when or within which renegotiation shall be had; and (ii) if in the opinion of the Secretary the provisions of the contract or subcontract are otherwise adequate to prevent excessive profits, may provide that renegotiation shall apply only to a portion of the contract or subcontract or shall not apply to performance during a specified period or periods and may also provide that the contract price in effect during any such period or periods shall not be subject to renegotiation.

(c) Sec. 403 (c).

SEC. 403 (c) (1) Whenever, in the opinion of the Secretary of a Department, the profits realized or likely to be realized from any contract with such Department, or from any subcontract thereunder whether or not made by the contractor, may be excessive, the Secretary is authorized and directed to require the contractor or subcontractor to renegotiate the contract price. When the contractor or subcontractor holds two or more contracts or subcontracts the Secretary in his discretion, may renegotiate to eliminate excessive profits on some or all of such contracts and subcontracts as a group without separately renegotiating the contract price of each contract or subcontract.

(2) Upon renegotiation, the Secretary is authorized and directed to eliminate any excessive profits under such contract or subcontract (i) by reductions in the contract price of the contract or subcontract or by other revision in its terms; or (ii) by withholding from amounts otherwise due to the contractor or subcontractor, any amount of such excessive profits; or (iii) by directing a contractor to withhold for the account of the United States, from amounts otherwise due to the subcontractor, any amount of such excessive profits under the subcontract; or (iv) by recovery from the contractor or subcontractor through repayment, credit or suit, of any amount of such excessive profits actually paid to him; or (v) by any combination of these methods, as the Secretary deems desirable. The Secretary may bring actions on behalf of the United States in the appropriate courts of the United States to recover from such contractor or subcontractor, any amount of such excessive profits actually paid to him and not withheld or eliminated by some other method under this subsection. The surety under a contract or subcontract shall not be liable for the repayment of any excessive profits thereon. All money recovered by way of repayment or suit under this subsection shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

(3) In determining the excessiveness of profits realized or likely to be realized from any contract or subcontract, the Secretary shall recognize the properly applicable exclusions and deductions of the character which the contractor or subcontractor is allowed under Chapter I and Chapter 2E of the Internal Revenue Code. In determining the amount of any excessive profits to be eliminated hereunder the Secretary shall allow the contractor or subcontractor credit for Federal income and excess profits taxes as provided in section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) Upon renegotiation pursuant to this section, the Secretary may make such final or other agreements with a contractor or subcontractor for the elimination of excessive profits and for the discharge of any liability for excessive profits under this section, as the Secretary deems desirable. Such agreements may cover such past and future period or periods, may apply to such contract or contracts of the contractor or subcontractor, and may contain such terms and conditions, as the Secretary deems advisable. Any such agreement shall be final and conclusive according to its terms; and except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance or a willful misrepresentation of a material fact, (i) such agreement shall not be reopened as to the matters agreed upon, and shall not be modified by any officer, employee, or agent of the United States; and (ii) such agreement and any determination made in accordance therewith shall not be annulled, modified, set aside, or disregarded in any suit, action, or proceeding.

(5) Any contractor or subcontractor who holds contracts or subcontracts to which the provisions of this section are applicable, may file with the Secretaries of all the Departments concerned statements of actual costs of production and such other financial statements for any prior fiscal year or years of such contractor or subcontractor, in such form and detail, as the Secretaries shall prescribe by joint regulation. Within one year after the filing of such statements, or within such shorter period as may be prescribed by such joint regulation, the Secretary of a Department may give the contractor or subcontractor written notice, in form and manner to be prescribed in such joint regulation, that the Secretary is of the opinion that the profits realized from some or all of such contracts or subcontracts may be excessive, and fixing a date and place for an initial conference to be held within sixty days thereafter. If such notice is not given and renegotiation commenced by the Secretary within such sixty days the contractor or subcontractor shall not thereafter be required to renegotiate to eliminate excessive profits realized from any such contract or subcontract during such fiscal year or years and any liabilities of the contractor or subcontractor for excessive profits realized during such period shall be thereby discharged.

(6) This subsection (c) shall be applicable to all contracts and subcontracts hereafter made and to all contracts and subcontracts heretofore made, whether or not such contracts or subcontracts contain a renegotiation or recapture clause, unless (i) final payment pursuant to such contract or subcontract was made prior to April 28, 1942, or (ii) the contract or subcontract provides otherwise pursuant to subsection (b) or (i) or is exempted under subsection (i), of this section 403, or (iii) the aggregate sales by the contractor or subcontractor, and by all persons under the control of or controlling or under common control with the contractor or subcontractor, under contracts with the Departments and subcontracts thereunder do not exceed, or in the opinion of the Secretary concerned will not exceed $100,000 for the fiscal year of such contractor or subcontractor.

No renegotiation of the contract price pursuant to any provision therefor, or otherwise, shall be commenced by the Secretary more than one year after the close of the fiscal year of the contractor or subcontractor within which completion or termination of the contract or subcontract, as determined by the Secretary, occurs.

(d) Sec. 403 (d).

SEC. 403 (d). In renegotiating a contract price or determining excessive profits for the purposes of this section, the Secretaries of the respective Departments shall not make any allowance for any salaries, bonuses, or other compensation paid by a contractor to its officers or employees in excess of a reasonable amount nor shall they make allowance for any excessive reserves set up by the contractor or for any cost incurred by the contractor which are excessive and unreasonable. For the purpose of ascertaining whether such unreasonable compensation has been or is being paid, or whether such excessive reserves have been or are being set up, or whether any excessive and unreasonable costs have been or are being incurred, each such Secretary shall have the same powers with respect to any such contractor that an agency designated by the President to exercise the powers conferred by title XIII of the Second War Powers Act, 1942, has with respect to any contractor to whom such title is applicable. In the interest of economy and the avoidance of duplication of inspection and audit, the services of the Bureau of Internal Revenue shall, upon request of each such Secretary and the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, be made available to the extent determined by the Secretary of the Treasury for the purposes of making examinations and determinations with respect to profits under this section.

(e) Sec. 403 (e).

SEC. 403 (e). In addition to the powers conferred by existing law, the Secretary of each Department shall have the right to demand of any contractor who holds contracts with respect to which the provisions of this section are applicable in an aggregate amount in excess of $100,000, statements of actual costs of production and such other financial statements, at such time and in such form and detail, as such Secretary may require. Any person who willfully fails or refuses to furnish any statement required of him under this subsection, or who knowingly furnishes any such statement containing information which is false or misleading in any material respect, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. The powers conferred by this subsection shall be exercised in the case of any contractor by the Secretary of the Department holding the largest amount of such contracts with such contractor, or by such Secretary as may be mutually agreed to by the Secretaries concerned.

(f) Sec. 403 (f).

SEC. 403 (f). Subject to any regulations which the President may prescribe for the protection of the interest of the Government, the authority and discretion herein conferred upon the Secretary of each Department may be delegated in whole or in part by him to such individuals or agencies as he may designate in his Department, or in any other Department with the consent of the Secretary of that Department, and he may authorize such individuals or agencies to make further delegations of such authority and discretion.

(g) Sec. 403 (g).

SEC. 403 (g). If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the section and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

(h) Sec. 403 (h).

SEC. 403 (h). This section shall remain in force during the continuance of the present war and for three years after the termination of the war, but no court proceedings brought under this section shall abate by reason of the termination of the provisions of this section.

(i) Sec. 403 (i).

SEC. 403 (i). (1) The provisions of this section shall not apply to—

(i) Any contract by a Department with any other department, bureau, agency, or governmental corporation of the United States or with any Territory, possession, or State or any agency thereof or with any foreign government or any agency thereof; or

(ii) Any contract or subcontract for the product of a mine, oil or gas well, or other mineral or natural deposit, or timber, which has not been processed, refined, or treated beyond the first form or state suitable for industrial use; and the Secretaries are authorized by joint regulation, to define, interpret, and apply this exemption.

(2) The Secretary of a Department is authorized, in his discretion, to exempt from some or all of the provisions of this section—

(i) Any contract or subcontract to be performed outside of the territorial limits of the continental United States or in Alaska;

(ii) Any contracts or subcontracts under which, in the opinion of the Secretary, the profits can be determined with reasonable certainty when the contract price is established, such as certain classes of agreements for personal services, for the purchase of real property, perishable goods, or commodities the minimum price for the sale of which has been fixed by a public regulatory body, of leases and license agreements, and of agreements, where the period of performance under such contract or subcontract will not be in excess of thirty days; and

(iii) A portion of any contract or subcontract or performance thereunder during a specified period or periods, if in the opinion of the Secretary, the provisions of the contract are otherwise adequate to prevent excessive profits.

The Secretary may so exempt contracts and subcontracts both individually and by general classes or types.

Subsection (d) of section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942 provides:

The amendments made by this section shall be effective as of April 28, 1942 [the date of enactment of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942].

(j) Sec. 3806 of I. R. C. The text of section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code as added by section 508 of the Revenue Act of 1942 is as follows:

SEC. 3806. Mitigation of effect of renegotiation of war contracts or disallowance of reimbursement—(a) Reduction for prior taxable year.—(1) Excessive profits eliminated for prior taxable year. In the case of a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or any subcontract thereunder, which is made by the taxpayer, if a renegotiation is made in respect of such contract or subcontract and an amount of excessive profits received or accrued under such contract or subcontract for a taxable year (hereinafter referred to as "prior taxable year") is eliminated and, in a taxable year ending after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer is required to pay or repay to the United States or any agency thereof the amount of excessive profits eliminated or the amount of excessive profits eliminated is applied as an offset against other amounts due the taxpayer, the part of the contract or subcontract price which was received or was accrued for the prior taxable year shall be reduced by the amount of excessive profits eliminated. For the purposes of this section—

(A) The term "renegotiation" includes any transaction which is a renegotiation within the meaning of section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act (Pub 528, 77th Cong., 2d Sess.) or such section, as amended, any modification of one or more contracts with the United States or any agency thereof, and any agreement with the United States or any agency thereof in respect of one or more such contracts or subcontracts thereunder.

(B) The term "excessive profits" includes any amount which constitutes excessive profits within the meaning assigned to such term by subsection (a) of section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act (Public 528, 77th Cong., 2d Sess.), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, any part of the contract price of a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, any part of the subcontract price of a subcontract under such a contract, and any profits derived from one or more such contracts or subcontracts.

(C) The term "subcontract" includes any purchase order or agreement which is a subcontract within the meaning assigned to such term by subsection (a) of section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act (Public 528, 77th Cong., 2d Sess.), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942.

(2) Reduction of reimbursement for prior taxable year. In the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract between the United States or any agency thereof and the taxpayer, if an item for which the taxpayer has been reimbursed is disallowed as an item of cost chargeable to such contract and, in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer is required to repay the United States or any agency thereof the amount disallowed or the amount disallowed is applied as an offset against other amounts due the taxpayer, the amount of the reimbursement of the taxpayer under the contract for the taxable year in which the reimbursement for such item was received or was accrued (hereinafter referred to as "prior taxable year") shall be reduced by the amount disallowed.

(3) Deduction disallowed. The amount of the payment, repayment, or offset described in paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) shall not constitute a deduction for the year in which paid or incurred.

(4) Exception. The foregoing provisions of this subsection shall not apply in respect of any contract if the taxpayer shows to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that a different method of accounting for the amount of the payment, repayment, or disallowance clearly reflects income, and in such case the payment, repayment, or disallowance shall be accounted for with respect to the taxable year provided for under such method, which for the purposes of subsections (b) and (c) shall be considered a prior taxable year.

(b) Credit against repayment on account of renegotiation or allowance. (1) General rule. There shall be credited against the amount of excessive profits eliminated the amount by which the tax for the prior taxable year under Chapter 1, Chapter 2A, Chapter 2D, and Chapter 2E, is decreased by reason of the application of paragraph (1) of subsection (a); and there shall be credited against the amount disallowed the amount by which the tax for the prior taxable year under Chapter 1, Chapter 2A, Chapter 2D, and Chapter 2E, is decreased by reason of the application of paragraph (2) of subsection (a).

(2) Credit for barred year. If at the time of the payment, repayment, or offset described in paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) of subsection (a), refund or credit of tax under Chapter 1, Chapter 2A, Chapter 2D, or Chapter 2E, for the prior taxable year, is prevented (except for the provisions of section 3801) by any provision of the internal-revenue laws other than section 3761, or by rule of law, the amount by which the tax for such year under such chapters is decreased by the application of paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) of subsection (a) shall be computed under this paragraph. There shall first be ascertained the tax previously determined for the prior taxable year. The amount of the tax previously determined shall be (A) the tax shown by the taxpayer upon his return for such taxable year, increased by the amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, and decreased by the amounts previously abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of such tax; or (B) if no amount was shown as the tax by such taxpayer upon his return, or if no return was made by such taxpayer, then the amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, but such amounts previously assessed, or collected without assessment, shall be decreased by the amounts previously abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of such tax. There shall then be ascertained the decrease in tax previously determined which results solely from the application of paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) of subsection (a) to the prior taxable year. The amount so ascertained, together with any amounts collected as additions to the tax or interest, as a result of paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) of subsection (a) not having been applied to the prior taxable year shall be the amount by which such tax is decreased.

(3) Interest. In determining the amount of the credit under this subsection no interest shall be allowed with respect to the amount ascertained under paragraph (1) or paragraph (2); except that if interest is charged by the United States or the agency thereof on account of the disallowance for any period before the date of the payment, repayment, or offset, the credit shall be increased by an amount equal to interest on the amount ascertained under either such paragraph at the same rate and for the period (prior to the date of the payment, repayment, or offset) as interest is so charged.

(c) Credit in lieu of other credit or refund. If a credit is allowed under subsection (b) with respect to a prior taxable year no other credit or refund under the internal revenue laws founded on the application of subsection (a) shall be made on account of the amount allowed with respect to such taxable year. If the amount allowable as a credit under subsection (b) exceeds the amount allowed under such subsection, the excess shall, for the purposes of the internal revenue laws relating to credit or refund of tax, be treated as an overpayment for the prior taxable year which was made at the time payment, repayment, or offset was made.

§ 81.1291 Joint regulation.

Joint regulation interpreting and applying subsection (i) (1) (ii) of section 403, the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

I. The term "exempted product", as used in this regulation, shall mean any of the following products:

Vanadium ore and concentrates; ferrovanadium; vanadium pentoxide.
Zinc anodes, balls, oxides, powder and slabs.

2. Subsection (1) (1) (ii) of section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, is interpreted to mean that each of the exempted products is "the product of a mine, oil or gas well, or other mineral or natural deposit, or timber, which has not been processed, refined or treated beyond the first form or state suitable for industrial use". The provisions of said section 403, as amended, shall not apply to contracts or subcontracts for the exempted products.

3. In cases where a contractor or subcontractor (a) processes, refines or treats a product to bring it up to the form or state of an exempted product and, (b) further refines, processes or treats such exempted product beyond the first form or state suitable for industrial use in order to perform his contract or subcontract, then in such cases the exempted product in its first form or state suitable for industrial use shall be considered, for the purposes of renegotiation, under Section 403, as amended, as an item of cost at its established sale or market price.

4. This regulation may be amended from time to time, revising the list of exempted products contained in paragraph 1 of this regulation.

FEBRUARY 1, 1943.

The equipment, supplies and services to be obtained by this instrument are authorized by, are for the purposes set forth in, and are chargeable to the following allotments, the available balances of which are sufficient to cover the cost of same:

This contract was negotiated under and is authorized by the following laws:

NEGOTIATED ELECTRIC SERVICE CONTRACT

This contract, entered into this ---- day of ----------, 19----, by and between The United States of America (hereinafter called the "Government"), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract, and ---------- a Corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ---------- with principal office at ---------- (hereinafter called the "Contractor"), Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the Contractor is a public utility engaged in the business of supplying electric service to private and public consumers in the State of ----------; and Whereas, the Government and the Contractor are entering into this contract for the supplying by the Contractor to the Government of electric service for the operation of ---------- known as ---------- (hereinafter called the "Project"); and

Whereas, in order that the Contractor may supply electric service in accordance with the terms of this contract and within the time specified, it is necessary for the Contractor to provide the facilities described and enumerated in Appendix "A" attached hereto, and generally referred to hereinafter as Contractor's New Facilities; and

Whereas, due to the present uncertainty as to the amount of electric service which Government will use, and as to the length of time the Project will be operated, the Government is willing to compensate Contractor in the form of a connection charge for the cost of the facilities required to furnish services;

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises and of the mutual agreements herein contained, to be performed by the parties hereto respectively, it is agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I. Facilities to be provided.

1. The Contractor shall proceed to acquire or construct all necessary equipment, materials and rights of way needed for Contractor's New Facilities, which are described more fully in Appendix "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof. It is estimated that such facilities will be completed ---------- from the date of approval of this contract. It is expressly understood however that neither the Contractor nor the Government guarantees the correctness of this estimate but will use its best effort to acquire or construct the facilities within the time specified.

2. The Government hereby grants to the Contractor a license to enter upon and use a site or sites to be agreed upon between the parties hereto upon which the Contractor shall install, operate and maintain the Contractor's New Facilities to be located on Government property; and such license shall continue in effect until such time as the Government shall order the removal of Contractor's New Facilities located thereon: Provided, That after Contractor's New Facilities are ordered removed Contractor shall have ninety (90) days within which to comply with the Government order and if such facilities are not removed within said ninety (90) day period, title thereto shall vest in the Government without further action brought, and no claim for damages against the Government or its officers or agents shall be created by or made on account thereof: And provided further, That if the Government orders removal to another location on the project, for the convenience of the Government, then the Government shall pay the cost of such removal and relocation and shall likewise license Contractor to use such land as may be necessary for the relocation The license hereby granted by the Government to the Contractor shall be free of any rental or other charges

3. The names of the employees of the Contractor whose services Contractor proposed to retain in the construction, operation and maintenance of that portion of Contractor's New Facilities located within the boundaries of the Project shall be submitted to the Commanding Officer, or his authorized representative, in advance of actual employment for such purposes, together with pertinent information within the knowledge of Contractor as to the character, background and international political sympathies or affiliations of such employees, and the Commanding Officer, or his representative, shall reject or approve of the employment of such persons within the confines of the Project as he may deem proper in the interests of the United States. Only those employees who have been approved as hereinbefore provided shall receive employment within the confines of the Project and those so approved shall be designated as such by a method to be agreed upon by the Contractor and the Commanding Officer of the Project.

ART. II. Payment for cost of facilities. 1. In consideration of the investment to be made by the Contractor and the uncertain duration of the operation of the Project the Government agrees to pay the Contractor, as a connection charge, the estimated cost, less estimated salvage value of the facilities to be provided by the Contractor under this contract within thirty (30) days after receipt of satisfactory evidence of completion of the facilities. It is estimated that the facilities to be constructed under this contract will cost $---------- The agreed net salvage value to be deducted is $---------- The net connection charge to be paid by the Government shall be $---------- The Government is to receive a refund of the amount so paid as hereinafter provided.

ART. III. Ownership, operation, maintenance, and removal of facilities to be provided hereunder. 1. The facilities to be supplied by the Contractor as hereinbefore provided for, notwithstanding the reimbursement by the Government of the estimated cost thereof less net salvage value, shall be and remain the sole property of the Contractor and shall, at all times during the life of this contract or any renewals thereof, be operated and maintained by the Contractor at its expense, and all taxes and other charges in connection therewith, together with all liability arising out of the construction, operation, or maintenance of said facilities shall be assumed by the Contractor

2. Upon termination of the service provisions of this contract, Contractor may, of its own volition, remove any of its new facilities constructed under and by virtue of this contract: Provided, however, That at any time within fifteen (15) months from the date of termination such facilities so removed will be reinstalled by Contractor without cost to the Government, upon receipt of sixty (60) days written notice from the Government: And provided A new service contract is executed between the parties hereto This provision shall not give the Government the right to have such facilities reinstalled without cost to the Government in the event the Government "orders" removal as provided under Article I, section 2.

ART. IV. Refund agreement. 1. In consideration of the fact that the Contractor is to be reimbursed for the estimated cost of the facilities to be provided hereunder less the estimated net salvage value thereof, and the further consideration that title to said facilities is to be and remain in the Contractor, it agrees to allow the Government on each monthly bill for electric service supplied as hereinafter provided for, a credit of ten percent (10%) of the gross amount of such bills as rendered, said credits to be made monthly and continue until such time as the accumulated credits equal the amount of the connection charge, unless this contract shall have been previously terminated, except that if a new contract for the supply of electric service shall be entered into between the parties hereto within a period of fifteen months from the date of such failure to renew, the deductions shall resume and continue as above provided.

2. Anything in this contract to the contrary notwithstanding, no refund shall be made the Government or credit allowed on Government bills, after fifteen (15) years from the date of this contract.

ART. V. Option to reduce minimum charges. 1. In the event of a partial or total shutdown or abandonment of the Project, and, as a result thereof, power consumption is curtailed to less than twenty five percent (25%) of the average consumption for the ninety (90) day period immediately preceding such curtailment then the Government shall have the option to give he Contractor ninety (90) days notice after which time the minimum charge indicated in the rate schedule shall not apply, and the minimum to be charged shall be in accordance with the rate for the class of service required.

ART. VI. Term of contract. 1. This contract shall take effect as of the date of execution thereof and continue until further notice. Notice of intention to terminate this contract shall be at the option of the Government and shall be given in writing by the Contracting Officer to the Contractor not less than ninety (90) days in advance of the effective date of termination.

ART. VII. Service. 1. Contractor shall supply the electric service required by the Government for use at the Project. The Government agrees that the electric service to be supplied under the terms of this contract shall be used only in connection with activities within the boundaries of the Project as presently located or as such boundaries may be extended in the future.

ART. VIII. Description of electric current delivered.
Volts-------- Cycles-------- Phase--------
Number of wires { 2 / 3 / 4 } direct or alternating current.

ART. IX. Metering and accounts. 1. The Contractor shall furnish, install, maintain, calibrate, and read the meters used to measure the electrical energy supplied by the Contractor for which payment is to be made, and shall render monthly accounts to the Contracting Officer, the meter reading to be made in the presence of the Contracting Officer or his authorized representative. These accounts, which shall remain the property of the Government, shall contain the statements of the readings of the meters at the beginning of the month, meter constants, monthly consumption, with respective charges and allowances, if any, in detail.

ART. X. Description of meters. 1. All electrical energy supplied by the Contractor under the terms of this agreement shall be measured by means of the following metering equipment:

(1) When purchased on primary meter measurement—
Primary watt-hour meter, ----------amperes, ----------volts, ----------cycles, ----------phases, ----------wires.
Located at ----------
Other meters ----------

---

(2) When purchased on secondary meter measurement—
Secondary watt-hour meter, ----------amperes, ----------volts, ----------cycles, ----------phases, ----------wires.
Located at ----------

(3) When purchased with demand meter measurement—
Maximum demand indicator arrangements to record or indicate the average maximum demand over a period of ---------- minutes, and the average billing maximum demand shall be the average of ---------- such readings per month. The instrument used for this purpose shall be of the following type and description: ----------

---

ART. XI. Billing. 1. Bills shall be rendered on the basis of -------- meters installed, the readings of each separate meter to be—
1 Billed separately.
1 All added and billed as one quantity.

ART. XII. Service regulations. 1. The matter of meters, meter accuracy, reliability of service, voltage regulation, and frequency variations, and all other matters not stipulated in this contract, shall be governed by the rules applicable and on file with the State Commission having jurisdiction in said matters, or where not on file with the State Commission, then such matters shall be governed by applicable rules of codes of the United States Bureau of Standards.[2]

ART. XIII. Change in load. 1. Reasonable notice will be given by each party to the other as to any material changes proposed in the connected load in the Project or on the lines serving the Project.

ART. XIV. Change of schedule. 1. The Contractor hereby agrees that if, after furnishing electrical energy for any ninety (90) day period during the life of this contract, it would have been more advantageous to the Government to have taken service under any other of the Contractor's standard rate schedules in effect during any such period for like conditions of service to the class of service furnished hereunder, the rate shall be changed to conform to the schedule and an adjustment of the charges for the last of such periods shall be made, based on such schedule.

ART. XV. Change of rates. 1. If during the life of this contract the State Commission having jurisdiction receives for file in authorized manner rates that are higher or rates that are lower than those stipulated herein for like conditions of service, the Contractor hereby agrees to continue to furnish electric current as stipulated in this contract, and the Government hereby agrees to pay for such electric current at the higher or lower rates from and after the date when such rates are made effective.

ART. XVI. Deductions. 1. This contract contemplates that continuous service shall be furnished Should the power company desire to interrupt service for maintenance or repair purposes, arrangement therefor shall be made with the proper officials in order that such interruptions will least interfere with service for the Government.

2. If such arrangement is not made, and if the interruption is due to conditions within the control of the Contractor, deductions shall be imposed which will partially compensate the Government. For a shut-down lasting from three minutes to thirty minutes, 10 percent of the cost of current for the preceding day of similar service shall be deducted. For a shut-down of over thirty minutes, 25 percent of the cost of current for the preceding day of similar service shall be deducted

ART. XVII. Payments. 1. For and in consideration of the faithful performance of the stipulations of this contract, the Contractor shall be paid by the designated disbursing officer for electrical energy herein contracted for, at the rates and under the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth; and the Contractor hereby declares that said rates are not in excess of the lowest rates now available to any prospective customer under like conditions of service.

2. All bills for electric energy delivered shall be paid without penalty or interest within fifteen (15) days from the date the bill is rendered, but this provision shall not operate to preclude the Government from the benefits of any discounts that might be available through more prompt payment

ART. XVIII. Ownership of premises. 1. The premises to be served under this contract are:
A. Government owned.
B. Government leased.
2. a. The symbol number of the Government lease is ----------

---

b. The name of the lessor is ----------

ART. XIX. Rates.

For Title II $_____
Payment: To be made by_____ U. S. Army, at_____

The supplies and services to be obtained by this instrument are authorized by, are for the purposes set forth in, and are chargeable to, the following allotments, the available balances of which are sufficient to cover the cost of the same:

This contract was negotiated under and is authorized by the following laws:

LUMP SUM CONTRACT FOR ARCHITECT-ENGINEER SERVICES WITH OPTIONAL SUPERVISION

This Contract, entered into this _____ day of _____ 19____ by the United States of America (hereinafter called the "Government"), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract and_____ *a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of_____ *a partnership consisting of_____ *an individual trading as_____ in the City of_____ State of _____ (hereinafter called the "Architect-Engineer"),

Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the accomplishment of the hereinafter described work and services is authorized by law and will facilitate the prosecution of the war; and

Whereas, the Government desires to engage the Architect-Engineer to render services as hereinafter set forth for the preparation of necessary reports, designs, drawings, specifications and other documents; and, at the option of the Government, for technical supervision of the construction of the project described in Article I-A hereof; and

Whereas, the Secretary of War has directed _____ to negotiate this Architect-Engineer Contract:

Now, Therefore, the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

TITLE I

ARTICLE I-A. Description of Project. 1. The Architect-Engineer shall, upon receipt of notice to proceed, perform all the services required under this contract for the project generally described as follows:

(hereinafter referred to as "the project"), located at or in the vicinity of_____ and more specifically described in Appendix "A" which is attached hereto and made a part hereof.

ART. I-B Statement of architect-engineer services.

The Architect-Engineer shall perform the following services:

1. Make such topographical and other surveys and maps as are specified in Appendix "A"; supervise necessary test borings and other subsurface investigations required by the Contracting Officer, but the cost of such borings and investigations shall be borne by the Government. This provision is not to be deemed to require the Architect-Engineer to make real estate surveys.

2. Establish a permanently monumented base line, with elevations, tied into the North American Datum.

3. Prepare, subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer, preliminary studies, sketches, and layout plans and reports including estimates of cost of the proposed project and of all structures, utilities and appurtenances thereto. But if more than three sets of such studies, sketches, plans, or reports are required because of changes initiated by the Contracting Officer, an adjustment in the contract price will be made as provided in Article III-E.

4. Adapt Government designs, drawings, specifications and standards for buildings and other structures as necessary to meet the requirements of the approved layout of the proposed project, and prepare detailed designs, specifications and drawings in required form for buildings and other structures for which Government designs are incomplete or unavailable.

5. When preliminary drawings are approved in writing by the Contracting Officer, prepare final designs, detailed working drawings and specifications in accordance with Government standards necessary for the effective coordination and efficient execution of the construction work and revise such drawings and specifications if necessary. All such drawings may be prepared in pencil on pencil cloth. Prepare and furnish _____ copies of the specifications and _____ sets of full size copies of working drawings; in the event additional copies are required the Government shall pay the cost thereof. There shall be included in the specifications all provisions which the Contracting Officer may direct to have incorporated therein relating to the advertising, negotiating, or awarding of construction contract or contracts, conditions under which the work shall be done, and any special provisions required by statute or existing War Department regulations or instructions.

6. Obtain necessary permits and approvals from all local, State and Federal authorities. Should it become necessary in the performance of the work and services for the Architect-Engineer to secure the right of ingress and egress to perform any of the work required by Title I hereof on properties not owned or controlled by the Government, the Architect-Engineer shall, if practicable, secure the consent of the owner, his representative, or agent, prior to effecting entry on such property. In the event the owner requires the payment of any fee for a license to enter upon and/or use such property, the Architect-Engineer, when so directed by the Contracting Officer, shall pay such fee and obtain a receipt therefor. The expenditures covering such fees shall constitute a reimbursable item under this contract, and the Architect-Engineer, upon presentation of a voucher therefor, duly supported by proper receipts attached thereto, shall be reimbursed for the full amount thereof.

7. Prepare an estimate of the cost of the proposed project based upon the approved designs, drawings and specifications therefor.

8. Prepare schedules and charts showing the sequence of operations in the construction of each of the several portions of the work.

9. Prepare estimates showing the quantities of critical and important materials and length of time after award of the construction contract when such materials will be required on the site.

10. Assist the Contracting Officer in preparing invitations for bids or proposals analyzing and evaluating bids or proposals for a construction contract or contracts based upon the approved drawings and specifications.

11. Check and approve all shop and working drawings submitted by the Constructor in connection with the construction work to assure that they conform with approved drawings.

12. During the construction period the Architect-Engineer shall furnish such advice as may be requested and an approved representative shall make _____ visits to the site of the work at periods required by the Contracting Officer; additional visits, if made, shall be paid for at _____ Dollars ($_____) per day in full satisfaction therefor. In the event that the option of Title II is exercised, the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply.

ART. I-C. Progress schedule. 1. The Architect-Engineer shall, promptly after the execution of this contract, prepare and submit to the Contracting Officer, for approval, a schedule showing the order in which the Architect-Engineer proposes to carry on the work, with dates on which he will start the several salient features of the work and the contemplated dates for completing the same. Such schedule shall provide for completion of all work hereunder within the contract time. The schedule shall be in the form of a progress chart at suitable scale so as to indicate with symbols the percentage completed at any time. The Architect-Engineer shall correct the progress schedule at the end of each week and shall immediately deliver three copies to the Contracting Officer.

2. The Architect-Engineer shall furnish sufficient technical, supervisory and administrative personnel to insure the prosecution of the work in accordance with the approved progress schedule.

ART. I-D. Period of service. 1. The Architect-Engineer shall complete all work and services under Title I of this contract except work and services required under Article I-B, sections 11 and 12, within _____ months after receipt of notice to proceed.

ART. I-E. Payment. 1. In consideration of the performance of his undertakings under this Title I, the Architect-Engineer shall be paid the sum of _____ Dollars ($_____), which shall constitute complete payment for all services required to be performed under this Title I and all expenditures which may be made and expenses incurred except as are otherwise expressly provided herein.

TITLE II

At any time prior to six months after satisfactory completion and acceptance of the work and services to be furnished under Title I except Article I-B, sections 11 and 12, the Government, at its option, may direct, by a written order, the Architect-Engineer to perform the work and services provided under this Title II. Upon receipt of such direction, the Architect-Engineer shall proceed with such work and services.

ART. II-A. Services to be furnished by architect-engineer.

The Architect-Engineer shall perform the following services:

1. Furnish all governing lines, bench marks and grades essential to the construction of the project.

2. Furnish a Resident Engineer and staff of assistants and other personnel to supervise the construction to assure that every part of the work is done in accordance with the approved drawings and specifications and within the areas and boundaries designated for the project. The Architect-Engineer will furnish _____ man-months of inspection service as required by the Contracting Officer.

3. Make all field tests at the site of the work and report to the Contracting Officer in writing as to the conformity or nonconformity of the materials and equipment and workmanship to specifications. The Architect-Engineer shall evaluate reports on such other tests of materials and equipment as may be required by the Contracting Officer, but the cost of such tests shall be borne by the Government.

4. Prepare, with the assistance of the Constructor, labor estimates showing the approximate numbers, trades and dates required to meet the approved construction schedule.

5. Prepare weekly progress reports in approved form showing the progress of the construction work and any deviation from the approved construction schedule.

6 Prepare, when required by the Contracting Officer, the partial and final construction estimates for payment.

7. Without additional compensation the Architect-Engineer or any member of the organization, when requested, shall consult and advise with the Contracting Officer on any questions which may arise in connection with the work under this contract.

8. Upon termination or completion of this contract as determined by the Contracting Officer, and before final payment, the Architect-Engineer shall:

a. Prepare record drawings to the satisfaction of the Contracting Officer to show details of construction as actually accomplished as follows:

(1) Drawings of topographical surveys, project layouts, utility layout maps, unit layout maps (including utilities), landscape layouts, and detailed drawings, for all special structures of a permanent nature, including sewage disposal plants, and water and electrical supply systems, shall be inked in on linen.

(2) All other record drawings shall be prepared in pencil on pencil cloth.

b. Assist the Contracting Officer in the preparation of the completion report for the project.

c. Supervise the testing of operating units to assure their conformance with specifications and furnish all engineering services necessary to secure such conformance.

d. Prepare instructions for the proper operation and maintenance of all utilities and operating equipment designed by the Architect-Engineer.

ART. II-B. Period of service. 1. The period of service of the Architect-Engineer under Title II of this Contract shall be _____, months from receipt of the order to proceed, but the Government may extend such period as provided in Article III-E of this Contract.

ART. II-C. Payment. 1. In consideration of the performance of his undertakings under this Title II the Architect-Engineer shall be paid the sum of _____ Dollars ($_____), which shall constitute complete payment for all services required to be performed under this Title II and all expenditures which may be made and expenses incurred except as are otherwise provided herein.

TITLE III

The provisions of this Title shall apply to this entire contract, towit: to Title I and likewise to Title II, should Title II become operative as provided herein.

ART. III-A. Method of payment. 1. Estimates shall be made semi-monthly of the amount and value of the work and services performed by the Architect-Engineer under this contract, determined in accordance with Appendix "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof.

2. Upon approval of such estimate by the Contracting Officer payment upon vouchers approved by the Contracting Officer shall be made to the Architect-Engineer as soon as practicable of 90% of the amount as determined above, less all previous payments.

3. In the event that the Government does not exercise the option under Title II of this contract within 30 days after the satisfactory completion and acceptance by the Contracting Officer of the work done by the Architect-Engineer under Article I-B, sections 1 through 10 inclusive, the Architect-Engineer shall be paid the unpaid balance of any money due for work done under said sections.

4. Upon satisfactory completion of the construction work and its final acceptance the Architect-Engineer shall be paid the unpaid balance of any money due hereunder. Prior to such final payment under the contract, or prior to settlement upon termination of the contracts, and as a condition precedent thereto, the Architect-Engineer shall execute and deliver to the Contracting Officer a release of all claims against the Government arising under or by virtue of this contract, other than such claims, if any, as may be specifically excepted by the Architect-Engineer from the operation of the release in stated amounts to be set forth therein.

ART. III-B. Drawings and other data to become property of government. 1. All notes, designs, drawings, specifications and other technical data are to become the property of the Government on completion as outlined in this contract, and the Government shall have full right to use those instruments for the purpose of constructing under contract or otherwise any buildings or other structures for the sole use of the Government when and where the Government may designate, without any claim on the part of the Architect-Engineer for additional compensation.

2. All notes, designs, drawings, specifications and other technical data concerning the project shall be delivered to the Government whenever requested by the Contracting Officer, and, furthermore, access to such data shall be restricted to trusted and duly authorized representatives of the Government and of the Architect-Engineer.

ART. III-C. Contracting officer's decisions. 1. The extent and character of the work to be done by the Architect-Engineer shall be subject to the general supervision, direction, control and approval of the Contracting Officer to whom the Architect-Engineer shall report and be responsible. In the event that there should be any dispute with regard to the extent and character of the work to be done, the decision of the Contracting Officer shall govern, but the Architect-Engineer shall have the right of appeal as provided in Article III-D.

ART. III-D. Disputes. (Insert ([¶326]) (§ 81.326))

ART. III-E. Changes. 1. The Contracting Officer may at any time, by a written order, and without notice to the sureties, make any changes in this contract which may either increase or decrease the services hereunder. If such changes cause an increase or decrease in the services required under this contract, or in the time required for its performance, an equitable adjustment shall be made and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly. No changes involving an estimated increase or decrease in the amount of payment for services of more than _____ Dollars ($_____) shall be ordered unless approved in writing by the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative. Any claim for adjustment under this article must be asserted within 10 days from the date the change is ordered: Provided, however, That the Contracting Officer, if he determines that the facts justify such action, may receive and consider, and with the approval of the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative, adjust any such claim asserted at any time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article III-D, but nothing provided in this article shall excuse the Architect-Engineer from proceeding with the prosecution of the work so changed.

ART. III-F. Termination. 1. The Government may terminate this contract at any time and for any cause by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Architect-Engineer. Upon receipt of such notice the Architect-Engineer shall, unless the notice directs otherwise, immediately discontinue all work.

2. If the contract is terminated for the convenience of the Government, payment to the Architect-Engineer will be made promptly for that proportion of the services required under the contract which the work actually performed bears to the total work required under the contract, less any payments previously made.

3. If this contract is terminated because of the failure on the part of the Architect-Engineer to fulfill his undertakings under this contract, the Government may take over the work and prosecute the same to completion by contract or otherwise, and the Architect-Engineer shall be liable to the Government for any excess cost occasioned to the Government thereby.

ART. III-G. Covenant against contingent fees. (Insert [¶323] (§ 81.323))

ART. III-H. Officials not to benefit. (Insert [¶322] (§ 81.322))

ART. III-I. Assignment of claims. (Insert [¶355] (§ 81.355))

*Delete all lines which do not apply.

ART. III-J Contract labor. (Insert [¶345] (§ 81.345))

ART. III-K Dismissals. 1. Should the continued employment, under this contract, of any person in the Architect-Engineer's organization be deemed by the Contracting Officer to be prejudicial to the interests of the Government, that person shall be immediately removed from the work. The Architect-Engineer shall make every reasonable effort in the selection of his employees and in the prosecution of the work under this contract to safeguard all drawings and specifications, and to prevent the theft or unauthorized use of the same.

ART. III-L. Workmen's Compensation Laws. 1. The Act of June 25, 1936 (49 Stat. 1938, 1939; 40 U. S. C. 290), provides that the several states have authority to make their Workmen's Compensation Laws applicable to contracts for the construction, alteration or repair of a public building or public work of the United States, and the several States are vested with the power and authority to enforce such state laws on lands of the United States.

ART. III-M. Accident prevention. 1. The Architect-Engineer will maintain an accurate record of, and will report to the Contracting Officer in the manner and on the forms prescribed by the Contracting Officer, all causes of death, occupational disease, and traumatic injury arising out of or in the course of employment on work under this contract.

ART. III-N Anti-discrimination. (Insert [¶325] (§ 81.325))

ART. III-O Renegotiation. Pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as Amended. (Insert [¶342.1] (§ 81.342 (a)))

ART. III-P Definitions. (Insert [¶1301.22] (§ 81.1301 (v)))

ART. III-Q Approval. 1. This contract shall be subject to the written approval of the _____ and shall not be binding unless so approved.

ART. III-R. Alterations. 1. The following changes were made in this contract before it was signed by the parties hereto:

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Regulation 1, Direction 5]

HEAT TREATED AND NORMALIZED CARBON AND ALLOY STEEL FOR COMMERCIAL WAREHOUSE ORDERS

The following direction is issued to all steel producers, pursuant to paragraph (t) of CMP Regulation No. 1:

(a) In order to reduce the excessive load on heat treating facilities, steel producers are hereby prohibited, until further notice, from shipping normalized or heat treated carbon or alloy steel on any commercial warehouse order, except as permitted by paragraph (b) hereof. For the purposes of this direction, "Commercial Warehouse Order" does not include orders for shipment to earmarked aircraft warehouse stock, or for direct shipment to a manufacturer of aircraft or aircraft parts, but does cover all other orders for shipment to warehouse stock or direct to a warehouse customer.

(b) Commercial warehouse orders already normalized or heat treated, or now in process of being normalized or heat treated, may be shipped when an as completed, if otherwise validated in accordance with applicable War Production Board orders or regulations.

(c) Commercial warehouse orders already melted but not yet in process of being normalized or heat treated should be renegotiated with the purchaser on the basis of furnishing plain hot rolled, annealed, and/or cold drawn steel.

(d) Commercial warehouse orders not yet melted should either be cancelled or should be renegotiated with the purchaser on the basis of furnishing plain hot rolled, annealed, and/or cold drawn steel.

Issued this 19th day of April 1943.

PART 935—VINYL POLYMERS

[Allocation Order M-10, as Amended April 20, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of vinyl polymers for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 935.1 Allocation Order M-10—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Vinyl polymers" means plasticized or unplasticized polymers and copolymers of vinyl acetate, vinyl chloride and polyvinyl alcohol and includes their condensation products. Such term also includes, but is not limited to, vinyl chloride-acetate copolymers, polyvinyl butyral, polyvinyl formal and polyvinyl acetal and the materials known by the trade names of Koroseal, Vinylite V, Saran, Butvar, Formvar, Alvar, Butacite, Heydenite, Saflex, Vinylite X, Vinylite A, PVA, Gelva and Solva. Such term also includes vinyl polymer scrap regardless of the source from which derived. Such term shall not include acrylic resins as defined in Order M-260 (§ 3135.1).

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any vinyl polymer and includes any person who has any vinyl polymer produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery. (1) No person, including a producer, shall use, deliver or accept delivery of vinyl polymers except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (d).

(2) Each person authorized to use or to accept delivery of vinyl polymers shall use such vinyl polymers and products made from such vinyl polymers only for the purpose authorized, except as otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board.

(3) The War Production Board at its discretion may from time to time issue special directions to any person with respect to the use or delivery of vinyl polymers by such person, or of products made from vinyl polymers allocated to such person, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c), or may issue special directions to any producer with respect to the kinds of vinyl polymers which he may produce or manufacture.

(c) Exemptions. The specific authorization of the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) shall not be required with respect to the following:

(1) Delivery of vinyl polymers to a producer by any person, and the acceptance of such delivery.

(2) Delivery, acceptance of delivery or use by any person of any material made in whole or in part from vinyl polymers pursuant to any specific authorization or direction issued by the War Production Board: Provided, however, That this exemption shall not be construed to apply to vinyl polymer scrap resulting from an authorized use of vinyl polymers.

(3) Use and acceptance of delivery of 50 pounds or less of vinyl polymers by any person in any one calendar month. Authorization by the War Production Board is required to make such small order deliveries upon application pursuant to paragraph (d) requesting an aggregate quantity of vinyl polymers "for paragraph (c) (3) small orders".

(4) Acceptance of delivery of vinyl polymers by any person for experimental purposes, and the experimental use by such person of the vinyl polymers so delivered. Authorization by the War Production Board is required to make deliveries for experimental purposes, upon application pursuant to paragraph (d) requesting an aggregate quantity of vinyl polymers "for deliveries for experimental purposes".

(5) Delivery by any person of vinyl polymer scrap to, and acceptance of such delivery by, any person purchasing such scrap for resale as scrap without further processing except cleaning and sorting. In addition, delivery of vinyl polymers may be made and accepted without specific authorization in the case of special sales pursuant to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 13. However, the purchaser of vinyl polymers pursuant to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 13 is subject to the provisions of this order M-10 with respect to use or redelivery of such vinyl polymers.

(d) Reports. In addition to such other reports as may from time to time be required by the War Production Board:

(1) Each person seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of any vinyl polymer pursuant to paragraph (b) (3) hereof, shall apply for such authorization on Form PD-36. Such applicant shall file with the War Production Board the original and two copies of such form on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the month for which such authorization is requested, which form shall be prepared in the manner prescribed therein.

(2) Each producer of vinyl polymers, including each person producing vinyl polymers for another pursuant to toll agreement, shall file a report on Form PD-33, in the manner prescribed therein, on or before the 25th day of each calendar month.

(e) Notification of customers. Producers shall, as soon as practicable, notify each of their regular customers of the requirements of this order, but failure to give such notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms thereof.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board Priorities Regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-10.

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Conservation Order L-41, as Amended April 20, 1943]

§ 1075.1 Conservation Order L-41—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Construction" means the erection, construction, reconstruction, restoration, or remodeling of any structure or project, or additions thereto or extensions or alterations thereof, but not including:

(i) "Maintenance and repair" as defined in paragraph (a) (12);

(ii) The excavation or other movement of earth where no material except earth or other unprocessed material is to be incorporated.

(3) "Residental construction" means any construction where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be to provide living space or accommodations.

(4) "Multiple residential construction" means any residential construction where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be to provide living space or accommodations for six or more families, or which is divided or to be divided into six or more suites.

(5) "Agricultural construction" means any construction, (other than residential construction), where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be the production of agricultural products including, but not limited to, those produced by farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen, poultrymen, or nut or fruit growers.

(6) "Industrial construction" means any construction where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be the manufacture, processing or assembling of goods or materials.

(7) "Other restricted construction" means any construction, other than residential, multiple residential, agricultural, or industrial construction, including, but not limited to, commercial, highway, roadway, sub-surface, railroad, and utilities construction, whether publicly or privately financed.

(8) "Project" means all separate structures or units of construction situated in close proximity to each other and integrated to serve a single general use; it does not mean a particular construction operation or job. In no case shall a single structure or unit of construction be subdivided into more than one project for the purpose of this order.

(9) "Begin construction" means to initiate construction, or to resume construction which has not been carried on as one continuous construction job, by physically incorporating or installing into a structure or project on the site, material which is to be an integral part of the structure or project.

(10) "Cost" shall be the sum of the total cost or value, whichever is higher, of the following (except as qualified in (a) (11) below):

(i) Material which is to be an integral part of the structure or project, including articles, chattels, or fixtures which are to be physically incorporated in and used as a part of the structure or project, or are to be so substantially affixed thereto that they cannot be detached without materially injuring them or the structure or project;

(ii) Labor engaged in the construction;

(iii) Architects', engineers' and contractors' services.

(11) "Cost" does not include the following:

(i) The value of used material, articles, chattels or fixtures which have been severed from the same or another structure or project and are to be used without change in ownership, nor the cost or value of labor engaged in incorporating the same;

(ii) The cost or value of production machinery or equipment to be used directly in the manufacturing, processing or assembling of goods or materials;

(iii) The value of labor, not entailing financial outlay, of an owner or tenant and members of the owner's or tenant's immediate family residing with him, on a structure or project owned or leased by him.

(12) "Maintenance and repair" means such work as is necessary to keep a structure or project in sound working condition, or to rehabilitate a structure or project or any portion thereof when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear or other similar causes. The term does not include any building operation or job where a structural alteration or change in design is to be made. However, different materials may be used and different types of articles, chattels or fixtures (but of the same general nature) may be incorporated, provided that there are no such structural alterations or changes in design. No building operation or job may be part construction and part maintenance and repair, as the terms are used herein, but if any construction is to be done, the entire building operation or job is construction. Maintenance and repair does not include the reconstruction or restoration of a structure or project or portion thereof destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy.

(b) Prohibited construction. (1) No person shall begin construction, carry on any construction begun in violation of any order in the L–41 series, cause such construction to be begun or carried on or participate in such construction, or order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory or in any other manner secure or use material for such purposes.

(2) The terms and restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply where the construction is of:

(i) A structure or project to be the property of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, or the Office of Scientific Research and Development;

(ii) A structure or project which is to be used directly in the discovery, development or depletion of mineral deposits;

(iii) A type subject to the provisions of any order in the M–68 series (Part 1047) relating to the production and distribution of petroleum, or is of a type subject to the provisions of any Petroleum Administrative Order (Chapter XIII), and such construction is permitted only to the extent authorized by the applicable order in the M–68 series or by the applicable Petroleum Administrative Order;

(iv) Telephone facilities or equipment, including facilities or equipment for such telegraph or teletypewriter service as may be conducted by a telephone operator, other than buildings, and is authorized or permitted under the terms of Order L–50 (§ 1095.1);

(v) Railroad tracks, together with necessary operating facilities, but not including buildings, tunnels, overpasses, underpasses, or bridges;

(vi) Facilities, other than buildings, to be owned by a producer, as defined in Order P–46 (§ 978.1), pertaining to utilities, and which are to be used directly in providing one or more of the services set forth in paragraph (a) (1) of said order;

(vii) Irrigation pipe lines or drainage tile drains, classified as agricultural construction under this order, in which no materials except earth or other unprocessed material or clay or non-reinforced concrete tile not more than 12 inches in internal diameter are incorporated.

(viii) Agricultural construction necessary to the installation of material or equipment, the distribution of which is controlled by Order L–170 (§ 1029.10) or orders in the M–21 series (Part 962), and which are listed in Schedule 1 of Food Production Order 3 of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(ix) A structure or project for which no material will be used to provide electric, gas, water, or steam services for the incorporation of which specific authorization is required under orders in the U series (unless such authorization has been received before construction was begun), provided it is

(a) Residential construction and not multiple residential construction, or is specifically listed on Schedule B attached hereto, and the estimated cost of construction is less than $200; or

(b) Multiple residential, agricultural or other restricted construction, is not specifically listed on Schedule B, and the estimated cost of construction is less than $1,000; or

(c) Industrial construction, is not specifically listed on Schedule B, and the estimated cost of construction is less than $5,000; or

(d) The minimum construction necessary to make safe and to protect any structure or project (or the contents thereof) damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy; or

(e) Agricultural construction, and the immediate construction thereof is determined by the United States Department of Agriculture in accordance with such administrative procedures as may be from time to time prescribed, to be necessary to avert threatened loss of farm products: Provided, That within two weeks of such determination Form PD–200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section.

(3) The terms and restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply where the construction is to reconstruct or restore:

(i) Residential or multiple residential construction damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, or to build in its place and stead new residential or multiple residential construction: Provided, however, That the estimated cost of such reconstruction, restoration, or new construction shall be less than $5,000, and that within two weeks of such damage or destruction Form PD–105 (for residential) or Form PD–200 (for multiple residential) is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section;

(ii) Agricultural construction damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy where the immediate reconstruction thereof is determined by the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with such administrative procedures as may be from time to time prescribed, to be essential to the agricultural program: Provided, That within two weeks of such damage or destruction Form PD–200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section;

(iii) Industrial or other restricted construction, not specifically listed on Schedule B, damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, where the immediate reconstruction thereof is necessary for the prosecution of the war or the protection of public health or safety: Provided, That within five days of the damage or destruction notice thereof is given by telegraph to the War Production Board setting forth (a) the cause of the damage or destruction, (b) the function of the structure or project which has been damaged or destroyed, (c) the type of construction, (d) why immediate reconstruction or restoration is necessary, and (e) the estimated cost of reconstruction: And provided further, That within two weeks of the giving of such telegraphic notice, Form PD–200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section.

Nothing contained in this subparagraph (3) shall be interpreted as a commitment that priorities assistance will be accorded to any particular construction authorized by the provisions of this subparagraph and the War Production Board may at any time either order said construction to cease or require any modification thereof that seems to it to be proper.

(4) The terms and restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply where the construction has been or is hereafter authorized by the Director of Priorities of the Office of Production Management or by the War Production Board by the issuance of:

(i) One of the preference rating orders or certificates listed on Schedule A attached hereto, as that schedule may be amended from time to time, according priorities assistance to the construction; or

(ii) An order specifically authorizing the construction.

(5) The exceptions set forth in paragraphs (b) (2) (ix) (a), (b) (2) (ix) (b), and (b) (2) (ix) (c) shall not be construed to authorize separate or successive construction operations commencing after September 6, 1942, the aggregate cost of which over any continuous twelve-month period exceeds the amount specified in the applicable paragraph for the particular structure or project; not including in said aggregate cost the cost of any construction thereon during said period authorized under the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) (ix) (d), (b) (2) (ix) (c), (b) (3) and (b) (4).

(c) Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver, or cause to be delivered material which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(d) Further construction limitations. Nothing in this order shall be construed to authorize the use or delivery of any material, or the application or extension of any preference rating, in violation of the provisions of any conservation, limitation or other order or regulation heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, Office of Production Management, or by the War Production Board.

(e) Orders or certificates not constituting authorization. The assignment of a preference rating by a PD–1, PD–1A, or other certificate, or by any order, other than those listed on Schedule A, shall not constitute authorization to begin construction.

(f) Application for authority to begin construction. (1) The application forms prescribed by paragraphs (f) (2) and (f) (3) hereof shall be executed by the person who is or is to be the owner of the structure or project for which authorization is required by the terms of this order, or his duly authorized agent.

(2) If the applicant requires priorities assistance for the proposed construction, an application shall be made for the appropriate preference rating order or certificate listed on Schedule A on the form referred to therein.

(3) Where the applicant does not require priorities assistance, application for specific authorization to begin construction referred to in paragraph (b) (4) (ii) hereof may be made by filing Form PD–200, or such other forms as may hereafter be prescribed. Such forms are to be filed in the manner prescribed on Schedule A for the filing of applications for Preference Rating Order P–19–h.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining any further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Communications. Applications, communications and reports under this order shall, unless otherwise directed in Schedule A or by specific instructions be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–41.

Those relating to residential construction shall in addition be conspicuously marked "Res.", those relating to multiple residential construction "M. R.", those relating to agricultural construction "Agr.", those relating to industrial construction "Ind.", and those relating to other restricted construction "O. R."

This order, as amended, shall supersede all orders, amendments and interpretations in the L–41 series issued prior to February 19, 1943, except L–41–a, L–41–b and its interpretation, and L–41–c.

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE A

The following preference rating orders and certificates are listed pursuant to paragraph (b) (4) (i) of the above order. A general description of the type of construction covered by each, the appropriate application form and where such form should be filed, are given solely for the purposes of identification.

Preference rating order	Type of construction	Application form	Where filed
P–14–a	Shipyards and shipways	No form	Maritime Commission, Washington, D. C.
P–14–b
P–19	Structures or projects important to the war effort and essential civilian needs, other than housing	No further application accepted under P–19 and P–19–a. Apply for P–19–h.
P–19–a
P–19–d	Publicly financed war housing	No further applications accepted; see P–19–h.
P–19–e
P–19–g	Public roads	Application is made by or through the Public Roads Administration of F. W. A.
P–19–h	Structures and projects important to the war effort and essential civilian needs, including war housing owned by FHA and farm dwellings (for other housing see P–55 below)	Form PD–200	At the following places or such other places as may be prescribed: Agricultural and farm dwellings with Department of Agriculture County War Board having jurisdiction over location of the site. All other types of construction with War Production Board, Washington, D. C.
P–19–i
P–1	Construction of air transport facilities	Expired Oct. 1, 1942
P–55	Housing and Remodeling of housing except farm dwellings and housing owned by the FPHA	Form PD–105 and Form PD–105A	With FHA field office having jurisdiction over location of the site.
P–55 Amended
P–89 as amended	Construction of certain types for production of chemicals	Form PD–315	With War Production Board Washington, D. C., Ref: P–89.
P–98–b	Construction related to petroleum enterprises as defined and limited therein	See orders in M–68 series
P–110	Remodeling of housing programmed for critical areas by the National Housing Agency	No further applications accepted.
P–130	Construction of certain facilities other than buildings by telephone companies and construction by such companies of facilities necessary to serve defense projects	See order Form PD–685	With War Production Board, Washington, D. C., or such other place as may be prescribed
P–132	Construction of certain facilities other than buildings by telegraph companies and construction by such companies of facilities necessary to serve defense projects	See order Form PD–683	With War Production Board, Washington, D. C., or such other place as may be prescribed.
Certificates: PD–3 PD–3A	Certain specific types of construction of the Army or Navy	PD–3A	With the contractor or procurement official having jurisdiction of the contract.

SCHEDULE B

The following structures or projects are listed pursuant to paragraphs (b) (2) (ix) and (b) (3) (iii) of the above order:

(a) A structure or project which has as its principal designed function:

(1) Public or private amusement, entertainment or recreation, with the exception of playgrounds for children;

(2) Occupancy by not more than five establishments selling or dispensing goods, merchandise, food or drink, or providing services:

(3) Use as a club, lodge, fraternity or sorority house, association, auditorium or assembly hall;

(4) Manufacture, processing or assembling of any one or more of the following:

(i) Athletic supplies, sporting goods, or toys or games as defined in Order L-81.

(ii) Beverages, except milk.

(iii) Books, magazines, newspapers, greeting cards, or other printed or engraved matter.

(iv) Candy or chewing gum.

(v) Cigars, cigarettes, smoking or chewing tobacco or snuff.

(vi) Jewelry, watches, traveling bags, brushes, razors, pipes and like articles for personal use or adornment.

(vii) Furniture, silverware, china, household electrical appliances, draperies, and all other similar articles.

(viii) Musical instruments.

(ix) Stationery or office supplies.

(x) Toiletries or cosmetic products as defined in Order L-171.

(xi) Wearing apparel of every sort, nature or description, except for the Army or Navy;

(b) Industrial construction with a productive floor area of less than 10,000 square feet.

INTERPRETATION 1

(a) Paragraph (a) of Conservation Order No. L-41, as amended, places in different classes the construction of various structures or projects, and paragraph (b) (2) (ix) provides the limits within which the several classes of construction may be begun without authorization. Any structure shall be classified in accordance with such provisions unless it constitutes a part of a "project" as defined in paragraph (a) (8), in which event the classification of the project shall control.

(b) In connection with paragraphs (a) (3), (a) (4), (a) (5), (a) (6), and (a) (7), where part of a structure or project falls within one class under said order and other parts within another or other classes, the predominant designed use shall determine the classification of the whole structure or project.

(c) In connection with paragraphs (a) (5) and (a) (7), a structure to be used primarily for the storage of farm products which are produced by a person other than the proprietor of such structure shall be interpreted to be "other restricted construction."

(d) "Construction" as defined in paragraph (a) (2) includes the laying of asphalt tile, linotile, cork tile, rubber tile, and linoleum, if the same is cemented to or in any way is affixed to the construction.

(e) The application of siding or roofing is "construction" as the word is used in paragraph (a) (2), where such siding or roofing is applied to a portion of a building or structure which is not in need of "maintenance and repair" as the words are used in paragraph (a) (12). (Issued February 19, 1943)

PART 3119—REAGENT CHEMICALS

[Preference Rating Order P 135, as Amended April 20, 1943]

§ 3119.1 Preference Rating Order P-135—(a) Definition. For the purposes of this order the term "reagent chemical" means any chemical prepared and packed for reagent use in laboratories.

(b) Assignment of preference rating. Preference rating AA2X is hereby assigned to deliveries of any reagent chemical for use by any laboratory for analytical, testing, control, educational or research purposes and to deliveries of any material (not including repair, maintenance and operating supplies) which will enter, at any stage, into the production of any such reagent chemical.

Nothing contained in this order shall prevent the use of any other or higher rating to which any person operating a laboratory or any producer of reagent chemicals may be entitled by reason of any other preference rating certificate or order.

(c) Application and extension of rating. The preference rating assigned by paragraph (b) hereof shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) hereof, be applied or extended only in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended from time to time.

(d) Restrictions on applications and extensions of rating. The preference rating hereby assigned shall not be applied:

(1) To obtain deliveries of any reagent chemical or material:

(i) Which will be incorporated in, or which will enter into any chemical reaction directly involved in the manufacture of any product, other than a reagent chemical, manufactured for sale;

(ii) Which will be used in the rendering of any service other than analytical, testing, control, educational or research laboratory services.

(2) To obtain deliveries during any calendar quarter of reagent chemicals, and material (not including maintenance, repair and operating supplies) which will enter, at any stage, into the production of reagent chemicals, greater in dollar value than the sum of the following:

(i) Twenty-five percent (25%) of the total dollar value of reagent chemicals and such material delivered, for analytical, testing, control or research purposes (exclusive of educational purposes) or for the manufacture of such reagent chemicals, to the person applying the rating hereby assigned during the twelve (12) month period ended September 30, 1942, and

(ii) One hundred percent (100%) of the total dollar value of reagent chemicals and such material delivered, for educational purposes or for the manufacture of reagent chemicals for such purposes, to the person applying the rating hereby assigned during such twelve (12) month period: Provided, however, That the dollar value of deliveries of reagent chemicals for educational purposes and of material which will enter into the production of reagent chemicals for educational purposes, to which such preference rating may be applied in any four successive quarters shall not exceed one hundred percent (100%) of the total dollar value of reagent chemicals and such material delivered for such purposes to the person applying the rating during such twelve (12) month period.

(3) If during any calendar quarter or other applicable period the dollar volume of production, services rendered, appropriations for research or number of students enrolled, by the person applying the rating hereby assigned, is greater than for the corresponding quarter or other period of the twelve (12) months ended September 30, 1942, the allowable dollar value to which the rating hereby assigned may be applied in terms of paragraph (d) (2), may be increased in proportion to the increase in production, services rendered, research appropriation or enrollment.

(4) The quantitative restrictions of CMP Regulations 5 and 5A shall not apply to deliveries of reagent chemicals or of material (not including maintenance, repair and operating supplies) which will enter into the production of reagent chemicals.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Communications to War Production Board. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: P-135.

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Interpretation No. 5 of CMP Regulation No. 1]

It is provided in § 3175.1 (s) (6) that a delivery order placed by a consumer for controlled material before he has received his allotment may afterwards be converted into an authorized controlled material order by furnishing the necessary information and certificate. Such conversion is not retroactive in effect. The order must be treated as an authorized controlled material order as of the date on which the necessary information and certificate (including the allotment number) are furnished to the producer, unless the War Production Board has previously expressly authorized the filling of the particular order, in which case it is to be treated as an authorized controlled material order received on the date of receipt of such authorization by the producer.

It follows from the foregoing that the controlling date for purposes of determining whether an order has been placed sufficiently far in advance to comply with the requirements of paragraph (s) (4) and the accompanying Schedule III is the date on which the order becomes an authorized controlled material order. For example, a manufacturer on May 1 places an order for carbon steel structural shapes to be delivered in July. He has not yet received his allotment for the related production schedule. The steel mill may receive and record the order without the allotment number but is not required to do so. In any event, the mill may not then treat it as an authorized controlled material order. The customer furnishes the necessary information and certificate, including the allotment number, on May 20. Since this is later than the advance period of 45 days specified in Schedule III, the mill may refuse to schedule the order, or may in its discretion accept the same as a late authorized controlled material order, provided it does not discriminate in doing so, as further explained in Interpretation No. 1 of CMP Regulation No. 1. If the mill received on May 15th an express direction or other express authorization from the War Production Board to fill the particular order, the mill would treat the order as an authorized controlled material order received on that date and would be required to accept it and schedule it for delivery accordingly.

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Interpretation 2 to CMP Regulation 5]

A person who is permitted to get controlled materials under paragraph (c) (1) of CMP Regulation No. 5 for maintenance, repair and operating supplies is not entitled to use the MRO symbol for purposes of allotting controlled materials to others. For example, a manufacturer of a product listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of the regulation requires a spring as a repair part. He may use the MRO symbol to place an authorized controlled material order for steel which he will fabricate into the spring which he requires, but if he buys the spring from a spring manufacturer, he may not make an allotment with the MRO symbol to the spring manufacturer. The spring manufacturer receives his allotment direct from the War Production Board as provided in paragraph (k-1) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Interpretation 1 of CMP Regulation 5A]

Interpretations of the various provisions of CMP Regulation No. 5 are equally applicable to the corresponding provisions of CMP Regulation No. 5A. In most cases, the provisions of the two regulations are similar although there are several important differences and, therefore, care should be exercised to ascertain that the provision of CMP Regulation No. 5 covered by a particular interpretation corresponds in substance to the provision of CMP Regulation No. 5A to which it is sought to be applied.

Chapter X—Federal Works Administrator

PART 1201—DISCRIMINATION IN DEFENSE HOUSING OR DEFENSE PUBLIC WORKS

DEFENSE PUBLIC WORKS

Section 1201.3 of the regulation providing against discrimination in work on defense housing, dated January 6, 1941 (6 F.R. 196), as amended by the regulation providing against discrimination in work on defense public works, dated September 11, 1941 (6 F.R. 4737), and by the regulation providing against discrimination in work on defense public works in and near the District of Columbia, dated January 5, 1943 (8 F.R. 328), is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1201.3 Negro labor and defense public works. In order to ascertain compliance, in respect to Negro labor, with § 1201.1, providing against discrimination in work on defense public works, it is requested that:

(a) Contracting officers in charge of the development of defense public works undertaken, and public and private agencies to which loans or grants are made for defense public works, pursuant to the Act of October 14, 1940 (Public No. 849, 76th Congress), as amended, shall, after the effective date of this section:

(1) Submit to each contractor engaged in constructing any such defense public works, the percentage of Negro skilled and unskilled labor in the locality of the project, as reflected by the Federal census and other relevant data, as determined by the Assistant Federal Works Administrator.

(2) Require each contractor engaged in constructing any such defense public works to indicate by notation (W for non-Negro, N for Negro) on payroll forms required to be submitted to the Government, or to such public or private agencies, the race of each laborer, skilled or unskilled, listed on such payroll forms; and

(3) Ascertain and report to the Bureau of Labor Statistics through appropriate channels at designated intervals during the construction period, the respective amounts paid by each such contractor during such period as wages, for work in the development of defense public works at the sites thereof to (i) non-Negro skilled labor (irrespective of individual trades); (ii) Negro skilled labor (irrespective of individual trades); (iii) non-Negro unskilled labor; and (iv) Negro unskilled labor.

(b) If the percentages of the total amounts so paid for all skilled labor and for all unskilled labor that are paid, respectively, to Negro skilled and unskilled labor approximate the respective percentages of Negro skilled and unskilled laborers in the locality (as submitted to the contractor by the contracting officer or by the public or private agency), there shall be deemed to be prima facie evidence that the contractor is not discriminating against Negro labor. Otherwise, or if any contractor shall fail or refuse to make the payroll notations hereinabove referred to, the contracting officer (as to defense public works constructed pursuant to subparagraph (b) of section 202 of said Act of October 14, 1940, as amended) or the public or private agency (as to defense public works for which loans or grants have been made pursuant to subparagraph (c) of section 202 of said Act of October 14, 1940, as amended) shall investigate and report the reasons therefor to the Assistant Federal Works Administrator.

(c) Copies of this regulation shall be distributed to all contractors engaged in the development of defense public works under the aforesaid Act of October 14, 1940, as amended.

(d) As used in this regulation, the tefm "contractor" includes subcontractors.

(Sec. 308, Pub. Law 849, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 42, 137, 409, 522, and 723, 77th Cong.)

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal in the city of Washington this 19th day of April 1943.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. RO 5,* Amendment 15]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Sections 7.1 (c), 7.3 (e), 13.3 (b) (7), 15.2 (a) and the definition of "dollar revenue" in section 22.1 are amended by inserting the words "pursuant to written contract with an agency of the United States" after the words "commissioned or non-commissioned officer".

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

2. Section 7.5 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 7.5 Change of registration to include certain military and naval personnel. (a) An institutional user who, when he registered under this order, excluded from his report of dollar revenue, December use, or number of persons served, food service to Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard personnel or selectees, for which government meal tickets were received, shall change his registration to include such service. His base for each rationed food shall be recomputed on the basis of the changed registration and his allotments for the second and subsequent allotment periods shall be calculated on the recomputed base.

(b) The board shall add to his allotments for the second allotment period, the difference between the allotments he would have received for the first period if the recomputed base had been used and the allotments he actually received for that period. However, from this sum there shall be deducted the amount of any ration checks or certificates received by him for food served to military or naval personnel from March 1, 1943 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, other than those received for service to military or naval personnel during that period pursuant to a written contract with a government agency, where government meal tickets were not used.

(c) Ration checks or emergency acknowledgments may not be issued by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard or accepted by an institutional user, for service on government meal tickets.

3. Article XXV and section 25.1 are revoked and a new Article XXV and sections 25.1 and 25.2 are added to read as follows:

Article XXV—Obtaining Rationed Foods for Service to Certain Military and Naval Personnel

SEC. 25.1 Obtaining rationed foods for service to military or naval personnel pursuant to written contract. (a) Whenever, pursuant to a written contract made with an agency of the United States, an institutional user needs (or has used) rationed foods for the preparation of food which he will serve (or has served) to Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard personnel messed under the command of a commissioned or noncommissioned officer and for which government meal tickets will not be (or were not) received, an officer authorized by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard may issue ration checks to him or to his supplier, for the amount of rationed foods needed (or used) for such purpose.

(b) If, for any reason, ration checks are not available, an authorized officer may issue an emergency acknowledgment instead of a ration check. The emergency acknowledgment may be in any form, but must show the name and address of the person to whom it is issued, the amount of rationed foods for which it is issued (in points for foods rationed under a point system, and in pounds for other rationed foods) and the date of issuance. The person who issues the acknowledgment must sign his name, state his rank and the name and address of the activity or organization to which he is attached. The emergency acknowledgment must be exchanged for a ration check when ration checks are available, upon presentation to the activity or organization named thereon.

(c) The weight of any substitute or substance, including but not limited to chicory, cereal, peas or beans, mixed, blanded or compounded (or to be mixed, blended or compounded) by the institutional user with the roasted coffee used (or to be used) shall not be included in the amount of any ration check or emergency acknowledgment issued for coffee pursuant to this section.

SEC. 25.2. How organized messes obtain rationed food. (a) The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard may authorize messes organized pursuant to their respective regulations to draw on exempt ration bank accounts or to open exempt ration bank accounts in accordance with arrangements made with the Office of Price Administration. Messes so authorized are not required to register with a board under this order. They may acquire rationed foods only in exchange for ration checks drawn on such accounts in accordance with instructions issued by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard.

This amendment shall become effective April 19, 1943.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[RO 5C,[1] Amendment 42]

MILEAGE RATIONING, GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.7704 (a) is amended by substituting for the phrase "in paragraph (c)" the phrase "in paragraphs (c) and (e)".

2. Section 1394.7704 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) Unless the applicant's occupation requires him to live at a temporary or seasonal home or lodging, a Board shall allow no more occupational mileage to an applicant living at a temporary or seasonal home or lodging than the amount which would be allowable to the applicant for the same occupational purposes if he were living at his usual home or lodging.

3. In § 1394.7904 (b) (2) the last sentence is amended to read as follows:

[1] 7 F.R. 9135, 9787, 10147, 10016, 10110, 10338, 10706, 10786, 10787, 11009, 11070; 8 F.R. 179, 274, 369, 372, 607, 565, 1028, 1202, 1203, 1365, 1282, 1366, 1318, 1588, 1813, 1895, 2098, 2213, 2288, 2353, 2431, 2595, 2760, 2720, 3096, 3261, 3253, 3254, 3255, 3315, 3616, 4180, 4341.

For purposes of this paragraph non-occupational uses shall include use of a motorboat or outboard motor for travel between a temporary or seasonal home or lodging and a fixed place of work, sightseeing, guiding pleasure parties or conducting or chartering boats for fishing parties, other than commercial fishing.

This amendment shall become effective April 24, 1943.

[RO 5C,[1] Amendment 43]

MILEAGE RATIONING, GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. In § 1394.7904 (a) the expression "paragraphs (b) and (c)" is amended to read "paragraphs (b), (c) and (f)".

2. Section 1394.7904 (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of Ration Order No. 5C, no ration may be issued for non-occupational use with an inboard motorboat or outboard motor normally kept or stationed in the gasoline shortage area, unless the boat is enrolled as a member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the application for the ration is accompanied by a written certification of such membership by an officer designated by the Coast Guard to make such certification. If the necessary certification is presented, and no ration has been issued for occupational use with such boat, the Board may allow an amount of gasoline for such non-occupational purpose not in excess of the amount determined by the formulae contained in paragraph (b) of this section.

This amendment shall become effective April 24, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 1 to Order 38 Under Supp. Reg. 15 of GMPR]

KANE TRANSFER CO.

Amendment No. 1 to Order No. 38, under § 1499.75 (a) (3) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 of the General Maximum Price Regulation; Docket No. GF3–1549.

An opinion accompanying this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 1499.1338 is amended to read as set forth below:

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

SUBSTITUTION OF REFRIGERATOR CARS

At a general session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 19th day of April, A. D. 1943.

Upon further consideration of the provisions of Service Order No. 104, and upon request of shippers and carriers for extension of the territory in which empty refrigerator cars may be furnished in lieu of box cars, an emergency exists which, in the opinion of the Commission, requires immediate action to prevent shortage of railroad equipment, empty mileage of box cars, and congestion of traffic; It is ordered, That:

Section 95.304 Substitution of refrigerator cars is hereby amended by adding the following paragraphs:

(d) On and after 12:01 a. m. April 29, 1943, and until further order of this Commission, common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act transporting westbound shipments, in carloads, originating in the state of Utah and destined to points in Nevada and California, may, at their option, furnish and transport not more than three refrigerator cars of Pacific Fruit Express or Santa Fe Refrigerator Despatch ownership in lieu of each box car ordered, subject to the carload minimum weight which would have applied if the shipment had been loaded in a box car. (See note.)

NOTE: This provision does not apply on shipments on which the carload minimum weight varies with the size of the car.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. B-356]

BLACK DIAMOND COAL MINING CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION

In the matter of W. W. Bridges, Receiver, Black Diamond Coal Mining Company, Code Member.

Notice of filing of application for disposition of compliance proceeding without formal hearing pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division.

Notice is hereby given that an application dated March 9, 1943 for disposition of the above entitled matter without formal hearing, was filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") on March 12, 1943, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division by W. W. Bridges, Receiver, Black Diamond Coal Mining Company, the above named Code Member (the "Code Member").

Said W. W. Bridges, as Receiver of the Black Diamond Coal Mining Company, was duly authorized and directed by order dated March 16, 1943 entered by the court having jurisdiction thereof to execute and file said application with the Division and to do all things necessary to fully execute and carry out the agreements in said application.

The application was filed with respect to a written complaint dated December 11, 1942 and filed with the Division on December 15, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act") by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 9, complainant, alleging that the above-named Code Member had wilfully violated the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and rules and regulations thereunder, as more fully set forth in the said complaint.

In said application the Code Member:

1. Admits that it is a Code Member operating the Black Diamond No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 6 and the Black Diamond No. 3 Mine, Mine Index No. 7, located in Muehlenburg County, Kentucky in District No. 9.

2. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (e) and section 4 II (i) 6 of the Act, Part II (e) and Part II (i) 6 of the Code and Rule 6 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by selling and delivering during the period October 29, 1940 to April 20, 1942 coal produced by the said Code Member to the Boillin-Harrison Company, Clarksville, Tennessee, a wholesale grocer, for resale and delivery to W. E. Beach Coal Company, Clarksville, Tennessee, a retail coal dealer, a total of 4819.15 tons of various sizes of coal and allowing to the said Boillin-Harrison Company rebates, credits or unearned discounts from the invoice prices of said coal in amounts ranging from 5 cents to 25 cents per ton, thereby reducing the sales prices of said coal below the effective minimum prices therefor.

3. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (e) and section 4 II (i) 6 of the Act, Part II (e) and Part II (i) 6 of the Code and Rule 1 (F) of section VII and Rule 6 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by failing to receive payment for the coal referred to in paragraph 2 above in United States currency or funds equivalent thereto, payment for said coal being made to the Code Member in the form of groceries or other staple articles.

4. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code and Rule 1 of section X of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by granting allowances ranging from 20 cents to 35 cents per ton from the invoice prices for alleged substandard preparation or quality on a total tonnage of 254.75 tons of coal of various sizes, sold on or about June 28, 1941, August 13, 1941, and January 3, 1942 without filing the statement required by Rule 1 of section X of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, thereby reducing the actual sales prices below the applicable minimum prices for said coal.

5. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (i) 8 of the Act, Part II (i) 8 of the Code, Rule 8 of section XIII and Rule 2 of section XII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by intentionally misrepresenting on invoices the sizes of a total of approximately 18,842.35 tons of coal produced by the Code Member and sold to various purchasers during the period October 25, 1940 through March 31, 1941 inclusive.

6. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (e) of the Act, Part II (e) of the Code and Rule 1 (e) of section XI of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by unlawfully substituting during the period July 26, 1941 to July 30, 1941 both dates inclusive, a total tonnage of 430.7 tons of 6'' lump coal produced by the Code Member on orders for 3'' lump coal from the Forest Products Chemical Company, with the result that the coal actually delivered to the said purchaser was sold at prices less than the applicable minimum prices therefor.

7. Admits that it wilfully violated Rule 4 (A) and Rule 9 (a) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by paying to Southwestern Fuel Company, Memphis, Tennessee unauthorized sales agency commissions ranging from 5 cents to 18.31 cents per ton for sales during the period October 12, 1940 to June 23, 1941 inclusive, by Southwestern Fuel Company on behalf of the said Code Member of approximately 7,410.85 tons of coal produced by the Code Member, whereas neither the Code Member nor the Southwestern Fuel Company had filed with the Division a copy of the contract of agency executed on September 13, 1938.

8. Consents with respect to the foregoing admitted violations referred to in paragraph 2 hereof to the entry of an order revoking and cancelling its Code Membership.

9. Consents with respect to the foregoing admitted violations referred to in paragraphs 3 through 7, inclusive hereof, to the entry of an order directing the Code Member to cease and desist from violations of the Code and regulations thereunder, which order will continue in full force and effect upon any restoration of Code Membership.

10. Agrees with respect to the foregoing admitted violations referred to in paragraph 9 hereof to pay a tax in the amount of $2,411.09 as a condition precedent to restoration to membership in the Code.

11. Agrees to execute any and all documents necessary to dispose of this proceeding in the event this application is granted.

12. Represents that to the best of its knowledge and belief it has not committed any other violations of the Act, the Code, or regulations thereunder, other than the foregoing admitted violations.

13. Represents in extenuation of the foregoing admitted violations that the practices were long established for many years and were not carried on with any intent to violate the minimum price provisions of the Act.

All interested parties may, if they so desire, file with the Division, recommendations or requests for informal conferences with respect to said application within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice.

Dated: April 15, 1943.

[Docket No. B-301]

CLAUDE E. TAYLOR

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

On February 3, 1943, after notice of hearing, Edward J. Hayes, a duly designated Examiner of the Division submitted a report in which he found that code member, Claude E. Taylor, operating the Taylor Mine, Mine Index No. 1556, located in Bell County, Kentucky, in District 8, had wilfully violated the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, by selling for rail shipment approximately 226.4 tons of 3/8'' x 0 slack, whereas minimum prices ,temporary or final, had not been established for the sale of said coal for rail shipment.

The Examiner recommended that an order be entered requiring code member to cease and desist from violating the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, or from otherwise violating the Act, the Code and orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's Report. No exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the Report of the Examiner and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record. Upon the basis of the Proposed Findings of Fact, Proposed Conclusions of Law and Recommendation set forth in the Report and upon the entire record in this proceeding,

It is hereby ordered, That the Proposed Findings of Fact and the Proposed Conclusions of Law of the Examiner are approved and adopted as the Findings of Fact and the Conclusions of Law of the Director.

It is further ordered, That Claude E. Taylor, a code member operating the Taylor Mine (Mine Index No. 1556) in Bell County, Kentucky, his agents, employees, representatives, heirs and assigns, and all persons acting or claiming to act on his behalf or interest, cease and desist from violating the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, or from otherwise violating the provisions of the Act, the Code or orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Notice is hereby given that upon failure or refusal to comply with this order, the Division may apply to a United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the enforcement thereof, or may otherwise proceed as authorized by the Act.

Dated: April 16, 1943.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

On February 3, 1943, after notice and hearing, Edward J. Hayes, a duly designated Examiner of the Division submitted a report in which he found that code member Paris Martin, operating the Blue Gem Mine, Mine Index No. 1531, located in Bell County, Kentucky, in District 8, had wilfully violated the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, by selling for rail shipment approximately 296.05 tons of $3_4''$ x 0 slack, whereas minimum prices, temporary or final, had not been established for the sale of said coal for rail shipment.

The Examiner recommended that an order be entered requiring code member to cease and desist from violating the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, or from otherwise violating the Act, the Code and the orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's Report. No exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the Report of the Examiner and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record. Upon the basis of the Proposed Findings of Fact, Proposed Conclusions of Law and Recommendation set forth in the Report and upon the entire record of this proceeding,

It is hereby ordered, That the Proposed Findings of Fact and the Proposed Conclusions of Law of the Examiner are approved and adopted as the Findings of Fact and the Conclusions of Law of the Director.

It is further ordered, That Paris Martin, a code member operating the Blue Gem Mine (Mine Index No. 1531) in Bell County, Kentucky, his agents, employees, representatives, heirs and assigns, and all persons acting or claiming to act on his behalf or interest, cease and desist from violating the Order in General Docket 19, dated October 9, 1940, or from otherwise violating the provisions of the Act, the Code, or orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Notice is hereby given that upon failure or refusal to comply with this order, the Division may apply to a United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the enforcement thereof, or may otherwise proceed as authorized by the Act.

Dated: April 16, 1943.

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 1

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 1 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines and for changes in shipping points for the coals of certain other mines in District No. 1.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 1 for permission to mix coals of certain mines in District No 1.

Memorandum opinion and order severing Docket No. A-1921, Part II, from Docket No. A-1921 and granting temporary relief in Docket No. A-1921, Part II.

The original petition in the above-entitled matter filed with the Division pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, prays for the establishment of temporary and permanent price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 1, and for permission to mix coals of certain other mines also located in District No. 1. It appears, however, that no final determination should be made at this time with respect to the request for permission to mix coals produced at Mine Index No. 3960, 1023, 3762, 3763, 224 and 225 for the reason that insufficient facts have been presented upon which to base a final determination.

In view of the foregoing, it is deemed advisable at this time to grant only temporarily the request of petitioner to mix coals, produced at the aforementioned mines.

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now, therefore, It is ordered That the portion of Docket No. A-1921 relating to the request of petitioner to mix coals of Mine Index Nos. 3960, 1023, 3762, 3763, 224 and 225 be, and it hereby is, severed from the remaining part of that docket and designated as A-1921, Part II.

It is further ordered That, pending further order of the Director, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted as follows: Commencing forthwith the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 1 for All Shipments Except Truck is supplemented to include the price classifications, minimum prices, changes in shipping points and other matter appearing in Supplement R which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof.

It is further ordered That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

An order scheduling a hearing to adduce facts upon which final relief in this matter may be based will be issued in due course.

Dated: April 10, 1943.

[Docket No. A-1912]

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 10

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 10 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals produced for rail shipment at certain mines in District No. 10.

On March 20, 1943, a petition was filed, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 by District Board No. 10. The District Board requested that price classifications and minimum prices be established for coals produced for rail shipment at the Bunker Hill Mine, Mine Index No. 1038, of Bunker Hill Coal & Mining Company, Collinsville Mine, Mine Index No. 1040 of Collinsville Coal Corporation, Glenn Carbon Coal Mine, Mine Index No. 1042, of Glen Carbon Coal Co., Buck Road Coal Co. Mine, Mine Index No.1327 of Wm. H. Johnson, Sugar Loaf Mine, Mine Index No. 1049 of Sugar Loaf Coal Corporation, Sunset Hill Mine, Mine Index No. 1051 of Sunset Hill Coal Company, and the Truck Trade Mine, Mine Index No. 1052 of the Truck Trade Coal Company, all located in District No. 10, and also requested that permission be granted these code members to commingle coals produced at the afore-named mines for rail shipment.

The District Board states that the mines herein involved, all located in the southwestern part of Madison County, Illinois, produce comparable coals in the No. 6 Seam. The District Board further states that because of the large demand for coals engendered by the war effort, the code members herein involved have asked the District Board to propose minimum prices for the rail shipment of the comparable coals when loaded into railroad cars on the Illinois Terminal Railroad at Sand Cut near Collinsville, Illinois, and for permission to commingle the coals of their respective mines so as to make possible more efficient use of railroad equipment.

A reasonable showing of necessity has been presented for the granting of temporary relief. Accordingly, I am establishing temporary price classifications and minimum prices for the coals produced at the mines herein involved, as requested by the District Board except that I have provided price exceptions for sales for railroad locomotive fuel in order that these mines shall have the same fair competitive opportunities as other rail shipping mines in the same Freight Origin Group and in the same Price Group; and have provided price adjustments to the f. o. b. mine prices herein established for coals of these mines when shipments are made to Market Area 40, which are the same adjustments as are applicable to rail shipments to Market Area 40 from Mine Index Nos. 139, 153, and 173, which are also located on the Illinois Terminal Railroad and which take the same freight rates for shipment to that Market Area as the mines herein involved. I have also determined to deny the request of the District Board that minimum prices applicable to the coals herein involved when commingled shall be the price of the coal having the highest minimum price because no justification for such method of pricing has been shown. In order, however, that some opportunity may be present for these mines to commingle their coals until such time as this matter may be more thoroughly explored the order herein provides for mixture of certain coals which bear the same minimum prices in their respective size groups.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That until further order temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 10 for All Shipments Except Truck is supplemented to include the matters set forth in the schedule marked Supplement R annexed hereto and made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That invoices required to be filed under appropriate orders of the Division shall be filed by the shipper of the coals herein involved: Provided, That if a single carload is made up of coal or two or more mines, the invoice shall be prepared and filed by the person or entity in whose name the coal is shipped and shall indicate that the coals comprising such carload originated at more than one of the mines herein involved.

It is further ordered, That each producer herein concerned shall file with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 10 on or before the tenth (10th) day of each month a statement setting forth the tonnage of each size, kind and quality of coal transported or shipped to the loading ramp at Sand Cut, Illinois during the preceding month.

An order scheduling a hearing to adduce facts upon which final relief in this matter may be based will be issued in due course.

Dated: April 10, 1943.

[Docket Nos. A-1918 and A-1918, Part II]

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 9

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 9 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices and for other relief for the coals of certain mines.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 9 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for Size Group 7 coals of Mine Index No. 506 for all shipments except truck.

Memorandum opinion and order severing Docket No. A-1918, part II from Docket No. A-1918 and granting temporary relief in Docket No. A-1918, part II.

The original petition in the above-entitled matter, which was filed with this Division by District Board No. 9 pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requests the establishment of temporary and permanent price classifications and minimum prices and a change of shipping points for the coals of certain mines in District No. 9, and further requests the establishment of a price of $2.85 per net ton for Size Group 7 coals produced by Bell Mine No. 1, Mine Index No. 506, of Mid-Continent Coal & Transportation Company in District No. 9.

The petition describes the Bell No. 1 Mine as located in the Bell seam. In the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 9 for Truck Shipments however, this mine is described as located in the Stray Seam and is priced the same as other mines which produce coals in the Stray Seam.

The $2.85 minimum price requested for Size Group 7 coals produced at Mine Index No. 506 for all shipments except truck is approximately $1.00 per ton more than the minimum price established for Stray Seam coals in this size group produced at other mines in the Stray Seam for such shipments.

It appears that although a hearing will be required to adduce sufficient facts to justify the establishment of a minimum price for the coals in Size Group 7 produced at Mine Index No. 506 for all shipments except truck which is substantially higher than the minimum prices established for coals in the same size group produced at other mines in the same seam for the same type of shipments, nevertheless an adequate showing of necessity has been made for the relief hereinafter granted.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That the portion of Docket No. A-1918 relating to the establishment of a minimum price of $2.85 per net ton for the coals in Size Group 7 produced at the Bell Mine No. 1, Mine Index No. 506, of Mid-Continent Coal & Transportation Company in District No. 9 be, and it hereby is, severed from the remainder of Docket No. A-1918 and designated as Docket No. A-1918, Part II.

It is further ordered, That, pending further order, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 9 for All Shipments Except Truck is supplemented to include the price classification and minimum price set forth in the Schedule marked "Supplement R" annexed hereto and hereby made a part hereof.

An order scheduling a hearing to adduce facts upon which final relief in this matter may be based will be issued in due course.

Dated: April 9, 1943.

CARROLLTOWN COAL CO.

ORDER GRANTING REQUEST TO POSTPONE HEARING AND POSTPONING HEARING

In the matter of the petition of Carrolltown Coal Company, a corporation, for approval of its agreement with Frank B. Wood, an individual trading and doing business as F. B. Wood Coal Mining Company, to purchase the entire production of the Foxburg No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 1685, and other coal; for a change in shipping point, and for permission to mix coals of Mine Index Nos. 582 and 1685.

The above-entitled matter having been heretofore scheduled for hearing on April 16, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C., by orders issued herein on February 13 and March 13, 1943; and

A request that said hearing be postponed having been filed herein by the above-named petitioner; and

The Director being of the opinion that good cause for the granting of said request has been shown, and that said hearing should be postponed;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That said request be and the same hereby is granted and that said hearing be and the same hereby is postponed from April 16, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day to a date to be set by an order to be issued in due course.

It is further ordered, That said order issued herein on February 13, 1943, shall, in all other respects, remain in full force and effect.

[Docket No. A-1929]

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 10

ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition District Board No. 10 for establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for Mine Index No. 997.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, was duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of Lete and Son Mine, Mine Index No. 997 of Lete Coal, Inc. Although this petition did not set forth sufficient facts upon which permanent relief may be based, it appears that there is reasonable necessity for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth.

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 10 for All Shipments Except Truck is amended to include the price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the schedule marked Supplement R annexed hereto and made a part hereof.[1]

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

The original petition in this matter requests that no exceptions be allowed with respect to locomotive fuel sold to off-line railroads. Nevertheless, since Railroad Locomotive Fuel Price Exception 1-A on page 45 of Price Schedule No. 1, District No. 10 for All Shipments Except Truck is applicable to the coals of all other mines in Price Groups 14 and 15 of District No. 10 for which minimum prices have been established for all shipments except truck, and since adequate reason has not been advanced for denying the application of this Price Exception to the coals of Mine Index No. 997, the relief granted affords the producer here involved the same competitive opportunity available to all other producers similarly situated by making the said Price Exception applicable to the coals of its mine, Mine Index No. 997.

An order scheduling a hearing to adduce facts upon which final relief in this matter may be based will be issued in due course.

Dated: April 15, 1943.

MORRISDALE COAL CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of Morrisdale Coal Company for permission to mix coals of certain mines in District No. 1.

An original petition pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, was duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting permission to mix coals produced from the Sotok & Campbell Mine, operated by Mike Sotok and Alex Campbell, a copartnership doing business as Sotok & Campbell, Mine Index No. 988, for shipment by rail over either the tipple of the Morrisdale No. 4 Mine operated by the Morrisdale Coal Company, Mine Index No. 212, or the tipple of the Maxton Slope Mine, Mine Index No. 722, also operated by the Morrisdale Coal Company, at Hawk Run, Pennsylvania, on the New York Central Railroad.

No petitions of intervention have been filed in this matter.

On the basis of the original petition filed herein, the Director is of the opinion that temporary relief, as hereinafter set forth, may be granted petitioner, pending further order of the Director, but no final determination should be made at this time with respect to the request for permission to mix coals produced at Mine Index Nos. 212, 722 and 988.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That pending further order of the Director, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted, as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 1 For All Shipments Except Truck is supplemented to include the price classifications and minimum prices and other matter appearing in Supplement R which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof.[1]

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

R. & W. COAL CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING CODE MEMBERSHIP

In the matter of G. H. Ware and C. M. Reese, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of R. & W. Coal Company, Code Members.

On October 6, 1942, after due notice and hearing Charles S. Mitchell, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, submitted a report in which he found that code members G. H. Ware and C. M. Reese, individually and as copartners doing business under the name and style of R. & W. Coal Company, operating the Gould Road Mine (Mine Index No. 652), in Jefferson County, Ohio, in District 4, willfully violated sections 4 II (e) and (g) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the corresponding sections of the Bituminous Coal Code and Price Instruction No. 6, as amended, of the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments by selling from December 16, 1940 to May 31, 1941, inclusive, 799.84 tons of 1¼" x 0 coal, produced at his Gould Road Mine, at a price of $2.00 per net ton delivered to a point 6.3 miles from the mine, whereas the effective minimum price for such coal was $2.00 per net ton f. o. b. the mine plus the actual costs of transporting and handling the coal costs of not less than 20 cents per ton. The Examiner recommended that the code membership of Andrew Pipo be revoked and cancelled and that prior to the restoration of such code membership, he pay a tax to the United States in the amount of $623.88.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's report but no exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the report of the Examiner and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record.[1] Upon the basis of the proposed findings of fact, proposed conclusions of law and recommendation set forth in the Report, and upon the entire record in this proceeding,

It is hereby ordered, That the proposed findings of fact and the proposed conclusions of law of the Examiner are approved and adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director;

It is further ordered, That, effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof, the code membership of Andrew Pipo, doing business under the name and style of Gould Road Coal Company, operating the Gould Road Mine (Mine Index No. 652), in Jefferson County, Ohio, in District 4, is cancelled and revoked, and that prior to any reinstatement to membership in the Code he pay to the United States a tax in the amount of $623.88, as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act.

[1] Not filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

(a) Section 4 II (e) of the Act and the corresponding section of the Bituminous Coal Code, by the sale, during the period from October 1, 1940 to December 31, 1941, of 625.35 net tons of coal classified as Size Group 5, for $2.25 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas the effective minimum price was $2.45; and

(b) Sections 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act and corresponding sections of the Code, by the sale, during the same period, of 6,771.05 net tons of Size Group 6 coal at delivered prices ranging from $1.85 to $2.30, being less than the effective minimum price of $1.95 plus the cost of transportation.

The Examiner recommended that an order be entered revoking and cancelling the code membership of G. H. Ware and C. M. Reese, and providing that prior to reinstatement in the Code, they shall pay to the United States a tax in the amount of $6,831.44.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's report. No exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the report of the Examiner and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record. Upon the basis of the proposed findings of fact, proposed conclusions of law and recommendation set forth in the report and upon the entire record in this proceeding,

It is hereby ordered, That the proposed findings of fact and the proposed conclusions of law of the Examiner are approved and adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director.

It is further ordered, That the code membership of G. H. Ware and C. M. Reese, individually and as copartners doing business under the name and style of R. & W. Coal Company, operating the R. & W. Mine, Mine Index No. 1080, located in Vinton County, Ohio, in Subdistrict 7 of District 4, be and it hereby is revoked and cancelled.

It is further ordered, That prior to reinstatement to membership in the Code the said G. H. Ware and C. M. Reese, or either or both of them shall pay to the United States a tax in the amount of $6,831.44, as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act.

[1] Code member suggested at the hearing that he had not sold the coal as alleged in the complaint but had given it outright to his son who in turn had disposed of the coal to the purchaser, McCauslen Florists. The Examiner found that in view of the language of section 4 II (e), the sale, delivery or offering for sale of coal at less than established minimum prices is prohibited and that it was accordingly unnecessary to determine whether code member in fact sold the coal as alleged in the complaint or had violated section 4 II (e) by giving it away. No objection has been made to this disposition of the question and I agree that the Examiner's treatment was proper. Without detailing the evidence, however, my own consideration of the record leads me to reject the hypothesis that the coal was given to code member's son; in my view there is substantial evidence to support the conclusion that code member himself sold the coal and that at most his son was acting as his agent in such sale.

IV, Part 441), effective May 24, 1939, providing that the employment of minors between the ages of 14 and 16 years in certain occupations under specified conditions shall not be deemed to constitute oppressive child labor, and

Whereas a petition has been received from operators of fruit and vegetable packing sheds in the State of Mississippi requesting authority to employ minors between 14 and 16 years of age after

7 p. m. and for more than 40 but not more than 48 hours in any one week when school is not in session (periods of employment outside the scope of Child Labor Regulation No. 3) during a period of not more than 10 weeks in any one year, and

Whereas the question raised by said petition appears to be a question of interest to the entire fruit and vegetable packing industry, and

Whereas the Chief of the Children's Bureau is of the opinion that it is desirable to hold a public hearing on the question whether Child Labor Regulation No. 3 should be amended to provide that the employment of minors between the ages of 14 and 16 years during periods and under conditions in which such employment now constitutes oppressive child labor shall not be deemed to be oppressive child labor,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. A public hearing will be held at 10 a. m. Monday, May 3, 1943, at Assembly Room 516, United States Customs and Courthouse, Twelfth and Market Streets, St. Louis, Missouri, before Julius Schlezinger or any other presiding officer designated by me for the purpose of taking testimony on the following questions:

1. During what periods, if any, and under what conditions is the employment of minors between the ages of 14 and 16 years in the fruit and vegetable packing industry necessary for the war effort, and

2. If such employment of minors between the ages of 14 and 16 years is found to be necessary for the war effort, what safeguards should be established to protect their schooling and their health and well-being?

II. Any interested person may appear at the hearing to offer evidence either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person if, not later than May 1, 1943, he files with Mr. Earl V. Powers, Branch Manager, by mail or otherwise, at the office of the United States Department of Labor, 316 Old Customs House, St. Louis, Missouri, a notice of his intent to appear, which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing;

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons he is representing.

III. Any interested person may secure further information concerning the aforesaid hearing by inquiry directed to the Chief of the Children's Bureau, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., or to Mr. Earl V. Powers, Branch Manager, United States Department of Labor, 316 Old Customs House, St. Louis, Missouri.

IV. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules of procedure subject to such subsequent modification by the Chief of the Children's Bureau or the presiding officer as may be deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which shall be available at prescribed rates to any person upon request made to the official reporter of the Children's Bureau, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

2. At the discretion of the presiding officer, the hearing will be continued from day to day or adjourned to a later day or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing by the presiding officer or by other appropriate notice.

3. At any stage of the hearing, the presiding officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the presiding officer has closed the hearing before him, no further evidence shall be taken except at the request of the Chief of the Children's Bureau unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence.

V. On the close of the hearing, the presiding officer shall forthwith file a complete record of the proceedings with the Chief of the Children's Bureau.

VI. No amendment to Child Labor Regulation No. 3 issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of April 1943.

KATHARINE F. LENROOT,
Chief of the Children's Bureau.

[Divesting Order 1]

CISATLANTIC CORP. AND CISOCEANIC CORP.

Re: All of the capital stock of Cisatlantic Corporation and of Cisoceanic Corporation.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Having on July 2, 1942, for reasons and under conditions and circumstances at that time existing which made such action then advisable, vested, pursuant to Vesting Order Number 46, as property of nationals of a foreign country, among other things, all of the capital stock of Cisatlantic Corporation and of Cisoceanic Corporation;

2. Having thereafter received (a) a notice executed by Edgar Ausnit on Form APC–1 claiming an interest in said capital stock and asserting a claim arising as a result of the aforesaid vesting order, and (b) a written waiver by said Edgar Ausnit of "any claim or right granted by" those certain "Regulations Relating To Property Vested In The Alien Property Custodian" theretofore prescribed and issued by the undersigned and published in 7 Fed. Reg. 2290 (March 26, 1942);

3. Finding, as a result of further investigation conducted subsequent to July 2, 1942, that all of the aforesaid capital stock was on July 2, 1942 owned by said Edgar Ausnit; that said Edgar Ausnit was at that time and at all times since then has been and now is a citizen of Cuba, a resident of the United States, not in any manner detained, and not acting or purporting to act directly or indirectly for the benefits or on behalf of, and not controlled by nor a cloak for, any designated enemy country or national thereof;

4. Finding that on November 4, 1942 the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, by direction and on behalf of the Secretary of the Treasury, and pursuant to License No. NY 428596-BE, granted to said Edgar Ausnit the status of a generally licensed national, the issuance of which license had the effect of unblocking all of his personal accounts; and that at all times since November 4, 1942 said license has been and still is in full force and effect;

5. Determining that had all of the facts hereinbefore recited in subparagraph 3 been known by the undersigned, and had all of the facts hereinbefore recited in subparagraph 4 existed, on July 2, 1942, the undersigned would not have included in such vesting order any of such capital stock;

6. Determining, therefore, that the aforesaid vesting was under mistakes of fact;

7. Having received no other claim (except the one hereinbefore mentioned in subparagraph 2), or notice of claim, on Form APC–1 or otherwise, to any interest in any or all of such capital stock, or arising as a result of such vesting order; and having no knowledge of any interest in such capital stock held by any national (except the aforesaid Edgar Ausnit) of any foreign country;

8. Having neither assigned, transferred or conveyed such capital stock or any part thereof or any interest therein to anyone, nor issued any license with respect thereto, nor in any manner created therein any right or interest in any person whomsoever;

9. Determining that the error committed in vesting such capital stock should be corrected by a return thereof, and that such disposition of the aforesaid claim of Edgar Ausnit, being for the purpose of correcting a mistake made in vesting such capital stock originally, does not require any further hearing;

10. Having made all determinations and taken all action required by law; and

11. Deeming it necessary and proper in the national interest; hereby orders that all of the aforesaid capital stock be returned to said Edgar Ausnit.

Now, therefore, the undersigned hereby assigns, transfers, conveys and quitclaims to Edgar Ausnit of 46 East 61st Street, New York, New York, all right, title, interest and estate which the undersigned acquired pursuant to Vesting Order Number 46 of July 2, 1942 in and to that certain property described as follows:

a. All of the capital stock of Cisatlantic Corporation, a New York corporation; and

b. All of the capital stock of Cisoceanic Corporation, a New York corporation; the intention of this conveyance being to return to said Edgar Ausnit all property and interest in said capital stock which the undersigned took from him pursuant to said Vesting Order Number 46, without, however, warranting what such property and interest are.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on April 19, 1943.

FRIEDRICH WILHELM HERZOG

Re: Real properties situated in McIntosh County, North Dakota, and certain bank accounts, owned by Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog is a citizen of Germany, whose last known address is Schenkenschanz, Bei Kleve, Rheinland, Germany, and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that said Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog is the owner of the property hereinafter described in subparagraph 3;

3. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

a. All right, title, interest and estate, both legal and equitable, of Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog, in and to:

(i) Real property situated in McIntosh County, North Dakota, particularly described as the South East Quarter (SE¼) of Section Twenty One (21) and the North East Quarter (NE¼) of Section Twenty Eight (28) all in Township One Hundred Thirty Two (132) North, of Range Seventy One (71) West of the 5th P. M. containing Three Hundred Twenty (320) acres more or less according to the U. S. Government Survey thereof, together with all fixtures, improvements and appurtenances to such property, and

(ii) Real property situated in McIntosh County, North Dakota, and particularly described as Lots Seven (7), Eight (8) and Nine (9) of Block Fifteen (15) in the City of Ashley, together with all fixtures, improvements and appurtenances to such property, together with any and all claims of Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such properties;

b. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to him by McIntosh County Bank, Ashley, North Dakota, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, and including particularly:

(i) The account in said bank held in the name of Rev. F. W. Herzog and due and owing to, and held for, Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog, and

(ii) The account in said bank held in the name of Christ. Dockter, Agent for F. W. Herzog and due and owing to, and held for, Friedrich Wilhelm Herzog, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Determining that the property described in subparagraph 3-b hereof is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property (namely that hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3-a) belonging to the same national of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on March 12, 1943.

[Vesting Order 1089]

JOSEPH AND EMMA ROHMER

Re: Real and personal property owned by Joseph Rohmer and Emma Rohmer.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Joseph Rohmer and Emma Rohmer, his wife, are citizens of the United States residing at 19 Ekkebertstr, Littenweiler, Freiburg, Baden, Germany, and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that said Joseph Rohmer and Emma Rohmer, his wife, are the owners of the real property described in subparagraph 4 hereof;

3. Finding that said Joseph Rohmer is the owner of the property described in subparagraph 5 hereof;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

All right, title, interest and estate, both legal and equitable, of Joseph Rohmer and Emma Rohmer, his wife, and each of them, in and to the real property situated at 113-25 200th Street, St. Albans, New York, more particularly described in Exhibit A attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with all the fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims of Joseph Rohmer and Emma Rohmer, and each of them, for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property, is property within the United States owned or controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

a. All right, title, interest and estate, both legal and equitable, of Joseph Rohmer, in and to an undivided one-half interest in the real properties situated at 106, 106½ and 108 Douglass Street, Brooklyn, New York, more particularly described in Exhibit B attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with all the fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims of Joseph Rohmer for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such properties,

b. All right, title, interest, estate and claim of any name or nature whatsoever, of Joseph Rohmer in and to any and all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, which are secured by certain tax liens, evidenced by tax lien certificates Nos. 61714, 61715 and 61716, on the lot and improvements owned by Joseph Rohmer and Oscar Jacobs, located at 106, 106½ and 108 Douglass Street, Brooklyn, New York and more particularly described in said Exhibit B, including but not limited to any and all collateral (including the aforesaid tax liens) for any or all such obligations and the right to enforce and collect such obligations, and

c. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of Joseph Rohmer in and to any and all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to Joseph Rohmer by, and represented on the books of, Richter and Kaiser, Inc., 186 Remsen Street, Brooklyn, New York, as a credit due Joseph Rohmer, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Determining that the property described in subparagraphs 5-b and 5-c hereof is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of the interests in other property (namely, that hereinbefore described in subparagraphs 4 and 5-a) of the same national of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

7. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

8. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

9. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraphs 4 and 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned of the real properties situated at 106, 106½ and 108 Douglass Street, Brooklyn, New York, referred to in subparagraph 5a hereof.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in Section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on March 22, 1943.

FLORENCE BECCADELLI DI BOLOGNA

Re: Real property situated in Edgewater Park, New Jersey, and claim, held in trust by Florence Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Camporeale), as Trustee for Alexander Kingsland and Anna Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Castelcicala).

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Florence Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Camporeale), Alexander Kingsland and Anna Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Castelcicala), are citizens of Italy whose last known addresses are 24 via Paganini, Rome, Italy, and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Italy);

2. Finding that the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof is held by Florence Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Camporeale) as Trustee for Alexander Kingsland and Anna Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Castelcicala);

3. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

a. All right, title, interest and estate, both legal and equitable, of Florence Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Camporeale), Trustee, Alexander Kingsland and Anna Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Castelcicala), and each of them, in and to the real property situated in Edgewater Park, Township and County of Burlington, State of New Jersey, more particularly designated in the tax map of the Township of Burlington as Lot No. Five (5) in Block No. Five (5) on Park Avenue, Edgewater Park, New Jersey, together with all the fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims of Florence Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Camporeale), Trustee, Alexander Kingsland, and Anna Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Castelcicala), and each of them, for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property;

b. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever, of Florence Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Camporeale), Trustee, Alexander Kingsland and Anna Beccadelli di Bologna (Princess di Castelcicala), and each of them, in and to any and all obligations (contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured) owing to them, or any of them, and held to their credit, by William H. Carey, 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, New Jersey, in excess of the sum of $427.10 alleged to be due and payable to the said William H. Carey for advances and expenses paid by him in connection with the property described in subparagraph 3–a hereof, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, is property within the United States owned or controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Italy);

4. Determining that the property described in subparagraph 3–b hereof is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property (namely, that hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3–a) belonging to the same nationals of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

5. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Italy);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. [Vesting Order 1179]

CLARA STOECKLER

Re: A purchase money mortgage on real property, and non-interest bearing promissory note, owned by Clara Stoeckler.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Clara Stoeckler is a resident and citizen of Germany whose last known address is Kirchen Bezirk Eningen A/D Wurttenberg, Germany, and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that said Clara Stoeckler is the owner of the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof;

3. Finding that the property described as follows:

All right, title, interest, estate and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of Clara Stoeckler in and to any and all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured,

a. Which are secured by a purchase money mortgage, dated June 10, 1937 and recorded in the Office of the Register of Hudson County in Book 1788 of Mortgages, Page 553, on the lots and improvements owned by Julius Stoeckler and Anna Stoeckler, his wife, and situated at 1716–18–20 New York Avenue, Union City, New Jersey, including, but not limited to, all security rights, in and to any and all collateral (including the aforesaid mortgage) for any or all of such obligations and the right to enforce and collect such obligations, and the right to the possession of any note or bond evidencing such obligations; and

b. Which are owing to her by Julius Stoeckler, including, but not limited to, all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all of such obligations and the right to enforce and collect such obligations, and including particularly but not limited to that certain obligation evidenced by a non-interest bearing promissory note in the principal amount of $500 payable to Clara Stoeckler by Julius Stoeckler, and the right to the possession of said note, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Determining that the property described in subparagraph 3-b hereof is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property (namely, that hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3-a) belonging to the same national of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year, from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on April 2, 1943.

OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION.

[Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised-19]

COORDINATED OPERATIONS BETWEEN INDIANAPOLIS AND LAFAYETTE, INDIANA

THE SILVER FLEET MOTOR EXPRESS, INC., ET AL.

Upon consideration of applications for authority to coordinate operations as common carriers by motor vehicle in the transportation of property between Indianapolis and Lafayette, Indiana, and intermediate points, filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by The Silver Fleet Motor Express, Inc., of Louisville, Kentucky, Kenneth G. Foster, doing business as (and hereinafter referred to as) Foster Freight Lines, of Indianapolis, Indiana, Commercial Motor Freight, Inc. of Indiana, of Columbus, Ohio, Lafayette-Indianapolis Transit Co., Inc., of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Charles F. Davis and Charles W. Peters, doing business as Turner Trucking Company, of Lebanon, Indiana, to facilitate compliance with requirements of General Order ODT 3, Revised, as amended, (7 F.R. 5445, 6689, 7694; 8 F.R. 4660), and

It appearing that such coordination is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials and supplies, of the above named carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The Silver Fleet Motor Express, Inc., shall suspend its service in respect of shipments moving to or from all intermediate points on its route between Indianapolis and Lafayette via Lebanon and Frankfort, Indiana.

2. Foster Freight Lines shall suspend its service in respect of shipments moving to or from Lafayette and West Lafayette, and shipments moving between Indianapolis and Lebanon, Indiana.

3. Commercial Motor Freight, Inc. of Indiana shall suspend its service in respect of shipments moving to or from all intermediate points on its route between Lebanon and Lafayette via Frankfort, Indiana.

4. Lafayette-Indianapolis Transit Co., Inc., shall suspend its service in respect of shipments moving between Indianapolis and Lebanon, Indiana.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require or permit any carrier named herein to perform any transportation service, the performance of which by it is not authorized or sanctioned by law, or to render any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to alter its legal liability to any shipper.

7. Each of the carriers named in paragraphs 1 to 4, inclusive, herein shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

8. Communications concerning this order should refer to "Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised-19", and, unless otherwise directed, should be addressed to the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C.

9. This order shall become effective April 26, 1943, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of April 1943.

RECOMMENDATION OF JOINT ACTION PLAN IN KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI-KANSAS

DELIVERY BY MOTOR VEHICLE OF FLOWERS AND RELATED ARTICLES

Pursuant to a provision of a general order issued by the Office of Defense Transportation for the purpose, among others, of conserving and providently utilizing motor vehicles and vital equipment, materials and supplies (General Order ODT 17, as amended, 7 F.R. 5678, 7694, 9623), C. T. Reinhardt & Son and 48 others, listed in Appendix A hereto, have filed with the Office of Defense Transportation for approval a joint action plan relating to the transportation and delivery by motor vehicle of flowers and related articles in the Kansas City, Missouri-Kansas Commercial Zone, as defined by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Kansas City, Mo.-Kansas City, Kans. Commercial Zone, 31 M. C. C. 5.

The participants in the plan comprise all of the retail florists in the area. Duplicate and parallel transportation services in connection with these establishments at present involve considerable waste. The plan provides that no motor vehicle used in such services will be operated more than six days in any calendar week, except in certain holiday weeks. The participants propose to eliminate wasteful operations and duplication of parallel services and to pool deliveries by transferring orders, joint use of the same truck or trucks and by delivering goods sold by each other. Several groups of the participants in addition have separately agreed to pool their delivery services; and the plan contemplates similar pooling by other groups of participants. It is estimated that operation under the plan will save approximately 150,000 truck-miles a year. Allocation of business or division of territories between or among participants is not contemplated.

It appearing that the proposed joint action plan is in conformity with General Order ODT 17, as amended, and that the effectuation thereof will accomplish substantial conservation and efficient utilization of motor trucks and vital materials and supplies, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, I have approved the plan and recommend that the Chairman of the War Production Board find and certify under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with said joint action plan, is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of April 1943.

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN,
Director, Office of Defense Transportation.

[Order 9 Under Rev. MPR 213]

MOORE COMPANY

APPROVAL OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 9 under § 1365.61 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 213—Coil and Flat Bedsprings with Non-steel Frames.

Approval of maximum f. o. b. factory, l. c. l. carload prices for the Moore Company.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and by virtue of the authority vested in the Price Administrator under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, It is hereby ordered:

(a) The Moore Company of Muncie, Indiana, may sell and deliver its No. 8391 and No. 8592 coil bedsprings with wood frames and partial platform tops at prices no higher than $5.90 and $7.20 respectively, f. o. b. factory, l. c. l.

(b) Any person may sell at wholesale and deliver No. 8391 and No. 8592 coil bedsprings with partial platform tops at warehouse or delivered prices no higher than $5.90 and $7.20 respectively, plus the dollar amount by which such a seller's warehouse or delivered price exceeded the manufacturer's f. o. b. factory, l. c. l price for the most comparable bedspring with a steel frame during March 1942 under the same conditions of sale.

(c) Any person may sell at retail and deliver the No. 8391 and No. 8592 bedsprings at prices no higher than $10.25 and $12.50 respectively plus $0.50 each for a sale at retail in the Far West Zone.

(d) The maximum prices set forth in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) hereof shall be subject to the same discounts, allowances, terms and differentials as the seller had in effect for the most comparable bedspring with a steel frame during March, 1942.

(e) The Moore Company shall notify in writing all persons selling at wholesale who purchase No. 8391 and No. 8592 bedsprings of the maximum prices established in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) hereof before delivery of any such bedsprings.

(f) Before making delivery of No. 8391 and No. 8592 bedsprings with wood frames and partial platform tops, the Moore Company must attach securely to each bedspring so that it is clearly visible, a durable tag containing, in easily readable lettering, the statement in the following form:

The Office of Price Administration has established a Retail Ceiling Price of (insert the correct figure) for this bedspring. Lower prices may be charged. This tag may not be removed until after delivery to the consumer.

(g) This Order No. 9 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

(h) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 213 shall apply to the terms used herein.

(i) This Order No. 9 under § 1365.61 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 213 shall become effective April 21, 1943.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING AND ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 12th day of April A. D., 1943.

In the matter of American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, Water Works Service Company, Inc., American Water Works Construction Company, File No. 37-58; American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, Atlantic County Electric Company of New Jersey, Commonwealth Water Company, The Bernards Water Company, Monmouth Consolidated Water Company, New Jersey Water Company, Ocean County Water Company, American Water Works Construction Company and Water Works Department, Inc., File No. 4-46.

Notice is hereby given that on April 9, 1943, American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, a registered holding company, and its subsidiary companies, American Water Works Construction Company and Water Works Service Company, Inc. filed applications and declarations with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Water Works Service Company, Inc. has filed a declaration with respect to its organization and conduct of business as a subsidiary service company. It proposes to furnish various services to system subsidiary operating water companies and services of a limited character to several system subsidiary non-operating companies and to American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated. Water Works Service Company, Inc. proposes to issue and sell 1,500 shares of common stock, par value $100 per share, to American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated for $150,000 in cash.

American Water Works Construction Company, all of whose outstanding securities are owned by American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated and which performs engineering services for associate water companies, will declare a liquidating dividend of all its assets and be dissolved. Among its assets to be distributed to and acquired by American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, are 9,792 shares of the common stock and 132 shares of the $6 Series First Preferred Stock of American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, 574 shares of the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of Monongahela West Penn Public Service Company (a public utility subsidiary company of American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated), and $74,500 principal amount of West Penn Traction Company First Mortgage Five Per Cent Gold Bonds which are assumed obligations of West Penn Railways Company (a registered holding company and subsidiary of American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated).

The declarant, Water Works Service Company, Inc., proposes to file additional information by amendment including, among other things, its proposed method of allocating its costs of doing business among associate companies, the departmental organization of the company, and the nature of the services to be performed by the various departments.

The Commission having on January 28, 1943, instituted proceedings pursuant to sections 18 (a), 18 (b), and 13 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 in respect of the construction, sales, and service arrangements of American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, American Water Works Construction Company, and Water Works Department, Inc. with associate companies (File No. 4-46); and

The Commission having held a public hearing on February 18, 1943, for the purpose of taking evidence on the issues involved under sections 18 (a), 18 (b), and 13 of the Act, and said hearing having been adjourned to April 22, 1943; and

It appearing to the Commission that the proceeding heretofore instituted pursuant to sections 18 (a), 18 (b), and 13 (File No. 4-46) and the applications and declarations hereinbefore described (File No. 37-58) involve common questions of law and fact and should be consolidated;

It is hereby ordered, That such proceedings be and the same hereby are consolidated and that the hearings in the above entitled matters be held on April 22, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On that day the hearing-room clerk in Room 318 will inform the parties as to the exact room at which said hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend, a Trial Examiner of the Commission, or any officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose be, and he hereby is, designated to preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and hereby is reserved to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt, and economic disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before April 20, 1943, his request or application therefor, as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearings aforesaid by mailing a copy of this order to American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, Water Works Service Company, Inc., American Water Works Construction Company, Atlantic County Electric Company of New Jersey, Commonwealth Water Company, The Bernards Water Company, Monmouth Consolidated Water Company, New Jersey Water Company, Ocean County Water Company, American Water Works Construction Company and Water Works Department, Inc., File No. 4-46.

Notice is hereby given that on April 9, 1943, American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, a registered holding company, and its subsidiary companies, American Water Works Construction Company and Water Works Service Company, Inc. filed applications and declarations with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

LACLEDE GAS LIGHT CO., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING AND ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 19th day of April, A. D. 1943.

In the matters of the Laclede Gas Light Company, Laclede Power & Light Company, Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company, Ogden Corporation, File No. 54-39; Ogden Corporation and Subsidiary Companies, File No. 54-69, and Ogden Corporation and Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-65.

Notice is hereby given that The Laclede Gas Light Company, Laclede Power & Light Company, and Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company, subsidiaries of Ogden Corporation, a registered holding company, and Ogden Corporation have filed a plan, as amended, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for the purpose of effectuating the reorganization of The Laclede Gas Light Company, disposing of the electric utility assets operated by Laclede Power & Light Company to Union Electric Company of Missouri, and enabling the Ogden holding company system to comply, in part, with the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act.

All interested persons are referred to said plan, as amended, which is on file at the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions proposed therein, which may be summarized as follows:

1. The transfer by The Laclede Gas Light Company ("Laclede Gas"), Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company ("Phoenix"), and Laclede Power & Light Company ("Laclede Electric") to Union Electric Company of Missouri ("Union Electric") of the electric properties operated by Laclede Electric for a base purchase price of $8,600,000, subject to certain adjustments for property additions and retirements, receivables, materials and supplies, and other items of a similar fluctuating nature. In connection with such sale, Laclede Electric will not exercise the option granted to it pursuant to an agreement entered into in 1926 to purchase from Laclede Gas the properties covered in said agreement, but said agreement will, as a part of the plan, be terminated concurrently with the joint transfer of the said electric properties;

Laclede Gas and Laclede Electric have entered into a contract for division of the proceeds of the sale of electric properties. Under this contract, Laclede Gas is to receive $2,200,000 out of such proceeds;

2. The payment by Union Electric of the aforesaid base purchase price for the said electric properties in the amount of $8,600,000, as adjusted, as follows:

(a) There shall be paid directly to Laclede Electric only such portion of the said purchase price which, when added to the cash of Laclede Electric, will be sufficient to discharge in full all the liabilities of Laclede Electric not assumed by Union Electric, as provided in the contract of sale, and to pay severance compensation to such of the employees of Laclede Electric as may not be taken over by Union Electric.

(b) There shall be paid directly to Laclede Gas all of the balance of the said purchase price, which balance will include not only the portion to which Laclede Gas is entitled ($2,200,000), but also the portion of the said price to which Laclede Electric is entitled which remains after the payment by Union Electric to Laclede Electric of the amount provided to be so paid in sub-paragraph (a) preceding;

3. The transfer to Laclede Gas by Laclede Electric of all of its assets, except cash, remaining after the consummation of the said contract of sale of the electric properties;

4. The decrease in the par value of the outstanding shares of preferred stock and of the outstanding, as well as the authorized but unissued, shares of common stock of Laclede Gas, from a par value of $100 per share to a par value of $5 per share and a corresponding increase in the number of the outstanding shares of such preferred stock and of the outstanding, as well as the authorized but unissued, shares of such common stock;

5. The issuance to Ogden Corporation of 1,500,000 shares of authorized but unissued common stock of $5 par value of Laclede Gas in return for;

(a) The cancellation of the $2,000,000 principal amount of Notes of Laclede Gas owned by Ogden Corporation,

(b) The portion of the purchase price of said electric properties paid to Laclede Gas by Union Electric (hereinbefore provided) to which Laclede Electric is entitled, and

(c) The assets transferred by Laclede Electric to Laclede Gas, as hereinbefore described;

Of the shares so received by it, Ogden Corporation will release for delivery to all stockholders of Laclede Electric, other than Ogden Corporation, such number of shares of such common stock of Laclede Gas as this Commission shall fix as equitable and fair;

6. The cancellation of nine out of the twenty shares of preferred stock of $5 par value, which each holder of one share of preferred stock is entitled to receive as a result of the decrease in par value of such stock and the corresponding increase in the number of shares, as described hereinbefore in paragraph 4, and the cancellation of all rights and preferences appertaining to the preferred stock, including all rights to accumulated, unpaid dividends. Such shares so cancelled will not be reissued;

The result of the foregoing will be that, upon consummation of the Plan, each holder of preferred stock of $100 par value will receive eleven shares of common stock of $5 par value for each share of preferred stock of $100 par value surrendered by him;

7. The cancellation of nineteen out of the twenty shares of common stock of $5 par value, which each holder of one share of common stock of $100 par value is entitled to receive as a result of the decrease in par value of such stock and the corresponding increase in the number of shares, as provided hereinbefore in paragraph 4. Such shares so cancelled shall not be reissued;

The result of the foregoing will be that upon consummation of the Plan, each holder of common stock of $100 par value will receive one share of common stock of $5 par value for each share of common stock of $100 par value surrendered by him;

8. The payment in cash by Laclede Gas of interest on its outstanding bonds and notes from the respective preceding interest payment dates to the effective date of the Plan;

9. The use of the portion of the said purchase price of the said electric properties which is paid to Laclede Gas by Union Electric (as hereinbefore provided) in addition to such other cash of Laclede Gas as may be necessary to retire $7,868,000 principal amount of Refunding and Extension Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, dated April 1, 1904, outstanding in the hands of the public;

10. The issuance by Laclede Gas of the following securities:

(a) $20,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 3½% per annum and maturing twenty years from the date of issuance thereof.

(b) $5,000,000 principal amount of Debentures bearing interest at the rate of 5½% per annum and maturing ten years from the date of issuance thereof.

The proceeds from the sale of these securities will be used to discharge the balance of the outstanding funded debt of Laclede Gas by payment of the face amount of such securities to the holders thereof;

11. The result of the cancellation of shares of preferred stock and common stock of $5 par value (as hereinbefore provided) will be to increase capital surplus on the books of Laclede Gas by approximately $11,214,850. The increase in the property account of Laclede Gas as a result of a revaluation effected in 1926, as well as the loss on the books of Laclede Gas resulting from the said sale of the electric properties to Union Electric, will be charged to capital surplus. There will also be charged to capital surplus any other adjustments required to be made on the books of Laclede Gas by any regulatory body having jurisdiction;

12. The offer by Ogden Corporation to residents of the State of Missouri of the $5 par value common stock of Laclede Gas, which it is entitled to receive hereunder, at a price to be subject to the approval at the time by the Securities and Exchange Commission as fair. Said offer shall be made within one year after completion of the reorganization unless such time shall be extended by this Commission;

The consummation of the Plan is subject to:

(a) The entry of an order by this Commission pursuant to section 11 (e) and to the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act approving such Plan.

(b) Such orders of the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri with respect to the approval of the plan or the carrying out of any or all of the steps contemplated by the plan which may be necessary or desirable;

The plan further provides that at any time after its approval, as provided above, the Board of Directors of Laclede Gas may, if it be deemed necessary or desirable, request the Securities and Exchange Commission, pursuant to section 11 (e), to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction to carry out the terms and provisions of the plan.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said plan or the plan as subsequently amended and that such plan should not be approved except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It further appearing to the Commission that the plan filed herein by Laclede Gas, Laclede Electric, Phoenix, and Ogden Corporation (File No. 54-39) and proceedings in respect of the plan filed by Ogden Corporation and subsidiary companies pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act (File No. 54-69) and the proceedings instituted by the Commission directed to Ogden Corporation and subsidiary companies, respondents, pursuant to sections 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2), 15 (f), and 20 (a) of the Act (File No. 59-65), involve common questions of law and fact and should be consolidated;

It is ordered, That such proceedings be and the same hereby are consolidated.

It is further ordered, That hearings on such matters under the applicable provisions of the Act and the Rules promulgated thereunder, be held on the 18th day of May, 1943, at 10 a. m. in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated at such time by the hearing room clerk in Room 318.

It is further ordered, That Edward C. Johnson, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented in the consolidated proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

(a) Whether the proposed issuance by Laclede Gas of $25,000,000 principal amount of debt will result in an excessive amount of debt and whether the issuance of $25,000,000 of debt is reasonably adapted to its assets, earning power, and security structure;

(b) Whether this Commission should also require as a term and condition to its approval of the Plan filed under section 11 (e) by Laclede Gas, Laclede Electric, Phoenix, and Ogden Corporation and to the issuance of the securities proposed in such Plan, the following term and condition imposed by the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri in its order approving the Plan of Reorganization of Laclede Gas: "That any surplus upon the books of The Laclede Gas Light Company as of the date of issuance of the securities authorized herein shall be unavailable for the payment of dividends. Any earned surplus accruing subsequent to such date to the extent of $3,000,000 shall likewise be unavailable for the payment of such dividends" and what other or additional terms and conditions in regard to restriction of dividends should be imposed;

(c) Whether Laclede Gas should be required to carry its fixed assets on its books at the estimated original cost thereof as determined by the accountants for the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri, as of August 31, 1942, plus subsequent net additions at actual cost;

(d) Whether the write-downs in the property account of Laclede Gas proposed in the plan, as well as other write-downs which may be required by this Commission or other regulatory bodies having jurisdiction, should be charged, first, to the earned surplus account and any remainder thereof charged to existing capital surplus and capital surplus created by the reduction in the aggregate stated value of capital stock;

(e) Whether the depreciation reserve of Laclede Gas is adequate and whether any remaining balance in capital surplus, after giving effect to all other charges for property adjustments and similar matters, should be required to be transferred to the depreciation reserve;

(f) Whether the proposed base purchase price of $8,600,000 to be received from Union Electric for the electric properties operated by Laclede Electric is reasonable and whether the sale of such properties to Union Electric is in compliance with the provisions of section 12 (d) and other applicable provisions of the Act;

(g) Whether the proposed allocation of the proceeds of the sale of the electric properties operated by Laclede Electric between Laclede Gas and Laclede Electric is fair and equitable;

(h) Whether the proposed issuance by Laclede Gas of eleven shares of new $5 per value common stock for each share of $100 par value preferred stock to the present holders thereof and the proposed issuance of one share of new $5 par value common stock for each share of $100 par value common stock to the present holders thereof are fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby;

(i) Whether the securities and cash proposed to be received and retained by Ogden as a result of the reorganization of Laclede Gas, the sale of the electric properties operated by Laclede Electric, and the liquidation and dissolution of Laclede Electric, constitute fair and equitable consideration for Ogden's interests in Laclede Gas and Laclede Electric;

(j) To what extent, if any, the proposed Plan should be modified or amended to render it feasible and fair and equitable to the persons affected and what terms and conditions should be imposed in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers.

Notice is hereby given of said hearing to the above-named applicants and respondents, and to all interested persons; said notice to be given to said applicants and respondents by registered mail, and to all other persons by publication in the Federal Register. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary of this Commission, on or before May 10, 1943, an appropriate request or application to be heard, as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved to separate, whether for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions, or matters hereinbefore set forth or which may arise in this proceeding, or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to said Plan or to take such other action as may appear conducive

KEWANEE PUBLIC SERVICE CO. AND ILLINOIS IOWA POWER CO.

ORDER RECONVENING HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 17th day of April 1943.

In the matter of Kewanee Public Service Company, Respondent, File No. 59-54; and Illinois Iowa Power Company, File No. 70-577.

Illinois Iowa Power Company having filed an application or declaration (or both) pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules promulgated thereunder regarding the acquisition by said company of the publicly held preferred stock of Kewanee Public Service Company (File No. 70-577) which application or declaration (or both) was set for hearing on September 2, 1942 and subsequently continued to September 23, 1942; and

The Commission having entered an order on September 3, 1942 instituting proceedings against Kewanee Public Service Company pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 12 (c), 12 (f), 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the Act (File No. 59-54) a copy of which order has been mailed to the stockholders of said company; and

The Commission having by order dated September 8, 1942 consolidated the hearings on the aforesaid application or declaration (or both) and on the proceedings so instituted and set the consolidated hearing on September 23, 1942; and a consolidated hearing having been held on said date which was adjourned subject to the call of the trial examiner; and

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a further hearing be held with respect to said proceedings;

It is ordered, That a reconvened hearing in said proceedings shall be held on the 11th day of May, 1943 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in such room as may be designated on that date by the hearing room clerk in Room 318.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the reconvened hearing by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to Kewanee Public Service Company, Illinois Iowa Power Company, Illinois Traction Company, North American Light & Power Company, The North American Company, and the Illinois Commerce Commission; and that notice of said hearing be given to all other persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Kewanee Public Service Company mail a copy of this notice at least fifteen days prior to the date herein fixed as the date of the reconvened hearing to all of its known security holders including the Trustee under the Indenture securing its bonds and that said company mail a copy of our order of September 3, 1942 in this matter to all of its known security holders, including the Trustee under the Indenture securing its bonds, who have not previously been mailed a copy thereof;

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or to intervene therein shall, on or before the 28th day of April 1943 file with the Secretary of the Commission his written request or application, as required by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission.

By the Commission.

EASTERN SHORE PUBLIC SERVICE CO. (DEL.) AND EASTERN SHORE PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF MARYLAND

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATIONS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 19th day of April 1943.

Eastern Shore Public Service Company (Delaware), a registered holding company (hereinafter called Delaware), and The Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Maryland, a subsidiary thereof (hereinafter called Maryland), having filed declarations pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly section 12 thereof, and Rules U-42 and U-43 thereunder, with respect to the following transactions:

Maryland has outstanding as of February 28, 1943, $3,692,500 principal amount of its First Mortgage 4% Bonds due September 1, 1969, all of which bonds are owned by Delaware and pledged by Delaware to secure its First Mortgage and First Lien Bonds. Maryland proposes to redeem $100,000 principal amount of its outstanding bonds at par and accrued interest thereon, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture securing them.

The funds to be received by Delaware from Maryland will be deposited with the Trustee under the Indenture securing Delaware's First Mortgage and First Lien Bonds. In order to obtain the release of funds so deposited, Delaware then proposes to deliver to the Trustee for cancellation $100,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage and First Lien Bonds, Series C, 5%, due September 1, 1946, now pledged as collateral security to its 3% note payable to The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, upon which note there is an unpaid balance of $450,000. Delaware will apply the $100,000 it will receive to reduce the amount due on the bank loan.

Said declarations having been filed on April 8, 1943, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said Act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to the declarations within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The above-named parties having requested that said declarations be permitted to become effective before April 20, 1943; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit the declarations pursuant to Rules U-42 and U-43 to become effective, and being satisfied that the effective date of such declarations should be advanced;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said Act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the aforesaid declarations be, and hereby are, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

Regulations

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary

PART 1—ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE DEPARTMENT, REPRESENTATION; AMENDMENT

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under section 161 of the Revised Statutes as amended (5 U.S.C., 1940 ed. sec. 22), Title 7, Subtitle A, Part I, § 1.1579, Code of Federal Regulations is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.1579 Representation in proceedings before the Department. In any proceeding before the Department, the parties may appear in person or by counsel or other representative. Persons who appear as counsel or in a representative capacity at a hearing must conform to the standards of ethical conduct required of practitioners before the courts of the United States. Whenever the Secretary finds, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that a person who is acting or has acted as counsel or representative for another person in any proceedings before the Department is guilty of unethical conduct, he will order that such person be precluded from acting as counsel or representative in any proceeding before the Department.

No former officer or employee of the Department of Agriculture shall, within two years after termination of his employment, be permitted to practice or appear, or to act as an attorney or agent, in any case, claim, contest, or other proceeding before the Department, or before any office, bureau or agency thereof.

This regulation shall not be construed to prevent any former officer or employee of the Department from appearing as a witness in any hearing, investigation, or other proceeding before the Department.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of April, 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

GREENVILLE STOCK YARDS, GREENVILLE, MISS.[1]

By a document published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 11, 1939 (4 F.R. 1568), notice was given by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture that the Greenville Stock Yards, Greenville, Mississippi, owned by C. I. Stafford & Sons, was a stockyard subject to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921 (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 181 et seq.). The name of this stockyard appears incorrectly in the Code of Federal Regulations (9 CFR, 1939 Sup., 204.1) as G. I. Stafford & Sons.

It has been ascertained that the area of this stockyard normally used is now less than twenty-thousand square feet, so that the act no longer applies to it. Therefore, notice of such fact is given to its owners and to the public, and its name is deleted from the list of posted

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Regulations, Serial 269]

PART 228—FREE AND REDUCED RATE TRANSPORTATION

SCOPE AND PRACTICES

Amendment 1 of § 228.4.

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of April 1943.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, acting pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205 (a) and 403 (b) thereof, and deeming its action necessary to carry out the provisions of said Act and to exercise its powers and perform its duties thereunder, hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

Effective May 1, 1943, § 228.4 of the Economic Regulations is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 228.4 Free and reduced rate transportation scope and practices—(a) Definitions. As used in this regulation, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Carrier" means an air carrier or a foreign air carrier.

(2) An "affiliate" of a carrier means a person:

(i) Who controls such carrier, or is controlled by such carrier or by another person who controls or is controlled by such carrier, and

(ii) Whose principal business in purpose or in fact is:

(a) The holding of stock in one or more carriers, or

(b) Scheduled transportation by air or the sale of tickets therefor, or

(c) The operation of one or more airports, one or more of which is used by such carrier or by another carrier who controls or is controlled by such carrier or who is under common control with such carrier by another person, or

(d) Activities devoted to the scheduled transportation by air conducted by such carrier or by another carrier who controls or is controlled by such carrier or who is under common control with such carrier by another person.

Within the meaning of this subparagraph, "control" means the beneficial ownership of more than 40 per centum of outstanding voting capital stock unless, as to the specific case, the Board shall have determined in a proceeding pursuant to section 408 of the Act that control does not exist; such control may be direct or by or through one or more intermediate subsidiaries likewise controlled or controlling through beneficial ownership of more than 40 per centum of outstanding voting capital stock.

(3) "Pass" means a written authorization issued by a carrier for free or reduced-rate transportation of persons or property; "annual pass" means such an authorization effective over a period of a calendar year; "term pass" means such an authorization effective over a specified period of less than a year; "trip pass" means such an authorization for a single one-way trip or round trip (whether the return trip is made via the same or a different route as the outbound trip) between designated points.

(4) "Free transportation" means the carriage by a carrier of any person or property (other than property owned by such carrier) in air transportation without compensation therefor; "reduced-rate transportation" means such carriage for a compensation less than that under the rate, fare, or charge published in the tariffs of such carrier on file with the Board and otherwise applicable to such carriage.

(5) All other words and phrases shall have the meaning defined in the Act.

(b) Persons to whom free or reduced-rate transportation may be furnished. Subject to the provisions of the Act and the orders, regulations, including this regulation, and rules of the Board now or hereafter in effect, any carrier may at its option provide free or reduced-rate transportation to any or all classes of persons specifically mentioned in section 403 (b) of the Act; and in addition thereto, all carriers engaged in overseas or foreign air transportation may furnish free or reduced-rate transportation to:

(1) Directors, officers, and employees and members of their immediate families, of any affiliate of such carrier, the name of which affiliate currently is included in the list of affiliates filed by such carrier pursuant to paragraph (g) (3) of this section.

(2) Directors, officers, and employees, and members of their immediate families of any person operating as a common carrier by air, or in the carriage of mails by air, or conducting transportation by air, in a foreign country, but only over routes and in territories served in such foreign country.

(3) Other persons to whom such carrier is required to furnish free or reduced-rate transportation by law or by a contract or agreement, now or hereafter in effect, between such carrier and the government of any country served by such carrier, but only to the extent so required and only if such contract or agreement is filed with the Board and if the provisions thereof relating to such transportation are not disapproved by the Board as being contrary to the public interest.

(c) Passes to be issued. No carrier shall furnish any free or reduced-rate transportation unless a pass therefor has been issued, except that passes need not be issued:

(1) For any transportation provided for in any tariff on file with the Board and currently effective when such transportation is furnished.

(2) For necessary travel of the carrier's own directors, officers or employees in the performance of their official duties.

(3) For free or reduced-rate transportation of persons injured in aircraft accidents or of physicians or nurses attending such persons, or with the object of providing relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence, or other calamitous visitation.

(4) For free or reduced-rate transportation authorized in any other section of the Economic Regulations or Order of the Board now or hereafter in effect.

(d) Form of pass. No carrier shall issue any form of pass other than an "annual," "term," or "trip" pass. Every pass shall be issued upon the express condition that it is subject to suspension or cancellation for the abuse of the privileges accorded thereunder, and must show on its face, at least, the name of the person or persons who, or whose property, is entitled to receive free or reduced-rate transportation. Each pass must bear either the signature in ink of an official named in the list referred to in paragraph (g) (1) hereof, or the facsimile signature of such an official and the counter-signature in ink of some other official or responsible subordinate who is designated by name and title on the pass, and before presented for transportation such pass must bear the signature in ink of the person to whom issued: Provided, That regular tickets or bills of lading, stamped with a suitable notation, may be used as trip passes, and when so used need not conform to the provisions of this paragraph as to form.

(e) Carrier's records. Each carrier shall maintain a record of all passes issued by it, which record shall be filed in such manner as to be accessible and convenient for examination, and shall contain the following information: the type of pass; dates of issuance and expiration; number; to whom issued, including name, address, and eligibility under the Act and under this regulation; privileges accorded thereunder; points between which transportation is authorized, or, in the case of "annual" and "term" passes, the route number or system or particular points, as may be appropriate; and the name of the official upon whose authorization the pass was issued. All correspondence or memoranda relating to free or reduced-rate transportation shall be retained and made a part of the carrier's records. In the case of reduced-rate transportation, the records shall show the amount of the charge assessed or assessable.

(f) Carrier's rules to be filed with the Board. Each carrier shall file with the Board three copies of all instructions to its employees, and of all company rules and regulations, governing its practices in connection with the issuance and interchange of passes. If no instructions, rules, or regulations are in effect, then three copies of a general statement by an appropriate official of the carrier, comprehensively describing its practices in connection with the issuance and interchange of passes must be filed. Three copies of any change in any such instructions, rules, regulations or statement of practices must be filed with the Board within thirty days after the effective date of such change.

(g) Filing of lists. Before issuing any pass each carrier shall file with the Board:

(1) A list containing the name and title of each of its officials upon whose authorization passes may be issued,

(2) A list containing the name and title of each of its officials who are authorized to request passes from other carriers, and

(3) In the case of issuance of passes to directors, officers, employees, or members of their immediate families, of any affiliate of such carrier, a list containing all of such carrier's affiliates and showing the exact relationship of each such affiliate to such carrier as respects control and principal business.

Any change in any of such lists must be filed with the Board within fifteen days after such change is effective: Provided, That an affiliate not previously included in any list filed with the Board must be included in a new list prior to the issuance of any pass to any person authorized to receive such pass by reason of such affiliation.

(h) Application for authority to carry other persons. Any carrier desiring special authorization under section 403 (b) of the Act to furnish free or reduced-rate overseas or foreign air transportation to a person or persons not described in that section or in paragraph (b) of this regulation may apply to the Board, by letter or other writing, for such authorization. The application shall state the identity of the person or persons to whom and the points between which such transportation is to be furnished, the time or approximate time of departure, and the carrier's reasons for desiring to furnish such transportation. Except as hereinafter provided, the application shall be made at least ten days before the transportation is to be furnished, and shall contain a definite indication that the carrier is willing and intends to furnish such transportation if authority to do so is granted by the Board. Such application shall be deemed to have been granted unless the Board shall otherwise advise the carrier within seven days after the application is received by the Board. In extraordinary cases, and for good cause shown, the application may be made within less than ten days before the transportation is to be furnished, but in such event shall not be deemed to have been granted unless the carrier is so advised before the transportation is furnished.

(i) Repealer. Section 228.5 of the Economic Regulations, as amended, hereby is repealed, but nothing contained herein shall be construed as repealing or amending any provision of any other section of the Economic Regulations.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Wallerstein, an individual, and their respective representatives, agents, and employees; and Samuel Small, individually and as president and director, and respondents Daniel Bellin, Morris Bradhoff, Harry Siegel, Bernard N. Jaffe, and Henry Rosen, individually and as directors of Garment Box Manufacturers Association, and their respective representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution of garment boxes and other similar merchandise in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from entering into, continuing, cooperating in, or carrying out any planned common course of action, agreement, understanding, combination, or conspiracy between and among any two or more of said respondents or between any one or more of said respondents and others not parties hereto to do or perform any of the following acts or practices:

1. Establishing, fixing, or maintaining prices for garment boxes or adhering to or promising to adhere to prices so fixed.

2. Holding or participating in any meeting, discussion, or exchange of information among themselves or under the auspices of respondent Garment Box Manufacturers Association or any other medium or agency concerning proposed or future prices at which respondents should sell garment boxes or other similar merchandise.

3. Exchanging, distributing, or relaying among respondent members or any of them or through respondent Garment Box Manufacturers Association or through any other medium or central agency duplicate invoices, daily sales analyses, or other information showing current or future prices, or information showing the current or future prices of any particular respondent.

4. Exchanging, distributing, or relaying among respondent members or any of them or through respondent Garment Box Manufacturers Association or through any other medium or central agency duplicate invoices, daily sales analyses, or other information which discloses to competing respondent members data on prices charged and quantities sold on individual sales to named customers, or information as to quantities of garment boxes sold by any respondent member to any particular customer or group of customers.

5. Fixing, determining, designating, or maintaining sales quotas or allocations of business among respondent members or formulating, promoting, placing in effect, or participating in any plan or policy to allocate or divide among respondent members or any of them the total business of the industry or any part thereof or any lot or piece of business or the business of any purchaser or purchasers.

6. Formulating, promoting, placing in effect, or participating in any plan or policy which provides for a penalty for exceeding any sales quota established by such plan or policy or for reimbursement for failing to sell such quota.

7. Adhering to or promising to adhere to any allocation or division of any lot or piece of business or the business of any given purchaser or purchasers by refusing to sell such purchasers or prospective purchasers so allotted to particular respondent members.

8. Coercing, inducing, or persuading, or attempting to coerce, induce, or persuade, respondent members to adhere to or maintain prices or sales quotas among respondent members by maintaining any agency, committee, or bureau as a disciplinary or punitive agency to enforce the provisions of any plan or policy with reference to the allocation of business among respondent members, or to collect or enforce payment of any assessment or penalty to cover violation of quota sales provided by such plan or policy.

9. Coercing, inducing, or persuading, or attempting to coerce, induce, or persuade, respondent members to adhere to or maintain prices or sales quotas among respondent members by requiring the deposit of sums of money by respondent members to guarantee or assure the maintenance by such respondent members of any quota or allocation of business established by any plan or policy adopted by the respondent Association or the respondent members or by providing for the payment of a penalty by any respondent member who might exceed such quota or allocation of business so established.

10. Coercing, inducing, or persuading, or attempting to coerce, induce, or persuade, any competitor of respondent members who does not maintain the prices fixed by said respondent members to discontinue the business of selling garment boxes.

11. Refusing to sell or agreeing not to sell garment boxes to any purchaser or user thereof who buys or has bought garment boxes from any assembler, dealer, or distributor who is not a member of respondent Association.

12. Authorizing or permitting the examination of the books and records of the respondent members by any agent of the respondent Garment Box Manufacturers Association or by any agent of the respondents or any of them to determine or check the quantity of garment boxes sold by any respondent member, the prices charged by such respondent member, and the extent to which any respondent member has or has not sold garment boxes within the quotas established or the extent to which such respondent member has or has not complied with any plan for allocation of sales.

13. Formulating or putting into operation any other practice or plan which has the purpose of or the tendency or effect of fixing prices for garment boxes, or otherwise restricting, restraining, or eliminating competition in the sale and distribution of garment boxes.

14. Employing or utilizing respondent Garment Box Manufacturers Association or any other medium or central agency as an instrument or vehicle or aid in performing or doing any of the acts and practices prohibited by this order.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein be, and it hereby is, dismissed as to State Container Company, a corporation.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission.

AUTHORITY: §§ 61.1 to 61.22, inclusive, issued under sec. 32, 39 Stat. 749; 5 U.S.C. 763, and sec. 106, 56 Stat. 1033; 42 U.S.C. 1706.

§ 61.1 General provisions; definitions. (a) The United States Employees' Compensation Commission is charged with the administration of Public Law No. 784, 77th Congress, entitled "An Act to provide benefits for the injury, disability, death, or enemy detention of employees of contractors with the United States, and for other purposes," approved December 2, 1942. This Act, in Title I, provides compensation for injury or death proximately resulting from a war-risk hazard, with respect to the following categories of employees:

(1) Any person employed by a contractor with the United States, if such person is an employee specified in the Act of August 16, 1941 (Public Law 208, 77th Congress), as amended, and no compensation is payable with respect to injury or death under such Act.

(2) Any person engaged by the United States under a contract for his personal services outside the United States or in Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands.

(3) Any person employed as a civilian employee of a post-exchange or ship-service store outside the United States or in Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands.

Compensation and other benefits under such Act are provided with respect to injury or death proximately resulting from a war-risk hazard, as defined by the Act (see paragraph (c) of this section), whether or not the person was at time of injury engaged in the course of his employment. The purpose intended by such Act is to provide continuous 24 hour compensation protection with respect to injuries caused by war hazards, except as to certain employees referred to in § 61.2 (a) of these regulations. Such protection is accomplished by making applicable to such persons the provisions of the Act providing compensation for civil employees of the United States, approved September 7, 1916, as amended, except that in determining compensation for disability, the scale of compensation benefits and computation of benefits and the wage base thereof shall be made in accordance with the provisions of sections 6, 8 and 10 of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, and except that in determining compensation for death, the classes of beneficiaries and the computation of compensation, including the wage basis and payment thereof shall be made in accordance with sections 9 and 10 of such Longshoremen's Act. Where terms relating to beneficiaries used in such section 9 of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act are defined in section 2 of such Longshoremen's Act, such definitions shall apply. Compensation for disability is limited to a maximum amount of $7,500 in case of injury, and $7,500 in case of death, such sum being exclusive of medical costs and funeral and burial expenses. Medical treatment and care will be furnished under applicable sections of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, and not under section 7 of such Longshoremen's Act.

(b) Under the provisions of such Public Law No. 784, 77th Congress, approved December 2, 1942, if any person within any category specified in paragraph (a) of this section of these regulations:

(1) Is found to be missing from his place of employment, whether or not such person then actually was engaged in the course of his employment, under circumstances supporting an inference that his absence is due to the belligerent action of an enemy; or

(2) Is known to have been taken by an enemy as prisoner, hostage, or otherwise; or

(3) Is not returned to his home or to the place where he was employed, by reason of the failure of the United States or its contractor to furnish transportation; until such time as he is returned to his home, to the place of his employment, or is able to be returned to the jurisdiction of the United States, such person shall be regarded, for the purpose of paying benefits for detention, as totally disabled. The same benefits as are provided for total disability under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall be credited to his account and be payable to him for the period of such absence or until his death is in fact established or can be legally presumed to have occurred. A part of such compensation for total disability, accruing to such person, may be disbursed during the period of such absence to the dependents of such person, if such dependents reside in the United States or its territories or possessions (including the United States Naval Operating Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, the Canal Zone, and in the Philippine Islands). In determining the monthly benefits which may be paid from the accrued compensation for total disability, credited to the account of such person, the provisions of section 9 of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act shall apply, including the designation of classes of beneficiaries and percentages of the missing person's average wages, as therein provided. The monthly benefits payable to a dependent, from funds accrued to the account of the missing person, shall be in the same amount as would otherwise be payable for the death of such person, as provided by such Longshoremen's Act.

(c) As used in this subchapter:

(1) The term "Commission" means the United States Employees' Compensation Commission.

(2) The term "contractor with the United States" includes any subcontractor or subordinate subcontractor with respect to the contract of such contractor.

(3) The term "war-risk hazard" means any hazard arising after December 6, 1941, and prior to the end of the present war, from—

(a) The discharge of any missile (including liquids and gas) or the use of any weapon, explosive, or other noxious thing by an enemy or in combating an attack or an imagined attack by an enemy; or

(b) Action of the enemy, including rebellion or insurrection against the United States or any of its Allies; or

(c) The discharge or explosion of munitions intended for use in connection with the national war effort (except with respect to any employee of a manufacturer or processor of munitions during the manufacture, or processing thereof, or while stored on the premises of the manufacturer or processor); or

(d) The collision of vessels in convoy or the operation of vessels or aircraft without running lights or without other customary peacetime aids to navigation; or

(e) The operation of vessels or aircraft in a zone of hostilities or engaged in war activities.

(4) The term "injury" means injury resulting from a war-risk hazard, as herein defined, whether or not such injury occurred in the course of the person's employment, and includes any disease proximately resulting from such cause.

(5) The term "death" means death proximately caused by injury, as herein defined.

(6) The terms "compensation", "physician" and "medical, surgical, and hospital services and supplies" shall be construed and applied as defined in such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended.

(7) The terms "disability", "wages", "child", "grandchild", "brother", "sister", "parent", "widow", "widower", "adoption" or "adopted", shall be construed and applied as defined in such Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, as amended.

(d) The regulations in Part 1 of this chapter shall not apply under this subchapter, unless made applicable specifically, by reference in this part.

§ 61.2 Deductions from benefits; exclusions. (a) The provisions of Title I of such Public Law No. 784, 77th Congress, approved December 2, 1941 (relating to compensation benefits and for injury, death or enemy detention) shall not apply in the case of any person (1) whose residence is at or in the vicinity of the place of his employment, and (2) who is not living there solely by virtue of the exigencies of his employment, unless his injury or death resulting from injury occurs, or his detention begins, while in the course of his employment.

(b) No payment of benefits to any person within any category specified in § 61.1 (a) of these regulations, or to the dependent of such person, on account of absence as therein specified, shall be made during any period such person or dependent, respectively, has received, or may be entitled to receive, any other payment from the United States, either directly or indirectly, because of such absence, unless such person or dependent refunds or renounces such other benefit or payment for the period claimed. Every person or dependent filing a claim for benefits on account of such absence or detention under Title I of such Public Law shall state whether or not he has claimed, recovered, or is receiving any payments whatsoever on account of such absence or detention, setting forth the source or sources of such payments, the weekly rate of payment, the period or periods during which such payments have been received, and the place where any claim therefor was filed.

(c) No benefits shall be paid or furnished under the provisions of Title I of such Public Law, that is, no compensation benefits for injury or death, or payment of accrued compensation for total disability to such persons or their dependents on account of such absence or detention, to any person who recovers or receives workmen's compensation benefits for the same injury or death under any law (other than such Title I) of the United States, or under the law of any State, Territory, possession, foreign country, or other jurisdiction, or benefits in the nature of workmen's compensation benefits payable under an agreement approved or authorized by the United States pursuant to which a contractor with the United States has undertaken to provide such benefits. Every person or dependent claiming benefits for injury, death, or detention under Title I of such Public Law shall state whether or not he has claimed, recovered, or is receiving any payments whatsoever under any workmen's compensation law, or under any agreement providing benefits in the nature of workmen's compensation benefits, on account of the same injury or death for which benefits are sought in his claim under Title I of such Public Law, setting forth in such claim the place where such other claim was filed, and the amounts of payments received, together with such information as may be necessary to identify (1) the agreement under which payments are made, or (2) the jurisdiction under the law of which such payments are made.

(d) Where any person specified in section 101 (a), Title I of such Public Law (and in § 61.1 (a) of these regulations), or the dependent, beneficiary, or allottee of such person, receives or claims wages, payments in lieu of wages, insurance benefits for disability or loss of life (other than workmen's compensation benefits), and the cost of such wages, payments, or benefits is provided in whole or in part by the United States, the amount of such wages, payments, or benefits shall be credited, in such manner as the Commission shall determine, against any payments to which any such person may be found entitled under such Title I of such Public Law. Every person or dependent claiming benefits for injury, death, or detention under such Title I shall state whether or not he has claimed, recovered, received or is receiving any such wages, payments, or benefits, setting forth the source of such payments, the weekly amount of payment, the total sum received, and the period covered by all payments received.

Credits shall be applied under this subparagraph only where the wages, payments, or benefits received are items with respect to which the contractor with the United States is entitled to reimbursement by the United States, or where they are otherwise reimbursable by the United States.

(e) Where a national of a foreign government is entitled to benefits on account of injury or death resulting from a war-risk hazard, under the laws of his native country or any other foreign country, the benefits provided under such Title I of such Public Law shall not apply. Every person or dependent claiming benefits for injury, death, or detention, under such Title I shall state in his claim thereunder the name of the country of which he is a national, and whether or not he has claimed, received, or is receiving, or is entitled to, any benefits on account of the same injury or death under the laws of the country of which he is a national, or of any other foreign country, and where such claim has been filed, or may be filed.

(f) Persons convicted in a court of competent jurisdiction of any subversive act against the United States or any of its Allies, committed after the declaration of the President on May 27, 1941, of the national emergency, shall not, nor shall their beneficiaries, be entitled to any benefits under Title I of such Public Law. As provided in such Public Law, any person charged with the commission of such subversive act shall have his compensation or other benefits suspended until such charge is disposed of, forfeiting such compensation or benefits if convicted or dying prior to such disposition, with removal of forfeiture upon withdrawal or acquittal of such charge. Every person filing claim under Title I of such Public Law shall state whether or not he has been charged with such offense and the disposition of any such charge.

§ 61.3 Limitations upon benefits. (a) Compensation for permanent total or permanent partial disability or for death payable under Title I of such Public Law to persons who are not citizens of the United States and who are not residents of the United States or Canada, shall be in the same amount as provided for residents; except that dependents in any foreign country shall be limited to surviving wife or husband and child or children, or if there be no surviving wife or husband or child or children, to surviving father or mother whom such person has supported, either wholly or in part, for the period of one year immediately prior to the date of the injury; and except that the Commission, at its option, may commute all future installments of compensation to be paid to such persons by paying to them one-half of the commuted amount of such future installments of compensation as determined by the Commission. Persons coming within the foregoing provisions, claiming disability benefits, who have left an unrelinquished residence in the United States or Canada to engage in employment within the purview of section 101 (a) of Title I of such Public Law, and who signify an intention to return to such residence, will be regarded as residents of the place at which they had their last permanent residence. The foregoing provisions do not apply to dependents claiming benefits for detention under section 101 (b) of such Public Law; the rights of such dependents are determinable under such section.

(b) In determining benefits for disability or death (including payments to dependents on account of enemy detention), as provided in section 101 of such Public Law, the minimum limit upon weekly compensation for disability and the minimum limit on the average weekly wages on which death benefits are to be computed, as fixed in section 6 (b) and section 9 (e) of such Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, shall not apply.

(c) If at the time a person sustains an injury coming within the purview of Title I of such Public Law, such person is receiving workmen's compensation benefits on account of a prior accident or disease, said person shall not be entitled to any benefits under such Title during the period covered by such workmen's compensation benefits unless the injury from a war-risk hazard increases his disability, and then only to the extent such disability has been so increased. Every person claiming benefits under such Title I shall state whether or not he is receiving or is entitled to receive workmen's compensation benefits from any source for the same condition or cause of disability as to which such claim relates, setting forth a sufficient reference to such other workmen's compensation law, the nature of the disability for which compensation is paid or payable, the amount of weekly compensation for such disability, and the name of the employer or insurance carrier obligated to him under such other law. This provision is applicable only to disability resulting jointly from two unrelated causes, namely, (1) prior industrial accident or disease, and (2) injury from a war-risk hazard.

§ 61.4 Employee's notice of injury and claim. (a) To facilitate compliance with the provisions of sections 15 to 20, inclusive, of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended and modified, notice of injury and claim for compensation for disability payable under Title I of such Public Law may be given simultaneously, whether or not actual or compensable disability exists at time of filing. The Commission has provided a combined notice of injury and claim form (sworn to by claimant) to be used for such purpose, but no injured person's rights shall be prejudiced because of failure to use such form, provided such person files written notice of injury and claim in other sufficient manner, containing all material facts showing his right under such Title I.

(b) Whenever the Commission shall find that, because of circumstances beyond the control of an injured person, compliance with the limitation provisions of sections 15 to 20, inclusive, of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, could not have been accomplished within the time therein specified, the Commission, in its discretion, may waive such limitation provisions.

§ 61.5 Claim for death benefits. (a) For the purpose of compliance with the provisions of sections 18 to 20, inclusive, of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended and modified, claim for compensation for death payable under Title I of such Public Law shall be filed. The Commission has provided appropriate forms for such purpose (to be sworn to), applicable to the various classes of beneficiaries as specified in such Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, made applicable by such Title I, but the rights of a beneficiary shall not be prejudiced because of failure to use such form, provided such beneficiary files claim for such compensation in other sufficient manner, containing all material facts showing a right to benefits under such Title I.

(b) Whenever the Commission shall find that, because of circumstances beyond the control of such beneficiary compliance with the limitation provisions of sections 18 to 20, inclusive, of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, could not have been accomplished within the time therein specified, the Commission, in its discretion, may waive such limitation provisions.

§ 61.6 Claim for detention benefits (a) Pursuant to section 101 (b) (1) of Title I of such Public Law, a claim for detention benefits, as provided under such section, is required to be filed by dependents and others entitled thereto. The Commission has provided appropriate forms for such purpose (to be sworn to), applicable to missing persons, and to the several classes of dependents as specified in such Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, made applicable by such Title I, but the rights of a beneficiary shall not be prejudiced because of failure to use such form, provided such dependent files claim for such detention benefits in other sufficient manner. The dependent in such case, if an award is made, will be paid detention benefits from the amount accruing as compensation for total disability which has been credited to the account of the missing person related to such dependent.

(b) In order to establish the amount of compensation for total disability, to be credited to the account of a person missing as specified in section 101 (b), Title I, of such Public Law, as the amount available for payments to dependents (the balance thereof to be payable to such person upon his return from such absence), the Commission shall make such inquiry and investigation with respect to the status of such missing person as the circumstances of his case shall require, and thereafter shall determine his status. A determination that an individual has been detained by the enemy may be made on the basis that he has disappeared under circumstances such as to make such detention appear probable. In making such determination the Commission will consider the information and the conclusion of the Department or agency of the United States having knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the absence of such missing person, as prima facie evidence of the status of such person. Dependents making claim for such detention benefits may be required to submit all evidence available to them relative to the employment status of the missing person and to the circumstances of such absence. The filing of the prescribed notice of injury, claim for compensation for total disability, and forms relating to disability compensation, shall not be required in the cases of missing persons either on their behalf or by dependents seeking such detention benefits. Administrative determination shall establish the presumptive status of total disability of such missing persons, which shall continue during the period of such absence, or until death is in fact established or can be legally presumed to have occurred. A dependent having knowledge of a change of status of such missing person shall promptly inform the Commission in writing of such change. The Commission should be advised in writing, immediately, by such dependent (or on return, by the person who has been absent) if such person is returned to his home, to the place of his employment, or is able to be returned to the jurisdiction of the United States.

(c) In determining the amount of compensation for total disability which shall accrue to the account of missing persons, for the purpose of paying a part thereof to dependents, the provisions in Title I of such Public Law requiring denial of benefits, deductions, or adjustments (because of receipt of or entitlement to other payments from the United States, directly or indirectly) shall, whenever practicable and equitable, be applied, respectively, (1) to dependents' claims, or (2) to claims by persons returned from such absence who seek payment of the balance of any compensation not disbursed to dependents; that is, whenever practicable and equitable, denial of benefits, deductions and adjustments which are directly applicable to dependents shall be taken into account in adjusting their claims for detention benefits (without regard to such other denials, deductions and adjustments as may directly affect the missing person's right to such compensation), and upon filing of a claim by a person, returned from such absence, for the balance of compensation accrued to his account, only such denials, deductions and adjustments directly affecting his right to compensation will be taken into account.

(d) A claim shall be filed by a person, returned from absence as specified in section 101 (b) of Title I of such Public Law, for the detention benefits accrued to his account. The Commission has provided an appropriate form for such purpose, which may be had upon application to the Commission.

(e) Whenever the Commission shall find that, because of circumstances beyond the control of a dependent or other person entitled to detention benefits under this section, compliance with the time limitation provisions of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, could not have been accomplished within such time as is therein specified for the filing of claims, the Commission, in its discretion, may waive such limitation provisions. (Sec. 101 (b) (1), 56 Stat. 1028; 42 U.S.C. 1701)

§ 61.7 Cooperative arrangements; reports of injury, death, and detention. (a) In order that the Commission may have fullest available information with respect to cases involving injury, death, and detention, for which benefits may be paid or provided under Title I of such Public Law, and otherwise to facilitate administration, the Commission is authorized to enter into agreements or cooperative working arrangements with other agencies of the United States or of any State (including the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands) or political subdivisions thereof, and with other public agencies and private persons, agencies, or institutions, within and without the United States. To the extent that Departments and agencies of the United States, government contractors, insurance carriers, and others, and the representatives of such, voluntarily cooperate with the Commission and its representatives by supplying necessary information for the adjustment of claims and otherwise furnish assistance, the formalizing of cooperative working arrangements by written agreements may be avoided. The Commission will therefore when necessary seek such cooperative working arrangements on such basis as will assure prompt field reports of cases and necessary supplementary information. Formal working agreements will be limited to situations in which cooperative effort is not feasible.

(b) Reports of injury or death should be filed, as provided by § 61.8 of these regulations, by the employer of the injured or deceased person, or the insurance carrier for such employer. The report of injury may be submitted on Form US–202, the employer's report of injury. This form should be accompanied by Form US–204, attending physician's report, together with the employee's notice of injury and claim for compensation (upon a form which is provided for under these regulations). In case of death, Form US–261, supplemental report of employer in death case, should accompany the other forms. The numbered forms referred to are those formulated by the Commission for use under the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act. In order to avoid confusion with administration of such Longshoremen's Act there should be written or stamped at the top of such forms, in large letters, the words "War-Injury Claim". The employer's report should also contain the symbol or code number of the Government contract involved and reference to the Department or agency making such contract.

(c) Where facilities are established at field locations for the assembling and transmission of reports of injury or death in normal industrial accident cases, reports under these regulations should be sent by employers or insurance carriers to the Commission or its representative as provided by § 61.8 of these regulations. These reports may be transmitted through any field representative of a Department or agency of the United States handling reports of injury cases in the particular area. Employers, insurance carriers, and such Government representatives concerned should investigate immediately the circumstances of any reported injury or death where the facts relating to the occurrence of alleged injury or death, or to alleged war-hazard as the cause, are questionable or not fully known to the employer or to such field representative. Particular attention in all cases should be given to obtaining and transmitting written statements of available witnesses (with their names and addresses) in every case in which there is likelihood of a claim for compensation for disability or death.

(d) Where an employee specified in section 101 (a), Title I, of such Public Law, is found to be missing, or has been taken by an enemy, or otherwise is absent, as specified in section 101 (b) of such Title, the employer should immediately report such absence, with fullest details, to the nearest representative of the United States authorized to receive such report, with the request that such report, together with any supplementary official reports relative thereto, be transmitted promptly to the Department or agency of the United States requiring such reports or having charge over projects or work places. These regulations contemplate that all reports relative to persons absent as specified in section 101 (b) of such Title will be received by the Commission from the Department or agency of the United States concerned, rather than directly from the employers or field representatives of such Departments or agencies. Such Department and agencies, in transmitting information and reports with respect to such missing persons, if authorized so to do, should state a definite conclusion upon the status of the persons, as the conclusion of the principal Government agency concerned will be accepted by the Commission as prima facie evidence of the status of such persons for the purpose of providing benefits for detention. In any case of doubt concerning the filing of such reports, the Commission may be sufficiently advised by the employer or field representative of the Government, and the Commission in such cases will secure such information from the proper Government agency as is necessary to determine the status of such persons. All completed case records relating to such missing persons will be filed, and the files maintained, at the principal office of the Commission, which is located at 285 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y. To the extent that it is practicable, the processing and adjudication of claims for detention benefits will be made by the Commission at such principal office. The filing, processing and adjudication of war-risk injury and death claims is provided for by § 61.9 of these regulations.

§ 61.8 Filing of reports of injury and death. (a) Reports of injury and death with respect to war-risk hazards, provided for by § 61.7 of these regulations, may be filed:

(1) With the deputy commissioner of the Commission administering the Act of August 16, 1941, as amended (referred to in section 101 (a), Title I of such Public Law), or any sub-office of such deputy commissioner, if the injury or death occurred within the compensation district or jurisdictional area of such deputy commissioner.

(2) With such officer or agent of the United States, or other person designated by the Commission, by administrative order, pursuant to the provisions of section 42 of such Act of September 7, 1916 (as amended by the Act of July 29, 1942), or pursuant to the provisions of section 106 (b), Title I, of such Public Law, if serving under such designation in the locality in which the employee was employed or the injury occurred.

(3) With the principal office of the Commission at 285 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y., whenever doubt exists as to proper place at which to file such reports.

(b) The Commission will, whenever practicable, with respect to projects and work places within the purview of Title I of such Public Law, advise the Department or agency of the United States, or the contractor, employer or other person concerned, with respect to the nearest available facility (existing or to be established), as provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, for the filing of such reports.

§ 61.9 Claim filing, processing, and adjudications. (a) Claims for compensation, for injury or death arising as the result of such war-risk hazards, may be filed as follows:

(1) With the deputy commissioner, or officer or agent of the United States or other designated person, to whom report of the injury or death has been sent, as provided for by § 61.8 of these regulations.

(2) With any deputy commissioner of the Commission under the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, or that Act as extended by other Acts.

(3) With the principal office of the Commission located at 285 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y. Claims filed at places to which reports of injury have not been sent should be transmitted immediately to the proper deputy commissioner, or designated person, as may appear from the claim, or such claims may be sent to the Commission for further transmission, if doubt exists as to proper filing place.

(b) Claims for detention benefits provided under section 101 (b), Title I, of such Public Law shall be filed with the Commission at such principal office. Such claims may be filed with any deputy commissioner, or designated person, authorized in paragraph (a) of this section to receive claims for injury or death due to war-risk hazards, and any claims so received shall be deemed and considered as having been filed with the Commission for the purpose of tolling any time limitation provision applicable to such claims but any such claims so filed shall be transmitted immediately to the Commission at its principal office for adjudication.

(c) Claims for compensation for such injury or death, and compensation cases, shall be processed as follows:

(1) By deputy commissioners, authorized by § 61.8 (a) to receive reports of injury or death.

(2) By such officers or agents of the United States, or other designated persons, authorized by § 61.8 (a) to receive reports of injury or death, to the extent authorized by administrative order or by administrative instructions issued by the Commission.

(3) By the Commission at its principal office.

The term "processed" as used in this paragraph means:

1. Receiving, assembling, and filing reports of injury and death, medical reports, reports of investigation and other papers relating to cases of injury or death (under such instructions as to numbering of cases, method of filing, disposition, etc. as the Commission may from time to time prescribe by administrative instructions issued to its authorized representatives);

2. Making of investigations and securing necessary supplementary information in connection with cases or claims for completion of records, such as may be deemed necessary by such representative, or as may be necessary to comply with administrative instructions;

3. Obtaining medical examinations in disability cases where deemed necessary or required by administrative instructions;

4. Arranging for medical, surgical, and hospital services and supplies in the treatment and care of employees in disability cases;

5. Examination and adjustment of claims for compensation in injury and death cases under Title I of such Public Law, and, under administrative instructions, awarding of compensation;

6. Preparation of vouchers for disbursement of compensation for injury or death, under administrative instructions;

7. Review of cases for readjustment of compensation in injury and death cases, and making supplemental awards or adjustments, under administrative instructions.

The authority of deputy commissioners, and other designated persons, referred to under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph shall include, without further authorization, authority to act and proceed as stated in clauses 1, 2 and 3, under the above definition of the term "processed".

The authority of deputy commissioners, referred to under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall include authority to act and proceed as stated in clauses 1 to 7, inclusive, under such definition of the term "processed", subject to such administrative instructions as the Commission may from time to time issue to them.

The authority of officers or agents of the United States, or other designated persons, referred to under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, with respect to action under clauses 4 to 7, inclusive, will be exercised only as extended by the Commission in administrative orders issued, respectively, to them.

(d) Authority to process claims as set forth in paragraph (c) may be modified from time to time to expedite administration and payment of claims. The Commission maintains full and complete authority over the processing of claims, and may from time to time complete such processing at its principal office, or direct other and different handling of claims, as in its opinion circumstances may warrant. When any case involving disability or death has been adjudicated and payments are likely to continue at a rate not subject to change, such case may be transferred to the Commisison in accordance with administrative instructions relative to the disposition of such cases.

(e) Cases processed otherwise than by the Commission at its principal office shall be subject to review and modification, if necessary, by the Commission, either on its own motion or on application by a party in interest, under such administrative instructions as the Commission may from time to time issue. Any person aggrieved by the action of a field representative of the Commission may in writing apply directly to the Commission at such principal office for such review, stating fully the basis upon which such review is sought.

(f) In all cases where responses to questions upon claim forms, or investigations or inquiries, disclose that the right to compensation may be barred by a provision in Title I or Title II of such Public Law, or a credit, deduction, or adjustment of benefits may be necessary because the claimant has received or is entitled to receive payments from some other source, which are required to be taken into account, payment of compensation shall not be made until the facts in respect thereto have been submitted to the Commission and advice obtained with respect to the adjudication of such claim.

(g) Reports of injury or death, claims for compensation, and other papers erroneously filed and not processed may be transferred, without further authority, to the proper representative of the Commission. Cases which have been processed, as defined, may be transferred from one compensation district to another, or to any designated person referred to in paragraph (c) (2), of this section, after approval of such transfer by the Commission. Requests for transfer may be made by letter to the Commission stating the necessity for such transfer. (Sec. 18, 39 Stat. 746; 5 U.S.C. 768)

§ 61.10 Delegation of powers and duties. (a) Pursuant to the authority contained in section 106 (b), Title I, of such Public Law, the Commission delegates:

(1) To deputy commissioners of the Commission, and to persons acting for such deputy commissioners, as referred to in § 61.8 (a) (1) of these regulations; and

(2) To officers or agents of the United States, or other persons, designated by the Commission, as referred to in § 61.8 (a) (2), but only to the extent of their authority to act and process claims as set forth in these regulations and in administrative orders; such of its powers and duties as are necessary in the processing of claims for injury or death under such Public Law, within the meaning of the term "processed" as defined in § 61.9 of these regulations. Such delegation includes authority to do all things authorized by such Public Law and the applicable provisions of other laws integrated therewith, to the extent of the authority herein contained. In exercising such powers or performing such duties, the persons or agencies so authorized shall act for and on behalf of the Commission.

(b) When the exercise of a power or performance of a duty is not clearly within the authority of this section, in advance of the exercise, or performance thereof, advice shall be obtained from the Commission with respect thereto.

§ 61.11 Reports by employees and dependents. (a) By administrative instructions, the Commission will designate such reports, and the form thereof, as shall be required of persons entitled to benefits for disability under Title I of such Public Law, such as reports of recurrence or termination of disability, of employment and earnings, and of any other facts materially affecting such person's right to compensation. For the purpose of implementing this regulation the provisions of §§ 1.6, 1.9, 1.10, and 1.11 of the Commission's regulations (20 CFR 1.6, 1.9, 1.10, and 1.11), so far as not inapplicable, shall be applied.

(b) By administrative instructions, the Commission will designate such reports, and the form thereof, as shall be required of a dependent entitled to detention benefits, or compensation for death, under Title I of such Public Law, such as report of death, claims for continuance of compensation on account of death, report of change of status of beneficiary, and other reports of facts materially affecting the right of such dependent to benefits. For the purpose of implementing this regulation the provisions of §§ 1.12, 1.14, 1.15, and 1.16 of the Commission's regulations (20 CFR 1.12, 1.14, 1.15, and 1.16), so far as not inapplicable, shall be applied.

§ 61.12 Furnishing of medical treatment. (a) All medical services, appliances, drugs, and supplies which in the opinion of the Commission are necessary for the treatment of an injury coming within the purview of section 101 (a), Title I of such Public Law shall be furnished to the same extent, and wherever practicable in the same manner and under the same conditions as are prescribed in section 9 of such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended. All provisions of such Act with respect to treatment, medical examinations, and payment of cost of transportation and expenses incident to such treatment or examinations, shall apply in cases of such injury.

(b) The regulations in Part 2, subchapter A of this Chapter, which govern the furnishing of medical treatment under such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, shall, in so far as not inapplicable, and to the extent not herein modified, apply with respect to the administration of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Where persons specified in § 61.1 of these regulations are entitled to or may receive medical, surgical, hospital and other treatment, services, and care either by use of local facilities made available by a Department or agency of the United States, or use of local or other facilities made available by contractors or other employers, such facilities may be used in lieu of the furnishing of such treatment, services and care under the provisions of this section, to the extent that provision has been made therefor. Upon termination of such treatment, services or care, a complete record of the injury and treatment furnished (prepared in the manner prescribed in § 2.10, Part 2, subchapter A of this Chapter) should be filed in the same manner as is provided in §§ 61.7 and 61.8 of these regulations, so that such report may be included in the file containing the report of injury.

(d) Where medical, surgical or hospital treatment or care is necessary in any case coming within the purview of Title I of such Public Law, and it is not practicable to provide for such treatment or care in a manner consistent with the regulations in Part 2, subchapter A of this Chapter, or where such treatment or care is not otherwise available through use of such facilities as are referred to in paragraph (c), and in cases of an emergency nature or cases involving unusual circumstances, initial treatment or care may be furnished by the use of such facilities as may be available under the circumstances, and immediate report thereof should be made to the proper deputy commissioner or designated person authorized to receive reports of injury under § 61.8 of these regulations. Upon receiving such report such deputy commissioner or designated person shall make such further arrangements as may be necessary and as are practicable to have such treatment or care continued in conformity with paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) The following, other than the Commission, without further authorization, have general authority to provide for the furnishing of medical, surgical, hospital and other treatment and care, including transportation and expenses thereof and physical examinations, as provided by such Act of September 7, 1916, as amended, and under these regulations, provided the case is one within the jurisdiction of, or which has been transferred to, such person for processing:

(1) A deputy commissioner of the Commission administering the Act of August 16, 1941, as amended, or the person acting for the deputy commissioner.

(2) An officer or agent of the United States, or other person, designated by the Commission, by administrative order, referred to in § 61.8 (a) (2) of these regulations, if serving under such designation in the locality in which the employee was employed or injury occurred, and if otherwise authorized to arrange for such treatment.

(f) The following, without further authorization, have limited authority to authorize limited medical treatment and care, as provided for by paragraph (d) of this section, pending authorization of further treatment and care by the Commission or by a person referred to in paragraph (e) hereof:

(1) Any person referred to in § 61.8 of these regulations.

(2) The employing contractor, subcontractor, or subordinate contractor, or his superintendent in charge or compensation representative, including the representative of the insurance carrier for any such employer.

(3) Any Government field representative, referred to in § 61.7 (c) of these regulations.

Immediate report of medical treatment or care authorized hereunder should be submitted as provided in § 61.7 (c), and the physician or hospital furnishing the same should be advised that further treatment or care is subject to authorization, direction and control by an authorized representative of the Commission as provided by these regulations.

(g) Orthopedic or prosthetic appliances, such as artificial eyes, limbs, or removable denture will be provided only after approval by the Commission. Section 2.9 of the Commission's regulations (Part 2, subchapter I) shall apply with respect to such appliances.

§ 61.13 Medical forms. (a) Persons having general authority under these regulations to request medical, surgical, hospital, and other treatment or care, will use the forms provided for by Part 2, subchapter A, of this Chapter, relating to furnishing of medical treament under such Act of September 7, 1916. These forms will be furnished, or supplied upon request, with administrative instructions relating to their use. There should be written or stamped at the top of such forms, in large letters, the words "War-Injury Claim."

(b) Persons having limited authority under these regulations to request such forms, if available; otherwise, such request may be made by letter, addressed to the person or hospital furnishing the services, of which a copy will be retained and transmitted to the representative of the Commission to whom report of injury is sent. Such letter should advise the physician as provided in § 61.12 (f).

§ 61.14 Transportation of recovered bodies of missing persons. (a) In the case of death of a person coming within the purview of section 101 (b), Title I, of such Public Law, and § 61.1 of these regulations, while such person is missing or absent as therein specified, and his body is thereafter recovered, the body of such person shall, in the discretion of the Commission, and if so desired by his next of kin, his near relative, or legal representative, be embalmed and transported in a hermetically sealed casket or other appropriate container to the home of the deceased, or to such other place as may be designated by such next of kin, near relative, or legal representative. In the case of any such person missed from the place of his employment, due to belligerent action of an enemy, or taken by an enemy (as specified in section 101 (b) (1) (A) and (B) of such Public Law), such preparation and transportation may be authorized: Provided, That at the time of death (not resulting from a war-risk hazard) such person had not been repatriated. The term "repatriated" as used in this section, with respect to such person shall be deemed to mean returned to the United States or country of his residence or domicile. A person shall be deemed to have been repatriated within the meaning of this subsection upon his having returned to continental United States (or Alaska or Canada) if his last residence or domicile was there, upon his return to the Territory or possession of the United States wherein he last maintained residence or domicile, or upon return to the country (or possession of such country) wherein he last maintained residence or domicile. In case of the death of such person after such repatriation, where death is due to war-risk hazard and occurred away from his home, such preparation and transportation shall be provided and the body shall be delivered to the home of such person or to such other place as may be designated by such next of kin, near relative or legal representative. No expenses may be incurred under this section after transportation and delivery of the body has been accomplished. Funeral or other expenses in connection with burial are not provided for hereunder and are not payable with respect to the disposition of the body of such person, unless the death resulted from war-risk hazard, in which event the provisions of § 61.15 relating to such expenses are also applicable.

(b) In the case of any such person who is not returned to his home or to the place where he was employed, by reason of the failure of the United States or its contractor to furnish transportation (where the furnishing of such transportation was an obligation of the United States or such contractor), and the death of such person occurs away from his home and while thus absent, the provisions of paragraph (a) hereof shall apply, except that such person shall not be deemed to have been repatriated until he has returned to his home or to the place where he was employed. In determining benefits accruing to such person not returned because of such failure of transportation, under the provisions of section 101 (b), Title I, of such Public Law, and § 61.1 (b) of these regulations, such person shall be regarded as totally disabled until the date he has returned to his home or to the place of his employment: Provided, That in the event such person fails, refuses, or neglects to return to his home or to the place of his employment after he has been afforded opportunity to do so, compensation accruing under such section 101 (b), on account of such absence, shall cease to accrue as of the date when he might otherwise have departed for home or place of employment, and, should death thereafter occur, the provisions of paragraph (a) hereof shall not be applied in his case, unless the Commission shall find that refusal to return was justified.

§ 61.15 Burial expenses. (a) When the death of a person specified in section 101 (a), Title I, of such Public Law, and § 61.1 (a) of these regulations, results from an injury proximately caused by a war-risk hazard, the Commission may in its discretion pay reasonable burial expenses in an amount not to exceed $200 as provided by section 9 of such Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act: Provided, That if any part of the burial expense has been paid by any other agency of the United States, or by any person under obligation to discharge burial expenses, payment hereunder shall not exceed the difference between the amount so paid and $200, if the expense is actually incurred. Payment will be made (1) direct to the undertaker, (2) to the estate of the deceased if the estate is obligated to make payment, or (3) to any person who has paid such burial expenses and is entitled to such reimbursement.

(b) In case of death of such person whose home is within the United States, and death resulted from injury proximately caused by a war-risk hazard and occurred away from his home, or outside the United States, and if so desired by his relatives, the body shall, in the discretion of the Commission, pursuant to section 11 of such Act of September 7, 1916, be embalmed and transported in a hermetically sealed casket to the home of the employee, and the reasonable and necessary expenses of such embalming and transportation shall be in addition to the amount, if any, allowed for burial expenses under paragraph (a) hereof. The term "United States" as used in this subsection shall mean continental United States, or any Territory or possession of the United States.

§ 61.16 Persons authorized to provide preparation of body, transportation and burial expenses. (a) Incurring and paying of expenses for embalming and transportation of bodies, and funeral and burial expenses, as provided under §§ 61.14 and 61.15 of these regulations, is authorized with respect to the following:

(1) Deputy commissioners, and persons acting for such deputy commissioners, authorized by § 61.8 (a) (1) to receive reports of injury or death, if the case is within the jurisdiction, for processing, of such deputy commissioner.

(2) Officers or agents of the United States, or other person designated by the Commission, authorized by § 61.8 (a) (2) to receive reports of injury or death, if authorized by administrative order, and jurisdiction with respect to the case otherwise exists under administrative order.

(3) The Commission at its principal office.

(b) Persons authorized under paragraph (a) to provide for preparation and transportation of bodies, and payment of burial expenses, will exercise such authority only in cases of death from war-risk hazard which arise within the area in which they represent the Commission. If deaths from such cause occur within their respective jurisdictions in cases which are subject to processing by a representative of the Commission in another area, the Commission's authorized representative in that area should be informed immediately in order that he may give advice with respect to the disposition of the remains; if this is impracticable, the Commission at its principal office may be informed directly in order that it may furnish proper advice. Full information should be given by the representative seeking such advice, showing the basis for the application of such benefits in the particular case. In cases of detained persons, where such cases are within the purview of section 101 (b) (1) and (3), Title I, of such Public Law, and § 61.14 of these regulations, authority to incur expense for preparation and transportation of bodies is subject to prior approval by the Commission, which should be requested immediately, and all payments for such services will be made by the Commission.

(c) Where circumstances in particular cases prevent compliance with the regulations in this section and prevent timely receipt of authority to prepare or transport remains, and in cases of an emergency nature, the following, without further authorization, shall have authority to incur reasonable and minimum necessary expenses of embalming (or other necessary preparation of remains), of providing appropriate container, and of transportation of the body, of any person whose death occurs under circumstances giving rise to the application of the provisions of such Public Law and these regulations relating to preparation and transportation of bodies:

(1) Any person referred to in § 61.8 of these regulations.

(2) The employing contractor, subcontractor, or subordinate contractor, or his superintendent in charge or compensation representative, including the representative of the insurance carrier for any such employer.

(3) Any Government field representative, referred to in § 61.7 (c) of these regulations.

Immediate report of the services obtained should be made as provided in § 61.7 (c) to the proper representative of the Commission in cases of death due to war-risk hazard, and a copy of such report should be transmitted to the Commission. In cases of deceased detained persons, such report should be made directly to the Commission at its principal office. Vouchers for direct payment of expenses incurred under this subsection or for reimbursement of such expenses paid, will be submitted to the Commission for audit and payment.

§ 61.17 Transportation of persons released from detention and return of employees. (a) Upon application of a person specified in section 101 (b), Title I, of such Public Law, and § 61.1 (b) of these regulations, who no longer is in the custody of the enemy, or upon application of someone on behalf of such person, the Commission may furnish transportation or the cost thereof (including reimbursement) to any such person from the point where his release from custody by the enemy is effected, to his home, the place of his employment, or other place within the jurisdiction of the United States. No transportation, or the cost thereof, shall be furnished where such person is furnished such transportation, or the cost thereof, under any agreement with his employer or under any other provision of law.

(b) Applications for such transportation, or authority to incur expense therefor (to be paid by reimbursement), shall be made directly to the Commission at its principal office, or may be transmitted to the Commission for the applicant by any person referred to in § 61.8 of these regulations, any government contractor, subcontractor, or subordinate contractor, or any officer or employee of the United States, or Government field representative. Such applications shall set forth the full name of the person for whom such transportation is sought, together with his home address and his local address at which communications sent to him may be received (if application is made on behalf of such person, the application should also state the full name, address and relationship of the individual applying); the name and address of the employer of such person; the symbol or code number of the contract under which the employee was employed, if known; the date, place, and circumstances of capture or detention, and the date, place and circumstances of release; the present physical condition of such person and whether he is able to return to work; and a statement whether transportation or the cost thereof has been claimed or received under any agreement with his employer or under any other provision of law. Such application should be sworn to before any person authorized to administer oaths. The applicant is required to state in the application the place to which transportation is sought and to identify such place, such as his home, the place of his employment, etc. Transportation authorized under this section and necessary subsistence en route (if not included in the price of passage), so far as practicable shall conform with and be subject to the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, and shall conform with such administrative instructions as the Commission may from time to time issue with respect thereto.

(c) Transportation, or the cost thereof, may be furnished under this section to such person as follows: (1) to the place of actual employment or work, if missing from such place, and if physical condition permits reemployment and such employment is available; or (2) if return to such work place or place of employment cannot be accomplished: (i) to the home of such person, (ii) to the place where he was employed, or (iii) to any place designated in the application if the costs incident to transportation to such place do not exceed the cost of transportation to the person's home or place where he was employed.

(d) Where an employee is not returned to his home or to the place where he was employed, by reason of the failure of the United States or its contractor to furnish transportation (where the furnishing of such transportation was an obligation of the United States or such contractor) and where no detention by an enemy is involved, such employee may apply to the Commission for transportation, subject to the provisions of this section. (Sec. 101, 56 Stat. 1028; 42 U.S.C. 1701)

§ 61.18 Confidential nature of records and papers relating to injury, death or detention of employees. (a) All records, medical and other reports, statements of witnesses, and other papers relating to the disability, death, or detention of any persons coming within the purview of Title I of such Public Law, are the official records of the Commission and are not records of the agency, establishment, Government department, employer, or any individual making or having the care of such records. Such records and papers pertaining to any such injury, death, or detention are confidential and no official or employee of the United States, or other person, who has investigated or secured statements from witnesses and others pertaining to any case within the purview of Title I of such Public Law, or any person having the care or use of such records and papers, shall disclose information from or pertaining to such records to any person, except upon written approval of the Commission, or except as otherwise provided for by these regulations.

(b) Any person having any such record or paper shall assume no control over same nor shall such person be vested with any discretion relative to the production of same in court, as such discretion shall remain in the Commission to whose business such records appertain. Any such person is prohibited from presenting such records or information in court, whether in answer to a subpoena duces tecum or otherwise. When a subpoena shall have been served upon such person, he shall appear in court and respectfully decline to present such records or papers or to divulge the information called for, basing his refusal upon this regulation and upon the fact that such person is not the custodian of such records or papers.

(c) Information with respect to any matter necessary for the official purpose of any department, agency, or other establishment of the United States may be disclosed upon a showing that the information will be used exclusively for such official purpose.

§ 61.19 Inspection of records by interested party. Any party in interest may be permitted to examine the record of the case in which he is such party. The Commission or its duly authorized representative shall be the judge of the reasonableness of any such request, and may, in its or his discretion, permit inspection of such record or part thereof which will not result in damage or harm to any person, or which will not be inimical to the interests of the Commission or the interests or safety of the United States. Original records shall not be removed for such purpose from the office wherein they are kept.

§ 61.20 Approval of claims for legal and other services. (a) No claim for legal services or for any other services rendered in respect of a claim or award for compensation under Title I, of such Public Law, to or on account of any person shall be valid unless approved by the Commission or its duly authorized representative; and any claim so approved shall, in the manner and to the extent fixed by the Commission or its duly authorized representative, be paid out of the compensation payable to the claimant; and any person who receives any fee, other consideration, or any gratuity on account of services so rendered, unless such consideration or gratuity is so approved, or who solicits employment for another person or for himself in respect of any claim or award for compensation under such Title I shall be liable upon conviction for such offense to the penalty provided in section 204, Title II, of such Public Law.

(b) Persons representing the Commission, who are authorized to process claims under clauses 1 to 7, inclusive, of the term "processed" as defined in § 61.9 of these regulations, are without further authorization, authorized to approve reasonable fees for services under this section.

(c) No contract for a stipulated fee or for a fee on a contingent basis will be recognized, and no fee for services shall be approved except upon application for such approval, supported by a sufficient statement of the extent and character of the necessary work done on behalf of the beneficiary. Except where the beneficiary was advised that such representation would be rendered on a gratuitous basis, the fee approved shall be reasonably commensurate with the actual necessary work performed by such representative, with due regard to the capacity in which the representative appeared, the amount of compensation involved, and the circumstances of the beneficiary.

§ 61.21 Assignments; creditors. The right of any person to benefits under Part 61 of these regulations and the applicable provisions of Title I of such Public Law, pursuant to section 207 thereof, is not transferable or assignable at law or in Equity except to the United States, and none of the moneys paid or payable (except money paid as reimbursement for funeral expenses), or rights existing under such Title, are subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process or to the operation of any bankruptcy or insolvency law.

§ 61.22 Contracts for service facilities of insurance carriers. (a) Under the provisions of section 106 (a) of such Public Law the Commission is authorized to contract with insurance carriers for the use of the service facilities of such carriers for the purpose of facilitating administration. The Commission under this authority may enter into contracts for the use of service facilities which may be available and can be utilized in the processing of claims arising directly under section 101 and under section 104, Title I of such Public Law.

(b) Contracts for the use of service facilities will be arranged directly with insurance carriers or carrier groups as the Commission finds to be necessary to facilitate administration.

(c) Compensation for the use of service facilities shall be based upon the services rendered for the Commission, with reimbursement for such items of claims expense (see § 62.6 of these regulations) as may be necessarily incurred or authorized by the Commission, unless the service charge agreed upon includes all items of the carriers expense. The compensation for services shall be such amount as the Commission and the carrier shall agree upon as reasonable for services rendered.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-293]

BARQ'S BOTTLING CO.

Barq's Bottling Company is a Texas corporation with its principal place of business in Dallas, Texas. It is engaged in the bottling of non-alcoholic beverages, and is subject to the quota provisions of Conservation Order M-104. During the months of June, July and August 1942, the company used over 2,000 gross of new bottle caps or closures in excess of its permissible quota. The officers of this corporation, B. B. Barnes, President, C. E. Sherman, Secretary and Treasurer, and its employees, John Raymond Lewis, sales manager or supervisor, and H. T. Gersch, bookkeeper, knew that such order existed and that it restricted the use of new metal closures made of tinplate, terneplate and blackplate. In violation of its provisions the company used new metal closures in excess of its quota, and concealed the purchase and use of many of such closures by making false entries on its books.

The company also furnished false information to the War Production Board with reference to its inventories of new metal closures.

This violation of Conservation Order M-104 has impeded and hampered the war effort by diverting scarce material to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.293 Suspension Order S-293. (a) From the effective date of this order, neither Barq's Bottling Company, B. B. Barnes, C. E. Sherman, John Raymond Lewis nor H. T. Gersch, their successors or assigns, shall purchase, sell, deliver or use any new metal closures made of tinplate, terneplate or blackplate, nor shall they accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory or in any other manner secure or use new metal closures made of tinplate, terneplate or blackplate except as hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Barq's Bottling Company, B. B. Barnes, C. E. Sherman, John Raymond Lewis or H. T. Gersch, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on the 22d day of April 1943 to continue in effect for a period of one year from said date, after which time it shall have no further effect.

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-268]

JAMES A. KENNY

James A. Kenny, 120 West Norris Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is engaged in the manufacture of burial vaults, caskets, shipping cases and other funeral supplies. James A. Kenny violated Limitation Order L-64 by using approximately 7,000 pounds of iron and steel, or 21 per cent, in excess of his May 1942 quota and approximately 12,000 pounds of iron and steel, or 40 per cent, in excess of his June 1942 quota to produce caskets. Subsequent to June 30, 1942 he used approximately 247,000 pounds of sheet steel to process, fabricate or assemble caskets in violation of Limitation Order L-64. Subsequent to March 28, 1942, he used copper in the production of 37 caskets and bronze in the production of 10 caskets in violation of Limitation Order L-64 and Conservation Order M-9-c. James A. Kenny, furthermore, violated Priorities Regulation No. 1 by accepting on March 6, 1942 the delivery of 46,420 pounds of No. 20 gauge sheet steel at a time when his inventory of steel was in excess of a practicable minimum working inventory.

James A. Kenny's failure to ascertain the nature of the restrictions of the War Production Board governing the operation of his business was such gross negligence as to constitute wilful conduct. These violations have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.268 Suspension Order S-268. (a) James A. Kenny, his successors and assigns, shall not use any metal whatsoever in the production of more than 100 burial vaults, caskets and shipping cases during any calendar month, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Deliveries of material to James A. Kenny, his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) No allocation shall be made to James A. Kenny, his successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve James A. Kenny, his successors and assigns from any restriction, prohibition or provision of any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on April 22, 1943, and shall expire on January 22, 1944, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 20th day of April 1943.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1390—MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

[MPR 136, as Amended,[1] Amendment 82]

MACHINES AND PARTS, AND MACHINERY SERVICES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1390.25 (a) (43) is added to read as follows:

(43) Loom picker sticks and other textile machinery parts made of hickory.—(i) Increase in maximum prices. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, the maximum price calculated under this regulation apart from this subparagraph for any loom picker sticks and any other weaving and spinning hardwood parts made of hickory (such as: jack sticks, sweep sticks, binders, crank or pitman arms, skewers, parallel blocks, dobby sheaves, etc.) shall be increased by the amount provided in whichever of the following subdivisions (a) to (c) is applicable:

(a) Manufacturers who buy picker stick blanks. The amount to be added by any manufacturer who buys the hickory picker stick blanks from which he manufactures the parts involved shall be the combined dollar amount of the increases in the maximum price of the picker stick blanks going into the production of the picker sticks and other textile machinery parts made of hickory being priced, which became effective April 1, 1943 and April 8, 1943. Those increases shall be the amounts by which Order No. 16 under § 1499.18 (c), as amended, of the General Maximum Price Regulation and Amendment No. 151 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation increased the maximum price of hickory picker stick blanks sold or delivered by the manufacturer's supplier to the manufacturer, including any increase due to delivery charges that the supplier is permitted to make.

(b) Manufacturers who make their own picker stick blanks. The amount to be added by any manufacturer who makes the hickory picker stick blanks from which he manufactures the parts involved shall be an amount in line with the amounts to be added under (a) by comparable manufacturers who buy their hickory picker stick blanks, specifically authorized in writing by the Office of Price Administration. The manufacturer shall write to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for such authorization.

(c) Sellers other than manufacturers. The amount to be added by any seller other than a manufacturer shall be the dollar amount by which the maximum price of the seller's supplier has been increased by this subparagraph on sales and deliveries to the seller. If the seller's supplier has notified the seller of the amount of such increase in accordance with subdivision (ii) and if the seller has no reason to doubt the validity of such notification, the amount of which the seller has been so notified shall be deemed to be the proper amount to be added under this subdivision (c).

(ii) Notification by sellers who sell to purchasers for resale. Every seller of loom picker sticks and other textile machinery parts made of hickory which are covered by this subparagraph, who sells such items to purchasers who buy for the purpose of resale, shall notify every such purchaser in writing of the amount by which the seller's maximum price to the purchaser has been increased on each such item calculated according to the appropriate provision in subdivision (i).

This amendment shall become effective April 20, 1943.

APPENDIX A—COMMODITIES DESIGNATED BY THE PRICE ADMINISTRATOR AS COST-OF-LIVING COMMODITIES

Article I—Maximum Prices

SECTION 1 Prohibition against dealing in commodities above maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this general maximum price regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell or deliver any commodity at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this general maximum price regulation; and

(b) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any commodity at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this general maximum price regulation.

(c) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting or paying finance officer thereof and any such agency or contracting or paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this general maximum price regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. "War procurement agency" as used in this paragraph, includes the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Lend-Lease Section of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

SEC. 2 Maximum prices for commodities; general and special provisions. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this regulation, the seller's maximum price for any commodity shall be:

(1) The highest price charged by the seller during April, 1942 for the same commodity; or if no charge was made for the same commodity, for the similar commodity most nearly like it.

(b) If the seller's maximum price cannot be determined under paragraph (a), the seller's maximum price shall be:

(1) The highest price charged during April 1942 by the most closely competitive seller of the same class for the same commodity; or if no charge was made for the same commodity, for the similar commodity most nearly like it.

(c) For the purposes of this general maximum price regulation, the highest price charged by a seller during April 1942 shall be the highest price which the seller charged for a commodity delivered by him during April 1942 to a purchaser of the same class; or if the seller made no such delivery during April 1942, his highest offering price for delivery during that month to a purchaser of the same class; or if the seller made no such delivery and had no such offering price to a purchaser of the same class, the highest price charged by the seller during April 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the seller's customary differential between the two classes of purchasers: Provided, however, That

(1) If before May 1, 1942, the seller raised his prices for commodity, to all his classes of purchasers (or to all his classes of purchasers except those to whom he was bound to make delivery during April 1942 pursuant to a firm commitment made before the price rise) and

(2) If during April 1942 he delivered the commodity at the increased price to at least one class of purchasers, then, in order to allow the seller to apply the price rise to any class of purchasers to which no delivery was made during that month after the price rise (except under a firm commitment made before the price rise), the highest price charged during April 1942 shall be deemed to be:

(i) The seller's increased offering price to such class of purchasers for delivery during April 1942, or

(ii) If the seller had no such increased offering price to that particular class of purchasers, the highest price charged during April 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect:

(a) The seller's customary differential in price between the two classes of purchasers; or

(b) If the seller had no such customary differential, the actual percentage differential in price between the two classes of purchasers which existed at the time the seller last entered into a commitment, or, if he did not enter into such a commitment, last submitted an offering price, for delivery to a purchaser of that particular class during April 1942.

(d) No seller shall evade any of the provisions of this general maximum price regulation by changing his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials.

(e) No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of any commodity than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during April 1942 on deliveries or supplies of the same or similar types of commodities.

(f) One commodity shall be deemed "similar" to another commodity, if the first has the same use as the second, affords the purchaser fairly equivalent serviceability, and belongs to a type which would ordinarily be sold in the same price line. In determining the similarity of such commodities, differences merely in style or design which do not substantially affect use, or serviceability, or the price line in which such commodities would ordinarily have been sold, shall not be taken into account.

(g) The maximum prices established by this section for certain commodities or in certain transactions may be modified by supplementary regulation issued under this section.

SEC. 3 Maximum prices for commodities which cannot be priced under section 2. (a) The seller's maximum price for a commodity which cannot be priced under section 2 of this general maximum price regulation shall be a maximum price in line with the level of maximum prices established by this general maximum price regulation. Such prices shall be either the maximum price established under this section 3 for the same commodity by the most closely competitive seller of the same class, or a maximum price determined by the seller in accordance with the following procedures:

(1) In the case of a sale at wholesale or retail of a commodity, the seller shall make application for approval by the Office of Price Administration of a maximum price for that commodity upon a form obtainable from the Office of Price Administration. The price so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) In the case of a sale other than at wholesale or retail of a commodity, the maximum price shall be a price determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Honolulu, Hawaii, an application setting forth (i) a description in detail of the commodity for which a maximum price is sought; and (ii) a statement of the facts which differentiate such commodity from other commodities delivered during April 1942 by such seller and by other competitive sellers of the same class. Such authorization will be given in the form of an order prescribing a method of determining the maximum price for the applicant or for sellers of the commodity generally, including purchasers for resale, or for a class of such sellers.

(3) In the case of a sale at wholesale or retail of a commodity which cannot be priced under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration or any duly authorized officer thereof. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the office of the Office of Price Administration for the district in which his principal place of business is located an application setting forth (i) a description of the commodity or commodities for which a maximum price is sought; (ii) a statement of the reasons why such commodity or commodities cannot be priced under section 2 or 3 (a) of this general maximum price regulation; and (iii) any other facts which the seller wishes to submit in support of the application. The seller shall also submit such additional pertinent information as the Office of Price Administration may require. Such authorization will be given in the form of an order prescribing a method of determining the maximum price.

SEC. 4 Supplemental regulations. (a) If the maximum prices established for any commodity under the provisions of this general maximum price regulation fail equitably to distribute returns from the sale at retail of such commodity among producers, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, the Price Administrator will by supplementary regulation establish such maximum prices for different classes of sellers, or fix such base periods for the determination of their maximum prices, as will insure that each such class of sellers shall receive a fair share of such return.

SEC. 5 Determination of maximum prices by sellers at retail operating more than one retail establishment. (a) A seller who owns more than one establishment selling commodities at retail and who has had a fixed practice, which prevailed during April 1942, of selling commodities at retail at uniform or at substantially uniform prices in all such establishments or in all such establishments located in a particular area may make written application to the Office of Price Administration, Honolulu, Hawaii, for authorization to determine and use uniform maximum prices under this general maximum price regulation in all of such establishments in which it has been the practice to charge uniform or substantially uniform prices. Such application shall state (1) the name and address of the principal office of the seller; (2) the number of separate retail establishments owned by the seller and the address of each such establishment; (3) the kind of merchandise carried in such retail establishments; (4) whether commodities are purchased centrally by the seller and distributed by the seller to such retail establishments or are purchased separately by such establishments; (5) a description of the fixed practice of the seller of selling commodities at uniform or substantially uniform prices in all such retail establishments or in all such retail establishments located in particular areas indicating the length of time during which such practice has been in effect and whether uniform selling prices are determined in a central office; (6) the names and addresses of the seller's most closely competitive sellers of the same class on a territorial basis; and (7) any other facts which the seller wishes to submit in support of the application. If such authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions as to the method by which the seller may determine and use uniform maximum prices under this general maximum price regulation.

SEC. 6 Adjustment of maximum prices in cases of special deals. (a) Any seller, other than a seller at retail, whose maximum price for a commodity to purchasers of a particular class is based on a "special deal" given by him to such purchasers which he can demonstrate was to have terminated not more than 125 days from the date on which it first became effective, may adjust his maximum price to such purchasers to the highest price at which such commodity was delivered by him to a purchaser of that class during the 30 days immediately preceding the date on which the special deal first became effective.

(b) A seller at retail whose maximum price for a commodity to purchasers of a particular class is based on a special deal given by him to such purchasers as the result of a special deal given to him by his supplier may adjust his maximum price to such purchasers to the highest price at which such commodity was delivered by him to a purchaser of that class during the 30 days immediately preceding the date on which the special deal given by him first became effective. Such adjusted maximum price shall not apply to the particular commodities purchased by the retailer under the special deal given to him by his supplier.

(c) The words "special deal," as used in this section, mean any reduction in the price of a commodity to purchasers of a particular class from the price in effect for purchasers of that class on the day immediately preceding the date on which the special deal first became effective, including but not limited to a reduction in such price resulting from offers of free goods, combination sales and increased quantity and other discounts to purchasers of such class.

(d) A seller who makes an adjustment in his maximum price pursuant to this section shall within 10 days thereafter submit a statement to the office of the Office of Price Administration for the district in which the seller's place of business is located, except that if the seller makes sales of the commodity in more than one district, the statement shall be submitted to the Office of Price Administration, Honolulu, Hawaii. Such statement shall set forth:

(1) The seller's maximum price for the commodity prior to the adjustment permitted by this section;

(2) A description of the special deal given by the seller including all the terms thereof, the class or classes of purchasers to which it was applicable, the dates during which it was in effect, and copies of price lists, advertisements and trade announcements pertaining to such special deal;

(3) In the case of a seller at retail a description of the special deal given to him by his supplier including all the terms thereof, the dates during which it was in effect and copies of price lists and trade announcements pertaining to such special deal;

(4) In the case of a seller other than a seller at retail, detailed evidence demonstrating that the special deal was to have terminated on or before a date not more than 123 days from the date on which the special deal first became effective.

(5) The adjusted maximum price established by the seller pursuant to this section; and

(6) A description of all prices and terms of payment which the seller has had in effect for the commodity since January 1, 1941.

(e) The adjusted maximum price reported by the seller pursuant to this section shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7 Transfers of business or stock in trade. (a) If the business, assets or stock in trade of any business are sold or otherwise transferred after May 28, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of commodities, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this general maximum price regulation.

SEC. 8 Federal and State taxes. (a) Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a commodity imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state, territory or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

(1) As to a tax in effect during April, 1942. (i) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during April 1942 the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this general maximum price regulation.

(ii) In all other cases if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this general maximum price regulation.

(2) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after April 30, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased: Provided, however, That the tax on the transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

SEC. 9 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this general maximum price regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

Article II—Commodities Excepted From This General Maximum Price Regulation

SEC. 10 Commodities excepted from this general maximum price regulation. (a) This general maximum price regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of the following commodities:

(1) Any raw and unprocessed agricultural commodity or greenhouse commodity while it remains in substantially its original state, except that dried fruits and dried berries (other than dried prunes and other than sales or deliveries "in natural condition" by growers to packers), bananas, and dried imported agricultural commodities, shall be governed by this general maximum price regulation.

(2) Eggs and poultry.

(3) All milk products, including butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, except that fluid milk sold at wholesale and retail, cream sold at wholesale and retail, and ice cream shall be governed by this general maximum price regulation.

(4) Flour, cake mixes and flour mixes, except that packaged cake mixes and flour mixes shall be governed by this general maximum price regulation.

(5) Mutton and lamb.

(6) Fresh fish and seafood, and game.

(7) Dried prunes, dry edible beans, leaf tobacco (whether dried or green), all nuts and peanuts, except cleaned or raw shelled peanuts harvested from the 1941 crop, all salted peanuts and peanut butter, linseed oil, linseed cake and linseed meal, manure, garbage, mixed seeds for housepet birds, and poultry tonics and condiments.

(8) Living animals, whether wild or domestic.

(9) Books, magazines, motion pictures, periodicals, newspapers, and materials furnished for publication by any press association or feature service.

(10) Blister copper, lead bullion, ores, and ore concentrates.

(11) Stumpage, logs, and pulpwood.

(12) Stamps and coins; precious stones and mountings into which precious stones are set; antiques and knotted oriental rugs; paintings, etchings, sculptures and other objects of art.

(13) Used automobiles.

(14) Wood and gum for naval stores and gum naval stores.

(15) Securities.

(16) Such other commodities as may be specified by supplementary regulations issued under this section.

(b) This general maximum price regulation shall not apply to the following sales or deliveries:

(1) By a farmer, of commodities grown and processed on his farm, if the total of such sales or deliveries does not exceed $75 in any one calendar month.

(2) By any person, of his used supplies or equipment not acquired or produced by him for the purpose of sale. Provided, however, That the exception provided in this subparagraph shall not apply to sales or deliveries of used tin cans sold or delivered to persons authorized or licensed under paragraph (b) (4) of Supplementary Order No. M-72-a, issued by the Director General for Operations, War Production Board.

(3) By an owner, of his used personal or household effects or other personal property used by him.

(4) At a bona fide auction of used household or personal effects.

(5) By hotels, restaurants, soda fountains, bars, cafes, cafeterias or other similar eating establishments, or meals, servings of food portions customarily served separately or as part of a meal, or beverages mixed or prepared by the seller.

(i) This exemption shall not apply to sales of ice cream in cones, dixie cups or similar packages.

(6) By a breeder, trapper, or hunter, of pelts, furs, or other parts of wild animals raised by him, or trapped, shot, or killed by him, if the total of such sales or deliveries does not exceed $75 in any one calendar month.

(7) Of commodities sold without private profit in the course of any sale, fair, or bazaar conducted for a period of not more than 15 days by any religious, charitable, or philanthropic organization.

(8) To the United States or any agency thereof of such commodities or in such transactions as may be specified by supplementary regulations issued under this section.

(9) Such other sales and deliveries as may be specified by supplementary regulations issued under this section.

Article III—Records

SEC. 11 Base-period records. (a) Every person selling commodities for which, upon sale by that person, maximum prices are established by this general maximum price regulations, shall:

(1) Preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records relating to the prices which he charged for such of those commodities as he delivered during April 1942, and his offering prices for delivery of such commodities during such month; and

(2) Prepare, on or before August 1, 1942, on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing:

(i) The highest prices which he charged for such of those commodities as he delivered during April 1942 and his offering prices for delivery of such commodities during such month, together with an appropriate description or identification of each such commodity; and

(ii) All his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

(b) Any person, other than a person selling at retail, who claims that substantial injury would result to him from making such statement available to any other person, may file it with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. The information contained in such statement will not be published or disclosed unless it is determined that the withholding of such information is contrary to the purposes of this general maximum price regulation.

SEC. 12 Current records. (a) Every person selling commodities for which, upon sale by that person, maximum prices are established by this general maximum price regulation shall keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charged for such of those commodities as he sold after the effective date of this general maximum price regulation; and, in addition, records showing, as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined maximum prices for those commodities.

SEC. 13 Maximum prices of cost-of-living commodities: statement, marking or posting. (a) For the purposes of this section, a cost-of-living commodity is any commodity designated as such by the Price Administrator. A list of the classes of commodities so designated appears in Appendix A, of this general maximum price regulation

(1) On and after June 18, 1942, every person offering to sell a cost-of-living commodity at retail shall mark the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public. The maximum price may be marked on the commodity itself or on the shelf, bin, rack, or other holder or container upon or in which the commodity is kept, or it may be posted at the place in the business establishment where the commodity is offered for sale: Provided, That whichever of the above methods of posting is adopted, the maximum price of each commodity offered for sale shall be plainly visible to the purchaser at the place in the business establishment where the commodity is offered for sale, and shall not be obscured by the posted prices of other commodities, whether by use of price books or catalogs or layers of price lists or otherwise or in any other manner. The maximum price shall be stated as follows: "Ceiling Price $_____;" or "Our Ceiling $_____." Any person choosing to post by price-lines the maximum prices of commodities in the classifications marked by asterisks in Appendix A, shall post the maximum price by price-line at the place in the business establishment where the commodities in such price-line are offered for sale, and, in addition, shall mark the selling price of each such commodity on the commodity itself.

(2) Every seller making retail sales on the basis of orders received by mail shall post or mark his maximum prices in all catalogs, flyers, leaflets, circulars, booklets, lists or other printed or similar matter issued and distributed by him after the effective date of this amendment for the purpose of obtaining mail orders. One of the following methods of posting or marking shall be used:

(i) State the maximum price for each cost-of-living commodity listed in each of the publications described above at the place in the publication where such commodity is listed. The maximum price shall be stated substantially as follows: "Ceiling price $_____;" or "Our ceiling price $_____;" or,

(ii) Print on the front cover of all catalogs, flyers, leaflets, circulars or booklets or the front page of all lists or publications not having a cover, at the time they are issued, substantially the following statement signed with the name of the seller:

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS

No price for any article listed or described herein exceeds the ceiling price for that article as determined under the applicable maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration. As required by that Office, we will, upon request, furnish you with a statement of our maximum prices on any of the commodities listed about which you inquire.

(Signed) _____

Any seller using this method, shall upon request, furnish a statement of the maximum prices for any commodities listed or described in the publication and about which the customer inquires.

(3) Any seller making retail sales by mail may apply to the Office of Price Administration for permission to deviate from the requirements in subparagraph (2). The application shall state why such requirements are inequitable or inappropriate as applied to the applicant's business, and shall show that the requested method of posting is substantially in line with the requirements of posting for mail order sellers set forth in subparagraph (2).

(4) On or before August 1, 1942, every person offering to sell cost-of-living commodities at retail shall file with the appropriate war price and rationing board of the Office of Price Administration a statement showing his maximum price for each such commodity, together with an appropriate description or identification of it. Such statement shall be kept up to date by such person by filing on the tenth day of every succeeding month a statement of his maximum price for any cost-of-living commodity newly offered for sale during the previous month, together with an appropriate description or identification of the commodity.

(5) No person is required to mark or file the maximum price of any commodity manufactured by him if his only sales at retail of such commodity are made to his employees.

SEC. 14 Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt, or similar evidence of purchase shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any seller, regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the name of each commodity sold, and the price received for it.

Article IV—Registration and Enforcement

SEC. 15 Registration. (a) Every person selling at wholesale, and every person who owns, or hereafter becomes the owner of, any business operating an establishment selling at retail any commodity for which a maximum price is established by this general maximum price regulation or by any other price regulation of the Office of Price Administration, shall register with the Office of Price Administration at such time and in such manner as the Administrator may hereafter by regulation prescribe, on forms which will be made by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 16 Licensing—(a) License required. A license as a condition of selling is required of every person selling at wholesale or retail any commodity for which a maximum price is established by the General Maximum Price Regulation or by any other price regulation of the Office of Price Administration. No person whose license is suspended in proceedings under section 205 (f) (2) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall, during the period of suspension, sell any commodities as to which his license to sell is suspended.

(b) License granted. Every person selling at wholesale or retail any commodity for which a maximum price is established by the General Maximum Price Regulation or by any other price regulation of the Office of Price Administration is by the General Maximum Price Regulation granted a license as a condition of selling any such commodity. The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and of every price regulation of the Office of Price Administration to which this section now is or may hereafter become applicable shall be deemed to be incorporated in the license hereby granted, and any violation of any provision so incorporated shall be a violation of the provisions of said license. Such license shall be effective on the effective date of the General Maximum Price Regulation or when any such person becomes subject to the maximum price provisions of this or any other price regulation, and shall, unless suspended in accordance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, remain in effect as long as such regulation, or any applicable part, amendment, or supplement remains in effect.

SEC. 17 Penalties. (a) Persons violating any provision of this general maximum price regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and proceedings for the suspension of licenses.

Article V—Procedure for Adjustment or Amendment

SEC. 18 Adjustment of maximum prices. (a) Adjustments of maximum prices heretofore granted by the Office of the Military Governor for Hawaii under the provisions of General Maximum Regulation No. 1 of the Military Governor shall continue in full force and effect until revoked or modified by the Office of Price Administration.

(a) The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation in the case of any seller or group of sellers when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a commodity which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such commodity; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(a) The Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Hawaii is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this section.

(1) Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 7:[1] Provided, however, That the action to be taken thereunder by the Regional Administrator may be taken in like manner by the Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H.

SEC. 19 Petitions for amendment. (a) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this general maximum price regulation, may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1:[2] Provided, however, That such petition shall be filed with the Director of OPA for the Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H.

Article VII—Definitions and Explanations

SEC. 20 Definitions and explanations. (a) This general maximum price regulation, and the terms appearing therein, unless the context otherwise requires, shall be construed as follows:

(1) "Appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration" means the district office for the district in which is located the seller's place of business from which his sales are made

(2) "Appropriate war price and rationing board" means the war price and rationing board for the area in which is located the seller's place of business from which the cost-of-living commodities are offered for sale.

(3) "Commodity" includes commodities, articles, products, and materials and contracts to buy, sell, or deliver any of the foregoing.

(4) A commodity shall be deemed to have been "delivered" during April 1942, if during such month it was received by the purchaser or by any carrier, including a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to the purchaser.

(5) "Establishment selling at retail." "Establishment" refers to the physical location of the store, shop or other place of business in which commodities are sold. Any such establishment shall be deemed to be selling at retail if it has an established practice of making sales at retail.

(6) "Most closely competitive seller of the same class". "Seller of the same class" means a seller (i) performing the same function (for example, manufacturing, distributing, retailing, processing, storing, installing, or repairing), (ii) of similar type (for example, department store, mail order house, chain store, specialty shop, cut-rate store), (iii) dealing in the same type of commodities, and (iv) selling to the same class of purchaser. A seller's "most closely competitive seller of the same class" shall be a seller of the same class who (i) is selling the same or a similar commodity, and (ii) is closely competitive in the sale of such commodities, and (iii) is located nearest to the seller.

(7) "Offering price" means the price quoted in the seller's price list, or, if he had no such price list, the price which he regularly quoted in any other manner, except that in the case of sales of commodities by an establishment selling at retail, the offering price shall be the price at which the commodity was offered for sale at the immediate point of sale (for example, the shelves or counters). But "offering price" shall not include a price intended to withhold a commodity from the market, or a price offered as a bargaining price by a seller who usually sells at a price lower than his asking price.

(8) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, any other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of any of the foregoing.

(9) "Price regulation" means a price schedule effective in accordance with the provisions of section 206 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, a maximum price regulation or temporary maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, or any order issued pursuant to any such regulation or schedule.

(10) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for commodities for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

(11) "Raw and unprocessed agricultural commodity or greenhouse commodity." Commodities that are picked, harvested, threshed, ginned, husked, cleaned, dried, baled, boxed, packed, transported, and/or refrigerated, without more, remain "raw and unprocessed". But operations such as slaughtering, freezing, canning, preserving, milling, crushing, straining, centrifuging, shelling of nuts, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, constitute processing for this purpose. For the purposes of the General Maximum Price Regulation the following commodities shall be deemed to be raw and unprocessed agricultural commodities: (i) All natural flowers and floral products, whether fresh or dried, (ii) All seeds and bulbs as long as they maintain their original identity without being further processed into products commonly designated by other names. Forest products, such as lumber, wood, naval stores and mineral products, whether processed or unprocessed, shall not be deemed to be agricultural commodities.

(12) "Records" include books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading, and other papers and documents.

(13) "Replacement cost" shall be the net price paid by the seller after June 18, 1942, or the net price which the seller would have to pay to replace such commodity after such date.

(14) "Sale at retail" or "selling at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user, except that (i) for the purpose of section 3 of this general maximum price regulation a "sale at retail" shall not include any sale by a producer, manufacturer, or fabricator of any commodity produced, manufactured, or fabricated by him, and (ii) for the purpose of sections 9 and 11 of this general maximum price regulation a "sale at retail" shall not include any sale to the United States, any other government or any of its political subdivisions, any religious, educational or charitable institution, any institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged or insane, or any school, hospital, library or any agency or any of the foregoing.

(15) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who buys a commodity and resells it, without substantially changing its form, to any person other than the ultimate consumer, except that (i) for the purposes of section 3 of this general maximum price regulation a sale at wholesale shall include any sale by such person to an industrial or commercial user and (ii) "sold at wholesale" refers to a sale, by any person, of fluid milk or cream in bottles or paper container, ice cream mix whose butterfat content is reduced to not less than 8% included in 14% or more (by weight) of milk solids, and ice cream to any person, including an industrial or commercial user, other than the ultimate consumer.

(16) "Securities" includes any note, stock, bond, and interest or instrument commonly known as a "security."

(17) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, lease, transfer, and deliver, and contracts and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sale," "selling," "sold," "seller," "buy," "purchase," and "purchaser," shall be construed accordingly. Nothing in this general maximum price regulation shall be construed to prohibit the making of a contract to sell a commodity at a price not to exceed the maximum price at the time of delivery or supply.

(18) "Seller" includes a seller of any commodity. Where a seller at retail makes sales through more than one selling unit, other than salesmen making sales at uniform prices, each such separate place of business of the seller shall be deemed to be a separate seller. Where a seller other than at retail makes sales through more than one selling unit, all selling units whose prices for most of the commodities they sell have customarily been determined centrally by the same office, shall be deemed to be a single seller; but where a seller has by charging different prices for a commodity at his selling units established different classes of purchasers, he will have different maximum prices for the different selling units. For the purposes of section 16 of this general maximum price regulation, the owner of a business shall be considered the seller regardless of the number of separate places of business he owns.

(19) "Flour" means the flour produced from wheat, rye, buckwheat, rice, corn, oats, barley, soybeans and potatoes. Combinations of flours produced from the said commodities, and bleached, bromated, enriched, phosphated and self-rising flours shall be considered flour. Flour from wheat shall mean:

(i) Any product of the milling of wheat, other than durum wheat, whose ash content is not more than 1.20th of the protein calculated to a moisture-free basis plus .35 except that farina shall not be deemed to be flour from wheat.

(ii) Any product of the milling of durum wheat, whose ash content calculated to a moisture-free basis, is not more than 1.5 per cent, except that semolina shall not be deemed to be a flour from wheat.

(iii) Whole wheat flour.

(iv) Whole durum wheat flour.

(v) Blends of the foregoing flours from wheat.

(vi) In determining whether the ash content of bleached, bromated, enriched, phosphated and self-rising flours complies with the above ash requirements, allowances shall be made for the increase in the ash content resulting from the addition of the bleaching, bromating, enriching, phosphating and self-rising ingredients.

(20) "Cake mixes" and "Flour mixes" means combinations of flour or flours with any other ingredients except those used in making bleached, bromated, enriched, phosphated and self-rising flours.

(21) "Packaged" as applied to "cake mixes" and "flour mixes" means packaged for sale at retail in a container of any holding three pounds or less, where the packaging has been done before arrival at the point of retail sale.

(22) "Ores" means any mineral substance in a crude state used chiefly as a commercial source of metal contained therein. "Ore concentrates" means any ore, as defined above, after the removal of a part of the gangue, or a part of the non-metallic elements, either by a physical or chemical process.

(23) "Precious stones" means any ruby, sapphire, emerald, natural pearl, or any diamond (other than an industrial diamond) weighing more than 1.00 carat, or any semi-precious stone after sale by the cutter, when the cutter has received more than $100 for the sale of the stone. Synthetic stones and cultured pearls shall not be deemed "precious stones". If two or more diamonds (other than industrial diamonds) with an aggregate weight of 1.50 carats are set in one mounting, the diamonds shall be deemed precious.

Article VII—Other Price Regulations, Applicability, Effective Date

SEC. 21 Effect of other price regulations. (a) Sections 13, 14, 15, and 16 of this general maximum price regulation shall apply but the other provisions of this general maximum price regulation shall not apply to any sale or delivery for which a maximum price is in effect, at the time of such sale or delivery, under the provisions of any other price regulation issued, or which may be issued, by the Office of Price Administration, unless otherwise provided in any such price regulation. This general maximum price regulation supersedes the applicable provisions of General Order No. 49.

SEC. 22 Applicability. (a) The provisions of this general maximum price regulation shall be applicable to the Territory of Hawaii unless otherwise provided herein.

SEC. 23 Effective date. This general maximum price regulation shall become effective on June 18, 1942.

Appendix A

Article I—Prohibitions and Scope of Regulation

SEC. 1 Prohibition against selling and buying at higher than maximum prices. On and after April 20, 1943, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person is permitted to sell or deliver at wholesale or at retail any article listed or described in Appendix A at a price which is higher than the applicable maximum price established by this regulation, and no person, in the course of trade or business, is permitted to buy or receive any such article from a wholesaler or retailer at a price which is higher than that maximum price. The maximum prices established by this regulation are applicable whether the sale is for cash or for credit. In no case shall the maximum price for the sale of any article at wholesale or retail exceed the maximum price permitted by the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii.

SEC. 2 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 374, may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 3. To what transactions, products and persons this ceiling applies—(a) What commodities are covered. This regulation applies only to the articles listed or described in Appendix A of this regulation.

(b) What transactions are covered. This regulation applies only to sales at wholesale or at retail of the articles listed or described in Appendix A of this regulation.

(c) Geographical applicability of this regulation. This regulation applies only to sales and purchases in the Territory of Hawaii of the articles listed or described in Appendix A of this regulation.

(d) Effect upon the General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii and other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 27, as issued by the Office of the Military Governor, Territory of Hawaii, General Order No. 49,[1] and of all other maximum price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration, except as hereinafter provided, with respect to sales and purchases in the Territory of Hawaii of the articles listed or described in Appendix A of this regulation.

Article II—Maximum Prices and Terms of Sale

SEC. 4 Maximum price for sales at wholesale. (a) The maximum price for sales at wholesale of any article listed or described in Appendix A shall be a price $1\frac{1}{3}$ times the manufacturer's selling price.

(b) Examples. (1) A wholesaler in Honolulu buys a birthstone ring from a mainland manufacturer for $30.00, which is the manufacturer's selling price, as that term is defined in this regulation. It costs the wholesaler 30¢ to bring the ring from the mainland to Honolulu. The wholesaler shall compute his maximum price in the following manner: $30.30 \times 1\frac{1}{3} = $40.40$. The resulting figure, $40.40, is his maximum price.

(2) A wholesaler in Honolulu buys a birthstone ring from a mainland wholesaler for $35.00. It costs the wholesaler 30¢ to bring the ring from the mainland to Honolulu. The manufacturer's selling price to the mainland wholesaler was $30.00. The Honolulu wholesaler shall compute his maximum price in the following manner: $30.30 x $1\frac{1}{3} = $40.40$. The resulting figure, $40.40, is his maximum price.

(c) Statement by wholesaler of manufacturer's selling price. Every person making a sale at wholesale of an article listed or described in Appendix A, shall give his buyer a written statement, set forth in the invoice or otherwise, stating the manufacturer's selling price on that article.

[1] 8 F.R. 3076.

If the wholesaler, in the event he did not purchase the article from the manufacturer, shall receive from his seller a written statement stating the manufacturer's selling price and if he has no knowledge of the manufacturer's selling price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of his seller's statement, he may use the price set forth in his seller's statement for the purpose of making his written statement to his buyer.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices for sales at retail. The basis upon which the maximum retail price shall be computed depends upon whether the particular article being priced was in the inventory of the retailer as of November 9, 1942, and whether the retailer purchased the article from the manufacturer or from a wholesaler. No article shall be deemed to be in the inventory of the retailer as of November 9, 1942, unless the article was actually delivered to the retailer prior to November 9, 1942. An article shall be deemed to have been delivered to the retailer prior to November 9, 1942, if, prior to November 9, 1942, it was received by the retailer or by any carrier for shipment to the retailer, or was deposited in the mails addressed to the retailer.

(a) Articles in inventory as of November 9, 1942—(1) Articles which retailer purchased from wholesaler. (i) The maximum price for any article in the inventory of the retailer as of November 9, 1942, which the retailer purchased from a wholesaler shall be a price 1.75 times the net cost of the article to the retailer.

(ii) Example. A retailer had a gold bracelet in his inventory as of November 9, 1942, which he purchased from a wholesaler, the net cost of which to him was $64.00. The retailer shall compute his maximum price in the following manner: $64×1.75=112. The resulting figure, $112.00, is his maximum price.

(2) Articles which retailer purchased from manufacturer. (i) The maximum price for any article in the inventory of the retailer as of November 9, 1942, which the retailer purchased from the manufacturer shall be a price two times the net cost of the article to the retailer.

(ii) Example. A retailer had a sterling silver cigarette case in his inventory as of November 9, 1942, which he purchased from the manufacturer, the net cost of which to him was $10.60. The retailer shall compute his maximum price in the following manner: $10.60×2=$21.20. The resulting figure, $21.20, is his maximum price.

(b) Articles not in inventory as of November 9, 1942. (1) The maximum price for any article not in the inventory of the retailer as of November 9, 1942, shall be a price (i) 2 times the net cost of the article to the retailer, or (ii) 2⅓ times the manufacturer's selling price, whichever is lower.

(2) Examples. (i) A Honolulu retailer buys a birthstone ring from a Honolulu wholesaler after November 9, 1942, for $40.00. The wholesaler gives the retailer the required written statement to the effect that the manufacturer's selling price was $30.00. The retailer shall compute his maximum price in the following manner. He shall first compute what his maximum price would be if he used twice his net cost as his basis, $40.×2=$80. The resulting figure, $80.00, would be his maximum price on this basis. He shall then compute what his maximum price would be if he used 2⅓ times the manufacturer's selling price as his basis, $30.×2⅓=$70. The resulting figure, $70.00, would be his maximum price on this basis. The retailer must take the lower of these two figures, $70.00, as his maximum price.

(ii) A retailer in Honolulu buys a birthstone ring after November 9, 1942, from the mainland manufacturer for $30.00, which is the manufacturer's selling price as that term is defined in this regulation. It costs the retailer 30¢ to bring the ring from the mainland to Honolulu, making the net cost to him $30.30. Since in every case in which a retailer buys directly from a manufacturer, twice his net cost will yield a price less than 2⅓ times the manufacturer's selling price, the retailer shall compute his maximum price on the basis of his net cost, in the following manner, $30.30×2=$60.60. The resulting figure, $60.60, is his maximum price.

(c) Effect of wholesaler's statement of manufacturer's selling price. If a retailer, in the event he did not purchase the article being priced from the manufacturer, shall receive from his seller a written statement, set forth in the invoice or otherwise, stating the manufacturer's selling price and if he has no knowledge of the manufacturer's selling price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of his seller's statement, he may use the price set forth in his seller's statement as the manufacturer's selling price for the purpose of applying section 5 (b) of this regulation.

SEC. 6 Maximum prices for sales of second-hand watches. (a) The provisions of section 1, section 4, section 5, section 13 and section 14 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 374 shall not apply to sales of second-hand watches.

(b) For the purposes of this regulation, a second-hand watch is any watch which is not new and includes second-hand and rebuilt watches.

(c) On and after March 3, 1943, no person shall sell or deliver at retail any second-hand watch at a price which is higher than the applicable maximum price established by this regulation.

(d) The maximum retail price for any second-hand watch having a cylinder or pin lever movement shall be $1.00. The maximum retail price for any second-hand watch having a lever escapement movement and of a make appearing in subparagraph (1) hereof shall be the price set forth in subparagraph (2) hereof, corresponding to the type, movement and case of such watch.

(1) Hamilton, Elgin, Bulova, Waltham, Gruen, Vacheron-Constantin, Tavannes, Jules Jurgensen, Howard, Illinois, Glycine, Longines, Muvado, Rolex, Mido, Matthy-Tissot, Girard-Perregaux, Omega, Harvel, Eterna, Benrus, LeCoultre, Wyler, Patek-Phillipe

16‑watches which will pass Railroad inspection

	65.00	45.00

For the purposes of this section a watch which will pass railroad inspection means a watch which (1) is size 16 or larger, (2) has a movement containing more jewels, (3) has a stem wind, (4) is lever set, (5) is adjusted to five or more positions, and (6) does not vary more than thirty seconds for any period of thirty days.

(e) The maximum price at retail for any watch with a lever escapement movement of a make not listed in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (d) shall be 66⅔% of the applicable price set forth in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (d).

(f) Any second-hand watch sold or offered for sale must be tagged with a tag which is prominently and distinctly marked "used". Any person selling any such watch must tell the purchaser or prospective purchaser thereof that the watch is not a new watch and must give the purchaser a sales slip upon which it distinctly appears that the watch sold is a second-hand watch.

SEC. 7 Maximum price for retail sales of articles listed in Appendix A, which are of special design. (a) The maximum price of sales at retail of any article of special design shall be the maximum price permitted by section 5 hereof; Provided, however, That in the event the maximum price permitted by the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii is higher than the maximum price permitted under section 5 hereof, such higher maximum price may be permitted upon the compliance by the seller with the provisions of subparagraph (b) of this section and the subsequent approval of this Office.

(b) Any seller at retail who desires to establish the higher maximum price mentioned in paragraph (a) hereof as his maximum price for any article of special design, shall file with the Office of Price Administration a statement showing the name of the designer of the article, the name of the manufacturer, the type of article, the numbers of such articles being made, all costs, the maximum price for such article established by section 5 of this regulation, the requested maximum price, and that the seller is the only person offering such article or articles for sale.

SEC. 8 Maximum charges for altering or engraving any article listed or described in Appendix A. Any person who makes sales at retail of any article listed or described in Appendix A, and who alters or engraves the article at the request, and to the specifications, of the buyer, may make a charge and receive payment therefor, in addition to the maximum price established by this regulation; Provided, That, (a) the buyer is charged separately for such service, and (b) the charge for such service does not exceed the maximum charge that would be permitted under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165,[2] as amended.

SEC. 9 Application for approval of prices for nationally advertised articles. Application may be made for approval of a price for an article listed in Appendix A which is nationally advertised by the manufacturer thereof, who also requires that such article be sold at the prices established by such manufacturer. The applicant must set forth:

(a) A description of the article.

(b) Proof that such article is nationally advertised by the manufacturer.

(c) Proof that the manufacturer established prior to November 9, 1942 a uniform resale price for the type of sale of this article made by applicant (wholesale or retail), and that the manufacturer required prior to November 9, 1942 that this article be sold at this price for such type of sale.

(d) Proof that the applicant customarily sold this article prior to November 9, 1942 at the price (1) established prior to November 9, 1942 by the manufacturer for the type of sale made by the applicant and (2) at which the manufacturer required prior to November 9, 1942 that this article be sold for such type of sale.

(e) Proof that the price as to which approval is requested is the price (1) presently established by the manufacturer for the type of sale to be made by applicant, and (2) at which the manufacturer presently requires that this article be sold for such type of sale.

(f) A description of the services, if any, rendered by applicant in connection with the sale of such article prior to November 9, 1942.

(g) A statement whether applicant customarily made an additional charge for such services prior to November 9, 1942, or whether such services were included in the selling price of the article.

(h) A description of the terms of the guarantee, if any, given by applicant in connection with the sale of such article prior to November 9, 1942.

(i) A statement whether applicant made an additional charge for such guarantee or whether such guarantee was included in the selling price of the article.

SEC. 10 Evasive practices. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to, any of the articles which must be priced under this regulation, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement, combination sale, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

Article III—Miscellaneous

SEC. 11 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 374 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1;[3] Provided, however, That any such petition shall be filed with the Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H.

SEC. 12 Applications for adjustment. (a) Any seller or group of sellers may apply for adjustment of a maximum price of a commodity established for him or them by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 374, or any order issued hereunder, when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of such commodity which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such commodity; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this section 12, all applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 7: 'Provided, however, That the action to be taken thereunder by the Regional Administrator may be taken in like manner by the Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Hawaii.

SEC. 13 Records and reports—(a) Required of wholesaler—(1) Purchase records. Every person making sales at wholesale of any article listed or described in Appendix A shall keep, and make available for examination by this Office, for not less than one year after sale of such article, complete and accurate records of each purchase of each such article showing: (i) the date of receipt, (ii) the name and address of the vendor, (iii) the price paid, and (iv) the manufacturer's selling price. If the wholesaler did not purchase the article from the manufacturer but is relying upon his vendor's written statement of the manufacturer's selling price, he shall keep such statement, and make it available for examination by the Office of Price Administration for not less than one year after sale of such article. The wholesaler shall likewise keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration for not less than one year after sale of an article his purchase invoice covering that article.

(2) Sales records. Every person making sales at wholesale of any article listed, or described in Appendix A shall invoice each sale of each such article. The original invoice shall be delivered to the buyer and shall state: (i) the date of delivery, (ii) the name and address of the buyer, (iii) the price charged and (iv) if the wholesaler has not given his buyer a separate written statement of the manufacturer's selling price, the manufacturer's selling price. The wholesaler shall likewise keep, and make available for examination by this Office, for not less than one year after sale of such article, a copy of the invoice covering that article required to be furnished by him under this section 13 (a) (2).

(b) Required of retailer—(1) Purchase records. Every person making sales at retail of any article listed or described in Appendix A, shall keep and make available for examination by this Office for not less than one year after sale of such article, complete and accurate records of each purchase of each such article showing: (i) the date of receipt, (ii) the name and address of the vendor, (iii) the net cost of the article to the retailer and, (iv) if the article was not in the inventory of the retailer as of November 9, 1942, the manufacturer's selling price. If the retailer did not purchase the article from the manufacturer but is relying upon his wholesaler's written statement of the manufacturer's selling price, he shall keep such statement and make it available for examination by this Office for not less than one year after sale of such article. The retailer shall likewise keep and make available for examination by this Office for not less than one year after sale of an article, his purchase invoice covering that article.

(2) Sales records—(i) Sales slips and receipts. Any retailer who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt, or similar evidence of purchase shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any retailer, regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the retailer, a description of the article sold, and the price received for it.

(ii) Other records. Every retailer shall keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for not less than one year after sale of any article listed or described in Appendix A, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices charged for such article and, in addition, records showing as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined the maximum price for such article.

SEC. 14 Posting of prices. Every person offering to sell at retail any article listed or described in Appendix A, shall mark the selling price of such article in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public; and a sign stating "Each article in this case is sold at our ceiling price or less" must be placed upon each counter, shelf, rack, or other container where the merchandise is offered for sale.

SEC. 15 Licensing. (a) Every person selling at wholesale or at retail any article listed or described in Appendix A, is by this regulation granted a license as a condition of selling any such article. Such license shall be effective on the effective date of this regulation or when any such person becomes subject to the provisions of this regulation and shall, unless suspended by this Office, remain in effect as long as this regulation remains in effect.

(b) This Office may suspend the license of any person selling at wholesale or at retail any article listed or described in Appendix A, if such person shall (1) violate any provision of this regulation or of any other price regulation which has been or may be issued by the Office of Price Administration, or (2) fail to keep the records required to be kept by this regulation or by any other price regulation which has been or may be issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 16 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 374 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 17 Federal and territorial taxes. If, at the time the seller determines his maximum price under the provisions of this regulation, the statute of the United States or the Territory of Hawaii imposing any tax upon, or incident to, the sale or delivery of any article listed or described in Appendix A, does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of the tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount as part of the manufacturer's selling price or his net cost in computing his maximum price.

SEC. 18 Definitions. (a) "Articles commonly or commercially known as jewelry" shall include all articles designed to be worn on the person or apparel for the purpose of adornment and which in accordance with custom or ordinary usage are worn so as to be displayed.

(b) "Precious stones" means:

(1) Any of the following stones weighing more than one karat: ruby, sapphire, emerald, natural pearl; or

(2) Any loose or unset diamond (other than industrial diamond) regardless of weight; or

(3) Any set diamond (other than industrial diamond), weighing more than one karat; or

(4) Two or more diamonds (other than industrial diamonds) with an aggregate weight of 1.50 karats and set in one mounting; or

(5) Any loose or unset jade; or

(6) Any stone, including those above named, after sale by the cutter or importer when the cutter or importer has received more than $100.00 (one hundred dollars) for the sale of the stone.

Synthetic stones and cultured pearls will not be deemed "precious stones".

(c) "Precious metals and imitations thereof" includes platinum, gold, silver and other metals of similar or greater value and platings and alloys of such metals.

(d) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who buys a commodity and resells it, without substantially changing its form, to any person other than the ultimate consumer.

(e) "Sale at retail" means a sale to an ultimate consumer.

(f) "Manufacturer's selling price" means the price at which the manufacturer of the article sold and invoiced it, plus transportation costs, including marine and war risk insurance and storage charges incident to delays in shipment, and less all discounts and all allowances allowed the buyer; Provided, however, That cash discounts up to 2% shall not be subtracted in determining such manufacturer's selling price.

In the case of an article manufactured outside the United States, its territories and possessions, the importer shall be deemed to be the manufacturer for the purpose of determining the "manufacturer's selling price".

(g) "Net cost" means the amount the buyer paid for the article delivered at his place of business (including transportation costs, marine and war risk insurance, and storage charges incident to delays in shipment, if such expenses are actually incurred by the buyer) less all discounts and allowances, except cash discounts up to 2% allowed the buyer.

(h) "Maximum price" means the maximum price established by this regulation adjusted to the nearest nickel: Provided, however, That the maximum price may, at the option of the seller, be deemed to be the nearest half dollar lower than the maximum price computed and adjusted as provided above.

(i) Antiques. Antiques are articles which are old, are commonly known and dealt in as antiques by the trade, and are purchased primarily because of their authenticity, age, rarity or style, rather than for utility.

(j) Articles of special design. Articles of special design are those in which the original design was conceived and executed by the seller and manufactured for him to sell as an exclusive and individual item. Articles produced in the course of business on a mass or semi-mass basis will not be deemed articles of special design.

Appendix A

(a) List of articles which must be priced under this regulation. All articles commonly or commercially known as jewelry, whether real or imitation; such as rings; bracelets; earrings; chains, singly or with lockets or with crosses; key chains, cuff buttons and cuff links; bead, shell or seed leis and chokers; brooches, clips and pins; necklaces and lavaliers.

All articles made of, or ornamented, mounted or fitted with, precious metals or imitations thereof; such as wallets; book ends; ash trays; fountain pens and pencils; combs, brushes and fittings; umbrellas; walking sticks; glassware; china; pottery; purses and handbags with frames, snaps, catches, buckles or clips, made of, ornamented, mounted or fitted with, precious metals or imitations thereof.

Watches and clocks.

All metal service insignia, including gold and silver braid.

Cigarette boxes, cases and lighters.

Compacts.

Identification tags.

Lauhala bags.

Mesh bags.

Photograph frames.

Vanity cases.

Binoculars; field, marine and opera glasses.

(b) List of articles exempted from this regulation. (1) Sterling silver or silver plate flatware or hollow ware.

(2) Precious stones.

(3) Antiques.

[MPR 305,[1] Amendment 4]

CORN MEAL, CORN FLOUR, CORN GRITS, HOMINY GRITS, BREWERS GRITS AND OTHER PRODUCTS MADE BY DRY CORN MILLING PROCESS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 305 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1754 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1754 Maximum base point prices for yellow and white corn products. (a) The maximum base point price for yellow corn products shall be $2.77 per hundredweight at the basing point of Kansas City, Missouri.

(b) The maximum base point price for white corn products shall be $2.81 per hundredweight at the basing point of Kansas City, Missouri.

2. Section 1351.1764 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1764 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export corn products shall be determined in accordance with the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

3. § 1351.1766 (a), the word "hominy" appearing immediately after the words "corn grits" is hereby deleted.

4. Section 1351.1776 (c) is hereby revoked.

This amendment shall become effective April 27, 1943.

PART 1360—MOTOR VEHICLES AND MOTOR VEHICLE EQUIPMENT

[RO 2B,[1] Amendment 1]

PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 2B is amended in the following respect:

1. Section 1.2 is amended to read as follows:

Section 1.2 The rationing of 1942 passenger cars with a list price of $2500 and over and 1941 passenger cars which have been driven less than 1000 miles. ("List Price" whenever used in this order means the list price provided for in OPA Revised Price Schedule No. 85[2] and amendments thereto.) This section applies only to 1942 passenger cars with a list price of $2500 and over and to all 1941 passenger cars which have been driven less than 1000 miles. The only other references in this order applying to 1941 cars are found in Article IV.

(a) No person shall transfer or acquire (or offer to transfer or acquire) for the purpose of use a 1941 passenger car which has been driven less than 1000 miles, except as permitted by this section.

(b) Any 1942 passenger car with a list price of $2500 or over, or any 1941 passenger car which has been driven less than 1000 miles may be transferred to a person for use in carrying on either a gainful occupation or work contributing to the war effort or to the public welfare. Before any of such cars may be transferred, the transferee and the transferor shall make and sign the following statement, indicating the purposes for which the car will be used:

(c) The signed statement shall be mailed by the transferor to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 5 days from the date that he signed it.

(d) If the conditions of this section have been satisfied, the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. will issue to the transferee of a 1942 passenger car which has a list price of $2,500 or over a clearance statement permitting him to register the car. A 1941 passenger car transferred under this section may be registered without authorization from the Office of Price Administration.

(e) A person who acquires a car under this section is not required to secure a certificate or other authorization from this Board.

This amendment shall become effective April 27, 1943.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[MPR 336,[1] Amendment 2]

RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR PORK CUTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 4 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

The port cuts listed in the "O. P. A. List of Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts" are defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148—Dressed Hogs and Wholesale Pork Cuts. If O. P. A. allows any person to make a different cut, you will receive notice when you buy that cut of the ceiling price you may charge for it at retail.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[RO 3,[1] Amendment 55]

SUGAR RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Rationing Order No. 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1407.109a (a) shall be amended to read as follows:

(a) Each owner of a registering unit which includes or is composed of one or more wholesale establishments, more than one retail establishment or a single retail establishment whose gross sales of all meats, groceries, fruits, vegetables and similar products during December 1942, or during any single calendar month since December 1942, were over $2,500.00, shall open at least one account for all the component establishments of such registering unit.

2. Section 1407.109a (b) is revoked.

3. Section 1407.109a (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) An account which serves a registering unit composed of a single retail establishment for which a ration bank account is not required by paragraph (a) of this section, shall be closed on or before July 3, 1943.

This amendment shall become effective April 27, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[RO 13,[1] Amendment 15]

PROCESSED FOODS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 13 is amended in the following respect:

Section 7.5 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) The word establishment, as it is used in this order, covers the operation at a place, as well as the place itself. Where a person such as a wholesaler or a retailer does not operate from any fixed place, his wholesale or retail operations as a whole are regarded as an establishment. Similarly, if a person who deals in processed foods and makes sales or transfers of them does not actually keep processed foods at any particular place, his operations as a whole, are regarded as his establishment, and he may register as a wholesaler or a retailer, depending on the class of persons to whom he makes transfers.

This amendment shall become effective April 27, 1943.

[PAO 11, Supp. Order 4 as Amended April 19, 1943[1]]

PART 1515—PETROLEUM PRODUCTION OPERATIONS

DRILLING OF NEW WELLS

General exception pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11.

§ 1515.10 Supplementary Order No. 4 to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11.—(a) Scope of this order. Except as otherwise modified by the provisions of any other order issued as a supplement to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 or by the provisions of any exception issued pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, the provisions of this order shall, to the extent provided herein, be applicable to production operations in the fields and pools of the State of California specified in Exhibit A,[2] but not elsewhere.

(b) Definitions. The definitions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 shall apply in this order. In addition:

(1) "Designated area" means the pools specified in Exhibit A of this order.

(2) "New well" means an oil well spudded subsequent to April 22, 1943.

(3) "Rework" means to perforate, plug back, deepen, redrill, clean out or otherwise rework an existing well in that pool from which such well is producing or last produced but excluding redrilling from a point more than 500 feet above such pool.

(c) New well drilled in the designated area. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, any person may accept delivery of, acquire, or use material to drill, complete, equip, and connect any new well in the designated area: Provided, That:

(1) Such well is drilled to and completed in a pool specified in Columns Nos. 3 and 4 of Exhibit A of this order opposite the name of the field in which such pool is located; and

(2) Such well is not drilled to a vertical depth greater than the depth specified in Column No. 5 of Exhibit A of this order opposite the name of the pool to which such well is drilled; and

(3) Such well is not completed in more than one pool; and

(4) Such well is drilled, with respect to the pool in which it is to be completed, in conformity with the uniform well-spacing provisions contained in paragraph (d) of this order, of at least the size prescribed for such pool in Column No. 6 of Exhibit A: Provided, That where no uniform well-spacing is prescribed in Column No. 6 of Exhibit A for a pool, the provisions of paragraph (c) of this order shall not extend to such pool; and

(5) All separate property interests in the drilling unit on which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other; and

(6) The direct linear distance between any two points which are farthest removed from each other on the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled does not exceed the length of the diagonal of a rectangle, the length of which is twice its width and which is equivalent in surface acreage to such drilling unit; and

(7) If such well is intentionally deviated from the vertical:

(i) The surface location of such well shall be deemed to be the point at which the vertical projection of the bottom of the well bore intersects the surface, and

(ii) Two copies of a true and correct subsurface directional survey of its well bore shall be filed with the District Director of Production, District No. Five within 30 days after the completion of such well.

(d) Uniform well-spacing.—(1) Uniform 5 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order shall conform to "uniform 5 acre well-spacing" only where:

(i) With respect to the pool to which such well is drilled:

(a) Such well is drilled on a drilling unit of not less than 5 surface acres, no portion of which is attributable to or falls within 200 feet of any other drilling or producible oil well located on the same lease or property; and

(b) Such well is drilled at least 400 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well; and

(c) Such well is drilled at least 200 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests.

(2) Uniform 10 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order shall conform to "uniform 10 acre well-spacing" only where:

(i) With respect to the pool to which such well is drilled,

(a) Such well is drilled on a drilling unit of not less than ten surface acres, no portion of which is attributable to or falls within 250 feet of any other drilling or producible oil well located on the same lease or property; and

(b) Such well is drilled at least 500 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well; and

(c) Such well is drilled at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests.

(3) Uniform 20 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order shall conform to "uniform 20 acre well-spacing" only where:

(i) With respect to the pool to which such well is drilled:

(a) Such well is drilled on a drilling unit of not less than 20 surface acres, no portion of which is attributable to or falls within 300 feet of any other drilling or producible oil well located on the same lease or property; and

(b) Such well is drilled at least 890 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well; and

The following action being deemed

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

(c) Such well is drilled at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests.

(4) Uniform 40 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order shall conform to "uniform 40 acre well-spacing" only where:

(i) With respect to the pool to which such well is drilled:

(a) Such well is drilled on a drilling unit of not less than 40 surface acres, no portion of which is attributable to or falls within 300 feet of any other drilling or producible oil well located on the same lease or property; and

(b) Such well is drilled at least 990 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well; and

(c) Such well is drilled at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests.

(e) Computation of attributable acreage. (1) The acreage attributable to any well spudded on or before December 23, 1941, shall be determined by assigning to such well an acreage equivalent to that in the existing well density or well-spacing contiguous to such well, but not greater than that provided in Exhibit A for a new well to the same pool in which such well is completed.

(2) The acreage attributable to any well spudded subsequent to December 23, 1941, shall be the same as the drilling unit assigned to such well pursuant to Conservation Order M-68, any Supplementary M-68 Order, any exception issued pursuant to a determination under Conservation Order M-68, or pursuant to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, any order issued as a supplement to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, or any exception issued in response to an application filed as provided by paragraph (j) of this order, whichever is applicable.

(f) Rework of well in the designated area. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, any person may accept delivery of, acquire, or use material to rework (but not to deepen or plug-back from one pool to another) any oil well in the designated area: Provided, That with respect to the productive acreage within the pool in which such well is completed, the number of wells on any single lease or tract which are reworked subsequent to the date of this order does not at any time exceed the average well density specified in Column No. 7 of Exhibit A opposite the name of the pool in which such well is completed: Provided further, That where no well density is prescribed in Column No. 7 of Exhibit A for a pool, the provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not extend to such pool.

(g) Restrictions on new wells in pools designated "E" in Column No. 6 of Exhibit A. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c) (6) and (c) (7) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, no person shall accept delivery of, acquire, or use material to drill, complete, equip, or connect any new well in any pool in the designated area which is marked "E" in Column No. 6 of Exhibit A opposite such pool except in conformity with an exception issued by the Petroleum Administration for War in response to an application filed as provided by paragraph (j) of this order.

(h) Restriction on exposing more than one pool in same well-bore. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c) (6), (c) (7), and (c) (9) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 or the provisions of this order, no person shall accept delivery of, acquire, or use material to complete or recomplete any well in the State of California in more than one pool except in conformity with an exception issued by the Petroleum Administration for War in response to an application filed as provided by paragraph (j) of this order.

(i) Installation of pumping or other artificial lifting equipment. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 and subject to the provisions contained in paragraph (f) thereof, any person may accept delivery of, acquire, or use material for pumping or other artificial lifting equipment to be installed on any oil well in the designated area: Provided, That the number of wells on any lease or tract to which pumping or other artificial lifting equipment is attached does not at any time with respect to the productive acreage within the pool in which such well is completed exceed the average well density specified in Column No. 8 of Exhibit A opposite the name of such pool: Provided, further, That where no well density is prescribed in Column No. 8 of Exhibit A for a pool, the provisions of this paragraph (i) shall not extend to such pool.

(j) Filing of application for exceptions. All copies of application for exceptions pursuant to paragraphs (c) (10) and (g) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 covering a production operation within PAW District No. 5 together with the information required thereby shall be addressed to:

(1) The District Director of Production, District No. 5 where a crude oil operation including pressure maintenance, repressuring, and secondary recovery operations; or

(2) The District Director of Natural Gas and Natural Gasoline, District No. 5, for a natural gas, natural gasoline or condensate operation.

The application and information shall be filed in triplicate with the Petroleum Administration for War, Subway Terminal Building, Los Angeles, California, Ref: PAO 11.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(l) This order shall be effective on and after April 22, 1943.

[Public Proclamation 17]

ARMY PERSONNEL OF JAPANESE ANCESTRY ON WEST COAST

SUSPENSION OF RESTRICTIONS

APRIL 19, 1943.

Headquarters Western Defense Command and Fourth Army, Presidio of San Francisco, California.

To the people within the States of Washington, Oregon, California, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah and Arizona, and the public generally:

Whereas it appears desirable in the national interest to revise the restrictions governing the entry and movement of persons of Japanese ancestry within certain military areas of Western Defense Command as specified below, to permit such persons who are members of the Army of the United States on active duty or who have been inducted and are in uniform on furlough or leave, to enter and travel within Military Area No. 1 and that portion of Military Area No. 2 lying within the State of California while on such furlough or leave:

Now, therefore, I, J. L. DeWitt, Lieutenant General, U. S. Army, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the President of the United States and by the Secretary of War, and my powers and prerogatives as Commanding General, Western Defense Command, do hereby declare and proclaim that:

All terms and conditions of Public Proclamations, Civilian Exclusion Orders and Civilian Restrictive Orders, this headquarters, heretofore issued, governing the presence, entry and movements of persons of Japanese ancestry within said military areas of Western Defense Command are suspended in said military areas as to persons of Japanese ancestry who are members of the Army of the United States on active duty or who have been inducted and are in uniform while on furlough or leave.

[Docket No. A-1915]

SUNLIGHT COAL COMPANY

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of tax petition of District Board 11 for the establishment of temporary price classifications and minimum prices for the coals produced at a new pit operation at the Sunlight No. 11 Mine of the Sunlight Coal Company, a code member in District No. 11.

On March 22, 1943, an original petition was filed, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 by District Board 11, requesting the establishment of temporary price classifications and minimum prices for coals to be produced for shipment by both rail and truck from a new pit operation at the Sunlight No. 11 Mine, of the Sunlight Coal Company, Mine Index No. 87, located in District No. 11.

The District Board alleges that the new pit at the Sunlight No. 11 Mine is located in Warrick County in the Boonville Subdistrict of District No. 11, approximately a mile from the present operations of Sunlight No. 11 Mine; that the coal to be mined from said pit is identified as "Millersburg Vein" which is thought to be similar to the Standard Fifth Vein coals now mined in the same vicinity; and that the tipple and loading facilities at the Sunlight No. 11 Mine, located at Boonville, Indiana, on the Southern Railway will be utilized for the production from this pit. The District Board further alleges that it is unable at the present time to make a thorough investigation of the seam of coal to be mined at this pit and hence requests that temporary price classifications and minimum prices be established so that the Sunlight Coal Company may ship coals produced from the new pit at such temporary price classifications and minimum prices until such time as permanent price classifications and minimum prices may be established.

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That pending further order, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedules of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 11 for all shipments except truck, and for truck shipments are supplemented to include the price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the schedules marked Supplement R and Supplement T, annexed hereto and made a part hereof.[1]

An order scheduling a hearing to adduce facts upon which final relief in this matter may be based will be issued in due course.

Dated: April 10, 1943.

Director.

ALLOCATION OF FUNDS FOR LOANS

APRIL 8, 1943.

The allocation specified below was made by Executive Order under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935. It is now desired to change the allocation designation in accordance with the provisions of the amendment to General Order No. 84, dated August 15, 1941, the loan made to the Loup River Public Power District having been assumed by the Cornhusker Rural Public Power District. However, inasmuch as Executive Orders cannot be amended by Administrative Order, such allocation designation should for the purposes of our records be deemed to be changed as follows:

[Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised-20]

COORDINATED OPERATION BETWEEN POINTS IN MISSOURI

BYERS TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, INC.
CHURCHILL TRUCK LINES, INCORPORATED

Upon consideration of the application for authority to coordinate motor vehicle service in the transportation of property in less-than-truckload lots between points in Missouri, filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by Byers Transportation Company, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri, and Churchill Truck Lines, Incorporated, Meadville, Missouri, as governed by § 501.9 of General Order ODT 3, Revised, as amended, (7 F.R. 5445, 6689, 7694; 8 F.R. 4660), and

It appearing that such coordination is necessary in order to conserve and providently utilize vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies, and to assure the maximum utilization of such transportation equipment, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war; It is hereby ordered, That:

1. Byers Transportation Company,

8. Each of the carriers forthwith shall way, to Freer, Texas (except when either present war shall have been duly pro-amended, and Executive Order No. 9250,

It is ordered:

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed

1. Byers Transportation Company, Inc. shall:

(a) Discontinue the transportation of less-than-truckload shipments between Meadville, Missouri, and Bevier, Browning, Bucklin, Callao, Galt, Harris, Laclede, Laredo, Lemons, Linneus, Lucerne, Marceline, Milan, Newtown, New Cambria, Osgood, Pollock, Powersville, Purdin, Reger, Unionville, and Wheeling, Missouri and shall divert to Churchill Truck Lines, Incorporated, at Meadville, Missouri, all less-than-truckload shipments destined to such other points; and

(b) Accept from Churchill Truck Lines, Incorporated, at Meadville, Missouri, all shipments diverted to it pursuant hereto.

2 Churchill Truck Lines, Incorporated shall:

(a) Discontinue the transportation beyond Meadville of all less-than-truckload shipments originating at points named in paragraph one hereof and destined to St. Louis, Missouri, or routed through that gateway, and shall divert all such shipments to Byers Transportation Company, Inc., at Meadville, Missouri; and

(b) Accept from Byers Transportation Company, Inc., at Meadville, Missouri, all shipments diverted to it pursuant hereto.

3. The carrier to whom a shipment has been diverted shall forward such shipment pursuant to the lawfully applicable rates, charges, rules and regulations of the carrier issuing the bill of lading.

4. Byers Transportation Company, Inc. shall discontinue the use of a separate terminal at Meadville, Missouri; and the carriers shall use jointly the terminal now used by Churchill Truck Lines, Incorporated at that point.

5. Except as may be otherwise provided by agreement between the carriers, or prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission or by an appropriate State regulatory body, the division of revenues derived from the transportation performed pursuant hereto shall be as determined by the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The records of the carriers shall be available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by a representative of the Office of Defense Transportation.

7. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require either carrier named herein to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to permit either carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event compliance with any term of this order would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of either carrier named herein, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

8. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

9. Contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the terms of this order shall not extend beyond the effective period of this order.

10. Communications concerning this order should refer to "Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised—20", and should be addressed to the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C.

11. This Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised—20, shall become effective April 28, 1943, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of April 1943.

[Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised-21]

COORDINATED OPERATION BETWEEN ALICE AND FREER, TEXAS

BROWN EXPRESS, ET AL.

Upon consideration of the application for authority to coordinate motor vehicle service in the transportation of property from Alice, Texas, to Freer, Texas, filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by Brown Express, a corporation, of San Antonio, Texas, Alamo Freight Lines, Inc., a corporation, of San Antonio, Texas, J. H. Robinson Truck Lines, Incorporated, a corporation, of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Burdette A. Lay, doing business as (and hereinafter referred to as) Lay's Motor Freight Line, of Freer, Texas, as governed by § 501.9 of General Order ODT 3, Revised, as amended (7 F.R. 5445, 6689, 7694; 8 F.R. 4660), and

It appearing that such coordination is required in order to conserve and providently utilize materials and equipment, and to assure the maximum utilization of such materials and equipment, by reason whereof, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. Brown Express, Alamo Freight Lines, Inc. and J. H. Robinson Truck Lines, Incorporated, shall discontinue the transportation of shipments of property in less-than-truckload lots moving from Alice, Texas, or through that gateway, to Freer, Texas (except when either of such carriers shall have available a sufficient quantity of such shipments to load to capacity a vehicle, in which event it may perform such transportation); and shall divert such shipments to Lay's Motor Freight Line at Alice, Texas, for transportation from such point to Freer, Texas.

2. Lay's Motor Freight Line shall accept all shipments diverted to it at Alice, Texas, by Brown Express, Alamo Freight Lines, Inc. and J. H. Robinson Truck Lines, Incorporated, and shall transport such shipments over its route from Alice to Freer, Texas, pursuant to the lawful rates and the rules and regulations of the diverting carrier.

3. Except as may be otherwise provided by agreement between the carriers, or prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission or by any appropriate State regulatory body or bodies, the division of revenues derived from the transportation performed pursuant hereto shall be as determined by the Office of Defense Transportation.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier named herein to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event compliance with any term of this order would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

5. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs, or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible but not prior to the effective date of this order.

6. Contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the terms of this order shall not extend beyond the effective period of this order.

7. Communications concerning this order should be addressed to the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C., and should refer to "Supplementary Order ODT 3, Revised-21".

This order shall become effective April 28, 1943, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of April 1943.

(Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Modified cease and desist order, Hygienic Corporation of America, et al., Docket 3303, April 15, 1943]

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1943.

In the Matter of Hygienic Corporation of America, Hygienic Company of America, Merrill-Saunders Company, Ltd., Corporations, and Harold L. DeBar, Individually and Trading as American Health Association of Washington, D. C., Women's Advisory Bureau, Women's Co-operative Service, Protex-U-Hygienic Service, American Bureau of Hygiene, and Surete Laboratories

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondents, testimony and other evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the complaint taken before trial examiners of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, original and supplemental reports of the trial examiners upon the evidence, and original and supplemental briefs in support of the complaint (no brief having been filed on behalf of respondents and oral argument not having been requested); and the Commission having made its modified findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Hygienic Corporation of America, Hygienic Company of America, and Merrill-Saunders Company, Ltd., corporations, and their officers, and Harold L. DeBar, individually and trading as American Health Association of Washington, D. C., Women's Advisory Bureau, Women's Co-operative Service, Protex-U-Hygienic Service, American Bureau of Hygiene, and Surete Laboratories, or trading under any other name, and respondents' representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of respondents' so-called feminine hygiene preparations and appliances now designated as "Protex-U" and "Surete" and consisting principally of douche powder, ointment, jelly, syringe, applicator, and vaginal diaphragm, whether sold together or separately, or any other preparation composed of substantially similar ingredients or possessing substantially similar properties, or any other appliance possessing substantially similar characteristics, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing, directly or by implication, that any of said preparations or appliances, whether used alone or in conjunction with any other of said preparations or appliances, will prevent conception.

2. Representing, directly or by implication, that any of said preparations or appliances, whether used alone or in conjunction with any other of said preparations or appliances, possesses any therapeutic value in the treatment of delayed menstruation or any other ailment or disease peculiar to women.

3. Representing, directly or by implication, that any of said preparations or appliances, whether used alone or in conjunction with any other of said preparations or appliances, constitutes a competent or effective means or method for the destruction of germs in the female genital organs, or constitutes a competent or effective prophylactic.

4. Representing, directly or by implication, that respondents' appliances will fit all female anatomies.

5. Representing, through failure to reveal that the use of the appliance designated by respondents as "Health Shield" (vaginal syringe) is not wholly safe, or representing through any other means or device, or in any other manner, that such appliance may be used with safety or without injurious effects.

6. Representing, directly or by implication, that the respondents or their business activities are connected in any way with, or that any of respondents' products is approved by, the United States Public Health Service or any public health service.

7. Using the name "American Health Association," or "American Health Association of Washington, D. C.," or any other name of similar import or meaning, to designate or describe the respondents or their business.

8. Using the term "Nurse," or "Visiting Nurse," or any other term of similar import or meaning, to designate or describe respondents' solicitors or sales women; or otherwise representing, directly or by implication, that respondents' solicitors or saleswomen are nurses.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter 5—Federal Housing Administration

PART 501—CLASS 1 AND CLASS 2 PROPERTY IMPROVEMENT LOANS

PROVISION FOR PAYMENT

Amendment of § 501.3 of the regulations effective May 26, 1942, issued by the Federal Housing Commissioner in connection with property improvement loans under Title I of the National Housing Act as amended.

Part 501, § 501.3 of the regulations effective May 26, 1942, is hereby amended by adding a new paragraph (h) to read as follows:

(h) Loans made on and after April 20, 1943 and prior to September 1, 1943, the proceeds of which are used exclusively for (1) the conversion of heating equipment to the use of any other fuel, (2) the installation of loose-fill, blanket, or batt-type insulation, or insulating board, within existing structures, (3) the installation of storm doors, storm windows, or weather stripping, may provide for a first payment not later than November 1, 1943, unless a later first payment is permitted by section 3 of this regulation.

The amendments contained herein are hereby declared to have the same force and effect as if included in and made a part of each Contract of Insurance, and are effective April 20, 1943.

Issued at Washington, D. C., April 16, 1943.

[SEAL] ABNER H. FERGUSON, Federal Housing Commissioner.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter A—Income and Excess-Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5263]

PART 3—INCOME TAX UNDER THE REVENUE ACT OF 1936

ADDITIONAL CREDITS FOR UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS

In order to conform Regulations 94 [Part 3, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] to section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding Article 14–1 [§ 3.14–1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] the following:

SEC. 501. ADDITIONAL CREDITS FOR UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title V.)

(a) Amendments to the Revenue Act of 1936. (1) Section 14 (a) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1936 (relating to definition of undistributed net income) is amended to read as follows:

(2) The term "undistributed net income" means the adjusted net income minus the sum of (A) the dividend paid credit provided in section 27, (B) the credit provided in section 26 (c) relating to restrictions on payment of dividends, (C) except in cases where section 26 (c) (1) is applicable, the deficit credit provided in section 26 (f), and (D) the redemption credit provided in section 26 (g).

* * * * *

(b) Effective date of amendments. The amendments made by subsection (a) shall be effective as of the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1936.

* * * * *

PAR. 2. Article 14–1 [§ 3.14–1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by striking from the third paragraph thereof "and (b) the credit provided in section 26 (c), relating to contracts restricting the payment of dividends (see article 26–2)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(b) The credit provided in section 26 (c), relating to restrictions on payment of dividends (see article 26–2), (c) except where section 26 (c) (1) is applicable, the deficit credit provided in section 26 (f) (see article 26–4), and (d) the redemption credit provided in section 26 (g) (see article 26–5).

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding Article 26–1 [§ 3.26–1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] the following:

SEC. 501. ADDITIONAL CREDITS FOR UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title V.)

(a) Amendments to the Revenue Act of 1936. * * *

(2) Section 26 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1936 (relating to credits of corporations) is amended by amending the heading to read as follows: "(c) Restrictions on payment of dividends.—"; and by amending paragraph (3) to read as follows:

(3) Deficit corporations. In the case of a corporation having a deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of the close of the preceding taxable year, the amount of such deficit, if the corporation is prohibited by a provision of a law or of an order of a public regulatory body from paying dividends during the existence of a deficit in accumulated earnings and profits, and if such provision was in effect prior to May 1, 1936.

(4) Double credit not allowed. If more than one of the credits provided in the foregoing paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) apply, then the paragraph which allows the greatest credit shall be applied; and, if the credit allowable under each paragraph is the same, only one of such paragraphs shall be applied.

(3) Section 26 of the Revenue Act of 1936 (relating to the credits of corporations) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsections:

(f) Deficit credit. The amount by which the adjusted net income exceeds the sum of (1) the earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, as of the beginning of the taxable year, and (2) the earnings and profits of the taxable year (computed as of the close of the taxable year without diminution by reason of any distributions made during the taxable year). For the purposes of this subsection, earnings and profits of the taxable year shall be computed without diminution by the amount of the tax imposed under section 14, 102, 103, or 351 for such taxable year; and earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, as of the beginning of the taxable year, shall be diminished on account of the tax under section 14, 102, 103, or 351 for any previous taxable year only by the amount of such tax as computed under the amendments made by section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(g) Stock redemption credit. An amount equal to the portion of the recognized gain, realized within the taxable year and prior to March 3, 1956, from the sale or other disposition of a capital asset, which, pursuant to a contract, was distributed prior to such date to shareholders in redemption in whole or in part of preferred stock and which is not otherwise allowable as a credit under any other provision of this section or section 27.

(b) Effective date of amendments. The amendments made by subsection (a) shall be effective as of the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1936

(c) Overpayments. If the refund or credit of any overpayment for any taxable year, to the extent resulting from the application of this section, is prevented on the date of the enactment of this Act or within one year from such date, then, notwithstanding any other provision of law or rule of law (other than this subsection and other than section 3761 of the Internal Revenue Code or section 3229 of the Revised Statutes, or such section as amended by section 815 of the Revenue Act of 1938, relating to compromises), such overpayment shall be refunded or credited in the same manner as in the case of an income tax erroneously collected under the Revenue Act of 1936, if claim therefor is filed within one year from the date of the enactment of this Act.

PAR. 4. Article 26–2 [§ 3.26–2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the heading of the article to read as follows: "Credit in connection with restrictions on payment of dividends.—".

(B) By amending paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) The credit provided in section 26 (c) with respect to the restriction on the payment of dividends is not available under every contractual or statutory prohibition which might operate to restrict the payment of dividends, but only with respect to those provisions of a written contract, a law, or an order of a public regulatory body, as the case may be, which satisfies the conditions prescribed in the Act. The charter of a corporation does not constitute a written contract executed by the corporation within the meaning of section 26 (c). The restrictive provisions recognized by the Act are of three general types, as follows:

(1) Those which come within section 26 (c) (1), in that they prohibit or limit the payment of dividends during the taxable year;

ing a gain of $500,000 all of which is recog-

(3) Computation of net operating loss de-

1941 shall be reduced by the sum of the net

(2) Those which come within section 26 (c) (2), in that they require the payment, or irrevocable setting aside, within the taxable year, of a specified portion of the earnings and profits of the taxable year for the discharge of a debt incurred on or before April 30, 1936; and

(3) Those which come within section 26 (c) (3), in that they prohibit the distribution of dividends during the existence of a pre-existing deficit in earnings and profits.

If a corporation is restricted with respect to the payment of dividends by two or more contract provisions coming within section 26 (c) (1), only the largest of the credits computed with respect to each of such provisions, and not their sum, shall be allowable under section 26 (c) (1) and, for such purpose, if two or more credits are equal in amount, only one shall be taken into account. However, section 26 (c) (4) provides that if more than one of the credits provided in section 26 (c) (1), section 26 (c) (2) and section 26 (c) (3) apply, then the paragraph which allows the greatest credit shall be applied; and, if the credit allowable under each paragraph is the same, only one of such paragraphs shall be applied.

(C) By inserting a new paragraph (d) immediately after paragraph (c) to read as follows:

(d) Deficit corporations. Under the provisions of section 26 (c) (3), a corporation having a deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of the close of the preceding taxable year is allowed as a credit the amount of such deficit to the extent that the corporation is prohibited by a provision of a law or of an order of a public regulatory body from paying dividends during the existence of a deficit in accumulated earnings and profits, and if such provision was in effect prior to May 1, 1936.

Whether such a deficit exists as of the close of the preceding taxable year is a question to be determined from the facts and circumstances of each particular case. In any such case the taxpayer must show how the deficit arose, whether from operating losses, capital distributions in excess of earnings and profits, or other causes. In addition the taxpayer must show, under a law or an order of a public regulatory body, the extent to which it could not legally have paid dividends during the existence of such deficit. A State law, for example, might permit the payment of a dividend from unrealized appreciation in value of assets even though the corporation had a deficit in accumulated earnings and profits. A deficit in accumulated earnings and profits can arise only out of the operation of the business at a loss and cannot be caused by distributions to shareholders in excess of the amount of accumulated earnings and profits. If distributions are made to shareholders out of accumulated earnings and profits, however, such distributions may contribute to the creation of a deficit by so exhausting the accumulated earnings and profits that they are incapable of absorbing a loss thereafter resulting from the business. Unrealized appreciation or depreciation in value of assets is not a factor in determining accumulated earnings and profits.

The application of the provisions of section 26 (c) (3) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). The M Corporation for the calendar year 1936 had an adjusted net income of $200,000 but had an actual deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of December 31, 1935 of $20,000. By reason of a State law in effect prior to May 1, 1936, with respect to deficit corporations, the M Corporation was prohibited from paying dividends during the existence of such deficit. Under section 26 (c) (3), the M Corporation is allowed a credit of $20,000.

Example (2). Assume in the above example that the deficit in accumulated earnings and profits is $20,000 for income tax purposes, but the deficit on the corporation's books by reason of a prior capitalization of surplus in the course of a nontaxable reorganization amounts to $250,000. In this case, even though the State law might prevent the distribution of any dividends, the credit under section 26 (c) (3) is limited to $20,000, which is the deficit in accumulated earnings and profits for income tax purposes.

Example (3). If in the example (1) above there was, in addition to the deficit of $20,000, a contract executed prior to May 1, 1936 prohibiting the distribution of dividends in excess of $150,000, under section 26 (c) (1), the corporation would be entitled to a credit of $50,000 that being the amount of adjusted net income in excess of the amount which can be distributed as dividends without violating the contract. Since the credit of $50,000 allowable under section 26 (c) (1) is greater than the credit of $20,000 allowable under section 26 (c) (3), the former credit is the one to be used as provided by section 26 (c) (4).

PAR. 5. There is inserted immediately after article 26–3 [§ 3.26–3, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] the following:

ART. 26–4 [§ 3.26–4, Title 3, Code of Federal Regulations, 1943 Sup.] Deficit credit. Section 26 (f) is designed to be used particularly in those cases where the surtax on undistributed profits cannot be avoided because the corporation has adjusted net income but has no accumulated earnings and profits at the beginning of the year and no earnings and profits of the taxable year on account of certain unallowable deductions, such as capital losses. In such a case a credit is allowed in the amount by which the adjusted net income exceeds the sum of the earnings and profits, if any, accumulated after February 28, 1913 (as of the beginning of the taxable year) and those of the taxable year, computed as of the close of such year, without regard to distributions made during the year, or to the amount of the surtax on undistributed profits imposed under section 14, the graduated income tax or surtax imposed under section 102, the tax on citizens and corporations of certain foreign countries imposed under section 103, or the surtax on personal holding companies imposed under section 351, for the taxable year. In computing earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year accumulated after February 28, 1913, the taxes just mentioned for any previous taxable year are to be deducted only as computed under the amendments provided by section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1942. If there is a deficit in the accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year, or for the taxable year, such deficit shall not be taken into consideration in determining the credit allowable under section 26 (f), and in such a case the earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year, or the earnings and profits of the taxable year, shall be considered as zero.

The application of the provisions of section 26 (f) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). The M Corporation on the accrual basis for the calendar year 1936 had a gross income of $300,000, miscellaneous deductions of $106,000, capital losses of $92,000 of which only $2,000 were deductible due to the provisions of section 117 (d), and a normal tax liability under section 13 of $28,840. Its adjusted net income was therefore $171,160 ($300,000, less $106,000 less $2,000 less $28,840) while its earnings and profits of the taxable year computed after deducting the normal tax imposed by section 13 for such year but without diminution by the amount of the tax imposed for such year by section 14, 102, 103 or 351, were $73,160 ($300,000 less $106,000 less $92,000 less $28,840). Assuming that the corporation had no accumulated earnings and profits as of December 31, 1935, it is allowed, in computing its undistributed net income subject to tax under section 14, a credit under section 26 (f) of $98,000, the amount by which the adjusted net income of $171,160 exceeds the earnings and profits of the taxable year.

Example (2). If in the above example there was a contract in existence prior to May 1, 1936, under which the M Corporation could not distribute dividends in excess of $150,000 during the calendar year 1936, section 26 (c) (1) is applicable and allows a credit of $98,000, namely, an amount equal to the excess of the adjusted net income, $171,160, over the aggregate of the amounts which can be distributed within the taxable year as dividends, $73,160. Accordingly, the credit allowable under section 26 (f) is inapplicable.

Example (3). Assume in example (1) that the M Corporation had a deficit of $20,000 in accumulated earnings and profits as of December 31, 1935, and that the State law prohibited dividend distributions during the existence of a deficit in accumulated earnings and profits. In addition to the deficit credit of $98,000 provided in section 26 (f), the M Corporation, under paragraph (3) of section 26 (c) is allowed a credit of $20,000, the amount of the deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of December 31, 1935.

ART. 26–5 [§ 3.26–5, Title 3, Code of Federal Regulations, 1943 Sup.] Stock redemption credit. Under the provisions of section 26 (g) a credit is allowed in an amount equal to the portion of the recognized gain, realized in the taxable year and prior to March 3, 1936, from the sale or other disposition of a capital asset and which, pursuant to a contract, was distributed prior to March 3, 1936 to shareholders, in partial or complete redemption of preferred stock and which is not otherwise allowable as a credit under any other provision of section 26 or section 27.

The application of the provisions of section 26 (g) may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. The M Corporation sold a capital asset in February, 1936, for $1,030,000 realizing a gain of $500,000 all of which is recognized in computing net income. The sale was made pursuant to a contract which required that the proceeds would be used to retire certain preferred stock. Prior to March 3, 1936, and within the taxable year, the proceeds of such sale in the amount of $1,000,000 were used to retire such preferred stock. The M Corporation is allowed a stock redemption credit under section 26 (g) of $500,000, the amount of the recognized gain used in the retirement of such stock.

ART. 26–6 [§ 3.26–6, Title 3, Code of Federal Regulations, 1943 Sup.] Overpayments. If, as a result of the application of section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to additional credits for undistributed profits tax for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1935, and prior to January 1, 1938, any overpayment is established or determined with respect to such tax for any such taxable years and a claim is filed within one year after October 21, 1942, for the credit or refund of such overpayment, and if, on October 21, 1942, or within one year thereafter, such credit or refund would otherwise be prevented, then notwithstanding any other provision of law or rule of law (other than section 501 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942, and other than the following sections relating to compromises: section 3761 of the Internal Revenue Code or section 3229 of the Revised Statutes, or such section as amended by section 815 of the Revenue Act of 1938), such overpayment shall be refunded or credited in the same manner as in the case of an income tax erroneously collected under the Revenue Act of 1936.

(Sec. 62 of the Revenue Act of 1936 (49 Stat. 1673; 26 U.S.C. 62) and sec. 501 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Cong.))

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

NET OPERATING LOSS DEDUCTION

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.] to section 105 (e) (3) and section 153 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.122–1 the following:

SEC. 105. TAX ON CORPORATIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * * * *

(c) Technical amendments made necessary by change in base for corporate tax—

* * * * * *

(3) Computation of net operating loss deduction. Section 122 (relating to net operating loss) is amended as follows:

(A) Subsection (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Definition of net operating loss. As used in this section, the term "net operating loss" means the excess of the deductions allowed by this chapter over the gross income, with the exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in subsection (d).

(B) Subsection (c) is amended by striking out the parenthesis at the end thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and without the credit provided in section 26 (c)).

(C) Subsection (d) is amended by striking out "exceptions and limitations" and inserting in lieu thereof "exceptions, additions, and limitations" and by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(6) There shall be allowed as a deduction the amount of tax imposed by Subchapter E of Chapter 2 paid or accrued within the taxable year, subject to the following rules—

(A) No reduction in such tax shall be made by reason of the credits for income, war-profits, or excess-profits taxes paid to any foreign country or possession of the United States;

(B) Such tax shall be computed without regard to the adjustments provided in section 734; and

(C) Such tax, in the case of a consolidated return for excess-profits tax purposes, shall be allocated to the members of the affiliated group under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

SEC. 153. TWO-YEAR CARRY-BACK OF NET OPERATING LOSSES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Determination of carry-back. Section 122 (b) (relating to the amount of the net operating loss carry-over), is amended to read as follows:

(b) Amount of carry-back and carry-over—

(1) Net operating loss carry-back. If for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer has a net operating loss, such net operating loss shall be a net operating loss carry-back for each of the two preceding taxable years, except that the carry-back in the case of the first preceding taxable year shall be the excess, if any, of the amount of such net operating loss over the net income for the second preceding taxable year computed (A) with the exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in subsection (d) (1), (2), (4), and (6), and (B) by determining the net operating loss deduction for such second preceding taxable year without regard to such net operating loss.

(2) Net operating loss carry-over. If for any taxable year the taxpayer has a net operating loss, such net operating loss shall be a net operating loss carry-over for each of the two succeeding taxable years, except that the carry-over in the case of the second succeeding taxable year shall be the excess, if any, of the amount of such net operating loss over the net income for the intervening taxable year computed (A) with the exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in subsection (d) (1), (2), (4), and (6), and (B) by determining the net operating loss deduction for such intervening taxable year without regard to such net operating loss and without regard to any net operating loss carry-back. For the purposes of the preceding sentence, the net operating loss for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 shall be reduced by the sum of the net income for each of the two preceding taxable years (computed for each such preceding taxable year with the exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in subsection (d) (1), (2), (4), and (6)), and computed by determining the net operating loss deduction without regard to such net operating loss or to the net operating loss for the succeeding taxable year).

(b) Amount of net operating loss deduction. Section 122 (c), relating to the amount of the net operating loss deduction, is amended by inserting in lieu of "amount of the net operating loss carry-over" the following: "aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and of the net operating carry-backs to the taxable year".

(c) Section 122 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) No carry-back to year prior to 1941. As used in this section, the term "preceding taxable year" and the term "preceding taxable years" do not include any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1941.

(d) Limitation on interest on overpayment caused by a carry-back of loss or credit. Section 3771 (relating to interest on overpayments) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following:

(e) Claims based on carry-back of loss or credit. If the Commissioner determines that any part of an overpayment is attributable to the inclusion in computing the net operating loss deduction for the taxable year of any part of the net operating loss for a succeeding taxable year or to the inclusion in computing the unused excess profits credit adjustment for the taxable year of any part of the unused excess profits credit for a succeeding taxable year, no interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to such part of the overpayment for any period before the filing of a claim for credit or refund of such part of the overpayment or the filing of a petition with the Board, which ever is earlier.

(e) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

PAR. 2. Section 19.122–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first two paragraphs of paragraph (a), and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 122 provides the rules for the computation of the net operating loss deduction allowed by section 23 (s). The net operating loss deduction is, for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941, the net operating loss carry-over, and, for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1941, the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to the taxable year, reduced in each case by certain adjustments to prevent the deduction of losses absorbed by income not taxed.

For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941, the net operating loss carry-over which is the basis for determining the net operating loss deduction for such a taxable year is, in general, the sum of the net operating losses, if any, for the two preceding taxable years. If there is net income (computed as provided in section 122) in the first preceding taxable year, the net operating loss for the second preceding taxable year is reduced to the extent such loss has been absorbed by such net income. The net operating loss deduction is first available for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, and the first taxable year from which a net operating loss may be carried over is one beginning after December 31, 1938. Ordinarily, the carry-over to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1941, will be only a one-year carry-over. The only exception is in the case of the intervention of more than one complete taxable period between December 31, 1938, and the beginning of such taxable year.

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1941, section 122, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, provides that the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to such a taxable year shall be the basis of the net operating loss deduction. For the purpose of determining such carry-overs, the net operating loss for any taxable year may be carried over to the two succeeding taxable years. If the taxable year began on or after January 1, 1942, the net operating loss for such taxable year may also be carried back to the two preceding taxable years, not considering as a preceding taxable year any year which began before January 1, 1941. The amount of the net operating loss which may be carried back or carried over to any taxable year is the net operating loss to the extent it was not absorbed by the net income for the other taxable years, preceding such taxable year, to which it was carried back or carried over. If the net operating losses for several taxable years are carried back or carried over to one taxable year, they are considered to be applied in reduction of the net income for such taxable year in the order of the taxable years from which such losses are carried over or carried back, beginning with the loss for the earliest taxable year. Therefore, the net operating loss carry-overs to a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1941, are the net operating loss for the first preceding taxable year and so much of the net operating loss for the second preceding taxable year as has not been absorbed by the net income (computed under section 122), if any, for the first preceding taxable year, and the net operating loss carry-backs to such a taxable year are the net operating loss for the second succeeding taxable year and so much of the net operating loss for the first succeeding taxable year as has not been absorbed by the net income (computed under section 122), if any, for the first preceding taxable year. If either of the taxable years preceding the taxable year for which the deduction is allowed began on or after January 1, 1942, the net operating loss for such preceding taxable year is first reduced to the extent it has been absorbed by the net income (computed under section 122), if any, for the taxable years in which such loss has been carried back.

A fractional part of a year which is a taxable year under section 48 (a) is a preceding or succeeding taxable year for the purpose of determining under section 122 the first, second, or third preceding taxable year or the first or second succeeding taxable year.

(B) By striking out the first word of the second sentence of paragraph (b), and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941, the".

(C) By inserting at the end of paragraph (b) the following sentences:

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1941, the first step is the computation of the net operating loss, if any, for the two preceding taxable years and for the two succeeding taxable years, not including as a succeeding taxable year a year which begins before January 1, 1942. The second is the computation of the net operating loss carry-overs to the taxable year from such preceding taxable years and the computation of the net operating loss carry-backs to the taxable year from such succeeding taxable years. The third is the conversion of the aggregate of such net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs into the net operating loss deduction.

(D) By inserting at the end of such section the following new paragraph:

(c) Ascertainment of deduction dependent upon net operating loss carry-back. If, for any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1941, the taxpayer is entitled in computing his net operating loss deduction to a carry-back which he is not able to ascertain at the time his return is due, he shall compute the net operating loss deduction on the return without regard to such net operating loss carry-back. When the taxpayer ascertains the net operating loss carry-back, he may within the applicable period of limitations file a claim for credit or refund of the overpayment, if any, resulting from the failure to compute the net operating loss deduction for the taxable year with the inclusion of such carry-back. Under the provisions of section 3771 (e), as added by section 153 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1942, no interest is allowed with respect to any such overpayment for the period prior to the filing of the claim for credit or refund of such overpayment or prior to the filing of a petition with the Board of Tax Appeals asserting such overpayment, whichever is earlier. If the taxpayer files a claim based upon the overpayment caused by a carry-back from the first succeeding taxable year, and later ascertains that he is entitled to a carry-back from the second succeeding taxable year, he should file a second claim for credit or refund based on the overpayment, if any, caused by the failure to take into account the carry-back from such second succeeding taxable year.

PAR. 3. Section 19.122–2, as amended by Treasury Decision 5217, approved January 19, 1943, is further amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately following "exceptions" in the first sentence thereof the following: ", additions,".

(B) By striking out "and" at the end of subparagraph (3) of the first paragraph, and by striking out the period at the end of subparagraph (4) and inserting in lieu thereof "; and" and the following new subparagraph:

(5) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, there shall be allowed as a deduction the amount of excess profits tax imposed by subchapter E of chapter 2 paid or accrued within the taxable year, subject, however, to the provisions of section 122 (d) (6) (A), (B), and (C).

PAR. 4. Section 19.122–4, as amended by Treasury Decision 5217, is further amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately before the period at the end of the heading thereof the following: "to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941".

(B) By striking the first word of the first sentence, and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: 'For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941 the".

(C) By inserting immediately after (3) of (a) the following sentence:

If a first, second, or third preceding taxable year is a taxable year which begins before January 1, 1939, the net operating loss, if any, for such taxable year shall not be taken into account in the above computations.

(D) By inserting after "exceptions" in the first sentence of the second paragraph thereof the following: ", additions,".

(E) By striking out the third sentence of the second paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

A taxpayer, other than a corporation, however, shall apply only the first four exceptions and limitations specified in § 19.122–3 (a) and, in lieu of the last three exceptions and limitations there specified, is required only to restrict the amount of his deductions for long-term and short-term capital losses to the amount of his long-term and short-term capital gains, respectively.

(F) By striking out that part of paragraph (a) which follows the second paragraph thereof.

(G) By striking out that part of paragraph (b) which follows paragraph (4) thereof.

PAR. 5. Section 19.122–5, as amended by Treasury Decision 5057, approved July 2, 1941, is renumbered as § 19.122–6, and there is inserted immediately after § 19.122–4 the following new section:

§ 19.122–5 Computation of net operating loss carry-overs and net operating loss carry-backs to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1941—(a) In general. For a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1941, the aggregate of any net operating loss carry-overs and any net operating loss carry-backs to such taxable year shall be the basis of the net operating loss deduction. In order to compute such deduction, the taxpayer must first determine the part of any net operating losses for the two preceding taxable years which are carry-overs to the current taxable year, and the part of any net operating losses for the two succeeding taxable years which are carry-backs to the current taxable year.

Under section 122, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, the net operating loss for any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1942, may be carried back to the two preceding taxable years (except any such taxable year which began before January 1, 1941) and may be carried over to the two succeeding taxable years. The net operating loss for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941, may be carried over to the two succeeding taxable years, regardless of whether such year begins before, on, or after January 1, 1941. The amount which is so carried back or carried over to any taxable year is the net operating loss to the extent it was not absorbed in the computation of the net income for other taxable years, preceding such taxable year, to which it was carried back or carried over. For the purpose of determining the net income for a taxable year which so absorbs the net operating loss that is carried back or carried over, the various net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to such taxable year are considered to be applied in reduction of the net income for such taxable year in the order of the taxable years from which such losses are carried over or carried back, beginning with the loss for the earliest taxable year.

(b) Portion of net operating loss which is a carry-over or a carry-back to the current taxable year. The net operating loss sustained in any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942 may be carried over to such of the two succeeding taxable years as begin on or after January 1, 1941. The entire net operating loss may be carried over to the first succeeding taxable year, and the carry-over to the second succeeding taxable year (whether or not the first succeeding taxable year began on or after January 1, 1941) is the excess of the net operating loss over the net income, if any, for the first succeeding taxable year (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section). For example, the taxpayer had a net operating loss of $10,000 in 1939. It had a 1940 net income of $6,000 (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section). The carry-over from 1939 to 1941 is $4,000, the excess of the $10,000 loss over the $6,000 net income for 1940.

The net operating loss sustained in any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1942 may be carried back to the two preceding taxable years (not considering as a preceding taxable year a year beginning prior to January 1, 1941) and may be carried over to the two succeeding taxable years. The entire net operating loss may be carried back to the second preceding taxable year. However, if the second preceding taxable year began before January 1, 1941, no part of the net operating loss may be carried back to such taxable year, and the net income for such taxable year does not reduce the amount of the net operating loss which may be carried back or carried over to the other taxable years. The net operating loss, to the extent it exceeds the net income, if any, (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section) for the second preceding taxable year, may then be carried back to the first preceding taxable year. To the extent that the net operating loss exceeds the aggregate of the net income, if any, (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section) for the two preceding taxable years, it may be carried over to the first succeeding taxable year. To the extent that the net operating loss exceeds the aggregate of the net income, if any, (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section) for the two preceding taxable years and for the first succeeding taxable year, it may be carried over to the second succeeding taxable year.

Example. The taxpayer has a net operating loss of $100,000 in 1943. It has net income (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section) as follows: $10,000 in 1941, $15,000 in 1942, $35,000 in 1944, and $60,000 in 1945. The net operating loss carry-back from 1943 to 1941 is $100,000, an amount equal to the full net operating loss. The carry-back to 1942 is $90,000, the excess of the $100,000 net operating loss over the $10,000 net income for 1941 (computed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section). The carry-over to 1944 is $75,000, the excess of the $100,000 net operating loss over the aggregate of the $10,000 net income for 1941 and the $15,000 net income for 1942 (computed in each instance as provided in paragraph (c) of this section). The carry-over to 1945 is $40,000, the excess of the $100,000 net operating loss over the aggregate of the $10,000 net income for 1941, the $15,000 net income for 1942, and the $35,000 net income for 1944 (computed in each instance as provided in paragraph (c) of this section).

(c) Computation of net income which is subtracted from net operating loss to determine carry-back or carry-over. The net income for any taxable year which is subtracted from the net operating loss for another taxable year to determine the portion of such net operating loss which is a carry-back or carry-over to a particular taxable year as provided in paragraph (b) of this section is computed with the following adjustments:

(1) The net operating loss deduction for such taxable year is computed by taking into account only such net operating losses otherwise allowable as carry-overs or carry-backs to such taxable year as were sustained in taxable years preceding the taxable year in which the taxpayer sustained the net operating loss from which the net income is to be deducted.

Example. In computing the net operating loss deduction for 1945, the taxpayer has a carry-over from 1944 of $6,000, a carry-back from 1946 of $18,000, and a carry-back from 1947 of $14,000, or an aggregate of $47,000 in carry-overs and carry-backs which is the basis for the deduction. In computing the net income for 1945 which is deducted from the net operating loss for 1946 in order to determine the portion of such net operating loss which may be carried over to 1947 or 1948, the net operating loss deduction for 1945 is computed without taking into account the $18,000 carry-back from 1946 or the $14,000 carry-back from 1947.

The net operating loss deduction for 1945 is, for the purposes of such computation, the aggregate of the $9,000 carry-over from 1943 and the $6,000 carry-over from 1944, or $15,000, adjusted as provided in § 19.122-6 (relating to the conversion of the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to the taxable year into the net operating loss deduction).

In computing the net income for 1945 which is deducted from the net operating loss for 1947 in order to determine the portion of such loss which may be carried back to 1946 and carried over to 1948 and 1949, the net operating loss deduction for 1945 is computed without taking into account the $14,000 carry-back from 1947, and as so computed is the aggregate of the $9,000 carry-over from 1943, the $6,000 carry-over from 1944, and the $18,000 carry-back from 1946, or $33,000, adjusted as provided in § 19.122–6.

(2) In the case of a corporation, the net income shall be computed in accordance with the exceptions, additions, and limitations applicable in the computation of a net operating loss (see § 19.122–2), except that the net operating loss deduction shall be allowed to the extent provided in paragraph (1) above.

(3) In the case of a taxpayer other than a corporation, the net income shall be computed in accordance with the first four exceptions, additions, and limitations specified in § 19.122–3 (a), except that the net operating loss deduction shall be allowed to the extent provided in paragraph (1) above. In lieu of the last three exceptions specified in § 19.122–3 (a), the taxpayer is required only (i) for a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, to restrict the amount of his deductions for long-term and short-term capital losses to the amount of his long-term and short-term capital gains, respectively, and (ii) for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1942, to restrict the amount of his deduction for capital losses to the amount of his capital gains. The ordinary non-business deductions are allowed in full if otherwise allowable by law. The exceptions and limitations dependent upon the distinction between business and non-business items of gross income and deductions are not applicable in the computation of the net income to be subtracted in computing carry-backs and carry-overs.

(4) Any deduction which is limited in amount to a percentage of the taxpayer's net income shall be recomputed upon the basis of the net income determined with the adjustments prescribed in the preceding paragraphs.

(5) The net income, as adjusted, shall in no case be considered less than zero.

(d) Illustration of computation of net operating loss carry-backs and carry-overs. The application of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. The taxpayer is a corporation making its income tax returns on the calendar year basis. It had no net operating loss in 1939 or 1940, or in 1948 or 1949. Its net income, computed without any net operating loss deduction (it being assumed that none of the other adjustments provided in paragraph (c) of this section is applicable), was $21,000 in 1941, $35,000 in 1942, $36,000 in 1946, and $85,000 in 1947. It sustained net operating losses as follows: $25,000 in 1943, $5,000 in 1944, and $40,000 in 1945. It is assumed for the purposes of this example that the application of § 19.122-6 does not cause any reduction in the amount of the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to any taxable year, so that such aggregate is the net operating loss deduction for such taxable year.

(1) The portions of the $25,000 net operating loss for 1943 which may be used as carry-backs to 1941 and 1942 and as carry-overs to 1944 and 1945 are computed as follows:

(i) For 1941, the carry-back is $25,000, that is, the amount of the net operating loss.

(ii) For 1942, the carry-back is $5,000, that is, the excess of the $25,000 net operating loss over the $20,000 net income for 1941 (such net income being determined without any net operating loss deduction since there is no carry-over to 1941 from 1939 or 1940 and no carry-back from 1942, and the carry-back from 1943 is not taken into account).

(iii) For 1944 and 1945, there is no carry-over of the net operating loss for 1943 since such loss does not exceed $55,000, the sum of the net incomes for the two taxable years preceding 1943 computed as provided in paragraph (c) (the $20,000 net income for 1941 and the $35,000 net income for 1942, there being no net operating loss deduction for either taxable year since the carry-backs from 1943 and from 1944 are not taken into account).

(2) The portions of the $50,000 net operating loss from 1944 which may be used as carry-backs to 1942 and 1943 and as carry-overs to 1945 and 1946 are computed as follows:

(i) For 1942, the carry-back is $50,000, that is, the amount of the net operating loss.

(ii) For 1943, the carry-back is $20,000, that is, the excess of the $50,000 net operating loss over the $30,000 net income for 1942 (the $35,000 income for 1942 reduced by the $5,000 carry-back from 1943, the carry-back from 1944 not being taken into account).

(iii) For 1945, the carry-over is $20,000, that is, the excess of the $50,000 net operating loss over $30,000, the sum of the $30,000 net income for 1942 (computed with the deduction of the $5,000 carry-back from 1943 and without the deduction of the carry-back from 1944) and the $0 net income for 1943 (a year in which a net operating loss was sustained).

(iv) For 1946, the carry-over is $20,000, that is, the excess of the $50,000 net operating loss over $30,000, the sum of the $30,000 net income for 1942 (computed with the deduction of the $5,000 carry-back from 1943 and without the deduction of the carry-back from 1944) and the $0 net income for 1943 and 1945 (years in which net operating losses were sustained).

(3) The portions of the $40,000 net operating loss for 1945 which may be used as carry-backs to 1943 and 1944 and as carry-overs to 1946 and 1947 are computed as follows:

(i) For 1943, the carry-back is $40,000, that is, the amount of the net operating loss.

(ii) For 1944, the carry-back is $40,000, that is, the excess of the $40,000 net operating loss for 1945 over $0, the net income for 1943 (a year, in which a net operating loss was sustained).

(iii) For 1946, the carry-over is $40,000, that is, the excess of the $40,000 net operating loss for 1945 over $0, the sum of the net incomes for 1943 and 1944 (years in which net operating losses were sustained).

(iv) For 1947, the carry-over is $30,000, that is, the excess of the $40,000 net operating loss for 1945 over $10,000, the sum of the $0 net incomes for 1943 and 1944 and the $10,000 net income for 1946 (such net income for 1946 being computed as the $30,000 income reduced by the net operating loss carry-over of $20,000 from 1944, the $40,000 carry-over to 1946 from 1945 not being taken into account).

For 1941, the net operating loss deduction is determined to be $25,000, that is, the carry-back from 1943.

For 1942, the net operating loss deduction is determined to be $55,000, that is, the aggregate of the carry-back of $5,000 from 1943 and of the carry-back of $50,000 from 1944.

For 1946, the net operating loss deduction is determined to be $60,000, that is, the aggregate of the $20,000 carry-over from 1944 and the $40,000 carry-over from 1945.

For 1947, the net operating loss deduction is determined to be $30,000, that is, the carry-over from 1945.

(e) Joint return by husband and wife. If a husband and wife making a joint return for any taxable year did not make a joint return for any of the taxable years involved in the computation of a net operating loss carry-over or a net operating loss carry-back to the taxable year for which the joint return is made, such separate net operating loss carry-over or separate net operating loss carry-back is a joint net operating loss carry-over or joint net operating loss carry-back to such taxable year.

If a husband and wife making a joint return for a taxable year made a joint return for each of the taxable years involved in the computation of a net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-back to such taxable year, the joint net operating loss carry-over or joint net operating loss carry-back to such taxable year is computed in the same manner as the net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-back of an individual under the preceding paragraphs of this section but upon the basis of the joint net operating losses and the combined net income of both spouses.

If a husband and wife making separate returns for a taxable year made a joint return for any or all of the taxable years involved in the computation of a net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-back, the separate net operating loss carry-over or separate net operating loss carry-back of each spouse to the taxable year is computed in the manner set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this section, but with the following exceptions and limitations:

(1) The net operating loss of each spouse for a taxable year for which a joint return was made shall be deemed to be the portion of the joint net operating loss (computed in accordance with § 19.122–3 (e)) attributable to the gross income and deductions of such spouse, both gross income and deductions being taken into account to the same extent that they are taken into account in computing the joint net operating loss.

(2) The net income of a particular spouse for any taxable year which is subtracted from the net operating loss of such spouse for another taxable year in order to determine the amount of such loss which may be carried back or carried over to still another taxable year is deemed to be, in a case in which such net income was reported in a joint return, the sum of the following:

(i) The portion of the combined net income of both spouses for such year for which the joint return was made which is attributable to the gross income and deductions of the particular spouse, both gross income and deductions being taken into account to the same extent that they are taken into account in computing such combined net income, and

(ii) The portion of such combined net income attributable to the other spouse, but if such other spouse has a taxable year beginning on the same date as the taxable year in which the particular spouse sustained the net operating loss from which the net income is subtracted, and if such other spouse sustained a net operating loss in such taxable year, then such portion shall first be reduced by such net operating loss of such other spouse. However, such net operating loss of such other spouse shall first be diminished by the excess if any, of the reduction provided in section 122 (c) for the year in which the net income was realized over the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and net operating loss carry-backs which are taken into account in computing the net operating loss deduction for such taxable year (see subdivision (b) of the next sentence).

For the purposes of (i) and (ii) above, the combined net income shall be computed as though the combined income and deductions of both spouses were those of one individual, and in such computation—

(a) The exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in section 122 (d) (1), (2), and (4) shall apply, and

(b) The net operating loss deduction shall be determined without taking into account any net operating loss of either spouse or any joint net operating loss of both spouses which was sustained in a taxable year beginning on or after the date of the beginning of the taxable year in which the particular spouse sustained the net operating loss from which the net income is subtracted.

In the following examples, which illustrate subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, its is assumed that there are no items of adjustment under section 122 (d) (1), (2), and (4), and the net income or loss in each case is the net income or loss determined without any net operating loss deduction. The taxpayers in each example, H, a husband, and W, his wife, report their income on the calendar year basis.

Example (1). H and W filed joint returns for 1941 and 1942. They sustained a joint net operating loss of $1,000 for 1941 and a joint net operating loss of $2,000 for 1942. For 1941, the deductions of H exceeded his gross income by $700, and the deductions of W exceeded her gross income by $300, the total of such amounts being $1,000. Therefore, $700 of the $1,000 joint net operating loss for 1941 is considered the net operating loss of H for 1941, and $300 of such joint net operating loss is considered the net operating loss of W for 1941. For 1942 the gross income of H exceeded his deductions, so that his separate net income would be $1,500, and the deductions of W exceeded her gross income by $3,500. Therefore, all of the $2,000 joint net operating loss for 1942 is considered the separate net operating loss of W for 1942.

Example (2). H and W filed joint returns for 1939 and 1941, and separate returns for 1940 and 1942. For such years they had net incomes and net operating losses as follows:

	1939	1940	1941	1942
H	$5,000 (loss)	$2,500 (loss)	$6,500 (income)	$4,000 (loss).
W	$3,000 (loss)	$2,000 (income)	$3,000 (income)	$1,500 (loss).
	$8,000 (joint loss)		$9,500 (combined income).

The net operating loss carry-over of H from 1942 to 1943 is $4,000, that is, his $4,000 net operating loss for 1942 which is not reduced by any part of the net income for 1941, since none of such net income is attributable to H and the portion attributable to W is entirely offset by her separate net operating loss deduction for her taxable year 1942, which taxable year begins on the same date as H's taxable year 1942. The determination of the amount ($0) of net income for 1941 which reduces H's net operating loss for 1942 is made as follows:

The combined net income of $9,500 for 1941 is reduced to $1,000 by the net operating loss deduction for such year of $8,500. This net operating loss deduction is computed without taking into account any net operating loss sustained in a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1942, the date of the beginning of the taxable year in which H sustained the net operating loss which is a carry-over to 1943. This $8,500 amount is composed of H's carry-overs of $5,000 from 1939 and $2,500 from 1940, or a total of $7,500 and of W's carry-over of $1,000 from 1939 (the excess of W's $3,000 loss for 1939 over her $2,000 income for 1940). None of the $1,000 combined net income for 1941 (computed with the net operating loss deduction as described above) is attributable to H since it is caused by W's income (computed after deducting her separate carry-over) offsetting H's loss (computed by deducting from his income his separate carry-overs). No part of the $1,000 net income for 1941 which is attributable to W is used to reduce H's net operating loss for 1942 since such net income attributable to W must first be reduced by W's $1,500 net operating loss for 1942 her taxable year beginning on the same date as the taxable year of H in which he sustained the net operating loss from which the net income is subtracted.

The net operating loss carry-over of W from 1942 to 1943 is $500, her $1,500 loss reduced by the $1,000 net income for 1941, computed in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph, since all of such net income is attributable to her.

Example (3). Assume the same facts as in example (2), except that for 1942 the net operating loss of W is $200 instead of $1,500.

The net operating loss carry-over of H from 1942 to 1943 is $3,200, that is, his $4,000 net operating loss reduced by $800 of the net income for 1941, computed as follows:

The combined net income for 1941, computed with the net operating loss deduction in the manner described in example (2), remains $1,000, no part of which is attributable to H. To the $0 net income attributable to H there is added $800, the excess of the $1,000 net income attributable to W over her $200 net operating loss sustained in 1942, a taxable year beginning on the same date (January 1, 1942) as the taxable year of H (1942) in which he sustained the $4,000 net operating loss from which the net income is subtracted. See paragraph (2) (ii) above.

W has no net operating loss carry-over from 1942 to 1943 since her net operating loss of $200 for 1942 does not exceed the $1,000 net income for 1941 attributable to her.

Example (4). Assume the same facts as in example (2) except that W changes her accounting period in 1942 to a fiscal year ending on January 31, and has neither income nor losses for the taxable year January 1, 1942 to January 31, 1942, but has a net operating loss of $200 for the fiscal year February 1, 1942 to January 31, 1943.

The net operating loss carry-over of H from 1942 to 1943 is $3,000, that is, his net operating loss of $4,000 for 1942 reduced by the $1,000 net income for 1941, computed as follows:

The combined net income for 1941, computed with the net operating loss deduction in the manner described in example (2), remains $1,000, no part of which is attributable to H. To the $0 net income attributable to H there is added the $1,000 net income attributable to W. The net income attributable to W is not reduced by any amount since she does not have a net operating loss for her taxable year beginning on January 1, 1942, the date of the beginning of the taxable year of H in which he sustained the $4,000 net operating loss from which the net income is deducted.

The net operating loss carry-over of W from the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1942 to her next fiscal year is $200, her net operating loss for such year. This net operating loss is not reduced by any amount of net income for 1941, since there is no net income for 1941 when computed for the purpose of determining the carry-over of W's net operating loss for her fiscal year beginning February 1, 1942. For such purpose, the net income of $9,500 for 1941 is reduced to $0 by the net operating loss deduction for such year of $12,500, computed without taking into account any net operating loss sustained in a taxable year beginning on or after February 1, 1942, the date of the beginning of the taxable year in which W sustained the net operating loss which is the basis for the carry-over. This $12,500 amount is composed of H's carry-overs of $5,000 from 1939 and $2,500 from 1940, and his carry-back of $4,000 from 1942 (the calendar year beginning January 1, 1942), and of W's carry-over of $1,000 from 1939 (the excess of her $3,000 loss for 1939 over her $2,000 income for 1940).

If a husband and wife making a joint return for any taxable year made a joint return for one or more but not all of the taxable years involved in the computation of a net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-back to such taxable year, such net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-back to the taxable year is computed in the manner set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above. Such net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-back is considered a joint net operating loss carry-over or joint net operating loss carry-back to such taxable year. For example, if in examples (2) and (3) of this paragraph a joint return was filed for 1943, the same amounts computed in those examples as carry-overs of H and W to that year would be the amounts considered joint net operating loss carry-overs to that year.

The joint net operating loss carry-overs and joint net operating loss carry-backs to any taxable year for which joint return is made are all the net operating loss carry-overs and net operating loss carry-backs of both spouses to such taxable year. For example, a husband and wife file a joint return for the calendar year 1943. The wife filed a separate return for the calendar years 1941 and 1942, in which years she sustained net operating losses. The husband filed separate returns for his fiscal year ending June 30, 1942 and, having received permission to change his accounting period to a calendar year basis, for the six-month period ending December 31, 1942. The husband sustained net operating losses in both such taxable periods. Since the husband and wife did not file a joint return for any taxable year involved in the computation of the net operating loss carry-overs to 1943 from 1941 and 1942 (see the preceding paragraphs of this section), the joint net operating loss carry-overs to 1943 are the separate net operating loss carry-overs of the wife from the calendar years 1941 and 1942 and the separate net operating loss carry-overs of the husband from the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, and from the short taxable year ending December 31, 1942. If the husband and wife also filed joint returns for the calendar years 1944 and 1945, having joint net income in 1944 and a joint net operating loss in 1945, the joint net operating loss carry-back to 1943 from 1945 is computed upon the basis of the joint net operating loss for 1945, since separate returns were not made for any taxable year involved in the computation of such carry-back.

PAR. 6. Such § 19.122–6, as renumbered, is further amended as follows:

(A) By changing so much of the first sentence as precedes clause (1) to read as follows:

The net operating loss deduction for any taxable year is, if the taxable year begins before January 1, 1941, the net operating loss carry-over to such taxable year computed as prescribed in § 19.122–4, or, if the taxable year begins on or after January 1, 1941, the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to such taxable year computed as prescribed in § 19.122–5, reduced in each case by the excess of the net income for such taxable year (computed, if the taxable year begins before January 1, 1941, in the same manner as the net income is to be computed for the purposes of § 19.122–4, or, if the taxable year begins on or after January 1, 1941, in the same manner as the net income is computed for the purposes of § 19.122–5 except that no net operating loss deduction shall be taken into account and, if the taxable year begins after December 31, 1941, no deduction for excess profits tax imposed by subchapter E of chapter 2 shall be taken into account) over—

(B) By changing clause (2) in the first sentence thereof to read as follows:

(2) in the case of a corporation, the normal-tax net income computed without regard to the exceptions, additions, and limitations specified in § 19.122–2, except that no net operating loss shall be taken into account and, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax shall not be allowed.

(C) By changing the first two sentences of the example in such section to read as follows:

The aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to 1942 for the X Corporation is $55,000. Its net income for 1942, computed with the adjustments required by this section, is $450,000 and its normal-tax net income, computed without any exceptions, additions, and limitations except that no net operating loss deduction is allowed and the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax is not allowed, is $445,000.

(D) By changing the first two lines of the tabulation in the third sentence of the example to read as follows:

Aggregate of net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to 1942	$55,000
Less: Excess of net income for 1942, with adjustments, over normal-tax net income for 1942, without adjustments except that no net operating loss deduction shall be allowed and the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax shall not be allowed ($450,000 minus $445,000)	5,000

(E) By changing "for any taxable year," in the last paragraph to read as follows: "for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941,".

(F) By inserting immediately after such last paragraph the following new paragraph:

In the case of a husband and wife making a joint return for any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1941, the computation of the net operating loss deduction (as set forth in the first paragraph of this section) is to be made upon the basis of the aggregate of the joint net operating loss carry-overs and joint net operating loss carry-backs of the spouses to such year (computed as prescribed in § 19.122–5 (e)) and the combined net income of the spouses.

144.7 Report of deputy.
144.8 Delay in removal; cancellation of shipment.
144.9 Change in consignee.
144.10 Removal of shipment and disposition of application Form 550.
144.11 Return of shipment to factory.
144.12 Tax liability.
144.13 Credit for shipment.
144.14 Penalties.

AUTHORITY: §§ 144.0 to 144.14 are issued under sec. 2135 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by Pub. Law 14, 78th Cong., approved March 23, 1943, and sec. 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 3791, 53 Stat. 467).

§ 144.0 Scope of regulations. These regulations deal with the removal of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, and cigarettes, under section 2135 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by Public Law 14, 78th Congress, approved March 23, 1943, without payment of tax for shipment to a territory of the United States for the use of members of the military and naval forces of the United States.

SEC. 2135. EXEMPTION FROM TAX. (As amended by Public Law 14, 78th Congress, approved March 23, 1943.)

(a) Shipments to foreign countries and possessions of the United States—(1) Manufacturers. Manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes may be removed for export to a foreign country or for shipment to a possession of the United States (or, until the date on which the President proclaims that hostilities in the present war have terminated, to a territory of the United States for the use of members of the military or naval forces of the United States) without payment of tax under such rules and regulations and the making of such entries, and the filing of such bonds and bills of lading as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe.

§ 144.1 Shipment and use restricted. The removal of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, and cigarettes, under these regulations without payment of tax may be made only for shipment to the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and then only for the use of members of the military or naval forces of the United States. Such removals are authorized only on and after March 23, 1943, and until the President proclaims that hostilities in the present war have terminated.

§ 144.2 Bond. A manufacturer who has in force a bond, Form 549, to cover the removal of tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes, without payment of tax for exportation to a foreign country or to a possession of the United States, will be permitted to remove the tobacco product covered by his bond without payment of tax under these regulations, provided he submits consent of the surety on his bond to the removal under these regulations. Consent of the surety shall be submitted on Form 542, executed in duplicate (which form should be appropriately modified as may be required), and shall be filed by the manufacturer with the collector for the district in which the factory is located. The collector shall forward to the Commissioner the duplicate consent of surety to be attached to the duplicate bond in force.

Before or at the time of filing his first application on Form 550 for removal of tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes, a manufacturer who does not already have a bond in force on Form 549, and who desires to remove any of such products from his factory without payment of tax under these regulations, shall furnish to the collector for the district in which the factory is located a bond in duplicate on Form 549, with surety satisfactory to that officer, accompanied by consent of surety, as specified in the preceding paragraph. A separate bond must be filed to cover the withdrawal of "large cigars", "small cigars", "small cigarettes", "large cigarettes", and "tobacco and snuff". The penal sum of the bond must be sufficient to cover the estimated amount of tax which shall at any time constitute a charge against the bond, and in no case less than $500. When the bond, in duplicate, is submitted to the collector, he shall, if the bond meets with his approval, make indorsement to that effect on both the original and duplicate of the bond and forward immediately to the Commissioner the duplicate bond and consent of surety. The liability under such bond shall be a continuing one, and will be subject to increase or decrease as withdrawals are made and completed. When the limit of liability under such bond has been reached, further withdrawals may not be made thereunder. Instead, a new bond with consent of surety, both in duplicate, must be filed under which subsequent withdrawals shall be made.

§ 144.3 Packing, and marking or branding. Manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes when removed from the factory under these regulations without the payment of tax, shall be put up in packages of the same size and description as prescribed by law for like articles removed for domestic consumption. Each package shall have affixed in place of the internal-revenue stamp a label, which label shall be readily distinguishable from an internal-revenue stamp and shall bear the following legend:

Free of tax. For use only of U. S. military or naval forces in Alaska and Hawaii or for use outside the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States.

§ 144.4 Shipping containers. Each shipping container in which manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes are to be removed under these regulations shall be stenciled or plainly marked by the manufacturer as prescribed in this section.

Each container shall bear the manufacturer's marks and number, such number to be a consecutive one of a series adopted by the manufacturer for removals under his bond, Form 549, and to begin with No. 1 and beginning again with No. 1 on July 1 of each subsequent year.

Each shipping container must bear the legend indicated below (with first three lines properly filled in) in letters and figures not less than three-fourths of an inch in length.

(Name of article)
By _____
Fac No. _____ Dist. _____
Inspected _____ 194__
_____, D. C.
For consumption without payment of tax under sections 2135 and 2197 I.R.C.

If desired, the name of the person or firm for whom the removal is made may be substituted for that of the manufacturer on the second line of the legend. The deputy detailed to inspect a shipment intended for removal under these regulations, shall fill in the fourth and fifth lines of the legend on each container. A reduction in the length of the letters and figures in the legend may be made on containers shipped by parcel post.

Shipping containers for all shipments required to be inspected by a deputy collector shall not be closed and fastened until after their contents have been inspected and verified by the deputy collector.

§ 144.5 Application for withdrawal. An application on Form 550 shall be filed for each shipment (other than by parcel post where the amount of tax involved is $10 or less) intended for withdrawal under these regulations. Such application shall be executed and filed in duplicate by the manufacturer with the collector for the district in which the factory is located. Each application shall bear a serial number, such number to be a consecutive one of a series adopted by the manufacturer for removals under his bond, Form 549, and to begin with No. 1 and commencing again with No. 1 on July 1 of each year. Copies of each application, as required by these regulations, shall bear the same serial number as the original. Each application shall be completely and legibly filled in and show the information as required on the form. The product covered by the application shall not be withdrawn from the factory until after inspection and verification by a deputy collector as hereinafter required.

In the case of a shipment by parcel post where the amount of tax involved is $10 or less, inspection and verification by a deputy collector will not be required. However, in such case the original of Form 550, properly numbered, shall be executed by the manufacturer and shall be disposed of as specified in § 144.10 (b).

Upon receipt of each application properly executed, the collector shall, if the tax liability thereon does not increase the outstanding tax liability in excess of the penal sum of the bond under which the withdrawal is to be made, immediately after signing each copy of the application, detail a deputy collector to visit the factory for the purpose of making proper inspection and verification of the articles described in the application.

§ 144.6 Inspection of shipment. It will be the duty of the deputy detailed to inspect a shipment to determine definitely that the shipment contains the exact kind and quantity of articles specified in the application and that the packages of such articles meet the requirements of these regulations. The deputy shall supervise the packing of the shipping containers and affix his signature and date of inspection in the legend on each shipping container.

Tobacco products may be removed under these regulations from the place of manufacture for shipment or delivery only after inspection by the deputy, where required. Such products found stored outside of the bonded factory premises without the approval of the Commissioner shall be subject to seizure for forfeiture.

§ 144.7 Report of deputy. After inspection and verification of the shipment have been completed, and the shipping containers have been made ready for removal, the deputy shall fill in and sign his report on each copy of the application, Form 550. The shipment shall then be released by the deputy for removal by the manufacturer. The deputy shall return to the collector the duplicate of Form 550 and deliver the original to the manufacturer for disposition as hereinafter provided.

§ 144.8 Delay in removal; cancellation of shipment. In case a shipment is not removed from the place of manufacture within ten days after inspection by the deputy, the manufacturer must advise the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the factory is located as to the probable date of removal. If the order for the shipment has been canceled, the manufacturer should so state and request permission to return the shipment to stock in the factory.

§ 144.9 Change in consignee. If, after inspection by the deputy, but before removal of the shipment, the manufacturer for good and sufficient reasons desires to change the name and address of the consignee, the manufacturer shall forward the original Form 550 left by the deputy to the collector for correction and endorsement, with a letter setting forth his reasons for the change. Any other change in respect to the shipment must be approved by the Commissioner.

§ 144.10 Removal of shipment and disposition of application Form 550. After the shipment has been released for removal, the manufacturer shall enter on the original Form 550 the date of removal of the shipment from the factory, after which the shipment may go forward. The original Form 550 shall then be disposed of by the manufacturer as hereinafter prescribed.

(a) Shipments by other than parcel post. If the shipment is to be made from the factory direct to the consignee in the territory of the United States, the original Form 550 shall be forwarded by the manufacturer to the consignee. If the shipment is made to an Army port of embarkation or Navy supply depot for transshipment to a territory of the United States, the original Form 550 shall be forwarded by the manufacturer to the Army port transportation officer, or Navy supply officer, as the case may be.

The manufacturer shall insert on the original Form 550 immediately preceding the "Certificate of Mailing by Parcel Post" a "Certificate of Receipt" as follows:

CERTIFICATE OF RECEIPT

I certify that the tobacco manufactures herein described, except for the discrepancies as listed below, were delivered to me on _____, 19__, and that said manufactures are intended for delivery to a territory of the United States for the use of military or naval forces of the United States therein.

Discrepancies _____
(Name)
(Title)

Upon receipt and verification of the shipment, the consignee in the territory or the Army or Navy officer in the continental United States to whom the original Form 550 had been forwarded by the manufacturer, shall execute the "Certificate of Receipt" appearing on such Form 550, note thereon any discrepancies in the shipment, and return the executed form to the manufacturer. Such executed form shall then be forwarded promptly by the manufacturer to the appropriate collector.

(b) Shipments by parcel post. If the shipment is to be made by parcel post (including a shipment where the amount of tax involved is $10 or less, as to which an inspection and verification by the deputy is not required) the manufacturer shall execute on each package a waiver of right to withdraw the package from the mails, and then at the time of mailing present the original Form 550 to the postmaster or his agent for execution of the certificate of mailing as provided for on the back of the form. The original Form 550 shall be forwarded promptly thereafter by the manufacturer to the appropriate collector.

§ 144.11 Return of shipment to factory. If, after removal a manufacturer desires to return a shipment to the factory, he must make application to the Commissioner for permission to do so. The manufacturer must identify the shipment, set forth where it has been since it left the factory, where held and in whose custody at the time of making application, and the reasons for return. After receipt of such application, the Commissioner will then issue appropriate instructions.

§ 144.12 Tax liability. The responsibility for the delivery of a shipment removed from the factory under these regulations shall rest upon the manufacturer making the withdrawal, who will be liable for the internal revenue tax on tobacco products shipped or delivered otherwise than in accordance with these regulations.

§ 144.13 Credit for shipment. Upon receipt of the original Form 550, with the prescribed "Certificate of Receipt" or certificate of mailing properly executed, the collector shall enter the proper credit in the account, Form 94, kept with the bond under which the shipment was made, provided no discrepancy or shortage is reported. In case a shortage is reported, the collector shall enter credit for the actual quantity of merchandise delivered and require the manufacturer to pay the amount of tax due on the shortage reported.

§ 144.14 Penalties. Sections 2160 and 2173 of the Internal Revenue Code impose severe penalties for the possession, use, or dealing in, within the United States (including its territories) of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, and cigarettes upon which the tax properly due has not been paid. These sections apply to tobacco products removed without payment of tax under these regulations, and accordingly, any person possessing, using, or dealing in, such products otherwise than as authorized by these regulations may be subject to the penalties prescribed therein.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1911]

PART 323—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 3

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 3 for the establishment of price classification and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 3 and for a change in shipping point for Mine Index No. 486.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 3 and for a change in shipping point for Mine Index No. 486.

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 323.6 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 323.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: April 9, 1943.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines and for changes in shipping points for the coals of certain other mines in District No. 8.

An original petition, and an amendment thereto, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines, and for changes in shipping points for the coals of certain other mines in District No. 8; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: April 8, 1943.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

[Docket No. A 1718]

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

Memorandum opinion and order extending temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8, for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

A motion having been filed by District Board No. 8, the original petitioner herein, requesting that the relief heretofore granted by an Order Granting Temporary Relief and Conditionally Providing for Final Relief issued in this matter on November 19, 1942 (7 F.R. 10095), and extended in certain particulars by an order dated December 15, 1942 (7 F.R. 10602), be extended further until June 3, 1943, in so far as it pertains to the Poplar Lick Mine, Mine Index No. 5643, of Garmeada Coal Company and the No. 6 Mine, Mine Index No. 5790, of Raleigh-Wyoming Mining Company, and good cause having been shown therefor;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the temporary relief heretofore granted by the Order Granting Temporary Relief and Conditionally Providing for Final Relief issued in this matter on November 19 1942, and extended by the order dated December 15, 1942, be, and the same hereby is, continued to June 3, 1943, in so far as it pertains to the Poplar Lick Mine, Mine Index No. 5643, of Germeada Coal Company and the No. 6 Mine, Mine Index No. 5790, of Raleigh-Wyoming Mining Company, at which time such relief shall become final unless otherwise ordered.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the amended petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within thirty (30) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Dated: April 21, 1943.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. RO 5,[1] Amendment 14]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order 5 is amended in the following respect:

1. Section 11.6 (a) is amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting the following sentence in lieu thereof:

It must contain a statement by the superintendent or other executive officer, or by the physician in charge of the establishment, showing the reason why a supplemental allotment is required and the additional amount of the rationed food needed for that purpose.

This amendment shall become effective this 27th day of April 1943.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421 and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; W.P.B. Dir. 1, Supp. Dir. 1-E, 1-M, and 1-R, 7 F.R. 562, 2965, 7234, 9684, respectively; Food Dir. 3, 5, 6, and 7, 8 F.R. 2005, 2251, 3471, 3471, respectively)

Issued this 21st day of April 1943.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH

[MPR 367,[1] Amendment 1]

HORSEMEAT

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment No. 1 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 367, Horsemeat, has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 367 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 13 is amended to extend the effective date of the Regulation from April 20, 1943 to May 1, 1943. Wherever the date April 20, 1943 appears in the regulation the date May 1, 1943 shall be substituted therefor; wherever the date April 19, 1943 appears in the regulation the date, April 30, 1943 shall be substituted therefor.

2. The effective date provision of the regulation is amended to read as follows:

This regulation shall become effective May 1, 1943, except that it shall become effective on April 14, 1943 with respect to sales to war procurement agencies.

This amendment shall be effective as of April 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 21st day of April, 1943.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

[Suspension Order PSO-1]

PART 1595—PETROLEUM SUSPENSION ORDERS

CASH FUEL AND FEED CO.

Ford L. Wright, doing business under the trade name of Cash Fuel and Feed Company, 5360 North Broadway, Wichita, Kansas, is engaged in the business of marketing of motor fuel. Since the effective date of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4, January 23, 1943, to the present time, Ford L. Wright has delivered motor fuel from his service station located at 5360 North Broadway, Wichita, Kansas, more than 12 hours per day and more than 72 hours per week, and further, has not posted his service station hours of operation in accordance with the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4.

While the above mentioned violations were occurring, Ford L. Wright was fully aware of the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4, but publicly stated that he did not intend to comply with said order and continuously operated his service station in violation of the order. This constituted a wilful disregard of the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4, and said wilful violations have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered:

§ 1595.1 Petroleum Suspension Order PSO-1. (a) Ford L. Wright, doing business under the trade name of Cash Fuel and Feed Company or under any other name, his successors or assigns, shall not accept from any source the delivery of any motor fuel, as defined in Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4, at the service station, as defined in Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4, located at 5360 North Broadway, Wichita, Kansas, or at any storage facility or other service station now or hereafter owned, operated or leased by him.

(b) No person, as defined in Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4, shall deliver any motor fuel to the service station located at 5360 North Broadway, Wichita, Kansas, or to any storage facility or any other service station now or hereafter owned, operated or leased by Ford L. Wright, doing business under the trade name of Cash Fuel and Feed Company or any other name.

(c) Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to relieve Ford L. Wright, doing business under the trade name of Cash Fuel and Feed Company, his successors or assigns, from any restrictions, prohibitions, or provisions contained in any other order, regulation, or directive of the Petroleum Administration for War, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on April 24, 1943, and shall expire on August 23, 1943.

Issued this 21st day of April 1943.

Notices

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. B-271]

RICHARDS AND SANFORD

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

In the matter of Belmont Richards and George Sanford, individually and as copartners doing business under the name and style of Richards & Sanford, Code Members.

On September 30, 1942, after notice and hearing, Charles O. Fowler, a duly designated Examiner of the Division submitted a report in which he found that code members, Belmont Richards and George Sanford, individually and as copartners doing business as Richards & Sanford, operating the Stallings Mine, Mine Index No. 128, located in San Juan County, New Mexico, in District 18, wilfully violated:

The Order in General Docket No. 19 dated on October 9, 1940, by selling to various purchasers during the period from May 29, 1941 to June 25, 1941, 234.08 net tons of 2½" lump coal, Size Group 1, produced at the Stallings Mine, at a price of $3.00 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas, at the time of such transactions, no prices, temporary or final, had been established for Size Group 1 coal produced at said mine.

The Examiner recommended that an order be entered requiring code members to cease and desist from selling coal for which no minimum price, either temporary or final, has ben established by the Division.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's Report. No exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the report of the Examiner and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record. Upon the basis of the proposed findings of fact, proposed conclusions of law, and recommendations set forth in the Report, and upon the entire record in this proceeding.

It is hereby ordered, That the proposed findings of fact and the proposed conclusions of law of the Examiner are approved and adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director.

It is further ordered, That Belmont Richards and George Sanford, individually and as copartners doing business under the name and style of Richards & Sanford, operating the Stallings Mine, Mine Index No. 128, in San Juan County, New Mexico, their agents, employees, representatives, successors, and assigns, and all persons acting or claiming to act on their behalf or interest, cease and desist from violating the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, or from otherwise violating the provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the Bituminous Coal Code, and the orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Notice is hereby given that upon failure or refusal to comply with this order, the Division may apply to a Circuit Court of Appeals for the enforcement thereof, or may otherwise proceed as authorized by the Act.

Dated: April 21, 1943.

IDAHO

WITHDRAWING PUBLIC LANDS FOR USE OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT AS AN AIRPORT

By virtue of the authority vested in the President and pursuant to Executive Order No. 9146 of April 24, 1942, and to section 1 of the act of June 28, 1934, as amended, 48 Stat. 1269 (U.S.C., title 43, sec. 315), It is ordered, As follows:

Subject to valid existing rights, the public lands in the following-described areas are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public-land laws, including the mining and mineral-leasing laws and reserved for the use of the War Department as an airport:

BOISE MERIDIAN

T. 4 S., R. 5 E.,
Secs. 20 to 22, inclusive,
Secs. 27 to 29, inclusive, and
Secs. 32 to 34, inclusive.
The areas described, including both public and non-public lands, aggregate 5,760 acres.

This order shall be subject to (1) the withdrawal for electrical transmission line purposes made by the Executive order of October 29, 1913, as modified by the Executive order of February 11, 1915 (Power Site Reserve No. 406), and (2) the withdrawal for transmission line purposes made April 16, 1923, under Federal Power Commission Project No. 406, so far as such withdrawals affect any of the above-described lands.

The order of April 8, 1935, of the Secretary of the Interior, establishing Idaho Grazing District No. 1, is hereby modified to the extent necessary to permit the use of the lands as herein provided.

It is intended that the public lands described herein shall be returned to the administration of the Department of the Interior, when they are no longer needed for the purpose for which they are reserved.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 54-43]

GREAT LAKES UTILITIES COMPANY

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 20th day of April 1943.

The Commission having by order dated March 31, 1942, under section 11 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, approved a Plan dated March 1, 1942, providing for the liquidation of Great Lakes Utilities Company, a registered holding company; and said order having provided that Great Lakes Utilities Company should make application to the Commission for the entry of such further orders as were necessary or appropriate for that purpose, and the Commission having reserved jurisdiction to enter such further orders as might be necessary or appropriate;

Notice is hereby given that Great Lakes Utilities Company has filed an application requesting approval by the Commission of the extension of the maturity date on the remaining outstanding First Lien Collateral Trust Gold Bonds, 5½% Series, due 1942, from May 1, 1943, to May 1, 1944; the said Plan having provided, inter alia, for the extension of the maturity date of said bonds from May 1, 1942, to May 1, 1943, with the further provision that, subject to the approval of this Commission and the Court and upon the proof that the applicant has been or will be unable in the exercise of due diligence to sell at a fair price sufficient assets or securities for an amount in cash to be received prior to May 1, 1943, to pay in full the principal and accrued interest on the outstanding bonds of said issue, the applicant should have the right further to extend the maturity of said bonds to May 1, 1944; and

The District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania in the proceeding entitled "In the Matter of Great Lakes Utilities Company, No. M-989", having by order entered on April 21, 1942, approved said plan pursuant to an application filed by this Commission at the request of Great Lakes Utilities Company; and

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held for the purpose of considering said application;

It is ordered, That a hearing be held at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., e. w. t., on the 28th day of April 1943, in such room as may be designated at that time by the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 318. All persons desiring to be heard, or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceeding, should notify the Commission in the manner provided by our Rules of Practice, Rule XVII, on or before April 23, 1943.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the office of the Commission, for full details concerning the application;

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice;

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of issues presented by said application, particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether Great Lakes Utilities Company has exercised due diligence in its efforts to sell its assets or securities, as provided in the plan;

(2) Whether an extension of the maturity date of the outstanding bonds from May 1, 1943 to May 1, 1944 is appropriate in the light of the provisions of the plan and consistent with the public interest and the interests of investors and consumers.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission serve notice of the entry of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to the applicant, and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC UTILITIES MANAGEMENT CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia Pennsylvania, on the 19th day of April A. D. 1943.

Notice is hereby given that Post Amendment No. 1 to the Application of Public Utilities Management Corporation for approval as a mutual service company (File No. 37-30) has been filed with this Commission by American Gas and Power Company and Public Utilities Management Corporation, pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. All interested persons are referred to said Post Amendment No. 1, which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Public Utilities Management Corporation was approved as a mutual service company for the associate companies comprising the holding-company system of Community Gas and Power Company and American Gas and Power Company, pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (d) of section 13 of the Act, by order of this Commission dated November 19, 1938, subject to the conditions set forth in said order.

By order dated September 24, 1942, this Commission instituted a proceeding (File No. 59-55) against Community Gas and Power Company, American Gas and Power Company and the subsidiary companies thereof, in which the following issues (among others) were raised:

Whether it is necessary or appropriate pursuant to section 13 of the Act to require elimination of interlocking directorates and personnel among Public Utilities Management Corporation, the holding companies, and the utility companies in the holding-company system, and to require prospective or retroactive adjustments, or both, of cost allocations in order to prevent direct or indirect payment by the utility companies of compensation to officers, directors and employees of the holding companies, to prevent direct or indirect payment by the utility companies of other charges for services rendered, directly or indirectly, by the holding companies and to effect a fair and equitable allocation of costs among the holding companies and utility companies; and whether it is necessary or appropriate to require other changes in the organization and conduct of business of Public Utilities Management Corporation in the light of action which may be taken or required under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the Act.

Hearings were held on the issues raised in our order of September 24, 1942. By notice and order dated March 2, 1943 in said proceeding (File No. 59-55) this Commission directed that evidence be adduced and consideration given at the reconvening of the hearing in said proceeding to the following issues, among others:

Whether the Commission should enter forthwith an order pursuant to section 13 of said Act, rescinding as of a date sixty days after the entry of said rescinding order, the order of the Commission dated November 19, 1938 which granted approval of Public Utilities Management Corporation as a mutual service company, and requiring that after sixty days from the entry of said rescinding order, unless pursuant to further order of the Commission, Public Utilities Management Corporation shall make no charges to and receive no payments from Minneapolis Gas Light Company, Birmingham Gas Company, Savannah Gas Company, Jacksonville Gas Company, St. Augustine Gas Company, Lowell Gas Light Company, and Bangor Gas Company, or any of them, except for services rendered prior to said date.

A hearing on the issues specified in said notice and order of March 2, 1943 has been held, and said issues are to be submitted to this Commission for determination after briefs have been filed and oral argument heard.

Public Utilities Management Corporation has issued and outstanding 3,000 shares of its $1 par value common capital stock as follows:

Name of stockholder	Number of shares	Consideration received from stockholders
Bangor Gas Company	51	$510
Birmingham Gas Company	677	6,770
Jacksonville Gas Corporation	190	1,900
Lowell Gas Light Company	244	2,440
Minneapolis Gas Light Company	1,643	16,430
Savannah Gas Company	168	1,683
St. Augustine Gas Company	27	270
	3,000	30,000

American Gas and Power Company and Public Utilities Management Corporation propose, in said Post Amendment, that the following transactions and changes in methods of operation shall be effectuated as of August 1, 1943:

(a) Public Utilities Management Corporation shall terminate all its said service contracts.

(b) Public Utilities Management Corporation shall acquire for cash all the shares of its common stock held by Jacksonville Gas Corporation, and one-half of the shares of its common stock held respectively by the other companies listed above, at a price equal to the book value of such stock at July 31, 1943. Such shares upon their acquisition shall be cancelled and retired by Public Utilities Management Corporation.

(c) American Gas and Power Company shall acquire for cash from each of the companies listed above, other than Jacksonville Gas Corporation, the remaining one-half of such stock holdings, also at a price equal to the book value of such stock at July 31, 1943. The aggregate amount to be so paid by American Gas and Power Company will be approximately $14,577.

(d) American Gas and Power Company shall enter into an agreement with Public Utilities Management Corporation whereby American Gas and Power Company will pay the entire cost of operations of Public Utilities Management Corporation.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters: It is ordered, That a hearing on said matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and the Rules of the Commission thereunder be held on May 4, 1943 at 10 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of this Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On that date the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause will be shown why said Post Amendment No. 1 shall be granted.

It is further ordered, That Edward C. Johnson or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings on said matters. The officer so designated to preside at such hearings is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearings to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether upon consummation of the transactions and changes in methods of operation proposed in said Post Amendment No. 1 any operating company in the holding-company system of American Gas and Power Company will be charged or have allocated to it, directly or indirectly, any portion of the salaries or expenses of any person or persons who are holding-company officers or employees, or whose functions relate primarily to the functions of supervision of the holding-company system and review of the activities of operating companies, their officials and staffs.

2. Whether upon consummation of the transactions and changes in methods of operation proposed in said Post Amendment No. 1 any holding-company officer or officers, or person or persons whose functions relate primarily to holding-company functions, shall receive any compensation or reimbursement of expenses directly or indirectly from any operating company.

3. Whether Public Utilities Management Corporation should be permitted to conduct its operations and business in the manner proposed in said Post Amendment No. 1, and, if so, whether any terms or conditions should be imposed.

4. Whether an order of the Commission pursuant to sections 9 (a), 10, 12 (c) or 12 (f) of the Act prohibiting or conditioning the proposed acquisitions by Public Utilities Management Corporation of shares of its common stock, and by American Gas and Power Company of shares of the common stock of Public Utilities Management Corporation, is necessary or appropriate to protect the financial integrity of the companies in the holding-company system, to safeguard their working capital, to prevent the circumvention of the provision of the Act or of the rules, regulations or orders thereunder, or otherwise in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers; whether such proposed acquisitions are unlawful under the provisions of section 8 of the Act, or detrimental to the carrying out of section 11 of the Act, and whether such proposed acquisitions will serve the public interest by tending towards the economic and efficient development of an integrated public-utility system.

It is further ordered, That notice of said hearing is hereby given to American Gas and Power Company and Public Utilities Management Corporation, respondents herein, and to Community Gas and Power Company, Minneapolis Gas Light Company, Birmingham Gas Company, Savannah Gas Company, Jacksonville Gas Company, Jacksonville Gas Corporation, St. Augustine Gas Company, Bangor Gas Company, Lowell Gas Light Company, and American Utilities Associates, to their respective security holders and consumers, to all States, municipalities, and public subdivisions of States within which are located any of the physical assets of said companies or under the laws of which any of said companies are incorporated, all State Commissions, State Securities Commissions, and all agencies, authorities, or instrumentalities of one or more States, municipalities or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over any of such companies or over any of the business, affairs, or operations of any of them; that the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of said hearing by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to American Gas and Power Company and Public Utilities Management Corporation, respondents herein, and to Community Gas and Power Company, Minneapolis Gas Light Company, Birmingham Gas Company, Savannah Gas Company, Jacksonville Gas Company, Jacksonville Gas Corporation, St. Augustine Gas Company, Bangor Gas Company, Lowell Gas Light Company, and American Utilities Associates, and to the Alabama Public Service Commission, the Georgia Public Service Commission, the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts, and the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Maine, and the Cities of Minneapolis, Minnesota, Jacksonville, Florida and St. Augustine, Florida, such mailing to be made on or before April 23, 1943; that such notice shall be given further by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases, issued under the Act; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER on or before April 23, 1943.

It is further ordered, That any person proposing to intervene or to be heard in these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before May 3, 1943 his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission.

By the Commission.

THE BUCKEYE LIGHT & POWER COMPANY AND UNITED PUBLIC UTILITIES CORPORATION

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 19th day of April 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application and declaration has been filed by The Buckeye Light & Power Company and United Public Utilities Corporation pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. All interested persons are referred to said application and declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

(1) The Buckeye Light & Power Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of United Public Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company, proposes to issue and sell its negotiable promissory note in the principal amount of $76,500 to be dated May 15, 1943, bearing interest at the rate of 6% per annum to mature January 1, 1945 in consideration of $76,500 in cash to be paid by United Public Utilities Corporation;

(2) The proceeds of the sale will be used by The Buckeye Light & Power Company to retire its Twenty-year 7% First Mortgage Bonds in the principal amount of $76,500 which mature on May 15, 1943; said First Mortgage Bonds are now owned by United Public Utilities Corporation, but are pledged with the Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia, as Trustee, under the Collateral Trust Indenture securing the outstanding Collateral Trust Bonds of United Public Utilities Corporation;

(3) United Public Utilities Corporation will then pledge Buckeye's new note with said Trustee in compliance with the provisions of the Collateral Trust Indenture, but will not receive any cash upon the pledge of the new note.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matters, and that said application shall not be granted nor said declaration permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and Rules of the Commission thereunder be held on April 29, 1943, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission located at 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such application or declaration (or both) shall become effective or shall be granted. Notice is hereby given of said hearing to the above-named applicant and declarant and to all interested persons, said notice to be given to said applicant and declarant by registered mail and to all other persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise the powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of issues presented by said declaration and application otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the issue and sale of said 6% negotiable promissory note is solely for the purpose of financing the business of The Buckeye Light & Power Company;

(2) Whether the issue and sale of said note has been expressly authorized by the state commission of the state in which said company is organized and doing business;

(3) What terms and conditions, if any, would it be appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to impose in connection with the exemption, if granted, of the issue and sale of said note from provisions of section 6 (a) of said Act;

(4) Whether the acquisition and pledge by United Public Utilities Corporation of said note will comply with the applicable standards of sections 10 (b), 10 (c), 12 (b), 12 (d) and 12 (f) of said Act and the applicable Rules thereunder.

By the Commission.

Notice of filing by Washington Railway and Electric Company and the Washington and Rockville Railway Company of Montgomery County of application for extension of time and order for hearing.

The Commission having entered its order in the above styled and numbered proceeding on April 14, 1942, pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 directing The North American Company and certain of its subsidiary companies to take various steps in order to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of said Act;

Notice is hereby given that on April 14, 1942, Washington Railway and Electric Company and The Washington and Rockville Railway Company of Montgomery County, two of the respondents in said proceeding, filed a petition requesting the entry of an order by this Commission under section 11 (e) of the Act extending for one year the time within which to comply with the said order of April 14, 1942.

All interested persons are referred to said petition which is on file in the office of the Commission for full details concerning the petition.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held for the purpose of considering said petition and for other purposes;

It is ordered, That a hearing in this proceeding be held at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at 11:30 a. m., e. w. t., on the 3rd day of May, 1943, in such room as may be designated on such day by the hearing room clerk.

All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate should notify the Commission in the manner provided by the Commission's Rules of Practice, Rule XVII, on or before April 26, 1943.

At said hearing there will be considered (1) whether Washington Railway and Electric Company and The Washington and Rockville Railway Company of Montgomery County have exercised due diligence in their efforts to comply with the Commission's order of April 14, 1942, and (2) whether an extension of time for compliance with said order is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing above ordered. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission shall serve notice of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to The North American Company, Washington Railway and Electric Company, and The Washington and Rockville Railway Company of Montgomery County and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

[File Nos. 70-178, 70-686]

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF OKLAHOMA, ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING, ETC.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1943.

In the matters of Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Southwestern Light and Power Company and the Middle West Corporation; File No. 70–178 and West Texas Utilities Company and American Public Service Company; File No. 70–686.

Notice of filing of amendments, notice of filing of application and declaration, order of consolidation and order for hearing.

Notice is hereby given that amendments to declarations or applications have been filed with this Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The Middle West Corporation ("Middle West") and its indirect subsidiaries, Public Service Company of Oklahoma ("Oklahoma") and Southwestern Light & Power Company ("Southwestern"), a subsidiary of Oklahoma. Central and South West Utilities Company ("Central"), a subsidiary of Middle West, has joined in the amendment to the extent and for the purpose of its participation in the proposals therein.

Notice is further given that an application or declaration has been filed with this Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by West Texas Utilities Company ("West Texas") and its parent, American Public Service Company ("American"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Middle West.

All interested persons are referred to said documents which are on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Southwestern proposes to dissolve. For the purpose of effecting this principal transaction, and in connection therewith, the various companies propose as follows:

1. Southwestern proposes to transfer and convey to Oklahoma in liquidation of all outstanding shares of Southwestern's capital stock owned by Oklahoma at date of liquidation, all assets of Southwestern, and Oklahoma proposes to acquire all such assets.

2. Oklahoma proposes to issue 11,167 shares of its $100 par value common stock to Middle West in exchange for 11,167 shares of Southwestern's $6 preferred stock now owned by Middle West, and Middle West proposes to acquire said stock of Oklahoma in pursuance of such exchange.

3. Oklahoma proposes to offer 15,000 shares of its 5% preferred stock in exchange, on a share for share basis, for 15,000 shares of the 24,411 shares of Southwestern's $6 preferred stock owned by the public and to issue such of its stock subscribed for pursuant to such offer and to acquire such of Southwestern's stock delivered to it pursuant to such offer.

4. Oklahoma proposes to issue and sell to Middle West and Middle West proposes to purchase 2,500 shares of Oklahoma's $100 par 5% preferred stock, at par plus accrued dividends, less the number of shares of said stock in excess of 2,500 shares as may be subscribed for by the public pursuant to the offer referred to in paragraph 3 hereof.

5. Oklahoma proposes to issue and sell to American and American proposes to acquire 10,000 shares of Oklahoma's $100 par 5% preferred stock, at par, plus accrued dividends, less the number of shares of said stock in excess of 5,000 shares as may be subscribed for by the public pursuant to the offer referred to in paragraph 3 hereof.

6. Oklahoma proposes to advance to Southwestern on open account, without interests, a sum sufficient to pay $100 per share of the liquidation price payable in respect of such number of the 24,411 shares of Southwestern's $6 preferred stock as are not acquired by Oklahoma pursuant to the public offering referred to in paragraph 3 hereof and Southwestern proposes to pay to a depositary or liquidation agent the moneys necessary to pay the following amounts to certain of its stockholders:

(a) $100 per share plus accrued dividends to the holders of such number of shares of its $6 preferred stock as are not acquired by Oklahoma pursuant to the public offering;

(b) $100 per share plus accrued dividends to the holders of 393 shares of its Class "A" common stock not now owned by Oklahoma; and

(c) $21 per share to the holders of 143 shares of its common stock not now owned by Oklahoma.

7. Oklahoma proposes to acquire, and Southwestern proposes to transfer and convey to Oklahoma, in final liquidation of Southwestern and in satisfaction of the advance on open account referred to in paragraph 6 above, and in cancellation and extinguishment of all shares of capital stock of Southwestern then owned by Oklahoma, all utility assets and other assets of Southwestern (except only the moneys paid to the depositary or liquidation agent as set forth in paragraph 6 hereof), and to assume payment of all liabilities of Southwestern including the $6,648,000 principal amount of Southwestern's first mortgage bonds, series A, 3¾%, due December 1, 1969.

8. Oklahoma proposes to issue, under an indenture dated February 1, 1941 heretofore executed by it to City National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago and Arthur T. Leonard, as trustees, and to sell to underwriters $6,600,000 principal amount of its first mortgage bonds, series A, 3¼%, due February 1, 1971 and to apply the proceeds thereof, together with requisite treasury funds, to the redemption at 105¼ and accrued interest of the $6,648,000 principal amount of Southwestern's outstanding first mortgage bonds above described.

9. West Texas proposes to acquire from American and American proposes to sell to West Texas a maximum of 14,251 shares of no par $6 cumulative preferred stock of West Texas at a cash price of $70.17 per share. The number of said such shares to be actually acquired and sold will be such number, (not to exceed 14,251) as will, at the sale price of $70.17 per share, provide American with the approximate amount of funds required by it to be paid for such number of shares of Oklahoma's 5% preferred stock as American will undertake to purchase under the proposal set forth in paragraph 5 hereof.

10. Middle West proposes to sell to American, forthwith upon acquisition, and American proposes to purchase 1,488 shares of Oklahoma's $100 par common stock for an aggregate price of $148,800 payable in cash, and Middle West further proposes to sell to Central and Central proposes to acquire 9,679 shares of Oklahoma's $100 par common stock for an aggregate price of $967,900, payable $97,900 in cash and the balance of $870,000 in annual installments of $87,000 each, with interest at the rate of 4% per annum payable semi-annually, the obligation to pay the installments of principal to be evidenced by Central's promissory note to be secured by a pledge of the shares acquired and to provide for prepayment at the maker's option of any principal installment without premium at any time.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters and that said application or declaration, as amended, of Oklahoma and Southwestern, the application or declaration as amended of Middle West, or the application or declaration of West Texas and American shall not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission; and

It further appearing to the Commission that said matters are related and involve common questions of law and fact; that evidence offered in respect of each of said matters may have a bearing on the others; and that substantial savings in time, effort and expense will result if the hearings on said matters are consolidated so that they may be heard as one matter, and so that evidence heretofore or hereafter adduced with respect to the proceedings in cases Nos. 70–178 and 70–686 may stand as evidence in both of said matters for all purposes;

It is ordered, That the hearings on said matters be and they hereby are consolidated. The Commission reserves the right, if at any time it may appear conducive to an orderly and economic disposition of any of said matters, to order a separate hearing concerning such matter, to close the record with respect to any of the matters, or to take action on any of the matters prior to the closing of the record on any other matter.

It is further ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on May 11, 1943 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing a copy of this notice by registered mail to Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Southwestern Light & Power Company, The Middle West Corporation, American Public Service Company, West Texas Utilities Company and Central and Southwest Utilities Company; and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to each of said companies, the security holders and consumers of said companies, all states, municipalities, and political divisions of states within which are located any of the utility assets of any of said companies, or under the laws of which any of said companies are incorporated, all state commissions, state securities commissions and all agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of any one or more states, municipalities, or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over any of said companies or over any of the businesses, affairs, or operations of any of said companies; that such notice shall also be given by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, not later than 15 days prior to the date of said hearing.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate herein shall notify the Commission to that effect in the manner provided in Rule XVII of the Commission's Rules of Practice on or before April 29, 1943.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend, or any officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of issues presented by said amendments and by said application or declaration otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters in question:

A. Whether the acquisition by Oklahoma of the assets of Southwestern is unlawful under the provisions of section 8 or is detrimental to the carrying out of the provisions of section 11 of the Act.

B. Whether the acquisition by Oklahoma of the assets of Southwestern will tend towards the economical and efficient development of an integrated public-utility system.

C. Whether compliance has been effected with such state laws as may be applicable in respect of the acquisition by Oklahoma of the assets of Southwestern.

D. Whether the issue and sale by Oklahoma of its securities pursuant to the proposed transactions meet the requirements of section 7 and whether any facts exist which would require adverse findings under section 7 (d) of the Act.

E. Whether the proposed offer and exchange by Oklahoma of its 5% preferred stock, on a share for share basis, for shares of Southwestern's preferred stock owned by the public is fair and equitable to all persons interested.

F. Whether the acquisition by Middle West and American of shares of Oklahoma's preferred stock, as proposed, meet the requirements of section 10 of the Act.

G. Whether the proposed advance of moneys by Oklahoma to Southwestern and the acquisition by Southwestern of its own securities meet the requirements of sections 12 (b) and 12 (c) of the Act and the applicable rules and regulations thereunder, and is fair and equitable to all persons interested.

H. Whether the assumption by Oklahoma of the liabilities of Southwestern meets the requirements of section 7 and whether any facts exist which would warrant adverse findings under section 7 (d) of the Act.

I. Whether the acquisition by West Texas from American of its preferred stock now owned by American, and the sale of such stock by American, meet the requirements of sections 10, 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the Act and whether such proposed transactions are fair and equitable to all persons interested.

J. Whether the acquisitions by American and Central of common stock of Oklahoma meet the requirements of section 10 and whether the sale of such stock by Middle West to American and Central meets the requirements of section 12 (d) of the Act.

K. Whether the issuance by Central of its note to Middle West and the deposit of the shares of common stock of Oklahoma to secure such note meet the requirements of section 7 and whether any facts exist which would warrant adverse findings under section 7 (d) of the Act.

L. Whether the acquisition by Middle West of Central's note and of the securities to be pledged thereunder meet the requirements of section 10 of the Act.

M. Whether all of the transactions, as proposed, comply with all applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

By the Commission.

OPERATOR CONSOLIDATED MINES CO.

ORDER RESCINDING ORDER WITHDRAWING SECURITIES FROM REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 21st day of April, A. D. 1943.

The Commission having on January 23, 1943 instituted proceedings pursuant to section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to determine whether the registration of the common stock, 10¢ par value, of the Operator Consolidated Mines Company on the San Francisco Mining Exchange should be suspended or withdrawn for failure to file its annual report for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1941 as required by section 13 of said Act and the rules and regulations thereunder; and

The Commission having on April 16, 1943 made its findings in this matter and ordered that the registration of the common stock, 10¢ par value of said Operator Consolidated Mines Company on the San Francisco Mining Exchange be withdrawn, effective ten days after such date; and

It appearing that subsequent to the hearing in this matter the said Operator Consolidated Mines Company filed with the Commission an annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1941;

It is ordered, That the findings and order of April 16, 1943 withdrawing such securities from registration on said exchange be and the same are hereby rescinded; and

It is further ordered, That the proceeding herein be and it hereby is dismissed, without prejudice to the institution of such future proceedings as the Commission may deem appropriate with respect to said registration.

By the Commission.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION.

[Instruction 1]

VOCATIONAL HANDICAPS AND AWARDS OF PENSIONS DURING PERIODS OF VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION

PRINCIPLES AND PROCEDURE GOVERNING DETERMINATIONS

Principles and procedure governing determinations as to vocational handicap and the awarding of pension during the period of vocational rehabilitation under Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress.

1. The adjudication division in each regional office or facility under the direction of an adjudication officer, and the claims division, veterans claims service, central office, under the direction of a chief, are vested with authority to determine whether a vocational handicap exists and award pension payable during the period of vocational rehabilitation.

2. Requirements for entitlement to vocational rehabilitation follow:

(a) Active military or naval service any time after December 6, 1941, and during the present war.

(b) Honorable discharge.

(c) Service-connected pensionable disability due to World War II service.

(d) Vocational handicap due to such disability.

(e) Need for vocational rehabilitation to overcome such handicap.

3. Rating boards in the adjudication division, field office, and the central disability board, claims division, veterans claims service, central office, will have original jurisdiction to determine whether a vocational handicap exists. Need for vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap will be determined by the vocational rehabilitation division.

4. A vocational handicap will be determined to exist when, upon the basis of the evidence of record as to the disabled person's education, occupational training and experience, it is found the disability will materially interfere with securing and pursuing employment comparable with that for which qualified by education, training and experience.

(a) It is to be distinctly borne in mind, in applying the above definition, that there is a clear distinction between average impairment in earning capacity for pension purposes and a vocational handicap requiring vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap. A person who is totally disabled on the basis of average impairment in earning capacity may nevertheless be fully able to secure and pursue employment in some occupation for which he is well qualified. Conversely, a person who has a very slight pensionable disability may, on acount of peculiar relationships existing between specified skills and his occupational experience, have a vocational handicap which would require vocational rehabilitation to overcome. It should also be borne in mind that unemployment is not necessarily an indication that a vocational handicap exists, nor is employment alone sufficient to support a determination that no vocational handicap exists. Mere temporary employment, the tenure of which may be dubious or which is not suitable for the individual, or comparable with his education, occupational training and skill, is not incompatible with the existence of a vocational handicap. A disabled person may be able to follow occupations not comparable with the occupation pursued prior to service and still have a vocational handicap. By comparable is meant, substantially similar or on a parity with regard to remuneration, permanence of employment, opportunities for advancement, and environment. When, however, the disabled person's best interests will be served by seeking and pursuing employment for which he is qualified, that is, when this offers a suitable career, it may not be held that a vocational handicap exists.

(b) Determinations as to existence of a vocational handicap will be recorded by proper notation on the rating sheet as follows:

Vocational handicap exists, Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress.

or

Vocational handicap does not exist, Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress.

(c) Determination as to existence of vocational handicap will not be made by the rating agencies unless it is determined the veteran has a service-connected pensionable disability due to World War II service.

5. When the rating board or central disability board determines the World War II service-connected pensionable disability produces a vocational handicap, written notice of the decision will include a statement substantially as follows:

Pub Law 16, 78th Congress, amended Veterans Regulation No. 1 (a), as amended, to provide among other things "that any person who served in the active military or naval service at any time after December 6, 1941, and prior to the termination of the present war, who is honorably discharged therefrom and who has a disability incurred in or aggravated by such service for which a pension is payable under laws administered by the Veterans Administration or would be but for the receipt of retirement pay, and is in need of vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of such disability, shall be entitled to such vocational rehabilitation as may be prescribed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs to fit him for employment consistent with the degree of disablement . . ." In the event you are interested and consider vocational rehabilitation is necessary to overcome the handicap of your service-connected disability, the enclosed Form 1900 should be prepared and returned to this office for consideration and determination as to whether you are in need of vocational rehabilitation.

(a) Should the determination be in the negative, written notice of the decision will contain no reference to vocational handicap.

(b) When Form 1900 is received from the veteran, it will be attached to the claims folder and forwarded to the vocational rehabilitation division.

6. The authorization unit, adjudication division, field office, and the authorization subdivision, claims division, veterans claims service, central office, will have jurisdiction over determinations as to basic entitlement to monetary benefits payable on account of vocational rehabilitation.

(a) Immediately upon entrance of the disabled veteran into vocational training the vocational rehabilitation division will notify the adjudication division, field office, or claims division, central office, depending upon the jurisdiction of the claim, by appropriate form showing veteran's name, claim number, and date of entrance into, and type of, training, that is, whether on the job. The vocational rehabilitation division will also notify the adjudication division or claims division by form, of any change in status which would affect the rate of pension.

(b) The monthly rate of pension payable while the disabled veteran is pursuing a course of vocational rehabilitation will, except as hereinafter provided, be as follows:

(1) If the disabled person has neither wife nor child, $80.00.

(2) If he has a wife, but no child, $90.00.

(3) If he has a wife and one child, $95.00, and $5.00 for each additional child.

(4) If he has no wife and one child, $90.00, and $5.00 for each additional child.

(5) If he has a mother or father, either or both dependent on him for support, then, in addition to the above amounts, $10.00 for each parent so dependent.

(6) The monthly rates of pension authorized in (1) to (5) above will be reduced to the extent of any forfeiture invoked as a penalty for breach of rules or regulations during training, upon notification from the vocational rehabilitation division.

(7) In no event will the monthly rate of pension payable while pursuing a course of vocational rehabilitation be less than the monthly rate of pension or retirement pay to which the disabled person would be entitled for service-connected disability.

(8) When the disabled person pursuing a course in vocational rehabilitation is furnished hospitalization by the United States Government or a political subdivision thereof, other than during approved leave, he will be entitled only to the monthly amount of pension or retirement pay authorized for the service-connected disability, and this disability pension or retirement pay will be subject to reduction or discontinuance as provided in § 35.06.

7. Pension payable on account of vocational rehabilitation will be apportioned as provided in §§ 3.1310–3.1317.

8. Awards adjusting the monthly rate of pension on account of vocational rehabilitation to the disabled person will be prepared upon Form 553 (c); apportioned awards to dependents, on Form 553 (a), citing "Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress" as authority for the award in the proper space.

(a) The effective date of an award of pension on account of vocational rehabilitation shall be the date of entrance into vocational rehabilitation, or reentrance, if interrupted.

(b) The effective date of an increased award of pension on account of vocational rehabilitation based on the marriage of the claimant, the birth or adoption of a child, or dependency of a parent, shall be the date of receipt of claim by the Veterans' Administration or the date the evidence of relationship or dependency shows entitlement, whichever is the later. In the event claimant's application is not complete, he will be advised of the evidence necessary to complete the application, and if such evidence is not received within one year from the date of request therefor, increased pension will not be paid by virtue of that application.

(c) Reduction of an award of pension payable on account of vocational rehabilitation shall be effective:

(1) In the event of death of a dependent, as of the date of death;

(2) In the event of divorce, the date preceding date of divorce;

(3) In case of a child, the date preceding the eighteenth anniversary of date of birth; or if attending school after age 18, the date of cessation of school attendance or the date preceding the twenty-first anniversary of the date of birth, whichever is the earlier; the date preceding date of marriage; in case of cessation of incapacity to support self by reason of mental or physical defect, last day of month in which reduction is approved.

(4) By reason of wages, compensation or other income received while training on the job, last day of month in which award effecting reduction is approved.

(d) Discontinuance of an award of pension payable on account of vocational rehabilitation because of interruption of course or employability determined, shall be effective:

(1) Interruption of course, date following date of interruption of course.

(2) Employability determined, first day of the third calendar month next succeeding that in which employability was determined.

9 Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress, provides, among other things, that:

Where any person while following a course of vocational rehabilitation as provided for in this part suffers an injury or aggravation of an injury, as a result of the pursuit of such course of vocational rehabilitation, and not the result of his or her own willful misconduct, and such injury or aggravation results in additional disability to or death of such person, the benefits under laws applicable to veterans of the present war shall be awarded in the same manner and extent as if such disability, aggravation, or death were service-connected within the meaning of such laws; except that no benefits under this paragraph shall be awarded unless application be made therefor within two years after such injury or aggravation was suffered, or such death occurred.

(a) The benefits granted under that portion of Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress, quoted above, will not be awarded unless application is made therefor within two years after such injury or aggravation was suffered or such death occurred.

(b) Pending revision of Veterans' Administration Form 526–A, it, or any communication from or action by a claimant or his duly authorized representative, which clearly indicates an intent to apply for benefits by reason of injury or aggravation of injury resulting in additional disability or death, will be considered an informal claim and handled as provided in § 2.1027.

(c) Jurisdiction, determinations and adjudication action under this paragraph will be in accordance with the provisions of §§ 2.1122, 2.1123 and 2.1124, in so far as applicable.

10. All cases heretofore rated and determined to be entitled to pension for disability due to World War II service will be reviewed at the earliest possible date and a determination made by the rating agency as to whether a vocational handicap exists. The budget officer and chief of statistics, central office, or the manager in field offices, will prepare and certify from the abstract cards a list of claims to be reviewed under this paragraph. The list will be forwarded to the chief, claims division, veterans claims service, central office, and to the adjudication officer in the field offices. The veteran will be notified of this determination as outlined in paragraph 5 hereof.

11. Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress, amends Title I, Pub. Law 2, 73d Congress, and § 35.01, as amended, accordingly, except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of regulations and procedure, Veterans Administration, pertaining to definitions of relationship, dependency, jurisdiction, appeals, etc., under Pub. Law 2, 73d Congress, in so far as applicable, will control under this instruction.

12. An initial supply of Rehabilitation Form 1900 will be furnished each regional office and facility with regional office activities. Additional forms will be requisitioned from central office in the usual manner. (April 21, 1943) [Pub. Law 16, 78th Congress]

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 8 NUMBER 81

Washington, Saturday, April 24, 1943

The President

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9332

ESTABLISHING THE SOLID FUELS ADMINISTRATION FOR WAR

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes of the United States, as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. Whenever used in this Order:

(a) The term "solid fuels" includes all forms of anthracite, bituminous, subbituminous, and lignitic coals (including packaged and processed fuels, such as briquettes).

(b) The term "solid fuels industries" means the development, production, preparation, treatment, processing, storage, shipment, receipt, and distribution of solid fuels within the United States, its territories and possessions, but does not include the transportation of solid fuels.

(c) The term "transportation" means transportation as defined in the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, and in Executive Orders Nos. 8989 and 9156.

(d) The terms "distribution" and "shipment" exclude transportation, and the terms "distribute" and "ship" exclude transport.

(e) The term "directive" includes order, regulation, and any other similar instrument.

2. There is established within the Department of the Interior a Solid Fuels Administration for War, at the head of which shall be a Solid Fuels Administrator, hereinafter referred to as the Administrator. The Secretary of the Interior shall serve ex-officio as Administrator.

3. The Administrator shall:

(a) Subject to the provisions of this Order, establish basic policies and formulate plans and programs to assure for the prosecution of the war the conservation and most effective development and utilization of solid fuels in the United States and its territories and possessions, issue necessary policy and operating directives to parties engaged in the solid fuels industries, and appoint such general, regional, local, or functional solid fuels industries committees or councils as the Administrator finds necessary, Provided that no directive issued hereunder shall conflict with any directive which has heretofore been issued or may hereafter be issued (1) by the Chairman of the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph one of Executive Order No. 9125 of April 7, 1942, or (2) by the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission pursuant to Executive Orders Nos. 9139 of April 18, 1942, 9279 of December 5, 1942, and 9301 of February 9, 1943.

(b) Serve, as far as practicable, as the liaison and channel of communication between parties engaged in the solid fuels industries and the several departments and agencies of the Federal Government on matters directly involving the functions of the Administrator.

(c) Obtain from the Departments of War and the Navy, the several divisions and branches of the War Production Board, such other Federal and state departments and agencies as may be appropriate, and from any other sources, private or governmental, any information, statistics, and data necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Order.

(d) (1) Prepare estimates as to the quantities of solid fuels which the Administrator deems necessary to meet direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements and submit such estimates with recommendations to the War Production Board.

(2) Recommend to the War Production Board any program for distribution of solid fuels which the Administrator deems necessary to meet direct and indirect military, and essential industrial requirements.

(3) Prepare and submit to the War Production Board recommendations as to the kinds and quantities of materials needed by parties engaged in the solid fuels industries to make available solid fuels in such quantities as the Administrator deems necessary to meet direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements.

(e) Subject to the direction of the Chairman of the War Production Board, exercise the powers, authority, and the discretion conferred upon the Chairman by Paragraph 1 of Executive Order No. 9125 of April 7, 1942, by issuing, and taking appropriate action to enforce, such directives to the solid fuels industries as the Administrator may deem necessary, in order to:

(1) Provide adequate supplies of solid fuels for direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements;

(2) Effect the proper distribution of such amounts of materials as the Chairman of the War Production Board may allot for the solid fuels industries.

(f) Compile data and make continuing surveys with respect to the effect of the prices charged for solid fuels upon the efficient wartime operations of the solid fuels industries and the maintenance of adequate supplies of solid fuels for direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements. On the basis of such surveys, the Solid Fuels Administrator shall consult with and recommend to the Price Administrator, for consideration in light of the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, such upward or downward adjustments in the schedule of prices charged for solid fuels as will, in the judgment of the Solid Fuels Administrator, assure the efficient wartime operation of the solid fuels industries and the maintenance of adequate supplies of solid fuels for direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements. In order to enable the Solid Fuels Administrator to make appropriate recommendations, the Price Administrator shall advise with the Solid Fuels Administrator prior to the establishment or alteration by the Price Administrator of any schedule of prices to be charged for solid fuels.

(g) Be advised of all plans or proposals which deal with the civilian rationing of solid fuels and consult with rationing authorities in the development of such plans or proposals; and, determine, after advising with the War Production Board, the areas and the times within which such rationing should be effective and the amount of solid fuels available for such purpose.

(h) Prepare and submit to the Office of Defense Transportation recommendations concerning the provision of transportation facilities adequate for the transportation and distribution of the solid fuels necessary to meet direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements.

(i) Prepare and submit to the War Shipping Administration recommendations concerning the provision of vessels and related facilities adequate for the transportation and distribution of the solid fuels necessary to meet direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements.

(j) Request the War Manpower Commission to take such action as it deems appropriate to meet the manpower problems of the solid fuels industries in the light of the over-all manpower needs of the Nation, when the ability of the solid fuels industries to make available solid fuels in such quantities as the Administrator deems necessary to meet direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements is represented to be impaired or endangered by a shortage of manpower.

(k) Formulate and submit any necessary policy recommendations to the appropriate Federal departments and agencies, after consultation with them, concerning plans and procedures with respect to foreign solid fuels activities.

4. In the performance of his functions, the Administrator shall consult with the appropriate authorities in the Federal departments and agencies whose functions affect the solid fuels industries in advance of any action proposed to be taken by him which may affect any such department or agency in the performance of its functions.

5. The several Federal departments and agencies shall supply such information and data as the Administrator may require in performing his functions and shall advise with the Administrator before undertaking any action which might affect the continuous, ready availability of solid fuels for direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements. In order to assist him in carrying out the purposes of this Order, the Administrator may establish committees or designate groups of advisers, representing two or more departments or agencies of the Federal Government, or states.

6. The Administrator may appoint a Deputy Administrator to whom he may delegate, subject to such departmental supervision and direction as he may determine, any and all power, authority, and discretion conferred upon him by this Order. The Administrator may designate either the Deputy Administrator or the Acting Secretary of the Interior to serve as Acting Solid Fuels Administrator in the absence of the Administrator. The Administrator and Deputy Administrator may (a) exercise the powers, authority, and discretion conferred upon them by or under the provisions of this Order through such personnel of the Solid Fuels Administration for War and the Department of the Interior, and in such manner as the Administrator or Deputy Administrator may determine, and (b) accept the services of other departments, agencies, and officials of the Government in carrying out the purposes of this Order. The Administrator, within the limits of such funds as may be allocated or appropriated for the purpose, may employ necessary personnel and make provision for necessary supplies, facilities, travel and services.

7. In the performance of his functions the Administrator shall, to the fullest extent compatible with efficiency, utilize appropriate existing agencies, facilities and services of the Department of the Interior.

8. The Office of Solid Fuels Coordination for National Defense established pursuant to letter of the President dated November 5, 1941 (changed to the Office of Solid Fuels Coordinator for War by letter of the President dated May 25, 1942) is abolished, and its personnel, records, property, and funds are transferred to the Solid Fuels Administration for War, effective fifteen days from the date of this Order. All directives, agreements, recommendations, and other documents issued or entered into under the functions, duties, and authorities of the Solid Fuels Coordinator for War shall remain in force as the responsibility of the Administrator until such time as he may revoke, alter, or otherwise change such documents under provisions of this Executive order.

9. The Administrator shall keep the President informed with respect to the progress made in carrying out this Order and perform such related duties as the President may from time to time assign or delegate to him.

10. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to limit in any way the statutory powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission with respect to rates, charges, statistics, accounts, car service (including emergency service powers) or operating authority, or in any way to limit or restrict the functions and authority, and the exercise thereof, of the Federal Power Commission under the Natural Gas Act, the Federal Power Act, Executive Order No. 8202 of July 13, 1939, and Presidential Directives of September 26, 1942 and October 22, 1942 concerning electric service for war plants and establishments.

11. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to limit in any way the authority of the Departments of War and Navy to initiate or carry out directly, without review or approval by the Administrator, any action relating to solid fuels or the solid fuels industries which either Department deems to be a matter of military necessity or expediency and which arises in such areas and is of such military urgency as to require special or secret disposition.

12. Any provision of any prior Executive order conflicting with this Executive order is superseded to the extent of such conflict.

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 18—WAR SERVICE REGULATIONS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Section 18.9 Transfer is amended as follows:

(b) Inter-agency transfers. * * *

(2) No transfer will be authorized by the Commission unless the Commission shall find that the employee will make a more effective contribution to the war program in the position to which his transfer is proposed, nor will any transfer be authorized which is contrary to the most effective methods of filling the Federal Government's requirements for manpower in the civilian service or in conflict with policies or directives of the War Manpower Commission.

* * * * *

Section 18.12 Stabilization of employment is added as follows:

§ 18.12 Stabilization of employment—(a) Definitions. (1) "Essential activity" means any activity in the War Manpower Commission list of essential activities and any activity approved by a Regional Manpower Director as a locally needed activity.

(2) "New employee" means any individual who has not been in the employ of the hiring employer at any time during the preceding thirty-day period.

(3) "New employment" means employment with an employer by whom the individual has not been employed at any time during the thirty-day period preceding such employment.

(b) Restrictions on employments—(1) Former employees of nonessential activities. The Commission will approve for employment in a Federal agency any new employee who, for the preceding thirty days, was not engaged in an essential activity even though the salary or wage rate to be paid by the Federal Government would exceed the rate most recently received by such employee.

(2) Former employees of essential activities. The Commission will not approve for employment in a Federal agency (except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) any new employee who, during the preceding thirty-day period, was engaged in an essential activity if the salary or wage rate (exclusive of overtime payments) would exceed the rate most recently received during such period by the employee.

(3) Former employees of essential activities in employment stabilization areas. The Commission will approve for employment in a Federal agency any new employee who, during the preceding thirty-day period, was engaged in an essential activity without regard to his preceding wage rate or salary scale, provided the hiring of the employee is subject to and is permitted under a War Manpower Commission employment stabilization program for the area in which the employee is to work.

(4) Issuance of statements of availability. In the case of an employee now working for a Federal agency in an employment stabilization area, statements of availability will be issued under the following conditions:

(i) If the employee's services are terminated by the Federal agency for any reason, the agency itself shall immediately furnish him with such a statement.

(ii) If the employee is furloughed or laid off for an indefinite period, or for a period of seven or more days, the agency in which he is employed shall immediately furnish him with such a statement.

(iii) If the employee alleges that his present employment does not utilize him at his highest skill, or that he is not being employed at full time, he may request of the Director of Personnel of a department or agency or his authorized representative, acting as an agent of the Commission, a statement of availability. If, in conformity with such regulations as the Commission may prescribe, it is determined that the employee's allegations are in conformity with the facts, and if it is determined further that no satisfactory arrangements can be made for placing the employee elsewhere in the department or agency or in the Federal service, a statement of availability shall be issued.

If the Director of Personnel or his authorized representative refuses to issue a statement of availability, the employee may appeal the decision to the nearest Commission representative. If the Commission's nearest representative refuses to issue such a statement, the employee may appeal his decision to the appropriate War Manpower Commission official.

(iv) No statement of availability will be issued solely on the ground that an individual's wage or salary rate is substantially less than that prevailing in the locality for the same or substantially similar work.

(v) Any statement of availability shall contain the worker's name, his social security account number, if any, the name and official address of the person issuing the statement, the date of issuance, and a statement to the effect that the worker may be hired elsewhere in an essential activity. No other information shall be included on the statement.

(5) Penalties for violation. Whenever the Commission shall find that any person has been appointed to or is holding a position in the Federal service in violation of this Regulation, it will notify the employee concerned and direct the proper appointing officer to remove such employee. If the employee is not removed within ten days after such notice, the Commission will certify the facts to the proper disbursing and auditing officers pursuant to Civil Service Rule XV (Part 15 of this chapter). (E.O. 9063, 7 F.R. 1075; E.O. 9243, 7 F.R. 7213; War Manpower Commission Directive X, 7 F.R. 7298)

NOTE: This regulation is issued in conformity with the regulations of the War Manpower Commission restricting transfer of workers under Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943, (8 F.R. 5136). Violation of such regulations is subject to the penal provisions of the Act of October 2, 1942, (Pub. Law 729—77th Congress). The provision of § 4001.10 of the Regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director, issued October 27, 1942, (7 F.R. 8748), apply to any wages or salaries paid in violation of the regulations of the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission.

Application of the subject matter of this regulation to positions and employees under the jurisdiction of the Board of Legal Examiners will be covered in a regulation promulgated by the Board.

By the United States Civil Service Commission.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Food Distribution Administration

PART 927—MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA

SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Order suspending certain provisions of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area.

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area, it is hereby determined that the provisions of such order which provide seasonal minimum prices for Class I milk during the month of May 1943, are provisions which obstruct and do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to producers of milk under such order.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, effective as of 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., April 25, 1943, the following provisions of § 927.4 (a) (1) of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area, are hereby suspended for the period ending May 24, 1943:

1. Designation of the periods "April through June," and "July through March," and

2. The prices established for the period "April through June."

Done at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of April 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

PART 941—MILK IN THE CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, MARKETING AREA

SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Order suspending certain provisions of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area.

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, it is hereby determined that the provision of such order which provides seasonal minimum prices for Class I milk during the months of May and June 1943, is a provision which obstructs and does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to producers of milk under such order.

It is therefore, ordered, That, effective as of 12:01 a. m., c. w. t., May 1, 1943, the following provisions of § 941.5 (a) (2) of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, are hereby suspended: "Except the delivery periods of May and June," and "and during the delivery periods of May and June the price per hundredweight for Class I milk shall be the price determined pursuant to paragraph (b), plus 50 cents."

Done at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of April 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] CLAUDE R. WICKARD,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter X—Food Production Administration

[FPO 5,[1] Amendment 4]

PART 1206—FERTILIZER

CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

Section 1206.1 is hereby amended as set forth below:

Paragraph (c) (1) (v) is amended to read as follows:

(v) Deliveries by fertilizer manufacturers, dealers, or agents of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for the preparation of starter solutions to be used in the transplanting of vegetable crop plants, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) (v) for such purpose. Notwithstanding any provision in this order to the contrary, fertilizer authorized to be delivered by this paragraph (c) (1) (v) may be packaged in packages of 25 or 50 pounds net weight.

Paragraph (e) is amended to read as follows:

[1] 8 F.R. 947, 3689, 3750, 4817.

(e) Substitution of grades. Set forth in Schedule II attached hereto is a list of the grades (stated on a nitrogen content basis or on a crop basis) of chemical fertilizer used in each of the States designated on such schedule during the 1940–1941 season (July 1, 1940–June 30, 1941) and a list of the approved grades for each of such States for the 1942–1943 season (July 1, 1942–June 30, 1943). The 1940–1941 grades and the 1942–1943 grades are listed in groups, each group being identified by a group number. The grades listed in a particular 1942–1943 group are the grades approved for substitution during 1942–1943 for the grades of the 1940–1941 group bearing the corresponding group number. Where a grade in one of the 1940–1941 groups was used on a particular crop during the 1940–1941 season, no grade other than a grade appearing in the corresponding 1942–1943 group shall be used on such crop during the 1942–1943 season, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (e). For example, where a person used a grade carrying 2% nitrogen on a particular crop in Connecticut during the 1940–1941 season, he shall not use any grade other than a 0–14–14, 0–20–20, or 0–9–27 grade on such crop during the 1942–1943 season. Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph (e), grades containing four or less percent nitrogen manufactured, delivered and used in 1940–1941 on crops described as vegetable crops in Schedule III may be replaced by approved grades containing the same percentage of nitrogen as the grade replaced. This paragraph (e) shall not prevent the delivery and use in the 1942–1943 season, at the election of the user, of a grade having a nitrogen content lower than that authorized for use in such 1942–1943 season. Nor shall this paragraph (e) prevent the delivery and use in the 1942–1943 season of a multiple-strength grade of chemical fertilizer instead of an ordinary analysis grade of chemical fertilizer: Provided, That the nitrogen content of the multiple-strength grade shall not exceed the nitrogen content of the ordinary analysis grade on a per acre application basis. This paragraph (e) shall not prevent the delivery and use in the 1942–1943 season of any ordinary analysis grade of chemical fertilizer in the hands of a dealer or agent on April 24, 1943, instead of a grade otherwise authorized to be delivered by this paragraph (e): Provided, That the nitrogen content of the grade delivered shall not exceed the nitrogen content of the grade otherwise authorized to be delivered on a per acre application basis. In the event that information covering use in the 1940–1941 season is not available, use in the 1942–1943 season may be based on grades used in 1941–1942.

Paragraph (i) (3) is redesignated as paragraph (i) (4).

Paragraph (i) is amended by adding the following new paragraph to be designated as paragraph (i) (3):

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (i) (1) and (i) (2) hereof, the Director may fix the maximum rate of application per acre for the approved grade (straight or mixed) to be used on any Group A or Group B crop.

Schedule I attached to Food Production Order No. 5 is hereby amended as follows:

The list of approved grades of chemical fertilizer for Georgia is amended to read as follows:

Georgia: 0-14-10; 2-12-6; 3-8-5; 3-9-6; 3-9-9; 3-12-6; [1] 4-2-10; 4-8-4; 4-9-3; 4-8-6; 4-8-8; 4-12-4; [2] 10-0-10.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1903]

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for a change in seam designations of coals produced by certain mines in District No. 8.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain code members in Anderson, Morgan, Pickett and Scott Counties, Tennessee; Clinton and Wayne Counties, Kentucky; and Wise County, Virginia; in District No. 8; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purpose of the Act;

It is ordered. That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows:

Commencing forthwith, § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered. That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered. That relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Petitioner requests relief for the Huff Mine, Mine Index No. 3324, of G. T. Guffey, the L. D. Crass Mine, Mine Index No. 1896, of L. D. Crass, and the Henry Cross Mine, Mine Index No. 2093, of Henry Cross. It appears that the correct mine names and the code member producers operating Mine Index Nos. 3324, 1896 and 2093 are Sloan No. 1 Mine, Sloan Coal Company, Inc.; W. A. Ray Mine, W. A. Ray; and E. B. Sexton Mine, Clyde Strunk, respectively, and they have been listed accordingly.

Dated: April 9, 1943.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER,
Director.

TEMPORARY AND CONDITIONALLY FINAL EFFECTIVE MINIMUM PRICES FOR DISTRICT NO. 8

NOTE: The material contained in these supplements is to be read in the light of the classifications, prices, instructions, exceptions and other provisions contained in Part 328, Minimum Price Schedule for District No. 8 and supplements thereto.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VI—Selective Service System

[Order No. 102]

ROSEWOOD PROJECT, MD.

ESTABLISHMENT FOR CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS

I, Lewis D. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, in accordance with the provisions of section 5 (g) of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 885) and pursuant to authorization and direction contained in Executive Order No. 8675 dated February 6, 1941, hereby designate the Rosewood Project to be work of national importance, to be known as Civilian Public Service Camp No. 102. Said project, located at Owings Mills, Baltimore County, Maryland, will be the base of operations for work at the Rosewood State Training School, an institution under the State mental hospital system of Maryland, and registrants under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, who have been classified by their local boards as conscientious objectors to both combatant and noncombatant military service and have been placed in Class IV-E, may be assigned to said project in lieu of their induction for military service.

Men assigned to said Rosewood Project will be engaged in clerical work, as attendants, waiters, farm hands, etc., and shall be under the direction of the Superintendent, Rosewood State Training School, as well as will be the project management. Men shall be assigned to and retained in camp in accordance with the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 and regulations and orders promulgated thereunder, as well as the regulations of the Rosewood State Training School. Administrative and directive control shall be under the Selective Service System through the Camp Operations Division of National Selective Service Headquarters.

LEWIS B. HERSHEY,
Director.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 940—RUBBER AND BALATA AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER OR BALATA IS A COMPONENT

[Amendment 1 to Supplementary Order M-15-b as Amended April 13, 1943]

Supplementary Order M-15-b as amended April 13, 1943 (§ 940.3) is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. By amending paragraph (a) (17) to read as follows:

(17) "War order" means:

(i) Any contract or purchase order for material or equipment to be delivered to or for the account of any agency of the United States, including any independent regulatory commission or board, any executive department, independent establishment, commission, board, bureau, division, agency, administration, service, or office of the Executive branch of the Federal Government, and any corporation operated by the Federal Government. The term does not include any contract or purchase order for material or equipment to be delivered, (a) to or for the account of any Federal Government-owned or -controlled corporation which is not operated by the Federal Government or, (b), to or for the account of any post exchange, ship's store, commissary, officer's mess, officers', noncommissioned officers' or enlisted men's club, or any similar agency or organization, whether or not such contract or purchase order bears an endorsement specified in Priorities Regulation No. 17.

(ii) Any contract or purchase order placed by any agency of the United States for material or equipment to be delivered to, or for the account of, any foreign country under the provisions of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act),

(iii) Any contract or purchase order for material or equipment required by the person placing the same to fill his contracts or purchase orders on hand, provided such material or equipment is to be physically incorporated in material or equipment to be delivered under contracts or purchase orders included under (i) and (ii) of this paragraph (a) (17).

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Regulation 16, as amended April 22, 1943]

APPEALS

§ 944.37 Priorities Regulation 16—(a) Certain appeals to be filed with field offices. Every appeal from any order listed in Appendix A to this regulation shall be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates, notwithstanding any existing provision of any regulation, order or form.

(b) Appeals forms. Every appeal from any order listed in Appendix A to this regulation shall be filed on Form PD-500 or such other form as may be specifically designated in Appendix A, notwithstanding any existing provision of any regulation, order or form.

(c) Other appeals. An appeal from any rule, regulation or order not listed in Appendix A to this regulation shall be filed with the Washington Office of the War Production Board unless the rule, regulation or order appealed from provides otherwise.

(d) Appeal by letter. An appeal for which no specific form is prescribed by any rule, regulation or order shall be made by filing with the appropriate office of the War Production Board a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

This regulation as amended shall take effect May 1, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 962—IRON AND STEEL

[Supplementary Order M-21-h as Amended April 22, 1943]

TOOL STEEL

Supplementary Order M-21-h (§ 962.9) is amended to read as follows:

§ 962.9 Supplementary Order M-21-h—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Tool steel" means any steel to be used for the manufacture of tools for use in mechanical fixtures for cutting, shaping, forming, and blanking of material, either hot or cold, or for precision gauges. It is not deemed to include steel for use as shanks in the manufacture of tipped or welded tools or for hand tools such as chisels, pliers, screw drivers, wrenches, centering punches and nail-sets.

(2) "Alloy steel" means alloy steel as defined in paragraph (a) of Supplementary Order M-21-a.

(3) "High-speed steel" means alloy steel of either of the following classes:

(i) "Class A high-speed steel" means either alloy steel containing not less than .60% carbon and more than 3.0% molybdenum; or alloy steel containing not less than .60% carbon, 6.0% or less tungsten, and more than 3.0% molybdenum.

(ii) "Class B high-speed steel" means alloy steel containing not less than .55% carbon and more than 12.0% tungsten.

Other alloying elements may be present in the high-speed steels of either class, but steel not containing the elements named, in the amount specified, shall not be deemed high-speed steel.

(4) "Producer" means any person who melts tool steel.

(b) Purchasers' statements. In addition to any statement required by General Preference Order M-21, on and after May 1, 1943, every order placed with a producer for steel to be used for the manufacture of tools for use in mechanical fixtures for cutting, shaping, forming or blanking of material, either hot or cold, or for precision gauges, shall include the statement, "This is an order for 'tool steel' ", over the signature, either manual or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, of a duly authorized official of the purchaser, which will constitute a representation to the producer and to the War Production Board that the steel ordered will be used only for one or more of the above purposes.

(c) Producers' forms. Each producer shall file monthly with the War Production Board, Ref.: M-21-h, melting schedules on form PD-440. The War Production Board may make such changes in any melting schedule as shall seem appropriate and may from time to time issue supplementary directions with regard to melting of tool steel.

(d) Melting and deliveries of tool steel. Except pursuant to specific authorization in writing by the War Production Board, tool steel shall be melted and delivered as follows:

(1) Each producer shall melt tool steel in accordance and only in accordance with such melting schedules as are approved by the War Production Board or such supplementary directions as may from time to time be issued by the War Production Board.

(2) Each producer shall deliver tool steel on an order and only on an order for which the melting has been specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

(e) Special instructions. The War Production Board may from time to time issue directions as to facilities to be used in production and directions specifying as to any alloying element the quantities and proportions which may be used in making tool steel, and whether and in what proportions any such element is to be the metal, a ferroalloy, reclaimed metal, scrap, a chemical compound or any other material containing such element.

(f) Restrictions of deliveries under toll agreements. Except pursuant to specific authorization in writing by the War Production Board, no person shall make or accept delivery under any toll agreement whereby one person melts tool steel for another person.

(g) Melting and deliveries of high-speed steel. Except pursuant to specific authorization in writing by the War Production Board

(1) No producer shall melt high-speed steel except within the limits below specified for the following elements:

(i) Class A high-speed steel:

Grade	C.	Cr.	W.	Mo.	V.	Co.
	Min.	Max.	Max.	Max.	Max.
I	.60	4.5	6.0	5.0	1.6	0.0
Ic	.60	4.5	6.0	5.0	1.9	3.5 Min.
II	.60	4.5	1.8	8.75	1.2	0.0
IIc	.60	4.5	1.8	8.75	1.9	3.5 Min.
III	.60	4.5	------	8.75	1.9	0.0
IIIc	.60	4.5	------	8.75	1.9	3.5 Min.

(ii) Class B high-speed steel:

Grade	C.	Cr.	W.	Mo.	V.	Co.
	Min.	Max.	Max.		Max.
IV	.55	4.5	19.0	0.0	1.10	0.0
IVc	.55	4.5	22.0	1.1 Max.	1.90	3.5 Min.

(2) On and after January 1, 1943 no producer shall melt in any calendar quarter, Class B high-speed steel which will exceed, in the aggregate, by weight one-third of the Class A high-speed steel melted by him in such quarter.

(3) No person shall place an order with a producer or any other person for Class B high-speed steel if Class A high-speed steel would reasonably fulfill his requirements.

(4) On and after January 1, 1943 no person shall place with a producer and no producer shall accept in any calendar quarter orders for Class B high-speed steel which will exceed, in the aggregate, by weight, one-third of the Class A high-speed steel ordered by such person from such producer during such quarter, except that this provision shall not apply to the placement of orders for high-speed steel with warehouses. On and after January 1, 1943, no person shall request cancellation from a producer in any calendar quarter, of any order for Class A high-speed steel, unless such person shall also request cancellation of an order or orders for one-third of such quantity, by weight, of Class B high-speed steel placed with such producer or some other producer during such quarter.

(5) On and after January 1, 1943, no person shall accept from a producer in any calendar quarter, deliveries of Class B high-speed steel which will exceed in the aggregate, by weight, one-third of the aggregate of deliveries of Class A high-speed steel made to him by all producers during such quarter, except that this provision shall not apply to deliveries of high-speed steel by warehouses.

(6) Customers' orders for high-speed steel which are to be filled in whole or in part by the use of material, including tungsten ore, ferro tungsten, and tungsten-bearing scrap, furnished by such customers shall be subject to all the restrictions and provisions of this order.

(h) Exceptions to restrictions on deliveries of high-speed steel. The provisions of paragraphs (g) (4) and (5) with respect to maximum permitted purchases and deliveries of Class B high-speed steel shall not apply to:

(1) Deliveries of high-speed steel to any person whose total receipts of high-speed steel from all producers does not exceed 100 lbs. per calendar quarter.

(2) Deliveries of high-speed steel to any person whose total receipts of high-speed steel from any producer in any calendar quarter balance within 5%, by weight, or 500 lbs., whichever is the lesser, of the required ratio of Class B high-speed steel to Class A high-speed steel.

(i) Melting and deliveries of Class A high-speed steel. Except pursuant to specific authorization in writing by the War Production Board:

(1) On and after December 1, 1942, no producer shall melt during any calendar month Class A high-speed steel, grades II and III, in excess of 30% of the monthly average tonnage of such Class A high-speed steel melted by him during the second calendar quarter of 1942.

(2) On and after January 1, 1943, no person shall accept for delivery from a producer during any calendar quarter Class A high-speed steel, grades II and III, in excess of 35% of the amount of such Class A high-speed steel received by him during the second calendar quarter of 1942.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(l) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Steel Division, Washington, D. C.; Ref.: M-21-h.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 1282—BABY CARRIAGES

[Limitation Order L-152, As Amended April 22, 1943]

Section 1282.1 General Limitation Order L-152 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1282.1 General Limitation Order L-152—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Group I carriage" means any coach, folding carriage or beach cart for the conveyance of one baby.

(2) "Group II carriage" means any twin coach, folding carriage or beach cart for the conveyance of two babies.

(3) "Group III carriage" means any stroller, sulky, baby walker, or combination stroller and baby walker intended for the conveyance of one baby.

(4) "Manufacturer" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not, who manufactures or assembles carriages (whether Group I, Group II, or Group III).

(b) General restrictions. (1) Except pursuant to specific authorization of the War Production Board, on and after April 22, 1943, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any carriages containing more iron and carbon steel, including joining hardware, than the amounts specified below:

	Pounds
In Group I carriages	9
In Group II carriages	12
In Group III carriages	11½

(2) No manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on, or assemble any carriage (whether Group I, Group II, or Group III) which contains any metal other than iron and carbon steel.

(3) (i) On and after April 22, 1943, no manufacturer shall produce any carriage except in accordance with a production quota assigned to him in a schedule issued by the War Production Board pursuant to this order. Such production quotas shall be assigned for periods of time to be specified in the schedule and shall expire on the last day of the period for which they are assigned. Any manufacturer desiring to obtain a production quota shall file with the War Production Board at least 30 days before the expiration date of the schedule in effect at that time a written application to be assigned a production quota for such period as the War Production Board shall specify.

(ii) Such application should contain a statement as to the amount of iron and steel to be contained in each carriage the applicant proposes to produce during such period. Whenever production quotas are assigned by the War Production Board, it will take into consideration the amount of iron and steel to be used by such applicant, the performance of the carriages which each applicant proposes to produce as established by tests of the National Bureau of Standards or otherwise, and also the labor and transportation situation in the area where the plant of each applicant is located and such other factors as the War Production Board shall deem appropriate. In general, after the other factors have been considered, the larger quotas will be assigned to those manufacturers using less iron and steel per carriage.

(iii) No manufacturer who has been assigned a production quota shall process, fabricate, work on, or assemble any carriage containing more iron and steel than the amount specified in such manufacturer's application for a production quota pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph.

(c) Reports. On or before April 30, 1943, for the month of March 1943, and on or before the twentieth day of each month thereafter, for the preceding month, every manufacturer of carriages shall execute and file with the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., a report on Form PD-655.

(d) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Office of Production Management or the War Production Board limits the use of any iron or steel in the production of baby carriages to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(e) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order must be made on Form PD-500.

(h) Communications. All reports to be filed, and other communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-152.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 3122—ELECTRICAL MOTORS AND GENERATORS

[General Conservation Order L-221 as Amended April 22, 1943]

Section 3122.1 General Conservation Order L-221 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials and facilities used in the manufacture of electric motors for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3122.1 General Conservation Order L-221—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Motor" means any rotating equipment or device (including gearmotors) used to transform electrical energy into mechanical energy and built in frame size 203 (or frames corresponding to one horsepower, 1800 RPM, 60 cycle, two or three phase) and larger; except (i) motors used in the operation of passenger automobiles, trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, and off-the-highway motor vehicles, as defined in Order L-158, or (ii) starting motors for internal combustion engines.

(3) "Generator" means any rotating equipment or device used to transform mechanical energy into electrical energy and having a rating of not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ KW, built in frames corresponding to $\frac{3}{4}$ KW, 1800 RPM or larger; except (i) generators used in the operation of passenger automobiles, trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, and off-the-highway motor vehicles, as defined in Order L-158, (ii) generators for use in the operation of internal combustion engines, or (iii) generators for the following power sets: power frequency changers (below $62\frac{1}{2}$ cycles), synchronous condensers, hydroelectric generator sets, land use steam turbine generator sets, marine auxiliary steam turbine generator sets, steam engine generator sets, land use Diesel engine generator sets, 750 RPM or less, and land use gas engine (not gasoline) generator sets, 750 RPM or less.

(4) "Manufacture" means the fabrication or assembly of motors or generators.

(5) "Manufacturer" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the manufacture of motors or generators; and includes sales agencies and warehouses controlled by such person.

(6) "Dealer" means any person to the extent that he acquires new motors or generators for resale, as such.

(7) "Machinery producer" means any person to the extent that he fabricates or assembles, for resale, machinery (other than motors or generators) into which he incorporates or to which he attaches motors or generators which he has either purchased or produced.

(8) "Used motor or generator" means any motor or generator which has been operated for any purpose other than that of being tested.

(9) "Delivery" includes delivery of a motor or generator from one affiliate to another or from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same enterprise where the recipient affiliate, branch, division or section will use the motor or generator or incorporate it into other machinery.

(10) "Order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the delivery of a new motor or generator.

(11) "Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration" does not include any privately operated plant or shipyard financed by, or controlled by any of those organizations, or operated on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

(12) "Operating spare" means any extra or spare motor or generator, whether new or used, which has been set aside and marked as emergency replacement equipment for motors or generators of similar characteristics and kilowatt or horsepower rating in regular operation. Only motors or generators for use in a series production plan or for replacement of motors or generators used in the operation of machinery which by virtue of failure would cause serious and substantial impairment of facilities and substantial reduction of production shall be considered as operating spares.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance and delivery of orders. (1) No manufacturer, dealer, or machinery producer shall accept any order for or deliver any new motor or generator or machinery including any new motor or generator; and no person shall accept delivery from a manufacturer, dealer, or machinery producer of any new motor or generator or of machinery including a new motor or generator, unless:

(i) The purchaser shall have no idle motor or generator (other than an operating spare) in his possession which is adaptable to the purpose for which the new motor or generator will be used. The term "idle" as used above refers to a motor or generator which is not connected to the purchaser's load and electrical system; and "adaptable" means that the motor or generator has mechanical and electrical characteristics, including speed and horsepower rating, generally comparable to the motor or generator sought to be purchased.

(ii) Immediately prior to the placement of his order, the purchaser shall have attempted to obtain a used motor or generator for his purpose, from at least three persons whom he knows or has reasonable cause to believe are currently engaged in dealing in used motors or generators of that kind or from any three dealers whose names have been furnished to the purchaser by the War Production Board (Used Equipment Section, Electrical Equipment Branch) upon request. As to motors, the limitations and restrictions of this paragraph (b) (1) (ii) shall apply only to orders for general purpose, open 40° C. rise continuous duty motors and orders for dripproof or splashproof 50° C. rise motors.

(iii) The new motor or generator (other than an operating spare) to be acquired is necessary for installation within the shortest practicable time after delivery. For the purpose of this subparagraph, a motor or generator shall be deemed installed when it is connected to the purchaser's load and electrical system, notwithstanding that the purpose of such equipment may be emergency relief service.

(iv) With reference to motors, the purchaser does not have operating spares, in the same horsepower rating category (as listed below) as the new motor to be acquired, in excess of three per cent of the motors in the same category in operation (except that, in any event, the purchaser may have one operating spare in each category): Provided, however, That for the purpose of this subparagraph, motors operated by the proposed purchaser with legal title in another person may be separately classified, and permissible operating spares for each such classification may be based on the motors in such classification. The categories referred to above shall be:

1–3 horsepower
3 1–7 5 horsepower
7 6–20 horsepower
20 1–50 horsepower
50 1 and above

(2) No manufacturer or dealer shall accept any order for any motor or generator, unless the order has a preference rating of AA–5 or higher.

(c) Restrictions on types of motors. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein or authorized by the War Production Board no manufacturer, dealer, or machinery producer, shall accept any order for or deliver any new motor or any machinery which include a new motor; and no person shall accept delivery from a manufacturer, dealer, or machinery producer of any new motor or machinery which includes a new motor; unless the motor is in compliance with the following standards and is otherwise of the simplest practicable mechanical and electrical design:

(1) Mechanical and electrical design. The following minimum standards shall be applied with respect to electrical and mechanical design of new motors:

(i) No motor shall have a temperature rise (based on an ambient temperature of 40° C.) of less than 40° C., for open type; less than 50° C. for splashproof and dripproof type; or less than 55° C. for totally enclosed type motors: Provided, however, That the temperature rise of the motor may vary from the above standards to the extent that the manufacturer has heretofore provided tolerance therefrom in his design and manufacture of the same or a similar type motor rated 40° C., 50° C., or 55° C., as the case may be.

(ii) No motor shall include a special enclosure to make it other than open type; except that (a) a motor may be explosion proof type if it is to be used in a Class I hazardous location, as defined in paragraph 5005, Article 500, Chapter 5 of the National Electrical Code approved by the American Standards Association August 7, 1940; (b) a motor may be totally enclosed if it is to be used in a Class II hazardous location, as defined in paragraph 5006, Article 500, Chapter 5 of the above Code, or if it is to be used generally in an atmosphere which is corrosive or which contains such quantities of material particles, dust or fumes as to be destructive of an open type motor; (c) a motor may be splashproof or dripproof type in any case where the motor is to be installed outdoors without any other protection or where the motor will be subjected to continually falling material particles, or to drops of splashing or jet propelled liquids falling at regular intervals of not less than once a day; (d) top half enclosing covers or top and bottom half enclosing screens shall be permitted on direct current motors, and wound rotor and single phase alternating current motors where there is danger of accidental contact by persons with live parts or where such covers or screens are necessary to prevent entrance of vermin or falling materials: Provided, however, That in any case where the requirements of General Limitation Order L–147, or any action taken by the War Production Board thereunder shall be more restrictive than the requirements of this subparagraph, the former shall apply.

(iii) Where practicable, AC polyphase motors shall be single voltage.

(iv) All alternating current multi-speed motors shall be single winding, except motors for use on metal reducing machinery, hoists, elevators, centrifuges, and single phase and two phase two speed motors.

(v) No motor shall be of slip ring wound rotor type, except for hoist, crane, conveyor, elevator, towline and dragline duty and for dry wire drawing, bending rolls, straightening rolls, metal reducing applications, aerial tramways, electric shovels, clam shell cranes, ball mills and jaw crushers.

(vi) No motor shall be of direct current type except (a) where only direct current is available to the user; (b) where speed matching is required; (c) for use on metal cutting machines or testing equipment; or (d) for use on cranes, hoists, metal reducing applications, steel mill auxiliaries, electric shovels, tramways, bending rolls, or elevators authorized under Order L–89.

(vii) No direct current motor shall have a lower base speed than as prescribed below:

Horsepower rating:	Minimum base speed (r p m)
1 to 5 incl.	575
5 1 to 25 incl.	450
25.1 to 75 incl.	400
75.1–200	300

(2) Horsepower loading. The following standards shall be applied in determining horsepower loads for motor ratings:

(i) Horsepower required for purposes of ascertaining load as provided herein shall be determined by test or, where test is impossible, by careful calculation or comparison with known power requirements of similar apparatus.

(ii) Where the motor rated voltage will be maintained and the ambient temperature, normally, will be below 40° C. and will only occasionally and for short periods, equal or exceed 40° C.: (a) in the case of alternating current motors rated 40° C. open type, continuous duty, the horsepower rating shall be not more than 80% of the determined horsepower load; (b) in the case of alternating current or direct current motors rated 50° C. semi-enclosed, or 55° C. totally enclosed, continuous duty, the horsepower rating shall be not more than 91% of the determined horsepower load; and (c) in the case of direct current motors rated 40° C. open type, continuous duty, the horsepower rating shall be not more than 87% of the determined horsepower load: Provided, however, That in any case where the application of any of the above formulae results in a horsepower rating which is not a standard horsepower rating, the rating may be the standard horsepower rating next above the rating resulting from the application of the formula.

Example: Where the horsepower required as determined in subdivision (1) is 9.3 HP, of which 80% would be 7.44 a motor not exceeding 7.5 standard HP should be delivered.

(3) Speed. The following minimum standards shall be applied in determining motor speed:

(i) All alternating current motors 25 horsepower and below shall have a synchronous speed of at least 1800 R. P. M. at 60 cycles, 1500 R. P. M. at 50 or 25 cycles: Provided, however, That in any case where the purchaser deems such speed impracticable he shall endorse on the certification required by paragraph (d) below such facts as shall demonstrate such impracticability, and if the manufacturer or machinery producer shall likewise certify such impracticability on the order, the provisions of this subdivision (i) shall not apply.

(ii) All other motors shall be of the highest practicable speed for the purpose for which purchased.

(d) Certification by purchasers of motors and machinery. (1) Each person (except a machinery producer) placing an order with a manufacturer or dealer for delivery of a new motor or generator as such, and each person who receives delivery of a new motor or generator as such, from a manufacturer or dealer pursuant to an order placed prior to December 10, 1942, shall furnish to the manufacturer or dealer, as a condition to receiving delivery, a certification in the form prescribed in Appendix A hereto.

A dealer shall transmit his purchaser's certification to the person from whom he purchases a motor, in satisfaction of the requirements of this paragraph (d) (1).

(2) Each person who places an order with a machinery producer (including any sales agent therefor) for a new motor or generator or for machinery which will be delivered to the purchaser with a new motor or generator incorporated therein or attached thereto, or who receives from any machinery producer (or sales agent therefor) delivery of any such motor, generator or machinery after May 22, 1943, shall furnish to the machinery producer a certification in the form prescribed in Appendix A hereto. If the purchaser does not have in his possession the information required by subparagraph (4) of the certification and shall so certify he may omit such information.

(3) In any case where an order relates to motors or generators of the identical kind and rating covered by a certification previously furnished to the same manufacturer or machinery producer, any facts included in the previous cer-tification which have remained unchanged may be incorporated in a later certification, by reference to the previous certification.

(4) The above mentioned certification shall be signed by a duly authorized and responsible official of the person required to make the certificate and shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board as well as to the person with whom the certificate is filed, of the facts certified therein. No person shall make delivery under this order who has reason to believe that the purchaser has furnished a false certification, and no person shall falsely furnish the certification set forth above.

Any manufacturer, dealer, or machinery producer may rely upon the facts furnished in the above mentioned certification and shall not be responsible for any action taken by him under this order in reliance upon inaccurate or untrue statements therein, unless he has reason to believe that such statements are inaccurate or untrue.

(e) Authorizations of War Production Board. Application for the authorization of the War Production Board to deviate from the standards and conditions of paragraphs (b), (c) or (d) may be made by the purchaser or proposed purchaser of the new motor or generator or by the machinery producer in any case where the motor or generator is to be incorporated into machinery manufactured by said producer. Such application shall be in the form of a letter or telegram or other communication addressed to the General Industrial Equipment Division, War Production Board, setting forth facts sufficient to enable the War Production Board to determine the necessity for such authorization. If granted, the authorization shall be transmitted by the purchaser to his supplier, except that a machinery producer shall retain such authorization in his files.

(f) Exemptions. (1) The limitations and restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) shall not apply to (i) any order for motors or generators for the direct use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or for incorporation in or attachment to any machinery or equipment to be used directly by said agencies; (ii) to any order by a machinery producer for motors to be incorporated in or attached to, and sold as part of machinery which he produces, if such machinery producer does not have on hand at the time of such order a greater number of motors in the same category (as specified in paragraph (b) (1) as the new motor sought to be purchased than the number thereof which he used for incorporation or assembly into machinery during the preceding two calendar months; (iii) to any order by a machinery producer for generators, if he does not have in his inventory a greater number thereof than he used for incorporation or assembly during the preceding two calendar months; or (iv) to any order for motors or generators to be delivered for use outside of continental United States and Canada.

(2) The limitations and restrictions of paragraphs (c) and (d) shall not apply to (i) any motor or generator ordered by and delivered to a machinery producer, but such limitations and restrictions shall apply to his resale of such motor or generator, as such or as part of other machinery; or to (ii) any motor or generator delivered for use outside of continental United States and Canada.

(3) The limitations and restrictions of paragraph (d) shall not apply to any order for generators for the direct use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration or for incorporation in or attachment to any machinery or equipment to be used directly by said agencies.

(4) The limitations and restrictions of paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this order shall not apply (i) to industrial truck motors, torque motors, traction motors and generators, motors used in the operation of air-borne equipment, frequency changers (62½ cycles and above), two bearing motor-generator sets (including electric welders of the two bearing type) dynamometers and rotary converters; or (ii) to any motor or generator to be used on any vessel owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration or to be used in the operation of combat equipment. As used herein "combat equipment" means any combat end product (including but not limited to ammunition and other ordnance, tanks, warships and aircraft) prescribed for field or combat use by the Army, the Navy, or the Maritime Commission.

(g) Production schedules. (1) On and after February 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall manufacture any motor or generator unless the motor or generator is included in a production schedule approved by the War Production Board as provided below.

(2) On or before the 20th day of each calendar month, every manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD–738 which shall include such manufacturer's proposed production schedules of motors and generators so far as then planned, and such other information as shall be required by said Form PD–738. The production schedule for such period following the date of filing as shall be specified in the instructions to said Form PD–738 shall be deemed to be approved by the War Production Board upon its receipt of the above mentioned report unless and until the War Production Board shall otherwise direct. Regardless of the terms of any other order or rule or regulation or of any commitment by the manufacturer or any customer, the War Production Board may at any time change any schedule; direct the cancellation of any order held by any manufacturer whether or not included or reflected in any schedule; prescribe any other schedule for production; allocate any order theretofore received by the manufacturer to any other manufacturer; or direct the delivery of any motor or generator, in production or completed to any person, at the established price and terms. No manufacturer shall alter any approved or prescribed production schedule unless authorized or directed to do so by the War Production Board.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions. — (1) Other limitation orders. Nothing in this order shall be construed to permit any person to sell, deliver, or otherwise transfer, or any manufacturer to purchase, receive delivery of or otherwise acquire any raw materials, semi-processed parts, or finished products in contravention of the terms of any L or M order, or amendments or supplements thereto or other regulations of the War Production Board, effective at the date of any such sale, delivery, or other transfer. Where the limitations imposed by any other L or M order are applicable to the subject matter of this order, the most restrictive limitation shall apply, unless otherwise specifically provided herein.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(4) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L–221.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

APPENDIX A

The certification required by paragraph (f) of the order shall be in substantially the following form:

Purchase Order No. ----------
Date ----------

"The undersigned hereby certifies that the motor (s) covered by the above mentioned purchase order are of the simplest practicable mechanical and electrical design and that

(1) Idle and used motors. He has no adaptable idle motor or generator (except operating spares) and no operating spares in excess of the number prescribed in paragraph (b) (1) (iv) of Order L–221; and he has been unable to obtain a used motor or generator for his purpose from the following dealers known by him to be engaged currently in dealing in such motors

INSTRUCTIONS

1 If any of the above items are inapplicable to the order being certified, a statement should be made to that effect. If an item is inapplicable because of an exemption provided by Order L–221, reference should be made to the pertinent provision of the order. If the purchaser's order has been granted any exemption by the War Production Board, appropriate reference should be made, including the date of the authorizing document and any conditions contained therein.

2 If the order is for motors or generators of identical kind and rating covered by a previous certification, information which has remained unchanged need not be repeated but reference (including date and order number) should be made to the previous certification.

PART 3122—ELECTRICAL MOTORS AND GENERATORS

[Interpretation 1 of General Conservation Order L–221 as Amended April 22, 1943]

Paragraph (f) (4) of § 3122.1 General Conservation Order L–221 provides certain exemptions for motors and generators used on any vessel owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration. The question has been raised as to the proper classification of floating dry docks. It was contemplated that floating dry docks, produced for service anywhere, would be considered vessels within the meaning of this paragraph.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 3, Direction 2]

§ 3175.3 Special direction regarding manufacturers of combat measuring instruments (as defined in Limitation Order L–203). A delivery order for combat measuring instruments which bears a preference rating with an allotment number or symbol shall not be deemed superior in rating for purposes of Priorities Regulation 1, to a delivery order for combat measuring instruments which bears a rating of the same grade without an allotment number or symbol; and manufacturers of combat measuring instruments shall schedule deliveries thereof without regard to allotment numbers or symbols, but subject to and in accordance with all applicable provisions of orders and regulations of the War Production Board other than paragraph (c) of CMP Regulation 3.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Interpretation 3 of CMP Reg. 5]

The following official interpretation is issued with respect to § 3175.5, CMP Regulation 5.

Reels required for shipment or delivery of products are not included within the term "fabricated containers" on List A of CMP Regulation No. 5, and consequently the procedures provided by the regulation may be used to obtain them.

PART 3227—VULCANIZED FIBRE

[Allocation Order M–305]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of vulcanized fibre for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest, and to promote the national defense.

§ 3227.1 Allocation Order M–305. — (a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Vulcanized fibre" means the chemically converted and hardened cellulose material commonly designated "vulcanized fibre" or "hard vulcanized fibre", usually prepared by treating cotton rag or alpha cellulose paper with zinc chloride which is subsequently leached out of the resulting mass.

(2) "Producer" means any person who produces vulcanized fibre.

(3) "Fabricate" means to perform any machining or forming operation on vulcanized fibre.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of vulcanized fibre. (1) On and after April 22, 1943, no producer shall fabricate or deliver vulcanized fibre, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (g).

(2) On and after April 22, 1943, no fabricator or distributor under common ownership and control with any producer shall fabricate or deliver vulcanized fibre, except for uses approved by the War Production Board upon application by such producer pursuant to paragraph (g). Such application shall be based upon descriptions of proposed ultimate uses furnished to the producer by such fabricator or distributor with respect to vulcanized fibre in the inventory of, or to be delivered by the producer to such fabricator or distributor.

(3) Each person furnishing a certified description of ultimate use with an order for vulcanized fibre pursuant to paragraph (f) shall use the vulcanized fibre delivered on such order only for the purpose specified in such certificate, except as otherwise specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(4) The War Production Board at its discretion may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to use, fabrication, delivery or acceptance of delivery of vulcanized fibre, or with respect to disposition of vulcanized fibre in process or of finished vulcanized fibre in inventory.

(c) Inventory restriction. On and after April 22, 1943, no person other than a producer shall accept delivery of vulcanized fibre (irrespective of authorization to his producer to make such delivery) if his inventory of vulcanized fibre of the same or equivalent grade, specification and thickness is, or by virtue of such acceptance would become, greater than a 60-day supply, having regard to his method and rate of operation or sales.

(d) Color restriction. On and after April 30, 1943, no producer shall put in process vulcanized fibre of other than natural gray color if such vulcanized fibre is to be finished as sheets of ¼" or greater thickness, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(e) Exemptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) or (f), specific authorization of the War Production Board, or the filing of a certified description of ultimate use, shall not be required for the following:

(1) Fabrication or delivery of vulcanized fibre on or before May 15, 1943, in fulfillment of orders placed and in process of production or fabrication prior to April 22, 1943.

(2) Delivery of vulcanized fibre by any person to a producer.

(f) Certification of ultimate use. (1) Certified description of ultimate use of vulcanized fibre shall be furnished to the producer as follows:

The person who fabricates or incorporates vulcanized fibre into an item of definable consumer use shall furnish the producer of vulcanized fibre with a certified description of the ultimate use to which such vulcanized fibre will be put. In those cases where such person purchases from any person not a producer of vulcanized fibre, such certified description of ultimate use may be transmitted through such intermediaries as may exist, to said producer. Such intermediate fabricators or suppliers shall transmit such certified descriptions of ultimate use either by transmitting the original customers' certificates or by transmitting new certificates signed by the fabricator or supplier containing the customers' ultimate use descriptions without change.

For example, a formed piece for a welder's helmet, which obviously could be used only for that purpose, would be an item of definable consumer use. The fabricator ordering vulcanized fibre for such piece would furnish with his order a certified description of ultimate use. On the other hand, the purchaser of the piece from the fabricator would not have to file a certified description of ultimate use with his order for such piece, because the fabricator could determine the use unaided. However, in the case of a machinery manufacturer ordering a vulcanized fibre punched part, the use of which could not be determined by inspection, a certified description of the ultimate use of such punched part should be furnished by the manufacturer to the fabricator of the part.

No department or agency of the United States Government ordering vulcanized fibre pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), shall be required to furnish a certified description of ultimate use pursuant to this order. The prime contracting seller holding a Lend-Lease order, for the purpose of his PD-602 application (if he is a producer), or for the purpose of furnishing a certified description of ultimate use, shall specify the Lend-Lease contract or serial number without further end use description.

(2) Certified description of ultimate use may be placed on or attached to the purchaser's purchase order and shall be in substantially the following form:

(Description of ultimate use)

The undersigned hereby certifies that the vulcanized fibre (or products made therefrom) covered by the accompanying purchase order will be used solely for the purpose(s) listed above, and that he is familiar with the inventory restriction imposed by Order M-305.

The above certificate shall constitute a representation to (but shall not be filed with) the War Production Board, and may be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

(3) The description of ultimate use provided for in paragraph (f) (2) hereof shall be sufficiently specific to enable the producer to indicate product use and function on his application for authorization to deliver vulcanized fibre. Authorization to deliver vulcanized fibre will be based on the essentiality of the specific use to which each item of vulcanized fibre is to be put. It is, therefore, essential that information with respect to the ultimate use and function be as precise as possible.

In connection with usages of secondary essentiality, a statement justifying the use of vulcanized fibre rather than some other material should accompany the certified description of ultimate use, if applications for such uses are to be given full consideration without undue delay.

In the case of confidential or secret items for the Armed Services, the part number, contract number, and the name and location of the contracting agency shall be transmitted in lieu of a description of ultimate use.

(4) Any producer, fabricator or other supplier may accept and rely upon any certified description of ultimate use furnished pursuant to this paragraph (f) unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(5) Where one or more partial deliveries are made against a single order, the original certified description of ultimate use shall suffice for all such deliveries.

(6) In the event that two or more end uses are involved in a single purchase order, the amount of vulcanized fibre required for each use shall be listed as a separate item. Each item shall bear an identifying number so that it will be possible for the producer to advise his customers, by purchase order number and item number, as to the action taken on the producer's application for authorization to make delivery.

(7) Each producer and other supplier shall notify his customer as soon as possible of denial, in whole or in part, by the War Production Board of any item or items for which application has been made by such customer.

(8) Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, no producer, fabricator or other supplier shall accept or fill any order for vulcanized fibre from a purchaser required by this paragraph (f) to file a certified description of ultimate use, unless and until such purchaser shall file such certificate with him, and such order shall have been approved by the War Production Board in the manner provided in this order.

(9) In cases where vulcanized fibre is purchased for a prospective use which does not materialize, the purchaser shall not use the vulcanized fibre so obtained for other use without authorization of the War Production Board.

Application for such authorization may be made by letter in triplicate directed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref. M-305, setting forth the material facts. Such letter shall be certified by the applicant in substantially the following form, and may be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

(g) Applications and reports. (1) Each producer seeking authorization to fabricate or deliver vulcanized fibre shall file application on Form PD-602 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

Form PD-602. Copies of Form PD-602 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time. Application on Form PD-602 may be made at any time, but not less often than once in each calendar month.

Number of copies. Four copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be retained by the applicant and three certified copies shall be forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref. M-305.

Number of sets. Any group of producing units under common ownership or control may file a consolidated set of PD-602 forms, regardless of location of plant(s).

Heading. Under name of material, specify vulcanized fibre; leave grade space blank; under War Production Board order number, specify M-305; leave the delivery month blank; under unit of measure, specify pounds net; and otherwise fill in as indicated, disregarding instruction to file a separate form for each plant or warehouse.

Table I. List all orders received since filing the previous PD-602, as follows:

Column 1. List customers' names.

Column 1a. Show end use based on customer's or fabricator's certificate.

Column 4. Show total amount of each order in pounds.

Column 5. Show proposed monthly delivery, and in parentheses indicate how many monthly deliveries. Leave blank if such delivery schedule has not been determined.

Column 5a. Show whether sheets, rods or tubes. For this purpose the use of abbreviations will be permitted in accordance with the following:

"S"---------- Sheets.
"R"---------- Rods.
"T"---------- Tubes.

Column 6. Leave blank.

Column 7. Show producer's mill order number.

Rolling stock. Leave blank the columns at the end of Table I referring to hopper cars and tank cars required.

Table II. Fill in Columns 9, 11, 12, 14, and 15, and leave the other columns blank. Total net poundage ready for shipment shall be reported for the purpose of Table II.

Table II shall be filled out on only one set of applications per month, which shall be filed by each producer on or before the 20th day of each month.

(2) Receipt by a producer from the War Production Board of Form PD-602 signed by the War Production Board shall constitute authorization to such producer to deliver (after necessary fabrication) the quantity of vulcanized fibre to the persons and for the end uses indicated therein, without regard to the limitation in such authorization that "such authorization as to any one customer shall terminate automatically if he requires you to postpone authorized delivery beyond ten days after the close of the month for which allocated, or if he fails to place an order for such material before the end of such month."

(3) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Form PD-602 or certificates required by paragraph (f).

(h) Notification of customers. Each producer and fabricator is requested to notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order and of all amendments hereto, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(i) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref. M-305.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-230]

J. SEPENUK & SONS, INC.

J. Sepenuk & Sons, Inc., a New Jersey corporation located at 171 Provost Street, Jersey City, New Jersey, buys and sells nonferrous metals. During the period from November 16, 1942, through January 14, 1943, J. Sepenuk & Sons, Inc. accepted delivery of approximately 97,445 lbs. of copper base alloy ingots without authorization of the Director General for Operations as required by Supplementary Order M-9-b. The Company believed, because of an unreasonable interpretation of the order, that it was entitled to accept such deliveries; and continued to do so after it had been put on notice that the interpretation was incorrect.

The acceptance of delivery of copper alloy ingots was a wilful violation of Supplementary Order M-9-b and has impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting copper to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.230 Suspension Order S-230. (a) Deliveries of material or equipment to J. Sepenuk & Sons, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be applied or assigned to such delivery by any preference rating certificate, preference rating order, general preference order, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, except as hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation to J. Sepenuk & Sons, Inc. shall be made of any material, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve J. Sepenuk & Sons, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on April 25, 1943, and shall expire July 25, 1943, at which time it shall have no further force or effect.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-282]

ESSAM LAMP SHADE CO.

Sam Miller and Anne G. Bress, a partnership doing business as the Essam Lamp Shade Company, Chicago, Illinois, is engaged in the manufacture of lamp shades. On September 12, 1942 the partnership purchased the trade name "Style-Rite Lamp Shade Company," and proceeded between that date and November 30, 1942 to manufacture and assemble under that trade name 35,901 lamp shades, although no quota had been established for the manufacture by the respondents of lamp shades under such trade name by the provisions of General Limitation Order L-33, and Priorities Regulation 7-A. The respondents, as the Essam Lamp Shade Company, also manufactured during the period from May 1, 1942 to September 30, 1942, 1,221 lamp shades in excess of the quota established for them under the provisions of General Limitation Order L-33. The respondents were aware of the limitations affecting their business and acted in reckless disregard of such limitations. This production and assembly of 37,122 lamp shades was a wilful violation of General Limitation Order L-33.

This wilful violation has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board.

In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.282 Suspension Order S-282. (a) Neither Sam Miller or Anne G. Bress, individually, or doing business as the Essam Lamp Shade Company, or Style-Rite Lamp Shade Company, or otherwise, directly or indirectly, or their successors and assigns, shall put in process, process, manufacture or assemble any silk, metal in any form, phenolic plastics or any other material, the supply or distribution of which is subject to the control of the War Production Board, to make lamp shades or portable lamps, as defined in General Limitation Order L-33, or parts thereof, except as specifically hereafter authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Deliveries of material to Sam Miller and Anne G. Bress, individually or doing business as the Essam Lamp Shade Company, or Style-Rite Lamp Shade Company, or otherwise, directly or indirectly, or their successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, except as specifically hereafter authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) No allocation shall be made to Sam Miller and Anne G. Bress, individually or doing business as the Essam Lamp Shade Company, or Style-Rite Lamp Shade Company, or otherwise, directly or indirectly, or their successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Sam Miller or Anne G. Bress, individually or doing business as Essam Lamp Shade Company, or the Style-Rite Lamp Shade Company, or otherwise, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on April 24, 1943, and shall expire on July 24, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-290]

ARTISTIC BRONZE TABLET CO., INC.

The Artistic Bronze Tablet Company, Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York, doing business at 25-27 Bainbridge Street, Brooklyn, New York, engages chiefly in the business of furnishing bronze memorial tablets and name plates to charitable institutions. Respondent furnishes patterns and finishes the product, the actual casting being done by others. During the period June through August, 1942, the company delivered approximately 2,785 lbs. of copper scrap to a foundry to be cast under an unauthorized toll agreement in wilfull violation of Supplementary Order M–9–b, and during the period January through August, 1942, used approximately 10,295 lbs. of copper base alloy in the manufacture of memorial tablets and name plates in wilful violation of Conservation Order M–9–c.

These violations of Supplementary Order M–9–b and Conservation Order M–9–c have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting copper to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board.

In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.290 Suspension Order No. S–290. (a) Deliveries of material to Artistic Bronze Tablet Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be applied or assigned to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, and any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except as hereafter specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Artistic Bronze Tablet Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as hereafter specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Artistic Bronze Tablet Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restrictions, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on April 24, 1943, and shall expire on October 24, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 22d day of April 1943.

PART 1147—COLLAPSIBLE TUBES

[Conservation Order M–115 as Amended April 23, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of tin for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1147.1 Conservation Order M–115. (a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Tube" means any collapsible container in the shape of a tube, including but not limited to any such container made in whole or in part of tin, lead, or any combination thereof and includes closures, crowns and caps for such tubes.

(3) "Class I tube" means a tube used or intended to be used to pack any product listed on Table I annexed hereto within such limitations, including but not limited to tube size and end use, as may be specified with respect to any such product in said table.

(4) "Class II tube" means a tube used or intended to be used to pack any product listed on Table II, annexed hereto.

(5) "Class III tube" means a tube used or intended to be used to pack any product listed on Table III, annexed hereto.

(6) "Non-essential tube" means any tube other than a tube described in subparagraphs 3, 4 and 5 above.

(7) "Tube user" means any person, whether or not he is also a tube manufacturer, engaged in the business of packing or filling tubes with any product of any kind for sale to others.

(8) "Retailer" means a person other than a distributor who sells or distributes tubes to the ultimate purchaser.

(9) "Distributor" means a person who sells or distributes tubes to retailers, including, but not limited to, wholesalers, jobbers, tube users, and tube manufacturers when they are engaged in such sale or distribution.

(10) "Ultimate purchaser" means a person who acquires filled tubes for the satisfaction of personal needs (with or without paying any consideration therefor), as distinguished from one acquiring tubes for industrial or other business purposes or for further distribution.

(c) Restrictions upon the manufacture, sale and delivery of blanks and tubes and upon the use of tubes for packing—(1) Non-essential tubes. No person shall manufacture or sell, for non-essential tubes, blanks containing any tin (but not including tin present as an impurity amounting to 0.5% or less); no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell non-essential tubes containing any tin (but not including tin present as an impurity amounting to 0.5% or less); and no tube user shall use any tubes containing any tin (but not including tin present as an impurity amounting to 0.5% or less) to pack any product not listed on Tables I, II, or III.

(2) Class I tubes. Notwithstanding the provisions of Conservation Order M–43–a, as amended, and until further order by the War Production Board there shall be no restriction upon the percentage of tin which may be used in the manufacture of Class I tubes, nor on the number of such tubes manufactured or used for packing products listed on Table I.

(3) Class II tubes. No person shall manufacture or sell for Class II tubes blanks containing more than 7½% of tin by weight; no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell Class II tubes containing more than 7½% of tin by weight; and no tube user shall use any tube containing more than 7½% of tin by weight to pack any product listed on Table II.

(4) Class III tubes for period prior to April 1, 1943. Until April 1, 1943, no person shall manufacture or sell for Class III tubes blanks containing more than 5% of tin by weight; and no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell Class III tubes containing more than 5% of tin by weight; and no tube user shall use any tube containing more than 5% of tin by weight to pack any product listed on Table III.

(5) Class III tubes after April 1, 1943. On and after April 1, 1943, no person shall manufacture or sell for Class III tubes blanks containing more than 3% of tin by weight; and no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell Class III tubes containing more than 3% of tin by weight; and no tube user shall use any tube containing more than 3% of tin by weight to pack any product listed on Table III.

(6) Quota for Table III products. No tube user shall pack in tubes, during the calendar year 1943, more than 75% of the amount of products listed on Table III which he packed in tubes during the calendar year 1942: Provided further, That no tube user shall pack in tubes during each of the three-month periods beginning January 1, 1943, April 1, 1943, July 1, 1943, and October 1, 1943, respectively, more than 25% of the amount of products listed in Table III of this order which he is permitted to pack in tubes during the entire calendar year 1943 pursuant to the preceding provisions of this subparagraph. All percentages above mentioned shall be based upon volumetric weight. Said percentages shall be in addition to the products listed on Table III which are packed in tubes and sold and delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States or the United States Coast Guard (including but not limited to post exchanges, ships' stores, ships' service stores, and marine exchanges), or to the American Red Cross, and in addition to products listed on Table III which are packed in tubes having no greater tin content than that prescribed in paragraph (c) (1) of this order for non-essential tubes.

(d) Further conservation of tin. (1) All manufacturers and users of all the kinds of tubes covered by this order shall cooperate in effectuating as rapidly and as completely as possible a program of reducing the thickness of the tin coating on such tubes to the minimum thickness which will be sufficient for satisfactory packing of the particular product packed.

(2) All manufacturers of all kinds of tubes permitted to be manufactured or filled by this order and all tube users packing products in such tubes are ordered to concentrate to the greatest extent practicable upon the larger-size tubes and to manufacture and to use for tube filling respectively as high a proportion of larger-size tubes (as compared with smaller-size tubes) as may be feasible and practicable. All such manufacturers and tube users are further ordered to substitute, for all tubes made in whole or in part of tin, containers made of other materials to the extent that such substitution may be feasible and practicable.

(3) No retailer shall sell or deliver any filled metal tube containing dental cleansing or shaving preparations to any ultimate purchaser (except as bona fide samples, manufactured prior to the 15th day of June, 1942, which are distributed indiscriminately and without any conditions) unless such purchaser delivers to such retailer concurrently with his purchase one used metal tube of any kind for each metal tube delivered to such purchaser. All such used tubes, together with any other used tubes held by retailers, shall be held by such retailers and shall not be disposed of by them except as follows:

(i) To the Tin Salvage Institute, 411 Wilson Avenue, Newark, New Jersey, as agent for Metals Reserve Company;

(ii) To any wholesaler of products packed in tubes, who is a duly authorized representative of the Tin Salvage Institute as agent for the Metals Reserve Company; or

(iii) To any other person who is such a representative.

Such deliveries may be made by such retailers at any time and in any manner consented to by the person to whom delivery is to be made, and shall be made, upon demand of such person and at the expense of such person, in such manner and at such time as such person may request. In no case shall any consideration be paid or received for any used tubes so delivered and no person (including, but not limited to, wholesalers of products packed in tubes and dealers in scrap metal and junk) shall, except as otherwise expressly permitted by this paragraph (d) (3), deliver any used tube of any kind to any person except those designated above. Damaged or unused tubes shall, at the option of the holder, be returned for credit to the party from whom they were purchased or delivered to the Tin Salvage Institute as agent for Metals Reserve Company.

(4) Nothing in this order shall prevent the manufacture, sale, delivery, purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of tubes, made from blanks manufactured on or before the dates hereinafter specified and containing no more than the permitted tin content respectively specified, within the limits set forth opposite each such date.

Date of manufacture of blank	Permitted tin content	Permitted use
April 1, 1942 to October 1, 1942	Unrestricted	Unrestricted.
October 1, 1942 to [illegible] day of January 1943.	7½ percent by weight.	For packing products listed in Table III and shaving preparations.
[illegible] day of January 1943.	1½ percent by weight.	For packing shaving preparations.

Provided, however, That the volumetric weight of any products listed in Table III which are packed in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph shall be subtracted from the quota allowed to the tube user pursuant to paragraph (c) (6) of this order.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, gift kits or combination set boxes holding multiple units, including filled Class III or shaving preparation tubes, the value of which comprises not over 25 percent of the total value of the package, may be disposed of without complying with the used tube exchange provision set forth in paragraph (d) (3) hereof; provided that any such boxes are delivered or sent direct by the seller to a member of the Army or Navy of the United States or of the United States Coast Guard.

(6) Compliance with the used tube exchange provision set forth in paragraph (d) (3) hereof shall not be required in connection with the sale or distribution of Class III or shaving preparation tubes when made by the following agencies or instrumentalities of the United States Government; namely, army exchanges, ships stores, ships service stores, and marine exchanges; if made under any of the following circumstances:

(i) Distributions or sales, made aboard ship, in the Territory of Alaska, or outside the continental limits of the United States.

(ii) Distributions or sales made at ports of embarkation, induction centers, receiving stations, receiving ships, to newly inducted selectees or enlistees or other persons designated by the commanding officer.

(iii) Sales or distributions made in hospitals under the jurisdiction of the armed forces of the United States to casualties of war.

Provided, however, That no tubes containing more than 7½% tin shall be sold or delivered pursuant to the subparagraph: And further provided, That the exemption, provided by this subparagraph shall be subject to such conditions as shall be prescribed by the appropriate authorities of that branch of the Government under whose jurisdiction the above named agencies or instrumentalities respectively operate.

(7) Compliance with the used tube exchange provision set forth in paragraph (d) (3) hereof shall not be required in connection with the free distribution of Class III or shaving preparation tubes by the American Red Cross: Provided, however, That no tubes containing more than 7½% tin shall be distributed pursuant to this paragraph (d) (7).

(e) Certificates and reports relating to all kinds of tubes covered by this order—(1) Certificates of tube users. Each tube user who purchases any tubes shall furnish to the tube manufacturer from whom he buys, a certificate, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, that such tube user is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time) and that, during the life of this order, he will not use any tubes purchased from such tube manufacturer in violation of its terms. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given tube manufacturer need be furnished by a tube user to that tube manufacturer (who shall retain such certificate), but no tube manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false.

(2) Certificates of retailers. Each retailer who purchases any filled Class III or shaving preparation tubes shall furnish to the manufacturer or distributor from whom he buys a certificate, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit B, that such retailer is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time) and that, during the life of this order, he will not use any tubes purchased from such manufacturer or distributor in violation of its terms. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given manufacturer or distributor need be furnished by a retailer, but no manufacturer or distributor shall be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows, or has reason to believe, it to be false: Provided, however, That such certificates shall not be required in connection with the export of filled Class III or shaving preparation tubes from the forty-eight states of the United States of America and the District of Columbia.

(3) Reports. Each tube manufacturer and each tube user shall file such reports as the War Production Board may prescribe for the purpose of effective administration of the order, and no tube manufacturer or distributor shall sell any tubes except under contracts or orders validated by the certification required by this paragraph (e).

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Sales of tin. No person shall hereafter sell or deliver tin to any tube manufacturer or tube user if he knows or has reason to believe that such tin is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(4) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–115.

(5) Effect of other orders. Except as provided in paragraph (c) (2) above, insofar as any other order of the War Production Board heretofore or hereafter issued limits or curtails to a greater extent than herein provided the use of any material used in the production of tubes, the limitations of such order shall control.

Issued this 23rd day of April 1943.

PART 1293—HAND TOOLS SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L-157, Schedule II as Amended April 23, 1943]

FORGED AXES, FORGED HATCHETS, FORGED BROAD AXES, FORGED ADZES, AND FORGED LIGHT HAMMERS

§ 1293.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-157—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures or otherwise fabricates forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes and forged light hammers.

(2) "Forged light hammer" means a forged hammer weighing less than 4 pounds. (Handles not included in this weight).

(3) "Put into process" means the act by which a person first changes the form of material from that form in which it was received by him.

(4) "Lend-Lease Government" means the government of any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". (Lend-Lease Act).

(b) Simplified practices. (1) Pursuant to Limitation Order No. L-157, the kinds, styles, sizes, weights and provisions set forth in Appendices A, B and C hereto, are hereby established as specifications for the manufacture of forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes and forged light hammers. Notwithstanding such limitation a producer may manufacture or otherwise fabricate forged axes not conforming to the specifications set forth in Appendix A hereto, for export under a license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare or to fill an order of a Lend-Lease Government.

(2) Forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes or forged light hammers may be supplied with or without handles. Handles shall be limited to not more than three grades, as selected by the producer, for any one pattern (irrespective of size) of axe, hatchet, broad axe, adze, or light hammer manufactured, forged, or otherwise fabricated in accordance with this paragraph (b). On or before May 15, 1943, each producer shall file on Form PD-754, with the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., a list of the three grades of handle selected by him for each pattern.

(c) Effective date of simplified practices. The provisions of this Schedule II, as amended, shall take effect on the 15th day of April, 1943. On and after the 15th day of April, 1943, no producer shall put into process any ferrous metal in the manufacture of a forged axe, forged hatchet, forged broad axe, forged adze or forged light hammer, which fails to conform to the specifications established by paragraph (b) of this Schedule II and as set forth in Appendices A, B, and C hereto. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this Schedule II, a producer may at any time sell or deliver a forged axe, forged hatchet, forged broad axe, forged adze or forged light hammer manufactured prior to the 15th day of April, 1943.

(d) Application to manufacture exceptions. Application by a producer to manufacture a forged axe, forged hatchet, forged broad axe, forged adze or forged light hammer, not in accordance with the specifications as set forth in Appendices A, B and C of this schedule shall be made in writing to the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-157. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(e) Records covering material, types and sizes, work in process, etc. On or before May 15, 1943, each producer of forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes and forged light hammers shall file on Form PD-754 with the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., a list of all items manufactured by him in conformance with this amended schedule.

Issued this 23d day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

APPENDIX A—FORGED AXES

1. Patterns, bit styles and sizes shall be as specified in the following tables 1, 2 and 3, and patterns shall conform to a manufacturer's patterns as manufactured by him on March 23, 1943. Not more than one type of any one pattern as listed shall be manufactured.

2. A "plain" bit style means a forged axe having a bit in which the transverse surface is continuous.

3. The finish on all forged axes shall be a forge finish as follows: All flash and scale to be removed with a hard wheel from the head and the bit or bits. The striking face and bit or bits shall be ground and polished, but not to exceed a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of an 80-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed. The bit or bits shall be ground and polished for a distance not to exceed 2½ inches from the cutting edge. Surfaces having a polish finish shall be completely and heavily coated with an oil or grease compound, or a clear transparent lacquer for prevention of rust. The balance of the head may be covered with a coating of paint, lacquer, enamel or other rust-proof coating over the natural forge finish.

4. In cases where a substitute name is shown in the listing of pattern names, the name listed first shall be the name of the pattern, but a producer or distributor may use one of the substituted names for the pattern, providing such listing does not indicate it as a different pattern. Substitute names may not be used for patterns other than as listed.

5. A manufacturing tolerance of 3 ounces plus or minus shall be permitted in the sizes as listed, but any pattern may only be cataloged and listed in the sizes as shown in the tables.

6. No alloy steel shall be used in the manufacture of any forged axes.

APPENDIX B—FORGED HATCHETS, BROAD AXES AND ADZES

[NOTE: Table 3 Amended April 23, 1943]

1. Patterns, sizes, widths of cutting edge and weight of head shall be as specified in the following tables 1, 2 and 3.

2. Patterns as specified shall conform to a manufacturer's patterns as manufactured by him on March 23, 1943, but not more than one type of any one pattern of hatchet, broad axe or adze as listed shall be manufactured.

(i) When "width of cutting edge in inches" for forged hatchets, forged broad axes, and forged adzes is specified in tables 1, 2 and 3 of this appendix, a tolerance of ⅛ inch plus or minus shall be permitted.

(ii) When "approximate weight of head in pounds" for forged broad axes is specified in table 2 of this appendix, a tolerance of 8 ounces plus or minus shall be permitted.

4. No alloy steel shall be used in the manufacture of any forged hatchets, forged broad axes or forged adzes.

5. The finish on all forged hatchets, forged broad axes and forged adzes, shall be a forge finish as follows: All flash and scale to be removed with a hard wheel from the head and the bit. The bit shall be, and striking face may be, ground and polished but not to exceed a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of an 80-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed. The bit shall be ground and polished for a distance not to exceed 1½ inches from the cutting edge. Surfaces having a polish finish shall be completely and heavily coated with an oil or grease compound, or a clear transparent lacquer for prevention of rust. The balance of the head may be covered with a coating of paint, lacquer, enamel or other rust-proof coating over the natural forge finish.

APPENDIX C—FORGED LIGHT HAMMERS

[NOTE: Table 1 Amended April 23, 1943]

1. Kinds, patterns and weights of forged light hammers shall be as specified in the following tables 1 and 2.

2. Octagon or hexagon patterns indicate a hammer having an octagonal or hexagonal neck or poll, or neck and poll.

3. The finish on all forged light hammers shall be a forge finish as follows: All flash and scale to be removed with a hard wheel. Only striking faces and peins to be ground and polished, but not to exceed a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of an 80-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed. Surfaces having a polish finish shall be completely and heavily coated with an oil or grense compound, or a clear transparent lacquer for prevention of rust. The balance of the head may be covered with a coating of paint, lacquer, enamel or other rust-proof coating over the natural forge finish.

4. Where weights are specified in tables 1 and 2, such weights are for heads only, and a tolerance of 2 ounces plus or minus shall be permitted.

5. No alloy steel shall be used in the manufacture of any forged light hammers or special purpose hammers except machinists and magnetic tack or bill-posters hammers. Alloy steels, such as are permitted at the time of manufacture by the Steel Division of the War Production Board, may be used in the manufacture of machinists and magnetic tack or bill-posters hammers.

6. Milled faces on nail and ripping hammers will be permitted on 16 ounce and 20 ounce sizes only.

PART 3161—SUN GLASSES

[General Limitation Order L-238]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of materials entering into the production of sun glasses and sun glasses cases; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3161.1 General Limitation Order L-238—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Sun glasses" means spectacles or goggles designed primarily to protect the wearer's eyes from sun-glare and other harmful or discomforting rays of the sun.

(2) "Sun glasses case" means a case or container designed for carrying sun glasses when not being worn.

(3) "Aviation sun glasses" means sun glasses designed for use in aircraft by pilots, observers and other aircraft personnel.

(b) Restrictions on the use of materials. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this order, no person shall incorporate any metal in the manufacture of sun glasses or sun glasses cases.

(c) General exceptions. (1) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of sun glasses or sun glasses cases which are manufactured:

(i) From parts which were finished and ready for assembly on April 23, 1943, provided that such manufacture is completed on or before May 23, 1943; or

(ii) From metal to the extent permitted by Appendix A, attached to this order.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of aviation sun glasses which are manufactured pursuant to a contract or purchase order for delivery to or for the account of (i) the Army or Navy of the United States, or (ii) any agency of the United States Government for delivery to or for the account of the Government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), provided that the specifications of such contract or purchase order specify aviation sun glasses which cannot be manufactured within the limitations of paragraph (b) and (c) (1) of this order. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation 17, the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (c) (2) shall not apply to any contract or purchase order for delivery to or for the account of any United States Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange or any United States Navy Ship's Service Department. Aviation sun glasses which are manufactured in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (c) (2) shall be sold or delivered only to the Army or Navy of the United States (not including United States Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges or United States Navy Ship's Service Departments), or the appropriate agency of the United States Government for Lend-Lease purposes.

(d) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(e) Violations and false statements. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(g) Communications. All reports to be filed hereunder and communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Safety and Technical Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-238.

Issued this 23d day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

Appendix A

Pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) and subdivision (c) (1) (ii) of this order, a person may incorporate the following metals in the manufacture of sun glasses to the extent indicated:

(1) Steel for:

(i) Core wire in plastic temples, provided that such core wire is manufactured (a) from wire which was in his inventory on April 23, 1943, or (b) from wire obtained by him pursuant to a special sale, as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 13, and in accordance with the terms of that regulation;

(ii) Spring clips in slip-over type sun glasses;

(iii) Half-hinges, hinge pins, and rivets; and

(iv) Snaps for cases for aviation sun glasses.

(2) Brass for barrel-hinges, hinge pins, rivets, and screws to fill orders bearing preference ratings of AA-5 or higher.

(3) Copper (strike), zinc, silver, gold and palladium for electroplating.

PART 3208—CRITICAL COMMON COMPONENTS

[General Scheduling Order M-293, As Amended April 21, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the production of certain critical common components for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3208.1 General Scheduling Order M-293—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Critical common component" means any new equipment or apparatus of the types, descriptions and classifications set forth on the schedule hereto annexed. Class X and Class Y critical common components are those components which are so designated on such schedule.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person who constructs or manufactures a critical common component to the extent that he is engaged in such construction or manufacture and shall include sales and distribution outlets and agencies controlled by such manufacturer.

(b) Operation reports. Each manufacturer of a critical common component shall file the applicable form designated in Column 1 of the annexed schedule on the dates prescribed by such form. Such form as filed shall where called for show production capacity and orders unfilled, received, shipped, cancelled and scheduled for the period specified in the form.

(c) Deliveries of Class X critical common components. (1) Each manufacturer of Class X critical common components shall file the applicable form as specified in Column 2 of the annexed schedule on the dates prescribed by such form. Such form as filed shall show the manufacturer's delivery schedule for Class X critical common components for the period therein specified.

(2) On and after May 1, 1943 (or such later date as may be specified in the applicable form), notwithstanding any preference rating which other orders may bear or any directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board, each manufacturer shall deliver Class X critical common components only in accordance with the schedule filed pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), as the same may be changed by the War Production Board.

(d) Placing and acceptance of orders for Class Y critical common components. (1) Except as otherwise provided in the annexed schedule on and after May 1, 1943 no person shall place an order with a manufacturer, and no manufacturer shall accept an order, for any Class Y critical common component unless accompanied by a specific authorization of the War Production Board. Such authorization may specify the manufacturer with whom the order may be placed. Applications for such authorization may be made to the War Production Board by the person seeking to place an order on the applicable form designated in Column 3 of the annexed schedule.

(2) Any order so authorized shall be accepted by the manufacturer with whom it is placed, provided it meets his regularly established prices and terms. Delivery shall be made in accordance with the terms of such order as authorized, notwithstanding any preference rating which other orders may bear or any directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board.

(e) Other allocation and scheduling action. With respect to any critical common component, the War Production Board may, notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board:

(1) Direct the return or cancellation of any order on the books of a manufacturer

(2) Direct changes in the delivery or production schedule of a manufacturer

(3) Allocate orders placed with one manufacturer to another manufacturer

(4) Revoke any authorization to place an order granted by it pursuant to this order, or

(5) Take such other action, as it deems necessary, with respect to the placing of orders for, or the production or delivery of critical common components.

(f) Application of other orders and regulations. The listing of any product as a critical common component under this order does not relieve any person from complying with the provisions of any other order, directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board, except as specifically provided in this order.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 21st day of April 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE ANNEXED TO GENERAL SCHEDULING ORDER M-293

[This schedule amended in its entirety April 21, 1943]

1 Designations. Only those critical common components designated as Class X or Class Y are subject to the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this order. A critical common component may be both a Class X and Class Y component and thus be subject to all the provisions of the order.

2 Applicable forms. If no form is listed in any of the columns opposite a specific item, no form is to be filed as to that item. If a form is listed opposite a general class of product, but not opposite a subclassification, the form shall be filed only for the class as a whole (or for such part of a class as the manufacturer produces). If a form is listed opposite a general class of product and also opposite a specific sub-classification, the form is to be filed both for the class as a whole (or for such part of a class as the manufacturer produces) and the specified subclassification, but if the manufacturer produces only a specified subclassification the form need be filed only for that item.

Subject to the provisions of the foregoing paragraph:

The applicable form shown in Column 1 is to be used in making the report required of manufacturers of all critical common components by paragraph (b) of this order.

The applicable form shown in Column 2 is to be used in making the report required of manufacturers of Class X critical common components pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order.

The applicable form shown in Column 3 is that on which a purchaser of the Class Y critical common component may apply to the War Production Board for authorization to place an order with a manufacturer pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order.

Where the same form number is specified in more than one column, the form should only be filed once. Where the form specified is filed pursuant to any other "E", "L", "M" or "P" order, the form should only be filed once.

3 Reports and communications. The list of critical common components is arranged so that the name of the Industry Division appears in parenthesis above the type of critical common component for which it is primarily responsible.

All reports and forms required by the order and all communications with respect to any critical common component should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., attention of the appropriate Industry Division as so listed.

PART 3233—FOUNDRY EQUIPMENT AND ELECTRIC METAL MELTING FURNACES

[General Preference Order E-11]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of foundry equipment and electric metal melting furnaces for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3233.1 General Preference Order E-11—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of individuals, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of foundry equipment, or electric metal melting furnaces.

(3) "Foundry equipment" means those types of equipment listed on Schedule A attached hereto, which are designed for foundry use and which have a retail sales price of two hundred dollars or more.

(4) "Electric metal melting furnace" means any metal melting furnace of the electric arc or induction types having a kilowatt input of 50 or over except those furnaces which are designed primarily for laboratory operations and are subject to the provisions of Limitation Order L-144.

(b) Restrictions on sales and purchases of foundry equipment and electric metal melting furnaces. (1) From and after June 1, 1943, no person shall sell, transfer, or deliver any foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces except on orders bearing a preference rating of AA-4 or higher.

(2) From and after June 1, 1943, no person shall purchase, acquire, or accept delivery of any foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces by the application of any preference rating assigned on Form PD-25A, PD-25F, or by CMP Regulation No. 5 or 5A; nor shall any person fill any such order which he knows or has reason to believe bears a preference rating assigned on Form PD-25A, PD-25F, or by CMP Regulation No. 5 or 5A.

(c) Schedules to be filed. From and after April 23, 1943, any producer, when specifically required to do so by the War Production Board, shall file on such form as may be required in accordance with instructions attached to such form, such producer's proposed schedule of production and deliveries of foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces, for such period or periods as may be required by the War Production Board. In any such proposed schedule of production and delivery, the sequence of production and deliveries shall be scheduled in accordance with the terms of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(d) Specific modification of schedules. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this order, the War Production Board may direct or change any schedule of production or delivery of foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces, or direct the delivery of any foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnace to any other person in accordance with prices and terms regularly established for sales by the supplying producer to such a purchaser.

(2) The production and delivery schedules established by any specific direction which may be issued from time to time pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) above shall be maintained without regard to any preference ratings already assigned or hereafter to be assigned to particular contracts, commitments, or purchase orders, and may be altered only upon specific directions of the War Production Board.

(3) If it becomes impossible for any producer to maintain production and delivery of foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces in accordance with any such schedule, he shall immediately notify the War Production Board and, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, he shall continue to produce and deliver such foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces in the order set forth in such schedule and shall postpone production and delivery of any such foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces only to the extent required by the circumstances causing his failure to maintain production and delivery as required by such schedule.

(e) Repair parts. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to prevent the sale and delivery of any part manufactured for use in the repair or maintenance of foundry equipment or electric metal melting furnaces. Purchase and delivery of such repair parts shall be in accordance with current regulations and orders of the War Production Board.

(f) Applicability of regulations. All transactions affected by this order are subject to applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Reports. All producers affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications, concerning this order, should be addressed to: War Production Board, Tools Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: E-11.

PART 3243—SHIPPING CONTAINERS

WOODEN SHIPPING CONTAINERS FOR FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

[Limitation Order L-232, as Amended April 23, 1943]

Section 3144.1 Limitation Order L-232, of Part 3144—Wooden Shipping Containers for Fresh Fruits and Vegetables—is hereby transferred to Part 3243—Shipping Containers.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of materials entering into the manufacture of wooden shipping containers for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

[NOTE: "Wooden shipping container s" substituted for "wooden container/s" April 23, 1943.]

§ 3243.6 General Limitation Order L-232—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Wooden shipping container" means any new box, case, crate, hamper, round stave basket, splint basket, climax basket, till basket, or berry cup which (i) is made wholly or partially of lumber, veneer, or plywood, and (ii) is designed for use in packing fresh fruits and vegetables for sale and/or shipment.

(2) "Hamper", "round stave basket", and "splint basket" have the same meanings as in rules and regulations[1] of The Secretary of Agriculture issued under the United States Standard Container Act of 1928.[2] "Climax basket", "till basket", and "berry cup" mean baskets and containers of the type subject to rules and regulations[3] of The Secretary of Agriculture issued under the United States Standard Container Act of 1916,[4] as amended.[5]

(b) Restrictions—(1) Manufacture and assembly of containers. No person shall commercially manufacture or assemble any wooden shipping container which does not conform with the specifications of Schedule A of this order;

(2) Manufacture of container parts. No person shall commercially manufacture any wooden parts designed for any wooden shipping container which, when assembled will not conform with those specifications:

(3) Coloring. No manufacturer of, dealer in, or commercial user of wooden shipping containers shall dye, stain, or otherwise color such containers or parts.

(4) Printing. No manufacturer of, dealer in, or commercial user of wooden shipping containers shall imprint or stamp, or cause to be imprinted or stamped, on such containers any names, words, or figures not required by law. No such imprinted or stamped item shall appear more than once on any wooden shipping container, unless required by law, in which event it may appear the minimum number of times so required. The restrictions of this paragraph (b) (4) shall not apply to the attachment of paper or other labels or to the placing of any markings which:

(i) Designate the capacity of the container in terms of whole or fractional pints, quarts, pecks, or bushels; or

(ii) In the case of baskets and hampers only, are identifying markings provided for in rules and regulations[1] of the Secretary of Agriculture issued under the United States Standard Container Act of 1928.[2]

(c) Exceptions. The restrictions of paragraph (b) above shall not apply to:

(1) The manufacture or assembly of wooden shipping containers by any person from wooden parts cut to size by him before March 4, 1943: Provided, Such manufacture or assembly is completed by August 31, 1943;

(2) The assembly of wooden shipping containers by any person from cut-to-size wooden parts bought and received by him before April 1, 1943: Provided, Such assembly is completed by August 31, 1943;

(3) The manufacture or assembly of wooden shipping containers, or the manufacture of wooden parts for wooden shipping containers, to be delivered:

(i) To or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Department of Agriculture (for Lend-Lease purposes): Provided, The government agency's specifications require wooden shipping containers which do not comply with paragraph (b);

(ii) To any person for use in packing fresh fruits or vegetables for delivery to or for the account of such government agencies: Provided, The government agency's specifications require wooden shipping containers which do not comply with paragraph (b): And provided further, Such person furnishes the container or container-parts supplier with a written certification in substantially the following form, signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

This is to certify that specifications of orders received by the undersigned from (designate government agency) require wooden containers not conforming with Order L-232. The material ordered herewith is for that purpose only.

Company_____
By_____ Title_____Date_____

Such certification shall constitute a representation to the supplier and to the War Production Board as to the truth of the facts stated therein. The supplier may rely upon such representation unless he has knowledge or reason to believe that it is not true.

(d) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-232.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 23d day of April, 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE A—SPECIFICATIONS FOR WOODEN SHIPPING CONTAINERS

TABLE I—HAMPERS, BASKETS, BERRY CUPS

[NOTE: Paragraph (a) and specifications therein amended April 23, 1943.]

(a) Specifications for the types and dry capacities of permitted hampers, baskets, and berry cups are as follows:

Type (1)	Dry capacity (2)
1 Hampers	½, ⅝, 1 bu.
2 Round stave baskets	½, 1 bu.
3 Splint baskets	8, 12, 16, 24 qts.
4 Climax baskets	4, 12 qts.
5 Till baskets	1, 2, 3, 4 qts.
6 Berry cups	½, 1 pt., 1 qt.

TABLE II—OTHER WOODEN SHIPPING CONTAINERS

[NOTE: Paragraph (c) and specifications in paragraph (d) amended April 23, 1943.]

(a) Specifications for the inside dimensions of wooden shipping containers, other than those subject to Table I above, are set out under paragraph (d) below. "Inside depth" and "inside width" of the container are the width and length, respectively, of the end pieces or end frames, exclusive of any cleats. "Inside length" of the container shall be its outside length minus the combined thickness of both ends and of the center piece (if any).

(b) An optional variation of up to 1/8" under or up to ¼" over the specified inside lengths is allowed. A tolerance of up to 1/8", plus or minus, in the specified inside depths and inside widths is allowed for shrinkage and mismanufacture.

(c) No cleats may be so used as to increase inside dimensions except where an asterisk appears in Column (1) of the table below or where, and as, specified in any footnote after that table. Where an asterisk appears in Column (1) of the table below, a single cleat ¾", ⅝", ½", ⅝", 11/16", or ¾" thick may be attached to the top of each end piece or end frame, provided such cleat does not increase the inside dimensions of the container by more than the specified thickness of the cleat.

(d) Specifications for wooden shipping containers subject to this table are as follows (the designation in column (1) is merely for identification and shall not be construed as restricting usage):

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1340—FUEL

[MPR 323, Amendment 2]

ASPHALT AND ASPHALT PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 323 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1340.353 (b) is amended to read as follows:

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] U. S. Department of Agriculture Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 116, as amended.

[2] 45 Stat. 685; 15 U.S.C. 257.

[3] U. S. Department of Agriculture Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 104, revised.

[4] 39 Stat. 673; 15 U.S.C. 251.

[5] 45 Stat. 930; 15 U.S.C. 251.

(b) Limitation on the price of roofing flux and oxidized asphalt. Normally, a seller is permitted to charge his maximum f. o. b. refinery price as determined by Table I or II, even though the laid-down cost to the buyer may exceed what his laid-down cost would have been had he purchased from some other refinery. To this general principle there is one exception, namely, a refiner must make a reduction in his maximum f. o. b. refinery bulk price when all of the following circumstances are present.

(1) The sale is of roofing flux or oxidized asphalt; and

(2) The refinery nearest the destination has a different reference point from the refinery making the shipment; and

(3) The sum of the maximum f. o. b. price at the refinery from which a shipment is made plus the rail freight cost from that refinery to the destination exceeds the sum of the maximum f. o. b. price at the refinery producing roofing flux or oxidized asphalt nearest to that destination plus the rail freight cost from that nearest refinery to that destination.

Under the above circumstances the reduction in his maximum f. o. b. refinery price as determined by Table I or II shall be the amount necessary to make the laid-down cost from the refinery making the shipment the same as it would be from the refinery producing roofing flux or oxidized asphalt nearest the destination. However, the required reduction need never exceed 20% of the maximum f. o. b. refinery price.

For example: A buyer in Wisconsin desires to purchase roofing flux. The refinery nearest to him producing roofing flux uses Chicago as its reference point. Assume that the laid-down cost on the Indiana purchase is $10.50 plus $1.00 freight, or $11.50. Suppose the same buyer wishes to purchase from a Texas refinery. The Texas refinery uses Ft. Worth, Texas, as its reference point; the maximum price for the Texas refinery is $7.50. Assume the freight from the Texas refinery to the same buyer in Wisconsin is $7.00. This would mean a laid-down cost to the buyer of $14.50. To equalize this with the laid-down cost from Indiana of $11.50 would mean a reduction in the f. o. b. Texas refinery price of $3.00. But this is more than 20% of the Texas f. o. b. price of $7.50. Therefore, the reduction by the Texas refiner would be $1.50 (20% of $7.50) making his maximum f. o. b. refinery price for the Wisconsin destination $6.00 and the buyer's laid-down cost from the Texas refinery would be $13.00.

2. Section 1340.353 (c) is amended by (a) removing Somerset, Kentucky, from the list of reference points in Table I and the prices for liquid asphalt under such reference point, (b) inserting in Table I a price of .0525 for liquid asphalt S. C. 1–5 under reference point West Branch, Michigan, and (c) amending footnote 1 to Table I to read as set forth below:

Footnote 1. Notwithstanding this table, the maximum delivered bulk price for flux to the roofing and floor covering industry at the points designated below shall be as follows: In the city limits of St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, $13.25 per ton. Within the State of Louisiana, $10.00 per ton

3. Paragraph (d) of § 1340.353 is redesignated as (e) and a new paragraph (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Roofing flux converters. If a seller purchases roofing flux and converts or processes it to a product of a melting point of not less than 110 and not more than 220, his maximum bulk price f. o. b. his plant shall be his maximum price for oxidized asphalt of the same melting point as determined by the tables in paragraph (c) of this section plus $1.00 per ton.

4. Section 1340.354 is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1340.354 Maximum bulk prices for special products. The maximum bulk price f. o. b. refinery for special products as defined in §1340.360 (b) shall be as follows:

(a) Special products, the specifications of which will meet those of a standard product but sold for different uses. (1) If a seller delivered a special product having the specifications that will meet those of a standard product during the period August 1–November 1, 1941, such seller's maximum price shall be the highest price charged by the seller for a delivery of that product during such period to a purchaser of the same class: Provided, however, That a price charged under a contract entered into prior to said period need not be maintained unless such contract price reflected current market conditions during said period. If a seller's bulk prices for standard products are governed by Table II of § 1340.353, he may add $1.40 per ton to the price of any special product calculated under this subparagraph (1).

(2) If the seller is unable to determine his maximum bulk price for a special product under (1) he shall set a tentative maximum price f. o. b. his refinery taking into consideration the two products which he sells which are nearest in specifications to the product to be priced, one having the next lower maximum price to the chosen tentative price and one having the next higher maximum price. He shall then complete Form No. 652.166 below.

If the seller has no product of similar specifications, he shall take into consideration the prices of the two products which his nearest geographical competitor sells which are nearest in specifications to the product to be priced, one having the next lower maximum price and one having the next higher maximum price.

Such a seller shall then complete Form No. 652.166 below with reference to such products of that nearest competitor. Space for name and address of nearest competitor must then be added to the form.

The seller shall within 15 days after setting a tentative maximum price, file with the Office of Price Administration a written request for approval of such tentative maximum price. In connection with such request, the seller shall file with the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration at its principal office in Washington, D. C., the information required in Form No. 652.166 below:

NOTE: Where a new special product is liquid, and where the tests required above are not applicable, then standard detailed specifications should be supplied.

Where the information required is submitted, a tentative price shall be the seller's maximum price for the particular product unless it is disapproved in writing by the Office of Price Administration within 30 days from the date it is filed as above provided or a substitute price is set. If a substitute price is set, then such price shall be the maximum price. A tentative price which has been approved as a maximum price hereunder may subsequently be changed by order of the Price Administrator.

(b) Special products having different specifications from those of any standard product. (1) If the seller delivered a special product during the period August 1–November 1, 1941 having different specifications from those of any standard product, such seller's maximum price shall be either (i) the highest price charged by such seller for a delivery of that product during such period to a purchaser of the same class except that if a seller's bulk prices for standard products are governed by Table II of § 1340.353 he may add $1.40 per ton to such highest price or (ii) the maximum bulk price of that standard product having the specifications nearest to those of such special product: Provided, however, That if the only delivery of a special product was made under a contract negotiated prior to said period and the price charged for such delivery did not reflect current market conditions during such period the seller's maximum price shall be determined under subparagraph (2) below.

(2) If the seller is unable to determine his maximum bulk price for a special product having different specifications from those of a standard product under (1) such seller's maximum prices shall be either (i) the maximum bulk price of that standard product having specifications nearest to those of such special product or (ii) tentative maximum price established in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a).

5. Section 1340.356 is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1340.356 Packaged asphalt. (a) Except as provided in (b) below, when the seller supplies a container, the maximum price for packaged asphalt in carload quantities shall be the sum of the following:

(1) The maximum bulk price as determined by this regulation but without reference to the adjustment provided for by § 1340.353 (b).

(2) (i) If the container supplied by the seller is not returnable, a charge for the container of an amount equal to the cost of acquisition, including the cost of transportation to the seller's refinery or plant but not including the cost of assembling such container, of the initial shipment of the same kind of container received at such refinery or plant after February 20, 1943. If, however, at any time the cost of acquisition of a particular kind of container amounts to 10% more or less than the amount that is currently being charged purchasers of packaged asphalt, the amount chargeable thereafter for the container shall be, the cost of acquisition at such time. The maximum amount chargeable for a particular kind of container is not adjustable either up or down merely because of a change in the cost of acquisition of such container not amounting to as much as 10%.

(ii) If the container supplied by the seller is returnable, 2.5 cents per gallon. The seller, however, shall pay for the cost of returning, cleaning and repairing such container.

(3) The following packaging differentials:

Reference point:	Packaging differential per ton
New York, N. Y.	$2.00
Charleston, S. C.	2.00
Buffalo, N. Y.	3.00
Columbus, Ohio	3.00
Chicago, Ill.	3.00
St. Louis, Mo.	4.00
El Dorado, Ark.	4.00
New Orleans, La.	3.00
Kansas City, Mo.	4.00
Wichita, Kans.	4.00
Oklahoma City, Okla.	4.00
Dallas, Tex.	4.00
Houston, Tex.	4.00
Cody, Wyo.	4.00
Great Falls, Mont.	4.00
Dodge City, Kans.	4.00
Salt Lake City, Utah	4.00
San Francisco, Cal.	4.00
Bakerfield, Cal.	4.00
Los Angeles, Cal.	4.00
Santa Maria, Cal.	4.00
Yazoo City, Miss.	3.00
West Branch, Mich.	3.00

Either the seller shall in every case separately show the above charges in invoicing the purchaser or the seller shall at the time of the initial shipment of the packaged asphalt after April 28, 1943, to a particular purchaser send the purchaser a letter separately stating the maximum amount of each of the above charges that he is permitted to make. If the seller adopts the latter alternative he shall, thereafter, notify the purchaser of any changes in the maximum amount of any charge that he is permitted to make.

(b) Special products. If a seller did not deliver a special product in bulk during the August 1–November 1, 1941 period, but such seller did deliver such a special product in packages during such period, his maximum price for such packaged asphalt shall be either (1) the highest price charged by the seller for such packaged asphalt during such period to a purchaser of the same class except that if a seller's bulk prices are governed by Table II of § 1340.353 he may add $1.40 per ton to such highest price or (2) a price determined in accordance with the provisions of (a) above.

(c) When the seller uses a form to congeal hot asphalt, then removes the form and ships the molded asphalt without packaging it, the maximum price for such asphalt in carload quantities shall be determined in the same manner as the seller would determine his maximum price for packaged asphalt and such seller shall comply with all the provisions of (a) above, except that in lieu of a charge for the container the seller may charge an amount equal to the actual cost of all materials used and operations performed which would not have been necessary if the asphalt had been shipped in a package: Provided, however, That the total amount so chargeable by the seller shall never exceed $1.50 per ton.

(d) When the purchaser supplies the container, the seller's maximum price for packaged asphalt in carload quantities shall be the maximum bulk price as determined by this price regulation plus the packaging differential specified under (a) (3) above.

(e) The seller's maximum price for packaged asphalt for less than carload quantities shall be his maximum price for carload quantities plus $2.00 per ton.

6. Section 1340.357 is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1340.357 F. o. b. warehouse and bulk plant sales. The maximum price for asphalt of any dealer, reseller, or refiner who receives shipments at a warehouse or a bulk plant other than a terminal as defined in § 1340.360 (e) in carload or truckload quantities shall be determined by adding to the cost delivered at the warehouse or bulk plant an amount sufficient to give the seller the same dollars and cents mark-up that he had during the major portion of the period August 1–November 1, 1941. If such a seller did not carry inventory or receive shipments of asphalt at a warehouse or bulk plant during the period specified above, then his maximum price in carload or truckload quantities shall be determined by adding to the cost delivered at the warehouse or bulk plant an amount sufficient to give the seller the same dollar and cents mark-up that his most closely competitive seller had during the major portion of the period August 1–November 1, 1941. For the purposes of this section "mark-up" means the dollars and cents difference between the selling price of the asphalt and the cost thereof delivered at the warehouse or bulk plant.

A seller who maintains and does business through a warehouse or bulk plant, other than a terminal, may make shipment direct from the production point to a consumer and add the same dollars and cents mark-up above the delivered cost to any destination as he did during the major portion of the period August 1–November 1, 1941.

The "mark-up" computed under this section must be reported to the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C. within 15 days after April 28, 1943.

7. Section 1340.360 (b) (4), (c) and (f) are amended to read as set forth below:

(4) Liquid asphalt. "Liquid asphalt" means any grade of asphalt having a penetration in excess of 300 at 77° F. when used for road construction or similar ground surfacing.

S. C. (Slow curing)
M. C. (Medium curing)
R. C. (Rapid curing)

(c) "Special product" means any asphalt or asphalt product not included under standard products with the exception of those products which have been specially processed by the roofing or paint industry by the addition of another ingredient.

(f) "Ton" means a "net ton" of 2,000 pounds, provided, however, that if a seller normally sold packaged asphalt during the period August 1–November 1, 1941 on a gross ton basis, then "ton" means a gross ton (includes weight of package) of 2,000 pounds.

8. Section 1340.362 is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1340.362 Tank truck sales. An additional charge of 75¢ per ton may be added for filling tank trucks.

9. Section 1340.363 is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1340.363 Maximum prices on delivered basis. If a seller wishes to quote a delivered price, the delivered price shall never result in a higher laid-down cost to a particular buyer than the sum of his maximum price f. o. b. his refinery, terminal or warehouse and his actual transportation cost incurred from that point to the destination except that when the seller transports by his own vehicles, the transportation cost shall be the applicable rates of a common carrier performing like transportation service. In the event there is no applicable common carrier rate the seller should add his own actual cost of transportation.

This amendment shall become effective April 28, 1943.

PART 1416—COAL TAR

[Rev. MPR 192]

IMPORTED TAR ACIDS

Maximum Price Regulation No. 192 is amended to read as set forth below:

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

§ 1416.51 Maximum prices for imported tar acids. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 192 (Imported Tar Acids), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1416.51 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

SECTION 1 Prohibition against sales of imported tar acids at higher than maximum prices. On and after April 28, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

No person shall sell or deliver imported tar acids at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation;

No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive imported tar acids at prices higher than those so established; and

No person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 2 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

SEC. 3 Adjustable pricing. It is permissible under this regulation to provide in a contract that the price shall be adjustable to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

SEC. 4 Relationship of this to other maximum price regulations.—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] (including Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12[2]—Imported Commodities) with respect to sales and deliveries of imported tar acids for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

(b) The second revised maximum export price regulation applicable. The maximum prices at which a person may export imported tar acids shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the second revised maximum export price regulation.[3]

SEC. 5 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 6 Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales or purchases of imported tar acids for which maximum prices are established by this regulation, after April 27, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records of each such purchase or sale, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer and the seller, the price contracted for or received, the quantity of each type and grade of imported tar acids purchased or sold, and the type of container in which such acids were purchased or sold.

(b) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required by paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

SEC. 7 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to imported tar acids, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or by transactions with or through the agency of subsidiaries or affiliates, or otherwise.

SEC. 8 Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Supplementary Order No. 11[4] licenses all sellers under this regulation who are distributors as the term "distributor" is defined in the order. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary for such distributors to make sales under this regulation. A license is automatically granted to these sellers. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Supplementary Order No. 11 describe the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended.

SEC. 9 Definitions. (a) When used in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 192, the term:

"Distributor" means a person designated by Defense Supplies Corporation to purchase tar acids other than A. D. F. cresylic acid imported from the United Kingdom from that Corporation and to resell the same to industrial consumers.

"Finished tar acids" means distilled coal tar acids in a form in which they may be utilized by an industrial consumer without further processing, except imported A. D. F. cresylic acid.

"Imported A. D. F. cresylic acid" means refined cresylic acid produced outside of the United States which is not subject to customs duty upon importation into the United States.

"Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any other government or any agency of any of the foregoing.

"Private importer" means a person, other than Defense Supplies Corporation or any government agency, who has purchased imported A. D. F. cresylic acid located outside the United States for shipment into the United States.

"Reseller of imported A. D. F. cresylic acid" means a person selling imported cresylic acid which he has not imported. Some sources from which a "reseller" may obtain such acid are, for example: private importers, Defense Supplies Corporation, other resellers.

"Shipping point" means the point from which actual shipment is made.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 192.

SEC. 10 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[5]

SEC. 11 Effective dates. This Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 192 shall become effective April 28, 1943, Provided, That Maximum Price Regulation No. 192 shall remain in effect until this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 192 becomes effective April 28, 1943.

APPENDIX A: MAXIMUM PRICES FOR IMPORTED A. D. F. CRESYLIC ACID

(a) Sales by private importers. Maximum prices for sales of imported A. D. F. cresylic acid in quantities of 60 gallons or more by the private importer thereof, shall be the sum of the items listed below, f. o. b. importer's shipping point:

(1) Net amount paid for cresylic acid naked ex works, which amount with respect to purchases made after August 5, 1942, shall not be computed at a price in excess of $.728 per U. S. gallon.

(2) The following items of cost insofar as actually incurred by private importer prior to clearance by customs inspectors of the United States, in no case in excess of a reasonable amount:

(i) Commission, not in excess of 5 per cent of the item set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (a), paid to foreign exporters or brokers, to the extent that such commission does not inure to the benefit of importer, directly or indirectly;

(ii) Filling charges in foreign country;

(iii) Transportation charges in foreign country, including all cartage and insurance charges incurred in connection with such transportation;

(iv) U. S. consular fees;

(v) Containers;

(vi) Ocean freight;

(vii) Marine insurance;

(viii) War risk insurance;
